Abby Cohen Smutny is particularly noted for her representation of states and investors in complex treaty arbitrations. She serves as global head of the firm’s international arbitration practice. Strengths: “Abby Cohen is extraordinarily intelligent, and is deeply knowledgeable in all aspects of public international law and international investment arbitration. Her strategic judgment and advocacy skills are remarkable and very valuable.”

Paul Friedland is a long-standing figure in the market and maintains an active practice acting both as counsel and sitting as an arbitrator in high profile international arbitrations. He garners praise for his expert handling of both commercial and investment treaty matters. Strengths: “Paul is excellent! I was impressed both by his advocacy and preparation.” “Paul has a great record of success, he is able to lead skilled team of attorneys working seamlessly together. He is clearly respected by all.”

“He is exceedingly strong.” Ank Santens is held in high regard for her expertise in investor-state arbitrations and is experienced in advising both investors and states. She is increasingly recognized for her work as arbitrator as well as counsel.

Strengths: “Ank has deep experience garnered from representing investors and states, acting both as a counsel and arbitrator.” “Ank is reliably excellent.” “She demonstrates a unique balance of firmness and client sensitivity that stands out.” New York-based partner Damien Nyer (see p.655) is recognized for his expertise in investment treaty arbitrations, often acting for states across South and East Asia and Europe. Strengths: “Damien is a pleasure to work with, he understands issues quickly and gets to the point.” “He has a lot of experience and always shows high quality standards.”

Silvia Marchili regularly handles investor-state arbitrations in the energy sector. She is noted for her strong Latin American practice. Strengths: “Silvia is highly involved and busy; she is well regarded and respected.”

Band 2 International Arbitration: The Elite

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter has attained a strong reputation for its representation of sovereign states in high value international arbitration proceedings. The team is also engaged in significant commercial disputes, drawing from a strong group of multilingual practitioners with wide-ranging industry experience. The firm is particularly well regarded for its handling of South and Central America-related disputes, alongside a thriving West Coast practice servicing clients in East Asia.

Strengths

“A&P is a sophisticated, well-oiled machine comprised of a deep talent pool meticulously trained by an extremely knowledgeable and experienced leadership. Their track record of consistently favorable results is quite a testament to their ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters.”

“Arnold & Porter has a particular strength in representing sovereigns and sovereign entities.”

“Arnold & Porter have a great team structure, where team members handle specific areas which allow them to pay great attention to the issues.”

Work highlights Arnold & Porter successfully defended South Korea in an ICSID arbitration against Lone Star Funds, arising from the sale of their controlling stake in Korea Exchange Bank.

Notable practitioners

Paolo Di Rosa has a wealth of experience handling investment treaty arbitrations and is noted for his Latin America expertise. Strengths: “He is an extremely knowledgeable lawyer with an impressive arbitration practice.” “His reputation precedes him. He is exceedingly knowledgeable, sophisticated and experienced. His dedication to client service and client work is remarkable.” “He’s a phenomenal litigator.” Mélida Hodgson is held in high regard for her expertise in investor-state arbitration matters and is also experienced in commercial arbitration. She remains a popular choice for governments and state-owned entities, with notable experience in disputes concerning the infrastructure sector. She is also noted for her work as an arbitrator. Strengths: “Mélida is insightful, she is very smart and has a balanced view of the world.” “She was very strategic and outcome oriented, keeping her eye on the prize.” “As an arbitrator she is very sensitive to the perceptions of parties regarding what the tribunal is doing, and is very focused on the fairness element.” Maria Chedid has an excellent capacity to effectively handle both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: “She is an excellent, self-confident attorney with a classy attitude.” Kabir Duggal enjoys a burgeoning reputation for his international arbitration expertise, acting on treaty, commercial and public international law matters as well as sitting as an arbitrator. Strengths: “I was always impressed by his thinking.” “Kabir is well regarded and well known in the field, he handles complex matters.”

Chaffetz Lindsey LLP

What the team is known for Chaffetz Lindsey is a versatile dispute resolution boutique with an extensive investor-state practice, acting for both sovereign states and corporate clients. The firm also offers a broad-based commercial dispute practice, with experience in fields including telecom, financial services, construction and energy. The team is identified for its deft handling of Latin American disputes, in addition to housing experience in arbitrations involving Europe and the Middle East, and fields significant multilingual capabilities and substantial experience acting in disputes conducted in Spanish.

Strengths

“A top notch arbitration boutique, comparable only to the largest international practices.”

“Chaffetz Lindsey were very hands on, thinking about strategy and communicating with us. They have a very individual approach to the client.”

“It’s a very strong team that knows perfectly well how to navigate a complex matter.”

“Chaffetz lawyers always have the client’s business goals in mind.”

Work highlights Chaffetz Lindsey represented Czech Republic in a PCA administered UNCITRAL arbitration arising out of the Republic’s alleged breach of the Czech Republic-UAE Bilateral Investment Treaty. The claim was brought by a Dubai-based property developer with investments in the Czech Republic.

Notable practitioners

Andreas Frischknecht has an excellent pedigree in litigating arbitral award enforcement, as part of a broad disputes practice. Strengths: “He is fully dedicated to the case and the client. He instils confidence that every aspect of the case is being meticulously and personally attended to.” James Hosking divides his practice between serving as counsel and sitting as arbitrator in high value international disputes, including both investment treaty and commercial claims. Strengths: “James is highly sophisticated and talented when it comes to dealing with complex disputes, and fully client-oriented to ensure that the client gets the best level of service.” “James is an elegant writer and respectful of all points of views.” “I think he has one of the most brilliant minds, his wit and humour are unparalleled.” Anibal Martin Sabater’s practice has particular strength in Latin American matters, but he is well placed to advise on both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations across wide-ranging jurisdictions. Strengths: “Anibal was key to our arbitration. He showed strong commitment, expertise and full dedication to our case.” “He is very thorough in his analysis, focused and oriented. His command of the case has been impressive.” “Anibal excels at hearings, with an outstanding performance at cross-examination, knowing the key commercial goals of the client and implementing the best strategy to reach those goals.” Yasmine

Lahlou is experienced in both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. She has particular expertise in matters involving the energy and construction industries. Yasmine is also adept in handling enforcement matters. Strengths: “Yasmine is very sound and reliable, and has a lot of respect and gravitas.” “She is great counsel.”

Caline Mouawad has a growing reputation for her work on both commercial and investor-state matters. She is highlighted for her fluency in French and Arabic, as well as her impressive advocacy skills. Strengths: “Caline is responsive and practical, she has great strategic judgment and is very tenacious.” “Caline has an unparalleled dedication to the case and is focused on ensuring that the client is fully satisfied with her work and attains the desired objectives.” Gretta Walters enjoys a growing profile for her international arbitration practice, with clients benefiting from her impressive level of experience in commercial and treaty claims. Strengths: “Greta is incredibly energetic and a great person to work with.” “She’s an amazing attorney.”

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom houses skilled arbitration advocates at all levels of seniority, experienced in appearing in an impressive range of institutional and ad hoc disputes. The team is frequently engaged in both investor-state and commercial disputes on behalf of major international corporations, alongside complementary strengths in enforcement litigation. Particular areas of strength include telecommunications, pharmaceuticals, financial services and energy arbitral matters. The firm offers experience in disputes across the globe, with recent activity in Asia, Europe and Latin America.

Strengths

“Skadden has a very strong and consistent team. They truly work as a team and they really interact with other practices within Skadden to better support their arguments.”

“Their ability to meld legal expertise with business acumen was pivotal in guiding our strategy and achieving positive results. Their commercial insight was a crucial asset throughout the process.”

“Skadden’s team provides creative advice on complex matters and very quickly assesses the critical issues.”

Work highlights Skadden represented Embraer, a Brazilian aerospace conglomerate, in ICDR arbitration against The Boeing Company. The dispute arises from Boeing’s wrongful termination of an agreement to purchase an 80% interest in Embraer’s Commercial Aviation Business.

Notable practitioners

Julie Bédard (see p.500) centers her highly acclaimed practice on complex commercial arbitrations and has notable experience with disputes concerning Latin America. Strengths: “Julie is collaborative and careful, making sure both sides are heard, and is thoughtful in her analysis.” “With no doubt, she is a real leader in the market. She has such clarity to go deep into the analysis and provide valuable advice.” “Julie brings experience to the table; she is able to assess how the arbitrators will respond.” Timothy Nelson (see p.652)’s practice includes appearing in both investment treaty and commercial arbitrations. Strengths: “Timothy is great, he is smart and strategic.” “Timothy is fast on his feet and very clever.” “He’s very knowledgeable, thoughtful, and willing to work hard to succeed.” John Gardiner (see p.562) has a wealth of expertise spanning complex commercial and investment treaty arbitrations brought under a range of rules. Strengths: “John is an experienced lawyer with a calm demeanor. He has the ability to analyze matters creatively and quickly appreciate the critical issues.” Jennifer Permesly (see p.666) is particularly adept at handling Latin American-related disputes and has experience with both commercial and investor-state arbitrations. Strengths: “Jennifer is an exceptional legal mind with a keen grasp on complex matters. Her dedication, combined with her sharp insight, positions her among the best in the industry.” “She’s a very powerful advocate.”

Three Crowns LLP

What the team is known for Three Crowns is a highly respected arbitration boutique with excellent credentials in high-stakes investment treaty work and commercial arbitration matters. The team is noted for its skillful handling of energy sector arbitrations, in addition to housing strength in disputes within the finance and defense sectors. The firm calls upon an experienced roster of high-caliber attorneys in Washington, DC, London and Paris to offer expertise in major cross-border disputes and offers substantial experience acting for global corporations as well as sovereign states.

Strengths

“Three Crowns are extremely dedicated and professional. They’re always willing to go above and beyond to answer client inquiries and meet deadlines.”

“By securing positive outcomes, they have proven to be extremely knowledgeable and efficient.”

“Three Crowns are amongst the very few that are proper arbitration specialists, who understand arbitration inside out. They have outstanding individuals and recruit outstanding associates.”

Work highlights Three Crowns represented Burford Capital in an arbitration brought against Sysco Corporation in relation to a financing agreement under which Burford provided Sysco with up to $140 million to fund certain antitrust claims.

Notable practitioners

Luke Sobota counsels high profile clients across big-ticket commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: “Luke is an extremely intelligent lawyer, brilliant strategist, passionate and sophisticated advocate.” “Luke has the insight, courage and willingness to change course or adapt where needed. He is always mindful of the bigger picture.” “He comes across as someone you can completely trust to pursue your case in the best possible way, he has his clients interests at heart.”

Elizabeth Snodgrass (see p.706) is particularly well regarded for her expertise in the energy and mining sector and handles both commercial and investment treaty disputes. Strengths: “She is a highly experienced and knowledgeable advocate; you always know Liz is in your corner and will work tirelessly in support of your objective.” “Elizabeth is extraordinarily analytical.” “Elizabeth is always rational, thoughtful and prepared.” Washington-based Nicola Peart is a special legal consultant at the firm, and has notable experience handling commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: “Nicola’s attention to detail is amazing; she grasps very technical matters and breaks them down easily.” “Nicola is tremendously responsive and highly effective, whether it be at drafting, analysis or as part of the advocacy team.”

Band 3 International Arbitration: The Elite

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling’s particular areas of strength include international energy, infrastructure and pharmaceutical matters. The team acts for a wide range of clients across the globe, including multinational corporations and states, and is regularly engaged in major commercial arbitrations and on claimant-side investment treaty work, alongside additional expertise in areas including state-to-state disputes and arbitration-related litigation. It calls upon a strong group of advocates whose arbitration expertise is bolstered by frequent appointments as arbitrator.

Strengths

“Covington & Burling are great at mapping out the strategy and executing the actions.”

“Having worked with them in very complicated matters, they have proven to be absolute professionals. Their minds are razor-sharp.”

“Our experience with Covington & Burling, without exception, has been fantastic. They were client centered and proactive in their approach.”

Work highlights Covington secured a victory for Ukraine’s national energy company, Naftogaz, and six of its subsidiaries in an investment treaty claim against the Russian Federation over the seizure of assets in Crimea following Russia’s annexation of the peninsula.

Notable practitioners

Marney Cheek (see p.523)’s specific areas of strength include both investment arbitration and commercial proceedings. Strengths: “Marney is just brilliant; she is full of energy and is relentless in her legal thinking.” “Marney is an excellent lawyer.”

Nicole Duclos (see p.544) comes particularly recommended for her expertise in international commercial arbitrations, as well as her handling of enforcement proceedings. Strengths: “The experience of working with Nicole Duclos has been excellent. Not only is she a technically impeccable attorney, but her client service is close, considerate and extremely knowledgeable about the needs of the case.” “She’s an outstanding lawyer on arbitration matters.” Miguel López Forastier (see p.626) is praised for his expertise in investor-state arbitrations. He is adept at handling matters involving Latin America as well as those concerning the energy sector. David Pinsky (see p.669) has a wide-ranging disputes practice which sees him regularly engaged in commercial and investment treaty arbitration disputes and in related litigation work. Strengths: “I was impressed by David’s analytical skills, his client manner, how he manages to translate complex nuances into practical solutions.” “David has outstanding technical skills; he is an excellent technical lawyer.” Allan Moore (see p.646) centers his practice on commercial arbitrations, counting a host of multinational corporations among his clients.

Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP

What the team is known for Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle is especially well regarded for its expertise in the representation of sovereign states and state entities in investor-state arbitrations, alongside growing expertise in commercial disputes and enforcement. The firm draws from a deep pool of internationally experienced practitioners, with notable strengths in handling oil and gas disputes. The team offers additional expertise in the construction, telecommunications and infrastructure sectors.

Strengths

“The Curtis team was very experienced and diverse, both in terms of geography and area of expertise. They worked remarkably well together.”

“Curtis provided a top notch service, addressing our concerns promptly and accurately in a professional manner.”

Work highlights Curtis secured a victory for the State of Kuwait in the ICSID arbitration brought by the group of three international construction companies. The case relates to a public infrastructure project in Kuwait, the Jamal Abdul Nasser Street Project, involving the construction of an elevated highway and associated structures linking major facilities.

Notable practitioners

George Kahale maintains his excellent reputation for state-side representation in investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: “I was really impressed by George’s ability to pick up essential issues, explore the areas and develop the strategy that can help win a case.” “George is a real leader, he is decisive and speaks with authority.” Claudia Frutos-Peterson garners praise for her expertise in investment treaty arbitrations, while also offering strength in commercial claims. Strengths: “Claudia is an outstanding practitioner and specialist in investor-state disputes. Her advice to sovereigns is invaluable.” “Claudia is super specialized and she is good in handling client relationships. She makes clients comfortable. She is also a good team leader and people love working with her.” “She has a tremendous practice.”

Herbert Smith Freehills

What the team is known for Herbert Smith Freehills has a well-respected disputes group which is well placed to advise on complex and high-profile investment treaty and international commercial arbitrations under a broad array of institutional rules. It acts for an impressive roster of corporations and sovereign states and brings to bear extensive expertise in Latin America, as well as notable strength in matters concerning Europe, the Middle East and North Africa. The group is experienced in disputes spanning a broad range of sectors, including energy, hospitality, telecommunications, finance and mining.

Strengths

"Herbert Smith are very well respected; their capabilities cut across many areas of international arbitration."

"They've been doing phenomenal work and they have a good group."

Work highlights Herbert Smith acted for Andes Petroleum Ecuador in an ICDR arbitration, seeking to recover its 40% share of a $1.06 billion arbitral award from Occidental Exploration and Production Company.

Notable practitioners

Christian Leathley (see p.618) is experienced in both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations, with notable experience in Latin America-related matters. Strengths: "Christian is a real asset for everything we work on." "I am incredibly impressed by his ability to get to the practical issues that we are facing both legally and commercially. He is a great asset when dealing with complex matters." Amal Bouchenaki has expertise in commercial and investment treaty arbitration and is particularly noted for her adept handling of matters related to Africa and Latin America. Strengths: "Amal has good strategic sense of the case, she is able to bring a lot of cultural sensitivity working with tribunals and the client." "She's very switched-on and commercial."

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright draws from a deep level of industry expertise in energy and mining arbitral matters, with wider strengths in maritime and construction work. The firm continues to undertake high profile and high value proceedings conducted under a range of institutional and ad hoc rules, as well as appearing in high-stakes enforcement proceedings. Its impressive client base includes a number of multinational corporations and sovereign states.

Strengths

"It's a very deep disputes team with excellent worldwide experience for all types of international disputes."

"Norton Rose helped navigating all the intricacies and administrative procedures; their great commercial approach provided the right balance."

"We are highly satisfied with Norton Rose lawyers, their service and advice."

Work highlights Norton Rose continued to act for the Republic of Kazakhstan with multiple enforcement proceedings in the US and abroad arising from a $500 million Energy Charter Treaty award issued in an SCC proceeding concerning oil and gas leases.

Notable practitioners

Matthew Kirtland heads up Norton Rose's DC international arbitration practice. He has notable experience in handling arbitral enforcement litigation. Strengths: "He is very strategic and is able to present complex cases in a calm way." "He has an excellent command of the facts." Mark Baker divides his time between serving as counsel and sitting as arbitrator in commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: "Mark is an excellent international disputes lawyer and provides practical legal and commercial advice." "He has considerable intellectual depth and has an appreciation of arbitration as an art form. He has always been very impressive and thoughtful." "He is very strategic and thorough." Kevin O'Gorman's practice spans both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations, with standout expertise in energy-related disputes. Strengths: "Kevin is an excellent international disputes lawyer and provides practical legal and commercial advice." "He has been brilliant – he's very helpful, practical and business minded."

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith's distinguished dispute resolution team has deep experience in commercial arbitrations arising from Latin America, with notable capabilities in financial services disputes. It is also regularly engaged on arbitrations in the firm's core sectors of international trade, entertainment, energy and life sciences. The team offers wider strength in related litigation work, including litigation to compel arbitration, parallel proceedings and enforcement matters and fields strong multilingual capabilities across the practice.

Strengths

"Reed Smith team members are highly qualified, multilingual and multicultural."

"Reed Smith lawyers are competitive, very well prepared and sophisticated."

"Their team analysis and ability to find the right answers and strategy is remarkable!"

Notable practitioners

José Astigarraga is the global head of the practice. He is held in high regard for his expertise in complex and high value commercial disputes, fielding particular strength in Latin America matters. Strengths: "Joseph is a unique lawyer; his varied knowledge and skills were evident at every step." "Jose is very smart, he has true depth and experience." Francisco Rodriguez has broad expertise in the international arbitration sphere, handling both commercial and investment arbitrations. Strengths: "Francisco is a complete lawyer, with excellent command of languages, extensive knowledge of international arbitration and different legislations in Latin America." "Francisco is both customer and detail focused."

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins has a highly regarded international arbitration team, which leverages the firm's institutional expertise in the energy and infrastructure sectors to act for clients in some of the most complex commercial and treaty proceedings involving energy assets, pricing matters and construction claims. The team is experienced in handling arbitrations under a range of major rules including ICC, ICSID, ICDR and LCIA, among others.

Strengths

"V&E are skilled, experienced, competent, prompt and very much professional."

"I can't recommend the V&E arbitration team enough. Their effort, diligence and dedication to clients was second to none."

"They have been very responsive to all questions and issues, providing efficient and high quality advice."

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins represented the Ministry of Oil of the Republic of Iraq in an ICC arbitration against the Republic of Turkey. The dispute concerns the operation of the Iraq-Turkey Pipeline, governed by treaties between Iraq and Turkey.

Notable practitioners

James Loftis maintains an excellent reputation for his expertise in international arbitrations concerning construction and oil and gas disputes. He offers experience in commercial and investor-state matters. Strengths: "Jim is a reliable and credible voice." "James is very experienced, his strategic advice is sound and we rely on him in difficult situations." "He has very good experience in arbitration and its procedures." Camilo Cardozo is particularly adept at advising on disputes concerning Latin America, with his practice spanning both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: "Camilo always showed an ability to understand the client's case, even in complex aspects, taking into account the relevant economic aspects." "Camilo provided a fantastic vision and approach to the dispute." "Camilo is very knowledgeable and experienced lawyer. He is very good at strategy." Jose Sanchez has a growing reputation for his work on international arbitrations, with particular experience with matters involving Latin America. Strengths: "Jose is very well respected in international community and it is well deserved." "He is professional, always available and takes issues seriously."

Band 4 International Arbitration: The Elite

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton is recognized for its significant expertise in representing sovereign states in arbitral disputes across a range of jurisdictions and a full array of arbitral rules, drawing upon an integrated global network of arbitration experts when advising on multijurisdictional disputes. Also acts on behalf of investors, and offers wider skills in commercial arbitration and related arbitral litigation matters. Handles disputes in a wide range of sectors, including oil and gas, telecommunications and banking.

Strengths

"They have an outstanding mixture of seasoned in-house professionals and excellent advisors."

"Cleary team has excellent advisors, who are very experienced and practical."

"Cleary's team are great strategic thinkers, planning many steps ahead. They are incredibly responsive and available."

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb represented Sysco Corporation in an LCIA arbitration against affiliates of Burford Capital.

Notable practitioners

Ari MacKinnon (see p.629) centers his practice on commercial arbitrations arising from Latin America. He is also experienced in enforcement matters. Strengths: "Ari is a very sophisticated counsel who is smart and easy to work with." "He is very smart and business friendly." "He's a complete professional, he considers the necessary commercial advice within his legal response." Jeffrey

Rosenthal (see p.683) is an experienced litigator with particular strength in cross-border disputes. His practice includes serving as counsel in arbitration and handling the courtroom enforcement of awards. Strengths: “Jeff is an excellent advisor, very knowledgeable and responsive.” “Jeff has demonstrated repeatedly that he is a talented oral advocate; his written submissions are sharp, focused and effective, and that he has a lot of credibility and experience.” “Jeff is a vigorous advocate for his clients.”

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert is frequently engaged by sovereign states and multinational corporations to serve as counsel in both commercial and investor-state arbitrations. The team offers considerable strength in disputes arising in the energy, financial services and construction sectors, among others. The group offers additional expertise in internet governance work and arbitral enforcement proceedings.

Strengths

“Dechert provides a top notch service to their clients; they are thorough with great strategic thinking.”

“Dechert provides legal advice on the most intricate matters concerning international arbitration, with profound understanding of state related issues.”

Work highlights Dechert acted for MOL- Hungarian Oil and Gas Company in an ICSID arbitration against Croatia under the Energy Charter Treaty. The dispute arose from Croatia's treatment of MOL's investment of over $1.5 billion in Croatia's formerly state-owned energy company.

Notable practitioners

Arif Ali acts for clients in both investment treaty and commercial arbitrations, with notable expertise in oil and gas and telecommunications matters. His practice also includes enforcing arbitral awards. Strengths: “Arif is highly capable as counsel.” “Arif is a good team strategist, he drives forward an excellent client relationship.” “Clients love him.” Alexandre de Gramont advises clients on investment treaty and commercial arbitrations under an array of rules, as well as tackling related courtroom proceedings. Strengths: “Alex is an excellent strategist who can bring to a successful conclusion even the most complex and long-running disputes. He comes up with many ingenious ideas.” “He has an ability to take a step back and see the big picture.” “Alex has a great legal mind, he is skilled in identifying the key issues.” David Attanasio's practice spans both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations, acting for sovereign states and corporations.

DLA Piper LLP

What the team is known for DLA Piper's team has a strong pedigree in both investment treaty and commercial disputes, leveraging the firm's impressive global platform to offer significant jurisdictional and cultural expertise in global disputes. The group is known for its expertise across a number of industries, including financial services, construction, energy and technology.

Strengths

“They listen to the client's preferences and worries and develop a strategy that meets those preferences and worries. We feel very comfortable with DLA by our side.”

“DLA delivered strong support and guidance through the process.”

“They grasp extraordinarily complex matters with ease. It's truly amazing.”

Work highlights DLA Piper represented Olin Holdings, a Cypriot dairy and juice factory investor, in its efforts to enforce an arbitration award against Libya issued pursuant to the Cyprus-Libya Bilateral Investment Treaty.

Notable practitioners

James Berger (see p.503) regularly represents a range of commercial clients in enforcement proceedings. Strengths: “He is smart, creative and simply does not stop before he obtains a result.”

Kate Brown de Vejar has significant experience in appearing in both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. She is active in a range of sectors, including construction, energy and financial services. Strengths: “She is excellent counsel, highly responsive and practical.” Kiera Gans is experienced in acting on behalf of a range of parties involved in both commercial and international arbitrations. She is adept at handling arbitrations under various rules. Strengths: “Kiera Gans was able to expertly navigate a very complicated matter and was highly engaged working with the client and the experts to present a compelling case.” “She tries to find constructive solutions.”

Foley Hoag LLP

What the team is known for Foley Hoag demonstrates impressive expertise in representing sovereign states in investment treaty arbitrations held across the world, alongside strong credentials in public international law. The team regularly appears in state-to-state disputes before the ICJ and other international tribunals, alongside wider skills in international commercial disputes. The group is identified for its expert handling of disputes arising in the construction sector, with additional strengths in sectors including aviation, financial services and energy.

Strengths

“The Foley Hoag team demonstrates a high level of professionalism and dedication to the case. They diligently provide explanations and make sure that the client is aware of and completely understands every step on the way.”

“They are on top of the case and it is clear that they care about the client.”

“Foley Hoag has an excellent ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters through the depth of their expertise and very competent lawyers and staff.”

“They have great abilities in grasping the complexities quickly, drawing an appropriate defence and presenting it well to the tribunal.”

“The Foley Hoag team is very experienced in investor-state cases. They have good knowledge of the case law and the legal issues.”

Work highlights Foley Hoag represented Nepal in its first investment arbitration, brought by Axiata Investments and Ncell Private under the 1993 UK-Nepal Bilateral Investment Treaty against Nepal. The dispute concerned Nepal's imposition of capital gains tax on Axiata's acquisition of shares in Ncell, a Nepalese telecom company.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Schimmel earns excellent praise for his work as arbitrator in both commercial and investment arbitrations. Strengths: “Daniel is really impressive; thorough and excellent.” “He has a broad background and is a really good commercial arbitrator.” “Daniel conducted all the proceedings with great sensitivity, managing to keep proceedings well organized, handling tempers and hostility. He was diplomatic and sensitive in his decisions.”

Christina Hioureas has a growing reputation as both arbitrator and counsel, with particular experience in arbitrating international commercial disputes. Strengths: “Christina's work as an arbitrator is outstanding. She prepares for each hearing thoroughly and is a balanced and efficient arbitrator.” “She's extremely dynamic and very impressive.” Constantinos Salonidis is the global cochair of Foley Hoag's international litigation and arbitration department. He regularly acts for sovereigns in a range of investor-state disputes.

Strengths: “Mr. Salonidis demonstrates unwavering commitment, passion and a strong work ethic. He is extremely disciplined and proactive.”

Clara Brillembourg is noted for her experience representing states in investor-state disputes. She is co-chair of Foley Hoag's Latin America practice. Strengths: “Clara is very impressive in hearings, she knows every single detail of the case. She never ceased to impress me with her insights and strategies.” “Clara is incredibly talented and knowledgeable. The depth of her expertise, the quality and richness of her reasoning abilities, and her formidable cross-examination skills are assets to any arbitration file.” Tafadzwa Pasipanodya enjoys a growing profile for her international arbitration practice, with significant expertise in defending sovereigns in treaty claims. She chairs the firm's Africa practice. Strengths: “Tafi brings exceptional skills and talent to her work drawing on her rich education and training. She is truly knowledgeable and has a great ability to absorb large volumes of facts, including technical details. She is an efficient and formidable advocate.” “She is an excellent attorney and has an impressive handle of the case.”

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson Dunn & Crutcher demonstrates strength in handling disputes under wide-ranging major arbitral rules, including those of the ICC, ICSID and ICDR. Clients also benefit from the firm's hallmark pedigree in complex litigation, including significant expertise in enforcement and parallel litigation work.

Strengths

“In every turn, Gibson Dunn excelled.”

“Their team is extremely quick to absorb complex factual information and the nuances of local legal principles.”

“Everyone who worked with us was knowledgeable and added value.”

Work highlights

Gibson Dunn represented Corral in an ICSID arbitration against Morocco in relation to expropriation and the unfair treatment of Corral's multi-billion dollar investment in one of the largest oil refineries in Africa.

Notable practitioners

Rahim Moloo (see p.645) is held in high regard for his expert handling of commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. His practice also includes enforcing arbitral awards in the courts.

Strengths: “Rahim is smart and experienced, he provides sound legal strategy in the contentious matters.” “Rahim is a very thorough and insightful attorney.” “Rahim is a great leader, he keeps everyone on point and makes sure everyone is concentrating on the key issues.” “Rahim is able to navigate both general arbitration and enforcement work, which makes him great in giving strategic advice, knowing how to think about government relations, settlement and enforcement.” “Rahim is a true leader who worked tirelessly to help further our pursuit of justice.” New York-based Charline Yim (see p.740) has notable experience handling investment treaty and commercial arbitrations, often under the auspices of the ICC and ICSID. Strengths: “Charline is extremely professional, intelligent and responsive.” “Charline is a good advocate, I was really impressed.” “Charline does a great job, she provides great research and advice.”

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells offers substantial experience in representing clients across the globe in both investment treaty and commercial arbitration hearings, with strengths in areas including energy, finance, automotive and telecommunications disputes. The team demonstrates strengths in proceedings conducted under the major institutional rules and in ad hoc hearings and leverages its wide network of dispute resolution practitioners to provide an integrated service to clients, with particular strengths in matters across Latin America and the Middle East.

Strengths

“We were impressed by the attorneys’ thorough grasp of a complex situation.”

“Hogan Lovells have an extremely strong team of subject matter experts with deep knowledge and hands-on experience.”

“Hogan Lovells goes the extra mile to provide a bespoke service and is responsive to the needs of the client. The team understands that every problem is the most important to the client and responds with the client’s sensitivities in mind.”

“The team was able to leverage each of the team members abilities to have an overall super-ability to attack the case in a focused manner.”

“The team as a whole works incredibly well together. They compliment each others’ strengths but at the same time are sensitive not to let the team dynamic generate expensive redundancies.”

Work highlights Hogan Lovells represented Espiritu Santo Holdings in an ICSID claim against Mexico for violation of the North America Free Trade Agreement after the Mexican Government indirectly expropriated concession to implement a taxi-hailing app and digital taximeter in the City of Mexico.

Notable practitioners

Oliver Armas centers his practice on commercial arbitrations, with experience acting for clients from a range of industries. Strengths: “Ollie quickly developed an insightful overview of the situation that grew even better over time.” “Ollie is affable; he brings an uncanny level of commercial awareness.” “Ollie impressed me both with his legal and business acumen.” Daniel González’s practice spans both commercial and investment treaty disputes, and draws on wider litigation capabilities.

Strengths: “Dan is a savvy, articulate, well-spoken and highly experienced construction arbitrator and litigator. He is extremely knowledgeable, proactive and perceptive.” “David is an excellent trial lawyer, strong advocate and cross examiner.” Richard Lorenzo advises clients on both commercial and investment treaty disputes, with notable expertise in Latin America-related matters. Strengths: “Very glad to count on Richard to lead our case. Richard has proven to be very knowledgeable, aggressive and straightforward.” “Richard was able to deliver the topics at hand with enthusiasm, humor and confidence.” “Richard provides a sophisticated, strategic approach to matters, as well as attention to detail.”

Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP

What the team is known for Hughes Hubbard & Reed has a heavyweight arbitration group, with impressive skill in commercial, investor-state and state-to-state disputes. The firm houses a strong bench of arbitration experts, many of whom are experienced in appearing as both advocates and arbitrators in arbitral proceedings under major institutional rules worldwide. The group offers expertise across sectors including construction, energy and pharmaceuticals.

Strengths

“Hughes Hubbard provide a sound understanding and a practical approach.”

Work highlights Hughes Hubbard & Reed represented Aeroport Belbek, a Crimean airport, in its arbitration against the Russian Federation under the Russia-Ukraine BIT for losses caused by its actions in Crimea after annexation.

Notable practitioners

John Townsend (see p.720) serves as both counsel and arbitrator, with particular expertise in investment treaty disputes. Strengths: “John is an excellent lawyer, very smart and responsive.” “I have an experience with him both as an advocate and arbitrator, he is a leading light.” “He has a really good reputation as an arbitrator.”

Gaela Gehring Flores (see p.564) offers particular strength in disputes involving Latin America and is adept at both commercial and investor-state claims. Strengths: “Gaela is super knowledgeable in Latin American matters.” James Boykin (see p.511) offers wide-ranging experience in commercial and investment treaty disputes, as well as in public international law. Strengths: “He’s a strong advocate.”

Remy Gerbay is held in high regard for his international disputes practice, winning particular plaudits for his expertise in investment treaty claims under the full gamut of institutional rules.

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP

What the team is known for Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan is an expert dispute resolution firm fielding strong international arbitration capabilities, regularly handling major state-to-state, commercial and investment treaty proceedings on behalf of both sovereigns and corporate clients. The firm calls upon a pool of experts in the USA, Europe and Asia to offer globally integrated services in cross-border disputes. Its varied client list includes both sovereign states and foreign investors.

Strengths

“The entire team dedicated to the case was very experienced and had a great ability to absorb specific characteristics of the business and the context, which involved multiple jurisdictions.”

“We were impressed by Quinn Emanuel’s commercial acumen. Their ability to understand the specific and highly unique circumstances of our industry, and particular situation, has been remarkable.”

“Quinn Emanuel brings an exceptional blend of commercial awareness and litigation capability.”

Work highlights Quinn Emanuel represents a group of creditors of TP Ferro Concesionaria S.A., and the insolvency administrator of the company, in relation to the termination of a concession agreement related to the construction and operation of a high speed international railway between France and Spain.

Notable practitioners

David Orta receives praise for his expertise across commercial and investment treaty disputes, in addition to his particular strength in Latin America-related matters. Strengths: “David knows details of the case to a granular level; he represents his clients well.” Mark McNeill has experience in both arbitration and litigation proceedings, including ICSID and UNCITRAL disputes. Strengths: “Mark is a strong oral advocate, he is very patient and good at explaining complex issues to the tribunal.” “I was impressed by Mark’s advocacy.” “Mark is a succinct and excellent communicator, I have a high degree of confidence in him.”

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin has an impressive range of experience in international arbitration proceedings, regularly representing governments, state-owned companies and private corporations in investor-state, state-to-state and commercial arbitrations. The firm calls upon a multitalented roster of attorneys skilled in arbitration proceedings and in related litigation, including handling the enforcement of arbitral awards. The team draws on the firm’s broad global footprint and complementary strengths in areas such as international trade and public international law to provide a fully integrated service to clients.

Strengths

“Sidley go the extra mile for you.”

“They have always exhibited competence and ability to navigate through complex issues.”

“Sidley’s team is very proactive in addressing potential issues.”

Work highlights Sidley Austin secured a high-profile victory for life sciences company I-Mab Biopharma in an ICC arbitration against Tracoon Pharmaceuticals.

Notable practitioners

Tai-Heng Cheng (see p.524) maintains an active practice serving as both counsel and arbitrator in international disputes relating to commercial and investment arbitrations. Strengths: “Tai-Heng is effective and tenacious advocate. He is reasonable, responsive and collaborative with tribunal." "Tai-Heng is very studious, knowledgeable and reliable."

Greg Williams (see p.735) regularly acts for an array of commercial clients in ICC and JAMS arbitrations. Strengths: "Greg is smart, strategic and collaborative, and he has real eye for the budget." "Greg is thorough and strategic, and is a very good oral advocate." "He was absolutely first class; it was a sensitive case additional to the complex legal issues and he managed to excel in all the aspects."

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale offers impressive expertise in commercial and treaty arbitration work, with extensive experience advocating for clients under a broad spectrum of institutional rules and in ad hoc settings. The team is particularly well versed in financial services, energy and IP arbitrations, which form part of its impressively broad-based arbitration practice. It houses an enviable bench of expert practitioners, frequently appearing in disputes seated across the USA, Europe, Asia and Latin America.

Strengths

"The work product has been very good and the team is responsive."

"The team is dedicated and performs as if such matters were made for them."

Notable practitioners

Rachael Kent's expertise includes both investment treaty and commercial arbitrations. She is also building a strong intellectual property practice. Strengths: "Rachael is a top notch attorney who is calm, measured and thorough." "Rachael is incredibly smart and technical. She can pick up incredibly complex matters and think beyond legal issues." "She is impeccably prepared and is very measured in her representation. She keeps her eyes on the tribunal, knows how to read them and how to find ways to assist. She does a great job representing the interests of her clients." "Her writing is clear and it portrays the client's position in the best demeanor." Danielle Morris acts for clients across the financial services, oil and gas and construction sectors in commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: "Danielle is a sophisticated, brilliant mind who executes strategy without flinching." "Her unwavering professionalism and commitment to quality have remained evident throughout the entirety of the project, and her contributions have had a significant impact on ensuring the consistent delivery of high quality work."

Band 1 International Arbitration: Highly Regarded

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts has a wide-ranging arbitration practice with noted strength in disputes concerning the CIS region, the Middle East and Latin America. It is active in a broad spectrum of sectors, including activity in intellectual property, energy and corporate disputes work, acting on commercial and investor-state arbitrations across the globe.

Strengths

"Baker Botts have an excellent arbitration team."

"They were efficient and well-organized."

"The team assembled for the project was excellent and knew every detail of the case."

"The Baker Botts team demonstrates a wealth of knowledge about the technical matters at issue in disputes, as well as the legal and financial implications."

Work highlights Baker Botts represented Global Industrial Investment Limited and China Fortune Land Development in an ICDR arbitration arising out of two investment funds.

Notable practitioners

Michael Goldberg (see p.568) attracts particular praise for his experience in disputes concerning the energy and chemical sectors. Strengths: "Michael is smart, forceful and efficient." "He is a great advocate and is both knowledgeable and personable." Jennifer McCandless (see p.636) has notable experience acting for states, with particular expertise in matters involving Latin America. Strengths: "She's really good." Andrew Behrman (see p.501) has a robust commercial disputes practice that sees him representing clients in a wide range of commercial international arbitration issues, particularly in the energy sector. Strengths: "Andrew is able to jump seamlessly from high-level strategic discussions to exploring the most minute technical details at issue in a case." "Andrew has done an excellent job and takes excellent directions from his clients."

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler offers clients an experienced group of advocates and arbitrators who appear in sophisticated commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. The team is also noted for its ability to tackle arbitral enforcement mandates.

Strengths

"BakerHostetler have shown superb competence in the field of international investment arbitration."

"The firm has extensive experience and a top tier team."

"BakerHostetler's core team is well-equipped to handle complex and sophisticated international commercial arbitrations."

"They are very responsible, professional and their work product is truly excellent."

"They have the ability to analyse complex facts and apply them commercially with cross-industry experience."

Work highlights BakerHostetler represented Latam Hydro, a US company and its Peruvian subsidiary, in ICSID dispute with the Republic of Peru arising from the government's interferences with Latam's development, construction and operation of a hydroelectric power plant.

Notable practitioners

Kenneth Reisenfeld (see p.677) acts as an arbitrator and counsel in both commercial and investment treaty matters. Strengths: "He is technically strong, strategic in planning, and tactical in handling an arbitration. I would have no hesitancy engaging him on a matter, either as an advocate or as an arbitrator." "Kenneth is flexible and highly responsive." "He has fantastic analytical skills and is a great team leader." Sashe Dimitroff (see p.542) is well regarded in the international arbitration field, where he is known for representing his clients in ICC, ICSID and LCIA disputes, among others. Strengths: "Sashe is a top attorney who understands the market as well as the legal requirements. He is focused on delivering exceptional value for all of our matters." "He has the ability to learn the material very quickly and craft an effective strategy for the arbitration." "Sashe has a good sense of a strategic judgment and is a fluent advocate."

Coolley LLP

What the team is known for Coolley has a highly experienced practice group with a strong pedigree in complex international disputes. The firm's hallmark strengths in technology and life sciences sees it regularly engaged in treaty and commercial claims in those sectors, alongside additional expertise in construction, energy and infrastructure.

Strengths

"Coolley is highly commercially aware and raise practical realities of what in-house counsel has to constantly account for."

"Coolley has a deep bench with experience and skill in international arbitrations."

"Their junior people have been high calibre, we're very happy with depth and the quality of the depth."

Work highlights Coolley acted for Odyssey Marine Exploration in an ICSID arbitration brought under Chapter 11 of the North American Free Trade Agreement against Mexico.

Notable practitioners

Rachel Thorn is routinely called upon by clients to appear in commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. She is able to handle disputes in an array of sectors, including life sciences and technology. Strengths: "Rachel is smart and organized, she is both great advocate and strategic thinker." "She is very talented and knowledgeable in business and commercial matters." "Rachel is one of a kind. She is smart, hard-working, compassionate and strategic." "She is very smart and able to effectively synthesize complicated issues for arbitration tribunals." Marc Suskin maintains a strong reputation for his representation of clients in investor-state and commercial arbitrations. Strengths: "He is incredibly knowledgeable about the quick changing landscape whilst being aware of the commercial realities of the businesses. He has a wonderful ability to raise questions and concerns before they become issues." "He knows his stuff and delivers excellent results." "Marc is goal-oriented and responsive."

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland houses a highly regarded international arbitration practice group with a strong pedigree in commercial, investment treaty and public international law matters. Its clients include an enviable array of leading multinationals and sovereigns, who also benefit from the firm's additional resources in award enforcement and parallel litigation.

Strengths

"Eversheds team consists of highly educated and experienced lawyers with a national and international perspective. They are able to understand local conditions and culture."

"The Eversheds team has individuals that specialize in all areas of the law and all geographic regions." "The unmistakable advantage of Eversheds is the depth and breadth of their team. They take the time to understand the needs of the client and they ensure that the entire team is briefed and up to date. Each member of the team contributes and is not just along for the ride."

Work highlights Eversheds acted for R.W. Chelsea Energie in an ICDR arbitration. The matter arises from the refurbishment and management of a power plant in Madagascar's capital, Antananarivo. The arbitration is valued in excess of $50 million.

Notable practitioners

Meriam Al-Rashid (see p.490) is a standout lawyer with a key focus on investment treaty arbitration matters. Strengths: "Meriam is responsive and has technical expertise." "She is incredible counsel." William O'Brien (see p.656)'s areas of expertise include both serving as counsel and representing clients in the enforcement of arbitral awards. Strengths: "Will's sound advice and pragmatic nature makes him a go-to lawyer for a variety of complex issues." "William O'Brien is a consummate professional who takes the time to understand the inner workings of his clients."

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day has a well-established team with notable expertise in commercial and investment arbitration, particularly in Latin America and the CIS region. It offers considerable strength in handling disputes arising from the construction, energy and mining sectors.

Strengths

"Jones Day's arbitration team is top-tier. In my cases with them, they were able to leverage their law firm size to bring in in-house specialist lawyers to contribute to complex specific matters as needed." "Every member of the team has their own specialization and strengths that can be utilized." "Jones Day is incredibly experienced and knowledgeable."

Work highlights Jones Day represented a Canadian uranium mining company World Wide Minerals in its investment treaty claims against the Republic of Kazakhstan, arising out of the expropriation of its mining assets in the late 1990s.

Notable practitioners

Melissa Stear Gorsline earns high praise for acting in investor-state arbitrations, as well as offering strength in complex international commercial disputes. Strengths: "Melissa has a robust investor-state practice." "She explains everything in digestible and an easy to understand way." "Melissa is an excellent lawyer and a great strategic thinker." Steven Smith regularly acts for clients in a broad array of commercial arbitrations. He is active in a range of industries such as energy, infrastructure and mining. Strengths: "Steven is a seasoned international arbitration expert who has provided outstanding support." "He's an excellent advocate."

Squire Patton Boggs

What the team is known for Squire Patton Boggs is held in particularly high regard for its sovereign-side international arbitration practice and is regularly turned to for its pedigree in complex and high value investment treaty disputes. It fields notable strength in natural gas price review disputes, as part of its wide-ranging energy sector capabilities.

Strengths

"We rate Squire Patton Boggs highly in their ability to represent states in investment disputes." "Squire Patton Boggs were very prompt and available." "The firm were very quick to pick up on salient issues and to ask pertinent questions."

Work highlights Squire Patton Boggs represented Edison, an Italian utility company, in a new LCIA arbitration against Venture Global. The dispute concerned unfulfilled deliveries under a long term LNG supply agreement for LNG from the Calcasieu Pass facility in Louisiana.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Anway regularly acts for states in investment treaty disputes as well as handling commercial mandates. His practice includes a focus on natural gas arbitrations. Strengths: "Stephen is a highly experienced and knowledgeable professional in the field of investment arbitration dispute resolution." "He is fantastic at counsel work." Douglas Pilawa is noted as a capable associate, involved in wide variety of matters involving both energy, investor-state and commercial arbitration aspects. Strengths: "A very competent professional, with a keen mind and the ability to identify the issues in complex arbitration matters."

Band 2 International Arbitration:] Highly Regarded

A&O Shearman

What the team is known for A&O Shearman's international arbitration practice features a wealth of experience in complex treaty and commercial claims, under the full gamut of institutional rules. The team acts for an enviable array of sovereign clients and multinational corporations, with a particularly strong reputation for its expertise in the technology and energy sectors. On 1st May 2024, Allen & Overy merged with Shearman & Sterling to form A&O Shearman.

Notable practitioners

Chris Ryan brings to bear significant cross-border experience in both litigation and arbitration, including the enforcement of awards. Strengths: "Chris is a tremendously practical advisor." Patrick Pearsall (see p.665) is particularly noted for his expertise in treaty arbitrations, in which he draws on impressive experience as Chief of Investment Arbitration in the US State Department. He also takes on commercial arbitrations. Strengths: "Patrick has a strong knowledge of the investment treaty arbitration issues." "He has always impressed me with his strategic thinking and his understanding of commercial law."

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird is recognized for its strong international disputes group and deep experience in enforcing arbitral awards in state courts. The team offers strength in both commercial and investment treaty arbi-trations, with expertise in disputes held under a broad range of institutional rules.

Strengths

"They are a great team, I found them professional and flexible." "The whole arbitration process has been very well conducted by the firm."

Work highlights Alston & Bird represented Kenya Uganda Railway Holdings in UNCITRAL arbitration against Uganda arising from the expropriation of a railway and the wrongful termination of a concession agreement.

Notable practitioners

Alexander Yanos (see p.739) is praised by clients for his expert handling of investor-state arbitrations and commercial disputes. He is also capable of handling enforcement mandates. Strengths: "Alex is highly experienced in the field, he is a really good speaker and has great practical skills." "Alex is practical and whip smart, he has great tactical sense on what important arguments are." "His grasp of the case has been fantastic and he is really good on his feet." Matthew Richardson (see p.680) centers his practice on commercial arbitrations and is particularly adept at handling matters concerning intellectual property. Strengths: "Matthew was affable and effective."

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie offers a global platform with a strong roster of US arbitration counsel, offering a wealth of expertise in handling international disputes on behalf of national governments and multinational corporations. It provides solid experience in construction, energy and corporate dispute, alongside additional expertise in the enforcement of arbitral awards.

Strengths

"Baker McKenzie has a very diverse team which is able to answer all the commercial needs of a corporation." "Exceptional communication and transparency by explaining risks and strategies, while actively working to protect our interests." "Baker McKenzie is a very organized team of specialized lawyers."

Notable practitioners

Dallas based partner Nicholas Kennedy (see p.604) handles an array of commercial arbitrations under JAMS, AAA and LCIA rules. Strengths: "Nicholas has a great knowledge of the law, he is intelligent and has great demeanor." "Nicholas is always efficient, and has never disappointed us."

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring offers clients a well-regarded group of advocates with experience in wide-ranging multijurisdictional disputes. The firm has notable strength in investment treaty arbitration, as well as handling commercial claims and the enforcement of awards.

Strengths

"Crowell & Moring are very attentive and responsive to the needs of their clients." "Crowell & Moring has a strong command of all the issues involved in investment treaty arbitration." "They have been wonderful at explaining the process to non-lawyers, and clearly communicating the process at every step.”

“Their team understood and honed into the core root causes and differentiated issues that are real and those that are noise.”

Work highlights Crowell & Moring acted for Alberta Petroleum Marketing Commission in an arbitration against the United States Government pursuant to NAFTA legacy claims under the Canada-US-Mexico Agreement.

Notable practitioners

Ian Laird is highly sought after for his investor-state arbitration knowledge and experience under different treaty rules. Strengths: “He is knowledgeable, well-versed and professional. He has an in-depth knowledge of the issues and the players. He does a wonderful job of answering our questions and communicating well.” “He’s a strong, seasoned professional with a responsive approach.” “His service, sophistication and awareness have always been excellent.”

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown has substantial experience acting on behalf of clients across the world in commercial and investment treaty matters. The team’s wide-ranging expertise includes disputes arising from the energy and pharmaceutical industries, as well as the enforcement of awards.

Strengths

“Mayer Brown has excellent knowledge of the industry and commercial perspectives, which are extremely relevant to the entire view of the case and deciding strategy.”

“The firm has a large international footprint which gives it significant global reach. The lawyers in the group are highly skilled and have a deep understanding of international law.”

“Mayer Brown team possesses a comprehensive range of expertise that seamlessly combines technical knowledge with legal acumen.”

Notable practitioners

Michael Lennon (see p.620) draws on experience in both courtroom litigation and arbitration proceedings to handle a range of cross-border disputes. His practice includes notable strength in enforcement mandates. Strengths: “Michael is meticulous and industrious.” Ted Howes (see p.590) heads the firm’s US international arbitration group. His long-standing practice includes particular strength in commercial arbitrations. Strengths: “He exemplifies excellence as an international arbitration advocate, consistently demonstrating forward-thinking strategies and presenting creative arguments.” “Ted has the ability to dig into a case and find details or solutions that would have been overlooked by others. He knows how to build a case and argue it.”

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings provides extensive coverage nationally and internationally, leveraging a strong pool of disputes experts. The team offers broad experience in international commercial arbitrations, with significant expertise in the pharmaceutical, technology and automotive sectors. The firm is particularly well placed to handle arbitrations arising from Asia and Latin America.

Strengths

“Their ability to understand highly sophisticated science, apply complex legal issues, and distill it into a persuasive and easy to understand presentation is superb.”

“It’s a highly talented and diverse team that was able to address all issues in the matter.”

“The teams attention to detail was impressive.”

Work highlights Paul Hastings delivered a complete victory on behalf of Daiichi Sanko in multi-billion-dollar AAA life sciences arbitration against US biotech company Seagen. The dispute arose from a disagreement regarding the ownership of alleged improvements made by Daiichi Sankyo relating to Seattle Genetics’ drug conjugation technology.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Profaizer (see p.673) is particularly adept at handling commercial arbitrations, with notable expertise in acting for clients in the pharmaceutical, mining and technology sectors. Strengths: “His responsiveness is swift and he provides focus and attention no matter what time of day or day of the week which makes him not only a vital resource, but incredibly reliable.” “Joe is an exceptionally gifted arbitration attorney. He knows all of the intricate nuances of arbitration procedure, and he is a skilled tactician who is always thinking several moves ahead of his adversaries.” “Joe is professional, he presents well and in an organized fashion.” Jonathan Hamilton is noted for his prowess in Latin America-related matters. His practice is centered on investment treaty arbitrations, and he counts both investors and states among his clients. Strengths: “Jonathan sees the whole picture, managing all the components of international arbitration well.” “Jonathan is a self confident, strong advocate.”

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn is recognized for its full-service international arbitration practice, which is well equipped to handle a wide range of investment treaty and commercial disputes. The attorneys field expertise in the oil and gas and technology sectors, and offer experience in arbitrations arising out of Europe, the Middle East and the Americas.

Strengths

“I am very impressed with the sophistication of their work. They are handling very complex matters under great time pressure and were successful both in their legal analysis and approach towards the clients.”

“They’re very knowledgeable and efficient.”

Work highlights Winston & Strawn represented Suntech Power International in a dispute filed under the Energy Charter Treaty to recover damages from the Republic of Italy arising from Italy’s removal of feed-in-tariffs that severely damaged SPI’s investments in solar plants in Italy.

Notable practitioners

Ricardo Ugarte has substantial experience in advocating in both commercial and investment arbitrations. Strengths: “Ricardo brings the team together to make the strongest possible case for the client.” “He’s very good at all aspects of the job; client care and substance.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

Stanimir Alexandrov garners praise for his work as an arbitrator in both investment treaty and commercial disputes. Strengths: “He was good at asking smart and thoughtful questions.”

George Bermann is widely respected in the market and is a popular choice for both commercial and investor-state disputes. Strengths: “George is a leading expert in jurisdictional matters in arbitration; he is a very respected leader.”

Frances Bivens (see p.506) of Davis Polk & Wardwell draws from her experience as a litigator and is well versed in enforcing arbitral awards. She has also developed a sophisticated arbitration practice where she acts as counsel in commercial arbitrations. Strengths: “Frances has been absolutely terrific in terms of understanding business needs and finding practical solutions.” “Frances has a fantastically strategic mind.”

Thomas Brewer centers his practice on commercial arbitrations and is particularly adept at handling disputes concerning IP. Strengths: “Thomas is really good as a co-arbitrator. He is very experienced, focused and gets to the point.”

Charles Brower’s wealth of experience spans commercial and investment arbitrations, and he is considered a leading member of the global Bar.

Lee Caplan of ArentFox Schiff leverages experience both at UNCITRAL and at the US Department of State when advising on high-stakes investment treaty arbitrations. Strengths: “Lee is sharp and focused when providing legal advice, while being an extremely calm, friendly and likeable character, which is an excellent quality from a client’s perspective in building trust and confidence.” “Lee has the unique combination of being both highly practical and highly cerebral in his disputes practice.” “Lee is a high quality lawyer, complete with integrity and technical understanding.”

Stephanie Cohen has a growing reputation as an arbitrator and is particularly noted for her handling of commercial disputes. Strengths: “Stephanie is a very hard working, meticulous, well prepared and diligent arbitrator.” “Stephanie asked thoughtful questions, she did an impressive job getting to the bottom of things.”

Mark Cymrot maintains an active practice both as arbitrator and counsel for international disputes, with particular expertise in commercial matters. He is also skilled at confirming arbitral awards at state courts. Strengths: “Mark is an exceptionally effective lawyer.” “Mark is someone I would not hesitate to recommend as an arbitrator. He was always well prepared and very analytical, able to identify key issues in the cases quickly, making substantial contributions to the case.” “He has tremendous experience.”

Robert Davidson of JAMS is an experienced arbitrator with particular expertise handling commercial disputes under a broad range of institutional rules, including those of the ICC, LCIA and ICDR. Strengths: “Robert is a thoughtful and wise leader.” “He conducts a fair and efficient process, and is very collegial. He’s a great arbitrator to have for complex cases.” “Robert is a sound thinker; he is wise and experienced.”

Steven Davidson regularly acts for major companies in enforcement proceedings. Strengths:

"Steve is amazing in handling complex cases and allocating the right resources to make sure the case has the best team behind it." "Steven is very experienced in the enforcement field and he has a lot of creative ideas."

Donald Francis Donovan is widely regarded as one of the senior eminences of the international arbitration Bar, commanding respect for his track record in counsel and arbitrator-side roles in some of the most complex and high value international disputes. Strengths: "I have high regard for him, he is a smart guy and his written work is thorough and put together." "He is a force as an arbitrator and is willing to grapple with the most complex issues." "He is exceptionally shrewd." "Donald is knowledgeable and pragmatic in creating solutions to unique procedural problems."

Matthew Draper (see p.2312) of Draper & Draper has significant experience sitting as an arbitrator in both commercial and investment arbitrations. Strengths: "He is straightforward, does not engage in hyperbole, and has a lot of credibility." "Matthew is collegiate and well prepared." "Matt has proven he can handle complex matters."

Hagit Elul acts as counsel for a wide range of clients involved in international disputes, including those from the energy and pharmaceutical sectors. Strengths: "Hagit is confident in her advocacy, and is very on top of the details and strategic considerations." "She is very thoughtful and always thinking ahead, her explanation is always persuasive and understandable." "Hagit is a really excellent lawyer – a strategic thinker who is savvy in commercial arbitrations." "She is very strategic, very smart in terms of how she looks at a case and very diligent in digging up supporting case law for the position of the client. She is aware of the business goal and always has that in mind, which I find to be very valuable."

John Fellas of Fellas Arbitration is an excellent choice for arbitral roles in complex cases, drawing upon extensive experience in high-value treaty and commercial claims over the course of his career. Strengths: "John was remarkable, he ran the arbitration well and fairly." "He is excellent." "He always manages to be insightful, on top of things and good humored."

Andrew Finn (see p.553) is the head of Sullivan & Cromwell's international arbitration and global dispute resolution group. He has an expanding commercial and investor-state practice. Strengths: "Andrew is a rising star." "Andrew is on top of things, diligent and responsible."

Marc Goldstein centers his practice on commercial arbitrations and is active in a range of sectors such as construction, energy and mining. Strengths: "Marc is really fair and thorough as an arbitrator, I like him." "Marc has an immense knowledge of US arbitration law and is incredibly bright. It has been a wonderful experience." "He really took control of the arbitration process with exceeding focus on the details."

Horacio Grigera Naón maintains a respected arbitration practice, with notable experience in disputes arising from Latin America. Strengths: "He has a great and well-deserved reputation."

Martin Gusy (see p.575) of Bracewell is regularly turned to by both sovereign and corporate clients for his expertise in investment treaty arbitration claims, as well as commercial disputes. Strengths: "Martin is an incredibly talented attorney. He comes prepared and goes to the heart of the matter." "Martin is very creative and is always thinking outside the box." "Martin brought deep knowledge of rules and procedure, while being detail oriented and thoughtful." "I genuinely enjoy working with him. He is very responsive, a great strategic thinker and is always prepared." "Martin has an excellent ability to clearly understand a clients needs, think about a pragmatic approach to achieve it. He also negotiates with adversaries very well."

Grant Hanessian (see p.578) of Hanessian ADR has a wealth of experience with investment treaty and commercial arbitrations, with notable expertise with matters involving Latin America, Eastern Europe and Russia. Strengths: "Grant is experienced, respected and has steeped in knowledge about international arbitration." "Grant is independent and open minded." "He understands the issues and he is both commercial and practical in his approach." "His approach is so informed on both the legal and practical side."

Miriam Harwood is particularly noted for her expertise in investment treaty arbitrations and is experienced in acting for both states and investors. She is also skilled in handling commercial arbitrations. Strengths: "Miriam really impressed me in how hard she prepared and how detailed she was, she goes out to bat for the clients and looks at every possible argument." "She is excellent, honest and straightforward. I'd have no hesitation in appointing her as counsel." "She's an excellent arbitration lawyer especially in the investment treaty area."

Jean Kalicki remains one of the market's leading arbitrators for both commercial and investment treaty disputes. Strengths: "Jean is just terrific- she is very smart and extremely well prepared." "She has been fantastic as always." "She was phenomenal. She couldn't have been more prepared and asked thoughtful questions."

Mark Kantor is held in high regard for his long-standing international disputes practice.

Co-founder of the firm Michael Kim is recognized for his contribution to the arbitration space. He is particularly adept handling enforcement proceedings. Strengths: "Michael brings a holistic approach to his enforcement practice." "He is at the cutting edge of the market."

Louis Kimmelman draws on long-standing experience acting as counsel in commercial and investor-state disputes in his practice as an independent arbitrator. Strengths: "I think highly of him, he takes the position seriously and is very engaged."

Brian King of 3 Verulam Buildings is widely considered a leading choice for commercial and investment arbitration proceedings, particularly those in the construction and energy fields. Strengths: "I trust Brian's judgement, he would be my top choice for the arbitrator. He is diligent, puts in time and understands the arguments." "Brian is excellent, smart and experienced. He is extremely well prepared." "He is truly open minded and independent, well prepared and extremely bright."

Floriane Lavaud (see p.617) of Withers Bergman LLP acts for corporations and states, often in the Middle East, in a range of investment arbitrations. She also advises clients on international law issues. Strengths: "She understands the complexities of the quantum issues without losing sight of the bigger picture, and her emotional IQ is off the charts. Her clients love her, her teams love her and the consultants who work with her love her." "I have been really impressed with Floriane."

Ben Love of Bois Schiller Flexner is increasingly recognized for his handling of international commercial and investment arbitrations. Strengths: "Ben has a strong ability to develop creative arguments." "Ben has the ability to see the big picture and provide useful, business-minded and practical advice." "Ben Love is an international law expert and is well-experienced in all aspects of investor-state arbitration."

Viren Mascarenhas has a growing reputation for his adept handling of arbitration matters and acts for clients on both investment treaty and commercial arbitrations. Strengths: "Viren is a talented, smart and quick on his feet. He is a lawyer you want in your corner." "His attention to detail and commitment made him stand out- he was always thinking of next steps and briefing us often." "Viren is bright, capable and a really strong advocate. He is someone who has deep understanding of investment treaty arbitration, and has vast experience in the field."

Mark Morrill (see p.647) is an experienced arbitrator and a popular choice for commercial disputes. Strengths: "Marc is an excellent arbitrator, he is very smart and collegiate. He's terrific to work with." "He is very thorough and knowledgeable in the cybersecurity field." "He has great asset management skills." "Marc is exceptionally good, very wise and very able."

Joseph Neuhaus (see p.653) has a considerable level of experience handling highly complex and high-value international disputes to bring to bear in arbitrator roles. Strengths: "Joseph is thorough and exceptionally bright. He's very knowledgeable about the arbitration matters." "Joe is an exceptionally thoughtful and considerate arbitrator."

Michael Nolan brings to bear significant expertise in both commercial and investor-state arbitrations when serving as an arbitrator in a range of international disputes. Strengths: "He drafts everything so well."

William Park's practice includes both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations. He comes recommended for his long-standing disputes expertise. Strengths: "William is a real pleasure to work with."

John Pierce (see p.668) centers his practice on commercial arbitrations and is particularly adept at handling matters in the commercial, energy and intellectual property sectors. Strengths: "John has an excellent multi-cultural understanding which is a huge plus." "John is bright and an excellent advocate." "John has been easy to work with, and is both prepared and responsive."

Elliot Polebaum (see p.670) is held in high regard for his cross-border expertise and experience appearing as arbitrator in commercial cases. Strengths: "Elliot is incredibly impressive as a presiding arbitrator, he writes really quick awards and has a good grasp on commercial issues." "He is very put together and very proactive, he really sought consensus. I genuinely believe in his abilities, he was not afraid to delegate and it helped the awards be heard more efficiently." "Elliot has superb analytical skills, good judgment and is extremely efficient as an arbitrator." "He is phenomenal. He quickly identifies the key issues, writes superlatively, is always responsive and is easy to work with." "Elliot is both measured and thoughtful, he is a very smart and experienced arbitrator."

New York-based arbitrator Lucy Reed is routinely appointed in complex investor-state and commercial arbitrations. She brings previous experience as President of the SIAC Court to her arbitral practice. Strengths: "She has got an extraordinary depth of experience, is pragmatic and can grapple with most complex issues. She is really willing to dig into tricky issues."

Lisa Richman (see p.680) regularly represents a broad range of clients in commercial arbitral proceedings. Strengths: "She's an excellent advocate with stellar knowledge of ICC arbitration procedures." "Lisa is a phenomenal lawyer and person. She is responsive, hard working, understands a broad range of non-legal issues and is well received by everyone in our organization." "Lisa is highly knowledgeable about the intricacies of ICC arbitrations." "She goes above and beyond, is always professional and I would highly recommend her to anyone."

David Rivkin has a wealth of experience acting as counsel and sitting as an arbitrator in both investment treaty and commercial arbitrations. Strengths: "David has an encyclopedic knowledge of the players and of the legal frameworks in key jurisdictions. He is very experienced; his experience cuts across the key industries." "He runs matters efficiently, bringing innovative approaches to the cases."

Claudia Salomon has vast experience in complex international disputes, acting as arbitrator in both commercial and investor-state mandates. She is currently serving as the President of the International Chamber of Commerce. Strengths: "Claudia was extremely engaged, diligent and well informed."

Lawrence Schaner (see p.691) is a respected arbitrator adept at sitting under a variety of major arbitration rules, including SCC, ICDR, ICC and UNCITRAL. Strengths: "Larry was really well prepared and well organized. He really thought about how to organize competing considerations." "He is an excellent arbitrator. If I had an arbitration claim, he would be my first choice as an arbitrator." "Lawrence is thoughtful and deliberate, he is measured about reaching conclusions and examining things from different perspectives." "I think Larry is an excellent arbitrator, he is thoughtful, he connects well with partners, he has solutions to the problems that the parties have raised."

Eric Schwartz (see p.694) draws on a wealth of experience from his time as Secretary General of the ICC International Court of Arbitration and is adept at sitting as an arbitrator under other major arbitration rules. Strengths: "Eric is a very smart and experienced arbitrator." "His drafting is masterful and he's just a pleasure to be in a tribunal with." "Eric brings a sophisticated understanding to cases, he cuts through the noise and gets to the crux of matters. His demeanor as a chair in the significant international arbitration is what everyone should aspire to."

Peter Sherwin (see p.700) is noted for his expert handling of commercial arbitrations as well as enforcing arbitration awards. He is particularly experienced in acting for clients in the hospitality, manufacturing and technology sectors. Strengths: "I would gladly work with Peter again. He is consistently very professional and effective." "Peter is very smart and savvy commercial arbitration counsel. He is very talented and an excellent advocate."

Richard Silberberg of Dorsey & Whitney is a popular choice for clients requiring an arbitrator for commercial disputes, and is particularly active in the sports industry. Strengths: "He has a deep understanding of arbitration and has consistently exhibited all the qualities of an excellent arbitrator. Parties in the arbitration are lucky to have him as an arbitrator." "Richard was whip smart, efficient and exercised firm control." "He maintained control of the arbitration process without being overbearing or rigid." "As a result of his measured and fair way of conducting proceedings, Richard garners absolute trust from the participants."

Robert Smit is an experienced arbitrator who frequently handles big-ticket commercial claims. Strengths: "Robert was extremely engaged and asked excellent questions." "Robert is exceptionally smart, neutral and fair." "He is a creative thinker and delves deeply into the facts and the law."

Edna Sussman (see p.713) is a highly experienced commercial arbitrator who handles complex disputes across sectors such as manufacturing and medical devices. Strengths: "Edna has an unflappable presence." "Edna is thoroughly prepared, she is always sensitive to the subject matter and has a keen appreciation to the rules of the practice."

Daniel Tan of Dan Tan Law is an impressive advocate who draws particular praise for his expertise in arbitrations involving Asia. He is known for handling both ICC and ICSID arbitrations, as well as for the enforcement of awards. Strengths: "Daniel is an excellent oral advocate who has a strong commercial sense." "He is detailed, knowledgeable, practical and communicative. He never seems anxious and his written skills and advocacy skills are second to none." "Dan was extremely well prepared, he was savvy and navigated the matter with great wisdom and understanding."

New York-based partner Matthew Weldon (see p.733)'s practice at K&L Gates focuses on the enforcement of significant arbitral awards. He also represents clients in commercial and investment treaty arbitrations across various industries.

Strengths: "He's an astute tactician, a gifted technical lawyer, is great with clients and a popular and likeable team player. Matt gets the best of out his team in very complex disputes." "Matt showed a good working knowledge of international arbitration practices and rules, he was a good advocate for his client." "Matt is meticulous, easy to work with, intelligent and very hard working."

Anne Marie Whitesell takes appointments as arbitrator in significant international arbitrations. She is currently Professor and Faculty Director on International Arbitration and Dispute Resolution.

Richard Ziegler of AcumenADR LLC is regarded as a go-to arbitrator for international commercial disputes. Strengths: "Richard Ziegler is a phenomenal commercial arbitrator." "I would appoint him in a heartbeat. He was just brilliant, he came incredibly prepared and asked the hardest questions." "Mr. Ziegler is an outstanding choice as a neutral arbitrator in complex commercial disputes, including in the life sciences industry." "He has been a real pleasure to work with, he is a really good writer and editor, and is willing to reconsider his views when presented with different arguments, which is admirable. He is truly independent."

International Trade Nationwide

International Trade: Export Controls & Economic Sanctions
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Goldstein Corinne A Covington & Burling LLP*
Christensen Larry E Law Offices of Larry E. (ORL) ◇	Meltzer Ronald WilmerHale
Flowe Jr Benjamin H Berliner Corcoran & Rowe LLP	Reynolds III John B Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP*
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Barker John Arnold & Porter	McClafferty Eric R Kelley Drye & Warren LLP*
Carnegie Les Latham & Watkins LLP*	O'Toole Timothy P Miller & Chevalier Chartered*
Flanagan Peter L Covington & Burling LLP*	O'Toole Morgan Cortney Husch Blackwell LLP
Georgi Kay C ArentFox Schiff LLP	Osborn Jacob Goodwin*
Krauland Edward Step toe LLP	Propst Stephen Hogan Lovells US LLP
Lichtenbaum Peter Covington & Burling LLP*	Schisa Will Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP*
Nightingale Greta O'Melveny & Myers LLP	Shane John R Wiley
Peters Beth Hogan Lovells US LLP	Thomsen II Roszel C Thomsen & Burke LLP (ORL) ◇
Rathbone Meredith Step toe LLP	Townsend Tahlia Wiggin and Dana LLP
Wall Christopher R Pillsbury	Volkman Eric S Latham & Watkins LLP*
Wolf Kevin Akin	Wolff David (DJ) Crowell & Moring LLP
Band 2
Aiello LeBeau Josephine Wilson Sonsini Goodrich	Wysong Wendy Step toe LLP*
Lee Judith Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*	Zucker Jeremy Dechert LLP
Mannino Melissa B BakerHostetler LLP*	Band 5
Marquardt Paul Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP*	Borkovic Anne Akin
Smith Adam Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*	Brown Cripps Stephanie Freshfields Bruckhaus
Smith John E Morrison Foerster*	Burke Richard White & Case LLP
Snyder Jeffrey L Crowell & Moring LLP	Burton Michael L Jacobson Burton Kelley PLLC
Stinebower Cari N. Winston & Strawn LLP (ORL) ◇	Contini Kerry Baker McKenzie*
Strosnider Kimberly A. Covington & Burling LLP*	Egan Brian Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP*
Band 3
Cinelli Giovanna M Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Elliott Richard S Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton (ORL) ◇*
Clark Harry L Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Faulk Ginger Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP*
Fisch Eytan Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP*	Fayhee Ryan Akin*
Fischer Nancy A Pillsbury	Fleming Brian Step toe LLP
Flicker Scott M Paul Hastings LLP	Hansson Leigh Reed Smith LLP
Jacobson Douglas Jacobson Burton Kelley PLLC	Hutman Aaron Pillsbury
Kim Janet Baker McKenzie	Johnson David R Vinson & Elkins LLP (ORL) ◇
King Kevin Cooley LLP	Kovarovics Susan M C Akin*
Matheny Richard Goodwin*	Levine David J McDermott Will & Emery LLP (ORL) ◇*
McBride Thaddeus R Bass, Berry & Sims PLC*	Linney Barbara BakerHostetler LLP*
McCarthy Thomas J Akin	M.S. Guerrero Francesca Thompson Hine LLP (ORL) ◇*
McGuinness Jeanine Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	McKenzie John F Baker McKenzie*
Mortlock David Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (ORL) ◇*	Mosman Britt Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (ORL) ◇
Savage Christine King & Spalding LLP*	Nunnenkamp Kenneth Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Szubin Adam J Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*	Poling Jonathan Akin
Band 4
Adams Ama Ropes & Gray LLP*	Rezendes Maura A&O Shearman (ORL) ◇*
Baj Alexandra Step toe LLP	Seymour Anne E Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Becker Stephan E Pillsbury	Slack Robert Fenwick (ORL) ◇
Brayton-Lewis Cristina White & Case LLP	Soliman Tamer Mayer Brown LLP*
Duffy Melissa Fenwick (ORL) ◇	Stafford Powell Alison Baker McKenzie
Dukic Aleksandar Hogan Lovells US LLP	Timura Christopher Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Erb Nicole White & Case LLP	Torres Olga Torres Trade Law, PLLC (ORL) ◇*
Fisher-Owens Daniel Berliner Corcoran & Rowe LLP*	Van Grack Brandon L Morrison Foerster*
Gershberg Michael Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver (ORL) ◇	Yousef Nabeel Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer
Kadel Eric Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*	Zolanz Michael Dentons LLP (ORL) ◇*
Kleinfeld George Clifford Chance US LLP	Up-and-coming individuals
Kuntamukkala Ajay Hogan Lovells US LLP	C Hanifin Brendan Ropes & Gray LLP*
Lowell Michael Reed Smith LLP	Galdes Andrew Latham & Watkins LLP*
Mancuso Mario Kirkland & Ellis LLP*	Muranovic Lana BakerHostetler LLP*
	Ross Rebecca Cooley LLP
	Associates to watch
	Chang Samuel Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP*
	Hutchison Talya Paul Hastings LLP

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

International Trade
Export Controls & Economic Sanctions
The Elite
Leading Firms
Band 1
Akin
Covington & Burling LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Step toe LLP
Band 2
Latham & Watkins LLP
Band 3
Arnold & Porter
Baker McKenzie
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Pillsbury
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Band 4
ArentFox Schiff LLP
Cooley LLP
Crowell & Moring LLP
Dechert LLP
Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer
Goodwin
Morrison Foerster
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
White & Case LLP
WilmerHale

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Akin

What the team is known for Akin possesses a team of talented attorneys noted for their capabilities in customs, CFIUS, export controls and economic sanctions work. The areas of expertise cover ITAR, EAR, tariff classification and country of origin marking. The firm is proficient in trade remedies and trade policy issues, regularly working with leading domestic and foreign companies, as well as national governments. The team is also experienced in handling international mandates, supported by offices in Europe and Asia.

Strengths

"The team is collaborative and client-oriented in really trying to understand and accommodate the client's needs."

"Akin has a large team with extensive knowledge and experience."

"The team has a thorough understanding of the regulations and a practical approach to compliance."

"Akin has subject matter experts who deliver timely responses and respected advice."

"The firm's broad expertise means they can capably identify all relevant legal issues for their clients, and deliver reliably sound recommendations."

Work highlights Akin continued to advise Key-sight Technologies on the company's activities in China and Russia to ensure compliance with US exports and sanctions laws.

Notable practitioners

Lars-Erik Hjelm is a highly regarded customs practitioner with experience in matters such as classification, valuation and country of origin.

International Trade Export Controls & Economic Sanctions Highly Regarded Leading Firms
Band 1
Alston & Bird LLP
BakerHostetler LLP
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Clifford Chance US LLP
Kelley Drye & Warren LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Miller & Chevalier Chartered
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Reed Smith LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Wiley
Band 2
Bass, Berry & Sims PLC
Berliner Corcoran & Rowe LLP
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Dorsey & Whitney LLP
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Holland & Hart LLP
Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP
Husch Blackwell LLP
Jacobson Burton Kelley PLLC
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Seward & Kissel LLP
Wiggin and Dana LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Strengths: “Lars is very thorough in his analysis and is able to draw upon his prior experience to guide our company to successful outcomes.” Kevin Wolf brings to bear previous government experience in assisting clients with export controls and economic sanctions concerns. Strengths: “Kevin is an expert in this space.” “He is incredibly knowledgeable on both the statutes and the industry.” “Kevin has encyclopedic knowledge.” Matthew Nicely regularly handles trade disputes, and his clients include governments and companies. He is particularly strong at handling antidumping and countervailing duty matters. Strengths: “Matthew is a great trade lawyer who is smart and strategic.” “Matthew offers great advice.” Stephen Kho undertakes a host of policy and regulatory work for his global client base. He also represents clients in antidumping and Section 301 cases. Strengths: “His responses are very prompt and address our concerns and interests accurately.” “He listens to his clients, assesses their needs and outlines strategies for success.” Thomas McCarthy frequently advises on export control matters. He regularly works with clients in the defense and technology spaces. Strengths: “He is an excellent lawyer with a lot of in-depth knowledge and experience.” “Tom has deep experience with regulatory enforcement agencies.” Christian Davis is a key partner in the team and handles CFIUS matters. He is experienced in working with clients from the technology, energy and defense sectors. Strengths: “Christian provides excellent knowledge, understanding and responsiveness.” “It is always a pleasure to work with Christian and I appreciate his balanced, nuanced advice.” Bernd

International Trade: CFIUS Experts
Leading Firms
Band 1
Covington & Burling LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 2
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
WilmerHale
Band 3
Cooley LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer
Goodwin
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Band 4
Akin
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Morrison Foerster
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Pillsbury
Steptoe LLP

Janzen is a trusted trade practitioner noted for his strength in the litigation space. His clients include corporations and governments. Strengths: “He always provides an excellent service.” “We are in excellent hands with Bernd's leadership.” Suzanne Kane co-manages the customs practice group at Akin. She advises clients on import controls, tariffs, valuation and duty-free claims. Strengths: “Suzanne is a great partner. She invests in getting to know the client, their objectives and their obstacles.” “She is really sharp and on top of things.” Anne Borkovic is noted for advising clients on trade control issues. Her clients include those in the technology and healthcare sectors. Strengths: “She is well regarded and has a strong specialty in ITAR matters.” “Her knowledge of the US export control regulations is impressive and has allowed us to collaborate quickly and efficiently on solutions.” “Anne has deep expertise.” Ryan Fayhee (see p.551) serves clients across a range of industries, including financial services, private equity, technology, aerospace, telecommunications and others. Strengths: “Ryan is a very capable attorney and has a good vision on how to deal with government.” “He has strong expertise in export controls.” Susan Kovarovich (see p.613) regularly advises clients on compliance with ITAR and EAR. She often works with those in the defense, manufacturing and aerospace industries. Strengths: “Susan is an excellent adviser. She is easy to work with, very responsive and very knowledgeable.” Jonathan Poling has an extensive international trade practice. He often advises on export control matters. Strengths: “He is an outstanding attorney.” Katherine Padgett (see p.660) is noted for her strong abilities advising on the CFIUS implications of transactions. Strengths: “She is very knowledgeable and very thoughtful in her analysis.” “Katherine is a pleasure to work with and incredibly responsive.” Sarah Sprinkle (see p.709) is recognized for her strong practice advising foreign governments on complex trade disputes. Strengths: “Sarah is a really smart lawyer.”

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird LLP has a skillful team of practitioners who cover customs, export controls and economic sanctions issues for a host of clients. The firm works on issues concerning ITAR, EAR and OFAC, and its lawyers advise a range of domestic and international entities. Features sector expertise in areas such as energy, private equity, manufacturing and steel.

Strengths

“They are excellent in their understanding of legal matters and how they relate to our company.”

“The lawyers at Alston & Bird are true experts in the field of international trade.”

“The partners in the firm are excellent to work with and are extremely helpful with various challenges.”

Work highlights Alston & Bird LLP advised a Web3 technology and services company on all aspects of international trade, including sanctions, export controls and anti-money laundering.

Notable practitioners

Jason Waite (see p.728) has a broad range of experience in the customs space. He regularly advises clients on seeking exclusions and customs classifications, among other matters. Strengths: “He is responsive, thoughtful and represented us well with opposing parties and governmental officials.” “Jason is a trusted adviser on international trade issues.” Lian Yang (see p.739) has a broad trade practice that includes advising clients on customs matters. She advises on tariff classifications and country of origin issues, among other matters. Strengths: “She is knowledgeable, relatable, responsive and makes an effort to understand the particular needs of our company.” “Lian is a sharp, experienced and skilled attorney.”

ArentFox Schiff LLP

What the team is known for ArentFox Schiff LLP has an experienced team that excels in trade remedies, customs, export controls and economic sanctions. The firm's areas of focus include ITAR-related issues and trade litigation concerning steel, solar panels and lumber. The team's clients include multinational manufacturers, defense companies and financial institutions.

Strengths

“Their knowledge of the subject matter is significant and critical to our business.”

“They have a very deep understanding of current and emerging regulations.”

“The team members are very responsive to our needs.”

Work highlights ArentFox Schiff LLP continued to advise Crown Holdings on a range of international trade matters, including export controls, sanctions, imports and other compliance regulations.

Notable practitioners

Kay Georgi is a top choice for export controls and economic sanctions issues. Her clients include numerous Fortune 500 companies. Strengths: “She is practical, strategic and effective.” “Kay is very committed, a great communicator, and incredibly strong in export controls and sanctions.” Matthew Clark is skilled in a variety of trade remedy and trade policy matters. He is experienced in acting for international governments. David Hamill is a respected practitioner who handles a range of customs matters. His clients include manufacturers, importers and distributors.

Strengths: “David is always available and provides practical guidance.” Matthew Nolan regularly acts on trade remedy litigation, including anti-dumping and countervailing duty cases. His clients include governments and major corporations.

Strengths: “He is very intelligent, thorough and easy to work with.” “Matthew is well known in the space.” John Gurley is particularly experienced in handling trade remedy litigation. He advises on antidumping and countervailing duty cases, among other matters. Strengths: “John is a very good, well-respected lawyer who is active on solar issues.” “John navigates the issues well.” Nancy Noonan has a notable trade remedies practice, advising clients in the aluminum, solar, steel and lumber industries, among others. Strengths: “Nancy is extremely smart and handles trade work well.” “Nancy provides an excellent service.”

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter demonstrates strength in export controls and economic sanctions matters, including EAR, OFAC and ITAR issues. The firm is adept at securing export authorizations and developing compliance strategies. Arnold & Porter has an impressive track record in trade remedy proceedings, with expertise spanning across products such as steel, lumber, paper and grains. The team is also experienced in representing national governments.

Strengths

“Arnold & Porter has a dedicated team to advise on complex transactional matters.”

“The firm provides expert advice with a long track record of successful interactions with the US government.”

“The team are quick and efficient.”

Work highlights Arnold & Porter represented the Province of Alberta as respondent in a US countervailing duty case on imports of softwood lumber from Canada.

Notable practitioners

John Barker wins widespread acclaim for his export controls practice, representing clients from a range of industries. He also works on FCPA matters. Strengths: “John is insightful, offers superb responsiveness and is pragmatic.” “John does a terrific job. He is very hardworking, very responsive and has tremendous knowledge.” David Park is head of the firm’s international trade group and works with both a domestic and international client base. His specialty lies in trade remedies disputes, including antidumping and countervailing duty cases. Strengths: “David has a strong sense of dedication to his clients and goes above and beyond to ensure that their needs are met.”

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie has a deep bench with extensive expertise in customs, export controls and economic sanctions. The firm offers services in trade enforcement and compliance, and OFAC and ITAR matters. The team is experienced in handling sanctions matters relating to Iran. The firm is well supported by an integrated network of global offices. Its client base includes those in the energy, financial services, healthcare and telecommunications sectors.

Strengths

“They are very knowledgeable and have great relationships with their clients.”

“We always receive a clear response that points us in the right direction.”

“They are always well prepared for conversations and discussions.”

Work highlights Baker McKenzie represented Smart Glove, a leading Malaysian glove manufacturer, in responding to a withhold release order by US Customs.

Notable practitioners

Janet Kim handles a range of export controls and economic sanctions matters. She often works with clients such as financial services and construction companies. Strengths: “She is coordinated, proactive in her approach and puts clients first.” “Janet deeply understands our business and is able to provide business-friendly and practical advice that we can put directly into action.” Chandri Navarro (see p.651) draws on her extensive experience to effectively guide clients through an array of customs and trade compliance matters.

Strengths: “Chandri is very knowledgeable. She has strong experience in customs and trade compliance matters.” “She is a good lawyer who offers timely and relevant advice.” Kerry Contini (see p.532) regularly advises clients on the full range of export controls and economic sanctions issues. She works on trade compliance programs, risk assessments and licensing matters, among other issues. Strengths: “Kerry is extremely responsive and is able to quickly analyze and give practical legal advice.” “Kerry is knowledgeable, communicative and a pleasure to work with.”

Rod Hunter ably assists clients with CFIUS matters utilizing his valuable governmental experience. Strengths: “Rod is a great strategic thinker and he is detail-oriented.” John McKenzie (see p.638) garners praise for his trade regulations practice and he regularly advises on export controls work. He also handles customs-related matters. Strengths: “John is very professional on cross-border transactions and international trade regulations.” “John is a great lawyer.”

Alison Stafford Powell handles a range of trade control matters. Her clients include telecommunications companies and private equity funds. Strengths: “She is responsive, knowledgeable and well connected.” “Alison understands our business and provides appropriate advice.” Justin Becker is an associate in the team who regularly assists with trade remedy and trade policy matters. Christine Streatfeild (see p.712) is active on a range of trade work, with notable experience representing clients before the ITC. Strengths: “Christine is excellent – she is timely, thorough and knowledgeable.” “She is very thoughtful, very methodical and insightful.”

Alison Stafford Powell handles a range of trade control matters. Her clients include telecommunications companies and private equity funds. Strengths: “She is responsive, knowledgeable and well connected.” “Alison understands our business and provides appropriate advice.” Justin Becker is an associate in the team who regularly assists with trade remedy and trade policy matters. Christine Streatfeild (see p.712) is active on a range of trade work, with notable experience representing clients before the ITC. Strengths: “Christine is excellent – she is timely, thorough and knowledgeable.” “She is very thoughtful, very methodical and insightful.”

Christine Streatfeild (see p.712) is active on a range of trade work, with notable experience representing clients before the ITC. Strengths: “Christine is excellent – she is timely, thorough and knowledgeable.” “She is very thoughtful, very methodical and insightful.”

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler LLP has an established practice noted for its capabilities in trade remedies and policy matters. The firm is well versed in antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings. BakerHostetler’s sector expertise covers steel and softwood lumber, among others. The team regularly handles customs work, including audits and investigations, and is adept at advising on OFAC, EAR and ITAR matters.

Strengths

“BakerHostetler has a deep bench of talent and expertise.”

“The firm provides quality work in a timely manner.”

“The team provide us with a great balance of legal advice that addresses all of our commercial concerns.”

Work highlights BakerHostetler LLP advised Pentair Filtration Solutions on customs issues, including the application of China Section 301 tariffs.

Notable practitioners

Melissa Mannino (see p.631) is known for her capabilities in export controls and economic sanctions issues. She regularly works with technology companies. Strengths: “Melissa has a very good combination of CFIUS and export controls knowledge, as well as great government experience.”

Matthew Caligur (see p.518) advises clients on a full range of customs matters, with activity in industries such as healthcare, technology and construction. Strengths: “Matthew is a pleasure to work with. He is very responsive to our needs and always provides detailed, quality output.” Michael Snarr (see p.706) has a broad trade practice advising clients from a range of industries. He often counsels on customs compliance and trade disputes at the WTO. Strengths: “He is a phenomenal attorney to work with.” “Michael is very diligent and a greatly trusted adviser.”

Elliot Feldman (see p.553) works on trade disputes and is noted for his experience in the lumber sector. He regularly advises clients at the ITC and on NAFTA matters. Strengths: “Elliot is diligent, careful and a trusted adviser.” “Elliot is a very smart attorney.” Barbara Linney (see p.624) has a broad export and sanctions practice advising clients from a range of industries including defense, aerospace, energy, medical devices and technology. Strengths: “Barbara’s guidance and expertise is very constructive, especially when we need to see the bigger picture and take action.” “Her understanding of the requirements and how to implement these for practical business solutions is impressive.”

Lana Muranovic (see p.648) is highly thought of by clients for her expertise in export controls compliance matters. Strengths: “Lana is a trusted adviser whose breadth of knowledge on the ever-changing landscape of export compliance is truly valued.” “She is extremely collaborative, on top of things and highly specialized.”

Lana Muranovic (see p.648) is highly thought of by clients for her expertise in export controls compliance matters. Strengths: “Lana is a trusted adviser whose breadth of knowledge on the ever-changing landscape of export compliance is truly valued.” “She is extremely collaborative, on top of things and highly specialized.”

Justin Becker is an associate in the team who regularly assists with trade remedy and trade policy matters. Christine Streatfeild (see p.712) is active on a range of trade work, with notable experience representing clients before the ITC. Strengths: “Christine is excellent – she is timely, thorough and knowledgeable.” “She is very thoughtful, very methodical and insightful.”

Barnes, Richardson & Colburn LLP

What the team is known for Barnes, Richardson & Colburn LLP is well equipped to handle the full range of matters relating to customs law. The firm offers expertise in tariff classifications, valuations, investigations and audits. The team’s clients range from sole proprietorships to large multinational corporations.

Strengths

“The team are always responsive and helpful.”

“They have demonstrated strong technical aptitude on a wide variety of topics.”

International Trade: CFIUS Experts

Senior Statespeople

Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners

Kassinger Theodore O'Melveny & Myers LLP

Reynolds III John B Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP*

Leading Individuals

Band 1

Fagan David N Covington & Burling LLP*

Griner G Christopher Squire Patton Boggs (ORL) ◇

Jalinous Farhad White & Case LLP

Mir Aimen Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer

Plotkin Mark E Covington & Burling LLP*

Schlager Ivan A Kirkland & Ellis LLP*

Tuesley Malcolm Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP*

Band 2

Carnegie Les Latham & Watkins LLP*

Chambers Damara L Latham & Watkins LLP*

Flicker Scott M Paul Hastings LLP

Heifetz Stephen Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

Kabealo John Kabealo PLLC (ORL) ◇

Leiter Michael Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom*

Salladin Anne Hogan Lovells US LLP

Band 3

Baker Stewart Steptoe LLP

Beahn John Milbank LLP (ORL) ◇

Chipman Jason WilmerHale

Cooley Shawn Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP (ORL) ◇*

Curran Brian Hogan Lovells US LLP

Egan Brian Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP*

Hague Lucille Kirkland & Ellis*

Kimball Christopher J. Cooley LLP

Mancuso Mario Kirkland & Ellis LLP*

Marquardt Paul Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP*

Matheny Richard Goodwin*

McGuinness Jeanine Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

Mildorf Karalyn White & Case LLP

Powell Benjamin WilmerHale*

Band 4

Adams Ama Ropes & Gray LLP*

Capito Charles Morrison Foerster*

Davis Christian C Akin

Fischer Nancy A Pillsbury

Gafni Jonathan Linklaters (ORL) ◇*

Gruenspecht Joshua Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

Mendenhall James Sidley Austin LLP*

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

"They have a number of experienced professionals with a variety of skills, which is helpful in tackling a range of challenges."

Notable practitioners

Matthew McGrath is managing partner of the firm and has over 30 years of experience in the trade field. He advises clients on issues such as tariff classification and customs audits. Lawrence Friedman works with clients such as importers and exporters on a range of compliance issues. His practice covers audits, investigations and penalty proceedings, among other matters. Strengths: "Lawrence is an excellent practitioner." "Lawrence is a pleasure to work with."

Bass, Berry & Sims PLC

What the team is known for Bass, Berry & Sims PLC represents a range of clients in export controls and economic sanctions matters. The team is experienced in handling EAR, OFAC and ITAR issues.

Strengths

"The team are extremely client-oriented and respectful of deadlines."

"Bass Berry's service is excellent. They are technically sound, pragmatic and prompt."

"The firm is very responsive and has a good understanding of the desired outcomes."

Work highlights Bass, Berry & Sims PLC assisted Nissan with a sensitive review of potential economic sanctions issues related to the company's supply chain.

Notable practitioners

Thaddeus McBride (see p.635) assists clients with issues regarding ITAR and EAR, among other matters. He regularly works with technology and financial services clients. Strengths: "Thad is a very good attorney who provides pragmatic solutions in a highly complex area." "He is very knowledgeable, has a good command of the regulations

International Trade: Customs

Leading Firms

Band 1

Akin

Sidley Austin LLP

Band 2

Crowell & Moring LLP

Faegre Drinker

Band 3

Baker McKenzie

Barnes, Richardson & Colburn LLP

Band 4

Alston & Bird LLP

ArentFox Schiff LLP

BakerHostetler LLP

Braumiller Law Group, PLLC

Cassidy Levy Kent

King & Spalding LLP

Miller & Chevalier Chartered

Sandler, Travis & Rosenberg

Senior Statespeople & Eminent Practitioners

Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners

Peterson John M Neville Peterson LLP (ORL) ◇

Sandler Gilbert Lee Sandler, Travis & Rosenberg

Eminent Practitioners

McGrath Matthew T Barnes, Richardson & Colburn

Leading Individuals

Band 1

Friedman Lawrence Barnes, Richardson & Colburn LLP

Hjelm Lars-Erik A Akin

Murphy Ted Sidley Austin LLP*

Band 2

Braumiller Adrienne Braumiller Law Group, PLLC

Brew John B Crowell & Moring LLP

Band 3

Baisburd Yohai Cassidy Levy Kent

Foote John M. Kelley Drye & Warren LLP

Jacobs Brenda Jacobs Global Trade (ORL) ◇

Mintzer Sydney Mayer Brown LLP*

Mojica Richard A. Miller & Chevalier Chartered*

Murphy Kathleen Faegre Drinker

Quinter Peter Gunster (ORL) ◇

Siegel Rabinowitz Laura Greenberg Traurig (ORL) ◇

Taylor J Michael King & Spalding LLP*

Thorson Maureen Wiley

Band 4

Caligur Matthew W BakerHostetler LLP*

Guzman Nicolas Faegre Drinker

Hamill David ArentFox Schiff LLP

Kane Suzanne Akin

Klestadt Peter Grunfeld, Desiderio, Lebowitz, Silverman

Lewis Craig A Hogan Lovells US LLP

Navarro Chandri Baker McKenzie*

Rucker William Randolph Faegre Drinker

Sawyer James Faegre Drinker

Sitkowski Mollie Faegre Drinker

Snarr Michael S BakerHostetler LLP*

Waite Jason Alston & Bird LLP*

Yang Lian Alston & Bird LLP*

Associates to watch

Weaver Casey Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

and is very responsive."

Berliner Corcoran & Rowe LLP

What the team is known for Berliner Corcoran & Rowe LLP is an established boutique noted for its strength in the economic sanctions and export

International Trade Trade Remedies & Trade Policy		International Trade: Trade Remedies & Trade Policy
Leading Firms		Senior Statespeople
Band 1		Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Novick Robert T WilmerHale
Akin		Esserman Susan Steptoe LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP		Leading Individuals
Sidley Austin LLP		Band 1	Pickard Daniel Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney PC (ORL) ◇
Steptoe LLP		Brightbill Timothy C Wiley	Ross David WilmerHale
Band 2		Rosenthal Paul C Kelley Drye & Warren LLP	Stoel Jonathan Hogan Lovells US LLP
Cassidy Levy Kent		Shoyer Andrew W Sidley Austin LLP *	Vaughn Stephen P King & Spalding LLP *
Kelley Drye & Warren LLP		Band 2	Band 5
White & Case LLP		Cannon Kathleen Kelley Drye & Warren LLP	Alves Mary Jane Cassidy Levy Kent
Wiley		Kaplan H Deen Hogan Lovells US LLP	Baisburd Yohai Cassidy Levy Kent
Band 3		Nicely Matthew Akin	Becker Stephan E Pillsbury
ArentFox Schiff LLP		Osendarp Joanne Blank Rome LLP	Campbell Jay White & Case LLP
Covington & Burling LLP		Price Alan H Wiley	Cannon Jr. James R. Cassidy Levy Kent
Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP		Band 3	DeFrancesco Robert Wiley
King & Spalding LLP		Drake Elizabeth Schagrin Associates	El-Sabaawi Laura Wiley
Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP		Durling James P Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP	Ellis Neil Law Office of Neil Ellis PLLC (ORL) ◇
WilmerHale		Kho Stephen Akin	Feldman Elliot J BakerHostetler LLP *
Band 4		Levy Jack A Rock Creek Trade LLP (ORL) ◇	Fischer Nancy A Pillsbury
Arnold & Porter		Mendoza Julie C Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP	Getlan Myles S Cassidy Levy Kent
BakerHostetler LLP		Park J David Arnold & Porter	Gurley John M ArentFox Schiff LLP
Blank Rome LLP		Porter Daniel L Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP	Kessler Jeffrey WilmerHale
Grunfeld, Desiderio, Lebowitz, Silverman		Spak Gregory White & Case LLP	Lentz Amy Steptoe LLP
Mayer Brown LLP		Spak Walter White & Case LLP	Magnus John Tradewins LLC (ORL) ◇
Mowry & Grimson PLLC		Veroneau John K Covington & Burling LLP *	Maruyama Warren Hogan Lovells US LLP
Picard Kentz & Rowe LLP		Band 4	McConkey Matthew J Mayer Brown LLP *
Pillsbury		Aranoff Shara Covington & Burling LLP *	Noonan Nancy A ArentFox Schiff LLP
Schagrin Associates		Beline Thomas Cassidy Levy Kent	Parnes Eric Blank Rome LLP
Trade Pacific, PLLC		Bond David E White & Case LLP	Snarr Michael S BakerHostetler LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.		Clark Matthew J ArentFox Schiff LLP	Trendl Thomas Steptoe LLP
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.		Emerson Eric Steptoe LLP	Weld Christopher B. Wiley *
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.		Grimson Jeff Mowry & Grimson PLLC	Wessel Jared Hogan Lovells US LLP
		Herrmann John M. Kelley Drye & Warren LLP	Yeo Matthew Steptoe LLP
		Janzen Bernd Akin	Up-and-coming individuals
		Lewis Craig A Hogan Lovells US LLP	Becker Justin R. Baker McKenzie
		McCullough Matthew Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt	Ringel Brooke Kelley Drye & Warren LLP *
		Mowry Kristin Mowry & Grimson PLLC	Sprinkle Sarah Akin *
		Nolan Matthew ArentFox Schiff LLP	Streitfeld Christine Baker McKenzie *
		Orava Stephen J King & Spalding LLP *

controls space. The firm is adept at representing clients across industries, including the defense space. The team is well positioned to assist with matters concerning compliance and enforcement.

Strengths

"The team has talented individuals."

Notable practitioners

Benjamin Flowe is noted for his considerable experience in export controls and economic sanctions. Strengths: "He is a legendary lawyer in the space." Daniel Fisher-Owens (see p.555) has a strength guiding clients through compliance with OFAC regulations. He has extensive experience in representing technology manufacturers. Strengths: "Daniel is a very good lawyer who is very quick and technical."

Blank Rome LLP

What the team is known for Blank Rome LLP is an emerging presence in the international trade space. The firm has excellent trade remedies experience, with notable strengths in antidumping and countervailing duties.

Strengths

"The firm and its members are very attuned to the current commercial environment."

"Blank Rome can assist with worldwide matters and has many area specialists."

"The team provides very concrete and helpful advice."

Notable practitioners

Joanne Osendarp cochairs the firm's international trade group. She focuses on trade remedy litigation. Strengths: "Joanne always does a very good job and is always well prepared." "Joanne is a very prominent attorney." Eric Parnes regularly advises clients on trade disputes such as antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings. His clients include governments and multinational corporations. Strengths: "Eric is up to speed on the key issues and offers great advice." "Eric is very experienced and extremely responsive."

Braumiller Law Group, PLLC

What the team is known for Braumiller Law Group is an experienced team in customs with a wide variety of abilities. The firm has strengths in import tariffs, product classification, licensing, market access and more.

Strengths

"The firm is very responsive and offers very practical advice."

"The team have hands-on experience in customs clearance."

Work highlights Braumiller Law Group advised a multinational shipping and logistics organization on navigating an intricate web of customs and other governmental agency necessities.

Notable practitioners

Adrienne Braumiller has a wide-ranging practice that includes advising on customs investigations and penalty assessments. She works frequently with aerospace, defense and manufacturing clients. Strengths: "She is very knowledgeable, approachable and has great expertise and connections in the space." "Adrienne is very responsive."

Cassidy Levy Kent

What the team is known for Cassidy Levy Kent is a boutique practice with a strong pedigree in trade remedies. The firm represents an impressive roster of clients that includes trade associations, multinational corporations and provincial governments. The team is experienced in representing US petitioners and foreign respondents, and the lawyers regularly advise on customs matters, including compliance issues and investigations.

Strengths

"They are very pragmatic, client-oriented and great to work with."

"The team are fully available and understand the needs of the client."

"Cassidy Levy Kent are very technically sound and diligent in providing thorough legal analysis."

Work highlights Cassidy Levy Kent filed antidumping and countervailing duty petitions, on behalf of Chemtrade Chemicals, against unfairly traded imports of sodium nitrite from India and Russia into the USA.

Notable practitioners

Yohai Baisburd works on fraud investigations and internal compliance programs, among other matters. He also supports clients on customs classification and exemptions. Strengths: “Yohai provides quality advice on day-to-day transactional issues as well as litigation.” “Yohai is great to work with. He is very collaborative, smart and good at explaining complex procedures.” Thomas Beline represents both foreign government and US companies in trade disputes. He regularly acts in antidumping and countervailing duty cases. Strengths: “He is generous with his time and provides advice that goes beyond just the legal aspects.” Mary Jane Alves has a notable practice in antidumping cases and supply chain issues. She represents clients from a range of sectors including chemicals, steel and electronics. Strengths: “Mary Jane is extremely thorough and provides excellent guidance.” “Mary Jane is very strong, very reliable and I think highly of her.” James Cannon is a trade litigation specialist who acts on antidumping and countervailing duty matters. His client base includes those in the food, chemical and metals sectors. Strengths: “Jim is an excellent lawyer.” “I thoroughly enjoy working with Jim.” Myles Getlan frequently works with clients on trade remedies litigation. He has diverse sector expertise which covers, among others, the agriculture, chemicals and energy industries. Strengths: “Myles has excellent knowledge of the subject matter and is great to work with.” “He is very knowledgeable, has a lot of experience in this area and has good client skills.”

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP works with clients on a range of trade control matters, including export controls and economic sanctions issues. The firm frequently guides clients through CFIUS reviews. The team's expertise covers a range of sectors, including technology, transportation and banking.

Strengths

“The Cleary Gottlieb team are very responsive and helpful in addressing our questions.”

“Cleary Gottlieb are very good at understanding complex issues and are excellent in providing their advice.”

“The team is comprised of very skilled lawyers.”

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP represented a Malaysian petrochemical company concerning economic sanctions and export controls related to Iran sanctions.

Notable practitioners

Chase Kaniecki (see p.600) maintains a strong practice in the CFIUS area. He has a broad client base covering the likes of banks, automotive manufacturers and investment funds. Strengths: “He is well versed in the law and how to deal with the CFIUS committees.” “Chase is very pragmatic, has good experience with CFIUS, manages expectations and has a practical approach.” Samuel Chang (see p.523) assists clients in a range of export controls and sanctions matters, on both the regulatory and enforcement sides. Strengths: “Sam is very attentive, helpful in his advice and strongly committed to understanding our needs.” “Sam is wonderful to work with. He is very engaged and responsive to our questions.”

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance LLP advises on trade compliance matters such as export controls and economic sanctions. The team is experienced in handling OFAC, BIS and DDTC-related issues. The firm works with a broad range of clients, including international banks, logistics companies and technology corporations.

Strengths

“Clifford Chance has a strong team.”

Notable practitioners

George Kleinfeld has an expansive trade practice focusing on export controls and economic sanctions. He often works with financial institutions.

Strengths: “George is very supportive, helpful and I have a high regard for him.” “George is a very strong lawyer.”

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley LLP has strong skills in handling trade controls work, including EAR, OFAC and ITAR matters. The firm is also adept at assisting clients through the CFIUS review process.

Strengths

“The firm provides an excellent level of service and responsiveness.”

“The firm understands commercial implications and works diligently to explore options within the regulatory framework.”

“They are a delight to work with.”

Notable practitioners

Christopher Kimball counsels clients on the full range of CFIUS issues. He often works with clients in the technology and finance sectors. Strengths: “Chris is a great lawyer. He is commercial, responsive and a go-to for CFIUS questions.” “He is excellent and does a really good job at communicating with CFIUS.” Kevin King advises on the full range of ITAR, EAR and OFAC-related matters. He has extensive experience in working with startups.

Strengths: “Kevin is extremely practical and client-oriented.” “He is very responsive, helpful and makes it easy for the client.” Dillon Martinson has a notable CFIUS practice, advising clients on both mandatory and voluntary CFIUS filings. Strengths: “Dillon is fantastic and passionate about helping his clients navigate the CFIUS process.” “His experience has provided tremendous value.” Rebecca Ross enjoys a growing reputation within the market. She is noted for advising clients on matters including sanctions, compliance and licensing. Strengths: “Rebecca is incredibly dedicated to her clients and extremely well versed in export controls.” Sarah Oliai is a key associate in the team who assists clients with navigating the CFIUS review process. Strengths: “Sarah is very responsive, helpful and makes things easy for us.” “She is professional and knowledgeable.”

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP remains at the forefront of international trade work, acting for an enviable roster of domestic and international clients. The firm is adept at handling economic sanctions, export controls, trade remedies and policy issues. Its lawyers are experienced in representing clients before the ITC, among other agencies. The firm maintains a leading CFIUS practice, regularly assisting with matters in the telecommunications, cybersecurity, aerospace and defense sectors. Covington & Burling houses a deep bench of talented attorneys, including several former government officials, and its strength in matters of economic sanctions is bolstered by a strong white-collar criminal practice.

Strengths

“The team are able to advise on extremely complex and rapidly changing circumstances.”

“Covington & Burling provide absolute top-tier responsiveness and levels of service.”

“Covington's team regularly advises on complex export control and sanctions matters and provides nuanced and carefully considered advice.”

Work highlights Covington & Burling LLP jointly advised Brookfield and Cameco on securing CFIUS and related approvals for the pending $7.9 billion acquisition of Westinghouse.

Notable practitioners

Corinne Goldstein (see p.569) boasts an impressive trade practice that sees her handle both export controls and economic sanctions work. She is particularly well thought of for her deep knowledge of OFAC. Strengths: “Corinne is a very impressive attorney and does a lot of high-profile work.” “She is very practical and knows how to inform and justify her advice.” David Fagan (see p.550) wins widespread acclaim for his expert handling of CFIUS reviews. He is also adept at advising on issues such as FOCI mitigation. Strengths: “He gives very strong advice and is a top-notch lawyer.” “David is one of the best attorneys in the country and has done incredible work.” Peter Flanagan (see p.556) is a seasoned practitioner who regularly assists clients with issues relating to trade controls. He often works with clients in the oil and gas, pharmaceutical and defense industries.

Strengths: “Peter is a trusted lawyer and adviser in international trade work and we highly value his advice and support.” “He is very calm, very precise and very practical about what the client needs to do.” Peter Lichtenbaum (see p.623) is a leading lawyer in the trade controls space. He is particularly experienced in working with aerospace and defense clients. Strengths: “Peter is a leading lawyer and very experienced in regulatory work.” “He has decades of experience, which gives him a very helpful perspective on issues.” Mark Plotkin

(see p.670) comes highly recommended for his expertise in the CFIUS space. His clients include defense and technology companies. Strengths: “Mark has a great insight and approach to clients dealing with CFIUS.” “Mark is a preeminent CFIUS lawyer and creates incredible outcomes with the regulator.” Kimberly Strosnider (see p.713) serves as cochair of the firm's international trade controls group. She is well regarded for her extensive counseling work and advising on economic sanctions. Strengths: “Kimberly is well versed in our business and provides excellent, balanced guidance on incredibly complex matters.” “She is very accommodating and we really love working with her.” John Veroneau (see p.727) maintains an active trade practice and is noted for his work in the policy arena. His client base includes manufacturers and trade groups. Strengths: "John is a very strong lawyer." Shara Aranoff (see p.492) is known for her strength in trade remedy litigation. She regularly handles antidumping and countervailing duty cases. Strengths: "Her ability to provide great advice and develop insights is fantastic." "Shara has encyclopedic knowledge of regulations and is a strong advocate on contentious matters." Heather Finstuen (see p.554) has a growing practice advising both US and international clients on securing CFIUS approval. Expertise also includes the mitigation of FOCl. Strengths: "Heather is very knowledgeable, practical and thoughtful in her approach to all matters." "Heather is a strong, important and reliable adviser." Jonathan Wakely (see p.728) regularly assists clients with CFIUS reviews. He advises automotive and pharmaceutical companies, among others. Strengths: "Jonathan is a very insightful legal and policy adviser." "Jonathan is an industry veteran."

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring LLP has a strong standing in the customs realm, advising on matters such as classification, valuation and origin issues, as well as litigation. The firm has a robust export controls and sanctions practice, providing counsel on issues including license applications, compliance and government investigations. The team's extensive client base includes those in the telecommunications, transportation, insurance and aerospace sectors. It also works with retailers, manufacturers and financial institutions, among others.

Strengths

"The firm is always able to give fast, concise sanctions advice for complex commercial matters."

"The team provides thorough responses to our questions."

"The team combines great technical guidance with practical industry recommendations."

Work highlights Crowell & Moring LLP represented The Home Depot before the Court of International Trade in a Section 301 import duties matter.

Notable practitioners

John Brew comes highly recommended for his customs compliance practice and strong knowledge of trade agreements. He cochairs the trade practice at the firm. Strengths: "John is a pleasure to work with, strong in customs law and listens to the clients' needs." "He has a real depth of expertise and provides accurate, actionable advice."

Jeffrey Snyder focuses on trade controls work such as EAR and ITAR-related issues. His key clients include software companies. Strengths: "He always provides swift and effective advice." "Jeff is very experienced in the space." David (DJ) Wolff has notable experience in areas including anti-boycotting, anti-money laundering and export controls. Strengths: "DJ has a detailed and pragmatic approach which is extremely helpful when trying to determine a path forward." "He is a terrific lawyer – very knowledgeable and detail-oriented."

Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP

What the team is known for Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP is recognized in trade remedies and is particularly active on trade issues involving Asian countries. Its other areas of focus include WTO litigation and bilateral trade negotiations. The team is adept at defending foreign exporters. The firm is experienced in a range of sectors, including steel and uranium.

Strengths

"The Curtis team are highly responsive in all aspects of our engagements."

"The firm has a strong team with extensive knowledge."

"The team has a very good, commercial approach."

Work highlights Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP represented the Government of Oman in trade matters relating to its exports of steel nails to the USA.

Notable practitioners

James Durling is recommended for his strength in trade remedies litigation. He has extensive experience in working for foreign governments and manufacturers. Strengths: "James has lengthy experience and a deep understanding of antidumping." "James offers very good representation and is easy to work with." Daniel Porter handles the full spectrum of trade disputes. He acts on behalf of international and domestic-based clients. Strengths: "He delivers work very well and we really appreciate him." "Daniel is an excellent lawyer." Matthew McCullough acts in antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings, and frequently works with national governments. He splits his time between the firm's DC and Geneva offices. Strengths: "Matthew is a great lawyer."

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP works with financial institutions and corporations on high-stakes export controls and economic sanctions issues. The firm's areas of expertise include OFAC licensing, compliance and enforcement. The team is accomplished at handling CFIUS filings, and regularly works with clients in the defense and pharmaceutical sectors.

Strengths

"The team are very thoughtful and practical."

"Davis Polk are able to handle complex sanctions matters with quality and efficiency."

"Davis Polk are easy to communicate with, responsive and work cooperatively."

Work highlights Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP continued to advise NBCUniversal on economic sanctions and export controls compliance relating to distribution agreements, international investments and other activities.

Notable practitioners

John Reynolds (see p.678) is an expert in handling trade controls work and is particularly well regarded for his capabilities in sanctions matters. Reynolds is also experienced in advising on CFIUS reviews. Strengths: "John is a great adviser – he's very practical and has great relationships with the regulators." "He is a shining star in the space and a very good lawyer." Paul Marquardt (see p.632) is well equipped to aid clients through CFIUS reviews. He also handles export control and economic sanction matters. Strengths: "Paul is a respected attorney and provides reliable, credible advice." "Paul is a terrific lawyer who is very smart and responsive." Will Schisa (see p.692) is recognized for his capabilities in handling export controls and economic sanctions matters. His clients include financial institutions. Strengths: "Will is a really smart and considerate lawyer." "Will is someone you can rely on and is an excellent counsel."

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP handles a wide range of economic sanctions and export controls work. Clients include financial institutions, insurers and private funds.

Strengths

"The team are always attentive, respond in a timely fashion and are very available."

"Debevoise has extremely intelligent attorneys who think practically about issues."

"The Debevoise team approach every question with thoughtfulness and practicality."

Notable practitioners

Rick Sofield represents both domestic and international companies in all aspects of CFIUS work.

Strengths: "Rick is very analytical, has good government experience and offers a great sounding board for his clients." "He has superb knowledge of an area of regulation that is constantly evolving and has many components."

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert LLP is able to advise on the full range of trade controls work. Its clients include wealth funds and technology companies. The team is adept at handling cross-border matters, supported by a network of international offices.

Strengths

"Dechert always bring a commercial lens to their advice."

"The lawyers draft well, develop great strategies and are very strong."

Work highlights Dechert LLP advised GIC, a Singaporean sovereign wealth fund, on sanctions and export compliance considerations related to its investment activities.

Notable practitioners

Jeremy Zucker handles the full spectrum of trade controls work. He often assists clients with conducting internal audits for EAR and ITAR compliance. Strengths: "Jeremy is a great lawyer who provides a rare combination of legal knowledge and commercial awareness." "He understands our requirements and is a strong lawyer."

Dorsey & Whitney LLP

What the team is known for Dorsey & Whitney LLP is noted for its capabilities in export controls and economic sanctions work. The team handles OFAC, EAR and ITAR matters, among others.

Strengths

"The team is highly capable and informative."

"The firm demonstrates a high level of knowledge and skill."

"Dorsey & Whitney coordinate well with our team and provide detailed analysis and explanations that are easy to understand and apply."

Work highlights Dorsey & Whitney LLP advised BE Meyers in an internal investigation regarding apparent violations of the anti-boycott provisions of the EAR.

Notable practitioners

Justin Huff assists clients with CFIUS reviews. His clients include technology companies and private equity firms. Strengths: "Justin is commercial, practical and has good relationships with the government. He is really dedicated to his clients and a pleasure to work with." "Justin is a really good attorney and is very concise in his advice."

Lawrence Ward is experienced in both export controls and economic sanctions and is noted for his expertise in the technology sector. Strengths: "He is very knowledgeable, responsive and provides good advice." "Lawrence provides substantive and practical advice."

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland LLP works on a host of trade controls issues, including OFAC, EAR and ITAR matters. The team is experienced in advising on matters concerning Iran and Cuba, among other countries.

Strengths

"The firm is very responsive to our inquiries."

"The team are very efficient and detailed."

"Eversheds are helpful and understand our business."

Notable practitioners

Ginger Faulk (see p.551) is a practitioner in export controls and economic sanctions. She regularly acts for clients in the energy, defense and software industries. Strengths: "Ginger provides high levels of service in trade restrictions and economic sanctions work." "She is well regarded and has a strong specialty in ITAR matters."

Faegre Drinker

What the team is known for Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP has a broad trade practice, experienced in acting on a range of customs issues. The team is adept at handling CBP compliance matters. Its clients include transportation companies and electronics retailers.

Strengths

"The firm has a very capable and communicative team."

"The lawyers are very knowledgeable and have an efficient approach."

"Faegre Drinker has a deep bench of experts."

Notable practitioners

Kathleen Murphy sits in the firm's Chicago office and handles a range of customs matters. She regularly advises corporate clients on compliance matters, among others. Strengths: "Kathleen is an excellent and extremely responsive lawyer."

Nicolas Guzman works on a variety of customs matters. He often handles tariff classification and country of origin work. Strengths: "Nicolas is a valuable resource. He is solutions-oriented and an expert on all things trade." "His ability to communicate complex terms is impressive." William Randolph Rucker is recommended for his customs work, advising global and multinational clients on litigation and regulatory compliance, among other areas. Strengths: "His commercial awareness and level of sophistication are truly admirable." "He is a very knowledgeable individual and his expertise is invaluable." James Sawyer works with clients on a host of customs matters. He often advises on tariff classification and valuation issues, among other mandates. Strengths: "James provides outstanding service and has in-depth knowledge on a wide array of international trade compliance matters." "He is a lifeline for clients in this space and is great at answering questions." Mollie Sitkowski counsels clients on the full range of import and export issues. She has extensive experience handling matters concerning classification and rules of origin. Strengths: "Mollie has an in-depth knowledge of international export requirements and easily simplifies complex regulatory concepts."

Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer

What the team is known for Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer has a robust CFIUS practice handling reviews of large US-bound investments and acquisitions. The firm often works with technology companies, manufacturers and financial services corporations. It provides further expertise in export controls and sanctions matters.

Strengths

"They have an extremely competent team that navigates complex and nuanced issues with ease."

"Freshfields offers very quick and efficient advice."

"The firm has an experienced and effective team."

Work highlights Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer advised Coupa Software on the CFIUS and DCSA review of its acquisition by a consortium, including the private equity firm Thoma Bravo and the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority.

Notable practitioners

Aimen Mir handles the CFIUS review process for a host of well-known clients. He frequently works with technology companies and manufacturers.

Strengths: "Aimen is exceptional. He understands CFIUS and runs things very well." "Aimen is very insightful. He understands the law as well as the dynamics of CFIUS."

Stephanie Brown Cripps works with clients on issues such as export controls and economic sanctions. She also advises on AML issues. Strengths: "Stephanie provides excellent, practical legal advice in sanctions and tailors her advice to our needs." "She is extremely knowledgeable and thorough."

Christine Laciak regularly advises clients on CFIUS matters. She works with companies in chemicals, healthcare and electronics, among other clients. Strengths: "Christine is highly knowledgeable, skilled and able to guide us through the CFIUS process seamlessly." "Christine provides excellent analysis on how to respond to questions from CFIUS, as well as understanding the regulations." Nabeel Yousef has a robust trade practice and often works on export controls and economic sanctions matters.

Strengths: "Nabeel is a good, technical lawyer covering both export controls and sanctions." "He is excellent at finding creative solutions to difficult questions and he is extremely commercial." Colin Costello showcases considerable strengths in national security and CFIUS reviews. Strengths: "He provides great analysis of the CFIUS process and has a wealth of knowledge." "He has very strong government and private practice experience."

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP is highly adept in economic sanctions and export controls matters, regularly working with Fortune 500 companies from the aerospace, automotive and manufacturing sectors. The firm has a growing bench of attorneys, including ex-OFAC and National Security Council employees. Its expertise spans US, EU and UN trade controls. The trade compliance offering is bolstered by the firm's leading white-collar crime practice.

Strengths

"They are very efficient at getting good, practical answers."

"The team have a thorough understanding of the international sanctions regimes and are able to find appropriate, commercial solutions."

"The team are very responsive and nimble."

Work highlights Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP advised Amazon and its subsidiary Twitch Interactive on economic sanctions compliance, specifically related to the sanctions imposed regarding Russia and Belarus.

Notable practitioners

Judith Lee (see p.619) cochairs the practice and has strong skills in export controls and economic sanctions issues. She frequently advises clients in the technology and financial sectors. Strengths:

"Judith is very sharp, very engaging and highly respected in the sanctions Bar." "Judith is a strong lawyer with good experience."

Adam Smith (see p.704) is highlighted by peers for his expertise as it relates to economic sanctions. He works with both foreign and domestic clients. Strengths:

"Adam combines detailed knowledge of the law and regulations with outstanding business judgment."

"Adam is very practical." Christopher Timura (see p.719) has a strong sanctions practice advising clients in sectors such as venture capital, banking and technology. Strengths: "He is very knowledgeable and offers great advice." "He is very experienced and has a broad practice in export controls and sanctions."

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin is well known for its broad trade practice advising clients on export controls, sanctions and the CFIUS review process. It has extensive experience in counseling clients on compliance with OFAC and ITAR regulations. The team regularly represents both foreign and domestic corporate clients from a range of industry sectors.

Strengths

"The team is very responsive to our requests and needs."

"The Goodwin team is very strong and we have been very happy with the depth and breadth of expertise."

"The firm offers integrated export controls and CFIUS capabilities. They are easy to work with and focused on getting the right answer."

Notable practitioners

Richard Matheny (see p.634) takes on a variety of work across the trade space, regularly undertaking export controls, economic sanctions and CFIUS matters. Strengths: "Richard is a great professional, very available and provides strong advice.” “Richard offers great work and a strong client service. He always provides technical advice with a practical understanding.” Jacob Osborn (see p.659) regularly advises clients on compliance with export controls and sanctions regimes. He also counsels clients through the CFIUS review process. Strengths: “He is well connected and has a deep understanding of the legal issues.”

Grunfeld, Desiderio, Lebowitz, Silverman & Klestadt LLP

What the team is known for The New York-based team at Grunfeld, Desiderio, Lebowitz, Silverman & Klestadt LLP is adept at handling trade remedy litigation. The team regularly works on high-value antidumping and countervailing duty cases.

Strengths

“The firm has a very strong team who have in-depth knowledge of international trade law.”

“The firm is responsive and clear with its advice and direction.”

“They are quite experienced in handling trade remedy cases and have a good sense on commercial matters.”

Work highlights Grunfeld, Desiderio, Lebowitz, Silverman & Klestadt LLP represented the Government of Sri Lanka in the countervailing duty investigation of certain steel nails from Sri Lanka.

Notable practitioners

Peter Klestadt handles the full spectrum of customs issues, regularly appearing for clients before administrative bodies such as the CBP, FDA and ICE. He is based in the firm’s New York office. Strengths: “Peter is a very knowledgeable lawyer.”

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells has a formidable team offering in-depth knowledge of export controls and economic sanctions. The firm’s expertise spans issues relating to UAVs, nuclear energy and 3-D printing. The team is considered the first port of call for many when it comes to trade remedies and policy issues, ably handling overseas matters given its extensive global footprint. Hogan Lovells is also adept at advising on the CFIUS review process, and frequently advises biotechnology and defense companies.

Strengths

“The team always provides excellent service levels and responsiveness.”

“Hogan’s ability to handle complex matters is exceptional.”

“They clearly understand our business and are very aware of changes in the industry, which they keep their clients informed on.”

Work highlights Hogan Lovells successfully represented Kinder Morgan in recouping over $75 million in Section 232 tariffs on certain steel pipe imports.

Notable practitioners

Beth Peters maintains a leading trade controls practice, advising on export controls and economic sanctions. She advises a host of clients, including financial institutions and universities.

Strengths: “Beth is a leading lawyer and very experienced in regulatory work.” “Beth is very impressive. She is a go-to attorney to reach out to.”

Deen Kaplan focuses on assisting clients with trade remedy litigation. He often handles Canadian matters. Strengths: “Deen has outstanding knowledge, client service and an ability to develop strategies.” “Deen is a very skilled and helpful practitioner.”

Anne Salladin advises clients on CFIUS reviews. She often works with companies in the technology, defense and aerospace sectors.

Strengths: “She is extremely well versed in CFIUS and provides tailored advice to her clients.” “Anne has great professional relationships with CFIUS. She is very experienced, responsive and knows the regulations.”

Brian Curran advises a wealth of clients on CFIUS-related issues. He regularly works with companies in the life sciences, aerospace and technology sectors. Strengths: “His technical knowledge and commercial awareness sets him apart.” “Brian knew what was needed to get the job done quickly, efficiently and to a high standard.”

Aleksandar Dukic has broad experience assisting with complex sanctions issues. He works with a range of national and international companies.

Strengths: “Aleksandar is very knowledgeable and has a wealth of experience. He is grounded, efficient and always gives practical advice.” Ajay Kuntamukkala handles a range of export controls and economic sanctions matters. He frequently advises on China-related issues.

Strengths: “Ajay is very knowledgeable, keeps his clients informed and has good relationships with OFAC.” “Ajay has very deep experience and can provide counsel on many complex technical questions.” Craig Lewis is noted for his abilities in antidumping and countervailing duty cases. He also counsels clients on customs compliance matters. Strengths: “Craig does an excellent job in addressing matters in a clear and concise way.” “Craig is a very skilled attorney.”

Stephen Propst comes recommended for his highly regarded exports and sanctions practice. He works with both domestic and international clients. Strengths: “Stephen is adept at understanding the problem and quickly spots issues and solutions.” “Stephen is strong and knowledgeable in this space.”

Jonathan Stoel works with clients such as producers and exporters on a host of trade remedy disputes. He often handles matters at the WTO and the DOC. Strengths: “Jonathan always provides a wealth of information and is great at explaining complicated scenarios in a clear manner.” “He has amazing written skills as well as great relationships across the board.”

Warren Maruyama is well known for handling trade policy matters. He regularly advises clients on free trade negotiations, among other matters. Strengths: “Warren has a really good understanding of trade policy.”

Jared Wessel handles a range of trade remedy work. He regularly works with clients on antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings. Strengths: “Jared has extremely strong technical skills and deep trade relationships.” “Jared is a great attorney.”

Zachary Alvarez assists clients with CFIUS-related matters including mitigation agreements and foreign ownership review.

Strengths: “Zach is knowledgeable and helpful in navigating CFIUS issues.”

Holland & Hart LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Hart LLP is a well-regarded trade shop noted for its strength in export controls and economic sanctions. The firm is recognized for its strength assisting clients with compliance matters. The team works across a range of sectors including defense, financial services and technology.

Notable practitioners

Steven Pelak is head of the firm’s international trade export controls practice and is a key contact.

Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP

What the team is known for Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP is well regarded for its strength in the trade controls space. The firm handles a wide range of work, including export controls and economic sanctions matters.

Notable practitioners

Sean Reilly is cochair of the sanctions, export controls and money laundering practice based in Washington, DC.

Husch Blackwell LLP

What the team is known for Husch Blackwell LLP has solid skills in representing clients in export controls and economic sanctions matters. The firm’s lawyers have expertise in the technology, manufacturing and transportation sectors, among others.

Strengths

“The team have a practical approach and provide relevant market updates regularly.”

“Husch Blackwell have strong subject matter knowledge and think like a client to provide the most useful work product.”

“The firm shows a high level of commercial and legal acumen.”

Notable practitioners

Cortney O’Toole Morgan regularly advises clients on the full spectrum of export controls-related issues. Her expertise covers EAR, ITAR and OFAC.

Strengths: “It’s great to work with Cortney; she is very helpful and informative.” “Cortney is fantastic. Her advice is very practical and she has great professional relationships.”

Jacobson Burton Kelley PLLC

What the team is known for Jacobson Burton Kelley PLLC has an international trade team noted for its work in the export controls and economic sanctions space with a client base that includes financial institutions.

Notable practitioners

Douglas Jacobson works on a range of trade controls matters, including export controls and economic sanctions. Strengths: “Douglas is very experienced and a very good lawyer.” Michael Burton handles the full range of work including matters relating to EAR, ITAR and OFAC. He works with both domestic and international clients.

Strengths: “Michael is a very strong lawyer.”

Kelley Drye & Warren LLP

What the team is known for Kelley Drye & Warren LLP is a prominent group with substantial expertise in trade remedies. The firm has a proven track record in antidumping and countervailing duty cases before the ITC. The team is particularly strong in representing petitioners, with a client base including steel manufacturers and trade associations. The firm is experienced in advising on major trade bills and international trade negotiations and frequently works with clients on export controls and economic sanctions matters.

Strengths

"The firm has an incredible depth of talent who are readily available to assist us."

"I have always been very impressed with the high skill level of the team."

"The firm understands nuances and implications for a wide variety of companies on a number of competing and connected issues."

Work highlights Kelley Drye & Warren LLP assisted Newmont Goldcorp with improving its compliance program and reducing its trade compliance risk.

Notable practitioners

Paul Rosenthal is a go-to lawyer for antidumping and countervailing duty cases. He has broad experience in representing domestic manufacturers. Strengths: "His ability to absorb critical details and artfully weave them into powerful closing arguments is truly impressive." "Paul has the magnificent ability to sum up complex thoughts and notions in succinct and compelling ways."

Kathleen Cannon handles a variety of trade remedies matters, including antidumping and countervailing duty issues. She regularly handles matters for US manufacturers. Strengths: "Kathleen is a very impressive trade attorney. Her knowledge of the law and its nuances is deep and impressive." "Kathleen is a very good attorney and well known in the space." John Foote handles customs work, among other areas. He is noted for his strength in the field of forced labor issues. Strengths: "John has very specialized knowledge and is a good person to work with." "John is very strong and good for clients with concerns in this space."

John Herrmann has extensive experience in both trade remedies and trade policy work. He works with clients such as manufacturers and industry associations. Strengths: "He is smart, responsive and knowledgeable." "John has a great reputation. He is collaborative and very good to work with."

Eric McClafferty (see p.636) handles both export controls and economic sanctions work. His sector experience covers the technology, aerospace and semiconductor industries, among others. Strengths: "Eric is incredibly knowledgeable and is able to explain complex issues clearly, as well as recommend paths forward." "Eric is a really bright trade compliance lawyer. He is very practical, insightful and has good judgment." Brooke Ringel (see p.680) has a growing practice, primarily advising clients on trade remedies litigation. Strengths: "Brooke is an excellent lawyer with superior communication, research and strategy skills." "She is knowledgeable and well organized."

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP has a noted practice that demonstrates strength in trade remedies and is particularly well regarded for its representation of petitioners. The firm maintains a strong bench with partners experienced in antidumping and countervailing duty disputes. The team also handles export controls and economic sanctions work, often advising clients in the aerospace, defense, energy and life sciences sectors. The firm is also experienced in handling customs work and regularly advises on a range of compliance matters.

Strengths

"The King & Spalding team is very adept at handling complex matters in international trade."

"The team is very knowledgeable and great to work with."

"They are subject matter experts and provide a great level of service."

Work highlights King & Spalding LLP assisted clients in the financial services sector with responding to subpoenas issued by OFAC for transactions relating to countries subject to US sanctions.

Notable practitioners

Christine Savage (see p.691) focuses her practice on economic sanctions and export controls. She is experienced in guiding clients through internal compliance audits. Strengths: "She is always very responsive, provides excellent advice and is a huge help." "Christine is an excellent adviser who is business-oriented and practical." Michael Taylor (see p.716) handles customs compliance matters, among other areas of work. He also assists clients with customs classification issues. Strengths: "Michael is always on the lookout for things we need to know as a client."

Stephen Orava (see p.658) chairs the trade team at the firm and handles a range of disputes. He often handles antidumping and countervailing duty cases. Strengths: "Stephen is very strategic and versed in matters pertaining to international trade." "He is extremely knowledgeable of the situation and provides guidance on how we should proceed."

Stephen Vaughn (see p.726) regularly assists manufacturers with complex antidumping and countervailing duty cases in international courts. He also works on trade policy matters. Strengths: "Stephen has in-depth knowledge of the trade commission, trade laws and how to present a case." "He is very prominent, plugged in and a solid lawyer."

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis has strong capabilities in guiding clients through CFIUS reviews. The team regularly works with leading financial institutions and US-based manufacturers. The firm frequently advises clients on compliance with complex OFAC and EAR regulations.

Strengths

"The team is extremely strong when it comes to responsiveness."

"The lawyers have very deep knowledge of international trade."

"Kirkland & Ellis have a very nuanced ability to deal with complex situations."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis led the CFIUS process for Brookfield Infrastructure's 49% investment in expanding Intel's semiconductor operations in Arizona.

Notable practitioners

Ivan Schlager (see p.692) is viewed as a leading name in the CFIUS space. He acts across a range of industries including manufacturers, technology companies and others. Strengths: "Ivan is an exceptional lawyer. He is very commercial, very well connected and informed." "Ivan is very colle- gial, knowledgeable and effective." Lucille Hague (see p.576) is a rising star at the firm and gains widespread praise for her expertise in the CFIUS space. Strengths: "Lucille is a really good attorney. She is great to work with and very collegial." "She knows the regulations and is very practical." Mario Mancuso (see p.630) has substantial knowledge of the CFIUS space, supported by a deep understanding of export controls and economic sanctions. Strengths: "Mario is a very strong and very experienced attorney." "Mario is fantastic; he is deeply experienced and respected in the field."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP provides comprehensive counsel across the export controls and economic sanctions space. The firm's areas of focus include EAR, ITAR and EU controls law. The team continues to work with an impressive client base consisting of numerous Fortune 500 companies, and is well positioned to advise corporate, private equity and sovereign wealth fund clients. The firm is experienced in handling national security-related work, including CFIUS reviews and FOCI mitigation.

Strengths

"The attorneys at Latham & Watkins provide excellent advice and take care to understand our complex business."

"The firm's collaborative approach is clear and they provide comprehensive responses and guidance."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP secured OFAC authorization for Duolingo to provide its language-learning app in Syria, which is the subject of a US embargo.

Notable practitioners

Les Carnegie (see p.520) is well known in the space for his exports controls and economic sanctions practice. He also has a strong capabilities in advising clients on the CFIUS process. Strengths: "Les is incredible. He is always prepared, extremely knowledgeable of the regulations and can provide answers to complex questions quickly." "He leverages his deep understanding of the law, rock-solid judgment and unique commercial mindset to help organizations navigate thorny sanctions and CFIUS issues." Damara Chambers (see p.522) is recommended for her expertise as it pertains to CFIUS reviews. She has experience advising technology and energy companies, among others. Strengths: "Damara is an outstanding lawyer who advised us very effectively." "She is incredibly smart and understands how CFIUS will come out on things."

Eric Volkman (see p.728) works on export controls and economic sanctions matters. He advises both US and international clients. Strengths: "Eric is an outstanding resource who knows the space and politics well." "Eric is a good, practical lawyer." Zachary Eddington (see p.546) capably assists clients with a variety of CFIUS filings, including for clients in the automotive and pharmaceutical industries. Strengths: "Zach is helpful and very easy to work with." Andrew Galdes (see p.562) assists clients with a range of trade control issues. He often handles OFAC, EAR and ITAR-related matters. Strengths: "Andrew is very well connected in the space." "Andrew is very hands-on and provides really good guidance."

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP is adept at handling trade remedies work, including antidumping and countervailing duty investigations. Its client base includes both petitioners and respondents. The team is experienced in advising on international matters, including in China, India, Brazil and Mexico.

Strengths

"Mayer Brown are very helpful in assisting with the rapidly evolving and highly complex US regulations."

"The firm possesses a high level of expertise and analytical skills."

"Mayer Brown has a demonstrated ability to lead cases to a successful conclusion."

Work highlights Mayer Brown LLP continued to represent the Aluminum Extruders Council in the US government's Section 232 investigation into the national security implications of aluminum imports into the USA.

Notable practitioners

Sydney Mintzer (see p.644) has a well-regarded customs practice. He has deep experience assisting clients with Section 232 and Section 301 compliance and exclusions. Strengths: "Sydney is a very knowledgeable customs lawyer who offers useful legal advice which incorporates the realities of business." "He is business-minded, efficient and provides sophisticated advice." Timothy Keeler (see p.603) heads Mayer Brown's CFIUS practice and co-leads the firm's international trade practice. He advises clients on all aspects of CFIUS work. Strengths: "Tim is a fantastic lawyer. He is pragmatic, very professional and always available." "He is very practical, easy to work with and commercially sensitive to his clients." Matthew McConkey (see p.637) frequently works on trade remedy cases. His expertise covers antidumping and countervailing duty matters. Strengths: "Matthew is a great lawyer who delivers excellent results on behalf of his clients." "He is very experienced, dedicated and always able to provide good solutions." Tamer Soliman (see p.707) advises clients in a wide range of export controls and sanctions matters, with related strengths in national security issues. Strengths: "Tamer is very smart, experienced and has good judgment." "Tamer is very commercial and responsive."

Miller & Chevalier Chartered

What the team is known for Miller & Chevalier Chartered has a robust team that is capable of handling a variety of export controls and economic sanctions matters. It regularly represents clients before OFAC and BIS. The firm is also noted for its strength in customs work.

Strengths

"The firm demonstrates a sophisticated and nuanced understanding of international trade."

"Miller & Chevalier are always abreast of the swiftly changing laws and regulations."

"The team are responsive and accommodating to our needs."

Work highlights Miller & Chevalier Chartered filed a claim on behalf of a Turkish petroleum trading company whose cargo was seized by the DOJ due to alleged violations of US sanctions on Iran.

Notable practitioners

Richard Mojica (see p.645) has a broad customs-based practice. He regularly advises clients on customs classification and Section 301 exclusions. Strengths: "Richard is a fantastic attorney with a good view of how to mitigate risks." "He is a really pragmatic, practical lawyer and brings a very thoughtful approach to compliance." Timothy O'Toole (see p.657) is well regarded for his work with financial services companies. He counsels on compliance with the US sanctions regime. Strengths: "Tim is extremely responsive, concise and practical in his delivery." "Tim is responsive and knows sanctions inside and out."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP houses an impressive team capable of assisting clients with a host of trade controls issues. The firm regularly works with defense, aerospace and satellite companies, among others.

Strengths

"The team are very proactive and good at delivering on tasks in a timely manner."

"Morgan Lewis provides very good and supportive subject matter experts."

"The firm is thorough and ensures our team understands regulatory requirements."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP continued to provide representation to an individual in an effort to have them removed from the OFAC Specially Designated Nationals list, on both legal and policy grounds.

Notable practitioners

Giovanna Cinelli handles both export controls and economic sanctions matters. She frequently works with clients in the manufacturing sector. Strengths: "Giovanna is a wonderful attorney." Kenneth Nunnenkamp is an experienced trade controls practitioner who regularly handles OFAC, EAR and ITAR-related work. He counts manufacturers and defense companies as key clients. Casey Weaver is an associate who assists with a range of customs matters. She often advises on Section 232 and 301 exclusions.

Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP

What the team is known for Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP has recognized strength in trade remedies, including antidumping and countervailing duty disputes. The firm is regularly called upon to assist with high-profile cases concerning steel, lumber and solar panels. The team is adept at handling cases before entities such as the DOC and ITC. The firm enjoys a solid reputation for its representation of corporations, state-owned enterprises and foreign governments.

Strengths

"They have a deep understanding of the law, the administrative process and the political context in which they operate."

"Morris, Manning & Martin is a great practice."

"The team have a strong understanding of complicated matters."

Work highlights Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP advised Canfor Corporation on multiple antidumping matters relating to imports of softwood lumber from Canada to the USA.

Notable practitioners

Julie Mendoza is experienced in trade disputes and acts for a range of clients, including foreign manufacturers. She works on antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings, among other matters. Strengths: "Julie provides great client service." "Julie is a very good lawyer."

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster has a well-regarded practice known for its deep experience handling CFIUS reviews. Its expertise also covers FIRREA and FARA. The firm's client base includes high-profile investment funds, which it regularly advises on export controls and economic sanctions issues.

Strengths

"The firm offers a strong combination of substantive expertise in export controls and sanctions and deep experience with government investigations and enforcement matters."

"Morrison Foerster provides unique perspectives and insights on sanctions issues."

"Morrison Foerster has a deep bench with broad expertise."

Work highlights Morrison Foerster continued to advise the Office of the Ukrainian President following the Russian invasion of Ukraine. The team advised on regulatory issues and provided guidance with US government engagement.

Notable practitioners

John Smith (see p.705) has a well-rounded economic sanctions-based practice. He brings to bear over a decade of experience working as a director at OFAC. Strengths: "John has a deep understanding of the inner workings of OFAC and a unique perspective on OFAC issues." "John goes to great lengths to understand what the client wants and needs." Charles Capito (see p.520) routinely counsels clients on a range of trade issues. He is especially known for guiding clients on CFIUS risk and the approval process. Strengths: "Charles is very responsive, very effective and knows how to explain the law." "Charles is an excellent CFIUS practitioner who knows the industries and players very well." Brandon Van Grack (see p.725) has a strong practice on the national security side of trade, assisting clients with sanctions, export controls and foreign investments. Strengths: "Brandon is a great lawyer - highly responsive and a great communicator." "His experience and judgement are excellent and I thoroughly enjoy working with him." James Brower (see p.514) frequently guides clients through matters relating to CFIUS and national security. Strengths: "James is an excellent attorney with great client skills and substantive expertise." "He is very practical and knowledgeable."

Mowry & Grimson PLLC

What the team is known for Mowry & Grimson PLLC is a boutique noted for its presence in the trade remedies space. The firm is well versed in handling matters concerning antidumping and countervailing duties. The team is able to act on behalf of a host of clients, including private companies and government organizations.

Strengths

"Mowry & Grimson has experienced practitioners who understand US trade laws and their impacts on their client base."

"The firm's service levels are always well calibrated to our needs, and the team is incredibly nimble and responsive."

"The team have intellectual firepower and are savvy client advisers."

Notable practitioners

Jeff Grimson has a robust trade remedies practice. He has deep knowledge of antidumping and countervailing duty matters. Strengths: "Jeff is able to take very complicated concepts and distill them for a corporate, non-lawyer audience." "Jeff is well versed in his field. He is always responsive to questions and provides meaningful assistance."

Kristin Mowry is a recognized figure in the trade litigation space. She regularly represents clients in WTO proceedings. Strengths: "Kristin combines strong legal acumen with an extremely strong command of the overall political context in which trade cases are conducted." "She tailors her work product to the needs of the client."

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers LLP routinely advises on compliance issues arising from export controls and economic sanctions. The firm is experienced in handling OFAC and ITAR issues. The team works with a diverse range of clients, such as financial institutions, tire manufacturers and technology companies. It is also experienced in handling CFIUS filings, as well as issues relating to DDS.

Strengths

"We always receive impeccable information and advice from O'Melveny."

"O'Melveny has a very good international trade practice."

"They are very responsive and give good, practical advice."

Work highlights O'Melveny & Myers LLP continued to represent TSI Semiconductors Corporation in the CFIUS clearance of its acquisition by Bosch.

Notable practitioners

Theodore Kassinger continues to be recognized as a leading light in the CFIUS arena. Strengths: "Ted is a wonderful attorney. He is deeply experienced and very easy to work with." "Ted is a top-notch attorney who is very well connected in the space." Greta Nightingale has an impressive trade practice which sees her handle complex sanctions matters, among other issues. She also works on CFIUS matters. Strengths: "Greta is a very prominent sanctions lawyer and is very well regarded by the OFAC Bar." "Greta is terrific and continues to be a leader in the space." David Ribner undertakes work on behalf of clients from a range of sectors. He focuses on CFIUS-related issues. Strengths: "David is an excellent technical attorney and is easy to work with." "David's ability to grasp complex issues very quickly is very impressive."

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick advises clients on the gamut of compliance issues including OFAC and EAR matters. The firm regularly represents US-based manufacturers, technology companies and energy companies, among others. Additionally, the team advises a range of clients on the CFIUS aspects of major transactions.

Notable practitioners

Harry Clark is an experienced practitioner who handles export controls and economic sanctions work. He also regularly handles CFIUS reviews.

Strengths: "Harry gains successful results and is pleasant to work with." "His responses are well thought out and he is incredibly reliable." Jeanine McGuinness is highlighted for her experience across the trade space. She regularly acts for clients on export controls, economic sanctions and CFIUS issues. Strengths: "Jeanine is a smart and careful lawyer who is easy to work with." "Jeanine is a very impressive lawyer."

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings LLP has a notable practice that handles trade controls and CFIUS work. The team's expertise covers EAR and ITAR, among other regulations. The firm's clients include chemical companies, private equity firms and aerospace corporations.

Strengths

"The team at Paul Hastings provide very strong advice on complex matters."

"The firm's lawyers are very good – they're very responsive and provide very good counsel."

"They combine a really good combination of practical and commercial advice."

Work highlights Paul Hastings LLP advised Mitsubishi Corporation on the impacts of US sanctions on its operations in Venezuela and Myanmar, as well as compliance with Russia sanctions.

Notable practitioners

Scott Flicker is skilled across the international trade space and regularly acts on both trade controls and CFIUS matters. Strengths: "Scott has very good international connections and provides very direct, commercial advice." "Scott knows how the agencies work, has a lot of experience and provides business-friendly advice." Talya Hutchison regularly advises foreign-owned clients on the many facets of US export controls and sanctions compliance. Strengths: "Talya is a very responsive and very helpful attorney." "She is knowledgeable and thoughtful."

Picard Kentz & Rowe LLP

What the team is known for Picard Kentz & Rowe LLP is best known for its work in the trade remedy space. The firm is noted for its work with petitioners and its capabilities in cases centered on lumber.

Strengths

"Picard Kentz & Rowe is a very strong and recognized petitioner firm."

"The firm is terrific."

"Picard Kentz & Rowe is a strong boutique that is engaged in the space."

Notable practitioners

Andrew Kentz is a key contact in Washington, DC.

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury has a broad international trade offering, excelling in economic sanctions and export controls work. The firm is adept at handling OFAC licensing issues and has expertise that covers issues relating to Cuba and Venezuela. The team regularly handles CFIUS reviews on behalf of clients from a range of sectors. The firm is experienced in advising clients on trade remedies and policy matters.

Strengths

"Pillsbury provides thorough and timely responses." "The firm is able to leverage true market experts for some of the trickiest markets on earth."

"The Pillsbury team understands the complexities and impacts resulting from sanctions and export controls."

Work highlights Pillsbury acted as outside US counsel to the Government of Mexico on WTO and NAFTA matters relating to trade remedies proceedings, international investment arbitrations and more.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Wall maintains a leading export controls and economic sanctions practice. He often works with companies in the aerospace sector. Strengths: "Christopher is highly analytical, incredibly responsive, and his knowledge of the sanctions regimes is top notch." "He is terrific and gives excellent opinions." Nancy Fischer has a broad trade practice that sees her work on trade controls and trade remedy matters. She also advises on CFIUS reviews. Strengths: "She is very experienced, she handles complex matters and you get a straight opinion from her about how to move forward." "Nancy is always available, always helpful and very focused on the end result." Stephan Becker heads the group's international trade practice, undertaking a host of work across the space. He provides counsel on compliance with export controls, economic sanctions and trade policy. Strengths: "He has a holistic approach and provides business-oriented advice." "Stephan is a very smart and impressive attorney."

Aaron Hutman represents clients in numerous industries in export controls and economic sanctions matters. Industries include finance, defense and energy. Strengths: "Aaron is a fantastic lawyer. He leverages deep experience across a broad array of issues to deliver workable advice." "Aaron is a unique, versatile and highly competent professional who promptly responds to queries." Matthew Rabinowitz is noted for his skills in the CFIUS review process. He regularly handles China-related deals. Strengths: "Matt is very responsive and has a high level of expertise in CFIUS compliance." "Matt provides great support in managing complex CFIUS filings with clear, practical guidance."

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith LLP has an experienced trade team that handles a range of export controls and economic sanctions work. The team frequently advises on OFAC, EAR and ITAR-related issues, with expertise that covers the energy, life sciences and shipping sectors, among others.

Strengths

"The team are very pragmatic and knowledgeable about commercial realities."

"Reed Smith has a broad, extensive team in the compliance space."

"The team are commercially brilliant as they truly understand the sector."

Notable practitioners

Michael Lowell often works with clients on OFAC and EAR-related trade controls matters. He is experienced in representing clients from sectors such as financial services, defense and aerospace. Strengths: “He is brilliant in providing commercial and pragmatic advice.” “Michael is incredibly responsive, practical, understands the pace clients need to work at and helps minimize risk.” Leigh Hansson has a broad export controls practice often advising on sanctions compliance and investigations. She has a strong client base in the private equity, finance and manufacturing sectors. Strengths: “Leigh is a vital resource when it comes to communicating with the US sanctions authorities.” “Leigh always provides commercial-practical advice.”

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray LLP is adept at assisting clients with trade compliance matters. The team regularly works with those in the life sciences, energy and healthcare arenas.

Strengths

“The firm has the resources to tackle large matters in a timely manner.”

“The attorneys at Ropes & Gray have been tremendously helpful with assisting us.”

“They are adept at quickly understanding complex situations and providing practical advice.”

Notable practitioners

Ama Adams (see p.489) has a strong export controls and economic sanctions practice, and is also noted for her CFIUS expertise. Adams advises clients in a range of industries, including financial services, biotechnology, manufacturing and technology, among others. Strengths: “Ama is an extremely responsive and helpful attorney.” “She is excellent and guides clients through the controls and regulations.” Brendan Hanifin (see p.517) routinely acts on regulatory and transactional trade matters for a variety of clients, including those in the energy, finance and life sciences industries. Strengths: “Brendan offers sophisticated advice on a variety of trade and sanctions matters.” “Brendan is always available to answer queries in a commercial manner.”

Sandler, Travis & Rosenberg

What the team is known for Sandler, Travis & Rosenberg is a boutique practice with strong capabilities in customs matters. The firm offers services in investigations, regulatory audits, country of origin and valuation, among others.

Strengths

“The firm is a terrific boutique customs practice.”

Notable practitioners

Gilbert Lee Sandler is a trusted figure among the customs Bar. His Miami-based practice sees him handle a broad variety of work including compliance and trade agreement matters.

Schagrin Associates

What the team is known for Schagrin Associates demonstrates a particularly strong practice in antidumping and countervailing duty litigation. The team is adept at advising clients on trade negotiations and has strong experience working before US government agencies.

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Drake is commended for her representation of petitioners in contentious trade matters.

She handles antidumping and countervailing duty cases. Strengths: “Elizabeth is a very good and very smart litigator.”

Seward & Kissel LLP

What the team is known for Seward & Kissel LLP has an experienced team that advises on economic sanctions, export controls and anti-money laundering issues. The firm often works with clients from the shipping industry, as well as investment management companies.

Strengths

“Seward & Kissel has a very strong and experienced team.”

“They handle the cross-border aspects of matters very well.”

“The firm has a broad team of experts.”

Notable practitioners

Bruce Paulsen is a key contact in New York.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP has a highly impressive practice, particularly admired for its prowess in WTO litigation. The team is also experienced in handling trade remedy disputes, with members often engaged in countervailing and antidumping cases. The firm is adept at advising on complex customs matters, often working with leading multinationals, among others.

Strengths

“Sidley has subject matter experts in all areas of trade compliance.”

“Sidley provides timely updates on regulatory issues affecting our industry.”

“Sidley’s deep bench ensures seamlessness in their client service.”

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP continued to represent the New Brunswick Lumber Producers in all aspects of the US softwood lumber antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings.

Notable practitioners

Ted Murphy (see p.649) assists clients with a variety of customs issues, including compliance programs. He also handles matters such as CBP investigations. Strengths: “Ted is an amazing lawyer in the customs space.” “Ted has encyclopedic knowledge of the law and is a go-to for high-stakes customs issues.” Andrew Shoyer (see p.701) is a go-to practitioner for issues centered on trade and investment agreements. His clients include trade associations and multinational corporations.

Strengths: “Andrew is a well-respected attorney who provides strategic legal analysis and advice.” “He is a great lawyer and very experienced.” James Mendenhall (see p.641) has broad experience representing foreign entities on the CFIUS process for investments into the USA. He often works for private equity funds. Strengths: “He is incredibly knowledgeable and really understands how CFIUS operates.” “He is a strong CFIUS and trade practitioner who can guide the client through difficult situations.”

Strengths: “Andrew is a well-respected attorney who provides strategic legal analysis and advice.” “He is a great lawyer and very experienced.” James Mendenhall (see p.641) has broad experience representing foreign entities on the CFIUS process for investments into the USA. He often works for private equity funds. Strengths: “He is incredibly knowledgeable and really understands how CFIUS operates.” “He is a strong CFIUS and trade practitioner who can guide the client through difficult situations.”

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP is experienced in handling reviews before CFIUS and DDS, supported by a premier

M&A practice. The firm is active on behalf of multinational corporations, state-owned enterprises and investment funds. Clients include software and manufacturing companies.

Strengths

“The team provides sophisticated, nuanced and commercial advice.”

“Their attorneys are very knowledgeable and have a deep understanding of the key issues.”

“The team demonstrate deep technical and commercial expertise.”

Notable practitioners

Malcolm Tuesley (see p.722) handles issues such as CFIUS reviews and FOCI mitigation. He chairs the national security regulatory practice at the firm. Strengths: “He is a very knowledgeable lawyer and can navigate tricky situations.” “He is one of the guiding lights of the CFIUS Bar.” Mark Skerry (see p.704) is particularly adept at handling the regulatory side of large cross-border transactions. Strengths: “Mark consistently delivers practical advice and commercial solutions.”

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates has a strong national security practice housing respected practitioners who offer in-depth expertise in matters such as compliance, reviews and investigations. The team continues to work with a diverse collection of US and international companies, aided by its phenomenal strength in M&A. The firm is particularly adept at advising on matters involving Chinese and European entities.

Strengths

“The team demonstrates an understanding of the commercial reality and provides strong legal advice.”

“The whole team are capable of providing practical advice based on their experience as regulators and advising similarly situated companies.”

“They have an insightful team and help us make good business decisions.”

Work highlights Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates advised Apollo on the CFIUS elements of its pending $8.1 billion acquisition of Univar Solutions, a specialty chemicals and ingredients distributor.

Notable practitioners

Michael Leiter (see p.620) advises a range of clients on the CFIUS aspects of M&A. He regularly works with clients in the private equity and financial services space, among others. Strengths: “Michael is an extremely adept lawyer and has great experience. He understands national security issues very well and is very collaborative.” “Michael is handling some of the most challenging matters going and he is excellent.” Eytan Fisch (see p.554) has a strong trade practice that largely sees him focus on economic sanctions work. Strengths: “Eytan is exceptionally approachable, a subject matter expert and a strategic thinker.” “He is very practical, useful and has a great ability to obtain the relevant information.” Brian Egan (see p.546) has a well-rounded trade practice. He assists clients with issues concerning export controls, economic sanctions and CFIUS reviews. Strengths: “Brian is effective, incredibly knowledgeable and very well connected.” “He is very thoughtful, extremely collaborative and good to work with.” Katie Clarke (see p.527) is noted for her skills in assisting clients with CFIUS reviews. Strengths: “Katie understands CFIUS, its agencies and our approach as a client.” “Her lawyering style and approach is very strong and she plays a constructive role.”

Steptoe LLP

What the team is known for Steptoe LLP continues to be a powerhouse group providing an exceptional offering across a range of areas. The team is vastly experienced in complex WTO disputes, advising both sovereign and nonsovereign clients. The firm regularly works on export controls and economic sanctions issues, including compliance, risk management and enforcement issues concerning OFAC and ITAR. Also proficient in CFIUS filings and FOCI mitigation, frequently acting for well-known defense, energy and telecommunications companies. Steptoe maintains offices in Beijing, Brussels and London, which means it is able to handle cross-border matters with ease.

Strengths

“They are an excellent team and have a very holistic approach to handling matters.”

“Steptoe is among the most well-regarded law firms in the international trade space.”

“The team are extremely competent and proactively advise on all potentially relevant legal matters.”

Work highlights Steptoe LLP continued to represent the British Columbia Lumber Trade Council in the decades-long dispute over imports of lumber from Canada into the USA.

Notable practitioners

Susan Esserman is noted for her work on trade policy. Strengths: “Susan is a strong practitioner and we think very highly of her.” Edward Krauland continues to be a top-tier practitioner in the trade controls space. His clients include European and Chinese entities. Strengths: “He is a leading lawyer and very experienced in regulatory work.” “Edward is extremely experienced, knows our business very well and is very comprehensive in his approach.” Meredith Rathbone heads the international trade and regulatory compliance group, focusing her practice on export controls and economic sanctions. Strengths: “Her dedication and expertise have been instrumental in achieving our legal objectives.” “Meredith is very responsive, knowledgeable and a pleasure to work with.” Stewart Baker is experienced in guiding clients through the CFIUS review process. He is well known for his work with European and Asian clients. Alexandra Baj is noted for her skills in trade controls work. She has experience working with clients from a host of sectors, including defense, software and nuclear. Strengths: “She is my go-to on any challenging issue involving US government agencies.” “She is acutely aware of clients’ circumstances and looks to find solutions that go above and beyond.” Eric Emerson focuses his excellent trade practice on trade remedy litigation. He has particular expertise in matters involving China. Strengths: “Eric has a great deal of experience dealing with some of the most complex case issues.” “He navigates a variety of business environments and cultures well.” Wendy Wyssong

(see p.739) is noted for her strength in matters relating to export controls. She splits her time between the firm’s DC and Hong Kong offices.

Strengths: “Wendy is an impressive lawyer and has a really good view of managing global risk.” “Wendy is a very strong attorney.” Brian Fleming handles economic sanctions and export controls work, as part of a broader trade practice. His clients include corporations and individuals. Strengths: “He is very practical, he has great contacts and clients love working with him.” Amy Lentz has an extensive trade disputes practice. She regularly works for foreign governments on complex WTO cases. Strengths: “Amy is a fabulous attorney who is always insightful.” “Amy is a fantastic lawyer.” Thomas Trendl often works with industry associations and government on a range of antidumping matters. He regularly appears at the WTO, ITC and DOC. Strengths: “Tom’s knowledge of international trade matters and his ability to explain complex issues are incredible.” “He is a strong lawyer in this space.” Matthew Yeo frequently acts for clients in trade disputes before the WTO. He also represents clients before the ITC and DOC.

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP is well regarded for its experience in the export controls and economic sanctions space. The firm works with a range of clients, including financial institutions.

Strengths

“The export controls and sanctions team understand our business, the industry and our commercial motivations.”

“Sullivan & Cromwell’s team have a clear understanding of the commercial interests of their clients.”

“The team provide meaningful answers to difficult questions.”

Work highlights Sullivan & Cromwell LLP advised Wells Fargo on a sanctions enforcement matter before OFAC and the Federal Reserve relating to provision to global trade customers of software used to process trade transactions with sanctioned parties.

Notable practitioners

Adam Szubin (see p.715) has strong skills in OFAC matters. His clients include financial institutions. Strengths: “Adam is a great lawyer. He has a rich background in government which makes his insights valuable.” “Adam is great for the big problems.” Eric Kadel (see p.599) is particularly strong at handling economic sanctions matters, including OFAC-related issues. Strengths: “He is very calm, efficient and responsive.” “Eric is a very thoughtful and thorough attorney.”

Trade Pacific, PLLC

What the team is known for Trade Pacific, PLLC is a notable boutique trade practice, proficient in antidumping and countervailing duties, customs and trade policy.

Strengths

“Trade Pacific does a fantastic job in putting a team together.”

“Trade Pacific is a well-known boutique.”

Notable practitioners

Robert Gosselink is a key contact in Washington,

DC.

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP is highly regarded for its strength in trade remedies and regularly called upon by domestic and international clients to assist with antidumping and countervailing duty cases. The firm is adept at handling export controls and economic sanctions work, including OFAC-related matters. The team has a strong standing in the CFIUS arena and is considered a go-to firm for CFIUS reviews and FOCI mitigation. White & Case works with a host of industry-leading clients from sectors such as energy and natural resources, financial services and specialty metals.

Strengths

“The White & Case team has in-depth knowledge of the subject matter and industry.”

“The firm has a great understanding of the intricacies of CFIUS, and the lawyers are extremely practical.”

“The team is extremely responsive and helpful.”

Work highlights White & Case LLP advised Flexjet, a subscription-based private aviation company, on CFIUS aspects of its entry into a $3.1 billion business combination agreement with Horizon Acquisition Corporation II.

Notable practitioners

Farhad Jalinous is lauded for his capabilities in CFIUS reviews. He has extensive experience in assisting private equity funds on US investments. Strengths: “Farhad has a strong command of the regulatory landscape and consistently provides strong advice on complicated matters tailored to meet our commercial objectives.” “He is very well connected, very experienced and has a global understanding of the space.” Karalyn Mildorf represents clients in the full spectrum of CFIUS matters. She often works with financial institutions and sovereign wealth funds. Strengths: “Karalyn is extremely professional, quick and timely with her responses.” “Karalyn has a great and flourishing CFIUS practice.” Gregory Spak is recognized for his expert handling of trade remedies litigation. He regularly works with manufacturers and pharmaceutical companies. Strengths: “Greg comes up with strong solutions, is very experienced and communicates well.” “Greg provides an excellent service.” Walter Spak is known for his broad trade remedies practice. He works on high-profile WTO antidumping cases, among other matters. Strengths: “Walter provides superior insight during strategic discussions and provides exceptional customer service.” “He is a very impressive and incredibly well-respected attorney.” David Bond has an extensive trade remedies practice. He often works with foreign corporations and governments on antidumping and countervailing duty cases. Strengths: “David is fast, sharp and sees hidden problems.” “David is a very well-respected attorney.” Cristina Brayton-Lewis has extensive experience providing guidance on matters concerning compliance with sanctions regimes. Strengths: “Cristina is an excellent trade attorney who provides actionable advice in a timely manner.” “Cristina is extremely responsive, and provides sophisticated analysis and strong written work product.” Nicole Erb cochairs the international sanctions practice at the firm. She regularly works with foreign states and financial institutions. Strengths: “Nicole is a true expert. She is commercially minded, very personable and a pleasure to work with.” “She is very intelligent, has very deep experience and balances the enforcement and compliance sides of things very well.”

Keith Schomig is noted for his handling of CFIUS and FOCl proceedings. His clients include those in the defense industry. Strengths: “Keith is a bright attorney.” Richard Burke works for a range of corporate clients on complex exports-related issues. He frequently advises on compliance with sanctions regimes. Strengths: “Richard is a great lawyer who has a high level of expertise and is business-oriented.” “He is really pleasant to work with and discuss various ideas with.” Jay Campbell has an impressive name in the trade remedies arena, representing clients such as producers, importers and governments. His expertise covers steel and wind towers, among other products. Strengths: “Jay has taken the time to understand our business and situation fully, which has been a huge advantage in our dealings.” “Jay is extremely strong and has an exceptional ability to grasp complicated technical information quickly.”

Wiggin and Dana LLP

What the team is known for The trade team at Wiggin and Dana LLP is highlighted for its strength in trade compliance matters. Its lawyers frequently handle issues relating to ITAR, OFAC and EAR.

Strengths

“They have a lot of experience and are very efficient.”

“They are a very knowledgeable and capable team of lawyers.”

“The team has vast knowledge regarding the relevant commercial factors.”

Work highlights Wiggin and Dana LLP advised 6K Inc on US export controls, including on the classification of its products and technology in the context of several filings with CFIUS.

Notable practitioners

Tahlia Townsend is highlighted by sources for her strong trade controls practice. She regularly handles OFAC-related matters. Strengths: “She is knowledgeable and provides amazing feedback.” “Tahlia has deep legal knowledge of international trade.”

Wiley

What the team is known for Wiley has an accomplished team of attorneys best known for handling import relief, unfair trade and WTO proceedings. The firm is noted for its capabilities in representing petitioners. The team is also highly regarded for advising clients in the steel industry and works with entities in sectors such as renewable energy and agriculture. Wiley is experienced in handling trade control matters, including OFAC and ITAR issues.

Strengths

“The team is very strong and has sophisticated knowledge.”

“They are extremely aware of commercial situations and always help us understand how it will impact our organization.”

“Wiley successfully navigates through complex international trade matters.”

Work highlights Wiley assisted Nucor Corporation with filing over 10,000 objections to Section 232 steel exclusion requests.

Notable practitioners

Timothy Brightbill handles a range of trade remedy litigation, including antidumping and countervailing duty disputes. Strengths: “Tim has always been very responsive and provided excellent service and accurate answers.” “Tim is a leading trade professional.” Alan Price fields extensive experience acting for clients in trade remedy litigation and investigations. Strengths: “Alan is very responsive and has good knowledge of the markets and products we operate in.” “Alan is an expert on international trade issues.” Maureen Thorson has a wealth of experience advising clients on a range of customs matters. She often counsels on compliance programs. Strengths: “Maureen is extremely informed, capable and responsive.” “Her advice is always well thought out and detailed.”

John Shane attracts praise for the breadth of his knowledge in export controls and economic sanctions. He is well known for advising clients on OFAC, EAR and ITAR issues. Strengths: “Jack is extremely knowledgeable and responsive. He has a real talent for synthesizing a complex regulatory regime and providing practical, actionable advice.” “Jack is fabulous to work with. He is down to earth, highly responsive and a collaborative expert in his field.” Robert DeFrancesco has a notable practice in trade remedy proceedings, with a particular emphasis on both antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings. Strengths: “Robert is a tremendously smart and talented attorney.” “Robert does strong petitioner work, has good government experience and is very commercial.” Laura El-Sabaawi is an up-and-comer in the trade remedy area. Her clients include those in the steel and solar panel sectors. Strengths: “Laura provides an excellent service and is both very knowledgeable and helpful.” “Laura has been delightful to work with and is very responsive.” Christopher Weld (see p.733) assists clients with a broad array of trade issues, including trade remedies, policy and anti-money laundering. Strengths: “Chris is a great writer, extremely responsive and a solutions-focused attorney.” “Chris is an extremely helpful and knowledgeable lawyer.”

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale has strong capabilities in trade remedies and policy, including WTO disputes and trade negotiations. The team regularly represents Fortune 100 companies and industry groups. The firm offers expertise in economic sanctions and export controls issues, including matters pertaining to OFAC and money laundering compliance requirements. The team is highly skilled in the CFIUS review process and often works with leading names in the energy, semiconductor and telecommunications sectors.

Strengths

“The firm’s attorneys maintain a deep and thorough understanding of complex and rapidly changing regulations.”

“WilmerHale is a very client-focused firm with fantastic responsiveness.”

“The team has the ability to approach a matter practically and logically.”

Work highlights WilmerHale advised Univar Solutions on CFIUS implications related to its acquisition by Apollo for $8.1 billion.

Notable practitioners

Ronald Meltzer brings a breadth of experience to bear when acting on export controls and economic sanctions matters. He has extensive experience in OFAC-related matters. Strengths: “Ron is very responsive and provides excellent customer service.” “He is extremely knowledgeable and up to date with current regulations.” Robert Novick has a wealth of experience in trade policy matters in a diverse range of sectors, including aerospace, energy and consumer goods. Strengths: “Robert is a very strategic and brilliant lawyer.” Jason Chipman maintains a respected CFIUS practice which frequently sees him handle matters in the life sciences space. Strengths: “Jason is really knowledgeable about CFIUS matters and understands it from a commercial perspective.” “Jason has very good government experience. He understands the regulations and is really good to work with.”

Benjamin Powell (see p.672) routinely advises on CFIUS proceedings and boasts additional expertise in data security and privacy. His clients include those in the banking, energy and defense sectors. Strengths: “He has good insights into the nature of CFIUS.” “Ben is very good to work with.”

David Ross focuses on trade policy matters. He regularly advises clients on WTO and trade agreement issues. Strengths: “David is a thoughtful counsel on top-priority issues.” “David has strong relationships and first-rate legal acumen.” Jeffrey Kessler has a strong trade practice, advising both large private companies and foreign governments on US trade remedies and policy. Strengths: “Jeffrey is a highly astute, strategic leader who is able to manage complex projects and issues.” “He is a wonderful lawyer with a great commercial mind.”

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati possesses substantial experience in export controls and economic sanctions matters, including compliance and enforcement issues. The firm is well placed to handle ITAR, OFAC and EAR work. The team is also experienced in guiding clients through the CFIUS review process. Its client base includes well-known names in the technology, financial services and defense sectors.

Strengths

“The team has strong depth and breadth in export controls and sanctions.”

“Their advice is decisive, actionable and very reliable.”

“The lawyers have a great amount of knowledge and experience in handling complex and sophisticated matters.”

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati assisted a US manufacturer of experimental life-saving medical devices in obtaining licences to supply to a facility in Belarus.

Notable practitioners

Josephine Aiello LeBeau is particularly well regarded for her work with technology companies on trade controls. She often works with clients on compliance with OFAC regulations. Strengths: “Josephine strikes a great balance between legal analysis and practical business solutions.” “Josephine brings particularly deep subject matter expertise, technical sophistication and real-world experience.” Stephen Heifetz is an established CFIUS practitioner who handles a range of national security-related matters. He often works for investment funds and technology companies. Strengths: “He is extraordinarily knowledgeable, responsive and offers great practical guidance.” “Stephen is a great lawyer who provides a reliable service to help us resolve legal issues.” Joshua Gruenspecht assists clients with CFIUS matters. He regularly works with technology companies and investment funds on securing CFIUS clearance for large deals. Strengths: “He has a firm grasp of the intricacies of CFIUS and how to most effectively and efficiently help his clients.” “Josh is an expert in CFIUS and provides excellent, timely advice.” Anne Seymour has a notable practice advising clients on export controls and economic sanctions matters in a variety of sectors, including software and technology. Strengths: “Anne’s expertise and commercial awareness is a comfort when navigating complex trade controls.” “Anne is an excellent and very knowledgeable lawyer who does a great job at explaining complex matters.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

John Beahn of Milbank LLP works with banking, finance and technology clients on a range of trade issues. He often advises on CFIUS reviews and compliance matters. Strengths: “John can unpick complex issues very well.” “John knows all the regulations and connects them to the client’s strategy and business interests.” “He is very knowledgeable and strategic.”

Tony Busch (see p.517) of Winston & Strawn LLP is an associate with broad capabilities across international trade, including sanctions, export controls, national security regulations and transactions. Strengths: “Tony puts in extra effort to understand the intricate details of every complex transaction.” “He is very helpful with identifying relevant risks and figuring out measures to mitigate these.”

Larry Christensen is an experienced practitioner who advises on export controls and economic sanctions work. He is adept at handling issues relating to OFAC, ITAR and EAR.

Shawn Cooley (see p.532) of Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP has experience advising both private equity and corporate clients on CFIUS-related issues concerning US-bound investments and acquisitions. Strengths: “Shawn is a very thoughtful and experienced lawyer. He maintains good relationships with CFIUS and knows his way through the regulations.” “He is very practical and a problem solver.”

Melissa Duffy of Fenwick has a strong export controls-based practice advising a wide range of corporate clients. She often assists with compliance counseling. Strengths: “Melissa has deep understanding of export control regulations, clear communication and usable guidance.” “Melissa is a trusted adviser who provides timely and practical advice.”

Alexis Early assists clients with CFIUS reviews. Her sector expertise covers insurance, energy and defense, among others. Strengths: “Alexis is a pleasure to work with and has a strong command of the law.” “She is responsive, very organized and very smart.”

Doreen Edelman of Lowenstein Sandler LLP routinely advises clients through the CFIUS review process. She is experienced in working with those in the biotechnology and healthcare sectors, among others. Strengths: “Doreen is a very well-rounded lawyer with a good client base.”

Richard Elliott (see p.547) of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP acts for clients on a range of matters, including trade controls issues and CFIUS reviews. He regularly works for financial institutions. Strengths: “Richard knows CFIUS backward and forward.”

Neil Ellis is noted for his skill in acting for international clients in trade remedy cases. He works on antidumping and countervailing duty cases, among other matters.

Robert A (see p.560) Friedman (see p.560) of Holland & Knight LLP has a notable practice advising clients on the CFIUS considerations of transactional matters. Strengths: “He is extremely knowledgeable and delivers thoughtful advice.” “He is very bright and has a lot of experience with CFIUS.”

Jonathan Gafni (see p.561) chairs the US foreign investments team at Linklaters. He is experienced in handling CFIUS reviews. Strengths: “Jon is thoughtful and has a very good grasp of the regulations.” “He is very detail-oriented and knows which arguments will resonate with the agencies.” “Jon is a very good CFIUS practitioner.”

Michael Gershberg of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP has a broad trade practice counseling clients on ITAR and other export control compliance issues. Strengths: “Michael is extremely responsive, provides business-oriented advice and is always willing to think creatively.”

Christopher Griner of Squire Patton Boggs is widely regarded as a go-to practitioner in the CFIUS field. He has extensive experience in advising investment funds on acquisitions. Strengths: “Chris is very knowledgeable and an oracle of US national security regulations.” “He invests a lot of time in his clients.” “Chris has vast experience and command of the issues.” “He is an expert. He is the go-to attorney in his field no matter how complex the legal aspects of a problem.” “He is the don of CFIUS.”

Brenda Jacobs of Jacobs Global Trade & Compliance LLC handles all manner of customs issues and is experienced in acting for both domestic and international clients.

David Johnson of Vinson & Elkins LLP concentrates his practice on export controls and economic sanctions. He works on compliance matters and on OFAC-related cases. Strengths: “David is a very sharp and experienced attorney.” “He is wonderful and a thoughtful lawyer.”

Randall Johnston (see p.597) has an impressive international trade practice. She is particularly noted for her strength advising clients on CFIUS reviews of transactions. Strengths: “Randall understands the facts of the case, coordinates with clients very well and is enjoyable to work with.”

“She is such a talented and knowledgeable lawyer.”

John Kabealo of Kabealo PLLC has extensive experience in the CFIUS space guiding clients through the whole process. His client base features entities in the technology, finance and manufacturing industries. Strengths: “John has a high level of knowledge and expertise.” “He provides pragmatic guidance in high-stakes situations.” “John is an incredible resource who is capable in all matters.”

Nicholas Klein (see p.609) of DLA Piper LLP is cochair of the firm’s CFIUS and global FDI practice. He capably advises both domestic and foreign clients on CFIUS concerns. Strengths: “Nick is knowledgeable and easy to work with. You can rely on him for practical and sound guidance.” “Nick’s a valued counselor whose advice is both appropriate and balanced.”

David Levine (see p.621) of McDermott Will & Emery has over 35 years of experience in the international trade space. He works on the full range of export controls and economic sanctions issues. Strengths: “David is incredibly knowledgeable. He provides pragmatic and strategic advice.”

Jack Levy of Rock Creek Trade LLP is experienced in handling both trade remedies litigation and trade policy issues. He often works on antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings. Strengths: “Jack brings strategic thought, produces great outcomes and is amazing on his feet.” “He is a very impressive attorney.”

Francesca Guerrero (see p.628) of Thompson Hine LLP is noted for her excellent export controls and sanctions compliance practice across a variety of industries. Strengths: “Francesca is an excellent attorney who understands our business and provides actionable advice.”

John Magnus of Tradewins LLC is identified by his peers for his robust trade policy practice. He also handles trade remedies cases.

Nathan Mitchell (see p.644) of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP is an up-and-coming practitioner in the CFIUS space. He has particular expertise advising on cybersecurity issues.

David Mortlock (see p.647) of Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP brings a breadth of experience when acting for clients on trade sanctions and controls matters. Strengths: “David is very skilled. He has a strong sanctions background and is very enjoyable to work with.” “David is thoughtful and an ideal counsel. He is very considerate and knowledgeable in this area.” “He is a go-to for thorny issues and he is very practical.”

Britt Mosman of Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP has a broad and notable international trade practice across export controls and sanctions. Strengths: “Britt has great intellect. She is very commercial and creative.” “She is outstanding and very practical as she has a lot of experience in and outside of government.” “Britt molds exceptional expertise with an understanding of commercial transactions.”

John Peterson of Neville Peterson LLP is expert in a host of customs matters, including disputes. Strengths: “John is a great customs litigator.” “He is a very knowledgeable lawyer.”

Daniel Pickard of Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney PC advises both domestic and international clients, typically assisting with trade remedy investigations. He handles antidumping and countervailing duty cases, among other matters. Strengths: "Dan brings forward creative and sophisticated arguments grounded in the law, economic analysis and agency practice." "He presents complex data in clear, understandable ways and is a very effective advocate for his clients."

Peter Quinter of Gunster is a customs practitioner who splits his time between the firm's Miami and Boca Raton offices. He handles both contentious and noncontentious matters.

Shannon Reaves of Squire Patton Boggs is particularly experienced in handling Exon-Florio reviews. He regularly advises technology companies and investment funds on CFIUS clearance. Strengths: "He is pragmatic and a pleasure to deal with." "Shannon is a great lawyer. He is considered and very service-oriented."

Maura Rezendes (see p.678) has significant experience dealing with OFAC and other US regulators in the international trade space. Strengths: "Maura has very good judgment. She understands how the agencies work and how they are likely to respond to any given situation." "Maura provides very strong sanctions advice and coordinates with a global perspective."

Laura Siegel Rabinowitz of Greenberg Traurig, PA works on a host of customs issues, including FDA and EPA-related import requirements. Her clients include domestic and international corporations. Strengths: "Laura makes herself readily available and informs us of the latest industry developments. She is professional, knowledgeable and quick to respond." "She is a thoughtful, smart and compassionate lawyer who is very strong on forced labor matters."

Robert Slack of Fenwick handles export controls and economic sanctions work. He frequently assists clients with internal audits and compliance matters. Strengths: "Robert provides an excellent service and has deep expertise in his field." "He is very responsive, assured and impressive."

Cari Stinebower of Winston & Strawn LLP handles the full range of work in the economic sanctions and export controls space. Her clients include companies in the banking and retail sectors. Strengths: "Cari is great. She has deep knowledge and experience of export controls and sanctions cases." "Cari is responsive to our needs and offers timely advice over various jurisdictions."

"Cari delivers practical advice."

Roszel Thomsen of Thomsen & Burke LLP is highly regarded for his expertise in trade controls matters.

Olga Torres (see p.720) of Torres Trade Law, PLLC has a strong practice in the export controls and sanctions space. She regularly advises clients on the implications of OFAC regulations. Strengths: "Olga is a terrific leader in her field and very client-savvy."

Michael Zolandz (see p.742) of Dentons has a notable sanctions compliance practice, with strong experience representing clients before US agencies. Strengths: "Michael is very prompt at responding to queries and a trusted adviser." "He is very business-oriented and offers great advice."

International Trade Intellectual Property (Section 337) Nationwide

International Trade Intellectual Property (Section 337)
Leading Firms
Band 1
Covington & Burling LLP
Fish & Richardson PC
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Band 2
Alston & Bird LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC
Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
Band 3
Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner
Perkins Coie LLP
Band 4
Morrison Foerster
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Polsinelli PC
Band 5
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Crowell & Moring LLP
FisherBroyles LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg, PLLC
Mintz
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
WilmerHale
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling has a first rate ITC group supported by a standout IP practice. Particularly excels in patent infringement investigations running in conjunction with district court proceedings. Considerable knowledge of post-order matters concerning the enforcement of ITC exclusion orders. Offers notable expertise in matters involving China.

Work highlights Covington & Burling LLP defended Lenovo against claims of patent infringement in the ITC pertaining to video processing across a range of devices.

Notable practitioners

Sturgis Sobin (see p.706) maintains an active ITC practice representing clients in Section 337 disputes, regularly advising on issues including trade secrets and patent infringement for manufacturers from a range of industries. Brian Nester (see p.653) maintains a well-regarded practice representing clients on patent and trade secrets disputes before the ITC. His client base includes a number of well-reputed technology sector companies. Alexander Chinoy (see p.525) is regularly involved in Section 337 disputes and investigations before the ITC, as well as related CBP and appellate matters. His clients include high profile electronics and pharmaceutical companies. Maureen Browne (see p.515) is called upon by clients

International Trade: Intellectual Property (Section 337)
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners		Mastriani Louis S Polsinelli PC
Altman James B Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC		Schaumberg Tom M Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg
Busey Brian Morrison Foerster*		Sobin Sturgis M Covington & Burling LLP*
Foster F David Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC
Leading Individuals
Band 1		Kattan Lisa Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Brinkman Paul F Kirkland & Ellis LLP*		Lehman Christine Reichman Jorgensen Lehman (ORL) ◇
Cordell Ruffin Fish & Richardson PC		Namrow Eric Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
McKeon Michael Fish & Richardson PC		Niemeyer Elizabeth Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow
Murphy Barbara A Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC		Pond Joshua Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Reiser Bert C Latham & Watkins LLP*		Renaud Michael Mintz
Band 2		Reynolds Kecia Paul Hastings LLP (ORL) ◇*
Lasher S. Alex Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP		Stevens M. Scott Alston & Bird LLP*
Nester Brian Covington & Burling LLP*		Band 5
Swain Adam Alston & Bird LLP*		Ascarrunz Veronica Perkins Coie LLP*
Tanner Okun Deanna Polsinelli PC		Clune Kathryn Crowell & Moring LLP
Underwood Jamie Latham & Watkins LLP*		Colaianne Joseph Fish & Richardson PC
Band 3		Coyle Jordan White & Case LLP (ORL) ◇
Arovas Gregory S Kirkland & Ellis LLP*		David Michael Latham & Watkins LLP*
Chinoy Alexander Covington & Burling LLP*		Hill Jessica C. Covington & Burling LLP*
Fowler Mark DLA Piper LLP (US)		Jackson Beau Husch Blackwell LLP (ORL) ◇
Goulet Paul FisherBroyles LLP		Kiepara Helena D DLA Piper LLP (US)
Jarvis Thomas L Winston & Strawn LLP (ORL) ◇*		Langdon Evan Fabricant LLP (ORL) ◇
Nickel David F Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC		Levi Ben Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg, PLLC
Shanberg Stefani Perkins Coie LLP*		LoCascio Gregg Kirkland & Ellis LLP*
Telep Jeffrey King & Spalding LLP*		Pak Sean Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
Trainer Sean O'Melveny & Myers LLP		Patnaik Goutam Desmarais LLP (ORL) ◇*
Band 4		Rizzolo Matthew J. Ropes & Gray LLP (ORL) ◇*
Anzalone Steven FisherBroyles LLP		Roberts Stephanie L. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Bartkowski Paul Bartkowski PLLC (ORL) ◇*		Shah Aarti Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP (ORL) ◇
Brittingham IV Smith R. Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow		Smith Daniel E Polsinelli PC
Browne Maureen F Covington & Burling LLP*		Snotherly Rett Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg, PLLC
Coughlan James Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇		Valencia Daniel DLA Piper LLP (US)*
Cunningham Sean C DLA Piper LLP (US)		Up-and-coming individuals
Frederick Mareesa Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow		Brewer Robin Perkins Coie LLP*
Gibson Erin DLA Piper LLP (US)*		Associates to watch
Grant Maximilian Latham & Watkins LLP*		Duescher Matthew Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC from a range of technology-based industries to advise on complex Section 337 matters at the ITC. Strengths: "Maureen is wicked smart." Jessica Hill (see p.584) focuses her practice on Section 337 proceedings, and advises clients across a range of technologies, including smartphones, electric car batteries and LED packages.

Fish & Richardson PC

What the team is known for Fish & Richardson is an IP boutique with a team boasting deep and varied experience of ITC practices and admired for notable trial successes. Continues to impress with its handling of ITC investigations for a number of the nation's leading brands. Acts for clients from a broad range of industry sectors, including technology and automotive companies.

Strengths

"Fish & Richardson has consistency and depth in its practice."

"The Fish & Richardson team has extensive ITC experience and provides great strategic insight."

Work highlights Fish & Richardson PC defended Samsung at the ITC in a matter asserted by internet video technology company DivX, who sought an exclusion order against Samsung's line of smart televisions, alleging that the products infringed upon its patents for video processing devices.

Notable practitioners

Ruffin Cordell is well regarded for his work representing clients before the ITC on disputes, particularly those pertaining to technology patents.

Strengths: "Ruffin has a very strong reputation that is well deserved." Michael McKeon is a highly rated trial lawyer with expertise acting before the ITC. He has an impressive client roster featuring a number of household name companies in the technology sector. Strengths: "Mike is an excellent practitioner." Joseph Colaianne focuses his practice on litigating Section 337 investigations before the ITC representing clients in the technology sector as well as international clients.

Strengths: "Joseph has extensive ITC experience and always provides great strategic insight."

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is an exceptional litigation practice with a deep roster of IP trial lawyers who have achieved major successes before district and federal courts as well as the ITC. Continues to represent industry leaders in electronics, life sciences and apparel, often in cases concerning novel approaches to the issues. Noted for its ability to obtain general exclusion orders and cease and desist orders.

Strengths

"Kirkland & Ellis is best in class for client service."

"Kirkland is a top tier firm with next level professionalism."

"Kirkland has a deep bench of people with experience in a lot of different tech areas."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis defended TCL Electronics Holdings in a patent infringement dispute regarding power semiconductors in mobile devices and computers, gaining a favorable settlement at the ITC.

Notable practitioners

Paul Brinkman (see p.513) is a respected trial attorney who has deep experience representing clients in Section 337 claims before the ITC. Gregory Arovas (see p.2530) maintains a broad IP litigation practice. He is frequently called upon to represent clients in Section 337 disputes and recent cases have included representing technology companies before the ITC. Strengths: "Greg is a constant intellectual who considers everything in a case." "Gregory is an excellent trial lawyer." Gregg LoCascio (see p.1342) represents a range of clients in multi jurisdictional patent litigation, including before the ITC. Recent matters have included acting in disputes relating to robotic floor cleaners and electronic tolling equipment. Strengths: "An amazing trial attorney."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins has a robust practice group with the resources and expertise to handle multi-forum actions and cross-border disputes. Handles high-stakes litigation with ITC proceedings forming a central plank of patent protection strategy. Strong reputation for work with clients in the automobile and technology sectors on industry-critical and bet-the-company matters.

Strengths

"Latham is terrific. The team is smart, very reliable and expert at the ITC."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP successfully defended Comcast against Broadband ITV's patent infringement claims related to the technology used in set-top boxes.

Notable practitioners

Bert Reiser (see p.677) is highly regarded for his work representing clients in ITC investigations, and related CBP proceedings. His expertise includes advising on patents in relation to electric vehicle batteries, semiconductors and LED technologies. Strengths: "Bert knows the personalities and dynamics, and is great at ITC strategy." "Bert is a consummate patent litigator and ITC expert. He is a pleasure to work with." Jamie Underwood (see p.724) is a respected ITC practitioner with expertise in an array of patent disputes, as well as related appellate and arbitration proceedings. Her clients include telecommunication and pharmaceutical companies. Strengths: "Jamie is a highly experienced patent litigator." Maximilian Grant (see p.572) is regularly called upon to represent clients in complex ITC matters as part of his respected IP trial practice. His recent cases have centered around 'heat-not-burn' tobacco technologies and semiconductor production. Strengths: "Max Grant is a natural leader." Michael David (see p.537) focuses his practice on litigating patent infringement actions before the ITC. Strengths: "Michael is very organized, thorough and responsive, and has really good instincts."

Band 2Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird is an outstanding group involved in all aspects of ITC action, including enforcing orders, with a full-service offering capable of running parallel district court action and global strategy. Engagement with associated agencies and organizations consolidates area expertise. Excels in trademark, trade dress, trade secret and false designation of origin matters, in addition to patent disputes. Also regularly engaged in cases concerning false advertising and antitrust issues.

Strengths

"Alston & Bird are excellent at working with us to find a solution that considers business strategy."

"Alston & Bird has a deep bench of attorneys with strong ITC experience at all levels."

Work highlights Alston & Bird LLP represented Ericsson in two investigations involving Apple and Ericsson at the International Trade Commission.

Notable practitioners

Adam Swain (see p.714) is frequently called upon by an impressive list of technology sector clients to advise on complex ITC investigations. Strengths: "Adam is extremely client focused and has a strong desire to exceed client expectations." "Adam was a true champion for our company." Scott Stevens (see p.712) is well regarded for his expertise in complex Section 337 investigations across a variety of technologies.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper has a high quality ITC team integrated into a patent litigation practice with global reach. Enjoys a fine track record acting for market leaders in the consumer electronics and automotive fields.

Strengths

"The results speak for themselves in terms of value for money – if you want to win, DLA Piper are a good team to hire."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP represented Mazda at the ITC in patent infringement lawsuits filed by Daedalus regarding certain CPU's.

Notable practitioners

Mark Fowler is distinguished by his extensive experience litigating patent disputes, particularly on behalf of large technology companies. He is cochair of the firm's global IP and technology group. Strengths: "I have been very impressed by Mark's courtroom manner and judiciousness." Sean Cunningham is an experienced litigator who represents clients before the ITC. He has experience in advising across a range of industries, including medical devices, technology and power equipment. Strengths: "Sean is a really high-level strategic thinker. He can step back and assess the direction of the case in a very perceptive way." "Sean Cunningham is excellent: efficient, effective, and responsive." Chair of the firm's ITC offering Erin Gibson (see p.566) is well regarded for her representation of clients in a variety of patent litigation matters. She is particularly experienced in counseling technology companies. Strengths: "Erin's strength is her presence in the court room. She is very calm and unflappable." "Erin is really good at understanding the business and coming up with creative strategies." Helena Kiepora has a burgeoning practice in litigating Section 337 cases before the ITC. Strengths: "Helena is a very strategic thinker who is very agile and can change with circumstance. She impresses with her knowledge and attention to detail." Daniel Valencia (see p.725) advises both complainants and respondents in connection with Section 337 investigations. Strengths: "Daniel provides incredibly good client service."

Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC

What the team is known for Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel, PC has a formidable Section 337 litigation group that includes former ITC lawyers. Works closely with IP counsel to handle complex patent, trademark and copyright disputes across a wide range of industries and technologies, including electronics, consumer goods, chemicals and pharmaceuticals among many others. Vast experience advising clients on trial strategy, procedural requirements and issues concerning discovery.

Strengths

"Foster Murphy has some of the best ITC practitioners on the face of the earth."

"Foster Murphy is unparalleled in its familiarity with the Commission."

Work highlights Foster, Murphy, Altman & Nickel represented Complainant Gatekeeper against Rocateq in and ITC case involving allegations of patent infringement.

Notable practitioners

James Altman has a broad Section 337 practice encompassing customs enforcement matters and ITC trial work. He is called upon by a varied client base that includes manufacturers and technology companies. Strengths: "James Altman is outstanding." David Foster maintains a longstanding reputation as a go-to attorney on Section 337 disputes. He offers significant expertise in representing prominent clients involved in trade secrets and patent infringement cases. Barbara Murphy has impressive experience in representing domestic and foreign clients in Section 337 investigations and related customs issues. Strengths: "Barbara has a very high level of commercial awareness and vision." David Nickel focuses his practice on handling Section 337 investigations, including patent infringement and trade secret misappropriation cases for clients in the pharmaceutical and technology sector. Strengths: "I haven't met an ITC litigator with better judgment or with superior understanding of the Commission's inner workings." "David is a fantastic resource for ITC investigation work." Matthew Duescher has experience assisting clients with Section 337 investigations. He works with both domestic and foreign clients. Strengths: "Matt Duescher has deep and extensive knowledge of ITC precedent."

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP

What the team is known for Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP is counsel of choice for many of the world's most successful consumer electronics companies. Considerable experience in high profile contentious proceedings, often including related litigation across various domestic and foreign jurisdictions. Houses a large number of effective patent trial lawyers with experience in ITC investigations, acting for both complainants and defendants.

Strengths

"Quinn Emanuel is a top notch litigation firm."

Work highlights Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan brought an ITC Complaint on behalf of Medytox directed to unfair acts in the importation into the United States of certain BTX drug products by Respondents Hugel and Croma.

Notable practitioners

Head of the firm's ITC Section 337 practice Alex Lasher brings notable experience representing technology clients before the ITC. He is frequently involved in disputes relating to consumer electronics and medical devices. Sean Pak maintains an impressive track record of success in high-stakes patent disputes. He frequently represents major technology companies before the ITC. Strengths: "Sean is dedicated, service-oriented and very knowledgeable." "Sean is a very confident, experienced and reliable litigator."

Band 3

Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner LLP

What the team is known for Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner LLP is a respected IP boutique with considerable experience handling ITC proceedings. Frequently acts for both domestic companies and foreign entities asserting their rights in the USA. Expertise in handling trademark, trade secrets and patent disputes for clients in a wide variety of industries and technical fields. Highly experienced counsel with regard to the intricacies of forum practice and procedure, as well as all applicable legislation regulating international trade.

Notable practitioners

Smith Brittingham regularly represent clients in complex ITC investigations. His expertise covers LEDs, automotive technologies and industrial chemicals, among other products. Mareesa Frederick has substantial experience advising clients on Section 337 proceedings before the ITC. Elizabeth Niemeyer focuses her practice on representing clients in patent litigation before the ITC.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie LLP's ITC prowess has been significantly bolstered by the recent arrival of a group of established practitioners in this field. The firm represents a wide range of domestic and clients ranging from retail to technology in patent litigation within the ITC.

Strengths

"The team at Perkins Coie is knowledgeable, professional and understands the ITC."

"Every question I had was carefully handled and addressed personally."

Notable practitioners

Stefani Shanberg (see p.698) is experienced in litigating IP cases before the ITC on behalf of a range of clients. She regularly works with leading technology companies. Strengths: "Stefani is a brilliant and tough litigator who represents her clients well." Veronica Ascarrunz (see p.493) is an experienced litigator who counsels clients on patent, trademark and trade secret matters before the ITC. Strengths: "Veronica Ascarrunz is knowledgeable on 337 issues and methodical about how she proceeds with litigation." "Veronica is very good organizationally and has very strong case management skills." Robin Brewer (see p.512) has a growing practice in ITC litigation for technology companies. Strengths: "Robin is always very prepared; she will walk in knowing the facts and records better than anyone else in the room."

Band 4

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster has an increasingly active presence before the ITC representing both complainants and respondents in Section 337 investigations. Represents companies in the technology, manufacturing and healthcare industries. Has expertise across a wide variety of technologies, including semiconductors, software and chemical technology.

Strengths

"Morrison Foerster provides excellent client service and value for money."

Notable practitioners

Brian Busey (see p.1314) is a seasoned practitioner and has deep experience representing technology and software companies in complex ITC investigations. Strengths: "Brian is a very experienced and knowledgeable Section 337 lawyer."

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers LLP has a growing IP litigation group leading multi-defendant cases spanning multiple jurisdictions. They represent a plethora of pharmaceutical and technology companies before the ITC. It is particularly skilled at litigating domestic industry issues.

Work highlights O'Melveny & Myers LLP defended Google in an ITC Section 337 investigation against Arigna Technology Limited, an Irish company that sought to license its patents to consumer electronics manufacturers.

Notable practitioners

Sean Trainor is a seasoned Section 337 litigator who represents clients before the ITC. He handles patent litigation across a range of technologies, including wireless telecommunications protocols, mobile phone handsets and flash memory.

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP has a respected ITC practice that represents a host of major household-name clients in Section 337 proceedings. Advises clients across an array of industries and technologies, including consumer electronics, automotive and LED displays. Particularly experienced in advising on trademark investigations before the ITC.

Work highlights Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP represented Micron in an ITC case in which Bell Semiconductor asserted a single patent against Micron related to a process for designing a layout file that is then used to fabricate a semiconductor.

Notable practitioners

Josh Pond focuses his practice on representing clients before the ITC, advising on matters relating to patent and trademark infringement, among other issues.

Polsinelli PC

What the team is known for Polsinelli PC offers substantial expertise in Section 337 litigation and houses a number of attorneys with considerable experience serving at the ITC. The firm advises on all stages of Section 337 disputes for clients from a range of different industries, from technology to retail.

Strengths

"The Polsinelli team was outstanding and provided smart and strategic input."

Work highlights Polsinelli PC defended Alarm.com as respondents in a patent-based Section 337 action at the ITC regarding smart thermostats, load control switches and components thereof.

Notable practitioners

Louis Mastriani maintains a well-regarded practice advising on patent infringement and trade secrets litigation. His varied client base includes automotive manufacturers and chemical companies. Deanna Tanner Okun draws upon her experience serving as chair of the US ITC to advise on complex Section 337 IP disputes. Strengths: "Deanna has tremendous ICT experience." "Deanna has a ton of experience and a wealth of knowledge in the ITC space." Daniel Smith represents clients at the ITC in disputes concerning patent infringement, trademarks, and copyrights, covering a range of technologies. Strengths: "Dan has very good knowledge on ITC matters and is highly professional."

Band 5

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. has a robust ITC practice that handles complex ITC matters for both complainant and respondent clients. The firm advises across a range of technologies, such as telecommunications, chemical and consumer products.

Strengths

"From partners to associates, we are pleased with each attorney we worked with at Baker Botts."

Work highlights Baker Botts successfully defended Fujifilm against Sony Corporation in global litigation relating to magnetic data storage tapes, including four separate patent infringement investigations at the International Trade Commission.

Notable practitioners

Chair of the firm's ITC practice group Lisa Kattan (see p.602) is well regarded for her representation of clients through all stages of ITC matters. Her clients include semiconductor companies and electronics manufacturers. Strengths: "Lisa demonstrates creativity on behalf of her clients and is a good strategist."

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring LLP has a respected ITC practice that houses a diverse bench of ITC practitioners skilled in acting for clients based both in the US and China. The team is experienced in litigating domestic industry and public interest issues. Also noted for its expertise in international trade matters.

Strengths

"Crowell & Moring has highly experienced ITC attorneys with great litigation skills."

"The Crowell team does an excellent job of providing key updates and insights, often within minutes."

Work highlights Crowell & Moring represented Graco Children's Products and its supplier, Wonderland Nurserygoods of Taiwan, in a multi-forum patent litigation case against Baby Trend and three of its suppliers in China.

Notable practitioners

Kathryn Clune has a broad practice representing clients in patent, trademark and trade secrets based ITC litigation. Strengths: "Katie is a very strong attorney. She's aggressive when she needs to be and is highly prepared and skilled."

FisherBroyles LLP

What the team is known for FisherBroyles LLP maintains a skilled practice that represents a variety of clients in ITC actions. The team counsels on disputes across sectors such as telecommunications and mobile technologies, medical devices and consumer products.

Notable practitioners

Paul Goulet is a Section 337 litigator who represents clients on a range of technologies and is particularly experienced in smart phone patent litigation. Steven Anzalone is a well-regarded patent litigator who counsels clients in ITC matters. His recent cases have included advising in relation to wireless devices, cable set-top boxes and electrosurgical instruments.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP's ITC practice encompasses practitioners from the international trade and intellectual property groups. Particularly well regarded in engagements relating to electrical, computer and mechanical technology patents. Additional expertise in the representation of clients in the pharmaceutical and medical device space.

Strengths

"King & Spalding combines exceptional Section 337 legal expertise with the necessary technical skills to perfectly identify, synthesize and present the most potent arguments."

Work highlights

King & Spalding LLP represented Eli Lilly in an International Trade Commission case to prevent counterfeit versions of Lilly's blockbuster drug Mounjaro from being imported into the United States.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Telep (see p.717) is an experienced ITC litigator who acts for clients in complex Section 337 investigations, including matters relating to trade secrets and patent infringement. Strengths: "Beyond Jeff's deep experience and expertise in Section 337 matters, he has also mastered all of the key technical and commercial issues at play."

Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg, PLLC

What the team is known for Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg, PLLC is an experienced ITC boutique that represents a range of clients in Section 337 proceedings. The team acts across a variety of industries including automotive, consumer electronics and LED lighting.

Strengths

"The Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg team is incredibly responsive and always on the ball."

"Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg is very knowledgeable of Section 337 procedures and the staff at the ITC."

Work highlights Levi Snotherly & Schaumberg defended Panasonic in an ITC investigation brought by AGIS Software.

Notable practitioners

Tom Schaumberg is esteemed for his decades of ITC expertise, and regularly acts on disputes relating to the importation and sale of patent-infringing products. Strengths: "Tom has been working on ITC cases for decades and his experience is immeasurable." Ben Levi specializes in ITC litigation, focusing on patent cases for clients in consumer electronics and technology. Strengths: "Ben provides a tremendously high level of service and is always available." With a primary focus on ITC matters, Everette Snotherly brings significant expertise in handling patent infringements, particularly in the automotive and medical device industries.

Mintz

What the team is known for Mintz houses a respected IP group with substantial experience representing complainants at the ITC. The firm represents clients from a diverse range of industries, including high technology and life sciences. Strengths "Every lawyer I dealt with at Mintz was smart, knowledgeable and thoughtful."

Work highlights Mintz represented Advanced Micro Devices as lead counsel in enforcement of five patents against a series of defendants at the International Trade Commission and in the Eastern District of Texas.

Notable practitioners

Michael Renaud of Mintz primarily represents patent owners as complainants before the ITC.

He works with a range of clients, including semiconductor and electronics companies. Strengths: "Mike is exceptional with respect to strategic decisions. He is smart, thoughtful and realistic."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP has a strong IP litigation team that handles complex Section 337 investigations for both complainants and respondents. It is experienced in handling a wide array of technologies including solar products, medical devices and wireless communications, among others.

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP represented GE Lighting in three cases regarding LED packaging technology brought by complainants Lighting Science Group Corp.

Notable practitioners

Chair of the firm's ITC practice Eric Namrow is noted for his representation of clients in Section 337 proceedings. He advises across a range of technologies and industries, including medical devices, LED packages and semiconductors. Stephanie Roberts focuses her practice on Section 337 litigation representing clients in a range of claims, including patent infringement, trademark infringement and trade secret misappropriation.

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale has an IP practice of international renown that represents clients in the full range of contentious IP proceedings and has a formidable record before the ITC. Particularly well regarded for complex patent investigations and possesses extensive experience in technology and smartphone matters.

Work highlights WilmerHale successfully defended Skyworks Solutions against Bell Semiconductor in a dispute relating to semiconductor chips.

Notable practitioners

Los Angeles-based James Dowd is a key contact.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Paul Bartkowski (see p.498) of Bartkowski PLLC is recognized for his work in handling patent-based Section 337 disputes in the technology sector. Strengths: "Paul is not afraid to confront the most challenging cases and opposing counsel. A fearsome litigator." "Paul is very bright, very innovative and an excellent litigation tactician." "Paul has in-depth knowledge and expertise in all aspects of the Section 337 investigations."

James Coughlan counsels clients in Section 337 proceedings concerning an array of technologies, such as semiconductors, game console systems and electronic candles.

Jordan Coyle is noted for his capabilities in complex Section 337 cases. He counsels both complainants and respondents.

Kansas City-based Husch Blackwell LLP partner Beau Jackson focuses his practice on counseling clients in ITC litigation. He advises clients in the automotive, telecommunications and life sciences industries, among others. Strengths: "Beau is a terrific lawyer; competent, outstanding, and a really nice guy.”

Thomas Jarvis (see p.595) of Winston & Strawn LLP has considerable experience litigating patent matters before the ITC. He maintains an impressive client base of household name companies.

Evan Langdon heads Fabricant LLP’s ITC Section 337 practice. He acts for clients in various sectors, including LED lighting, consumer products and mechanical devices. Strengths: “Evan is a tremendous attorney.”

Christine Lehman of Reichman Jorgensen Lehman & Feldberg LLP offers experience acting on high-stakes patent trials before the ITC and district courts. She demonstrates knowledge of highly technical patent issues in a number of sectors. Strengths: “Christine provides amazing assistance and knowledge for ITC matters.”

Goutam Patnaik (see p.664) of Desmarais LLP has deep experience in Section 337 investigations before the ITC.

Kecia Reynolds (see p.678) leads the ITC practice at Paul Hastings LLP. She has experience in litigating before the ITC for clients in a variety of industries, including consumer electronics, semiconductors and medical devices, among others. Strengths: “Kecia’s knowledge of the ITC and its inner workings was very valuable to us.”

Matthew Rizzolo (see p.1358) of Ropes & Gray LLP focuses his practice on counseling clients, including technology companies, on Section 337 actions before the ITC. Strengths: “Matt’s strengths lie in his technical expertise and detailed knowledge of the ITC process.”

Aarti Shah of Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton offers notable expertise in complex ITC proceedings, often acting on behalf of clients in highly technical industries.

Investment Funds Investor Representation Nationwide

Investment Funds: Investor Representation
Leading Firms
Band 1
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Band 2
Akin
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Torys LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA has a leading practice representing institutional investors in committing capital to hedge and private equity funds. Regularly advises endowments, insurance companies, public pension plans and financial institutions.

Strengths

“The team provides high-quality service.”

“The practitioners have a strong understanding of market trends and practices.”

“DLA Piper’s group is extremely responsive and very strong.”

Notable practitioners

Nicole Brenning (see p.512) regularly advises large pension plans, endowments and sovereign wealth funds. She has significant experience of handling substantial secondary transactions. Strengths: “Nicole is a really top-notch lawyer.”

David Parrish has built an enviable practice as a go-to representative of limited partners and is experienced in co-investments and acquisitions of manager stakes. Strengths: “David is one of the best in the business.”

“He is an industry leader who understands the market and the players in the space.”

Richard Cardillo is rated for his skill in assisting institutional investors on their investments in private equity funds and hedge funds. Strengths: “He provides practical advice and has deep experience in the space.”

“Richard has a strong practice.” Philip Svahn (see p.713) has wide LP-side expertise and is routinely called upon to advise on co-investment funds. He is also renowned for his ability to handle secondary transactions.

Strengths: “Philip consistently provides great service and a high level of expertise.”

Elise Green has considerable experience of advising institutional investors on both direct investments and structured co-investments. Strengths: “Elise is an amazing attorney. She is thorough, precise and extremely commercial.”

“She is fantastic, she is extremely responsive and provides commercial advice backed by years of experience.”

Kevin Nolan is well versed in advising a range of institutional investors on investments in alternative assets. He is also adept at handling secondary transactions.

Sara Stinnett represents institutional investors in acquiring interests in funds, both during formation and in major secondary transactions. She has further experience of providing counsel on joint ventures. Strengths: “Sara is extremely collaborative and very knowledgeable.”

Strengths: “Sara is extremely collaborative and very knowledgeable.”

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius has a well-regarded private funds group offering one of the most extensive global institutional investor practices. Also distinguished for its experience representing financial institutions acting as sponsors, investors and buyers and sellers in the secondary market. Other clients include sovereign wealth funds and US public pension plans.

Strengths “The team is very well structured to handle sophisticated matters. It has a deep bench of experienced attorneys who are among the industry leaders in the space.”

Work highlights Morgan Lewis assisted JP Morgan’s Private Equity Group in making investments on behalf of its managed funds in more than 15 private equity funds, venture capital funds and co-investments.

Notable practitioners

Courtney Nowell is routinely called upon by sovereign wealth funds and pension plans to advise on a broad range of issues, including joint ventures and co-investment transactions. Strengths: “She is commercial, thoughtful and practical.”

Carrie Rief regularly represents major pension funds and banking institutions in their investments and co-investments. She is adept at advising clients on matters related to private equity and venture capital funds. Christopher Dlutowski is acknowledged for his strength in assisting institutional investors on their private equity and hedge fund investments. Sarah Connolly is routinely called upon by pension funds to provide counsel in this space. She has experience

Investment Funds: Investor Representation
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Brennig Nicole	DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Dische Isabel	Ropes & Gray LLP *
Engelhardt Jane	Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Kolb Daniel C.	Ropes & Gray LLP *
Niles Margaret	K&L Gates (ORL) ◇ *
Parrish David	DLA Piper LLP (US)
Band 2
Cardillo Richard	DLA Piper LLP (US)
Dobson Adam	Ropes & Gray LLP *
Johnson-Spina Amy	Torys LLP
Jordan Michael	Seyfarth Shaw LLP (ORL) ◇
Nowell Courtney	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Rief Carrie	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Stone Rafael	Foster Garvey PC (ORL) ◇
Svahn Philip	DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Band 3
Beals John P.	Nixon Peabody LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Bender Melissa	Ropes & Gray LLP *
Bodansky Robert	Seyfarth Shaw LLP (ORL) ◇
Cheskiewicz Scott	Jackson Walker LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Diutowski Christopher J.	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Farmer Brian	Reed Smith LLP (ORL) ◇
Green Elise	DLA Piper LLP (US)
Jones David T.	Proskauer Rose LLP *
Klees Edward	Reed Smith LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Macdonald Scott	Sidley Austin LLP *
Mandel Bradley	Winston & Strawn LLP
Mehta Prakash	Akin
Miller David C.	Linklaters (ORL) ◇ *
Nolan Kevin	DLA Piper LLP (US)
Oryol Yuliya	Nossaman LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Perez Robert	Foster Garvey PC (ORL) ◇
Stinnett Sara	DLA Piper LLP (US)
Thomas Stephanie	Morrison Foerster (ORL) ◇ *
Wells Amy	Cox, Castle & Nicholson LLP (ORL) ◇
Up-and-coming individuals
Arzapalo Semma	Pillsbury (ORL) ◇
Connolly Sarah E.	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Diamond Eric	Sullivan & Cromwell LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Gertner Oren	Sidley Austin LLP *
Nadler Batya	Torys LLP
Quach Anne-Lise	Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Reeves Tiffany	Faegre Drinker (ORL) ◇ *
Shakin Max	Torys LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

of advising clients on investments into a number of funds, including private equity, real estate and hedge funds. Strengths: "Sarah produces consistently excellent work and is extremely knowledgeable of the subject."

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray has an established team that is respected for its advice to institutional investors, including pension funds, funds of funds and foundations. Represents clients investing in hedge and private equity funds targeting real estate, as well as the energy and infrastructure sectors.

Strengths

"Ropes is our go-to law firm for complex matters. They have a deep bench of strong attorneys that are not only thoughtful but very responsive to our needs."

"The team provides excellent service and the practitioners have a broad range of experience."

"Ropes has a deep bench of talent with significant experience."

Notable practitioners

Isabel Dische (see p.542) has deep expertise in investment funds, including handling co-investments, joint ventures and a variety of secondary transactions. Strengths: "Isabel is efficient, responsive and has great knowledge." "She is a great lawyer who has a mastery of complex fund issues."

Daniel Kolb (see p.612)'s investor representation practice has a focus on secondary transactions and is bolstered by his notable tax expertise.

Strengths: "Dan is a strong lawyer who works efficiently and has a high level of sophistication." "He's extremely knowledgeable."

Adam Dobson (see p.542) has significant experience representing both domestic and international institutional investors on a range of equity and secondary transactions. Strengths: "Adam is super-smart, responsible, efficient and commercial." "He is a terrific lawyer who handles complex matters."

Melissa Bender (see p.502) provides counsel on a range of issues, including acquisitions, co-investments and secondary transactions. Strengths: "Melissa provides excellent responsiveness and engagement on commercial matters." "She has tremendous expertise and excellent judgment."

Band 2

Akin

What the team is known for Akin boasts a distinguished team in the space with experience of representing high-profile investors, including public pension plans, sovereign wealth funds and charities. The team is adept at advising on investments into hedge funds, distressed debt funds and funds of funds, among others. Its practitioners are routinely called upon to assist with co-investment transactions.

Strengths

"The Akin team is extremely knowledgeable and provides excellent guidance."

"The group provides really great service and has a deep bench of experts."

"Akin's team produces incredibly consistent, high-quality work."

Work highlights Akin advised BlackRock on its investment in Zenyth Partners' sponsored continuation fund.

Notable practitioners

Prakash Mehta is well known for his practice advising sovereign wealth funds and investment managers on equity investment decisions.

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton has a broad client base that consists of sovereign wealth funds, high net worth individuals and universities, among others. Its practitioners are held in high regard for their strength in advising clients on investments into buyout, real estate and debt funds. The group also handles complex secondary and co-investment transactions.

Strengths

"Debevoise & Plimpton's team is very responsive."

"The firm's practitioners have an in-depth knowledge of the market and they are also extremely knowledgeable and responsive."

"The team is experienced, diligent and has high levels of work ethic."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton advised HarbourVest Partners on its investments in over 200 funds.

Notable practitioners

Jane Engelhardt is proficient in representing major investors in co-investments and a wide range of secondary transactions. Strengths: "Jane is an excellent lawyer. She is practical, commercial and very responsive." "She provides practical and thoughtful advice."

Anne-Lise Quach is held in high regard for her ability to advise clients on co-investment investing. She has experience of providing counsel on investments into buyout funds and infrastructure funds. Strengths: "Anne-Lise is a dedicated lawyer who radiates confidence and expertise." "She is smart, thoughtful and responsive."

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells has a widely respected practice known for its extensive representations of large institutional investors and sovereign wealth funds. The team is able to assist clients with equity investments, joint ventures and seeking tax exemptions for US-bound investments.

Strengths

"Hogan possesses a strong team that understands the complexities of deals. They also provide a strong service and are very organized and responsive."

"The team contains a strong pool of experts."

Notable practitioners

David Winter is a key contact in Washington, DC.

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose has a broad practice representing a range of sponsors on private fund investment. The team is also called upon to provide counsel on matters arising from secondary transactions.

Strengths

"Proskauer Rose contains phenomenally talented lawyers."

Notable practitioners

David Jones (see p.598) is renowned for his experience in advising institutional investors on investments in venture capital funds. Strengths: "David is a really strong lawyer."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin's team boasts notable strength in advising public and pension funds, as well as sovereign wealth funds on a range of investment matters. The group is adept at providing counsel on investments, secondary transactions and co-investments. The practitioners also assist clients with acquisitions of interests in fund sponsors.

Strengths

"The firm has the necessary expertise to handle complex and sophisticated matters."

"Sidley's practitioners are knowledgeable, responsive and great to work with. They expertly guide clients through complex and dynamic issues.”

“It has a full bench of experienced experts.”

Notable practitioners

Scott Macdonald (see p.628) of Sidley Austin advises institutional investors on a wide spectrum of matters, including investments into funds and derivatives. Strengths: “Scott is very responsive, knowledgeable and client-friendly.” Oren Gertner (see p.565)’s practice involves advising institutional investors on a wide range of investment structures and programmes, including debt, buy-out and real estate funds. Strengths: “Oren is responsive and knowledgeable.” “He is very knowledgeable about complex transactions and has great insight into the market.”

Torys LLP

What the team is known for Torys has a broad and robust practice in the investor representation space. The team is able to provide extensive support and guidance to both US and international investors on multinational investments. The team regularly advises pension funds and investment managers on fund formation and investment decisions.

Strengths

“Torys has a consistently strong team who have expertise and are very responsive.”

Notable practitioners

Amy Johnson-Spina is sought out by clients for her deep knowledge of the investor representation space. She frequently advises foreign LPs on their US-bound investments. Strengths: “Amy provides exceptional client service.” “She is fantastic to work with and strong throughout matters.”

Batya Nadler is noted for her ability to advise clients on investments into a wide spectrum of funds, including funds-of-one, commingled private funds and co-investments. Strengths: “Batya is a really strong lawyer.” “She is very organized and knowledgeable in the area.” Max Shakin’s client list is comprised of sovereign wealth funds and pension funds. He demonstrates his ability to provide counsel on investments into funds-of-one and private funds. Strengths: “Max is very responsive and a pleasure to work with.” “He is a detail-oriented lawyer.”

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher’s team provides counsel on secondary transactions, as well as co-investments. The group’s clients include pension funds, insurance companies and family offices, among others. Its practitioners are also adept at assisting with investments into private fund interests.

Strengths

“Willkie Farr contains smart and talented lawyers.”
“The team is very responsive and has strong depth and breadth.”

Notable practitioners

New York-based Elizabeth Buckley Lewis is a key contact.

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn’s group is renowned for its ability to assist clients with primary investments. The team is also called upon to advise clients on secondary transactions and co-investments. It boasts considerable strength in advising a wide spectrum of institutional investors.

Strengths

“The service the team provides is exceptional, they are responsive and very attuned to market standards.”

“Winston’s team is very commercial and has a broad knowledge of market trends.”

“It’s a high-quality team with great experience and knowledge.”

Notable practitioners

Bradley Mandel’s practice involves advising investors on acquisitions, secondary transactions and co-investments. Strengths: “Bradley is very knowledgeable and responsive.” “He is really smart and commercial.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

Semma Arzapalo is noted for her ability to handle secondary transactions and co-investments on behalf of high-profile investors. Strengths: “Semma exhibits a high degree of client service, sophistication and commercial awareness.” “She is a terrific lawyer who is practical and personable in her approach.”

John Beals (see p.2007) of Nixon Peabody is skilled at representing public pension funds and funds of funds in their investment matters. Strengths: “John is very attentive, knowledgeable and responsive.”

Robert Bodansky of Seyfarth Shaw has a broad practice that encompasses a range of issues, including fund formations and secondary transactions. He has significant experience of advising public pension funds. Strengths: “Robert is extremely technically proficient.” “He is very impressive and has great business judgment.”

Scott Cheskiewicz (see p.524) of Jackson Walker LLP has a distinguished practice in the space. He is noted for his ability to advise sovereign wealth funds and pension funds on investments into private, seed and hedge funds. Strengths: “Scott has a practical approach. He is also dedicated, timely and intelligent.” “He is a smart lawyer with in-depth experience in the space.”

Eric Diamond (see p.541) is adept at handling a range of sophisticated deals on behalf of financial institutions and sovereign wealth funds. He has notable experience of advising clients on matters related to hedge funds and ETFs. Strengths: “Eric is a very strong partner who is great to work with.” “His thoroughness and intelligence is impressive, he is very effective counsel.”

Brian Farmer of Reed Smith LLP has experience of advising clients on issues related to hedge funds, funds-of-one and commingled funds. His clients include universities and pension plans.

Strengths: “Brian is thoughtful, thorough and creative.” “He is highly professional and a pleasure to work with.”

Michael Jordan of Seyfarth Shaw is known for his astute representation of limited partners in private equity funds and his work with state-run pension plans. Strengths: “Michael handles sophisticated matters.”

“He is helpful, intelligent and understands the industry.”

Edward Klees (see p.609) of Reed Smith provides counsel to pension funds and endowments across a wide range of issues. He has experience of assisting with investments into funds-of-one, commingled funds and venture capital funds. Strengths: “Edward is knowledgeable and responsive.” “He is very highly regarded in the space.”

David Miller (see p.643) of Linklaters provides counsel on a broad array of issues, including secondary transactions, restructurings and investments into private funds. Strengths: “David is an incredibly good and dedicated lawyer.” “He is smart, hard-working and client-focused.”

Margaret Niles (see p.654) of K&L Gates is recognized for her expertise in investment fund matters and focuses on advising institutional investors, such as public pension funds. Strengths: “Margaret is a subject matter expert with deep knowledge of the industry and tremendous experience.” “She has a strong practice.”

Yuliya Oryol (see p.659) is cochair of the pensions, benefits and investments group at Nossaman. She is notably adept at advising clients on co-investments, funds-of-one and secondary transactions. Strengths: “Yulia is a knowledgeable lawyer.” “She is extremely knowledgeable and passionate about this space.”

Robert Perez of Foster Garvey PC has notable experience of advising pension plans on private investment transactions involving various categories of fund, including funds of one.

Tiffany Reeves (see p.677) of Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP advises clients on investments into funds of one and private credit funds. Her clients include pension funds and insurance organizations. Strengths: “Tiffany is great to work with. She is very quick in reply, professional, knowledgeable and a pleasure to work with.”

Rafael Stone of Foster Garvey specializes in assisting public pension plans in their investment matters. His practice spans the full range of private equity funds, including those formed to invest in infrastructure and real estate. Strengths: “Rafael is a very good lawyer.”

Stephanie Thomas (see p.718) of Morrison Foerster is well versed in advising pension funds and university endowments on their investments and is particularly experienced in the formation of venture capital funds.

Amy Wells of Cox Castle & Nicholson has a broad practice that encompasses advising institutional investors into private equity funds, including those focused on real estate and infrastructure.

Investment Funds Regulatory & Compliance Nationwide

Investment Funds Regulatory & Compliance	Investment Funds: Regulatory & Compliance
Leading Firms	Senior Statespeople
Band 1	Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Ropes & Gray LLP	Jordan Nora	Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP	Leading Individuals
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP	Band 1	Perlow Mark Dechert LLP
Band 2	Anderson James E Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *	Ponchione Marc Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Dechert LLP	Brown Jason E. Ropes & Gray LLP *	Schlaphoff Aaron Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton *
Kirkland & Ellis	Daly Brian T Akin	Band 3
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Elovitz Marc E. Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP	Choe Anne Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Band 3	Forbes Jessica Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver (ORL) ◇	Fries Elizabeth Shea Sidley Austin LLP *
Akin	Fraser Leigh Ropes & Gray LLP *	Hinkle Philip T. Dechert LLP
Calfee, Halter & Griswold LLP	Molesworth Rita Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *	McGrath Michael Dechert LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP	Monaco Stephanie Mayer Brown LLP (ORL) ◇ *	Moehrke Scott Kirkland & Ellis
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP	Patel Alpa Kirkland & Ellis *	Poglinco Patricia Seward & Kissel LLP (ORL) ◇
Latham & Watkins LLP	Peltz Brynn Goodwin (ORL) ◇ *	Rowland Gregory Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Lowenstein Sandler LLP	Sherman Michael Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver (ORL) ◇	Solander David DLA Piper LLP (US) (ORL) ◇
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP	Wattenbarger Joel Ropes & Gray LLP *	Band 4
Sidley Austin LLP	Band 2	Avellaneda Christopher Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP	Bogle Thomas Dechert LLP	Daniel Jason Akin *
* Indicates individual with profile.	Browder Justin Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *	Koscuiszka Kelly Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.	Caswell Brad Linklaters (ORL) ◇ *	Paul Sheena Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.	Champ Norm Kirkland & Ellis LLP *	Sabki Nabil Kirkland & Ellis *
	Hayes Patrick Calfee, Halter & Griswold LLP *	Walter Jamie Lynn Latham & Watkins LLP *
	Lombardo Christine Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Up-and-coming individuals
	Moss Scott H Lowenstein Sandler LLP	Howell Nathan Sidley Austin LLP *

Band 1

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray has an established practice, and the team represents private fund managers in substantial regulatory and compliance matters. Provides advice on the navigation of the Dodd-Frank Act in addition to liaising with major regulatory bodies, such as the SEC and CFTC.

Strengths

"The depth and the breadth of the team is outstanding."

"Ropes & Gray is one of my top go-to law firms."

"Ropes has a broad practice."

Notable practitioners

Investment firms rely on Jason Brown (see p.514) to provide high-quality counsel on regulatory issues relating to both private and mutual funds. Strengths: "Jason is very responsive, commercial, practical and smart." "He's an amazing lawyer." Leigh Fraser (see p.558)'s practice revolves around guiding clients through CFTC, SEC and Dodd-Frank regulatory issues. She routinely demonstrates her ability to advise on both domestic and cross-border fund regulatory issues. Strengths: "Leigh is tremendously knowledgeable." "She has breadth as well as depth of knowledge." Joel Wattenbarger (see p.731) has considerable experience of advising on SEC and CFTC regulatory issues relating to hedge and venture capital funds. Strengths: "Joel is very thoughtful and works incredibly hard."

Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP

What the team is known for Schulte Roth boasts a market-leading team assisting high-profile hedge and private equity fund clients in compliance with regulations. Experienced in matters involving the SEC, CFTC and National Futures Association. Draws strength from its global presence to offer clients guidance on international regulatory issues.

Strengths

"Schulte's practitioners have deep experience and are impressive."

"The team is very responsive and provides a high level of service."

"The firm has a breadth and depth that is incredible."

Work highlights Schulte Roth & Zabel advised Portfolio Advisors on a definitive agreement to combine with FS Investments.

Notable practitioners

Marc Elovitz receives praise for his advice to clients on regulatory and compliance matters related to private funds, including SEC examinations. Strengths: "Marc is wonderful, he's a brilliant authority on compliance." "He's one of the best lawyers in the market." Christopher Avellaneda has a distinguished practice and notable experience of advising clients on the SEC's new Marketing Rule. Strengths: "He's really thoughtful and an encyclopedia on anything related to compliance." Cochair of the investment management regulatory and compliance group, Kelly Koscuizska is notably adept at assisting clients with SEC examinations and the SEC registration process. Strengths: "Kelly is super-sharp and provides practical advice." "Kelly provides phenomenal regulatory counsel."

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr has a preeminent team that handles significant compliance matters involving investment funds. Noted for its expertise in issues related to the Commodity Exchange Act, Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and Investment Company Act of 1940.

Strengths

"Willkie's practitioners have a depth of understanding of the complex regulatory environment."

"Willkie as a whole is fantastic. The team is coordinated, thoughtful and professional."

"It has a very experienced and knowledgeable team that is able to advise on a variety of complex matters."

Notable practitioners

James Anderson (see p.491) specializes in advising private fund managers on securities regulatory compliance. Strengths: "James' knowledge and experience allows him to give practical advice quickly." "He's a tremendous lawyer with great client service skills." Rita Molesworth (see p.645) is best known for her work with hedge fund sponsors in CFTC compliance. Strengths: "Rita has deep industry expertise." "She's one of the lawyers at the top of the market." Justin Browder (see p.514) has significant experience of advising asset managers on regulatory and operational issues, as well as federal securities matters. Strengths: "He's a tremendous resource, he's very personable and a sharp lawyer with great communication skills." "Justin's depth of understanding comes through in his work product." Anne Choe (see p.525) is consulted for her regulatory advice relating to ETFs, hedge and mutual funds, and private funds. She demonstrates notable experience of providing counsel on SEC regulatory examinations. Strengths: "Anne is highly knowledgeable, personable and conscientious." "She is great to work with and has a breadth of knowledge."

Band 2

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert is a respected asset management firm with a strong team advising on issues relating to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and Investment Company Act of 1940. Additional expertise in the Commodity Exchange Act and SEC regulatory matters.

Strengths

"Dechert has a strong bench."

"The firm provides very strong service levels and the team's expertise is delivered efficiently."

"Dechert has a strong and deep bench of global experts with a wide range of expertise."

Work highlights Dechert advised MainStay Funds on potential and actual inspections and examinations, litigation and enforcement matters.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Bogle has considerable experience of advising hedge and mutual funds, as well as independent trustees, on SEC compliance.

Strengths: "He is very commercial and super-responsive." Mark Perlow regularly advises a range of investment managers and private funds on the full scope of SEC regulations. Strengths: "He is an expert in his field." Philip Hinkle's practice concerns the commodities and derivatives regulations affecting investment funds. He has experience of providing counsel on a range of funds, including private and mutual funds. Strengths:

"Philip is a sophisticated and timely lawyer." "He's incredibly knowledgeable." Michael McGrath is routinely called upon by asset managers to provide high-quality counsel on regulatory matters arising from formations and operational issues. His practice involves advising on complex deals containing cross-border elements. Strengths: "Mike is knowledgeable, professional and experienced." "He has a deep and sophisticated understanding of complex issues."

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for The Kirkland & Ellis team is renowned for its ability to handle a wide spectrum of regulatory and compliance issues. Draws strength from practitioners with previous experience within governing agencies such as the SEC. Significant experience of advising clients on the Investment Company Act and Securities Exchange Act. Recognized in the market for its strength in handling private fund issues.

Strengths

"Kirkland's attorneys are experienced and familiar with complex issues."

"The firm has a dedicated team that responds immediately. There is also an expert on the team for any regulatory issue."

"Kirkland is well staffed with subject matter experts."

Work highlights Kirkland provided counsel to Francisco Partners on the formation and fundraising of two private equity funds, Francisco Partners VII and Francisco Partners Agility III.

Notable practitioners

Alpa Patel (see p.664) regularly advises on regulatory issues surrounding real estate and hedge funds. She is well versed in providing counsel on enforcement actions and SEC examinations.

Strengths: "Alpa is responsive, commercial and has a wide range of expertise." Norm Champ (see p.522) is particularly adept at advising clients on SEC regulatory issues, drawing strength from his experience as a director within the SEC.

Scott Moehrke regularly advises asset managers on regulatory approval issues and SEC examinations, as well as matters arising from fund formations. Strengths: "He has a huge breadth of knowledge."

Nabil Sabki (see p.688) routinely advises clients on regulatory issues arising from the formation of funds. He also has notable experience of providing counsel on the Investment Advisers Act. Strengths: "He's responsive, practical and very knowledgeable."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius is highly visible in the market with an impressive client list comprising private and registered fund sponsors, asset managers and institutional investors. Particularly adept at providing counsel on SEC, CFTC and NFA issues. Routinely called upon to advise on fund formations and SEC examinations. Additional experience of providing counsel on the Department of Labor Fiduciary Rule.

Strengths

"The team has strong subject matter expertise. There's great talent across the firm."

"Morgan, Lewis & Bockius has a deep bench of experts in every category. The partners have a breadth of experience."

"The practitioners are highly knowledgeable, thorough and professional."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius assisted GCM Grosvenor Capital Management on the regulatory issues related to the formation of over a dozen customized private equity funds.

Notable practitioners

Christine Lombardo is particularly adept at advising asset managers on securities regulation matters. Strengths: "She has deep knowledge in the space and is relied upon for practical solutions." "She's commercial, thorough and responsive."

Band 3

Akin

What the team is known for Akin boasts considerable strength in the market, with considerable strength in assisting clients with SEC examinations and compliance. The practitioners also routinely provide counsel on issues arising before the CFTC and the NFA. The team's clients include private equity and hedge fund managers.

Strengths

"Akin is a strong firm with a great client base."

"It's a highly sophisticated team and its responsiveness is always strong."

"Akin contains many talented folks with a wide range of expertise."

Notable practitioners

Brian Daly of Akin is an expert in assisting private equity and hedge fund managers on SEC, CFTC and NFA compliance and examinations. Strengths: "He is super-smart, highly responsive and provides very practical advice." "Brian's deep familiarity with the investment funds industry gives him great perspective." Jason Daniel (see p.536) is routinely called upon to provide counsel to asset managers and investment managers on SEC enforcement and compliance. Strengths: "Jason is extraordinarily intelligent and responsive." "He has an encyclopedic knowledge of the law."

Calfee, Halter & Griswold LLP

What the team is known for Calfee, Halter & Griswold has a distinguished practice in the space. Its practitioners are renowned for their ability to provide counsel on the new SEC Marketing Rule, as well as SEC examinations. The team has further experience of providing counsel on CFTC and FINRA filings.

Strengths

"The firm's attorneys are very knowledgeable."

"Calfee has great depth in all areas."

"The team provides excellent service with a quick response."

Notable practitioners

Patrick Hayes (see p.580) of Calfee, Halter & Griswold has broad experience with financial advisers seeking advice on SEC approval. Strengths: "Patrick is easy to work with, responsive, personable, practical and very knowledgeable." "Patrick brings a high level of expertise about the industry, as well as a wealth of experience."

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell boasts a strong practice in the space. The team has considerable experience of advising on a plethora of issues, such as SEC investigations, regulatory actions, formations and broader operational compliance. The group provides counsel on issues related to a wide spectrum of funds, including hedge and mutual funds.

Strengths

"Davis Polk's team finds very practical solutions to complex issues."

"The team is able to effectively assist in all matters, with varying levels of complexity. Their assistance is always timely and thorough."

"The team is excellent."

Work highlights Davis Polk & Wardwell provided counsel to Royalty Pharma on obtaining relief from the SEC to allow it use a new form of finance subsidiary structure.

Notable practitioners

Nora Jordan (see p.598) of Davis Polk has vast experience in the space. She is commended for her ability to advise hedge fund managers and asset managers on CFTC and SEC compliance issues. Gregory Rowland (see p.685) of Davis Polk has extensive experience advising private equity firms and other investment advisers on the full range of SEC and regulatory compliance issues. Strengths: "Greg is great to work with. He provides commercial solutions to a number of issues. He is highly responsive and is able to quickly provide solutions to issues." "He is very smart and well respected in the space."

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton is held in high regard throughout the market for its wide and varied practice. Its group has notable experience of advising clients on regulatory issues arising from IPOs, acquisitions and fund formations. The practitioners are adept at assisting on matters related to a range of funds, including mutual, hedge and private equity funds.

Strengths

"Debevoise's team provides high-level service and it has a deep bench with significant expertise."

"Its attorneys are extremely knowledgeable about the law and the market."

"Debevoise has great depth and breadth and the different teams work well together to produce high-quality work."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton advised Clayton, Dubilier & Rice on advised regulatory issues arising from the formation of Clayton, Dubilier & Rice Fund XII.

Notable practitioners

Marc Ponchione is routinely called upon by financial services firms to provide counsel on a broad range of regulatory issues, including ESG issues and the SEC's Marketing Rule. He also has significant experience of advising clients on issues related to the '40 Act. Strengths: "Marc is patient, thoughtful and highly knowledgeable." "He is extremely well connected, knowledgeable and pragmatic." Washington-based Sheena Paul is noted for her strength in advising clients on regulatory issues arising from acquisitions, formations and buyout transactions. She has further experience of providing counsel on the SEC's Marketing Rule. Strengths: "Sheena is a very knowledgeable lawyer."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins is noted for its ability to advise both asset managers and sponsors on a range of regulatory and compliance issues. The practitioners are notably adept at guiding clients through highly sophisticated SEC examinations, as well as registrations and enforcement matters.

Strengths

"Latham & Watkins has a deep bench of experienced, capable attorneys who can handle matters of any level of sophistication and complexity."

"The practitioners in this group exhibit a high level of sophistication and practicality."

"The team provides excellent advice."

Work highlights Latham advised Ares Management on regulatory matters relating to the acquisition by Ares Management of Crescent Point Capital.

Notable practitioners

Jamie Lynn Walter (see p.729) has developed a strong reputation for handling SEC examinations and enforcement matters. Strengths: "Jamie is highly knowledgeable." "She is extraordinary at providing advice that addresses regulatory risks and fits within commercial realities."

Lowenstein Sandler LLP

What the team is known for Lowenstein Sandler's team consistently demonstrates its ability to handle a plethora of regulatory and compliance issues. The team is called upon to advise clients on regulatory examinations and enforcement actions, as well as investment adviser and CPO registrations. The firm's clients include investment advisers and sponsors, among others.

Strengths

"The firm is very experienced and provides valuable insight to its clients."

"Lowenstein Sandler has experts in a variety of specific areas and the team is very responsive."

"The group does an excellent job of addressing complex matters and being practical in its responses."

Notable practitioners

Scott Moss of Lowenstein Sandler is recognized for his experience in matters involving securities and commodities regulation. Strengths: "Scott is very responsive and has an encyclopedic knowledge of the space." "Scott is an expert in the field and is incredibly attentive to his clients."

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss' group is renowned for its strength in helping asset managers to navigate regulatory issues that may arise in this space. The team demonstrates its ability to advise clients on regulatory enforcement actions and joint venture disputes. Due to their in-depth experience, its practitioners are fully equipped to provide counsel on any issue concerning the SEC and CFTC.

Strengths

"The team has breadth and a wide range of resources."

"Paul, Weiss has very experienced lawyers who can handle complex and sophisticated matters."

Notable practitioners

Aaron Schlaphoff (see p.692) is adept at advising clients on complex regulatory issues arising from formations, as well as providing general operational guidance. He has considerable experience of assisting on matters relating to ETFs and hedge funds. Strengths: "He's a thoughtful and commercial lawyer." "Aaron is a knowledgeable and rigorous attorney."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin's team is adept at providing counsel on CFTC, SEC and state registration processes. Its highly distinguished partners have considerable experience of providing counsel on issues related to BDCs, ETFs and real estate funds, among others. The group is also routinely called upon to provide counsel on regulatory issues arising from transactional matters.

Strengths

"Sidley has a deep bench across all major global jurisdictions. The team handles complicated matters."

"Sidley has a number of subject matter experts."

"It has a number of amazing attorneys whose commercial awareness is a byproduct of years of industry experience."

Work highlights Sidley Austin provided counsel to Accion International on regulatory compliance efforts relating to its investments.

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Shea Fries (see p.2016) has extensive experience advising pension funds and asset managers on all manner of regulatory issues. Strengths: "Elizabeth has a great depth of knowledge." "She is excellent – she's very commercially aware and offers concise advice to complex problems." Nathan Howell (see p.590) has a broad practice that involves advising significant clients on CFTC and NFA compliance programs.

Strengths: "Nathan is an exceptional lawyer who consistently provides practical advice. He demonstrates a deep understanding of complex legal issues."

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher's team is renowned for its ability to guide clients through a wide spectrum of complex regulatory and compliance issues. The group has extensive experience of handling SEC examinations, enforcement inquiries and investigations. The team also provides high-quality operational compliance advice.

Strengths

"Simpson Thacher's practitioners are extremely thoughtful."

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based David Blass is a key contact for the firm.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Brad Caswell (see p.521) of Linklaters frequently offers guidance and support to a range of asset managers and funds clients on regulatory compliance. Recent work has included advising on SEC advertising rules and ESG issues. Strengths: "Brad is exceedingly responsive and very knowledgeable." "He is terrific – he is very knowledgeable, responsive, diligent and hard-working."

Jessica Forbes of Fried Frank is best known for advising hedge funds on navigating securities regulations. She also has considerable knowledge of compliance issues under the '40 Act. Strengths: "She is an excellent lawyer. She has a ton of experience alongside practical knowledge."

Stephanie Monaco (see p.645) frequently advises both private and registered fund clients on SEC and '40 Act compliance. She brings experience of working in the hedge funds sector to her private practice. Strengths: "Stephanie has extensive knowledge of the space." "She is an outstanding lawyer."

Brynn Peltz (see p.665) of Goodwin is prized for her understanding of SEC examinations and the regulations surrounding registered funds. Strengths: "She is knowledgeable on compliance issues." "Brynn is at the top of her game."

Patricia Poglinco has notable experience of advising clients on NFA and SEC examinations.

Michael Sherman is highly regarded for his knowledge of the regulatory frameworks governing investment funds. Strengths: "Mike's breadth of knowledge and expertise is incredibly valued." "He's an extremely useful resource and a true subject matter expert."

David Solander of DLA Piper has broad experience assisting clients with strategies to ensure compliance for private equity and venture capital platforms. Strengths: "David's knowledge is really broad."

Labor & Employment Nationwide

Labor & Employment
Leading Firms
Band 1
Jones Day
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Seyfarth Shaw LLP
Band 2
Fisher Phillips
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Jackson Lewis P.C.
Littler Mendelson, PC
Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 3
BakerHostetler LLP
Constangy, Brooks, Smith & Prophete, LLP
FordHarrison LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Band 4
Akin
Cozen O'Connor
Epstein Becker & Green PC
Faegre Drinker
McGuireWoods LLP
Reed Smith LLP
Band 5
Barnes & Thornburg LLP
Davis Wright Tremaine
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Perkins Coie LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day has a leading national practice with expertise in the full spectrum of labor and employment issues and a strong track record achieving groundbreaking victories on behalf of numerous high profile clients. The firm is sought after for its experience advising on various complex matters such as collective bargaining agreements and disputes involving the NLRB, discrimination and wage and hour class and collective action, as well as trade secret and whistleblower disputes and ADA claims. It continues to advise clients on issues relating to corporate transactions. The firm has strength in key markets across the country, including DC, New York and California.

Strengths

"They have deep substantive knowledge and a strong team of tremendously responsive and experienced lawyers."
"Jones Day provide excellent service and always find a way to deliver what we need."
"They are efficient, subject matter experts who provide practical guidance in addition to being excellent problem solvers."

Work highlights Jones Day acted as counsel for Bloomberg in wage and hour class actions involving claims brought under the Fair Labor Standards Act and New York Labor Law.

Notable practitioners

Matt Lampe in New York and Elizabeth McRee in Chicago cochair the firm's labor and employment group.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP has a preeminent labor and employment practice, highly regarded for its deep bench drawn partly from agencies such as the DOL and NLRB. The firm has significant expertise in representing well-known employers from a range of industries including financial services, transportation, retail, energy and manufacturing. It has huge strength in both employment law and traditional labor law matters, including class action defense, whistleblower disputes and NLRB matters. The firm's clients include a large number of Fortune 500 companies.

Strengths

"Morgan Lewis have strong expertise at multiple levels and provide excellent service, advice and responsiveness."

"The team is very knowledgeable, business-oriented and strategic."

"They have a broad set of skills across the firm and deep technical and commercial experience."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius defended Franklin Templeton against allegations of race and gender discrimination and defamation brought by a terminated employee.

Notable practitioners

Grace Speights leads the firm's labor and employment practice group from Washington, DC.

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings LLP lays claim to a widely praised employment practice handling a number of high-stakes matters such as wage and hour class and collective actions, discrimination class and multi-plaintiff claims, trade secret disputes and use of big data in recruitment. The firm is especially well known for its expertise in successfully trying cases on first instance and on appeal. It has huge strength in the key markets of California, Washington, DC and New York.

Strengths

"Paul Hastings is extraordinary for their strategic approach and creative and innovative thinking."

"The firm has a deep bench of litigators and attorneys who are intimately familiar with employment law."

"The word that comes to mind is excellent. The lawyers are really bright and smart, and everything is tailored and specific."

Notable practitioners

California-based Elena Baca acts as global chair of the firm's employment law department.

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose LLP lays claim to an eminent labor and employment practice advising on the full spectrum of such matters including complex single-plaintiff and class action litigations, best workplace practice and legal compliance, as well as collective bargaining agreements. The firm is particularly sought after for its expertise in representing clients from a myriad of industries such as health-care, technology and financial services, as well as advising other law firms. It is also notable for its sports expertise and for advising all major US sports leagues.

Strengths

"Proskauer Rose are top notch in their expertise and knowledge. They offer incredibly sophisticated and appropriately effective counsel in dealing with disputes arising out of employment."

"The firm provides very strong support on all of our matters. The advice is based on in-depth analysis of the issues, options and consequences, and is tailored to our unique culture, risk profile and precedent."

"They are very responsive to questions and offer timely responses when research is required."

Work highlights Proskauer Rose LLP defended the National Academy of Recording Arts in a dispute with its former President and CEO.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Neil Abramson and Los Angeles-based Anthony Oncidi cochair the firm's practice.

Seyfarth Shaw LLP

What the team is known for Seyfarth Shaw LLP has an acclaimed labor and employment department that concentrates its practice on employment litigation including class and collective actions and, in particular, wage and hour matters. It also regularly advises corporate groups on EEOC investigations and litigation. The firm benefits from its bench strength and depth across a broad network of offices and involvement in challenging cases. It has additional strength in labor law matters, including arbitrations and collective bargaining negotiations.

Strengths

"The attorneys we work with are extremely responsive which is incredibly important to us."

"Seyfarth Shaw is equipped to handle all aspects of labor and employment law; they have a very strong depth and breadth of resources."

"They provide solid nationwide advice and perspectives, with top level experts in every labor and employment niche."

Work highlights Seyfarth Shaw defended Lowe's Home Centers in a putative class action where plaintiffs claimed the company acted in violation of New York Labor Law Section 191 by paying workers on a bi-weekly basis.

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Laura Maechten is national chair of the firm's labor and employment group.

Band 2Fisher Phillips

What the team is known for Fisher Phillips is an esteemed national labor and employment firm with expertise in a wide array of issues including labor relations, international employment issues, wage and hour claims and allegations of employment harassment and discrimination. It provides advice on a regional and national scale to employers from sectors such as agriculture, healthcare and manufacturing as well as retail. The firm is also adept at acting for state and local government entities, as well as educational establishments.

Strengths

"They are very good advocates who take into account business goals as well as the litigation goals."

"I completely trust Fisher Phillips with complex and sophisticated matters. They are great at achieving amazing results and excellent at explaining complex legal matters to our c-suite."

"They provide quick and thorough answers with fast turn around times."

Work highlights Fisher Phillips acted on behalf of American Airlines in litigation involving allegations of race and religious based discrimination, hostile work environment and retaliation.

Notable practitioners

John Polson, who splits his practice between Irvine and Los Angeles, is the chairman and managing partner of the firm.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP fields a notable labor and employment practice recognized for successfully handling some of the most significant class actions in connection to Title VII and wage and hour legislation as well as the ADA. The firm regularly advises on pay equity disputes. Apart from its expertise in complex litigation, it also has wide experience in assisting with the complete range of labor and employment issues including labor relations, trade secrets and workplace discrimination allegations. It is also adept at handling class action challenges to the 'independent contractor' status of workers in the gig economy.

Strengths

"Gibson Dunn is at the cutting edge of the law with excellent client service, responsiveness and practical advice."

"The firm have a variety of subject matter experts who are quick, efficient and provide excellent advice."

"The team is strategic, capable and well resourced. They have a deep understanding of our practices and are able to align legal strategy with our goals."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher defended the Fearless Fund and the Fearless Foundation against claims brought by the American Alliance for Equal Rights that a grant program provided by the foundation was discriminatory and in violation of Section 1981.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Jason Schwartz and Los Angeles-based Katherine Smith cochair the firm's labor and employment department.

Jackson Lewis P.C.

What the team is known for Jackson Lewis P.C. is a highly respected firm with offices in over 55 locations and an extensive bench with experience in the full range of labor and employment matters, including class actions, wage and hour disputes and workplace training. Its partners frequently represent private and public corporations, including Fortune 500 companies. The firm regularly undertakes collective bargaining work for employers with unionized workplaces. It is also noted for its expertise in matters at the intersection of insurance law and employment law, acting as defense counsel for the bulk of major insurance carriers writing policies for US employment law risks.

Strengths

"Any time we need an expert, there is a large pool of people at Jackson Lewis who specialize in different aspects of law. I love that."

"Jackson Lewis and its attorneys are fantastic and have a proven ability to handle extremely complicated employment law matters."

"Jackson Lewis is incredibly responsive to all inquiries and have exceptional service, responding promptly to urgent matters that arise."

"Jackson Lewis have a national presence and can give insight and advice on different state issues and they have a good team of specialists."

Work highlights Jackson Lewis acted on behalf of T-Mobile USA against claims filed by an employee who alleged that the company's COVID-19 vaccination policy failed to accommodate his religious beliefs and that the company acted in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Notable practitioners

Firm chair Kevin Lauri is a key contact.

Littler Mendelson, PC

What the team is known for Littler Mendelson, PC is distinguished for its size and breadth of expertise in assisting national and global companies. The firm offers advice on a myriad of labor and employment matters such as sexual harassment and discrimination claims, OSHA issues, trade secret disputes and labor relations. Clients benefit from ancillary services such as ongoing training and a range of employment law products.

Strengths

"Littler Mendelson provide exceptional service and are always responsive to our requests."

"They have numerous subject matter experts at every experience level with a nationwide and international reach that is readily accessible when needed."

"The lawyers provide pragmatic advice that is oriented toward solutions to mitigate business risk."

Notable practitioners

Based in Chicago, Erin Webber is president and managing director of the firm.

Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC

What the team is known for Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC boasts a formidable labor and employment practice with numerous offices across the USA, providing advice on the whole range of relevant matters such as internal workplace investigations, litigation and regulatory compliance. The firm represents clients in the aviation, retail and transportation industries, among others. Its experience includes advising on discrimination claims, class action waivers, overtime regulations and restrictive covenant disputes.

Strengths

"Ogletree has a deep bench of lawyers who are experts in this particular area of the law."

"Our partners at Ogletree routinely provide balanced and reliable guidance, taking care to ensure we as the client understand our options to make fully informed decisions."

"They provide a very good service being responsive and proactive in bringing legal developments to our attention."

Work highlights Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart represented Delta Airlines against a claim of sex and disability discrimination.

Notable practitioners

Matt Keen is based in Raleigh, North Carolina and is the firm's managing shareholder.

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP is well regarded for its strength in acting on behalf of prominent clients from the financial services, technology and retail industries in complex employment litigation such as wage and hour and discrimination class and collective actions, trade secrets matters and other individual and multi-plaintiff cases. The firm is equipped to handle disputes over the classification of independent contractors. It also handles, among other matters, whistleblower claims. Orrick has strength on either coast, with impressive showings in the employment space in both California and New York.

Strengths

"They make you feel like you are their only client, despite how busy they are. We can count on them to get us what we need, when we need it."

"Orrick is always on top of the law and legal trends. They provide practical, business-friendly advice and solutions."

"Orrick provides practical and actionable advice to help resolve complex matters."

Work highlights Orrick successfully represented American Express in two whistleblower claims brought by employees who had been terminated by the company following an investigation by the Department of Labor.

Notable practitioners

Julie Totten in Sacramento and San Francisco leads the firm's global employment law and litigation practice group.

Band 3BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler LLP is a highly regarded firm with offices across the USA. It is noted for its wealth of expertise in labor relations matters, including collective bargaining negotiations and NLRB proceedings. The firm is also able to advise on employment litigation, including harassment, discrimination and retaliation.

Strengths

"The firm has a deep bench of subject matter experts in multiple disciplines and is able to address complex issues holistically."

"The employment law team works very well together and make it easy to get timely responses."

"With BakerHostetler you always feel like you are getting the most pragmatic and economically feasible advice."

Work highlights BakerHostetler LLP represented Thomson Reuters in multiple arbitrations and negotiations with the Newspaper Guild for a new collective bargaining agreement covering a unit of approximately 300 employees.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Amy Traub serves as the chair of the firm's labor and employment group.

Constangy, Brooks, Smith & Prophete, LLP

What the team is known for Constangy, Brooks, Smith & Prophete, LLP has a well-regarded labor and employment practice with strength across several states. It has particular expertise in handling wage and hour class actions, as well as traditional labor law matters. The firm represents clients in the sports, healthcare and entertainment industries, among others.

Strengths

"Constangy has numerous attorneys with in-depth knowledge and cutting-edge expertise of various sub-specialties within greater employment law."

"The team at Constangy is extremely knowledgeable. They have the ability to assist with very sophisticated issues that require an in-depth knowledge of various legal situations."

Work highlights Constangy, Brooks, Smith & Prophete acted on behalf of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in a class action lawsuit, involving over 1,200 football players across 25 universities, brought under California state wage and hour law.

Notable practitioners

Neil Wasser, based in Atlanta, is a key contact at the firm.

FordHarrison LLP

What the team is known for FordHarrison LLP is a national labor and employment boutique recognized for its broad coverage of US jurisdictions and employment issues. It demonstrates high levels of activity in class and collective actions, sex and disability discrimination, noncompetition and retaliation litigation. The firm also advises in connection with traditional labor law matters, including collective bargaining negotiations, as well as the employment law aspects of corporate transactions.

Strengths

"We work with a number of partners and associates at FordHarrison and have always been impressed with their ability to step into any situation quickly and professionally."

"They are always available for consultation and support and are quick to respond to our requests."

"FordHarrison do a commendable job of keeping us informed of relevant developments."

Work highlights FordHarrison represented BGIS North America in a wage and hour class action claim in the Santa Clara Superior Court of California.

Notable practitioners

Orlando-based Allen McKenna is a key contact.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig, LLP has a preeminent group with extensive coverage across the USA and a wealth of experience advising employers. The firm possesses vast experience handling wage and hour, discrimination and sexual harassment claims, and also advises clients on labor relations and OSHA issues.

Strengths

"Greenberg Traurig consistently demonstrate an exceptional ability to navigate and resolve complex issues. Their expertise and strategic approach to handling sophisticated matters instill confidence in their services."

"The attorneys are always knowledgeable, responsive and practical in their counseling."

"The team has a deep understanding of the issues at hand and are very aware of the legal landscape surrounding the case."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented CVS Health in multiple putative wage and hour class actions in California.

Notable practitioners

Naomi Beer in Denver and James Boudreau in Philadelphia are co-chairs of the firm's global labor and employment department.

Band 4

Akin

What the team is known for Akin handles a variety of contentious labor and employment matters, including wage and hour class actions, discrimination claims and contractual litigation. The firm advises prominent clients in the sports, food and beverage and retail industries, among others.

Strengths

"Each Akin attorney responds quickly to the needs of our company."

"The firm is very commercial and aware of the cutting edge trends and most recent regulatory developments."

"Akin inspire confidence with their advice."

Work highlights Akin represented Walmart in three putative wage and hour class actions alleging the company failed to pay retail employees for time spent undergoing COVID-19 screening in violation of the FLSA and state wage laws or under a theory of unjust enrichment.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Robert Lian is a key contact.

Cozen O'Connor

What the team is known for Cozen O'Connor has a noteworthy labor and employment practice with a broad clientele, which includes public and private sector companies as well as nonprofit organizations. The firm assists clients on a variety of matters including harassment allegations and wage and hour class actions. It regularly advises clients on regulatory proceedings, including before the

NLRB, OSHA and EEOC.

Strengths

"The attorneys are extremely responsive and strive to provide the highest level of service."

"The team runs deep with experienced counsel who are able to provide guidance in many areas."

"They have a great understanding of what we, as a company, need to be successful. They know our business, terminology, values and current business challenges which gives us a winning edge."

Work highlights Cozen O'Connor acted for Eurofins on an alleged breach of the noncompete in the asset purchase agreement by the seller CEO.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Giotto in Pittsburgh is co-chair of the labor and employment department.

Epstein Becker & Green PC

What the team is known for Epstein Becker & Green PC has a well-respected national practice with significant expertise in traditional labor relations matters. The firm is also able to advise on employment lawsuits, including discrimination and sexual harassment claims. It acts on behalf of clients in the food and beverage and media industries, among others.

Strengths

"The EBG team are talented lawyers who see the practical and commercial elements while always giving out great advice. They are a pleasure to work with."

"The team at EBG is extremely helpful and their response time is impeccable!"

"They have attorneys who are true subject matter experts in a broad variety of areas of law."

Notable practitioners

David Garland is a key contact, based in both Newark and New York.

Faegre Drinker

What the team is known for Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP is a go-to labor and employment firm for major national corporations, with broad expertise and expansive coverage across the USA. It demonstrates strengths in wage and hour, discrimination and contractual litigation. The firm also advises clients on labor relations matters, including union avoidance and collective bargaining.

Strengths

"The team is well suited to handle large and complex matters nationwide."

"Faegre Drinker take great care to get to know their clients and provide excellent and specific advice."

"Their ability to blend legal expertise with a deep understanding of the business world greatly contributes to our company's decision making process. Their insights are not legally astute but are imbued with a keen sense of the commercial realities we face."

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Cheryl Orr leads the firm's labor and employment practice.

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods LLP offers strength in an array of labor and employment matters. The firm acts on behalf of large corporations in a wide range of sectors, including the food and beverage, financial services and aviation industries. It has a strong track record in employment litigation, including trade secrets, discrimination and wage and hour disputes, as well as providing expertise in alternative dispute resolution.

Strengths

"McGuireWoods is phenomenal, they are very practical and know our business inside and out."

"They go the extra mile to respond and provide necessary details to help us make informed business decisions."

"McGuireWoods attorneys are brilliant. They know the law and are dedicated to their clients and cases. The team is responsive, supportive and determined to best represent their clients."

Notable practitioners

Chair of the firm's labor and employment practice Sabrina Beldner is a key contact.

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith LLP offers strong expertise across a number of offices in the USA including in California, Pennsylvania, Texas and Virginia. It handles an array of labor and employment matters for employers in the financial services, technology and life sciences sectors, among others. The firm provides counsel on a range of matters including discrimination, breach of contract and wage and hour claims.

Strengths

"There is little that comes across our desks that Reed Smith do not have a resource for."

"The attorneys at Reed Smith take the time to understand our business and culture and to consider the best approach to legal matters through that lens."

"The service from Reed Smith is always prompt and accurate."

Notable practitioners

Tyree Jones, located in Washington, DC, serves as global chair of the firm's labor and employment practice.

Band 5

Barnes & Thornburg LLP

What the team is known for Barnes & Thornburg LLP offers broad coverage of labor and employment matters with particular strength in the Midwest. The firm assists its enviable client base with a variety of issues, including OSHA, discrimination and trade secrets disputes. It also fields expertise in traditional labor law.

Strengths

"They provide an excellent service and are very responsive."

"The team is efficient and thorough when working through complex and sophisticated matters."

"Barnes & Thornburg have a national presence and a deep bench with experienced attorneys in every area of employment law."

Work highlights Barnes & Thornburg LLP defended Vera Bradley against a class action alleging various violations of California wage and hour laws.

Notable practitioners

Chair of the firm's labor and employment practice group Kenneth Yerkes in Indianapolis is a key contact.

Davis Wright Tremaine

What the team is known for Davis Wright Tremaine LLP has a nationwide labor and employment practice with particular prominence on the West Coast, and additional strength in New York. The firm frequently handles labor relations matters, including collective bargaining negotiations and union avoidance. It has extensive litigation experience, which includes defending discrimination, wage and hour and sexual harassment claims.

Strengths

"DWT is very responsive. I can count on them to get back to me on any time sensitive issues."

"DWT always has a deep and capable bench of support."

"The team is very aware of the ramifications of employment disputes, litigation and settlement activities, and have a very practical outlook."

Notable practitioners

Bellevue-based Mark Berry and Portland-based Jenna Mooney cochair the employment services group.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper LLP has an impressive depth of expertise spanning labor and employment litigation, including handling discrimination and noncompete disputes as well as large scale wage and hour class actions. The firm acts for domestic and international clients and has diverse sector coverage, including health-care, finance, retail and technology. It also has considerable advisory capacity, particularly in the context of corporate transactions. It has notable coverage of key markets such as California, Illinois, New York and Texas.

Strengths

"We feel we are fully supported irrespective of the complexity of the case and the advice given is complete, accurate and takes into account how we operate as a business."

"They have great depth and breadth. We can rely on DLA to have a team or trusted partner in all jurisdictions."

"DLA Piper do excellent work. They are very responsive and make you feel as if you are their most important client."

Work highlights DLA Piper represented Domino's Pizza in a putative class action brought by a former delivery driver alleging wage and overtime violations by the company.

Notable practitioners

Based in Dallas, Marc Katz chairs the firm's US employment practice.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie LLP fields a respected group of attorneys with expertise in a variety of labor and employment matters, including trade secrets, discrimination and sexual harassment as well as wage and hour disputes. The firm regularly represents clients from the technology, media and manufacturing industries, among others.

Strengths

"Perkins Coie is truly excellent to work with. They handle complex matters by balancing a complete grasp of the law with superior people skills."

"The lawyers are highly knowledgeable and skilled in employment law and strategy."

"The team has tremendous expertise on labor relations matters, including keeping up with the ever-changing landscape."

Work highlights Perkins Coie LLP represented Zempleo on a wage and hour class and collective action involving allegations that employees had been misclassified as a result of improperly calculated salary basis.

Notable practitioners

Dallas-based Ann Marie Painter is chair of the firm's labor and employment practice.

Law Firm Defense Nationwide

Law Firm Defense
Leading Firms
Band 1
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Jenner & Block LLP
Williams & Connolly LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Warin Roger Steptoe LLP (ORL) ◇
Leading Individuals
Star individuals
Rosen Kevin Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Villa John Williams & Connolly LLP
Band 1
Brian Brad Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Drooks Mark T. Bird, Marella, Rhow, Lincenberg (ORL) ◇
Fairless Carolyn Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP (ORL) ◇
Keeley Meg Williams & Connolly LLP
Kryder George Vinson & Elkins LLP (ORL) ◇ *
McNamara Michael Jenner & Block LLP
Singer Craig Williams & Connolly LLP
Warder Fred Patterson Belknap Webb & Tyler (ORL) ◇ *
Band 2
Duval Catherine Zuckerman Spaeder LLP (ORL) ◇
Hart Nancy Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Kahn Matthew Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Spira Kirsten Jenner & Block LLP
Storino John Jenner & Block LLP
Up-and-coming individuals
Otterberg April Jenner & Block LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson Dunn is considered a destination of choice for the nation's top law firms and lawyers in their most complex and sensitive issues, with clients benefiting from the firm's tremendous wealth of experience in defending litigation and regulatory enforcement. Its highly prized team offers expertise across malpractice, malicious prosecution, breach of fiduciary duty and conflicts matters.

Strengths

"The team thinks every day about how to tackle the problem and whether there's something new to think of that would be more effective today that wasn't effective yesterday. There's a hunger and fresh approach they bring every day."

"It's an incredibly confidence-inspiring team. They have incredible depth and the team absolutely wanted to do their very best, which is always a great outcome for us as a client."

"We were extremely pleased with the thoughtfulness, knowledge and professionalism that they brought to the matter. They were creative, aggressive and came up with good strategies that led to a successful outcome. I thought they were just excellent."

"They're really good at understanding what I want and they calibrate their actions and strategies based on knowing the client, and they handled it flawlessly. I never feel like there's an 'us' and 'them' – I always feel like they're on my team."

"They're extremely creative in seeking resolution of matters, either in negotiation or in trial. Sometimes you see a dead end, but Gibson Dunn can suggest a different path."

Work highlights Gibson Dunn was retained by Covington & Burling to defend an SEC subpoena regarding the firm's communications with its clients.

Notable practitioners

Kevin Rosen (see p.683)'s outstanding pedigree and wealth of experience in law firm defense matters sees him regularly engaged by the country's top law firms for their most complex and sophisticated legal issues. Strengths: "He is, for me, the go-to lawyer for truly massive representations of law firms. His ability to marshal the resources necessary for enterprise-threatening lawsuits is just unparalleled." "Kevin is simply the best lawyers' lawyer in the country." "The experience working with Kevin is phenomenal. He's able to dig deeply into cases and he's just incredibly thorough and strategic in terms of working out what can be accomplished and how to get there." "I can think of few partners at his level of prowess in terms of strategy. He thinks about cases from every angle and communicates that to us – he's not just in his head, but he engages with the client, so you understand his thought process." "I would say Kevin is the pre-eminent lawyer in this area in that he's excellent at both strategy, execution and finesse. He really is who you call when you have a big problem." Nancy Hart (see p.579) co-chairs the firm's Law Firm Defense practice and offers a wealth of expertise in defending a broad range of civil claims brought against law firms and lawyers. Strengths: "It was a pleasure to work with her. She's a delightful person, who is highly confident and very professional." "We really rely on her experience and advocacy skills." "She's a very thoughtful lawyer in the way she solves problems." Matthew Kahn (see p.599) has a wide-ranging litigation practice which features particular expertise in defending malpractice and fiduciary duty claims brought against law firms.

Strengths: "He just ripped through their case. It was very complicated and involved complex issues, but he's a very smart and hard-working guy and he did a terrific job." "He was appropriately aggressive; he didn't miss a thing and he was careful about pointing out the risks as they were. He's a counselor, and a well-prepared litigator."

Jenner & Block LLP

What the team is known for Jenner & Block is regularly seen defending legal industry clients across the full gamut of legal issues, acting for a broad spectrum of multinational, mid-size and boutique firms. The practice enjoys a sterling reputation for its advocacy skills, with a wealth of expertise defending malpractice and ethics claims in trial and in arbitration.

Strengths

"We felt that they had deep experience defending law firms. They seemed to have a very practical approach, which is what we were looking for, and they were able to put together a team that had all the underlying expertise that we needed."

"They were great to work with, did a deep dive into everything and developed every possible defense. It was clear from the outset that having a firm like Jenner on our side carried a great weight with the opposing side, and that really matters in these kinds of claims."

"Their legal work is first-rate, both the written work and the oral presentations, and their representations in court have been outstanding."

"They have outstanding analytical skills and they're very, very detail-oriented, very strategic and practical. They have a great ability to see an overall strategy for a case."

"They have a very deep understanding of the issues, they can break down complexity and manage it in a very productive way. They can wrap their head around a huge amount of material and then distill that down to something that's understandable and manageable."

Notable practitioners

Michael McNamara has attained a formidable reputation for his advocacy skills, with an impressive track record in defending clients in high stakes trial and arbitration settings. Strengths: "Mike has a wonderfully disarming way which makes clients feel comfortable and brings the anxiety level down. He also has a lot of experience, which provides a heightened level of confidence. He's easy-going but also a fierce advocate who's very persuasive and a great strategist." "Mike's strength is his deep experience and ability to connect with clients and opposing counsel. He is very personable and a seasoned trial lawyer." "Mike is a very strong litigator with an incredible background to help guide him through complex issues." Kirsten Spira is a highly respected litigator who offers a wealth of experience in defending clients in malpractice claims, as well as counselling law firms on ethics and professional responsibility issues. Strengths: "She was outstanding." "The quality of her briefing and work product stands out." John Storino is frequently seen advising law firm clients on professional responsibility and malpractice matters, as part of a broad commercial disputes practice. Strengths: "John is very sophisticated in his knowledge of the rules and in legal malpractice defense. He has a high level of expertise, he's extremely able and a highly intelligent lawyer. He's our go-to guy when we have something complex." "I often get frustrated with outside counsel when they give theoretical advice, but he was great at telling us exactly what we needed to do and what the guardrails should be. He's a great partner to work with to accomplish an important task." "He's a smart guy, who is appropriately aggressive but tries hard to solve the problem. The bedside manner really matters in this area – a lawyer wants to feel like they're taken care of, and he did that." April Otterberg enjoys a growing reputation for her expertise in defending lawyers, law firms and other service professionals in a broad array of malpractice, negligence and ethics issues. Strengths: "April is extraordinary. If I had a big problem, she's the person we'd hire. She has absolute devotion to the client's cause and the best result for the client." "She's just a phenomenal attorney. April is as smart as they come and a deeply strategic thinker too."

Williams & Connolly LLP

What the team is known for Williams & Connolly is widely regarded as the nation's leading legal malpractice defense firm, with an illustrious pedigree in defending major law firms in their most sensitive and complex disputes. Its team handles the full gamut of claims brought against law firms, attorneys and insurers, who regularly cite the firm's imperious track record in litigation and trial work as a key asset.

Strengths

"It's a terrific law firm, which earns the respect of its clients, opposing counsel and judges because of their quality, their integrity, their candor and their creativity."

"They bring sophisticated solutions to very complicated problems."

"Their strengths lie in the ability to harness an incredible amount of resources, at a high level of competency, and zealously advocate."

"They're not just really impressive litigators, but they also understand what the firms are going through. They're the firm you go to for existential crises, they really are the heavyweights."

"They have been top-notch, there's no stone left unturned and they have significant capability on complex legal issues, but they're also practical."

Notable practitioners

John Villa is widely regarded as one of the leading lights in legal malpractice defence, with a long-standing reputation of excellence in defending law firms in their most sophisticated and challenging matters. Strengths: "John is a revered senior statesman of the profession. He has superb judgment – he is willing to deliver news, even when it is news that the client does not want to hear, but he delivers his judgments in a way that helps the client reach important decisions." "John is the ultimate lawyers' lawyer. He just delivers, time and again." "John Villa is superb. He has great, nuanced judgment and is a great counselor of clients." "He has so much experience that a situation will come up which we think is unique, but he will invariably have that experience already." "John is the dean of the professional liability Bar." Meg Keeley enjoys an excellent reputation for her pedigree in law firm defense matters, with a range of law firms turning to her for her expertise in high stakes malpractice and wider professional liability matters. Strengths: "She's extremely intelligent, very thoughtful and relates extremely well to the client, opposing counsel and judges." "She has a natural affinity for the issues that law firms face." "She's extraordinarily personable and has a very high level of credibility. I've found her analysis of matters to be not just legally correct, but also pragmatically correct." Craig Singer is considered a leading choice by top law firms and lawyers facing significant malpractice claims, as well as defending regulatory investigations and enforcement. Strengths: "He's extremely intelligent but, in addition, he's very thoughtful, very deliberative and he has a great, supple mind that is not satisfied with an easy answer. He'll turn a problem over until he sees it from all sides, so he doesn't fall in love with his own point of view." "He's a very, very bright, capable and experienced lawyer. I'm continually impressed with his legal analysis of complex issues; he's an authority on this." "Craig will go to trial, which we admire very much. He and his teams were able to run circles around the opposition." "Craig is a brilliant legal tactician and gifted lawyer who is a must-have on the leadership brain trust of any complex matter."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Brad Brian (see p.1004) of Munger, Tolles & Olson is a nationally recognized trial lawyer who offers notable expertise in acting for law firms in high stakes litigation matters, as part of his wide-ranging civil and criminal disputes practice.

Strengths: "He's not only intelligent, he's smart – in this world there is a difference. Brad is fundamentally a good guy too, he's become a friend of ours. Brad's greatest strength is as a trial lawyer, he's just exquisite in the courtroom." "Brad is a terrific strategist. He's a consigliere. He's a trusted adviser on sensitive matters that pose risk to the firm."

Mark Dooks of Bird Marella is considered one of the leading litigators on the West Coast, with an impressive pedigree in defending a broad range of commercial litigation claims and malpractice allegations brought against law firms and lawyers. Strengths: "Mark is incredibly strategic and he can see the case evolving from ten steps ahead, so we can position ourselves in the best possible way. He's one of the smartest lawyers I've had the pleasure of working with." "I have a great appreciation both for his legal expertise in this area and his ability to provide very measured, clear-headed and thoughtful advice. It always helps to be represented by someone who knows the way your business works, and he understands how law firms work. He's been a terrific partner for us in managing these kinds of matters."

Catherine Duval of Zuckerman Spaeder has a multifaceted practice which features strength in criminal defense work, internal and congressional investigations, and defending law firms and lawyers in professional liability and ethics matters.

Strengths: "Kate is thoughtful, knowledgeable and brings a level of practical problem-solving to matters. She is tenacious for her clients – she can be tough when she needs to be, or very empathetic."

"I have great things to say about Cate Duval. She was very pleasant and very reassuring right the way through. She has a tremendous depth of experience, having handled a number of these matters before." "Kate just has this great ability to figure out what you need. She not only has this technical expertise and great skill, but she's also practical and her advice can really cut right to the chase and tell you what you need. She just has that great practical skill and judgment, and she's got great skill at advocating on your behalf."

Carolyn Fairless combines her role as president of Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell with an active litigation practice, earning acclaim for her depth of expertise in defending law firms, lawyers and other professional services clients in malpractice claims. Strengths: "In the legal malpractice area, Carolyn Fairless is outstanding. She just does a very, very good job. I have a lot of confidence in Carolyn."

George Kryder (see p.615) of Vinson & Elkins is considered a first port of call for local and multinational law firms facing claims in Texas, with clients calling upon his wealth of experience in high stakes litigation matters. Strengths: "What impressed me was his knowledge and familiarity with the judges and the courts in Texas. Their understanding of the decision makers and process was very helpful for me." "He understands the legal issues, but also the internal political issues you have to manage in a situation like this. He's a master of the Texas legal system and he understands big firms and the pressure law firm GCs face on a daily basis. He also plays really well in the sandbox, working really well with our internal lawyers, and he has the respect of opposing counsel." "I can't speak highly enough about the integrity, quality and responsiveness of George and his team. I never felt like I had to worry about the case being well managed; they're extraordinary trial lawyers down there." "He's very practical in the way he goes about a matter, but also has such depth of knowledge in the field that it makes you feel as if you're in good hands. There's nothing someone can throw at him that he can't handle."

Fred Warder (see p.730) of Patterson Belknap is held in particularly high regard for his courtroom advocacy skills, with a range of local and multinational law firms and lawyers turning to him for his abilities in defending a range of malpractice, partnership and breach of fiduciary duty claims.

Strengths: “Fred is an extremely high-quality lawyer, he’s super detail-oriented, thoughtful, communicative and strategic.” “He treats you as his equal and respects what you bring to the table, while explaining and presenting options and making recommendations without forcing them. I wanted someone I felt would partner with me, and not treat me as a client who needed to be told what to do, and he was excellent with that.” “He’s just a rock under pressure and tells it how it is – the good and the bad – in a calm, even-handed way that gives the client extreme amounts of confidence. Whenever we spoke to him, we came away confident that we were in the best hands possible, which is important when it’s a firm or a lawyer facing this kind of situation. One of his best qualities is listening to what we have to say about strategies, but also calmly and coolly letting us know when we were wrong!” “He’s an extremely smart and incredible advocate, who is incredibly well prepared.” “He just has a deep understanding of these kinds of matters. He’s his own firm’s general counsel, so he understands how to interact with the law firm and gives them the best defense. He can bring a sense of calm and clarity to a law firm that’s facing a difficult situation.”

Roger Warin of Steptoe is a highly esteemed and respected member of the legal malpractice defense Bar, who has attained an impressive reputation for his track record in defending law firms facing a broad array of significant claims.

Strengths: “He’s known as one of the most significant figures in the legal malpractice area.” “He’s a force of nature.”

Leisure & Hospitality Nationwide

Band 1

Dentons

What the team is known for Dentons has a dedicated team with a standout reputation in the leisure and hospitality space. Drawing upon its extensive global reach, the team assists clients with complex cross-border matters, ranging from management agreements to sales and mixed-use developments. Its enviable client list includes several market-leading international hotel brands as well as investors.

Strengths

“The team at Dentons have extraordinary problem-solving capabilities and industry knowledge.”

“Dentons has a team of extremely knowledgeable and experienced professionals.”

“The group is built of incredibly intelligent and hardworking attorneys who are always responsive.”

Work highlights Dentons provided counsel to Ohana Real Estate Holdings on the sale of the 130-room Montage Healdsburg to Sunstone Hotel Investors for $265 million.

Notable practitioners

Chair of the global hotels and leisure practice, Rick Ross is held in high regard for his expert handling of a wide range of transactions, including joint venture negotiations, refinancings and management agreements. Strengths: “Rick is one of the best hospitality lawyers in the country. He’s experienced and zealously represents his clients while being fair and practical.” “He is one of the finest attorneys in the space. He knows everyone in the industry, has a very deep understanding and provides strategic advice.”

Adam Docks (see p.542)’s wide-ranging experience sees him act for clients such as developers and investors on cross-border transactions. Strengths: “He’s very practical and focused on business solutions. He is able to leverage his knowledge to find practical and sophisticated solutions.” “Adam is a great lawyer.”

Christopher Lee is routinely called upon to provide counsel on project structuring, acquisitions and dispositions, advising a range of investors and hotel owners. Strengths: “He’s a very smart lawyer.”

“Christopher is a great lawyer with good experience.” Chris Bennett (see p.502) is routinely called upon by hotel owners and mortgage companies to provide counsel on transactional issues, management agreements and tax related matters. Strengths: “He has a lot of experience and is a good negotiator.” “Chris is very collaborative and easy to work with.”

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins’ team is a transactional powerhouse with significant expertise in the hotel, leisure and gaming sectors, routinely acting on complex financings, M&A and joint ventures. Leveraging its extensive global reach, the team routinely acts for leading hotels and casino operations based in the USA and Europe. Its client base also encompasses a broad spectrum of leading financial institutions, private equity houses and wider investors. Latham is increasingly active on transactions involving public-private partnerships.

Strengths

“Latham & Watkins is a top-notch firm in terms of quality. Its lawyers are personal, responsive and aware of changing laws and issues within the industry”

“The partners at Latham are incredibly responsive and they are able to handle the most complex transactions.”

Work highlights Latham & Watkins advised Flynn Properties in connection with its transaction with Värde Partners.

Notable practitioners

Cohead of the hospitality gaming and leisure department, Gary Axelrod (see p.1708) is an acknowledged leader in the leisure and hospitality field. He is a go-to attorney for big-ticket transactions such as joint ventures and acquisitions. Strengths: “Gary has a tremendous ability to close out issues and move quickly toward transaction milestones. He is also a pleasure to work with.” “He is one of the best lawyers in the space.”

Meghan Cocci (see p.528) is cohead of the hospitality, gaming and leisure department. She has

Leisure & Hospitality
Leading Firms
Band 1
Dentons
Latham & Watkins LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Band 2
Goodwin
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Perkins Coie LLP
Band 3
Akerman LLP
ArentFox Schiff LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Goulston & Storrs
Holland & Knight LLP
Band 4
Arnold & Porter
BakerHostetler LLP
Foley & Lardner LLP
Jeffer, Mangels, Butler & Mitchell LLP
Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP
Pillsbury
Proskauer Rose LLP
Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Venable LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

an outstanding hotels and leisure practice and is particularly adept at handling transactions such as joint ventures, negotiations, developments and acquisitions. Strengths: “Meghan is an exceptional lawyer. She’s confident, responsive and among the most knowledgeable in her field.” “She is efficient, commercial and thorough.” Rachel Bates (see p.1709) draws on notable transactional strength when advising a range of REITs and hospitality owners. Strengths: “Rachel navigates complex issues with grace and a seemingly effortless touch.”

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings possesses a standout track record in complex and sophisticated work, calling on a multidisciplinary team able to provide advice on matters ranging from resort development to management and joint ventures. The team represents a diverse range of clients, including REITs, developers and private equity lenders, among others. The group also has impressive cross-border capabilities in international hotel arrangements. It also offers notable ancillary strengths in litigation, tax, intellectual property and wider corporate law.

Strengths

“It is one of the best firms in the business and the team is business-savvy.”

“Paul Hastings has superior experience in the hospitality space, in terms of market knowledge and thought leadership.”

“The group is extremely proficient and current on industry matters, financial trends and markets. The practitioners are incredibly smart and hard-

Leisure & Hospitality
Senior Statespeople & Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Parmley Bruce E. Parmley Legal PLLC (ORL) ◇ *
Eminent Practitioners
Hudak Timothy Q. Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Axelrod Gary. Latham & Watkins LLP *
Cocci Meghan. Latham & Watkins LLP *
Goebel Teresa. Goodwin *
Kirkbride Rick S. Paul Hastings LLP *
Migdal Nelson F. Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Ross Rick. Dentons
Band 2
Cadwalader Lynn. Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP
Docks Adam. Dentons *
Giovannone Lauren. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Gordon Cecilia. Goulston & Storrs
Horwitz Jeffrey A. Proskauer Rose LLP *
Risman Clifford J. Foley & Lardner LLP
Robins Andrew S. Akerman LLP
Weld King Carol. Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Band 3
Ahuja Samantha. Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Bates Rachel. Latham & Watkins LLP *
Bosch William M. Pillsbury
Fanelli Cecelia L. Brewer, Attorneys & Counselors (ORL) ◇
Hassan Christina. Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Lee Christopher. Dentons
Marre Daniel GM. Perkins Coie LLP
Neff David M. Perkins Coie LLP
Nelson Cynthia Brotman. Jackson Walker LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Soloway Todd. Pryor Cashman LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Sudeck David. Jeffer, Mangels, Butler & Mitchell LLP
Sullivan Michael J. Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Tschann Ben. Goodwin *
Wachen Kimberly. ArentFox Schiff LLP
Band 4
Bennett Chris. Dentons LLP *
Bernstein Joshua. Akerman LLP
Blount Jay. Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
Eppey Larry. Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Gosch Philip. Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck (ORL) ◇
Gryboski Thomas. Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Guay Joseph. Holland & Knight LLP
Harrison Lindsay. Jenner & Block LLP (ORL) ◇
Mahlstedt Patricia. Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
McCarthy Allison. Holland & Knight LLP
Morgen Catherine E. Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Myers Jeffrey. Jeffer, Mangels, Butler & Mitchell LLP
Olson Kathryn E. Arnold & Porter
Reina David. Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Roth Derek. Paul Hastings LLP *
Salaman Christian A. Pillsbury
Tenzer Ari. TA PLLC (ORL) ◇
Wilk Corey. Goulston & Storrs
Up-and-coming individuals
Fieldston Todd. Paul Hastings LLP * working.”

Work highlights Paul Hastings advised Red Sea Global and Amaala Company on the development of two 7-star projects to be located on the Red Sea in Saudi Arabia.

Notable practitioners

Rick Kirkbride (see p.609) is the chair of the global hospitality and leisure practice group. He is frequently mandated on high-value acquisitions, joint ventures and sales agreements, acting for a range of leading global real estate entities and lenders.

Strengths: “Rick is one of the most respected hospitality lawyers in the space.” “He has a wealth of knowledge and experience in this area and his insights are always extremely valuable.” “Rick and his team are always an asset to have as counsel given his experience, relationships and deep expertise.” Cochair of the global hospitality and leisure practice group, Derek Roth (see p.684) is noted for his ability to represent investors across a range of matters, including acquisitions, joint ventures and refinancings, among others. Strengths: “Derek is calm, thoughtful and very knowledgeable. He is also timely and responsive.” Todd Fieldston (see p.553) has a burgeoning practice in the leisure and hospitality space. He routinely assists clients with hotel leasing agreements, as well as complex joint ventures. Strengths: “Todd provides excellent counsel and is always willing to go above and beyond.” “He is efficient and responsive.”

Band 2

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin has a distinguished practice with in-depth knowledge of hospitality real estate transactions, offering experience in acquisitions, restructuring issues, franchising and management agreements. The team offers additional expertise in REIT issues, including notable capabilities advising clients on investment fund formation matters. The group is renowned for its ability to represent equity investors and leading brands in both domestic and international matters.

Strengths

“The team at Goodwin is talented and able to juggle multiple transactions, including extremely large transactions.”

“We are always pleased with their level of diligence and knowledge. The Goodwin team is also always quick to turnaround time-sensitive work.”

Work highlights Goodwin acted as counsel to an affiliate of KHP Partners in the acquisition of The Camby, Autograph Collection Hotel in Phoenix, the negotiation of a franchise agreement for the hotel with Marriott International and a hotel management agreement with Davidson Hospitality Group.

Notable practitioners

Teresa Goebel (see p.567) is a market-leading transactional lawyer with significant experience in large-scale acquisitions and negotiating management agreements. Strengths: “Teresa’s level of sophistication is outstanding.” “She’s a phenomenal lawyer.” Head of the real estate industry group and hospitality and leisure practice, Ben Tschann (see p.722) frequently acts on joint ventures and management agreements, attracting clients such as renowned real estate investors.

Strengths: “He’s a very good lawyer.”

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig is highly proficient in hotel and hospitality development projects, management agreements and transactions. The group draws on a breadth of knowledge across the team to provide counsel on additional matters, such as mixed-use projects and timeshares. The practitioners advise clients from a broad range of sectors, including international hotel groups, country clubs and other leisure facilities.

Strengths

"Greenberg Traurig's team ensures that my legal needs, broad or narrow, will get addressed by excellent attorneys."

"The practitioners are solutions-oriented and excel at managing very complex issues."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig served as development, subdivision, condominium and regulatory counsel to One Beverly Hills in relation to its development of a 1.4 million sq ft mixed-use project.

Notable practitioners

Cohead of the leisure and hospitality practice Nelson Migdal is highly regarded for his representation of hotel owners in acquisitions, negotiations and transactions. Strengths: "He's a fabulous lawyer." Samantha Ahuja's practice covers a range of issues, including hotel acquisitions, hotel management agreements and licensing. She successfully advises a wide spectrum of both national and international clients within the hospitality market. Strengths: "Samantha is smart and it is always a pleasure to work with her." "She is fantastic in every regard." Cohead of the hospitality and leisure department, Michael Sullivan has significant experience within the leisure and hospitality space. He handles a wide spectrum of issues including sales, acquisitions and financings. Strengths: "He's an excellent lawyer." "Michael is an experienced attorney."

Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP

What the team is known for Morris, Manning & Martin is recognized for its broad hospitality practice, which attracts a notable cross-border client base comprising investors, owners and developers. The practitioners boast strong transactional capabilities complemented by recent expansion into the representation of hotel operators.

Strengths

"The team at Morris, Manning & Martin are very experienced."

"The firm's lawyers always provide excellent advice and direction."

"The group is very experienced in transactions, and their attorneys are always available to discuss matters."

Work highlights Morris, Manning & Martin advised Brookfield Strategic Real Estate Partners on a $250 million refinancing for the PGA National Resort in Palm Beach Gardens.

Notable practitioners

Cohead of the hospitality department Carol Weld King is particularly adept at representing hotels and investors, handling matters such as sales, financings and hotel management agreements. Strengths: "Carol is a thorough, great lawyer who understands the business side of matters. She is a good negotiator and has a thorough base of knowledge." Christina Hassan offers particular strength in advising boutique hotels, which forms part of her broader transactional capabilities in the hospitality space. Strengths: "Christina is helpful, thorough, hardworking and detail-oriented." Cohead of the hospitality department Thomas Gryboski is a highly sought-after attorney with notable strength in handling real estate transactions in the hospitality sector, including hotel acquisitions, developments and financings. Strengths: "Thomas is very experienced and has a wealth of knowledge." "He is very responsive and a go-to person for high-level legal knowledge." Catherine Morgen has broad real estate experience, with notable strength handling transactions in the hospitality sector for investment groups and hotel owners. Strengths: "Catherine is very experienced and has a wealth of knowledge." "She is reliable, responsive and effective in legal services." David Reina is recognized for his ability handling REIT structures and complex loan agreements involving hospitality assets. Strengths: "David is an impressive lawyer."

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie maintains its strong reputation in complex litigation and business transactions, acting for a broad spectrum of developers, hotel operators, private equity firms and wider investor clients. Areas of strength for the group include financing transactions and hotel development projects, alongside noted experience handling national bankruptcies within the hospitality space.

Strengths

"Every member of the Perkins Coie team is sophisticated and a pleasure to work with."

"The team are smart, experienced and personable."

Notable practitioners

Daniel Marre's rich experience in negotiating management agreements and handling financing deals involving major hotel portfolios. David Neff represents a range of hotel industry players in both contentious and transactional matters. He is particularly commended for his expertise in bankruptcy mandates. Strengths: "He is a quality lawyer."

Band 3

Akerman LLP

What the team is known for Akerman has an impressive hospitality outfit that is adept at handling a broad manner of transactional and contentious work on behalf of hotel owners, developers and investors. The team represents clients in corporate and real estate transactions, with noted capability in cross-border matters.

Strengths

"Akerman is an outstanding firm with a strong focus on hospitality."

"It is a highly effective firm, with a team that can handle frustrating and complex litigation."

Work highlights Akerman advised Pegasus Capital Advisors on the formation of a joint venture and the provision of gap debt financing, for the development of mixed-use eco-resorts and the provision of various types of debt and equity capital in connection with two projects.

Notable practitioners

Andrew Robins is highly sought after to provide counsel on due diligence, hotel management agreements and M&A, among other issues.

Strengths: "Andrew is knowledgeable." "He's a smart and great lawyer." Cochair of the hospitality sector team Joshua Bernstein is developing an impressive practice which sees him frequently advise on dispute resolution in the hospitality industry. Strengths: "Joshua genuinely cares about the outcome for the client."

ArentFox Schiff LLP

What the team is known for ArentFox Schiff is esteemed for its high-level joint venture and transactional experience for market-leading clients. The team focuses on real estate deals, with additional expertise in franchising, employment issues and intellectual property. The group is also adept at handling a range of financing transactions for borrowers, lenders and developers.

Strengths

"The team has great knowledge across a variety of topics and provides extremely responsive and fantastic service."

"ArentFox has a deep bench of legal talent and subject matter experts. The team are always responsive to our needs and are always in tune with market issues and industry trends."

"They have an excellent multidisciplinary team approach to handling complex projects."

Work highlights ArentFox Schiff represented Wyndham Hotels & Resorts and subsidiaries in a negligence suit brought by plaintiffs against multiple companies and individuals alleged to own, operate or license trademarks associated with a Hawthorn Suites hotel.

Notable practitioners

Cohead of the hospitality department Kimberly Wachen is a go-to attorney for a range of domestic and international hospitality clients. Her practice includes advising on complex hotel acquisitions and dispositions. Strengths: "Kimberly is very knowledgeable regarding real estate, hospitality and franchise related matters."

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper leverages its extensive global network to advise on international mandates for a range of leading multinational brands in the hospitality industry, alongside roles acting for developers, lenders and investors. The team is particularly noted for its expertise in handling issues related to timeshares.

Strengths

"DLA Piper is an amazing firm that has a strong bench."

"The firm has a very sharp team that is also very responsive."

Work highlights DLA Piper represented Tennessee Titans in connection with the development of its new NFL Stadium in Nashville.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Harriet Lipkin and Chicago-based Bradley Levy are key contacts at the firm.

Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC

What the team is known for Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott demonstrates broad strengths in transactional work, management agreements and financing matters for hotel owners, investors, developers and lenders. The team draws on its cross-border expertise to assist clients operating across Europe, Asia and South America.

Strengths

"The Eckert team has experts in all aspects of the hospitality industry. Not only are the partners knowledgeable and easy to work with, but they have great bench strength."

"The service levels at Eckert Seamans are impeccable."

"Eckert's team has very strong ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters. They are extremely service-oriented and responsive working on time-sensitive transactions."

"Eckert's group has a lot of industry experience and has a deep bench of talent."

Work highlights Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott represented Trinity Investments in a hotel management agreement with Hilton to manage the hotel as a Curio until renovations are complete.

Notable practitioners

Timothy Hudak excels at negotiating complex hotel management agreements, as well as acquisitions and dispositions. Strengths: "Tim is one of the industry superstars. He has great experience and is tremendous with his execution and advice." "He is absolutely one of the best lawyers I have worked with in my hospitality career. He has the best combination of insight, expertise and temperament." Chair of the hospitality department, Jay Blount has a growing practice representing hotel owners and developers in development matters and loan agreements. Blount is highly regarded for his transactional skills. Strengths: "He has highly proficient transactional acumen which makes him extremely effective during high-pressure negotiations." "Jay is truly great, he provides practical advice. He understands business concerns and takes into consideration the best outcome for the business and legal team." Pittsburgh-based Patricia Mahlstedt is called upon by a range of clients, including hotel management companies, owners and investors. She has significant experience providing counsel on hotel management agreements and data privacy compliance. Strengths: "Tricia is an excellent lawyer." "She's extremely efficient, very smart and practical."

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher has a strong hospitality practice with considerable experience in a variety of transactional matters, alongside wider strengths in areas including management agreements, joint ventures and mezzanine financing. The group's client roster encompasses well-known hotel brands, portfolio owners, investors and financial institutions.

Strengths

"Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher has practitioners with deep technical expertise and a practical and pragmatic approach."

"The team are extremely thoughtful and competent in their ability to analyze and solve complex problems. The group is always available and has a deep bench that can step in to provide high-quality and timely service if needed."

Work highlights Gibson advised JDR Owner on securing an aggregate $2.2 billion in construction debt to complete the Fontainebleau Las Vegas.

Notable practitioners

Lauren Giovannone (see p.567) has significant experience handling developments and purchase agreements on behalf of investors, private equity firms and development organizations. Strengths: "She's a very good lawyer and she works very hard."

Goulston & Storrs

What the team is known for Goulston & Storrs has a solid hospitality practice with experience working alongside major hotel brands, financial institutions and investors on a variety of transactional matters and operational issues. The team's areas of expertise include management agreements, joint ventures and financing, alongside niche strengths in matters such as liquor licensing.

Strengths

"Goulston & Storrs has the talent and resources to handle the most complex real estate and corporate transactions. The internal culture at Goulston places great value on excellence and achieving practical results for their clients."

"Goulston & Storrs provides a team of lawyers who bring the right resources to the assigned tasks and are effective advocates."

Work highlights Goulston & Storrs assisted Hoffman and Associates in negotiating a hotel management agreement with Concord Hospitality for the operation of a new Hyatt House hotel to be built in Raleigh.

Notable practitioners

Cecilia Gordon's noteworthy practice includes large-scale transactions such as IPOs and joint ventures involving hotel portfolios. Strengths: "Cecilia does excellent work. She is very efficient and thoughtful." "Cecilia is an outstanding lawyer with a deep understanding of the hotel development and management business. She is very smart, extremely articulate and well organized. She is quick on her feet and has excellent judgment." Cohead of the hospitality and recreation department Corey Wilk acts for clients such as management companies and investors on a range of industry transactions. He is well versed in advising clients on the acquisition, financing and management of hospitality projects. Strengths: "He is an excellent lawyer and he knows the law extremely well."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight demonstrates expertise in representing high-profile brand operators in management agreements. Further specialties of the team include timeshare issues, as well as the acquisition and financing of resorts. The clients benefit from the firm's strong practices in complementary areas, including a well-resourced real estate practice with notable strengths in international transactions.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight has a number of practitioners with strong backgrounds, particularly in hotel management."

"The firm is a go-to firm for complicated hospitality and real estate transactions. Responses are always prompt, and work product is always delivered in a timely manner."

"Holland & Knight provides excellent representation in highly complex and niche matters."

Work highlights Holland & Knight represented Marriott International in the development of Ritz-Carlton Portland Hotel and Residences.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Guay is cochair of the firm's hospitality, resort and timeshare practice. He is highly respected within the market for his significant experience in large-scale and often cross-border hospitality projects. Strengths: "Joe is a very experienced and responsive attorney." "He is reliable and knowledgeable." Allison McCarthy is increasingly recognized for her strength in the hotel and resort space. She advises on a range of M&A, development and finance transactions, as well as general hospitality concerns. Strengths: "Allison is very experienced and smart." "She knows the industry well and she's extremely efficient."

Band 4Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter has a highly proficient hospitality group with notable expertise in acting for developers, investors and owners. The team is noted for its expertise in bankruptcy-related matters and the lawyers are fully equipped to advise on matters involving properties in the USA and overseas.

Strengths

"Arnold & Porter has a very strong bench and the team is sophisticated."

"The team at Arnold & Porter are incredibly responsive, pragmatic and have an excellent understanding of the complexities of hotel work. They are detail-oriented, very smart, savvy and incredibly responsive and timely."

Work highlights Arnold & Porter advised Host Hotels & Resorts in connection with its acquisition of the Four Seasons Resort & Residences in Jackson Hole.

Notable practitioners

Kathryn Olson demonstrates notable strength in handling significant matters in the space, including high-value acquisitions, restructurings and dispositions. Her experience stretches across multiple jurisdictions throughout the USA. Strengths: "Kathryn understands sophisticated legal issues and handles them with great ease. She is always calm and extremely responsive." "She is responsive, smart and detail-oriented."

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler has an experienced practice with significant expertise in representing investors and well-known brands in the hotel and resort space. The group excels across a variety of areas, including advising on licensing and branding, mixed-use projects, and sales and management agreements. The team also houses specialists equipped to advise on hotel industry-specific labor and employment matters, and is additionally active on deals involving timeshare properties.

Strengths

"The team at BakerHostetler are professional, prompt with responses and knowledgeable on market issues."

"BakerHostetler's lawyers are very knowledgeable in terms of understanding the US hotel market and its players."

Work highlights BakerHostetler represented a worldwide media company in the completion of a three-year collective bargaining agreement with the New York News Guild.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Diener is a key contact at BakerHostetler.

Foley & Lardner LLP

What the team is known for Foley & Lardner has an experienced team that focuses on the hotel and resort industry, alongside wider capabilities in the restaurant, food and beverage space. The team works across the spectrum of hospitality matters, from real estate and corporate transactions through to management agreements and brand protection issues. Drawing on a firm-wide pool of expertise, its practitioners advise on wider areas such as labor, tax and mezzanine financing.

Strengths

"The team has a very good grasp of complex business and legal matters. The practitioners are extraordinarily timely in their work product and responses."

"Foley has expertise across its firm and has capabilities to handle a broad spectrum of legal matters."

"The lawyers are extremely responsive, to the point and dependable."

Work highlights Foley & Lardner served as lead timeshare counsel to Hilton Grand Vacations on its definitive agreement to acquire Bluegreen Vacations.

Notable practitioners

Clifford Risman cochairs the hospitality practice. He has wide-ranging experience within the hospitality sector, including management agreements and large-scale transactions. Strengths: "Clifford is a very experienced and competent lawyer who provides great legal and business advice."

Jeffer, Mangels, Butler & Mitchell LLP

What the team is known for Jeffer, Mangels, Butler & Mitchell has a well-respected leisure and hospitality practice offering expert counsel for clients such as lenders, owners and investors. The team is highly recommended for its skills in handling hotel franchise and management agreements. The group also regularly handles hotel acquisitions and dispositions, as well as related concerns such as liquor agreements. The group is noted for its labor and employment capabilities.

Strengths

"Jeffer Mangels are great – they have some really strong attorneys."

Notable practitioners

David Sudeck acts across a wide array of hospitality matters, handling transactions on both a domestic and international scale. Strengths: "He is a solid young lawyer." Jeffrey Myers is fully equipped to advise clients on a range of hospitality issues, including the development, financing and acquisition of hotels and resorts.

Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP

What the team is known for Manatt Phelps & Phillips' team boasts considerable strength in the leisure and hospitality space. The group represents clients stemming from a broad range of sectors, including hotel owners, REITs and developers. Its practitioners are well versed in handling significant matters, ranging from high-profile acquisitions to complex hotel management agreements. The team has considerable experience providing counsel on matters involving cross-border components.

Strengths

"The team at Manatt Phelps & Phillips are very knowledgeable and deal-minded."

"The lawyers at Manatt Phelps & Phillips are well versed in the complexities of hotel matters. They are also very responsive."

Work highlights Manatt Phelps & Phillips advised Jay Paul Company on a broad range of acquisitions, financings and refinancings.

Notable practitioners

Head of the hospitality and leisure department Lynn Cadwalader is renowned for her broad transaction capabilities, which include advising on management and license agreements. Strengths: "Lynn has a thorough knowledge of the hospitality space."

Pillsbury

What the team is known for The Pillsbury group advises clients on a wide spectrum of matters, including licensing issues, management agreements and transactions. The team demonstrates its ability to provide counsel on leisure facilities, luxury hotels and casinos. The team also has strength in handling deals containing international elements.

Notable practitioners

William Bosch is an impressive litigator who represents investors and hotel owners in disputes such as those arising from mergers and joint ventures. Strengths: "He's a very sophisticated and strategic thinker." Christian Salaman's experience includes negotiating management agreements, joint ventures and M&A for nationwide hospitality entities. Strengths: "Christian is a very strong lawyer."

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose demonstrates a breadth of experience in a range of leisure and hospitality sectors, including gaming and casino developments as well as hotels and resorts. The group provides sophisticated advice to operators and REITs on contentious, commercial and real estate matters. The practitioners adeptly handle cross-border transactional work across jurisdictions in the USA, Europe and Asia.

Strengths

"Proskauer's deep bench and interdisciplinary strength are huge assets to its clients. The team has strong deal knowledge and experience."

"The firm has an excellent team – the practitioners are very thoughtful in their approach and experienced in all aspects of transactions."

"Proskauer's service is impressive, in terms of responsiveness and availability."

Work highlights Proskauer represented Accor in the sale of its remaining interests in H World Group for $460 million.

Notable practitioners

Head of the hospitality, gaming and leisure department, Jeffrey Horwitz (see p.589) acts on investments, acquisitions and development transactions. He is noted for his expertise in both national and international matters. Strengths: "Jeffrey is amazing with clients. He is motivated by solving problems and building long-term relationships." "He has great industry and commercial awareness."

Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP

What the team is known for The team at Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton is renowned for its ability to handle hotel acquisitions. The group is also adept at advising clients on a broad range of issues, such as management agreements and fund formation matters. The team has an impressive client list that is composed of developers, operators, lenders and investors. Due to the firm's strength in other areas, the leisure and hospitality practice is able to draw on expertise in the real estate and finance spaces.

Strengths

"Sheppard Mullin's practitioners are incredibly smart and responsive."

"The team provides sophisticated and practical advice."

Work highlights Sheppard Mullin represented Kennedy Lewis Investment Management in connection with the refinancing of the 2,500-room Rio Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas.

Notable practitioners

Larry Eppley's hospitality practice covers a broad range of issues, including acquisitions, real estate finance, joint ventures and more. His clients include hospitality organizations and investment managers, to name a few. Strengths: "Larry is smart, engaging and personable."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin has a notable real estate practice with a strong presence in leisure and hospitality matters across the USA, Europe and Asia. The group's expertise include conveyancing, financing, investment and joint ventures, alongside significant wider ancillary strengths in labor and employment, tax and disputes work. Its clients include hotel management companies, hedge funds and international investors, among others.

Strengths

"The team at Sidley Austin have a very strong ability to understand an issue and clearly navigate and articulate the path forward."

"Sidley's group are phenomenal. It's a great bench of practitioners and they have a team approach."

Work highlights Sidley Austin represented Provence Hotels in its recapitalization transaction with Gencom Group, to form the hospitality joint venture GenPro.

Notable practitioners

Keith Hayden Del Prete is a key contact.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden has an elite real estate offering with a wealth of expertise navigating transactions in the hospitality sector. The team acts for a wide variety of clients including REITs, investors, hotel owners and property developers. The team boasts notable capability in handling cross-border deals, particularly Europe and the Middle East.

Work highlights Skadden provided counsel to Las Vegas Sands Corp. on its pursuit of a downstate New York gaming license and proposed development of a flagship hospitality, entertainment and casino project on Long Island

Notable practitioners

Neil Rock, head of the firm's global real estate group, is a key contact.

Venable LLP

What the team is known for The Venable team offers a strong performance across a range of hospitality matters, including resort development, joint venture work, franchising and management agreements. The group has considerable experience representing prominent hotels and brands, trade associations and investors.

Strengths

"The team are very responsive and always make you feel like you're their only client."

Work highlights Venable advised Marriott International on various matters in connection with the franchise relicensing for the Rochester Airport Marriott.

Notable practitioners

Robert Bolger is a cochair of the hospitality group and is a key contact at the firm.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Cecelia Fanelli of Brewer, Attorneys & Counselors focuses her respected practice on dispute resolution for hotel owners and lenders. She also fields additional expertise in labor and employment issues and environmental matters.

Philip Gosch of Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck demonstrates considerable strength in handling complex development matters, as well as high-value acquisitions. His clients include buyers, developers and investors, among others. Strengths: "Philip is a really good lawyer."

Head of Jenner & Block's hospitality and real estate litigation department, Lindsay Harrison has substantial experience handling arbitrations and litigation concerning hotel management agreements and privacy-related issues. Strengths: "Lindsay is amazing. She has a calm demeanor and she is creative in her ability to work through challenges." "She is a one-stop shop for complex leisure and hospitality work. She's brilliant and really understands the industry."

Cynthia Brotman Nelson (see p.652) of Jackson Walker chairs the firm's hospitality industry team. Her clients include REITs, developers and owners. She acts on a range of cross-border acquisitions, financings and sales, and is particularly noted for her expertise in hospitality-related litigation. Strengths: "Cindy is a pleasure to work with. She has a wealth of real estate and hospitality knowledge and experience. Cindy is also a tactful and strategic negotiator." "She is an outstanding attorney who provides excellent legal service." "Cindy is knowledgeable, professional and responsive."

Bruce Parmley (see p.663) of Parmley Legal is a highly regarded figure in the industry for his extensive experience representing major clients in high-profile cross-border hotel and resort transactions. Strengths: "Bruce is professional and experienced. He brings with him years of knowledge and commercial awareness of the industry." "He is our first call because of his responsiveness, sophistication, commercial approach, market knowledge, history and talent."

Head of Pryor Cashman's hotel and hospitality department, Todd Soloway (see p.707) garners praise for his handling of disputes arising from franchise and hotel management agreements, among other complex mandates. Soloway is recognized for his expertise in hospitality-related litigation. Strengths: "Todd has a lot of experience in the hospitality space and he is a great litigation and disputes lawyer."

Ari Tenzer of TA PLLC represents a wide spectrum of clients, including developers and owners. He is adept at handling both domestic and international matters, such as acquisitions and sales, as well as negotiations concerning the management and operation of hotels. Strengths: "Ari is extremely knowledgeable in operations and he goes the extra mile to ensure client satisfaction." "He is always available, provides pragmatic solutions and provides an extremely high level of service." "Ari is very knowledgeable and thorough."

Life Sciences Nationwide

Life Sciences
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cooley LLP
Covington & Burling LLP
Goodwin
Latham & Watkins LLP
WilmerHale
Band 2
Ropes & Gray LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Band 3
Arnold & Porter
Fenwick
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Morrison Foerster
Band 4
Dechert LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner
Jones Day
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Mintz
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 5
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Baker McKenzie
Choate Hall & Stewart LLP
Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Rakoczy Molino Mazzochi Siwik LLP
Venable LLP
Williams & Connolly LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Arnall Golden Gregory LLP

What the team is known for Arnall Golden Gregory LLP is a respected practice with notable expertise advising life sciences companies on a broad range of regulatory matters. The firm offers significant capability in FDA approval, compliance and enforcement for clients in spaces including medical devices and pharmaceuticals.

Strengths

"AGG are always on top of the most recent regulations and precedents. They provide sound and balanced advice while also being pragmatic."

"The service levels and responsiveness are top notch."

Work highlights Arnall Golden Gregory LLP served as regulatory and transaction counsel for a Prescription Drug Company in its acquisition of a US-based drug manufacturing facility.

Notable practitioners

Life Sciences: Corporate/Commercial
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Jones Robert Cooley LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Bloom Mitchell S Goodwin
Handrinos Peter N Latham & Watkins LLP *
Hasko Judith WilmerHale *
Hurvitz John A Covington & Burling LLP *
Rubenstein Marc A Ropes & Gray LLP *
Taft Kingsley L Goodwin *
Band 2
Clark Kenneth A Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Golden Adam H Freshfields Bruckhaus (ORL) ◇ *
Gupta Divakar Cooley LLP
Kinsella Paul M Ropes & Gray LLP *
Leonard Emily I Covington & Burling LLP *
Murr Ryan A Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Rubin Asher M Sidley Austin LLP *
Band 3
Barrett Steven WilmerHale
Hope Lila Cooley LLP
Larson Cheston Latham & Watkins LLP *
McIntosh David M. Ropes & Gray LLP *
Sunberg Randall B Baker McKenzie

Alan Minsk leads the firm's FDA practice and is regularly called upon to advise new and mid-sized life sciences businesses on the compliance of their products with US regulations. Strengths: "Alan is very experienced and provides excellent regulatory legal counsel." "Alan really has his finger on the pulse at the FDA." "I appreciate the quality, timeliness and professionalism of Alan's support."

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter has a high quality team encompassing patent prosecution and regulatory compliance expertise. The firm offers a strong contentious practice for matters such as post-grant reviews and infringement allegations, and has experience representing clients on licensing deals, financing rounds and M&A, with additional expertise in defending product liability claims.

Strengths

"Arnold & Porter's deep bench of experts do an excellent job of handling complex matters. Their strategic approach enables all aspects of complex matters be covered, and brought forward in a logical way to ensure that client concerns are covered."

"The Arnold & Porter team is uniquely positioned to give thoughtful regulatory advice as well as litigation advice. They constantly produce excellent work."

Work highlights Arnold & Porter represented AstraZeneca in litigation under the Administrative Procedure Act challenging an HHS determination that AstraZeneca is required to recognize sales to pharmacies as sales under the 340B program.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Kracov is experienced at handling investigations, compliance programs and transaction due diligence for trade associations and businesses of all sizes. Jeffrey Handwerker has a

Life Sciences: IP/Patent Litigation
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Pappas George Covington & Burling LLP *
Leading Individuals
Star individuals
Lee William F WilmerHale
Band 1
Hurst James Kirkland & Ellis *
Lipsey Charles E. Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett
Band 2
Gindler David I Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP (ORL) ◇
Haile Lisa A DLA Piper LLP (US)
Holland Elizabeth A&O Shearman (ORL) ◇ *
Polizzi Catherine Morrison Foerster *
Band 3
Berl David Williams & Connolly LLP
Durie Daralyn J Morrison Foerster *
Ellison Eldora L Sterne, Kessler, Goldstein & Fox (ORL) ◇ *
Morin Michael Latham & Watkins LLP *
Rakoczy William A Rakoczy Molino Mazzochi Siwik LLP
Reines Edward R Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Weiswasser Elizabeth S Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Wolf Matthew Arnold & Porter

wide-ranging practice advising household name pharmaceutical manufacturers on regulatory and compliance issues. He offers support to clients seeking advisory opinions and defending against False Claims Act litigation. Strengths: "Jeffrey Handwerker is a very well regarded regulatory lawyer." "His support in the regulatory and government investigations space has been tremendous." Eva Temkin (see p.717) chairs the firm's FDA practice and has substantial experience in a wide range of FDA-related matters, including regulatory proceedings, transactions and complex disputes. Matthew Wolf regularly advises large pharmaceutical companies on patent prosecution and patent validity litigations.

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. has a wide-ranging and well-respected life sciences practice. The team is able to offer clients services related to IP portfolio management, patent prosecution and patent infringement litigation. The team is further able to support clients on transactional matters including venture capital and private equity financing and IP transfer and licensing agreements.

Work highlights Baker Botts L.L.P. continued to handle a wide variety of intellectual property diligence and prosecution matters for Eikon Therapeutics.

Notable practitioners

Steven Lendaris is firmwide Life Sciences Sector Chair and a key contact.

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie offers broad life sciences expertise and regularly represents major pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies in complex transactional matters. The team's experience includes licensing, financings and M&A, as well as disputes and reg-

Life Sciences: Regulatory/Compliance
Leading Firms
Band 1
Arnold & Porter
Covington & Burling LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Band 2
Arnall Golden Gregory LLP
Hyman Phelps & McNamara
King & Spalding LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Gibbs Jeffrey N. Hyman Phelps & McNamara
Kingham Richard F. Covington & Burling LLP*
Safir Peter O. Covington & Burling LLP*
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Fox David. Hogan Lovells US LLP
Labson Michael S. Covington & Burling LLP*
Band 2
Esposito Denise. Covington & Burling LLP*
Kracov Daniel. Arnold & Porter
Minsk Alan G. Arnall Golden Gregory LLP
Band 3
Bragg Jennifer. Latham & Watkins LLP*
Carver Krista Hessler. Covington & Burling LLP*
Datta Meenakshi. Sidley Austin LLP*
Handwerker Jeffrey L. Arnold & Porter
Katz Philip. Hogan Lovells US LLP
Lundy Seth H. King & Spalding LLP*
Manthei John. Latham & Watkins LLP*
Reeves Nikki. King & Spalding LLP*
Sanzo Kathleen M. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Temkin Eva. Arnold & Porter*
Wood Rebecca K. Sidley Austin LLP*
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

ulatory proceedings.

Strengths

"They're a trusted partner for us at every stage of the transaction. We know they'll get the job done and they'll do it well, they'll do it in a timely manner and they'll give us really good advice along the way that's both pragmatic and well thought out."

"Baker McKenzie's breadth is immense. They have experts with years of experience that they can bring into any kind of work."

Work highlights Baker McKenzie advised CSL Seqirus in its collaboration and license agreement with Arcturus Therapeutic to access its late stage self-amplifying mRNA vaccine platform technology.

Notable practitioners

Randall Sunberg advises an array of clients in the life sciences sector, including venture capital and private equity firms, as well as biotech, pharmaceuticals, diagnostic and medical device companies. He is highly recommended for corporate, financing and partnering transactions. Strengths: "Randy is a fantastic attorney who ensures that his clients get what they need."

Choate Hall & Stewart LLP

What the team is known for Choate Hall & Stewart LLP offers diverse life sciences experience and is frequently called upon to advise both emerging and established pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies. The team's expertise includes IP litigation and counseling as well as complex transactional matters.

Work highlights Choate Hall & Stewart LLP defended Compass Pathfinder Limited in a trade secrets misappropriation case brought by Terran Biosciences in the US District Court in Maryland.

Notable practitioners

Dr. Brenda Jarrell is a key contact.

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley LLP is particularly recommended for its counsel to emerging companies and its transactional abilities, including asset acquisitions, strategic partnership negotiations and securities offerings. The firm also offers strength assisting with contentious proceedings such as ANDA disputes and PTAB inter partes reviews as well as regulatory compliance and patent prosecution.

Strengths

"Cooley's bench is strong from top to bottom and the quality is consistent from office to office."

"The Cooley team is highly efficient and has deep experience in the life sciences space."

Work highlights Cooley LLP advised Horizon Therapeutics, a specialty biopharmaceutical company, on its agreement to be acquired by Amgen in an approximately $27.8 billion merger.

Notable practitioners

Robert Jones operates a corporate and capital markets-focused life science practice, advising businesses on a range of functions, including securities compliance and disclosure processes, and public and private financings. Strengths: "He's particularly fantastic in life sciences transactions." Divakar Gupta is highly regarded for his experience assisting life sciences companies on IPOs and other capital markets matters. Strengths: "He's very thoughtful and client- and solution-oriented." "Divakar is a very gifted, talented capital markets lawyer." Lila Hope is an established practitioner who is well equipped to support life sciences clients on a wide range of corporate mandates. She has particular strength in cross border licensing transactions.

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP is sought after for the quality of its regulatory advice on a range of issues including pharmacovigilance, good manufacturing practices and post-approval compliance. The firm is recommended for contentious patent matters including infringement, ANDA and Hatch-Waxman proceedings. It has a wealth of experience assisting with strategic partnership formations and M&A, as well as venture fund investments and spinoff formations.

Strengths

"Covington is a regulatory powerhouse."

"The Covington team is impeccable in its client service. The attorneys are thorough and innovative in thinking about complex transaction types."

"Covington is a great firm. It's a one-stop shop with broad global coverage and subject area expertise."

Work highlights Covington & Burling LLP continued to serve as outside counsel to the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA) on a range of life sciences regulatory, policy and legislative issues. This included supporting PhRMA in connection with legislation regarding drug pricing in the Inflation Reduction act.

Notable practitioners

Richard Kingham (see p.608) advises US and European biotech businesses, trade associations and pharmaceutical manufacturers on domestic and international regulatory requirements. His work typically ranges from biosimilars policy counsel to Congressional hearings and administrative investigations. Strengths: "Richard is the grandfather of FDA law." George Pappas (see p.662) is a patent litigator and trial lawyer with a client roster drawn from pharmaceuticals, medical devices and biotech as well as complementary areas such as software and electronics. Peter Safir (see p.1360) has extensive experience handling food and drug regulatory issues throughout the US, with a particular concentration on pharmaceuticals. His practice covers a variety of different types of work, including drug quality issues, market practices and life cycle management. John Hurvitz (see p.592) is skilled at advising businesses on both transactions and strategic matters such as dispute resolution, industry best practice and benchmarking, asset management and business development. Strengths: "I appreciate his level of expertise, intellectual approach and ability to capture nuances. His drafting skills are also amazing." Michael Labson (see p.1340) counsels biotech and pharmaceutical clients on their compliance and relationships with the regulatory agencies. Denise Esposito (see p.1323) draws on substantial government and in-house experience to advise life sciences businesses on matters of strategy, policy and regulatory compliance. Emily Leonard (see p.1044) advises clients on matters including licensing and technology transfers, joint ventures and strategic partnerships, as well as research and operations-related commercial agreements. Krista Hessler Carver (see p.1315) counsels pharmaceutical and biotechnology businesses on legislative and regulatory developments and procedure, including Hatch-Waxman compliance, life cycle management, digital health and orphan drugs.

Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP

What the team is known for Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP is noted for its extensive life sciences litigation practice. The team has broad and deep experience representing clients at trial and appellate level in cases concerning patent infringement, antitrust violations, reverse-payment disputes and False Claims Act issues. The team also has experience advising household-name clients on the intellectual property aspects of mergers and acquisitions.

Strengths

"The Cravath team was top notch and had subject matter expertise. They were always available, drove the process and listened to our concerns."

Work highlights Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP represented Amgen in successfully defending against a Federal Trade Commission's challenge to Amgen's $27.8 billion acquisition of Horizon Therapeutics.

Notable practitioners

Keith Hummel is a key contact.

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert is identified for its ability with regard to contentious matters including patent and antitrust litigation. Strong corporate team assists with capital markets transactions and M&A. The firm is also recommended for patent portfolio management and commercialization in the form of licensing and collaboration deals.

Work highlights Dechert advised Chiesi Farmaceutici in its definitive agreement to acquire Amryt Pharma in an all-cash transaction valued at US$1.48 billion.

Notable practitioners

Partners Andrea Reid and David Rosenthal colead Dechert's life sciences practice, and are key contacts at the firm.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper is admired for its global footprint and depth of experience providing IP portfolio counsel and assistance with post-grant reviews, defending infringement claims and advising on patentability disputes. The team is recommended for IP-led commercial and corporate transactions.

Strengths

"DLA Piper has a brilliant team with deep expertise across disciplines. They attorneys combine medical knowledge, legal expertise and regulatory knowledge."

"DLA Piper is an excellent firm with a great approach to problem-solving. The team has a great deal of breadth and depth and is extremely responsive."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP represented Taiho in several patent infringement cases related to Lonsurf, an oral combination therapy used for treating adult patients with metastatic colorectal cancer.

Notable practitioners

Lisa Haile is able to draw on extensive technical expertise in areas such as cell and molecular biology, regenerative medicine and immunology, to advise on matters ranging from venture capital due diligence to patentability and licensing. She is particularly skilled in patent prosecution and portfolio management. Strengths: "Lisa Haile is a fantastic lawyer who is very, very smart."

Fenwick

What the team is known for Fenwick has a respected practice noted for its ability to represent life sciences companies of all sizes on a broad range of matters. The firm regularly represents clients in complex IP disputes including Hatch-Waxman litigation and trademark infringement matters. It offers additional capabilities advising on transactional mandates including public offerings and M&A, as well as patent prosecution and portfolio management.

Strengths

"The Fenwick team is superb."

"I am particularly impressed by the Fenwick's team approach and ability to efficiently pull in additional resources."

Work highlights Fenwick continued to represent Novo Nordisk in Hatch-Waxman patent litigation arising from ANDAs filed with the FDA by six generics, seeking approval to market generic versions of Novo Nordisk's GLP-1 diabetes treatment, Ozempic.

Notable practitioners

Melanie Mayer, Matthew Rossiter and Stefano Quintini colead the department and are key contacts.

Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner LLP

What the team is known for Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner LLP has a team of IP specialists regularly engaged for their expertise in the management of patent portfolios including the development of protection strategies, post-grant reviews and clearances. The team is noted for its experience handling Hatch-Waxman and patent infringement litigation. It also assists with due diligence and licensing valuation with regard to transactions and the negotiation of license agreements.

Notable practitioners

Charles Lipsey maintains a long-running intellectual property litigation practice in the pharmaceuticals and biotechnology sectors. He is typically called on to represent his clients in patent arbitration, patent interference and patent infringement litigation, including at the Federal Circuit.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP is a respected firm with the ability to draw upon a sizable national footprint and significant expertise in related practice areas to advise life sciences clients on a comprehensive range of matters. The firm offers particular strength in transactional matters including M&A and financings and demonstrates further expertise in complex contentious IP proceedings.

Strengths

"The Gibson Dunn team has provided great insight into complex matters."

"The Gibson Dunn team is uniquely excellent. They are fantastic lawyers who are extremely commercial – They make my life very easy."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP advised Merck on its $1.35 billion acquisition of Imago BioSciences, a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company.

Notable practitioners

Ryan Murr (see p.649) is frequently called upon to advise on a variety of transactional life science matters, including mergers, stock purchases and commercialization agreements. His client base includes leading pharmaceutical and medical device companies. Strengths: "Ryan Murr is an incredible asset to have on your side in any negotiation. He's creative, understands how many different complex parts relate to one another and isn't afraid to make the point he needs to in order to get what his client needs."

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin is adept at handling a range of corporate matters including strategic partnerships, M&A and public and private financings. The firm is skilled at the handling of PTAB post-grant reviews, IP portfolio management, patent litigation and regulatory advice on issues such as new drug approvals and securities disclosure.

Strengths

"Goodwin has a knowledgeable team with great experience."

"The Goodwin team takes a very practical, measured and balanced approach."

"They provide a tier one level service."

Work highlights Goodwin advised Nimbus Therapeutics on its sale to Takeda of Nimbus Lakshmi, Inc and its tyrosine kinase 2 inhibitor program for $4 billion upfront and up to $2 billion in commercial-related milestone payments.

Notable practitioners

Mitchell Bloom advises emerging innovator companies, investment banks and venture capital firms worldwide on capital markets offerings, M&A and venture capital transactions. Kingsley Taft (see p.2040) advises life sciences businesses at every stage of operation and in a wide range of processes, such as strategic alliances and collaborations, venture financings and company formation.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig is known for its comprehensive life sciences offering covering both litigation and commercial matters. The team regularly represents clients across the sector including drug and medical device manufacturers. The group is well poised to offer advice relating to patent infringement cases, patent prosecution, and IP portfolio management as well as strategic collaboration agreements, Hatch-Waxman disputes and IP licensing.

Strengths

"The Greenberg Traurig team provides excellent client service. They are highly skilled, very responsive and agile."

"The GT team is super responsive and attuned to the company's needs."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented Moderna in a suit brought by Promosome asserting that Moderna's COVID-19 vaccine products infringed a patent relating to a method of mutating mRNA sequences to improve protein expression efficacy.

Notable practitioners

David Dykeman and Wayne Elowe are cochair of the practice and key contacts.

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells enjoys a strong reputation for its roster of regulatory attorneys who offer guidance on compliance, approval processes and contentious engagements with government agencies. The firm has additional expertise in pharmaceutical and medical device product liability proceedings. It also advises on business development, clinical trials, capital markets transactions and strategic partnerships.

Work highlights Hogan Lovells worked with Novartis to secure new chemical entity exclusivity for their product Entresto.

Notable practitioners

David Fox is well versed in FDA review procedures for new products and Hatch-Waxman compliance issues. He offers further experience in related intellectual property matters and product life cycle management. Strengths: “David has a really unique understanding of the FDA.” Philip Katz is a seasoned guide for startups and public companies in the biotech and pharmaceuticals industries, frequently assisting clients in the navigation of FDA and other regulatory frameworks. He is well versed in Hatch-Waxman, orphan drug and biosimilars issues and is adept at representing clients in court and before various regulators.

Hyman Phelps & McNamara

What the team is known for Hyman Phelps & McNamara is a highly respected boutique practice in the life sciences regulatory space. The team is able to assist clients across the full range of FDA-related mandates.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Gibbs advises pharmacies and businesses in the medical devices and diagnostics sectors on FDA regulation, from product approval to marketing.

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day is recognized for its skilled representation of pharmaceutical companies, providing assistance with joint ventures, asset acquisitions and public securities offerings. The firm has expertise in FDA regulation, such as rules regarding advertising and promotional materials. The firm is also much sought after for patent prosecution, patent litigation and PTAB procedures.

Strengths

“Jones Day has a deep bench with impressive institutional knowledge in the space. They are strategic, creative thinkers with an ability to handle volume.”

“The Jones Day team is experienced, strategic, responsive, approachable and easy to work with.”

Work highlights Jones Day prevailed in a jury trial on behalf of Celgene Corporation against Humana, a health insurance company who sought damages from Celgene for off-label prescriptions of Celgene’s medications Thalomid and Revlimid.

Notable practitioners

Alexis Gilroy, Heather O’Shea and Cristiana Spon-toni are key contacts.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP is a well-regarded practice capable of acting for clients on a wide array of regulatory matters. The firm is noted for its expertise on FDA approvals, Congressional investigations and pricing issues. Clients include pharmaceutical and medical device companies of all sizes.

Strengths

“King & Spalding has deep expertise and a broad bench of subject matter experts. They excel at handling complex matters that span legal and regulatory issues.”

“The King & Spalding team provides excellent guidance on complex matters with a very business-oriented and pragmatic approach.”

Work highlights King & Spalding LLP assisted Vericel Corporation in obtaining FDA approval of the Company’s biologics license application for NexoBrid.

Notable practitioners

Seth Lundy (see p.1343) typically handles investigations and other regulatory procedures for innovators in the sector. He represents a broad range of clients from sectors including pharmaceuticals and healthcare. Nikki Reeves (see p.1356) regularly counsels pharmaceutical manufacturers and industry groups on regulatory compliance with the FDA and state authorities.

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is a well-regarded practice recognized for the strength of its representations in high value M&A. The firm is recommended for its ability to handle high-stakes litigation including trade secret misappropriation, patent infringement and alleged misleading marketing claims cases. The team is also distinguished for assisting with regulatory compliance and proceedings issued by government agencies.

Strengths

“Kirkland & Ellis LLP is supremely capable and can handle the most complex and sophisticated matters.”

“Kirkland has a deep bench with a handful of deeply, uniquely talented individuals.”

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis LLP represented Glenmark Pharmaceuticals in antitrust multidistrict litigation challenging a patent litigation settlement between Merck and Glenmark related to the prescription drug Zetia, a cholesterol medication.

Notable practitioners

James Hurst (see p.592) has extensive experience in litigating life sciences disputes, even up to the US Supreme Court, and includes matters relating to trade secrets and patents, antitrust and product liability, contracts and criminal cases.

Strengths: “Jim Hurst is best trial lawyer I have ever seen stand up in a courtroom. He is smart, practical and aggressive.” “He has an uncanny ability to simplify really complex commercial and patent matters and present them with clarity. No one is better in front of a jury.” “Jim is the best trial lawyer I have worked with, period. He can handle any kind of case.”

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP offers a high-end corporate practice recognized for its expert capital markets team as well as its handling of complex M&A, collaboration and licensing deals. The firm also provides skillful counsel on regulatory compliance to pharmaceutical and medical device companies on a range of matters including new product approvals and marketing materials. It has a substantial contentious arm for white-collar investigations and patent litigation.

Strengths

“The Latham & Watkins team is second to none. The attorneys have extremely strong technical expertise and are able to apply it to bespoke situations.”

“The Latham team demonstrates technical expertise and outstanding client management skills.”

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP advised Prometheus Biosciences, a clinical-stage biotechnology company, in its $10.8 billion sale to Merck.

Notable practitioners

Peter Handrinos (see p.577) is noted for his representation of investment banks and public companies in life sciences-related capital markets transactions and securities-related matters.

Strengths: “Peter is tremendously responsive and has vast breadth of experience.”

Jennifer Bragg (see p.1311) offers significant experience handling complex, high-stakes FDA enforcement matters. She regularly advises clients on internal and external investigations and conducts due diligence for major pharmaceutical companies.

Cheston Larson (see p.1042) advises biotech and other life sciences companies through all stages of their life cycle. His practice focuses on corporate and financing transactions. His work covers venture financing, IPOs, and M&A transactions.

John Manthei (see p.1344) advises pharmaceuticals, biotechnology and medical device companies on all manner of FDA and other regulatory procedures governing the life sciences sector. His expertise includes the negotiation of clinical trial agreements, pre-market product development and the regulation of marketing materials. Strengths: “John always gives us the right guidance and has helped us through some really thorny issues. He’s such an expert at FDA regulations.” Michael Morin (see p.1348) is known for his extensive representations of large pharmaceutical companies in connection to patent and copyright infringement matters. Strengths: “Mike is truly an exceptional trial lawyer. He’s one of the best cross examiners I have seen and has a great rapport with the judges. He’s someone you can trust in bet-the-company litigation.”

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery is a well-known practice advising on a range of transactions, including mergers, licensing deals, collaboration agreements and private financings for early-stage companies. The firm is also noted for representation in contentious patent proceedings and advice on product compliance and marketing regulation.

Strengths

“I’ve been incredibly impressed by the McDermott team. The attorneys are extremely hard-working and form a great team.”

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery LLP represented United Therapeutics in its patent infringement suit against Liquidia Technologies, a late-stage clinical biopharmaceutical company.

Notable practitioners

Vernessa Pollard, Doug Carsten and William Gaede are key contacts.

Mintz

What the team is known for Mintz has an extensive practice advising companies on a wealth of transactional matters in the life sciences sector. The team at Mintz is well equipped to provide support and guidance relating to M&A, private equity financings, initial public offerings, collaboration and licensing agreements, business combinations and SPAC deals.

Strengths

"Mintz has expertise in all the areas a biotech company needs."

Work highlights Mintz served represented F-star Therapeutics, a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company pioneering bispecific antibodies in immunotherapy, in its $161 million acquisition via tender offer by invoX Pharma, a wholly-owned UK subsidiary of Sino Biopharmaceutical.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Kravetz, William Whelan and Lewis Geffen are coauthors of the life sciences practice and key contacts.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP is a formidable team of experienced practitioners providing effective counsel on cross-border licensing and collaboration agreements, capital markets transactions and M&A deals. The firm is noted for patent litigation such as Hatch-Waxman and infringement proceedings. It also advises on FDA compliance and product approval.

Work highlights Morgan Lewis & Brockius LLP represented Merck in its exclusive license and collaboration agreement with Kelun-Biotech.

Notable practitioners

Kathleen Sanzo has broad experience assisting clients through FDA regulatory approval and compliance issues. She leads the firm's FDA and healthcare group and coauthors the life sciences practice.

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster is known for its excellent management of patent portfolios including prosecution and commercialization. The firm has experienced litigators for contentious proceedings such as patent invalidation actions and infringement claims as well as product liability litigation. Other areas of capability include private financing transactions and M&A.

Strengths

"The Morrison Foerster team consistently demonstrates expertise and a strategic approach."

"The Morrison Foerster attorneys are very strong legally and exceptional on the technical side as well."

"The Morrison Foerster team is successful, thoughtful, diligent and well regarded in the market. They are very good at what they do and add a lot of value to our portfolio."

Work highlights Morrison Foerster continued to serve as patent counsel to Eureka Therapeutics, a clinical-stage biotechnology company focused on developing novel cancer T-cell therapies to treat cancers.

Notable practitioners

Catherine Polizzi (see p.1061) maintains a broad practice in the field of intellectual property which encompasses freedom to operate assessments, portfolio management and patent applications, as well as diligence in high value acquisitions.

Strengths: "Catherine is a star. She leads the team and is the reason our portfolio is as strong as it is."

She's capable, strong and a good partner from a business perspective." Catherine Polizzi is a real leader. She's exceptionally experienced, strong and knowledgeable. She is very client focused and delivers exceptional work product." Daralyn Durie (see p.545) is frequently called upon by leading life sciences companies to litigate major patent disputes. Strengths: "Daralyn is a terrific lawyer who communicates really well with judges and juries."

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings offers deep experience advising life sciences companies on all manner of complex intellectual property matters. The group houses significant litigation prowess, including in high-stakes patent infringement disputes and Hatch-Waxman matters. The firm has notable additional expertise in FDA regulatory and enforcement matters.

Notable practitioners

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP

What the team is known for Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP boasts a strong team of litigators able to assist firms on patent interference, Hatch-Waxman and product liability cases.

Work highlights Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP obtained a complete victory on behalf of Natera, a market-leading molecular diagnostics company, invalidating three Stanford University patents licensed to and asserted by CareDx, a developer of commercial tests for kidney transplant rejections.

Notable practitioners

Victoria Maroulis, F. Dominic Cerrito, David Bilsker and Raymond N. Nimrod are key contacts.

Rakoczy Molino Mazzochi Siwik LLP

What the team is known for Rakoczy Molino Mazzochi Siwik LLP has a highly regarded Chicago-based life sciences practice. The team is known for its deep litigation experience assisting clients with patent validity, Hatch-Waxman, and IP infringement disputes. The team is further able to support clients on commercial matters including patent licensing and collaboration agreements.

Strengths

"The Rakoczy Molino team is very detail oriented and strategic, and can handle anything we throw at them."

"The lawyers are solid, nimble, respond quickly to complex questions and are very technically savvy."

Work highlights Rakoczy Molino Mazzochi Siwik LLP represented Sandoz in patent litigation brought by Astellas in the District of Delaware.

Notable practitioners

William Rakoczy is a respected patent litigator with noted expertise advising life sciences companies in complex disputes. He frequently appears before both district and federal courts. Strengths: "Bill's wealth of experience is hard to find." "Bill is one of the most articulate and well-spoken lawyers around. He can take complicated issues and put them into language that is easily understood."

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray LLP is reputed for high end M&A, capital markets transactions and complex licensing and collaboration deals. The team is well equipped to assist with matters at the intersection of FDA product labeling rules and the First Amendment, contentious regulatory proceedings and patent disputes.

Strengths

"I can't sing Ropes & Gray's praises highly enough – the firm is absolutely excellent. The team is attentive and can meet tough timelines while being very detail-oriented."

"The Ropes & Gray team brings considerable experience to the table."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray represented Pfizer in an $11.6 billion agreement to acquire Biohaven Pharmaceuticals, the maker of Nurtec ODT, an innovative dual-acting migraine therapy.

Notable practitioners

Marc Rubenstein (see p.2037) is considered one of the nation's leading experts on complex strategic licensing and collaborative research arrangements. He coauthors the firm's life sciences and healthcare practice. Paul Kinsella (see p.2023) has extensive experience representing life sciences companies in capital markets transactions and M&A. David McIntosh (see p.2029) advises investors, businesses and research institutions on IP-driven transactions such as M&A, joint ventures, collaborations and licensing arrangements of all kinds.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP provides valued counsel on a range of regulatory issues including FDA clearance, promotional materials and good manufacturing practices. The firm offers a powerful litigation service for biotech, pharmaceuticals and medical device patent disputes and patent office proceedings. The team is also known for its work on corporate matters including M&A, securities offerings and joint ventures.

Strengths

"The Sidley team is able to provide clear and practical advice on highly complex matters."

"The attorneys have the depth of knowledge to successfully lead key transactions, and the bandwidth to meet all of our needs across practices areas."

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP advised Cencora on all aspects of the regulatory due diligence for the successful $1.29 billion transformational acquisition of PharmaLex, a life sciences regulatory consulting company.

Notable practitioners

Asher Rubin (see p.685) concentrates on IP-driven transactions undertaken on behalf of public and private corporations, private equity and venture capital funds and medical research institutions.

Strengths: "Asher has strong command of the subject matter and very good business acumen."

Meenakshi Datta (see p.1717) provides regulatory and compliance advisory services to clients in the life sciences space. She coauthors Sidley's global healthcare practice. Strengths: "Meena provides really sharp legal analysis and consistently excellent work." "Meena is a real standout – She's incredibly responsive and very practical." Rebecca

Wood (see p.1374) coheads the firm's food, drug and medical device group and draws upon her impressive experience serving in high level FDA positions to advise clients on complex regulatory issues, both contentious and noncontentious.

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable houses broad IP expertise and notable experience acting for major life sciences companies. The firm's capabilities encompass complex patent infringement and Hatch-Waxman disputes as well as noncontentious patent counseling and portfolio management.

Work highlights Venable LLP represented Bausch & Lomb in a patent infringement suit in the US District Court for the District of Delaware. The complaint against SBH alleges infringement on a patented nutritional supplement, PreserVision AREDS, and AREDS 2 Formula products.

Notable practitioners

Dominick Conde and Justin Pierce are key contacts.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP offers notable expertise representing major life sciences clients in complex contentious IP matters including IPR and appellate proceedings. The firm draws upon its substantial nationwide footprint and supplementary capability in complementary areas such as antitrust, M&A and capital markets to provide comprehensive counsel.

Work highlights Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP continued to represent Regeneron Pharmaceuticals in its long-running battle with Novartis over EYLEA, Regeneron's novel biologic to treat macular degeneration and other serious eye diseases.

Notable practitioners

Edward Reines (see p.1063) is cohead of the firm's patent litigation and life sciences practice and is noted for his work representing life sciences companies in contentious IP matters, both at trial and appeal. He regularly appears before both district and federal courts. Strengths: "Ed is a super lawyer, a great communicator and a brilliant orator." As cohead of the firm's patent litigation and life sciences practice, Elizabeth Weiswasser (see p.733) is frequently called upon to handle complex patent disputes on behalf of leading life sciences companies. She is well versed in a variety of contentious matters and regularly appears before the PTAB, ITC and district courts. Strengths: "An accomplished life sciences litigator." "I can't say enough about Liz in terms of how strategic and thoughtful she is."

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP has a robust life sciences litigation practice. The team regularly represents major biomedical and medical device manufacturers in reverse payments, antitrust and patent protection litigation. The firm also represents clients on M&A and capital markets transactions.

Strengths

Work highlights White & Case LLP represented Vertex Pharmaceuticals in two patent litigations brought under the Hatch-Waxman Act against Sun Pharmaceutical Industries and Lupin Limited and Lupin Pharmaceuticals, alleging that Sun's and Lupin's proposed generic versions of Vertex's KALYDECO (ivacaftor) tablet, infringe one of Vertex's patents.

Notable practitioners

DC-based Peter Carney is a key contact for the practice.

Williams & Connolly LLP

What the team is known for Williams & Connolly LLP houses a dedicated team of litigation specialists uniquely positioned to represent clients in a range of complex patent litigation matters. The firm frequently handles disputes for major pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies.

Strengths

"I've been beyond impressed with the Williams & Connolly team's ability to handle complex and multi-faceted litigation."

Work highlights Williams & Connolly LLP represented Pfizer in patent infringement litigation filed by Enanta Pharmaceuticals related to Pfizer's blockbuster COVID-19 treatment, Paxlovid.

Notable practitioners

David Berl of Williams & Connolly LLP cochairs the firm's patent litigation practice. He is a distinguished litigator with impressive experience handling high-stakes patent trials on behalf of major life sciences companies.

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale is a powerhouse for complex contentious proceedings, handling ANDA, Hatch-Waxman, infringement, biosimilars disputes and post-grant proceedings. The firm also offers formidable strength in the corporate space, advising on private financings, IPOs, strategic partnerships and M&A deals. The group houses additional expertise in regulatory compliance, product life cycle management and due diligence for licensing transactions.

Strengths

"The WilmerHale team has good subject matter understanding and excellent lawyers."

"The diversity of the Wilmer team's experience has provided important insights and helped us navigate complexity."

"The group has been consistently terrific. They have consistently provided reliable and excellent client service in support of transactions."

Work highlights WilmerHale secured a victory for Gilead Sciences against the US Government in a patent infringement trial relating to HIV-prevention drugs.

Notable practitioners

William Lee has an exceptionally impressive track record in the representation of technology and life sciences organizations in high profile intellectual property trials and appeals. He offers substantial experience in matters relating to pharmaceuticals, medical devices and genetic engineering.

Strengths: "Bill Lee is an icon in the field." Judith Hasko (see p.1029) is held in high regard for her work advising life sciences clients on the negotiation of licensing and collaboration agreements, financings and M&A transactions. She acts for an impressive range of leading companies in fields including pharmaceuticals and medical devices. Steven Barrett cochairs the technology transactions and licensing practice group at WilmerHale. He is frequently called upon to advise life sciences companies on transactional matters including licensing, collaboration and M&A.

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati is highlighted for its strong West Coast presence and prowess with regard to patent litigation and prosecution. The firm is acclaimed for experience advising on IP-led M&A and strategic collaborations, and is frequently engaged by early-stage companies to assist with stock offerings.

Strengths

"The Wilson Sonsini team has impressive experience and an ability to handle complex matters while creatively problem solving."

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati advised biopharmaceutical company DICE Therapeutics in an acquisition by Eli Lilly for a purchase price of approximately $2.4 billion.

Notable practitioners

Kenneth Clark advises biotechnology businesses on the full span of corporate transactional processes, such as partnerships and strategic alliances, financings and spinouts, and mergers and acquisitions.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Eldora Ellison (see p.1322) of Sterne, Kessler, Goldstein & Fox PLLC has impressive experience handling IPRs and post-grant review proceedings on behalf of major life sciences companies. She cochairs the firm's PTAB group.

David Gindler offers extensive experience in litigation and intellectual property licensing matters, with clients including emerging businesses, established corporations and nonprofits.

Strengths: "If there's a bet-the-company matter, you want David in charge. He's a brilliant legal strategist and brilliant writer."

Adam Golden (see p.569) offers substantial experience representing businesses ranging in size from startups to worldwide corporations in high value transactions. He regularly advises on matters including strategic collaboration and licensing agreements. Strengths: "Adam is an industry expert and it is always reassuring to have him as part of the team." "Adam Golden is fantastic—he's very clear, methodical and assured."

Elizabeth Holland (see p.586) is a highly experienced intellectual property litigator particularly sought after for Hatch-Waxman and patent infringement disputes.

Litigation Trial Lawyers Nationwide

Litigation: Trial Lawyers
Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Keker John Keker, Van Nest & Peters LLP
Beck Philip Bartlit Beck LLP	Sullivan Jr. Brendan V. Williams & Connolly LLP
Davis Varner Chilton King & Spalding LLP*	Eminent Practitioners
Jeffress Jr William H Baker Botts LLP*	Boies David Boies Schiller Flexner LLP
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Snyder Orin Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Cohen Lori G Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Van Nest Robert Keker, Van Nest & Peters LLP
Houston John C Houston Hennigan LLP	Williams Bart H Proskauer Rose LLP*
Ismail Tarek Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum	Band 2
Lanier W Mark The Lanier Law Firm	Adams Robert Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Sullivan Diane P Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP*	Asbill Henry W Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Webb Dan K Winston & Strawn LLP*	Beck David J Beck Redden LLP*
Weingarten Reid Stephoe LLP	Brown Allison Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom*
Wells Jr Theodore V Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton*	Bueno Kim Butler Snow LLP*
Wilkinson Beth A Wilkinson Stekloff LLP*	Butswinkas Dane H Williams & Connolly LLP
Band 1	Carlinsky Michael Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan
Berke Barry H Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP*	Connolly Thomas HWG LLP
Brian Brad Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP*	Cook Shayna Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum
Brock Robert C Kirkland & Ellis LLP*	Desmarais John M Desmarais LLP*
Carmody Bill Susman Godfrey LLP	González Arturo J Morrison Foerster*
Chu Morgan Irell & Manella LLP	Kaba Moez Houston Hennigan LLP*
Dunn Karen L Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison*	Lauro John Lauro & Singer*
Gibbs Robin C Gibbs & Bruns LLP*	Lee William F WilmerHale
Hardin Rusty Rusty Hardin & Associates	Levine Janet Kendall Brill & Kelly LLP
Hecker Sean Kaplan Hecker & Fink LLP*	Levine Seth Levine Lee LLP
Hermle Lynne C Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Mainigi Enu A Williams & Connolly LLP
Hubbard Heidi K Williams & Connolly LLP	Markus David Markus/Moss
Hurst James Kirkland & Ellis*	Marriott David R Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP*
Keller Jennifer L Keller/Anderle LLP*	Martin Craig C Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP*
Kennedy Tracey A Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton	McCool Steven McCool Law PLLC*
Lombardi George C Winston & Strawn LLP*	Molo Steven F MoloLamken LLP
Mastro Randy King & Spalding LLP*	Pruitt Lyn P DLA Piper LLP (US)
Melzheimer Tom Winston & Strawn LLP*	Quinn John B Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
Menchel Matthew I Kobre & Kim	Renfroe Tracie King & Spalding LLP*
Petrocelli Daniel O'Melveny & Myers LLP	Ross David Ross Aronstam & Moritz LLP
Schachter Michael Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP*	Strassberg Richard M Goodwin*
Schmidt Paul W Covington & Burling LLP*	Walsh Alexandra Walsh Law
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Ranked Lawyers

Robert Adams is a partner at Shook, Hardy & Bacon and represents clients in a range of mass torts, product liability claims and insurance disputes in courts across the United States. He is based in Kansas City, Missouri. Strengths: "He has excellent judgment and he's a very well respected and well thought of lawyer with clients, judges and opposing counsel." "Robert Adams is a great trial attorney."

Henry Asbill is highly regarded as one of the country's foremost trial lawyers for white-collar criminal cases and defends clients facing charges of healthcare fraud, tax law violations and public corruption. He is a partner at Orrick and splits his time between offices in DC and New York. Strengths: "Henry is a great trial lawyer."

Beck Redden cofounder David Beck (see p.3202) is considered a standout courtroom advocate and possesses extensive experience trying a broad array of commercial cases, including energy and intellectual property disputes, and wider class actions. He is based in Houston. Strengths: "David is one of the most remarkable trial lawyers. A Texas trial legend."

Philip Beck is a distinguished courtroom lawyer who represents both plaintiffs and defendants in product liability trials and commercial disputes. He is cofounder of Bartlit Beck and is based in the firm's Chicago office. Strengths: "He is your trial gun on the front line in high-stakes litigation."

Barry Berke (see p.2535) chairs the litigation department at Kramer Levin and has a wealth of experience defending clients subject to criminal charges for corruption, insider trading and fraud, among others. He is based in New York. Strengths: "Barry Berke at Kramer Levin maintains his position as one of America's preeminent trial lawyers and criminal defense masterminds."

Boies Schiller Flexner chairman David Boies maintains his reputation as a leading light in the market for his remarkable track record in the full gamut of civil and criminal trials across the country. He works out of the firm's Armonk and New York offices.

Chair of Munger, Tolles & Olson, Brad Brian (see p.1004) is a heavyweight litigator for the full range of commercial and criminal trials. He has experience trying torts, professional malpractice, insurance and criminal antitrust cases, among many others. He is based in San Francisco. Strengths: "He is exceptional, he's just exquisite in the courtroom." "Brad is strategic, dynamic and smart."

Robert Brock (see p.513) has a wealth of experience trying large scale product liability cases and mass torts on behalf of pharmaceutical, medical device and technology companies. He is based in Kirkland & Ellis's Washington, DC office. Strengths: "Robert is a star and a fantastic trial lawyer."

Allison Brown (see p.514) is highly regarded for her leadership in major product liability and toxic tort trials, particularly those concerning pharmaceuticals and medical devices. She is a partner in Skadden's New York office. Strengths: "She's a real talent and highly sought after in the marketplace." "Allison just has a great demeanor. She connects well with jurors and her cross examination style is very effective."

Austin-based Kim Bueno (see p.3205) is an experienced trial lawyer who is particularly highly sought after for her strength in product liability litigation, with considerable expertise handling pharmaceutical and medical device cases. Strengths: "Kim is second to none. She performs very well in a number of different jurisdictions. She's amazing at trial and a pleasure to work with." "She is extraordinarily strong, a great trial lawyer."

Dane Butswinkas is a partner at Williams & Connolly and is widely considered one of Washington, DC's leading commercial litigators. He has experience representing major pharmaceutical companies, financial institutions and clients in the technology industry. Strengths: "Dane is a truly first-rate thinker who provides terrific client service. He's an amazing trial lawyer." "He really cuts to the heart of what needs to get done. He is tremendously powerful, incredibly strategic and hyper focused, and great to watch."

Michael Carlinsky has deep experience acting for clients in trials relating to complex commercial and insurance disputes. Based in New York, he is global head of complex litigation at Quinn Emanuel. Strengths: "Mike Carlinsky is an incredibly strong litigation strategist. He gives fantastic advice and is very practical." "Michael is a real standout. He's a brilliant, extraordinarily capable advocate and one of the top trial lawyers in the country."

Bill Carmody maintains an impressive trial practice and offers a wealth of experience acting for big name clients in shareholder actions, commercial disputes and antitrust litigation, among other matters. He is based in the New York office of Susman Godfrey. Strengths: "Bill continues to be one of the titans of the Bar. He is a complete comfort in court and has a keen strategic sense of how to get to a positive outcome." "He's got a very nice demeanor in the courtroom."

Morgan Chu is lauded as one of the country's foremost intellectual property trial lawyers, with extensive experience appearing in circuit courts and the US Supreme Court. He is based in Los Angeles and chairs Irell & Manella's litigation group. Strengths: "He is great on his feet. A legend." "Morgan can distill complex issues and situations into basic principles and simple concepts to provide rock-solid advice. I have never seen a more effective lead trial counsel than him."

Cochair of Greenberg Traurig's global litigation practice, Lori Cohen is a widely renowned litigator who is particularly adept at handling large scale product liability actions, often defending major pharmaceutical and medical device clients. She acts out of the firm's Atlanta office. Strengths: "Lori is one of the best trial lawyers in the product liability space." "She's preeminent within the pharmaceutical and medical device fields."

Thomas Connolly has a broad white-collar criminal defense practice, representing both corporates and individuals in court. He is based in the Washington, DC office of HWG.

Shayna Cook is a partner in Goldman Ismail's Chicago office and has an impressive track record in high-stakes trials and multidistrict litigation in the area of product liability. She has particular expertise in claims concerning pharmaceuticals and medical devices as well as handling toxic torts cases. Strengths: "She has great jury presentation skills, excellent knowledge of the record, her client service is terrific and she's good at translating complex material to court imagery."

Chilton Davis Varner (see p.538) has decades of experience handling some of the country's largest product liability cases taken to trial. She has represented some of the country's largest pharmaceutical and medical device companies. She is based in the Atlanta office of King & Spalding. Founding partner of Desmarais LLP, John Desmarais (see p.2558) is renowned for his trial work in the intellectual property space. He is based in New York and has a wealth of experience representing high profile clients in major disputes across the country. Strengths: "John has an excellent ability to run a courtroom."

Karen Dunn (see p.1321) has attained a formidable reputation for her pedigree in trial work, having acted for an impressive array of major corporations and boards of directors in their most challenging courtroom matters. She is based in the Washington, DC office of Paul, Weiss. Strengths: "Karen is one of the most impressive people I've come across in my career. Her skill as a trial lawyer is matched by her humanity and ethics."

Gibbs & Bruns founder Robin Gibbs (see p.3225) draws praise for his distinguished and varied career in trials. He regularly represents major energy companies in complex commercial disputes. He is based in Houston. Strengths: "Robin is one of the best lawyers I have ever worked with. He is a great orator, briefer and writer. The more we can get him involved, the happier we are."

Arturo González (see p.1026) is highly sought after by clients in the technology sector. He has considerable expertise across a range of commercial disputes, including trade secrets and intellectual property. He is based in the San Francisco office of Morrison Foerster. Strengths: "Arturo is at his best storytelling in front of the jury."

Rusty Hardin is an impressive performer in a whole host of civil and criminal matters, with substantial experience representing both individuals and corporates at trial. He is based in Houston.

Strengths: "Many consider Rusty to be the best trial lawyer in America. He is someone you want on your team." "He is the best trial lawyer. Rusty has tried 1,000 cases and won 900 of them. If you are an American trial lawyer and don't know Rusty Hardin, then you should just quit."

Sean Hecker (see p.581) has a wealth of trial experience, representing corporate clients facing white-collar criminal charges. He is based in the New York office of Kaplan Hecker & Fink. Strengths: "Sean is an incredible trial lawyer. He's just an absolute superstar in every way." "He's excellent and a likeable person for a jury. He does a lot of very impressive criminal defense work which is very hard to win, and he does."

Lynne Hermle has remarkable expertise handling a variety of complex employment cases at trial, including cases involving allegations of gender discrimination and unfair dismissal. She operates out of Orrick's office in Silicon Valley. Strengths: "Lynne is a leader in her field. Her judgment is outstanding, she is an amazing oral advocate and her advice is spot on." "She is my number one for any employment litigation that's going to be sticky. Lynne is a master strategist and an exceptional trial lawyer. She really digs in, is always really well prepared and is so experienced."

Heidi Hubbard is regularly called upon to try significant product liability and mass tort cases for pharmaceutical companies and medical device manufacturers. She is based in Washington, DC and cochairs Williams & Connolly's products liability, torts and medicine practice group. Strengths: "Heidi is a phenomenal trial presence, she's exceptional in court. She has warmth and empathy but is also incredibly logical, deliberate and thoughtful."

John Hueston comes highly recommended for his expert trial capabilities, which see him handle high-stakes civil and criminal claims for an impressive nationwide client base. His experience includes both trial and appellate proceedings arising from major environmental and commercial disputes, among others. He is founding partner of Hueston Hennigan and is based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "He's a brilliant trial lawyer and a great tactician who you can rely on for your most significant matters."

"John is one of the top trial lawyers in the country." "John is tried and tested, he's got a steel-trap mind and is incredibly quick in analyzing cases and scenarios. His mind is several steps ahead of other people. He is a gifted trial lawyer."

James Hurst (see p.592) is widely revered as a stellar trial lawyer for complex patent cases, regularly acting on behalf of clients in the life sciences space. He is based in the Chicago office of Kirkland & Ellis. Strengths: "James is a very talented lawyer, highly regarded by clients. He's a great trial lawyer and looks out for his colleagues which is admirable."

Tarek Ismail has a superlative reputation for handling some of the country's largest and most complex product liability trials, particularly in the pharmaceutical and medical devices spaces. He is cofounder of Goldman Ismail and is based in the firm's Chicago office. Strengths: "Tarek is a renowned trial lawyer who has fantastic trial instincts. He is smart and clear, and he explains things very well." "He is one of our top trial lawyers. We have complete trust in him. He has a lot of integrity, he knows the law around the case and he has terrific client service skills."

William Jeffress (see p.1334) has deep and varied experience acting on behalf of clients in jury and bench trials across the United States. He is particularly adept at defending corporates and individuals in white-collar cases involving fraud and corruption and is also able to handle the full range of commercial disputes. He is based in Baker Botts' Washington, DC office.

Moez Kaba (see p.1035) has a strong track record in complex commercial disputes on behalf of major names in the pharmaceutical, technology and accounting sectors, among others. His far-reaching experience includes high-stakes trials concerning trademark infringement and trade secret theft. Strengths: "Moez has outstanding instincts and is excellent on his feet. He can do a blistering cross examination." "Moez's trial skills are paramount; he presents well to clients and in the courtroom." "Moez is an incredibly strong trial lawyer and effective cross-examiner."

Keker, Van Nest & Peters cofounder John Keker has an incredible reputation for his courtroom advocacy, able to draw on years of experience handling the most complex criminal and commercial cases. He is based in San Francisco.

Keller/Anderle founding partner Jennifer Keller (see p.1036) boasts an excellent reputation for her work in commercial disputes, including cases involving IP infringements, fraud and breach of contract. She is based in Orange County. Strengths: "Jennifer is an articulate and very good communicator with juries."

Tracey Kennedy is an impressive performer in a wide array of labor and employment-related disputes, with a strong track record handling sensitive high-stakes cases at trial. She is a partner at Sheppard Mullin and based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "She is an exceptional trial attorney. She is often able to pull the rabbit out of the hat on employment trials. She is highly trusted for her skills." "She is super polished and sophisticated. She is a great advocate in court and has a great team." "She is an outstanding and fearless trial lawyer."

The Lanier Law Firm founder Mark Lanier is hugely well reputed for his handling of major plaintiff-side product liability cases on behalf of large classes seeking damages. He is based in Houston. Strengths: "He understands, knows and loves people, and knows how to preach to them in a way that moves them and makes them make decisions on a case." "He is a talented trial lawyer, he's well prepared and his cross-examinations are stellar."

John Lauro (see p.1480) is a renowned trial lawyer with a wealth of experience handling complex, high profile white-collar cases. His expertise covers a wide range of areas including healthcare and securities and conspiracy. He splits his time between Lauro & Singer's Tampa and New York offices.

William Lee is widely regarded as a leader in intellectual property and patents disputes with an enviable track record acting in major trials and appeals on behalf of leading technology sector clients. He is based in WilmerHale's Boston office.

Strengths: "He is truly extraordinary. Stylistically, he's incredibly relatable, you automatically trust everything he says to you. He's fantastic." "He's an outstanding lawyer who is able to communicate with juries in a way many others can't and to explain really complicated things in a way that's simple."

Janet Levine is an impressive performer in a wide range of white-collar criminal matters and is regularly sought after to represent clients in high-stakes trials, alongside her considerable strengths in investigations. She is a partner at Kendall, Brill & Kelly and based in Los Angeles.

Strengths: "Janet brings her formidable trial talent to bear on each case and she's highly effective. I've seen her do written and oral advocacy and its top tier."

New York-based Seth Levine is an acclaimed trial lawyer who specializes in complex white-collar criminal work, with experience handling cases involving allegations of securities fraud and anti-trust violations. Strengths: "Seth has a knack for trail-blazing legal arguments, he has incredible relationships with all the judges. He is a force of nature and has total and absolute dedication to his clients." "He is a tremendous strategist and an effective communicator." "He is a relentless advocate."

George Lombardi (see p.1741) acts for pharmaceutical and healthcare clients in complex patent and other intellectual property disputes. He cochairs Winston & Strawn's litigation department. Strengths: "George is an outstanding trial lawyer. He's very smooth on his feet, knowledgeable and credible." "He's a phenomenal trial lawyer, he tries all kinds of cases. He's brilliant, very likeable and able to translate complex concepts in a persuasive manner to jurors."

Enu Mainigi is renowned for her representation of clients in the healthcare, pharmaceutical and financial services sectors in complex trials. She is particularly noted for her considerable strength in False Claims Act litigation alongside further capabilities in a wide array of commercial disputes. Strengths: "Enu does everything. She resolves cases and is very client focused." "Enu's client service and excellent trial skills stand out."

Florida-based Markus/Moss founder David Markus is widely recognized for his white-collar criminal defense and appellate experience. He has particular expertise in cases involving allegations of fraud. Strengths: "David Markus is incredible. He is successful on high profile cases and is a team player."

New York-based David Marriott (see p.2616) is a go-to trial attorney for matters relating to antitrust disputes, with further skill in handling IP, securities and general commercial litigation. Strengths: "David is really prepared and polished in the courtroom. He is a smart, confident, standout trial lawyer." "He is an exceptional and talented lawyer. David is a real trial expert."

Craig Martin (see p.1743) is a partner at Willkie Farr & Gallagher and has a breadth of trial expertise spanning a broad array of commercial, intellectual property and ERISA disputes. He is based in Chicago. Strengths: "He is a terrific lawyer who is able to distill complex concepts from complicated legal issues. He is also a terrific trial lawyer."

Randy Mastro (see p.2617) has an outstanding trial practice, which sees him act for clients in state and federal courts in commercial disputes. He operates out of King & Spalding's New York office. Strengths: "Randy is a fabulous litigator and a tremendous gentleman." "He's a smart, seasoned, experienced trial lawyer."

Steven McCool (see p.1345) is the founder of McCool Law and is well regarded for his expert handling of criminal cases, involving issues such as bank and securities fraud, money laundering and FCPA violations. He is based in Washington, DC. Strengths: "Steve is a very accomplished and seasoned trial lawyer."

Tom Melsheimer (see p.640) is a highly accomplished trial lawyer who regularly handles civil and criminal trials for major players in the pharmaceutical and healthcare spaces. He is managing partner of Winston & Strawn's Dallas office. Strengths: "He is truly stellar in the courtroom." "Tom is a national powerhouse. He is a tremendous lawyer." "He is an outstanding trial lawyer."

Matthew Menchel is a renowned white-collar litigator at Kobre & Kim, known for trying many of the country's most high profile criminal cases. He is based in Miami. Strengths: "Matthew is an extremely effective advocate and clients feel comfortable with him."

Steven Molo is an impressive performer in trials on behalf of both plaintiffs and defendants arising from complex commercial disputes and high-stakes securities actions. He has additional strengths in white-collar criminal cases. He is based in New York and is the cofounder of Molo-Lamken. Strengths: "He is extraordinarily skilled and charismatic. He is a master strategist in terms of marshalling evidence and putting it together in ways the jury can understand it."

Daniel Petrocelli acts on behalf of household-name clients in the media and entertainment sectors in high profile and high-stakes trials as well as handling a broad range of civil disputes. He chairs the trial practice at O'Melveny & Myers and operates out of the firm's Century City office. Strengths: "He is the hardest working and most comprehensive thinking lawyer I have had the pleasure working with. A rock star in every measure of the term." "Dan is an extremely impressive litigator and team leader. He is thoughtful, intelligent and strategically focused." "Daniel is a great trial lawyer, he has terrific judgment."

Lyn Pruitt is a leading figure in the product liability space, with experience defending pharmaceutical and medical device clients in high-stakes trials across the country. She is a partner in DLA Piper's Dallas office. Strengths: "Lynn is fantastic. Her authenticity, charm and brain power make her a phenomenal advocate."

Quinn Emanuel founding partner John Quinn is a heavyweight litigator with decades of experience trying high-stakes cases across the US. He handles the full range of commercial cases, including intellectual property and antitrust cases. He is based in Los Angeles.

Tracie Renfro (see p.3262) acts for clients in the energy, manufacturing and pharmaceutical sectors and is noted for her considerable expertise in environmental and product liability litigation. She is managing partner of King & Spalding's Houston office. Strengths: "Tracie is great on deposing and cross-examining experts in trial and deposition. She has a great knowledge of the facts and is also great at preparing for trial."

David Ross is an accomplished Delaware trial lawyer, with substantial experience handling high-stakes litigation concerning transactions, shareholder actions and breach of fiduciary duty allegations. He is based in Wilmington and is the founding partner of Ross Aronstam & Moritz. Strengths: "David has a good presence in court. He's very comfortable, knows the law and I think I can say with certainty has more trial experience than any others." "David is maybe the best litigator in Delaware. He has outstanding substantive knowledge and judgment."

As cochair of Willkie Farr & Gallagher's white-collar defense practice, Michael Schachter (see p.2652) offers considerable expertise representing clients in complex trials and investigations brought by government agencies. He is based in New York. Strengths: "Mike is a very talented lawyer. He's good in the courtroom and very good at examinations. He's been very successful at getting involved in significant cases." "Mike is a master strategist, a phenomenal trial lawyer and a creative legal thinker." "Mike is a fabulous trial lawyer with incredible strategic instincts. He is a great oral advocate and an excellent lawyer."

Paul Schmidt (see p.692) has a distinguished reputation for representing clients in a range of product liability trials, regularly defending major pharmaceutical companies. He works out of Covington & Burling's New York and DC offices. Strengths: "Paul is a great advocate, he's impressive on his feet."

Orin Snyder (see p.2663) represents household names in the media and technology sectors in complex commercial disputes. He cochairs the global trial practice group at Gibson Dunn and is based in New York. Strengths: "Orin is a very aggressive and capable litigator who fights hard and knows his way around commercial litigation and the courtroom." "He's a superb trial lawyer who does an incredible job in choosing the right narrative to frame the defendant's response to the plaintiff's claim. He is a maestro in the courtroom."

Richard Strassberg (see p.2667) advocates on behalf of major corporates and individuals in the full range of white-collar criminal trials. He is based in New York and heads Goodwin's white-collar practice. Strengths: "He has great trial experience, which he incorporates into his strategy. He always has his eye on the ball and will be thinking everything through from every angle." "He does extraordinarily good work in the courtroom on complex white-collar matters."

Diane Sullivan (see p.713) is renowned for her trial work, with particular expertise defending large medical device and pharmaceutical companies in major product liability trials, including high-stakes mass torts. She is based in the New York office at Weil. Strengths: "Diane continues to try high-stakes cases around the country and achieves enormous success for her clients." "Diane is an effective lawyer."

Brendan Sullivan is considered one of the luminaries of the white-collar space. He has experience trying high-stakes criminal cases across the country. He is based in the DC office of Williams & Connolly.

Robert Van Nest is renowned for his representation of technology companies facing intellectual property and commercial disputes. He is based in the San Francisco office of Kecker, Van Nest & Peters. Strengths: "He is extraordinary. He tries big cases and he's just really good at what he does." "He has a good courtroom presence."

Alexandra Walsh has an impressive breadth and depth of trial experience, with capabilities handling product liability, securities and criminal-related disputes in trial and appellate courts. She is based in Washington, DC and is the founder of Walsh Law.

Winston & Strawn's Dan Webb (see p.1766) is a first rate trial lawyer who represents clients in high-stakes antitrust, product liability and other commercial and criminal cases. He is based in Chicago. Strengths:

"Dan is the best trial lawyer in America." "Dan Webb is world class."

Reid Weingarten is a partner at Steptoe & Johnson and maintains an outstanding reputation representing both corporate and individual clients facing high-stakes white-collar criminal charges. He is based in Washington, DC. Strengths: "Reid is stellar. He is one of the great trial attorneys in the country."

Theodore Wells (see p.2677) receives universal acclaim as one of the country's premier trial lawyers. He represents the full gamut of corporate clients in high profile commercial and criminal trials. Based in New York, he cochairs the litigation practice in Paul, Weiss. Strengths: "Ted's amazing. He's a fabulous trial lawyer. He is well prepared, runs a great team and is really impressive in the courtroom." "He's a phenomenal trial lawyer. He has the ability to command a room, whether in a court, board or meeting room."

Wilkinson Stekloff founding partner Beth Wilkinson (see p.734) receives praise from both clients and peers for her supreme advocacy in large scale product liability and commercial disputes. She is based in Washington, DC. Strengths: "Beth Wilkinson connects to the jury and the judge."

She presents a very fresh perspective and is highly strategic." "She is a prominent litigator and a very high profile person. She has a super understanding of what moves judges." "Beth's skill set is beyond comprehension. She is just a brilliant trial lawyer and holds the jury in the palm of her hands. She is the best I have ever seen."

Chair of Proskauer Rose's litigation department, Bart Williams (see p.1085) handles complex multidistrict commercial and criminal litigation for clients from a range of industry sectors, including pharmaceutical and technology companies. He is based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "He's incredibly calm under pressure and knows when to be aggressive in cross-examinations. He just has a way of making juries want to listen to him." "Whenever you want a case to be won, you give it to Bart Williams. I can't say enough good things about him."

Mediators Nationwide

Mediators
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Berman Lee Jay The Mediation Offices of Lee Jay Berman
Dobbs C Edward Parker, Hudson, Rainer & Dobbs LLP
Fairbank Robert Fairbank ADR*
Feinberg Kenneth The Law Offices of Kenneth Feinberg
Geronemus David JAMS
Green Eric D Resolutions LLC
Kichaven Jeff Jeff Kichaven*
Marks Jonathan Marks ADR, LLC
Meisinger (Ret.) Lou Signature Resolution
Meyer Robert A JAMS
Philbin Jr Donald R Donald R Philbin Jr PC-Independent
Phillips Layn R. Phillips ADR Enterprises, P.C.
Piazza Antonio Mediated Negotiations
Weinstein Daniel H JAMS
Welsh Diane JAMS
Young Michael JAMS
Band 2
Abrams Hesha Hesha Abrams Mediation, LLC
Belen Ariel JAMS
Black Robert MehaffyWeber
Brodsky David M Brodsky ADR
Cahill William JAMS
DiLeo Anthony M Anthony M DiLeo, A Professional
Friedman Bruce A JAMS
Galton Eric Lakeside Mediation Center
Gandhi Jay JAMS*
Gibbs Kenneth C JAMS
Holzberg Robert Pullman & Comley, LLC
Hughes III Hunter R Hunter Hughes, Esq.-Alternative
Ichel David W X-Dispute LLC
Isserles Marc JAMS*
Max Rodney Upchurch, Watson, White & Max
McGowan Gary McGowan ADR
Melnick Jed JAMS*
Nadolna Andrew JAMS*
Noll Douglas Noll Associates
Nolland Christopher Offices of Christopher Nolland
Oliver-Parrott Alice Alice Oliver-Parrott, P.C.
Reeves Barbara JAMS
Reperowitz Deborah Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young
Rothman Deborah Deborah Rothman, Esq.
Rudy Mark Rudy, Exelrod, Zieff & Lowe, LLP
Sherrill John A John Sherrill Resolution
Symchych Janice M JAMS*
Westerfield Rebecca JAMS
Winters Brad JAMS
Wulff Randall W. Wulff, Quinby & Sochynsky
Yanni Cathy JAMS
Yoshida Michelle Phillips ADR Enterprises, P.C.
Zimmerman Alvin Zimmerman, Axelrad, Meyer, Stern
<small>* Indicates individual with profile.</small>
<small>Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.</small>

Ranked Lawyers

Hesha Abrams is noted for her strong mediation practice assisting and counseling clients seeking to settle complex intellectual property disputes, securities class actions and other commercial cases. She is based in Dallas.

Ariel Belen is highly regarded for his adept handling of a wide range of domestic and international disputes and possesses considerable experience mediating complex contractual matters, among others. He is based in New York. Strengths: "He is my go-to mediator. He understands the issues on a deep level and has a fantastic demeanor. He is calm, patient and sophisticated."

Lee Jay Berman is a highly esteemed mediator who focuses his practice on facilitating settlements in complex multiparty disputes arising out of commercial litigation, construction defects and employment claims. He is based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "Lee Jay is very personable, outgoing, persuasive and knowledgeable about mediation techniques. He keeps up with the literature and developments."

Texas-based Robert Black is particularly adept at handling mediations in the personal injury, product liability and medical negligence areas. Strengths: "He is smart, hardworking, tenacious and dedicated." "Bob's exceptional service and responsiveness are unparalleled. He is exceptional at handling complex mediations." "Mr. Black is my go-to mediator for both large and small cases. He has an excellent track record at resolving cases and a stellar reputation in the legal community."

New York-based David Brodsky is a go-to mediator for clients in complex business disputes, with experience spanning M&A, intellectual property and insurance-related matters.

Based in San Francisco, William Cahill has a wide and varied mediation practice, and is frequently sought out to resolve securities, breach of contract and insurance disputes, among others. Strengths: "Judge Cahill understands the business of law very well." "He is a very quick study."

New Orleans-based Anthony DiLeo is a well-known mediator who resolves a broad variety of disputes for clients, including healthcare issues, fraud and breach of contract claims, among others. Strengths: "Tony is the complete package. He is brilliant, diplomatic, persuasive and responsive. He understands the concerns of his business clients."

Edward Dobbs is a go-to mediator for large-scale business contract disputes, bankruptcy-related cases and product liability claims. He is based in Atlanta. Strengths: "Ed is organized, responsive and as sharp as they come. His understanding of the issues as a mediator may often surpass the parties' own grasp of them." "Ed is a very talented mediator. He would be my first choice in the future to mediate complex, very adversarial cases." "I have a very high regard for his mediation skills, particularly in multiparty complex cases. He's very thorough and well prepped."

Based in Los Angeles, Robert Fairbank (see p.550) is a go-to mediator for parties across the country. He has experience resolving complex disputes, including class actions, across a range of fields of law, including energy and mass torts. Strengths: "Robert Fairbank is one of the best. He is thoughtful, he distills the issues, and he is incredibly kind throughout the process." "Bob takes on and settles the toughest cases. He never gives up and helps clients fully understand and appreciate the strengths and weaknesses in their cases." "His thorough analysis of the underlying facts, procedural history and substantive legal issues gives him great credibility."

Washington, DC-based Kenneth Feinberg maintains a strong reputation for settling a variety of disputes, most notably high-profile mass torts. Strengths: "What Ken does is amazing. He's very good at getting people to agree on an amount of money to settle and how to allocate who gets what." Bruce Friedman draws on his litigation background to adeptly mediate complex insurance-related disputes, with further expertise in commercial and employment matters. He is based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "Bruce has an excellent understanding of insurance law and is effective at reaching resolutions in such cases." "He has a keen eye for the strength and weaknesses of each side's case and is relentless and creative in pursuing settlement opportunities." "He is extremely knowledgeable on insurance issues and very easy to work with."

Eric Galton has a broad mediation practice and assists parties locked in disputes concerning negligence claims, employment disputes and deceptive trade practices, among other areas. He is based in Austin. Strengths: "Eric is one of the pioneers of innovation. He has built a wonderful presence in Austin and has been a leading force."

Based in Los Angeles, Jay Gandhi (see p.562) is sought after for his expert ability to resolve complex, high-stakes cases. He specializes in mediating class actions among a wide range of commercial disputes. Strengths: "He employs sophisticated strategies to bring the parties to resolution and is very attuned to businesses' economic realities. His client service level is also exceptional." New York-based David Geronemus boasts extensive mediation experience and is able to assist clients in a range of insurance disputes, securities class actions and breach of contract cases. Strengths: "David Geronemus is my go-to mediator for complex disputes. He rolls up his sleeves and gets it done. Exemplary in every respect." "David is an extremely capable mediator. He will typically address the merits of the dispute at length in order to sensitize all participants to the risks of not settling."

Kenneth Gibbs ably assists clients in resolving significant disputes, with particular expertise in construction and insurance-related matters. He is based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "Ken is always very informed of the issues in dispute and comes up with creative solutions to the problems facing the clients."

Based in Massachusetts, Eric Green is an eminent mediator whose practice covers all manner of commercial and finance-related lawsuits, including securities, antitrust and product liability disputes, among others. Strengths: "Eric has been involved in some of the biggest cases in the country and he has a good track record." "Eric has a very nice, inclusive way of dealing with everybody."

Robert Holzberg possesses a wealth of expertise in complex commercial and mass tort cases, with experience mediating and arbitrating a wide range of disputes. He is based in Hartford, CT.

Strengths:

"Judge Holzberg is a mediation savant." "He forms a strong bond with the attorneys and is persistent and unwavering in his commitment to achieving an accepted resolution." "He is comfortable in any setting and good at putting clients and counsel at ease. He's creative in his approach, committed to resolution and regularly follows up."

Atlanta-based Hunter Hughes is a widely known mediator who has notable strength in helping clients reach a mutually acceptable conclusion across a myriad of employment, securities and commercial disputes.

David Ichel draws on his previous experience as a litigation partner to mediate a range of commercial disputes, including for international clients. He is based in Miami. Strengths: "David is tireless in his preparation for mediation conferences. His experience litigating myriad disputes allows him to present cogent and credible assessments." "He is my go-to mediator for complex commercial disputes." "David is an amazing mediator. He's energetic, sharp and committed."

Based in New York, Marc Isserles (see p.594) is experienced in mediating a range of complex commercial matters, with particular expertise in high-profile entertainment industry disputes.

Strengths: "Marc is the smartest person in the room. He easily grasps the most complicated issues and will work tirelessly to help the parties reach resolution."

Jeff Kichaven (see p.606) has a widely known and respected mediation practice and regularly assists parties in coming to a settlement in complex commercial disputes, including multiparty and class action claims. He is based in Los Angeles. Strengths: "Jeff is highly skilled and knowledgeable." "He is very sophisticated and he's excellent on insurance issues." "He is one of the most professional neutrals in the USA."

Bethesda-based Jonathan Marks regularly mediates high-stakes commercial cases and has helped settle contractual and insurance claims, as well as large class actions and malpractice claims. South Florida-based Rodney Max has a wealth of expertise in acting as a neutral party in a variety of cases. He has experience assisting with matters concerning breach of contract and insurance as well as personal injury, wrongful death and mass torts.

Gary McGowan is widely regarded for settling high-stakes disputes. He possesses experience mediating energy, securities and intellectual property cases, among others. He is based in Houston. Strengths: "People trust him to make the final call and think very highly of him."

California-based Lou Meisinger excels in the mediation of complex class action and other multiparty cases, with experience handling major environmental and insurance-related matters.

Jed Melnick (see p.640) offers mediation services in a range of commercial matters, with particular expertise in securities class actions and financial disputes. He is based in New York. Strengths: "Jed has established himself as one of the preeminent mediators for large, complex disputes. He is smart, diligent and a pleasure to work with." "Jed is a standout star. He is creative, collaborative, thoughtful and never gives up."

Robert Meyer's distinguished Los Angeles-based mediation practice encompasses a broad variety of high-stakes commercial litigation including intellectual property, environment disputes and securities class actions. Strengths: "Robert Meyer is my first choice for a mediator and we frequently recommend him." "He is an exceptional problem solver."

Andrew Nadolna (see p.650) is a New York-based mediator with experience settling a range of business disputes. He has particular strength in handling complex insurance matters, benefiting from his considerable in-house expertise. Strengths: "Andrew brings a unique and unmatched level of experience and expertise to insurance coverage claims and litigation. He's a tireless and devoted mediator." "He looks for creative ways to resolve matters yet doesn't neglect to address the substance of the legal issues presented."

Douglas Noll is widely respected for his deep mediation experience, with a history of bringing a whole range of different high-stakes disputes to settlement. He is based in Clovis, California.

Christopher Nolland acts as mediator in a range of commercial disputes, including bankruptcy and trade secrets cases, among others. He is based in Dallas. Strengths: "Chris is a wonderful mediator and also serves as settlement counsel to help parties resolve disputes. He comes with high praise."

Houston-based Alice Oliver-Parrott is noted for her robust mediation offering. She possesses considerable experience resolving disputes in areas such as torts, personal injuries and contract issues, among others. Strengths: "Alice has a sterling reputation in this space."

Based in San Antonio, Donald Philbin is a thought leader among mediators, providing expert commercial mediation services for those facing energy, construction and other business disputes. Strengths: "I think Donald is a unique, highly talented and experienced, one-of-a-kind mediator." "He is a unique professional and the most qualified mediator I've ever worked with. Clients from across Texas seek him out for his special skill set and outstanding value." "Don is our go-to mediator for complex commercial litigation."

Based in Corona del Mar, Layn Phillips uses his vast mediation experience to bring parties to agreement in a wide variety of different disputes, including employment claims, securities cases and antitrust class actions. Strengths: "He can look at a case wearing his Judge hat and it gives him a unique viewpoint. He is also very practical."

Antonio Piazza is deftly able to bring a whole array of commercial disputes to settlement. He is based in San Francisco. Strengths: "He has an excellent reputation. If you have a case you really need to settle, people recommend Tony."

Los Angeles-based Barbara Reeves is regularly called upon to settle litigation between entities in the media, technology and healthcare spaces.

Deborah Reperowitz brings her considerable litigation expertise to bear in mediating complex business disputes. She is based in New York and cochairs the bankruptcy, workouts and creditors' rights group at Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young. Strengths: "Deborah handles complex and sophisticated mediation with the utmost skill, preparation and effectiveness." "She has served as a mediator in several complex litigation matters and assisted the parties in navigating difficult and in some cases esoteric issues, with creativity, patience and sophistication."

Based in Los Angeles, Deborah Rothman facilitates mediations between parties in a broad variety of commercial disputes, such as employment, insurance and real estate cases, among others. Strengths: "Deborah is a bright intellect. She is very well thought of."

San Francisco-based Mark Rudy has a wealth of experience assisting clients with significant employment disputes and class actions. Strengths: "Mark is a leading employment mediator in California and beyond. He is talented and enormously well liked."

Based in Atlanta, John Sherrill is highly regarded for his extensive experience mediating cases across a broad range of areas, including construction, real estate, product liability and entertainment. Strengths: "John is an outstanding lawyer. He has a wonderful presence and a great background and temperament." "He is a class act, a good resolver of disputes. He's practical and gets it done."

Janice Symchych (see p.714) offers mediation services for a range of complex multiparty disputes, particularly those centered on the False Claims Act. She is based in Minneapolis. Strengths: "She is doggedly persistent and gets results, even where prior efforts at mediation have failed. She is also very efficient with her time and cost-effective." "Judge Symchych is very skilled as a mediator. It is unusual in such a specialized industry to work with someone as knowledgeable as her."

Daniel Weinstein is particularly adept at resolving class actions, often concerning complex real estate or antitrust issues, as well as shareholder disputes. He is based in San Francisco. Strengths: "Judge Weinstein works relentlessly to try to resolve cases."

Philadelphia-based Diane Welsh specializes in mediating multiparty disputes spanning commercial, employment, mass torts and insurance. Strengths: "Judge Welsh is simply the best mediator I have worked with for many years. Smart, thoughtful, creative and tireless. She is an absolute pleasure to work with." "I think very highly of her. She is always prepared and very balanced and is highly effective in bringing the parties to an agreement." "Judge Welsh has a very good demeanor in bringing people to a consensus. She is one of the best around. She's experienced, smart, savvy and practical."

Rebecca Westerfield is called upon to mediate a range of complex disputes, including cases involving personal liability, employment and fraudulent financial conduct issues. She is based in San Francisco. Strengths: "Judge Westerfield is very strong and hardworking." "I trust her judgment and she is particularly attuned to the dynamics in a negotiation."

Based in Clayton, Missouri, Brad Winters offers mediation services for a multitude of issues, from single-plaintiff personal injury matters to multiparty commercial disputes. Strengths: "Brad has been an excellent mediator in numerous complex and difficult class actions for many years. He works efficiently and tirelessly to obtain appropriate results.” “Brad is able to settle complex matters where others have failed. He is dedicated and fair.” Over the course of his extensive career Randall Wulff has successfully mediated a whole host of commercial claims, intellectual property disputes and construction cases. He is based in Napa, CA. San Francisco-based Cathy Yanni handles high-profile national disputes and often mediates pharmaceutical mass torts and employment litigation. She has further experience in settling ERISA, bankruptcy, and privacy and data breach disputes. Strengths: “Cathy brings order to the most complex settlement scenarios.”

Michelle Yoshida has experience settling a variety of disputes, including financial and commercial lawsuits. She is based in Corona del Mar, CA. Strengths: “Michelle is very competent and capable.”

New York-based Michael Young focuses on mediating a range of finance-related cases for clients and helps to settle disputes involving securities, antitrust and insurance coverage issues. Strengths: “Michael is excellent. He brings common sense and commercial acumen to resolving disputes and is well prepared for each mediation session.”

Alvin Zimmerman helps parties reach a settlement in commercial disputes, as well as mass torts and employment cases, among others. He is based in Houston.

Mining & Metals Nationwide

Mining & Metals	Mining & Metals
Leading Firms	Leading Individuals
Band 1	Band 1
A&O Shearman	Estes John E. Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP	Galvis Sergio J. Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP	Koenigsnecht John J. Crowell & Moring LLP
Band 2	Lewis Jeffrey S. Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP*
Crowell & Moring LLP	Urda Kassis Cynthia A&O Shearman
DLA Piper LLP (US)	Wright Oliver DLA Piper LLP (US)
Dorsey & Whitney LLP	Band 2
Milbank LLP	Anderson Kimberley R. Dorsey & Whitney LLP
White & Case LLP	Benson Joel Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP
Band 3	Borisoff Alexander Milbank LLP*
Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP	de la Hoz Fernando White & Case LLP
Parsons Behle & Latimer PC	Doerksen Christopher Dorsey & Whitney LLP
Perkins Coie LLP	Fjelstad Eric B. Perkins Coie LLP*
Stoel Rives LLP	Goodenow Rew R. Parsons Behle & Latimer PC
* Indicates individual with profile.	Monroe Ramona Stoel Rives LLP*
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.	Parker Wells Dorsey & Whitney LLP
Band 1	Stone David S. Crowell & Moring LLP
A&O Shearman	Up-and-coming individuals
What the team is known for A&O Shearman has an experienced practice group with strong capabilities in domestic and international mining and metals transactions. Clients include major mining companies, multinationals, private equity funds and other lenders. Offers significant capabilities in Central Asia and African markets. On 1 May 2024, Allen & Overy and Shearman & Sterling merged to form A&O Shearman.	Kent Benjamin Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*

A&O Shearman

What the team is known for A&O Shearman has an experienced practice group with strong capabilities in domestic and international mining and metals transactions. Clients include major mining companies, multinationals, private equity funds and other lenders. Offers significant capabilities in Central Asia and African markets. On 1 May 2024, Allen & Overy and Shearman & Sterling merged to form A&O Shearman.

Strengths

“The firm has a very strong and skilled team.”

“The team has very good knowledge of mining and the market standards.”

“The firm is very good across the board. Its advice is very well calculated.”

Work highlights The firm advised Nevada Copper in its development and financing activities related to the Pumpkin Hollow project in Nevada.

Notable practitioners

Cynthia Urda Kassis has vast experience in the mining and energy industries and expertly handles large transactions for her clients. Strengths: “Cynthia is very good for strategic advice.”

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP has a distinguished team acting for an enviable roster of global mining and metals companies. Excels in complex M&A, joint ventures and other strategic alliances. Also a go-to practice for high profile securities offerings and other sophisticated financing transactions. Noted for its work both domestically and abroad, with particular knowledge of South American markets.

Strengths

“Cleary’s team is really good – I have never seen a lawyer there that is not brilliant.”

“Cleary is a go-to firm for complex, cross-border matters.”

“Cleary is top notch. Its attorneys are fast, thorough and also bring a level of practicality to matters.”

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb advised Vale in the sale of a 10% minority stake in its base metals business.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Lewis (see p.622) routinely handles complex acquisitions and joint ventures for his mining clients. He offers strength in both domestic and international transactions. Strengths: “Jeffrey is a comprehensive thinker with a smooth and sophisticated delivery. He is a calming presence when situations get complex and chaotic.” “Jeffrey is very experienced. He cuts to the heart of what we are trying to accomplish.” “He has a great depth of experience and broad commercial acumen.”

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP offers a well-regarded mining practice that assists clients with cross-border mergers and financings. Additional capital markets and restructuring capabilities support its comprehensive industry practice.

Strengths

“The quality of the Sullivan & Cromwell team is top notch from top to bottom.”

“Sullivan & Cromwell’s team has an understanding of the intricacies of difficult matters.”

“Sullivan & Cromwell has a very capable and knowledgeable team.”

Notable practitioners

John Estes (see p.548) has a wealth of experience acting for mining clients in domestic and international transactions, including debt and equity and acquisition financings. Strengths: “John is key to our strategy and he is extremely knowledgeable.” “He’s an extremely good lawyer.”

Sergio Galvis (see p.562) is regularly sought out by mining clients for his expert handling of complex financings, including cross-border transactions. Strengths: “Sergio suggests very smart or sophisticated solutions and he gives very effective advice.” “He’s an outstanding lawyer.” “He’s a great lawyer and a great leader.” Benjamin Kent (see p.605) is an up-and-coming partner held in high regard by a client base of prominent mining companies. He routinely assists in major financing matters. Strengths: “Benjamin is not only knowledgeable but proactive in approaching matters.” “He always reacts quickly with intelligent opinions and advice.” “He is always responsive, thoughtful, commercial and highly intelligent.”

Band 2

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring LLP have strength across a range of matters in the mining and metals space. The team have a depth of expertise in capital market transactions and are equally well equipped to handle acquisitions in the sector.

Notable practitioners

John Koenigsknecht provides expert representation of his mining company clients in a range of capital markets transactions. Strengths: “John is reachable, pragmatic and attentive.” “He is extremely responsive.” David Stone is routinely called upon to handle complex transactions in the mining space. Strengths: “David is extremely communicative and commercial.” “He is very knowledgeable. He also has a lot of expertise and is easy to work with.”

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper leans on its international network of offices to support clients with mining operations throughout the world. US-based practitioners routinely lead corporate compliance, financing and project development matters, alongside supporting colleagues handling matters across the globe. The team specializes in advising on matters concerning critical minerals, including providing support on federal funding initiatives.

Strengths

“The team is great to work with.”

Work highlights DLA Piper represented Atlas Lithium Corporation on SEC reporting and compliance matters.

Notable practitioners

Oliver Wright focuses his practice representing clients in the mining and metals space. His is experienced across a range of transactions including M&A, capital markets and project financing. Strengths: “Oliver is very client-focused.” “He has a depth of experience in the space.” “Oliver is extremely commercial.”

Dorsey & Whitney LLP

What the team is known for Dorsey & Whitney LLP has a highly regarded practice with experience assisting domestic and international mining and metals clients. Particularly noted for representation of Canadian clients dealing with US market issues. Offers expertise in joint ventures, land transactions and regulatory compliance as well as natural resources development and financings.

Strengths

“Dorsey & Whitney’s team is knowledgeable about the industry and the issues.”

“The Dorsey & Whitney team is always on the ball and able to provide practical advice.”

Work highlights Dorsey & Whitney represented Energy Fuels in the sale of its Alta Mesa ISR uranium mining project to enCore Energy.

Notable practitioners

Kimberley Anderson frequently acts on cross-border acquisitions and financing transactions in the mining and metals space. She is particularly adept in representing Canadian clients.

Strengths: “Kimberley is very knowledgeable and very responsive.” “She is an excellent technical and practical attorney.”

Christopher Doerksen is frequently called upon by Canadian-based mining companies for his expert handling of acquisitions and capital market transactions in the US.

Strengths: “Christopher is very knowledgeable and extremely attentive.” Wells Parker is head of the firm’s energy and natural resources industry group and is highly skilled across a range of transactions in the mining space, including joint ventures, sales and financing matters. Strengths: “Wells is an outstanding attorney.” “Wells is very helpful and diligent.”

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank is a strong firm with a sophisticated mining and metals practice, particularly in the financing space. The team regularly advises lenders and ECAs on complex financing packages and leverages their environmental expertise to adeptly represent clients in connection with mining and metal projects.

Notable practitioners

Alexander Borisoff (see p.510) demonstrates particular strength in acting as lenders counsel in major mining and metals project financing transactions. He has considerable experience of handling issues containing cross-border elements.

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP is well versed in representing domestic and international clients in the mining and metal industry across a spectrum of matters. The team expertly handles M&A, financing, restructuring and private equity matters, as well as assisting clients with complex cross-border disputes. The firm is particularly noted for its expertise in the Americas, EMEA and APAC regions.

Strengths

“White & Cases provides excellent coordination across multiple teams and legal jurisdictions.”

“White & Case houses a tremendous range of expertise. The team is also very accessible and responsive.”

“White & Case provides outstanding legal and strategic advice. The deep experience of the team results in a high level of agility and quick but thoughtful advice.”

Notable practitioners

Fernando de la Hoz has considerable experience handling transactions in the space, including M&A and project financings. He is notably adept at handling matters with cross-border elements, particularly those involving Latin America. Strengths: “Fernando provides excellent counsel.”

Band 3

Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP

What the team is known for Davis Graham & Stubbs is a Colorado-based firm notable for its ample experience in transactions and operational issues in the mining sector, particularly when matters concern federal lands. The firm routinely handles mergers and acquisitions between mining companies, both domestically and across borders. The team is equally comfortable handling financing and mineral lease issues. Wider support is provided by the firm’s litigation partners who are experienced in industry related issues.

Strengths

“Davis Graham is a very good firm.”

Notable practitioners

Joel Benson has a diverse mining practice, advising clients on financings, M&A and joint venture matters. Strengths: “Joel is an awesome lawyer, he is really smart.”

Parsons Behle & Latimer PC

What the team is known for Parsons Behle & Latimer is a popular choice among clients. The firm offers a broad set of capabilities, ranging from corporate transactions, mineral rights and regulatory and commercial litigation. The team boasts notable experience of handling M&A and joint ventures.

Notable practitioners

Rew Goodenow is equally comfortable leading commercial litigation and transactional matters on behalf of his mining and metals clients. He is experienced in handling M&A and a broad set of governance mandates. Strengths: “Rew is an excellent advisor.”

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie operates an impressive mining practice with a client base active in the extraction of base, precious and critical minerals. The team routinely handles regulatory and permitting issues alongside a broad range of litigation around operations and environmental issues. The firm offers additional experience in financing and asset acquisition deals.

Notable practitioners

Eric Fjelstad (see p.788) heads the Alaska natural resources group. He handles compliance, permitting and commercial matters on behalf of significant mining operations in the US. Strengths: “Eric is very experienced.”

Stoel Rives LLP

What the team is known for Stoel Rives is well respected for its full-service mining practice. The firm boast a team with a broad swathe of experience in operational and transactional issues including permitting, mineral rights, land issues and project financing. The team is particularly active on behalf of clients with operations in Alaska and Idaho.

Notable practitioners

Ramona Monroe (see p.789) is relied upon by many of Alaska's most prominent mineral companies for her broad mining expertise. She is experienced in handling transactional matters alongside associated compliance and due diligence issues. Strengths: “Ramona's knowledge of the mining industry makes her an incredible asset.” “She is a fantastic mining lawyer.”

Native American Law Nationwide

Native American Law
Leading Firms
Band 1
Akin
Dentons
Drummond Woodsum
Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker LLP
Kanji & Katzen PLLC
Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson & Perry, LLP
Band 2
Dorsey & Whitney LLP
Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Jenner & Block LLP
Robins Kaplan LLP
Band 3
Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP
Conner & Winters, LLP
Dykema Gossett PLLC
Hogen Adams
Holland & Hart LLP
Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP
Lewis Roca
Lippes Mathias LLP
Miller Nash LLP
Powers Pyles Sutter & Verville PC
Quarles & Brady LLP
WilmerHale

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Akin

What the team is known for Akin has extensive experience handling contentious and noncontentious gaming matters on behalf of Native American tribes. Akin offers expertise in litigation relating to treaty rights, water rights and tribal sovereignty. The team is highly regarded for experience in public policy, finance and tribal energy policy. Akin also assists tribes with healthcare and employment matters.

Strengths

“Akin has great expertise and is very good at determining how to handle tricky issues.”

Work highlights Akin represented the Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians with respect to the acquisition of access to an increased water supply in order to support development on tribally owned land.

Notable practitioners

Donald Pongrace (see p.671) is well regarded for his lobbying experience and is particularly active on matters involving water and land rights. Strengths: “Donald is very effective for his client and is very knowledgeable.” Katie Brossy (see p.514) represents tribes in legislative and policy matters at state and federal levels, and advises on a range of issues including gaming, water rights and land purchases. Strengths: “Katie is great to work with and has a very personal way of dealing with clients.” “Katie tries to get work done in an expeditious way and is able to get communications back to us to help our understanding.” Jason Travis Hauter is commended for his expertise in Native American law. He regularly represents tribes in water rights, gaming and environmental regulatory matters. Strengths: “Jason is excellent all-around. He is responsive, engaged, pragmatic, well-prepared and very collaborative.” “Jason's work is very special in the area of tribal water law and he's a preeminent name in that space.”

Appleby Law PLLC

What the team is known for Appleby Law is home to an experienced practice offering regulatory and transactional advice in relation to Indian law. It covers a full spectrum of matters including real estate and land issues, financing transactions and business development. The group represents businesses and corporations which are counterparties with tribes and tribal businesses.

Strengths

“The depth and breadth of Appleby Law's knowledge is outstanding.”

Notable practitioners

Managing partner Nancy Appleby assists corporations with a variety of complex real estate and land use matters involving Native American law, as well as advising on commercial financings. Strengths: “Nancy is a specialist in the Bureau of Indian Affairs and navigates through the nuances of Native American law very well.”

Barnhouse Keegan Solimon & West LLP

What the team is known for Barnhouse Keegan Solimon & West is a prominent boutique Native American practice providing high quality advice to tribal entities. It is regularly sought out for its expertise in water rights, land use, gaming and employment issues. The firm offers additional experience advising on commercial and real estate transactions.

Notable practitioners

Kelli Keegan is managing partner at the firm.

Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP

What the team is known for Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck LLP has extensive experience in representing tribes, water districts and cor-

Native American Law
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Locklear Arlinda Law Office of Arlinda Locklear (ORL) ◇
Chambers Reid Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson	Sansonetti Thomas L. Holland & Hart LLP
Gips Robert Drummond Woodsum
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Streitz Mary Dorsey & Whitney LLP
Kanji Riyaz Kanji & Katzen PLLC	Tompkins Hilary Hogan Lovells US LLP (ORL) ◇
Band 1	Webster Joseph Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker LLP
Albright Cory Kanji & Katzen PLLC
Baker-Shenk Philip M. Holland & Knight LLP	Band 3
Durocher Skip Dorsey & Whitney LLP	Adams III Andrew Hogen Adams
Eid Troy A. Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Appleby Nancy J. Appleby Law PLLC
Harper Keith Jenner & Block LLP	Brossy Katie Akin *
Johnson Brendan Robins Kaplan LLP	Daughety Samuel Dentons LLP
Miller Lloyd Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson	Elliott Nicole Holland & Knight LLP
Pavel Mary Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson	Hart Steve Lewis Roca *
Pongrace Donald R. Akin *	Hauter Jason Travis Akin
Sibbison Heather Dentons LLP	Heckman Carol Lippes Mathias LLP
Weddle Jennifer H. Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Hinton Michael-Corey Drummond Woodsum
Band 2	Hirsch Sam Jenner & Block LLP
Boldrey R. Lance Dykema Gossett PLLC	Larson Peter Lewis Roca *
Endreson Douglas Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse	Lewis Brian Drummond Woodsum *
Galanda Gabe Galanda Broadman	Martin Connie Sue Schwabe, Williamson & Wyatt (ORL) ◇
Galbraith Charles Jenner & Block LLP	Masse Christine Miller Nash LLP
Giampetroni David Kanji & Katzen PLLC	Munson Catherine F. Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton
Harkins Aaron J. Hogen Adams	Ochoa Luis Quarles & Brady LLP
Hogen Vanya S. Hogen Adams	Parsons Kenneth Holland & Knight LLP
Hughes Jennifer Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker LLP	Ray-Hodge Vanessa L. Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse
McCoy Padraic I. Ocotillo Law & Policy Partners	Schaeffer Suzanne Dentons LLP
McSloy Steven Paul Carter Ledyard & Milburn LLP	Skenandore Samantha Quarles & Brady LLP
Meggesto James Holland & Knight LLP	Sledd John Kanji & Katzen PLLC
Purdon Timothy Robins Kaplan LLP	Smith Ryan Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP
Rey-Bear Dan Rey-Bear McLaughlin LLP	Steadman Jane Kanji & Katzen PLLC
Rossetti Michael Lippes Mathias LLP	Thomas Pilar Quarles & Brady LLP
Sarcinella Joseph Drummond Woodsum	Ward Stephen R. Conner & Winters, LLP
Setshwaelo Sara Dutschke Kaplan Kirsch LLP (ORL) ◇	Up-and-coming individuals
Smith Gregory A. Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker LLP	Billion Timothy Robins Kaplan LLP
Smith Rob Roy Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton	Giles Erick Drummond Woodsum *
Smith, Jr. Kaighn Drummond Woodsum	Murray Sarah Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP
Staudenmaier Heidi M. Snell & Wilmer LLP (ORL) ◇	Powell Leonard Jenner & Block LLP
	Salguero Rebekah Ocotillo Law & Policy Partners
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

porations before Congress, the Department of the Interior and the courts on tribal issues and Western natural resource issues. The firm acts as go-to legal and policy counsel to Native American tribal communities across the United States.

Strengths

"The team at Brownstein is engaging, knowledgeable and highly responsive to its client's legal needs."

"The level of expertise, professionalism and quality of work provided by the BHFS team speaks for itself."

Work highlights BHFS LLP advised the White Mountain Apache Tribe in connection with the White Mountain Apache Tribe Water Rights Quantification Act which quantified the tribe's water rights and authorized $100+ million for a tribal drinking water project.

Notable practitioners

Ryan Smith is recognized for his expertise in representing tribal nations, corporates and districts in natural resource and water disputes. He is chair of the firm's American Indian Law & Policy

Group, as well as cochair of Brownstein's Natural Resources Department. Strengths: "Ryan has a very good reputation in the water law space in relation to Native American land." Sarah Murray is an up and coming partner who is well versed in advising clients on regulatory and administrative matters related to tribal gaming and Indian affairs. Strengths: "Sarah is super responsive." "Sarah is the most helpful and expert outside counsel." "Sarah is a subject matter expert in Indian Gaming Law. She understands the nuances of the industry and is very engaging and responsive."

Carter Ledyard & Milburn LLP

What the team is known for Carter Ledyard & Milburn LLP demonstrates extensive expertise at the juncture of corporate finance and Native American law. The firm regularly works with tribes and financing parties on bonds, workouts and commercial lending matters. It also provides general corporate counsel and offers expertise in joint venture work.

Notable practitioners

Native American Law: Non-Tribal Counsel
Leading Firms
Band 1
Modrall Sperling
Perkins Coie LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
MacLean Jena Perkins Coie LLP
Slade Lynn H. Modrall Sperling
Band 2
Bennett Deana M. Modrall Sperling
Curtis Jr Charles G. Perkins Coie LLP *
Mansinghani Mithun Lehotsky Keller Cohn LLP (ORL) ◇
Nichols Brian K. Modrall Sperling
Stern III Walter E. Modrall Sperling

Steven Paul McSloy is chair of Carter Ledyard's Native American practice group and represents both financial institutions and tribes in complex finance matters. Strengths: "Steven is an incredible finance lawyer." "Steven is a great lawyer and is great for any business transaction."

Conner & Winters, LLP

What the team is known for Conner & Winters is an Oklahoma-based practice operating on a national level for Native American tribes and household name companies with Indian country clients. The law firm handles transactional, governance and contentious mandates, with key strengths in the areas of lending and financings, energy sector deals and litigation to US Supreme Court level. It is notable for its ability to handle matters within tribal legal systems, and is securing increasing recognition outside state borders. The team also offers counsel on legal infrastructure and tribal governance.

Work highlights Connor & Winters advised the Muscogee Nation Gaming Enterprises, LLC regarding a $500 million financing of its operating and development capital.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Ward is well known for his representation of tribal clients in state and federal courts. Strengths: "Stephen is a very client-oriented attorney and his responsiveness and attentiveness are greatly appreciated."

Dentons

What the team is known for Dentons has an illustrious and well-established Native American practice working exclusively for tribes. The Dentons team enjoys an excellent reputation for gaming work, environmental regulations and fee-to-trust land acquisitions, among other matters. Dentons skillfully advocates on behalf of clients before state legislatures, Congress and government agencies in addition to its strong litigation and regulatory capabilities. Team members have experience working at the DOI, National Indian Gaming Commission and DOJ.

Strengths

"Dentons is very professional and very responsive."

"The Dentons team has a wide breadth of knowledge, skills and experiences."

"The attorneys at Dentons are very experienced at handling difficult legal questions regarding Native American law."

Work highlights Dentons represented the Prairie

Native American Law: Finance
Leading Firms
Band 1
Carter Ledyard & Milburn LLP
Faegre Drinker
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Hernandez Miko	Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP
Hyatt Townsend	Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Swanick Christine L.	Sheppard, Mullin, Richter
Wahpepah Wilda	Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton
Band 2
Coddington Michael	Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP
Lin David	Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Miernicki Jennifer	Faegre Drinker*
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Island Indian Community in its efforts to have land added to its reservation to settle its claims against the federal government for illegally flooding part of the Tribe's reservation through the operation of a federal dam.

Notable practitioners

Heather Sibbison maintains an excellent reputation for her wealth of experience representing tribes in land matters, gaming disputes and other civil litigation. Strengths: "Heather is very attentive, thorough, responsive and extremely knowledgeable." "Heather is one of the very best attorneys who works in the area of Native law in the whole country." "Heather's quality of work and breadth of knowledge are great." Samuel Daughety is commended for his experience handling water rights and gaming issues for Native American tribes. He has particular expertise in tribal lands and public policy issues. Strengths: "Samuel is very responsive, attentive and smart." "Samuel is very strong on water law issues." Suzanne Schaeffer has broad expertise in the Native American law space, with significant experience handling natural resources, environmental and Indian lands issues. Strengths: "Suzanne is extremely responsive and helpful in matters involving her area of expertise."

Dorsey & Whitney LLP

What the team is known for Dorsey & Whitney is a versatile full-service firm offering breadth and depth of expertise encompassing finance, employment law, litigation, economic development, taxation and governmental relations, for both tribal and nontribal clients. The firm's areas of expertise include treaty rights, gaming and healthcare. The team also advises Alaska Native corporations on M&A and natural resource management.

Strengths

"Dorsey & Whitney houses excellent attorneys with a nationwide practice."

"The team at Dorsey is very timely in terms of communications and its depth of expertise is exceptional."

"The team's thoroughness and accuracy are strong and its communication is great."

Work highlights Dorsey & Whitney represented the Gila River Indian Community in a dispute with the Indian Health Service and Department of Vet-

Native American Law: Appellate
Leading Firms
Band 1
Jenner & Block LLP
Kanji & Katzen PLLC
WilmerHale
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Gershengorn Ian Heath	Jenner & Block LLP
Kanji Riyaz	Kanji & Katzen PLLC
Waxman Seth	WilmerHale

eran Affairs regarding payment for healthcare provided by the tribe to veterans.

Notable practitioners

Skip Durocher represents both tribes and tribal entities in federal, state and tribal courts, with particular expertise in Indian gaming law.

Strengths: "Skip is an excellent lawyer." "Skip is always willing to make an effort to be available and is a quick learner who picks up issues quickly and efficiently." Mary Streitz focuses her practice on a wide variety of Federal, State and Tribal tax matters on behalf of tribes and tribal entities as well as entities engaging in business with tribes.

Strengths: "Mary is a renowned expert in tax law."

Drummond Woodsum

What the team is known for Drummond Woodsum is recognized for its excellent Indian finance and economic development practice. Drummond Woodsum represents Native American businesses as well as tribes in litigation, government affairs and transactional work. The Drummond Woodsum team frequently acts for tribes on the developing, financing and subsequent operation of Indian tribal enterprises, as well as demonstrating great expertise in labor and employment cases. Drummond Woodsum also represents tribes in sovereignty issues and jurisdictional disputes.

Strengths

"Drummond Woodsum provides great service. It is always responsive, helpful and solution oriented."

"The team at Drummond Woodsum is very personable and has great communication."

"The Drummond Woodsum team is knowledgeable and engaging with a diverse skill set."

Work highlights Drummond Woodsum advised the Seneca Nation's cannabis regulatory body with respect to the establishment of regulations regarding cannabis.

Notable practitioners

Robert Gips maintains an excellent reputation for advising tribes on corporate transactions.

Strengths: "Robert is very experienced and has great insight and creative thinking." "Robert is well-seasoned and deeply experienced in Indian law and the way in which it relates to corporate law." "Robert is highly responsive and very bright."

Joseph Sarcinella is an experienced attorney recognized for his work representing tribes and tribal entities across a broad variety of matters. He has particular capabilities in renewable energy, tribal lands and economic development issues. Strengths: "Joseph is extremely sophisticated and is strong at handling complex work."

Kaighn Smith has an excellent reputation for his work in Native American law and is known for

Specialist Firms in Native American Law
Leading Firms
Band 1
Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker LLP
Kanji & Katzen PLLC
Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson & Perry, LLP
Band 2
Hogen Adams
Powers Pyles Sutter & Verville PC
Band 3
Appleby Law PLLC
Barnhouse Keegan Solimon & West LLP
Frye & Kelly P.C.
Galanda Broadman
The Jacobson Law Group
Ocotillo Law & Policy Partners
Rey-Bear McLaughlin LLP
Rothstein Donatelli LLP

advising clients on a range of disputes, including gaming and water rights as well as labor and employment law. Strengths: "Kaighn is a very experienced and very seasoned creative thinker in this space." Michael-Corey Hinton is commended for his work representing tribes and tribal entities across a range of legal areas. He is particularly expert in regulatory and administrative proceedings. Strengths: "Michael-Corey Hinton provides strong insights and is a pleasure to work with. He delivers quality results." "Mr. Hinton's performance is very impressive." Brian Lewis (see p.622) is an experienced attorney recognized for his expertise in tribal economic development matters and the protection of tribal powers, rights and interests. Strengths: "Brian is a very thorough professional." Erick Giles (see p.566) is very well versed in a wide range of Native American law matters. He is frequently sought by tribal nations and tribal businesses, among many others, to advise on complex federal regulatory issues, treaty rights and commercial contracts. Strengths: "Erick has a good understanding of issues addressing multiple jurisdictions." "Mr. Giles is a great attorney with a special gift for balancing a massive and diverse workload for his clients."

Dykema Gossett PLLC

What the team is known for Dykema Gossett is recognized for its expertise at the juncture of gaming and Native American law. The team advises nontribal clients as well as tribes and tribal entities on a broad range of related issues including land-to-trust work, eligibility applications and financing agreements.

Strengths

"The team at Dykema Gossett is very well versed in the area of Native American law and is able to handle complex and sophisticated matters."

Work highlights Dykema Gossett represented the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians in its federal applications to have off-reservation land in Muskegon, Michigan taken into trust for gaming purposes.

Notable practitioners

Lance Boldrey advises tribes, nontribal governments and nontribal entities on a wide array of Native American law matters, with an emphasis on state-tribal relations, economic development and other corporate matters. Strengths: "Lance is very nice to work with. He's confident, has good interpersonal skills and excellent communication." "Lance's background knowledge of issues is very strong." "Lance is able to go beyond legal work and really understand transactions and work to find solutions for everyone involved."

Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP

What the team is known for Faegre Drinker provides high quality advice to tribal and nontribal clients on a range of matters. Faegre Drinker is noted for its market-leading expertise in tribal finance as well as gaming, real estate and the environment. The team assists in drafting tribal codes and constitutional amendments, and regularly represents tribes before Federal and State Courts.

Strengths

"The Faegre team is knowledgeable and responsive."

"The quality of work provided by the Faegre team is accurate, comprehensive and thorough."

Work highlights Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath advised the Shakopee Mdewakanton Sioux Community on intellectual property matters including trademark and copyright clearance, prosecution and maintenance.

Notable practitioners

Miko Hernandez regularly advises tribes and financial institutions on financing disputes involving real estate, construction and gaming.

Strengths: "Miko's cultural awareness is excellent and her finance background in this space is very strong." "Miko has a high level of expertise and experience." "Miko is a very diligent worker who makes herself readily available and her quality of work is always thorough." Michael Coddington has a broad practice as a commercial lawyer. He is noted for his work in Native American law.

Strengths: "Michael is a top notch attorney with a great ability to balance business sense with legal points." Jennifer Miernicki (see p.642) is highly knowledgeable of Indian tribal financial matters and regularly advises lenders and tribal corporate entities on a wide array of complex issues.

Strengths: "Jennifer is very communicative and able to digest legal matters into something that we can understand."

Frye & Kelly P.C.

What the team is known for Frye & Kelly has a reputable Native American law practice advising tribal entities on a range of issues. It has expertise which covers healthcare, education and business development, among others. The team exhibits strength in tribal resolutions, economic development and sovereign immunity.

Notable practitioners

Paul Frye is a key partner at the firm.

Galanda Broadman

What the team is known for Galanda Broadman is a reputable firm providing support and representation for tribal clients. It has considerable experience handling complex litigation and regulatory disputes. The firm's expertise covers an array of issues including taxation, gaming and government relations.

Notable practitioners

Gabriel Galanda represents Native American tribes in a variety of complex disputes. He is particularly well known for his handling of high-stakes tax litigation. Strengths: "Gabe is a great leader and really stands out among Native Law lawyers." "Gabe is a crusader for issues in Indian Country."

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig caters to Native American tribes as well as corporations, government bodies and nonprofit organizations. The team offers an interdisciplinary practice encompassing tribal economic development, financial transactions, energy and natural resources law, and federal policy matters. The group has experience at all levels of Tribal, State and Federal Court, including the Supreme Court. Greenberg Traurig also offers capabilities in mediation, particularly in disputes involving energy projects affecting tribal land.

Strengths

"The Greenberg team is always available, fast to turn work around and brings a deep strategic business perspective to its advice, which is very rare these days."

"The Greenberg team has exceptional breadth and depth which allows it to innovate and breed new ideas to address complex issues within Native American law."

"The quality and speed of the Greenberg team is highly impressive."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented Summit Carbon Solutions in its development a carbon sequestration and storage project across five Midwest states in an area that contains 64 federally recognized Native American tribes.

Notable practitioners

Troy Eid is well regarded for his Native American law practice and regularly handles disputes between tribes and companies at both trial and appellate levels. Strengths: "Troy has extremely deep connections and some very good institutional knowledge." "Troy is an incredible lawyer, business advisor and friend who consistently looks for ways to add more value to our business." Jennifer Weddle advises tribes on economic development and natural resources disputes. Strengths: "Jennifer's knowledge, expertise and professionalism are only exceeded by her great compassion for Native American communities."

Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker LLP

What the team is known for Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker is a boutique firm committed to Native American issues. Hobbs Straus provides legal counsel and representation in tribal affairs, sovereignty issues, economic development and natural resources. The team has additional areas of expertise include gaming, healthcare, housing and child welfare. It has experience representing tribal clients before tribal and federal courts, including several appearances before the US Supreme Court.

Strengths

"Hobbs is an excellent litigation firm with a national reach."

Notable practitioners

Jennifer Hughes is noted for her work in trial governance and regulatory matters. She is also an expert in legislative work. Gregory Smith regularly represents tribes and tribal entities in issues relating to governmental affairs. Strengths: "Gregory Smith is a very good lawyer." Joseph Webster is a strong tribal lawyer whose broad practice covers matters such as gaming, economic development and self-determination.

Hogen Adams

What the team is known for Hogen Adams is a specialist firm advising tribes and their partners both in the Upper Midwest and nationwide on a variety of matters, including financial transactions, hunting rights and gaming litigation. It also assists tribes with drafting, reviewing and revising tribal governance and policy documentation. The team's additional areas of expertise include natural resource protection, labor and employment, reservation boundary disputes and tribal jurisdiction.

Notable practitioners

Aaron Harkins regularly represents both tribes and financial institutions and is recognized for his strong litigation practice. Vanya Hogen regularly advises on financing, gaming and tribal economic development matters. Strengths: "Vanya is a great lawyer and is very strong on business transactions."

Andrew Adams is a respected practitioner who acts for tribes on financing, taxation and gaming issues. He has expertise in tribal constitutional law and tribal governance.

Holland & Hart LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Hart has a very reputable Native Law team which is frequently sought by clients doing business with Indian tribes or on tribal lands. The firm is also well versed at representing tribes in contentious and noncontentious matters such as development. The team has indepth knowledge of natural resource and environmental rights.

Strengths

"Holland & Hart's depth of knowledge and experience gives us confidence in the work product."

Work highlights Holland & Hart represented Calpine Corporation in a lawsuit brought in the Federal District Court of Sacramento by the Pit River Tribe of California. The matter is a challenge to the legitimacy of a lease.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Sansonetti of Holland & Hart is commended for his excellent work advising tribes on natural resources and environmental law issues.

Strengths: "Thomas provides strong specialized knowledge of water law issues."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight's flourishing Indian law outfit covers a broad range of matters including gaming, government relations and public policy issues. The firm also handles oil and gas transactional work for tribes, as well as aiding clients in navigating federal environmental regulations. The team's clients include tribal governments and Alaska Native corporations and is known for advising tribes on complex tax issues.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight provides specialised expertise to Native American tribes on unique issues."

"The H&K team is always willing to make themselves available and turn work around promptly and efficiently."

Work highlights Holland & Knight acted for Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe in a dispute with Franklin County over the unauthorized collection by the county of Vehicle Use taxes.

Notable practitioners

Philip Baker-Shenk is well known in the field for his lobbying practice, representing tribal governments and organizations. James Meggesto advises tribes on a variety of matters including policy and regulation, gaming and tribal sovereignty. Nicole Elliott is known for handling a variety of litigious matters for a number of tribal clients. She is notable for her knowledge of tax-related issues. Kenneth Parsons advises Native American governments on a variety of issues including gaming and taxation matters. He is further noted for his work with State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds under the American Rescue Plan Act. Strengths: "Kenneth is outstanding to work with. He is respectful, understanding, responsive and helpful."

The Jacobson Law Group

What the team is known for The Jacobson Law Group offers a nationwide Native American law practice based out of Minnesota that offers expertise on a range of different areas including gaming, ICWA, environment and natural resources, ADR, finance and more.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Halloran is a key contact.

Jenner & Block LLP

What the team is known for Jenner & Block maintains a strong reputation for its capabilities in litigation involving Native American tribes. It represents clients in a range of disputes involving gaming, taxation and tribal sovereignty concerns. The firm has notable experience acting before the federal and state courts and is widely recognized for the strength of its appellate practice. The group boasts a sizable team of former government attorneys.

Strengths

"Jenner & Block houses a Native law team that is super responsive and always looks for creative ways to approach issues."

"The firm provides a great service with smart, helpful responses."

"Jenner & Block offers an impressive mix of advocates from those specializing in federal Indian law and connected to Native nations to experts with years of experience in Supreme Court advocacy."

Work highlights Jenner & Block represented the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma, the Morongo Band of Mission Indians and the Oneida Nation of Wisconsin in a Supreme Court case concerning the constitutionality of the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA).

Notable practitioners

Ian Heath Gershengorn was a former Acting Solicitor General of the United States and has extensive experience acting on behalf of tribes and tribal entities in cases relating to land rights and other complex litigation. Strengths: "Ian provides a great service and is in the top echelon of appellate lawyers in this space." "Ian is an exceptionally good litigator and an absolute pleasure to work with."

Keith Harper represents both tribes and individual clients in gaming litigation, sovereign disputes and large tort claims. Strengths: "Keith is super smart and his responsiveness and willingness to exchange ideas to find solutions is greatly helpful." "Keith is brilliant and is always willing to go above and beyond." Charles Galbraith advises tribal clients on policy issues and other government affairs matters. He also has some expertise in environment and energy work and formerly served as the White House Associate Director of Intergovernmental Affairs and Public Engagement. Strengths: "Charles is a very well-rounded lawyer, a good litigator and is someone that really pays attention to the nuance that is required with some work." "Charles is beyond excellent."

Sam Hirsch assists tribes on a range of issues, including environmental disputes, taxation, and legislation and policy matters. He has significant experience in energy and environmental law. Strengths: "Sam is wonderful to work with." Leonard Powell has significant experience representing clients in high stakes disputes around federal Indian laws. He is well versed at all levels of court, up to the Supreme Court. Strengths: "Leonard has brilliance coming out of every pore." "Leonard is a pleasure to work with and is extremely communicative." "Leonard is extremely knowledgeable and does wonderful work."

Kanji & Katzen PLLC

What the team is known for Kanji & Katzen is a highly distinguished and experienced group noted for its representation of Indian nations and tribes. The team advises primarily on sovereignty and governance matters, treaty rights, taxation and jurisdictional issues. It has a strong reputation among peers for appellate litigation at all levels, including up to the Supreme Court. The group is known to be increasingly handling environmental disputes such as contamination and fishing rights as part of its growing emphasis on environmental protection.

Strengths

"The team at Kanji & Katzen is pragmatic with very good judgment."

"Kanji & Katzen is an excellent litigation firm with a national reach."

"The team at Kanji & Katzen is very easy to communicate with and responsive to the needs of its clients."

Work highlights Kanji & Katzen PLLC represented the Bad River Band of Lake Superior Tribe of Chippewa Indians in a dispute with a crude oil pipeline company regarding a pipeline installed on the Band's reservation for which the Federal easements had expired.

Notable practitioners

Riyaz Kanji has a stellar reputation, is widely acknowledged for his work advising tribes on treaty rights and environmental disputes, and is revered for his impressive appellate practice. He is particularly renowned for his Supreme Court work. Strengths: "Riyaz is an extremely good lawyer." "Riyaz is a wonderful Supreme Court prac- itioner." "He is an exceedingly gifted analyst and researcher." "Riyaz is an incredibly articulate oral advocate and superb brief writer." Cory Albright represents tribes in a wide range of disputes concerning sovereignty and treaty rights with additional experience advising on water rights, fisheries and natural resources. Strengths: "Cory is very clear on what he thinks needs to be done and forms creative solutions and theories for the client to choose from." "Cory is an extremely hard-working and dedicated lawyer who really goes the extra mile." David Giampetroni has garnered a strong reputation for his work with Indian tribes and has experience representing clients in treaty rights and tribal sovereignty disputes. Strengths: "David has a deep knowledge of Native law and has a real mastery of the details in each case. He really digs in at an extraordinary level." John Sledd is an accomplished attorney noted for his Native American law practice in which he represents tribes in matters of self-governance, treaty rights, economic development and natural resources. Jane Steadman is commended for her expertise at the intersection of environmental and Native American law. She is particularly knowledgeable of forestry matters. Strengths: "Jane is a strong and knowledgeable lawyer, particularly with regard to environmental matters."

Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP

What the team is known for Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton's burgeoning litigation, finance and government affairs practice provides representation and counsel to tribal governments, organizations and businesses. The team offers expertise in a range of issues including land rights, labor issues and intellectual property. Kilpatrick also represents tribal clients in matters concerning tribal sovereignty and the protection of natural resources. Many of the team's lawyers have acted in-house for tribes or worked for government agencies dealing with complex tribal issues. The firm has also been assisting tribes with federal funding under the CARES Act during the pandemic.

Work highlights Kilpatrick served as counsel to the Snoqualmie Indian Tribe in a $368 million senior secured credit facility finance. The financing will be used to fund the Tribe's expansion of a new hotel and resort complex at the current Snoqualmie Casino site.

Notable practitioners

Rob Roy Smith is widely regarded for his work representing tribal governments, individuals and corporates in litigation before the federal and appellate courts. Catherine Munson focuses her practice on tribal water rights matters and represents clients before Federal, District and appellate courts.

Lewis Roca

What the team is known for Lewis Roca has a robust Native American law practice assisting a number of tribes on a broad range of contentious and noncontentious issues. The Lewis Roca team provides extensive guidance on gaming, land use and financing matters.

Notable practitioners

Steve Hart (see p.818) is an expert in gaming law as it interacts with Native American law. Clients benefit from his prior experience as the director of the Arizona Department of Gaming. Strengths: "Steve is extremely knowledgeable with rules and regulations and is able to predict and avoid potential licensing risks and issues." Peter Larson (see p.820) has considerable experience working with tribes and tribal entities on public finance matters. He is knowledgeable of economic development concerns.

Lippes Mathias LLP

What the team is known for Lippes Mathias is noted for its representation of tribes and tribal entities in economic development and sovereignty matters. The team has considerable experience in dispute resolution, frequently appearing before the courts on a host of significant issues including land claims, sovereign immunity disputes and contract cases.

Notable practitioners

Michael Rossetti is recognized for his work representing clients in gaming, water rights and economic development matters. Carol Heckman has considerable experience as a litigator, trial attorney and former Magistrate Judge. She has expertise across a vast array of issues covering gaming, sovereignty and other commercial business issues.

Miller Nash LLP

What the team is known for Miller Nash LLP has a solid Native America Law practice. The firm acts for Native American Tribes and organizations on a range of issues including gaming, financial matters, construction issues and labor and employment cases. The team also has experience of advising on cannabis related mandates.

Strengths

"Miller Nash does very complex and high value work."

Notable practitioners

Christine Masse provides experienced counsel to Native American tribes and organizations on issues related to gaming, cannabis, real estate, finance and many other economic development issues. Strengths: "Christine is a brilliant, hard-working and amazingly talented attorney who is very results oriented." "Christine is a very good lawyer and has great experience in the cannabis and gaming side of the work, as well as, economic development more generally."

Modrall Sperling

What the team is known for Modrall Sperling has recognized expertise in a range of contentious and noncontentious areas, including energy, environment, real property rights and finance. It typically advises nontribal clients in the energy sector on structuring transactions and conducting business involving tribal nations and tribal lands. The firm has considerable experience negotiating agreements for the protection of cultural resources, and advising on ethical issues and legal malpractice related to tribal law and enterprises.

Strengths

"I would rate Modrall Sperling highly."

Work highlights Modrall Sperling represented the State of Oklahoma in the settlement of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations' claims to water in Southeastern Oklahoma.

Notable practitioners

Lynn Slade represents nontribal clients in transactions, negotiations, project development and litigation affecting economic development on tribal lands. Deana Bennett specializes in natural resource development as it relates to tribal lands. She offers expertise in permitting and environmental compliance. Strengths: "Deana is very knowledgeable about Native American matters and natural resource matters." Brian Nichols provides excellent counsel to clients on Federal Indian laws. He is adept at providing advice on a wide range of matters including liability, environmental law and taxation matters. He is particularly knowledgeable about Navajo Nation-related matters.

Strengths: "Brian Nichols has excellent knowledge." Walter Stern focuses his practice on land rights, energy and environmental law, and represents both businesses and individuals in their dealings with tribes.

Ocotillo Law & Policy Partners

What the team is known for Ocotillo Law & Policy Partners is a specialist Native American law firm located in Colorado. The team demonstrates notable capabilities across a range of areas including Indian lands, gaming and economic development work.

Notable practitioners

Padraic McCoy is knowledgeable in Native American gaming matters and regularly advises on complex tribal financings. Rebekah Salguero has a strong reputation for her work representing tribal governments and entities. Strengths: "Rebekah Salguero is a very good lawyer."

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe has a stellar Native American law team that is well regarded for its skill in handling financial transactions to fund health clinics, cultural centers and tribal infrastructure development. Orrick represents Indian tribal governments and enterprises, as well as major financial institutions in relation to financing transactions. The team also continues to serve as counsel on debt transactions involving Native American tribes.

Strengths

"Orrick has industry experts who are very knowledgeable about the players involved in the space."

"Orrick is one of the most experienced law firms in the US pertaining to tribal law and gaming matters."

Work highlights Orrick advised the Seneca Gaming Corporation and the Seneca Nation of Indians in connection with a $100 million borrowing to refinance the corporation's long-term debt.

Notable practitioners

Townsend Hyatt is a go-to lawyer for tribal financing matters and is regularly brought in to advise on transactions and funding of land acquisitions, gaming facilities and health clinics, among others. Strengths: "Townsend is great at anticipating risk and catching things that go over the heads of others." "Townsend's knowledge of the complexities of tribal law and tribal sovereignty are incredible." David Lin is a finance attorney noted for his expertise at the intersection of banking and Native American law.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie fields a strong team with significant experience advising local and state governments, as well as corporations, in treaty and subsistence rights, tribal acknowledgment, Indian gaming, trust acquisition and intergovernmental agreements. The firm's attorneys offer assistance with high-stakes litigation, strategic counseling and business negotiations. The team is particularly experienced in disputes involving oil and gas projects, as well as gaming operations. It also possesses significant experience representing clients in cases before the US Supreme Court.

Strengths

"The team at Perkins is very timely in its responses and has great communication overall."

Work highlights Perkins Coie defended the Klickitat Public Utility District against claims asserted by the United States under the National Indian Forest Resources Management Act and state tort law for fire damage and suppression costs in relation to a fire on the Yakama Reservation in 2013.

Notable practitioners

Jena MacLean has a broad practice covering matters such as environmental law, tribal sovereign immunity and treaty rights. Strengths: "Jena can do in a few minutes work that would take other lawyers weeks. She has so much knowledge." "Jena has great strategic sense and always sees creative ways to solve problems." "Jena's knowledge base is incredible and her availability is great too." Charles Curtis (see p.3445) is particularly well known in the market for advising on a whole host of civil disputes. Strengths: "Charles Curtis is exceptionally bright."

Powers Pyles Sutter & Verville PC

What the team is known for Powers Pyles Sutter & Verville continues to impress in the Native American law space, representing tribes and entities doing business with tribes on a broad range of issues, including lobbying work and matters pertaining to energy development, federal recognition and gaming projects. The team also advises tribal clients on healthcare, housing and environmental law. Its other capabilities include fee-to-trust land acquisitions and tribal governance.

Notable practitioners

Brian Gunn in DC is a key contact.

Quarles & Brady LLP

What the team is known for Quarles & Brady is a reputable Native American practice focused on protecting the interests of tribes. The firm provides high quality advice on issues relating to tribal sovereignty, gaming, development projects, and employment and tax issues, among others. The firm's attorneys have noteworthy experience in both federal and tribal governments.

Strengths

"Quarles & Brady has a good team."

Work highlights Quarles & Brady represented the Moapa Band of Paiute Indians in negotiations for over 1 GW of solar, storage and transmission line projects on tribal lands, estimated to generate over $500 million in revenue, jobs and other community benefits.

Notable practitioners

Luis Ochoa is a well-regarded attorney with a strong Native American practice. He advises tribal clients on gaming, employment matters and property development and related financings.

Samantha Skenandore advises tribal and corporate clients on a multitude of issues relating to energy and solar projects, M&A and tribal sovereignty. Pilar Thomas has an excellent reputation for her work with Indian tribes, with expertise in renewable energy developments, real estate, land disputes and tribal funding relating to the pandemic. Strengths: “Pilar has great executive skills and is great at bringing people together.” “Pilar is a great tribal energy practitioner and is excellent at what she does.”

Rey-Bear McLaughlin LLP

What the team is known for Ray-Bear McLaughlin is a specialist boutique firm committed to representing American Indian tribes and Indian enterprises. The team has strong expertise in tribal sovereignty, economic development, gaming and taxation.

Notable practitioners

Dan Rey-Bear is highly regarded for his broad Native American law practice and represents clients in gaming, finance and taxation tribal matters. Strengths: “Dan is extremely smart.”

Robins Kaplan LLP

What the team is known for Robins Kaplan's distinguished team advocates on behalf of tribes in a range of complex litigation. It possesses a wealth of experience representing clients in energy extraction and sovereignty disputes in federal, state and tribal courts. The firm has played a particularly prominent role in opioid litigation brought against manufacturers and distributors. The team also offers capabilities in the area of tribal lending and advises clients on tribal cannabis business operations.

Strengths

“The Robins Kaplan team is cohesive and works well with others.”

“The team invests personal effort in order to achieve its clients' long term goals.”

Work highlights Robins Kaplan represented 28 Tribal Nations located in the Great Plains, Upper Midwest and West Coast to secure a $589 million settlement in litigation against major opioid distributors.

Notable practitioners

Brendan Johnson maintains a strong market presence for his work representing clients in complex litigation surrounding issues such as opioids, tribal sovereignty and tribal lending. Strengths: “Brendan is a trusted attorney and a quality human being.” “Brendan is a fantastic trial lawyer and has excellent judgment about strategic positioning.” Former US Attorney for the District of North Dakota Timothy Purdon regularly leads criminal investigations and handles litigation relating to Native American law issues. Strengths: “Timothy is an outstanding lawyer and is readily available for any potential questions.” Timothy Billion has experience representing tribal clients in a range of litigation matters including tribal lending enterprises, trespass issues and ownership rights.

Strengths: “Timothy is a very solid and thorough attorney. He's great at managing many moving parts and is a strong critical thinker.”

Rothstein Donatelli LLP

What the team is known for Rothstein Donatelli is a well-regarded boutique firm with a reputable Native American practice covering criminal law and civil rights litigation. The firm regularly counsels on behalf of Indian tribes and has considerable expertise in sovereignty disputes, Indian gaming and economic development.

Notable practitioners

Mark Donatelli is a key partner at the firm.

Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP

What the team is known for Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton has extensive experience handling financing transactions for tribal infrastructure and gaming projects, typically on behalf of lenders. The firm also provides governance, regulatory and litigation advice to tribes, tribal agencies and other tribal entities. The Sheppard Mullin team acts extensively in disputes arising from the Labor Relations Act and land-to-trust acquisitions.

Strengths

“The firm has a diverse team of knowledgeable attorneys who are able to find a specialist for any area being addressed.”

Work highlights Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton advised the Washoe Development Corporation in its purchase of the Wa She Shu Casino facility for PCI Gaming Authority.

Notable practitioners

Christine Swanick holds a sterling reputation for her work advising tribes and tribal entities on financial matters including bond financings, syndicated credit facilities and commercial loans.

Strengths: “Christine has an excellent reputation among lenders in Indian Country.” “Christine's consistent professionalism and ability to communicate at all levels make the attorney-client relationship more enjoyable and productive.” “Christine is very responsive and has considerable expertise in this practice area.” Wilda Wahpepah is highly regarded for her Native American law practice and advises on finance matters, tribal jurisdiction issues and gaming, among many other legal concerns for Indian tribes. Strengths: “Wilda is very strong in the tribal finance area.”

Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson & Perry, LLP

What the team is known for A longstanding and respected Native American law boutique, Sonosky, Chambers, Sachse, Endreson & Perry is well known for handling litigation and governance exclusively on behalf of tribal clients. Sonosky is particularly experienced in water, fishing and hunting rights cases. The team represents clients at all levels of Tribal, State and Federal Courts and tribunals, as well as lobbying to Congress and Federal agencies.

Notable practitioners

Reid Chambers has a wealth of litigation expertise in matters pertaining to land claims and gaming law. He also represents clients in sovereignty and tribal water rights. Lloyd Miller is recommended for his work on labor law, social service and self-determination disputes for tribes and tribal entities. Mary Pavel is recognized for her work representing tribes in both legislative and lobbying matters and is known in the market for her litigation work. Douglas Endreson represents tribes in a wide variety of different matters including gaming, environmental and taxation disputes. Vanessa Ray-Hodge is commended for her expertise in water rights matters as they intersect with Native American law. Strengths: “Vanessa is an excellent lawyer with an eye for detail and good passion for her work.”

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale is a prominent firm renowned for counseling tribal governments on complex federal law questions and litigation. The firm also represents tribes in both strategic planning and litigation at both the trial and appellate levels. The team offers expertise in matters such as gaming, trust actions and land claims. WilmerHale represents tribes in policy matters, drawing on its strong relationships with Congress, the DOI, the Indian Gaming Commission and other key policymakers.

Strengths

“WilmerHale's communication is great.”

“WilmerHale provides efficient and sound legal arguments.”

Work highlights WilmerHale represented the Schaghticoke Tribal Nation in its efforts to secure federal recognition for the tribe after it had its previous recognition rescinded.

Notable practitioners

Seth Waxman leads the firm's appellate practice and is renowned across the country as one of the finest Supreme Court advocates of his generation. He has an outstanding track record for successfully representing tribal governments in a wide range of high-stakes disputes. Strengths: “Seth is extremely professional and considerate of other arguments and thoughts.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

Arlinda Locklear is an expert on settled recognition issues and is well known for her expertise in representing tribes in water rights matters.

Mithun Mansinghani of Lehotsky Keller Cohn LLP is a highly sought after litigator with in-depth knowledge of acting in State and Federal matters, he has particular expertise in mandates involving Federal Indian law. Strengths: “Mithun is always willing to learn and puts in the work to learn different areas of law quickly.” “Mithun understands matters at a level that others do not.”

Connie Sue Martin of Schwabe, Williamson & Wyatt PC is well regarded for her expertise in advising both tribes and companies on environmental Native American law. She is also adept at handling Superfund work as well as reviewing and evaluating tribal codes. Strengths: “Connie is very personable and professional. She has great Native law experience with a focus on the environment.”

Sara Dutschke Setshwaelo represents tribes and tribal entities on an array of issues affecting tribal governments, including the development of tribal law and policy. She also sits as the chairwoman of the lone Band of Miwok Indians. Strengths: “Sara is an excellent lawyer.”

Heidi Staudenmaier of Snell & Wilmer regularly represents tribes, tribal entities and businesses in relation to commercial transactions, including gaming licensing, compacting, economic development and governmental matters. Strengths: “Heidi has a very robust practice and a well-deserved national reputation.” “Heidi is very strong in the tribal gaming space.”

Hilary Tompkins of Hogan Lovells is noted for her strong environmental-focused practice. She previously held the position of solicitor of the US Department of the Interior and has successfully resolved complex long-standing disputes in the intersection between environmental law and Native American law. Strengths: “Hilary is an amazing person and is very talented at what she does.” “Hilary is very strong in the environmental and energy space in relation to Native law.” “Hilary is great at managing strong personalities and has a strategic approach to litigation.”

Occupational Safety and Health Nationwide

Occupational Safety and Health
Leading Firms
Band 1
Conn Maciel Carey
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC
Band 2
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Fisher Phillips
Littler Mendelson, PC
Band 3
Alston & Bird LLP
ArentFox Schiff LLP
Farley & Partners LLP
Haynes and Boone, LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Jones Walker LLP
McGuireWoods LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Conn Maciel Carey

What the team is known for Conn Maciel Carey is a leading national boutique handling the full spectrum of labor and employment litigation, with particular emphasis on workplace safety issues. The team offers impressive expertise in federal and state-level workplace safety laws, and has been especially active in recent years in the development of new rulemaking in relation to heat illness and the Worker Walkaround Rule. The group acts predominantly for management-side clients, as well as trade associations, and maintains a strong track record in complex OSHA inspections and enforcement matters.

Strengths

“Every attorney we deal with is strong and they work well as a team. The firm is very well positioned to handle the most complex and sophisticated matters in the OSHA space.”

“Conn Maciel Carey provide good knowledge, skills

Occupational Safety and Health
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Bailey Melissa Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart
Conn Eric Conn Maciel Carey
Dillard Greg BakerHostetler LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Dreux Mark S ArentFox Schiff LLP
McCown Steven R Littler Mendelson, PC *
Mills Jason Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Snare Jonathan Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Wiltzie Susan Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Band 2
Deffebach Matthew T. Haynes and Boone, LLP
Farley Mark Farley & Partners LLP
Foulke Jr Edwin G Fisher Phillips
Gelb Aaron Conn Maciel Carey
Heidingsfelder Jane H. Jones Walker LLP
Hobbs Eric E Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart
Kleinman Kenneth Stevens & Lee PC (ORL) ◇
McMahon Kathryn Conn Maciel Carey
Morgan Charles H Alston & Bird LLP *
Taylor Ronald W Venable LLP (ORL) ◇ *
White Kristin Fisher Phillips
Band 3
Bland Kevin Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart
Butera Valerie Conn Maciel Carey
Kim Benjamin Boies Schiller Flexner LLP (ORL) ◇
Russell Phillip Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart
Sommer Andrew Fisher Phillips
Stine J. Larry Wimberly, Lawson, Steckel (ORL) ◇
Tyson Patrick R Constangy, Brooks, Smith (ORL) ◇
Vance Travis Fisher Phillips
Up-and-coming individuals
Downs Devon Farley & Partners LLP
Elliott Scott A. Baker Botts L.L.P. *
Genderson Alana Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Ramchandani-Raj Alka Littler Mendelson, PC *
Romero Alexandra ArentFox Schiff LLP
Scala Nicholas Conn Maciel Carey
Associates to watch
Laborde Paige Baker Botts L.L.P.
Moore Reilly Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *

and communication in handling a variety of OSHA issues.”

“They are familiar with the challenges facing employers and they provide business-appropriate advice.”

“The team is very responsive. We always receive prompt and helpful guidance.”

“Their team provides depth and knowledge across the US at the federal level and they are experts in the unique requirements of various states too.”

Work highlights Conn Maciel Carey prepared testimony and written comments on the risks of indoor and outdoor heat illness as part of rule-making commissioned by President Biden’s OSHA administration.

Notable practitioners

Eric Conn is head of the firm’s national OSHA workplace safety practice. He is a renowned practitioner with a wealth of experience representing employers in OSHA inspections, investigations and litigation. Strengths: “Eric Conn is truly outstanding. He is knowledgeable about every aspect of OSHA and considers all angles. He provides such thoroughly detailed analyses of any issue in which he is involved.” “Eric is a top-tier attorney who we can always count on to help find an amicable solution with OSHA offices nationwide.” “Eric is a smart attorney who provides practical legal advice and is excellent at addressing regulatory bodies.” Aaron Gelb has a strong track record of representing employers in federal and state occupational safety and health investigations and enforcement proceedings. Strengths: “Aaron is knowledgeable, responsive and a creative thinker. He quickly understands our position as a business and helps us reach our goals.” Kathryn McMahon offers significant expertise in occupational safety and health and environmental law. She is especially noted for her strength in OSHA rulemaking. Strengths: “Kathryn is a good subject matter expert.” “Kate is willing to do whatever it takes to show her clients that she will support the team in any situation and that we will be better for it.” Valerie Butera is highly thought of for occupational safety work. She advises an array of national clients, including employers and trade associations. She is particularly adept at handling OSHA inspections and advising on compliance. Strengths: “Valerie is an expert when it comes to process safety management.” Nicholas Scala specializes in issues involving mining safety and health and is chair of Conn Maciel Carey’s national MSHA practice group. He provides advice and guidance to clients on compliance and regulatory matters in addition to workplace training plans and programs. Strengths: “Nicholas’s handling of situations and our team is top notch. His expertise provides the calm needed for the team to listen and follow through on recommendations.”

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP has a highly respected occupational safety and health practice with expertise at both the federal and state levels. The team is adept at handling the full gamut of workplace safety issues, from administrative agency investigations to litigating citations and advising on COVID compliance. The team advises regional and national employers in the energy, construction and manufacturing sectors, among others.

Strengths

“Morgan Lewis are an experienced team with a deep bench of expertise.”

“Morgan Lewis are an invaluable asset when dealing with complex matters in the field of health and safety.”

“The team is very experienced and makes sound recommendations. Every attorney is well educated on OSHA and the real-world application of regulations.”

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius acted as Consigli’s OSHA counsel in response to citations issued by OSHA.

Notable practitioners

Los Angeles-based Jason Mills co-leads the OSHA team and handles federal as well as California and other state-level OSHA litigation and investigations. Strengths: “Jason is a very knowledgeable OSHA attorney.” “Jason is outstanding. He understands how California law is applied and how that might play out nationally.” “He is a great OSHA lawyer.” Jonathan Snare co-leads the firm’s occupational safety and health practice. He offers experience in a wide range of OSHA matters, from enforcement proceedings to compliance. His recent work includes handling COVID-19-related safety matters. Strengths: “Jonathan provides great OSHA advice and counseling. He is fantastic: he’s accessible, practical and understands our needs really well in this space.” “Jonathan is one of the heavy hitters in this area and one of those lawyers who are fundamental to the practice.”

Alana Genderson is a well-regarded attorney with notable experience assisting companies in a variety of safety and health matters. Her expertise includes crisis management and workplace accidents in addition to advising clients on the implementation of policies. Strengths: “Alana is a go-to outside counsel for OSHA matters and her service is excellent.” “Alana provides sound advice and does a fantastic job.” “Alana has a depth of knowledge and is very responsive as needs arise.”

Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC

What the team is known for Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC is a preeminent national labor and employment boutique with a deep bench of workplace health and safety lawyers. The team is highly regarded for its expertise in federal and state workplace safety matters, including Cal/OSHA. The firm is highly sought out by large national employers in connection with complex workplace safety investigations and disputes. The group counsels major clients in the construction, manufacturing and energy sectors, among others.

Strengths

“Ogletree Deakins’ expertise is second to none. They know the substance of the law at both the federal and state levels and really know our business.”

“They are always available and the advice is practical. It’s invaluable to be able to speak at any time to someone who knows your business inside and out.”

“Ogletree Deakins are extremely knowledgeable in this area and always quick to reply.”

“Ogletree Deakins attracts and retains high-caliber attorneys.”

“There is extremely strong OSHA knowledge and understanding of the issues at Ogletree.”

Work highlights Ogletree Deakins was engaged by Continental Web Press to assist with an OSHA investigation following a heat illness-related fatality that resulted in no citations being brought.

Notable practitioners

Melissa Bailey acts for national employers in the manufacturing and energy sectors, among others. She is well versed in OSHA litigation, inspections and rulemaking. Strengths: “Melissa is really knowledgeable and clearly a go-to in this area.” “She is a well-rounded and very knowledgeable lawyer for anything from litigation to advice and procedure.” “Melissa is a top attorney in her field. She is knowledgeable, well connected and respected. She has a good sense of emerging issues and their potential impact on industry.” Eric Hobbs has significant expertise in both state and federal workplace safety investigations and litigation. Strengths: “Eric is awesome. He is a tremendous ambassador for OSHA lawyers and is important to the practice.” “Eric is a very good lawyer and litigator. He is a great speaker, and that’s a really important asset for a good courtroom lawyer.”

Kevin Bland is a renowned Cal/OSHA specialist with significant experience advising employers on citation appeals, regulatory rulemaking and risk management. Strengths: “Kevin is an excellent attorney and very well versed in the subject matter.” Phillip Russell is based in the firm’s Tampa office. He is a seasoned workplace safety expert with experience handling OSHA investigation, citations and training. Strengths: “Phillip connects well with employers and is doing a great job in Florida.” “He is very good in construction and safety.”

Band 2

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. counsels clients on the full array of occupational safety and health matters, including incident response and compliance counseling. The firm has a track record of representing clients before OSHA, the EPA, the Chemical Safety Board and other regulators. It is especially proficient in litigating OSHA citations.

Strengths

“I am super impressed with the ability of the lawyers to jump into matters and understand years of facts and be collaborative and practical. They are team players and I would happily recommend them.”

“Baker Botts provide pragmatic advice based on deep expertise.”

“Baker Botts has very experienced and knowledgeable attorneys in its occupational safety and health practice group.”

Notable practitioners

Scott Elliott (see p.547) is a strong choice to assist clients with regulatory proceedings involving workplace injuries and fatalities. He acts on behalf of clients in the energy and chemical sectors, among others. Strengths: “Scott handles client operational and major incident responses really well.” Paige Laborde supports clients in OSHA-related matters and has notable experience managing on-site inspections, conducting incident responses as well as providing counsel on settlement strategy. Strengths: “Paige is very knowledgeable and really impressive at leading privileged investigations.”

Fisher Phillips

What the team is known for Fisher Phillips is an impressive labor and employment boutique with extensive experience in workplace safety matters. The group offers considerable experience in OSHA and MSHA matters, including complex investigations, litigation and COVID-19 compliance.

Strengths

“Fisher Phillips is proactive and has a strong counseling practice that benefits employers.”

“Fisher Phillips is a stellar OSHA practice. They provide sophisticated counsel with a deep bench of practitioners. The advice we receive is always practical and business-friendly, and the attorneys are highly responsive.”

“They do an excellent job of distilling complex matters into simple strategy and actionable milestones.”

Work highlights Fisher Phillips assisted Industrial Services Group in the Court of Appeal after it was issued several citations by North Carolina OSHA which the employer argued were in violation of the law.

Notable practitioners

A former Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health, Edwin Foulke is frequently instructed in workplace safety investigations. He acts for clients in a range of industries including manufacturing. Strengths: “Ed is well versed in the rules and regulations of the law.” Denver-based Kristin White is held in high regard for her expertise in MSHA and OSHA matters. Strengths: “Kristin is great, really fantastic. She is a really well-respected part of the community.” “Her prominence for MSHA work can’t be disputed.” Andrew Sommer has a broad employment litigation practice with notable strength in workplace safety including OSHA and Cal/OSHA. Strengths: “Andrew is a go-to for California employment and OSHA matters.” “He is very experienced and competent.” Travis Vance frequently assists employers faced with OSHA inspections and incidents. He is a regional managing partner of the firm’s Charlotte office. Strengths: “Travis is really excellent.” “He is very experienced, creative and an excellent lawyer.”

Littler Mendelson, PC

What the team is known for Littler Mendelson, PC is a highly sought-after management-side labor and employment firm that garners considerable praise for its OSHA and MSHA practice. The group is highly praised for its deep knowledge of both state and federal occupational safety work, from complex investigations to managing incident response and litigation. The firm offers significant expertise in workplace safety issues arising from COVID-19.

Strengths

“Littler Mendelson is a true OSHA practice.”

“Littler Mendelson has a good reputation with quality lawyers who cover all bases.”

Notable practitioners

Austin-based Steven McCown (see p.637) is co-chair of the firm’s workplace safety and health group. He has a broad labor and employment practice, including significant strength in OSHA and MSHA matters. He is particularly adept at handling citations disputes and investigations arising out of accidents and fatalities in the workplace. Strengths: “He is a founding member of the national OSHA practice and is really well respected.” Alka Ramchandani-Raj (see p.674) is a highly sought-after occupational safety and health attorney with experience guiding clients through inspections and responding to workplace injuries and fatalities. She is based in the firm’s Walnut Creek, California office. Strengths: “Alka provides good advice and counsel and is great at what she does.”

Band 3

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird LLP is a full-service firm with a dedicated occupational safety and health practice. The firm has a strong track record of assisting employers in the wake of an accident, including fatalities. The attorneys also assist clients with OSHA and state law compliance.

Strengths

“Alston & Bird are excellent at analyzing facts and the law and developing litigation strategy.”

“They are very competent and great at translating complexity to various levels of leadership.”

“Alston & Bird possess strong knowledge and experience.”

Notable practitioners

Charles Morgan (see p.647) offers considerable know-how in occupational safety and health, frequently assisting employers on federal and state enforcement matters, as part of his wide-ranging employment practice. Strengths: “Charlie is very knowledgeable on OSHA standards and builds positive relationships with attorneys to resolve matters.” “Charles remains calm in highly stressful interactions. He is very thoughtful and patient in his approach and delivery as well as being accessible, responsive and a valuable resource.” “Charlie is a magnificent lawyer who performs with quality and integrity.”

ArentFox Schiff LLP

What the team is known for ArentFox Schiff LLP is at the forefront of workplace safety and health, frequently assisting employers with OSHA and EPA inspections and enforcement matters. The firm is a go-to for clients in the chemical, manufacturing and construction industries, among others. It is also frequently sought out to provide OSHA training.

Strengths

“ArentFox Schiff are very good overall for workplace safety.”

Work highlights ArentFox Schiff assisted Anheuser-Busch with three inspections conducted by the EPA and subsequent negotiations.

Notable practitioners

Mark Dreux leads the firm’s OSHA group and is known for his impressive track record in high-stakes workplace safety litigation. He acts on behalf of prominent clients in the oil and gas and manufacturing sectors, among others. Strengths: “Mark is an excellent attorney. He is sharp and experienced.” “Mark is a real OSHA stalwart.” Alexandra Romero provides expert counsel to employers and trade associations in a wide array of industries, including manufacturing and energy. She is highly adept at OSHA litigation. Strengths: “Alex is very practical and clear in her guidance.” “She is super helpful, knowledgeable and pragmatic.”

Farley & Partners LLP

What the team is known for Farley & Partners LLP provides expert counsel to natural resources, manufacturing and chemical companies, among others. It is a strong choice to help clients navigate the aftermath of an incident and in dealings with regulators including federal OSHA and the EPA. The firm also helps clients with plan inspections and safety reviews.

Strengths

“Farley & Partners has an incredible leadership team and talented group all around. It’s an extremely responsive and exceptional service.”

“Counsel are well informed on all things OSHA and provide outstanding help with federal and state programs.”

Work highlights Farley & Partners provided Oxy Vinyls with advice on an investigation into the derailment of a train carrying hazardous chemicals in East Palestine.

Notable practitioners

Managing partner Mark Farley is a go-to attorney for incident response and related enforcement matters. Strengths: “Mark is responsive and knowledgeable, for both a quick gut check or a deep dive.” “Mark is an expert in his field and has vast experience handling workplace safety and crisis management matters.” “He produces extraordinary results, has – and is able to develop – great relationships with regulators or investigators, and is thoughtful and creative in his approach to representing his clients.” Devon Downs has developed an impressive workplace safety practice. She is often sought after in the aftermath of a workplace incident, and is particularly active on behalf of clients in the energy and chemical industries. Strengths: “Devon is amazing. She is incredibly knowledgeable of the law and agency processes but she also has good, practical approaches to handling inspections and compliance.” “Devon is smart, creative and hard-working.” “She is a knowledgeable and personable professional.”

Haynes and Boone, LLP

What the team is known for Haynes and Boone’s occupational safety and health department offers nationwide support on all aspects of workplace safety. It routinely provides clients with compliance guidance and strategy as well as supporting companies faced with citations from the various enforcement agencies. The team is particularly experienced in representing retailers and in matters involving chemical exposure.

Strengths

“They are always quick to respond or engage as needed.”

“The Haynes and Boone team are very experienced and pragmatic in their approach to handling complex matters.”

“Haynes and Boone is outstanding. The lawyers are very responsive, practical, pragmatic and they explain issues clearly and give sound advice.”

“Their labor and employment team is deep, client-focused and handles matters with a high degree of professionalism and skill.”

Work highlights Haynes and Boone represented Interline Brands against claims brought by California OSHA regarding a forklift accident in a warehouse.

Notable practitioners

Houston-based Matthew Deffebach is chair of Haynes and Boone’s OSHA and workplace disasters practice. He is called upon to advise employers on workplace safety litigation and compliance. Strengths: “Matt is an absolute superstar.” “Matthew is a strong leader with good vision.”

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP undertakes high-stakes workplace safety mandates as part of its full-service offering. It advises regional and national employers on compliance with federal and state regulations, as well as inspections, citations and other enforcement proceedings. The firm is also noted for its capability in whistle-blower retaliation claims.

Strengths

“They are always responsive and have the ability to pivot at a moment’s notice. Their commercial awareness is on point with our operational needs.”

“They are excellent OSHA practitioners.”

“Holland & Knight’s attorneys are extremely knowledgeable on OSHA regulations, policies and procedures.”

“They are very responsive to any request for assistance when completing a project.”

Work highlights Holland & Knight defended a large manufacturing company against multiple OSHA citations relating to machine guarding practices.

Notable practitioners

Gina Fonte and Howard Sokol are key contacts.

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP has a highly respected labor and employment practice with vast expertise in occupational safety and health matters. The team frequently assists employers with OSHA compliance as well as investigations and citation defense.

Strengths

“Hunton Andrews Kurth is very responsive and gives thorough, well thought-out advice.”

“The quality is always outstanding, being creative in their arguments as well as responsive.”

“They have the resources necessary to properly address a variety of matters.”

Notable practitioners

Susan Wiltsie (see p.735) of Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP acts for employers on the full gamut of workplace safety matters, including COVID-19 compliance, accident investigations and citation contests. Strengths: “Susan is the best and a go-to for occupational safety advice or issues.” “Susan is at the top of her game.” “She is super knowledgeable and creative.” Reilly Moore (see p.646) of Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP has a nationwide practice providing clients with representation in workplace safety matters including defending OSHA citations, compliance assistance and support through investigations. Strengths: “Reilly is creative, smart, quick and very versatile, with good knowledge.” “Reilly is incredible to work with. He is highly responsive and has a great sense of the market and our risk profile.” “Reilly is an excellent OSHA lawyer.”

Jones Walker LLP

What the team is known for Jones Walker LLP is adept at handling OSHA inspections and citations on behalf of employers. The firm acts for clients in the energy and construction sectors, among others. The department also assists clients with developing safety processes and compliance counseling.

Strengths

“We always receive exceptional responsiveness to our needs.”

“Jones Walker are very professional, direct and walk us through every step.”

“They are able to create comprehensive legal strategy for unique situations to achieve favorable outcomes. The team show adaptability and have insights from multiple experts.”

Notable practitioners

Jane Heidingsfelder is a partner in the firm’s New Orleans office. She has strong expertise in OSHA, MSHA and labor and employment matters, including litigation. Strengths: “Jane provides excellent legal guidance and we rely on her expertise in dealing with the various regulatory agencies associated with occupational health and safety.” “Jane’s legal analysis provides a solid foundation. She anticipates potential challenges and proactively develops contingency plans.” “Jane is client service focused and extremely sophisticated.”

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods LLP provides comprehensive counsel on workplace safety issues as part of its respected labor and employment offering. It is a go-to for employers in connection with OSHA compliance, inspections and enforcement. The firm’s clients hail from a wide range of sectors including manufacturing, chemicals, retail and transportation.

Strengths

“McGuireWoods always have someone on their staff who is able to handle the issues we bring, and they are very responsive.”

“McGuireWoods has high-quality lawyers.”

Work highlights Following a release of hydrochloric acid at a Wacker Polysilicon North America facility, McGuireWoods provided counsel on the immediate response and on subsequent investigations.

Notable practitioners

California-based Sabrina Beldner is a key contact.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Greg Dillard (see p.541) is a partner in the firm’s Houston office. He is a distinguished OSHA lawyer with considerable experience in incident response, OSHA investigations and litigation. He frequently represents oil and gas companies.

Strengths: “He is extremely approachable and able to communicate with people throughout our organization.” “Greg has deep background knowledge and is very tenacious negotiating with OSHA.”

“Greg has carved out a unique role as a leader in the process safety industry and is a top lawyer in that area.”

Los Angeles-based Benjamin Kim leads the firm’s occupational safety and health practice. He advises employers on both state and federal-level workplace safety matters, and is particularly well regarded for his Cal/OSHA expertise. He is also well versed in MSHA matters. Strengths: “Benjamin is a talented OSHA lawyer.”

Kenneth Kleinman is a Philadelphia-based senior counsel at Stevens & Lee PC. He is well known for his vast experience in OSHA and employment litigation. Strengths: “Kenneth is an excellent lawyer. He is accessible and the kind of attorney you can call and seek advice from.” “He is a well-respected lawyer who does a good job driving his practice.”

Larry Stine of Wimberly, Lawson, Steckel, Schneider & Stine is a renowned litigator with a wealth of experience in OSHA matters. Strengths: “Larry has an amazing recall of the law that is really impressive.”

Ronald Taylor (see p.1930) of Venable LLP is respected for his expert handling of occupational safety and health matters. Strengths: “Ronald is great all around. He can try cases, judges know him and he is excellent.” “Ronald is an excellent trial OSHA attorney doing top-notch work.” “Ronald is highly respected in the field, is really smart and does sophisticated work.”

Patrick Tyson is an Atlanta-based partner and co-chair of the firm’s workplace safety group. He has a wealth of experience handling OSHA matters as well as whistle-blower and retaliation disputes. Strengths: “Pat’s depth of knowledge, responsiveness and practicality is extremely valuable.”

Offshore Energy Nationwide

Offshore Energy
Leading Firms
Band 1
Bracewell LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Band 2
Blank Rome LLP
Jones Walker LLP
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Liskow
Mayer Brown LLP
Milbank LLP
Perkins Coie LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
White & Case LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Eberhardt Robert Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Ewing Kevin Bracewell LLP *
Kalpin Mark C Holland & Knight LLP
Michael John J. Vinson & Elkins LLP
Ottillar Steven P White & Case LLP *
Papavizas Constantine G Winston & Strawn LLP *
Schneider Janice Latham & Watkins LLP *
Schwartz David L Latham & Watkins LLP *
Band 2
Bradshaw Brian A Sidley Austin LLP *
Goodwine Paul Looper Goodwine P.C. (ORL) ◇
Grauberger Jana Liskow
Koenigsberg Benjamin Y Norton Rose Fulbright (ORL) ◇
Muller Cindy Jones Walker LLP
(Ted) Boling Edward Perkins Coie LLP *
Varnell Danielle Bracewell LLP *
Waldron Jonathan K Blank Rome LLP
Zagar Laura Godfrey Perkins Coie LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Bracewell LLP

What the team is known for Bracewell LLP houses an accomplished group that frequently represents a diverse client base of midstream companies, financial institutions and manufacturers in offshore wind and oil and gas matters. Bracewell's attorneys are experienced with joint ventures and market entry, along with financings of major offshore energy projects. The team is also noted for its strength in guiding clients through the evolving federal regulatory landscape.

Strengths

"Bracewell is among the best nationwide when it comes to renewable energy and offshore wind. They combine commercial awareness with subject matter specialist skill."

"Bracewell has a very strong team and delivers on time, always."

"One of the benefits of Bracewell is the firm is able to leverage colleagues in a variety of departments."

Work highlights Bracewell LLP advised SSE

Renewables on risks associated with its investment strategies in the US offshore wind market in addition to policy developments at the federal and state levels.

Notable practitioners

Kevin Ewing (see p.549) is a go-to attorney with experience in offshore wind as long as the sector is old, having advised on some of the most groundbreaking projects in the space. His clients benefit from his broad environmental and energy knowledge and his particular expertise in permitting work. He regularly works with the largest sector clients to guide them through complex regulatory proceedings. Strengths: "Kevin Ewing is great to work with. He is the best in the industry." "Kevin is a very thoughtful person; he has great legal judgment." "Kevin Ewing is a unique mind in permitting energy projects, particularly offshore wind."

Danielle Varnell (see p.726) is a transactional attorney commended for her work in connection with large generation and storage projects across the energy sector. She is particularly highlighted for her work on joint venture structuring and financing arrangements for companies entering the offshore wind space. Strengths: "Danielle is fantastic both in her legal mind and in her acuity in understanding her counterparty and our goals as an organization." "Danielle Varnell is extremely competent. She is a very confident speaker, very thoughtful and always comes fully prepared."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP has a comprehensive offshore energy practice across oil and gas work, maritime contracting and offshore wind development. The team is particularly noted for its regulatory expertise in the offshore wind sector, with considerable strength in planning, permitting and policy issues. The firm's oil and gas team covers E&P regulatory advice, platform decommissioning and asset sales. The group also advises on all manner of vessel charter, management and services agreements.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight is one of the premier East Coast offshore wind focused firms."

Work highlights Holland & Knight acted as lead federal regulatory counsel to Orsted in connection with the development of six proposed offshore wind projects in the USA.

Notable practitioners

Mark Kalpin is co-lead of the renewable energy team at Holland & Knight. He has a broad projects practice, with notable expertise in the offshore wind space. Kalpin is particularly sought after by clients for his regulatory nous and is well known for his work with large offshore wind developers.

Strengths: "Mark Kalpin is a phenomenal advocate." "Mark knows the industry inside and out."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP is a juggernaut in the offshore energy space, skillfully guiding global clients through both the biggest-ticket transactions and most complex regulatory proceedings. Offering experienced counsel on offshore oil and gas matters and on maritime issues, the firm is particularly highlighted for its pedigree in the offshore wind space. Latham & Watkins' attorneys have advised on joint venture formation, permitting, and project development and finance work for some of the most significant offshore wind projects in the USA.

Strengths

"Latham & Watkins has a broad and deep practice."

"Latham & Watkins has a highly qualified and responsive team. They provide sharp communication and attention to client needs."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins represented proposed floating liquefaction and LNG export project Delfin LNG in connection with regulatory authorizations, commercial contracting and financing.

Notable practitioners

Janice Schneider (see p.693) has decades of experience in energy and environment law working with some of the largest sector clients on high-profile offshore projects. Her clients benefit from the experience she brings as a former Assistant Secretary for Land and Minerals Management. Strengths: "Janice Schneider has deep familiarity with the regulatory processes. She gives good, frank advice and she is incredibly hard-working." "Janice Schneider has been in this space since day one. She is an extremely knowledgeable person." "Janice Schneider is one of the preeminent experts on all things regulatory. She has a stellar reputation among a broad range of stakeholders."

David Schwartz (see p.694) is an accomplished and highly regarded attorney particularly well known for his electricity regulatory practice. He is highlighted for his experience advising large offshore wind companies on the complex regulatory environment they face when seeking to enter the space in the USA. Strengths: "It is the commercial knowledge and the attention David Schwartz offers that brings about the best outcomes." "David Schwartz is very much recognized for his FERC strength."

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP is a leading firm in the offshore energy space, offering clients a full-service practice and near unparalleled depth of experience in the energy sector, particularly on the oil and gas side. The firm excels in work at the confluence of maritime and energy work, with considerable abilities in admiralty litigation. Vinson & Elkins' attorneys are notable for their work pertaining to FPSO, FLNG and other offshore facilities as well as taking on supply vessel and offshore wind-related matters.

Strengths

"Vinson & Elkins is a full-service law firm with expertise in the energy space from production to finished product. The firm's partner quality is top notch and it has smart associate talent in the ranks."

"Vinson & Elkins are the best at keeping their focus on the ultimate business goal and delivering quality results on time."

"The Vinson & Elkins team is able to accommodate multiple large transactions simultaneously. The team is incredibly timely and responsive.”

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins represented Enterprise Products Partners in matters relating to the development of a crude oil export terminal to be located offshore of the USA.

Notable practitioners

John Michael is a name synonymous with offshore energy. He practices at the intersection of maritime and energy work, counseling clients on a broad array of transactions and disputes. He regularly advises on complex terminaling and oil-field services matters as well as contracting work for offshore production assets. He is particularly notable for his considerable admiralty expertise, frequently appearing before the US Coast Guard and other agencies. Strengths: “John Michael is our number one choice for energy commercial transactions. He is a superb, careful and accomplished attorney on many levels.” “John Michael has a versatile practice and he is practical and commercial in his thought process.” “John Michael is able to handle a wide variety of projects with a deep knowledge and skill set that enables deals to get done promptly and with an exceptional degree of quality.”

Band 2

Blank Rome LLP

What the team is known for Blank Rome LLP leverages its exceptional maritime practice to service clients in the offshore energy space. The team offers clients expertise in joint venture formation and regulatory matters relating to the manning of offshore energy projects and related vessels.

Strengths

“Blank Rome performs at the highest level of professionalism and excellence. The team is meticulous and talented.”

“Blank Rome’s strength is their depth of knowledge and familiarity with the industry. The firm also provides excellent customer service.”

Work highlights Blank Rome advised U.S. Wind on Jones Act and maritime law issues relating to development of its offshore wind project off the coast of Maryland.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Waldron brings his considerable maritime expertise to bear in complex regulatory matters for clients in the offshore wind space. He is particularly notable for his knowledge of the Jones Act and background in the Coast Guard. Strengths: “Jonathan is recognized as a voice in the maritime community operating at the highest level.” “Jonathan Waldron is an expert in the area of the Jones Act. He is very responsive and has very high commercial awareness.” “Jonathan Waldron is very good on the intricacies of federal maritime law and he has good connections in DC.”

Jones Walker LLP

What the team is known for Jones Walker LLP is recognized as a go-to firm for offshore energy work in the USA. The team acts for an array of notable energy clients, including oil and gas majors and power companies, on transactional and regulatory matters.

Strengths

“Jones Walker always has the resources I need, whether it is the simple matters or a major legal battle.”

“The Jones Walker team will work all night long and understands our business.”

Notable practitioners

Cindy Muller is cochair of the offshore wind group at the firm. She has a wide-ranging transactional practice and particular expertise at the junction of energy and maritime work. She is markedly knowledgeable of issues affecting offshore services companies. Strengths: “Cindy is always available and provides good practical advice. She is good at getting to the heart of the matter.” “Cindy Muller has a strong technical mind.”

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis LLP is home to a huge energy team able to turn its hand to large and sophisticated transactions in the offshore energy space. Kirkland & Ellis’s attorneys work with multinational corporations and investment management companies on big-ticket financings, business formations and acquisitions in the offshore space. The group is active across both the oil and gas and offshore wind sectors.

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised Global Infrastructure Partners on its $18.4 billion investment in Rio Grande LNG, a joint venture with TotalEnergies, NextDecade, GIC and Mubadala Investment Company.

Notable practitioners

Robert Eberhardt (see p.546) is a highly regarded attorney commended for his work in renewable project financing. He has experience ably managing debt financing arrangements for industry-leading offshore wind generation projects in the USA. Strengths: “Robert Eberhardt provides outstanding guidance.”

Liskow

What the team is known for Liskow demonstrates particular expertise in the offshore oil and gas space. The firm acts for a variety of clients, including major oil and gas companies and private equity funds. Its lawyers have wide-ranging experience across disputes, compliance and lease work.

Strengths

“Liskow know the offshore industry and its key players.”

“Liskow’s attorneys are able to assimilate a significant amount of information and provide succinct and helpful advice on the most complex of issues. You do not get the pure legal answer but one that is balanced with the commercial realities of the business.”

“Liskow are super attentive and super focused on what we need as a company.”

Notable practitioners

Jana Grauberger is an energy attorney with significant experience in the offshore oil and gas sector. She is particularly well known for her expertise in leasing work. Grauberger is further noted for advising clients engaged in offshore wind development. Strengths: “Jana is great to work with. She is very knowledgeable, has good business acumen and is a good listener.” “Jana is a superb lawyer with deep expertise in Gulf of Mexico matters. She is attentive, practical and acts as a true partner to her clients.” “Jana has decades of experience in litigation in respect to offshore energy.” “Jana has incredible knowledge of BOEM.” “Jana Grauberger is one of the most knowledgeable and capable lawyers in her field. She consistently provides us with on-point and timely advice on a variety of matters.”

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP has a strong offering in the offshore energy sector, drawing on its considerable expertise in renewable project financing and development work. The team is well placed to advise energy companies and financing parties.

Work highlights Mayer Brown represented Progress Resources USA, a US affiliate of PETRONAS, in connection with the development of the Monument Field oil and gas project offshore in the US Gulf of Mexico.

Notable practitioners

Paul Astolfi is a key contact.

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank LLP is widely appreciated as one of the leading energy project finance firms in the nation. The team’s broad-based project capability extends to the offshore wind space in which Milbank has featured in some of the largest capital raises and transactions in the sector. The firm’s practitioners are particularly well known for their representation of lending parties.

Strengths

“Milbank is a first-rate finance firm.”

“Milbank is at the cutting edge of financing structures.”

“Milbank has an incredible project finance team.”

Notable practitioners

Allan Marks in Los Angeles is a key contact.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie LLP is highlighted for its considerable practice in the offshore wind space. The team is well known for its regulatory expertise with particular acumen in securing environmental approvals, as well as handling siting and permitting work for large projects. The firm also manages policy-related work for major sector clients.

Strengths

“The Perkins team has deep expertise and a strong ability to make that expertise usable to non-experts.”

“Perkins Coie are very strong at presenting and explaining very complex nuances of US laws.”

“Perkins Coie’s focus on client relationships stands out.”

Work highlights Perkins Coie provided counsel on permitting and environmental review to Invenenergy in connection with the development of the company’s Leading Light Wind project in the New York Bight.

Notable practitioners

Ted Boling (see p.717) is a well-known attorney commended for his NEPA expertise. He advises entrant companies on regulatory issues pertaining to the development of new offshore wind assets. Strengths: “Ted Boling has really strong communication and influencing skills.” “Ted is super smart, he knows everything and he has great connections.” “Ted Boling clearly knows the national regulatory scheme and he is very good at offering practical advice.” Laura Zagar (see p.740) has significant expertise across the environment and energy issues affecting energy companies in the offshore wind space. She is sought after for her particular knowledge of floating wind power developments. Strengths: “Laura is one of the best when it comes to client development.” “Laura Zagar has a broad scope to her work and she is uniquely personable. She builds relationships and trust.”

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP is a go-to resource for large energy and infrastructure companies developing offshore wind projects in the USA. The team is well placed to handle permitting and environmental challenges to large projects as well as big-ticket transactions. Sidley Austin is further noted for its expertise in maritime terminaling and offshore LNG-related issues. Work highlights Sidley Austin represented China National Oil and Gas Exploration and Development Company in its participation, through its Brazilian subsidiary, in the development and production of the Búzios field in Brazil.

Notable practitioners

Brian Bradshaw (see p.511) impresses for his work representing clients in the oil and gas sector. He is experienced in handling transactions, financing and commercial agreements in connection with significant offshore exploration in jurisdictions around the world. Strengths: “Brian Bradshaw is truly an energy expert.”

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP has a respected offshore energy practice and regularly advises clients on complex joint ventures, financings and asset sales in the space. The team is highly regarded for counseling energy companies engaged in both wind and oil and gas offshore energy projects in jurisdictions throughout Africa and Latin America.

Strengths

“White & Case has a deep bench with people who understand this area and adjacent areas.”

“The White & Case team is attuned to detail while staying commercial.”

“White & Case is a go-to firm for everything international. The team is very, very knowledgeable and its client service is amazing.”

Work highlights White & Case represented Chevron with the development of offshore oil and gas fields located in the maritime border between Cameroon and Equatorial Guinea.

Notable practitioners

Steven Otilar (see p.659) has tremendous expertise in offshore energy work, with decades of experience representing clients engaged in significant projects in the USA, Latin America and further afield. Clients benefit from his fluency in both Spanish and English. Strengths: “We like using Steven Otilar because he is so efficient and knowledgeable on offshore issues.” “Steven is excellent to deal with. He has been in numerous negotiations before.”

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn LLP is recommended for its extensive offering in the offshore space, most notably for its Jones Act and broader maritime expertise. The firm also counsels clients on project development, finance and transactional matters. The team is also noted for its frequent representation of offshore energy clients before regulatory bodies.

Strengths

“Winston & Strawn respond to questions quickly and execute plans of action without delay.”

“The Winston & Strawn team has an impressive understanding of maritime legal issues in the offshore wind space.”

“Winston & Strawn is a top maritime practice. Its attorneys are well versed in federal maritime law.”

Work highlights Winston & Strawn represented American Petroleum Institute in offshore energy matters including in respect to pending offshore manning legislation.

Notable practitioners

Constantine Papavizas (see p.661) is a hugely respected figure in the maritime space with market-leading expertise in Jones Act matters. He provides wise shipping and admiralty counsel to clients involved in the offshore wind industry. Strengths: “Mr. Papavizas is an expert in the field and very easy to work with.” “Constantine Papavizas is an impressive jurist, scholar and commercial thinker.” “Constantine is extremely experienced and knowledgeable on offshore developments.” “Constantine Papavizas is the godfather of the Jones Act.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

Paul Goodwine of Looper Goodwine P.C. is well thought of for his expertise in offshore energy matters, particularly regulatory issues relating to BOEM. Based in New Orleans, Goodwine is most active for clients operating in the Gulf of Mexico. Strengths: “Paul is an expert on regulatory matters involving BOEM. He has deep experience and contacts.”

Benjamin Koenigsberg of Norton Rose Fulbright is highly skilled in offshore energy matters in particular wind, LNG and natural gas. He has significant experience in related financing matters, project development and sales. Strengths: “Benjamin Koenigsberg is very knowledgeable.”

Oil & Gas Litigation Nationwide

Band 1

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. has a preeminent oil and gas litigation practice providing expert representation to multinational companies, service companies, shale play independents and investors. Offers enviable strength in high-stakes multidistrict and class action litigation arising from exploration, production and transportation activities, particularly in the context of horizontal drilling. Capable of handling disputes involving leases and royalty payments, as well as alleged breaches of contract, joint operating and joint development agreements.

Strengths

“Baker Botts has a very deep bench of exceedingly competent attorneys.”

“Baker Botts’s service and responsiveness is first rate.”

Work highlights Baker Botts represented Southwestern Energy in litigation relating to historical and ongoing exploration and production activities in the Haynesville shale play in North Louisiana.

Notable practitioners

William Kroger (see p.614) is an esteemed attorney with considerable expertise handling lease, contract and broader oil and gas industry disputes concerning the exploration, production and transportation of oil and gas. Strengths: “William Kroger is great to work with. He is very knowledgeable and responsive.” “William Kroger really understands the law. He has an eye toward trial and he knows what he needs to win a case.” Louis Larrisson (see p.618) is highly regarded for his work in oil and gas litigation. He frequently advises investors, operators, service companies and refineries on a broad array of disputes arising from exploration and production activities. Strengths: “Louis is very good at developing relationships with clients and putting them at ease in stressful situations.” “Louis is a great advocate.” Jason Newman

Oil & Gas Litigation
Leading Firms
Band 1
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Band 2
BakerHostetler LLP
Bracewell LLP
Haynes and Boone, LLP
Hogan Thompson Schuelke LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
K&L Gates
Norton Rose Fulbright
Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Yetter Coleman LLP
Band 3
Davis, Gerald & Cremer, P.C.
Holland & Hart LLP
Kelly Hart & Hallman LLP
King & Spalding LLP
McAfee & Taft
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

(see p.653) has considerable expertise in handling complex litigation arising from horizontal drilling, including lease termination and royalty payment issues as well as surface use and joint operating agreement disputes. Strengths: “Jason Newman has a real understanding of the business and is practical in his thinking. He cuts to the issues that matter.” Amy Hefley (see p.3232) is recognized for her strong litigation practice and offers particular expertise in the oil and gas sector. Strengths: “Amy is a terrific, careful lawyer who provides smart advice.” Aaron Streett (see p.3271) expertly handles oil and gas royalty class actions as part of his wider appellate and commercial litigation practice. Strengths: “Aaron Streett is a brilliant legal mind.” “Aaron is a fantastic attorney. He argues the most important motions and writes the most important briefs.” Tina Nguyen (see p.654) is sought after for her strength in breach of contract and royalty disputes in the oil and gas sector. Strengths: “Tina is amazing in her attention to detail. The way she presents arguments provides a superb benefit.”

Band 2

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler LLP offers representation to upstream companies active in all major US oil and gas basins. Particularly noted for expertise pertaining to exploration and production on public lands. Handles lease disputes, joint operating agreement issues and other contract litigation.

Strengths

“BakerHostetler’s expertise in federal permitting issues is top notch, and the team is very responsive to varied questions and concerns of all sizes.” “BakerHostetler has excellent understanding of royalty and leasing regulations and laws and policies that impact our issues and litigation.”

Work highlights BakerHostetler represented

Oil & Gas Litigation
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Donovan Daniel T. Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Haynes Craig A. Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP*
Hogan Christopher Hogan Thompson Schuelke LLP*
King Jeffrey C. K&L Gates*
Kroger William Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Leggette L. Poe BakerHostetler LLP*
McClure Daniel M. Norton Rose Fulbright*
McConn Timothy Yetter Coleman LLP
Pierce Jesse Pierce & O’Neill, LLP (ORL) ◇*
Stahl Craig Haynes and Boone, LLP
Thompson James D. Vinson & Elkins LLP
Tiblets Elizabeth K&L Gates*
Vartabedian Robert Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP*
Band 2
Barron Mark S. BakerHostetler LLP*
Binns Gregory D. Holland & Knight LLP
Brown Reagan Norton Rose Fulbright*
Crain Stephen B. Bracewell LLP*
Layrisson Louis “Louie” Baker Botts L.L.P.*
McElvy Meghan Bradley Arant Boult Cummings (ORL) ◇
Newman Jason Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Scheffler Michelle Skadden, Arps, Slate (ORL) ◇*
Snyder Bagnell Nicole R. Reed Smith LLP (ORL) ◇
Stammel Matthew R. Vinson & Elkins LLP
Thompson Samantha Hogan Thompson Schuelke LLP*
Zeve Andrew White & Case LLP (ORL) ◇
Band 3
Ammons David Haynes and Boone, LLP
Clinton Ryan Davis, Gerald & Cremer, P.C.
Cruse Sam Gibbs & Bruns LLP (ORL) ◇*
Curry Greg W. Holland & Knight LLP
Hefley Amy Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Hester Conrad Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP*
Nareish Ragan Kirkland & Ellis*
Rodriguez Mark Beck Redden LLP (ORL) ◇*
Rotman Anna Kirkland & Ellis LLP*
Ryan Thomas C. K&L Gates*
Streett Aaron Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Sutphin, Jr. Robert J. Holland & Hart LLP
Thompson Joe Porter Hedges LLP (ORL) ◇*
Whitman W Ray BakerHostetler LLP*
Woods Robert Yetter Coleman LLP
Up-and-coming individuals
Allison Alix Dean Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP*
Martin Garrett Haynes and Boone, LLP
Nguyen Tina Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Shum Nicholas Nathaniel Vinson & Elkins LLP
Young Kenneth A. Kirkland & Ellis LLP*

Ovintiv in pursuing a federal oil and gas royalty dispute with the Office of Natural Resources Revenue.

Notable practitioners

Poe Leggette (see p.619) has a strong track record assisting clients with disputes and class actions in connection with royalty calculation, payments and cost deductions as well as audits by state and federal agencies. Strengths: “Poe is extremely knowledgeable, well connected and knows what needs to be accomplished to get a job done.” “Not only does Mr. Leggette have a deep knowledge of the laws governing the federal leasing system, but he is also practical and candid with you about the best way to approach an issue.” “Poe is an excellent attorney and a great critical thinker.” Mark Barron (see p.1124) focuses his practice on representing oil and gas sector clients in complex litigation. His experience includes royalty and lease disputes. Strengths: “Mr. Barron is smart, sensible and able to get to the root of an issue quickly.” “The breadth of Mark’s DOJ experience gives him a strong perspective and knowledge base.” “Mark is able to distill information quickly and put a case on the path to settlement very early.” Ray Whitman (see p.734) is a strong choice for clients active in the oil and gas sector seeking expert representation in litigation. Strengths: “Ray Whitman is excellent from a strategy standpoint and is likable and persuasive with the court.”

Bracewell LLP

What the team is known for Bracewell LLP has a highly regarded oil and gas litigation practice able to handle complex royalty and lease disputes as well as breach of contract litigation. Affords energy companies equally capable representation as both defendants and plaintiffs.

Strengths

“Bracewell are consistently able to handle any issue we throw at them. From the associate level to the managing partner level, the attorneys are knowledgeable and experienced.” “Bracewell provides fantastic client service.” “Bracewell has the full spectrum of expertise needed.”

Work highlights Bracewell represented Hilcorp Energy Company in a royalty class action lawsuit. The plaintiffs alleged that Hilcorp mispaid royalties on produced natural gas that was used as fuel for post-production off-lease processing and treating operations.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Crain (see p.3211) is a highly regarded attorney who serves as chair of the firm’s litigation group. He represents a broad array of energy clients including developers, producers and suppliers in high-stakes sector-specific disputes. Strengths: “I cannot speak highly enough of Stephen’s writing ability and understanding of our business.” “Stephen is very good at putting things in perspective. He brings a wealth of experience to different matters.” “In addition to being a good lawyer, Stephen Crain has a keen business sense.”

Haynes and Boone, LLP

What the team is known for Haynes and Boone, LLP is a respected Texas firm recognized for representing large energy companies in high-stakes litigation. Deftly handles royalty class actions, breach of contract disputes and other contentious issues arising in the exploration and production sector.

Strengths

“The Haynes and Boone team is extremely sophisticated, responsive and collegial.” “Haynes and Boone’s deep bench and their understanding of our business and the legal landscape make the firm a great partner in complex matters.” “Haynes and Boone provides impeccable client service and responsiveness.”

Work highlights Haynes and Boone acted for Ovintiv in a putative class action alleging improper post-production royalty deductions on more than 22,000 leases in Oklahoma.

Notable practitioners

Craig Stahl is an experienced trial lawyer capable of assisting clients with the full spectrum of upstream oil and gas disputes, including class actions and multidistrict litigation concerning royalty payments and lease rights. Strengths: “Craig Stahl is particularly good at client service.” David Ammons has a strong litigation practice with expertise in the oil and gas space. His experience includes lease and royalty disputes. Strengths: “David Ammons is an excellent lawyer and leader.” “David is a true full-scope adviser and attorney.”

Garrett Martin is an associate experienced across an array of litigation in the oil and gas sector. Strengths: “Garrett has a strong understanding of the oil and gas industry and royalty disputes.” “Garrett provides sound advice on complex and sophisticated legal issues.” “Garrett Martin is a master technician in royalty calculations.”

Hogan Thompson Schuelke LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Thompson Schuelke LLP is an impressive boutique handling a range of oil litigation. The team's expertise covers breach of contract, mineral rights, leases and title disputes. The firm is regularly sought out to represent top-tier clients in the sector.

Strengths

“Hogan Thompson provides excellent legal analysis and prompt communication.”

“Hogan Thompson have a wide breadth of legal knowledge.”

“The firm's greatest skill is taking the complex and presenting it to judge or jury in a manner that is cogent and persuasive.”

Work highlights Hogan Thompson Schuelke represented El Dorado Gas & Oil in a jury trial versus Energy Transfer. It was claimed El Dorado's oil and gas assets were damaged by Energy Transfer injections of hydrogen sulfide in a nearby facility.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Hogan (see p.586) has considerable commercial and energy litigation expertise. He has particular strengths in mineral rights disputes including pooling and commingling, ownership and royalty payment issues. Strengths: “Christopher is a knowledgeable lawyer and a fantastic trial advocate.” “Christopher Hogan is very impressive. His knowledge of litigation in the upstream oil and gas market is deep.” Samantha Thompson (see p.718) represents an array of oil and gas companies in sector-specific litigation including title and royalty disputes. Strengths: “Samantha is an amazing counselor and strategist.” “Samantha is fantastic – competent, thorough and a real encyclopedia of knowledge.”

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP has a highly regarded litigation team offering extensive expertise in complex litigation arising from exploration and production activities in the upstream oil and gas space. Possesses experience spanning royalty, contract, title and lease disputes involving shale plays. Further strength in a range of contractual matters, including alleged breaches of joint development and joint operating agreements.

Notable practitioners

Gregory Binns has a strong track record of representing clients across the sector in high-stakes litigation arising from exploration and production activities. He provides expert handling of contract, title, royalty and lease disputes involving mineral rights. Strengths: “Gregory Binns is really good at thinking of novel ideas and other ways we can keep our end goal in sight.” Greg Curry has significant experience in oil and gas litigation and expertly handles cases pertaining to issues of royalty payments and breach of contract.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is commended for its representation of energy companies across a range of significant disputes. Manages breach of contract and royalty disputes for many of the largest companies active in the upstream sector.

Strengths

“Kirkland & Ellis has a huge team that is able to help us with any of our litigations needs, including very big matters.”

“You feel with Kirkland you are getting the best possible advice. Everything is incredibly well thought out.”

“Kirkland & Ellis has a talented team of trial lawyers that can handle high-pressure matters.”

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis successfully defended EQT Corporation in a class action alleging that EQT's subsidiary, Rice Drilling, had trespassed on the properties of more than 1,200 landowners in Ohio when it produced natural gas from its properties.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Donovan has substantial expertise in oil and gas industry litigation. He manages disputes over breach of contract and lease termination, royalty payments and allegations of failure to operate and improper cost deduction. Strengths: “Daniel Donovan is exceptionally good in court and always has the big picture in mind.” “Daniel Donovan has a breadth of knowledge in the area and his work product is excellent.” Ragan Naresh (see p.651) regularly handles disputes arising in the oil and gas sector. He has experience in lease, nuisance and royalty litigation. Strengths: “Ragan Naresh is very responsive and very sharp. I am impressed with his trial practice.” Anna Rotman (see p.3264)'s oil and gas litigation practice covers breach of contract and royalty disputes. Strengths: “Anna Rotman is a great litigator.” Kenneth Young (see p.740) assists clients with oil and gas disputes as part of his wider litigation practice. His experience includes lease breaches and royalty issues.

K&L Gates

What the team is known for K&L Gates has a highly experienced litigation practice with a roster of accomplished trial lawyers that counts oil and gas multinationals, producers, marketing companies and pipelines among its client base. Frequently called upon to handle class actions and multidistrict litigation at trial and appellate levels. Possesses considerable strength in disputes arising from drilling and hydraulic fracturing, including calculation and payment of royalties and alleged breach of leases and contracts.

Strengths

“K&L Gates is particularly well suited to handle complex and sophisticated issues. They have the knowledge and resources to tackle any matter.”

“The strength of K&L Gates lies in their extensive knowledge and deep understanding of litigation. Their combined expertise makes the firm formidable in oil and gas litigation.”

“The K&L Gates team is deep and broad. It has attorneys licensed in almost every state, and the firm can handle almost any matter I send its way.”

Work highlights K&L Gates defended Enterprise Products Partners against claims from several landowners of alleged hydrological impact arising from pipeline construction and operations.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey King (see p.608) is a strong choice for multiplaintiff and class action disputes concerning the calculation and payment of royalties as well as breach of contract claims, particularly in the upstream and midstream spaces. Strengths: “Jeffrey King is very sharp.” Elizabeth Tiblets (see p.719) offers expert representation to multinational oil and gas clients in high-stakes litigation at district and Supreme Court levels. She has considerable experience across a broad array of oil and gas disputes, with particular strengths in royalty class actions. Strengths: “Elizabeth Tiblets is very helpful, responsive and practical.” Thomas Ryan (see p.2977) earns plaudits for his handling of energy litigation matters including large class actions. Ryan is frequently instructed by clients operating in the Marcellus and Utica shale plays. Strengths: “Thomas's dedication to his clients is truly second to none.” “Thomas Ryan takes a practical approach to legal matters and is mindful of potential commercial implications when proposing litigation decisions.” “Thomas is able to get to the core of issues quickly.”

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright represents energy producers, oilfield services providers and refining operators among other well-known clients active across the oil and gas sector. The firm demonstrates significant capabilities in multidistrict class action litigation.

Strengths

“Norton Rose has a great deal of expertise and the team is very responsive.”

“The Norton Rose team is lovely to work with. They do not over-lawyer matters and have a deep passion for the work they do.”

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright served as lead counsel to EOG Resources in defense of two class royalty class actions brought in Oklahoma and Wyoming.

Notable practitioners

Daniel McClure (see p.637) has a strong track record of representing oil and gas clients in a range of complex litigation. He regularly handles breach of contract, lease and royalty disputes.

Strengths: “Daniel McClure has a vast knowledge of the subject matter.” “Daniel is great at explaining very complex matters of law to not just in-house counsel but also various other business professionals.” “Daniel McClure is really good at giving me an overall strategy view and I feel confident that he is looking under every rock and making sure we explore everything.” Reagan Brown (see p.3204) is recognized for his skills as a litigator at both trial and appellate levels. He is highly regarded for his deft handling of royalty litigation and other oil and gas sector disputes. Strengths: “Reagan is highly engaging with juries.” “Reagan Brown is a smart guy and very polished.” “Reagan Brown has a lot of royalty litigation experience.”

Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP

What the team is known for Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP is a Fort Worth-based litigation boutique focused on the oil and gas sector. The firm handles litigation stemming from industry-specific contracts for a range of market participants. The team's expertise includes complex lease, royalty and title disputes.

Notable practitioners

Craig Haynes (see p.580) has a strong track record of handling high-stakes disputes arising from shale plays, including pooling and utilization issues, royalty payments and breach of contract allegations. Strengths: “Craig Haynes is a great lawyer.” Robert Vartabedian (see p.726) has particular strength in disputes arising from contested ownership of oil and gas lease rights and alleged breaches of contract and joint operating agreements. Strengths: “Robert is a fantastic courtroom lawyer who is always a step ahead of the other side.” “Robert Vartabedian really understands the subject matter and is exceptional in the courtroom.” Conrad Hester (see p.583) demonstrates expertise across all manner of upstream sector disputes. He handles access and damage, royalty and lease termination litigation. Strengths: “Conrad is a terrific, whip-smart lawyer.” “Conrad Hester is particularly adept at formulating the legal framework within which to analyze a case.” “Conrad is super creative and strategic. He really understands the law.” Alix Dean Allison (see p.490) is recognized for her able counsel on a host of oil and gas disputes. Strengths: “Alix is exceptional. She is thoughtful and attentive to detail.”

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP offers outstanding representation in the most complex and high-stakes litigation in the oil and gas industry, with substantial prowess in multi-plaintiff and class action litigation arising from shale play development. A strong choice for clients facing challenging disputes involving joint development, joint operating and surface use agreements. Further strength advising on ownership, royalty payment and lease obligation issues in connection with mineral rights. Capable of representing clients across the life cycle of litigation, including at trial, appellate and Supreme Court levels.

Strengths

“Vinson & Elkins’ service levels and responsiveness exceed high expectations. The team also has an outstanding grasp of underlying commercial drivers and dynamics.”

“Vinson & Elkins’ lawyers are very knowledgeable about the energy industry and are very solution-oriented and practical in their approach.”

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins represented QEP in a lawsuit brought by non-operators under two joint operating agreements.

Notable practitioners

James Thompson has decades of experience handling trials and appeals across the oil and gas sector. Clients benefit from his technical knowledge as a former petroleum engineer. He co-heads the litigation and regulation department, and deftly handles disputes and arbitrations arising from issues such as breach of gas supply contracts and joint development agreements. Strengths: “James is smart and experienced and can go in front of a jury and relate to them.” “James Thompson’s judgment is impressive.” Matthew Stammel is head of the firm’s energy litigation practice group and has considerable expertise in oil and gas industry disputes involving complex issues, particularly arising from exploration and drilling activity. He has particular strength in advising on litigation concerning joint development, joint operating and surface use agreements. Strengths: “Matthew Stammel’s advice is logical and thoughtful.” “Matthew brings to the table an incredible amount of practicality. He remains cool, calm and collected.” “Matthew Stammel is very smart and very reasonable to deal with.” Nicholas Shum centers his practice on representing upstream and midstream sector clients in litigation. Strengths: “Nicholas is an excellent lawyer who provides timely and practical legal advice.”

Yetter Coleman LLP

What the team is known for Yetter Coleman LLP deftly handles the full range of disputes affecting companies operating in the upstream space. Provides adroit representation in breach of contract, trespass and royalty disputes. Notable for also counseling energy-sector private equity firms and portfolio companies.

Strengths

“Yetter Coleman are very diligent, and the team understands oil and gas overall very well.”

“Yetter Coleman’s client service is exceptional and the team is very strategic in positioning cases.”

“Yetter Coleman do a very good job of taking a huge amount of information and synthesizing it.”

Work highlights Yetter Coleman successfully represented Apache at the Texas Supreme Court after plaintiffs accused the company of breaching three purchase-and-sale agreements.

Notable practitioners

Timothy McConn is a skilled litigator who represents major oil and gas clients in a range of disputes. He handles high-value breach of contract claims and royalty class actions. Strengths: “Timothy McConn is very thoughtful and is excellent in the courtroom.” “Timothy McConn is a very, very good trial lawyer.” Robert Woods is noted for his impressive oil and gas litigation practice, which covers royalty class actions, nuisance claims and disputes arising from breach of supply contracts. Strengths: “Robert Woods is very well versed in oil and gas law.” “Robert Woods is very thorough and very knowledgeable on oil and gas issues.” “Robert Woods is a really sharp litigator.”

Band 3

Davis, Gerald & Cremer, P.C.

What the team is known for Davis, Gerald & Cremer, P.C. is well thought of for its oil and gas litigation practice. Operating out of offices in Midland and Austin, the firm is frequently called upon for litigation relating to activities in the Permian basin. The team’s expertise includes operator/non-operator disputes, lease disputes and royalty disputes at the district court and appellate court levels.

Notable practitioners

Ryan Clinton is known for his oil and gas appellate litigation practice. He has featured in cases heard at the Court of Appeal and Texas Supreme Court in matters concerning leases and royalties.

Strengths: “Ryan Clinton is fantastic.” “Ryan is a really sharp and insightful attorney.”

Holland & Hart LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Hart LLP is well regarded for its work in oil and gas litigation in the Western USA. Its well-resourced team has experience in matters concerning surface and title disputes, royalty litigation and contract disputes, among others.

Strengths

“In terms of western oil and gas litigation, Holland & Hart is a premier firm.”

“Holland & Hart has a depth of experience in the west of the country.”

Notable practitioners

Robert Sutphin is recognized for his substantial expertise in oil and gas disputes. He has notable experience in joint operating agreement disputes and royalty cases, including class action matters.

Strengths: “Robert is a high-quality lawyer. He truly understands complex class action arguments.”

Kelly Hart & Hallman LLP

What the team is known for Kelly Hart & Hallman LLP’s broad oil and gas litigation practice is called upon by notable oil and gas operators and producers. The team is known for its expertise in matters including royalty disputes, including class actions, operating agreement disputes, and trespass, lease and mineral issues.

Strengths

“Kelly Hart & Hallman are very knowledgeable in this area of law.”

“Kelly Hart is our go-to counsel for practical advice.”

Notable practitioners

William Burford is a key contact within the firm.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP offers adroit counsel across a range of sophisticated litigation. Often handles large-scale multi-district class actions. The firm has an impressive client base including multiple large publicly traded oil and gas producers.

Notable practitioners

Charles Correll is a key contact.

McAfee & Taft

What the team is known for McAfee & Taft is frequently turned to by prominent clients for oil and gas litigation matters, especially concerning issues in Oklahoma. The team is known for its able handling of a range of mandates including royalty class action matters, trespass cases and contractual disputes.

Notable practitioners

Timothy Bomhoff is a key contact.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Sam Cruse (see p.534) of Gibbs & Bruns LLP handles litigation for an array of oil and gas companies, including breach of contract disputes.

Strengths: "Sam is well organized, focused and easy to work with." "Sam is very strategic, smart and tough in negotiations and in the courtroom."

Meghan McElvy of Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP is a go-to attorney for clients facing high-stakes and complex disputes in the oil and gas space. She is particularly capable of assisting with legal and operational issues arising from shale development. Her litigation experience spans alleged breaches of leases, contracts and royalty obligations as well as joint operating and joint development agreements. Strengths: "Meghan McElvy is very capable and professional." "Meghan is very detail-oriented. She also has sound judgment and is a good trial lawyer."

Jesse Pierce (see p.668) of Pierce & O'Neill, LLP draws on his significant experience to adeptly represent clients in complex oil and gas litigation. Strengths: "Jesse Pierce is one of the deans of the Bar. He is very knowledgeable." "Jesse interfaces with the court very well. He is very polished."

Mark Rodriguez (see p.682) of Beck Redden LLP is experienced in a range of disputes, including royalty class action matters and significant commercial litigation fought between oil and gas interests. Strengths: "Mark is very able and knowledgeable." "Mark Rodriguez is really good at royalty class action cases." "Mark Rodriguez is very talented."

Michelle Scheffler (see p.692) of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom & Affiliates is noted for her work defending major oil companies in royalty litigation, contract violation and cost disputes.

Strengths: "Michelle is exceptionally talented. She has instant credibility with the judge and jurors."

"Michelle Scheffler is a very skilled trial attorney and is very business-oriented." "Michelle Scheffler is an extremely knowledgeable and confident trial attorney and leader." "Michelle is a fantastic writer. She prepares really excellent, comprehensive memos and briefs."

Nicolle Snyder Bagnell of Reed Smith LLP has notable oil and gas litigation experience, including representing clients in royalty class actions and contract disputes. Her class action-focused practice extends to lease and subsurface rights ownership issues.

Joe Thompson (see p.718) of Porter Hedges LLP focuses his litigation practice on the oil and gas space, handling royalty, cost and title disputes, as well as issues arising from exploration.

Strengths: "Joe is super smart but also great at describing things in a very relatable way."

Andrew Zeve of White & Case LLP is highly capable across a variety of oil and gas litigation, including breach of contract and title disputes.

Outsourcing Nationwide

Outsourcing	Outsourcing
Leading Firms	Senior Statespeople
Band 1	Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP	Alberg James L Pillsbury
Mayer Brown LLP	Kimball George Wiggins and Dana LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Pillsbury
Band 2	Leading Individuals
Baker McKenzie	Band 1
DLA Piper LLP (US)	Guedry David N McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Loeb & Loeb LLP	Helms Shawn C McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Hirshman Neil S Kirkland & Ellis*
Band 3	Melby Barbara Murphy Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP	Nordahl Stephen D Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton	Oser Aaron M Pillsbury
Kirkland & Ellis	Peterson Brad L Mayer Brown LLP*
Morrison Foerster	Stern Akiba Loeb & Loeb LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright	Band 2
Wiggins and Dana LLP	Adler Kenneth A Loeb & Loeb LLP
Band 4	Finkel Robert WilmerHale (ORL) ◇
Covington & Burling LLP	Hansen Edward J Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough
Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP	Hanson Vivian L Morrison Foerster*
	Heaphy Mark Wiggins and Dana LLP
	Krieser Jason D McDermott Will & Emery LLP
	Peters William J Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
	Sanchez Vincent DLA Piper LLP (US)*
	Band 3
	Andrews Jeffrey B Bracewell LLP (ORL) ◇*
	Barton John L Pillsbury
	Chernichaw Adam A&O Shearman (ORL) ◇*
	Christy Sean D Norton Rose Fulbright
	Fisher Todd A King & Fisher (ORL) ◇
	Ford Christopher D Davis Wright Tremaine LLP (ORL) ◇
	Kirchhoefer Gregg Kirkland & Ellis*
	Mensik Michael S Baker McKenzie*
	Millstein Julian S Moses & Singer LLP (ORL) ◇
	Ganz Joshua S Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton
	George Peter R Baker McKenzie
	Harvey Jeffrey L Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
	Hollis III Charles F Norton Rose Fulbright
	Howard Nigel L Covington & Burling LLP*
	Levi Stuart D Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher (ORL) ◇*
	Mahajan Sarvesh Pillsbury
	Parks Randall S Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
	Tanenbaum William Moses & Singer LLP (ORL) ◇*
	Zimmer Elizabeth Pillsbury
	Band 4
	Baldia Sonia Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP
	Bethancourt Heather S McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
	Geyer Andrew Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
	Kramer Samuel Baker McKenzie
	Manter Gregory A DLA Piper LLP (US)*
	Nishawala Vipul Clifford Chance US LLP (ORL) ◇*
	Paine Jr James R Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇
	Petretti Vito Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
	Schwartz Alison Pollock Loeb & Loeb LLP
	Simonis Tamia Wiggins and Dana LLP
	Vickers Geoffrey P Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough
	Associates to watch
	Edwards Christina C Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Technology
Leading Firms
Band 1
Latham & Watkins LLP
Morrison Foerster
Band 2
Baker McKenzie
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Mayer Brown LLP
Band 3
Cooley LLP
Fenwick
Goodwin
Perkins Coie LLP
Pillsbury
Sidley Austin LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Band 4
Covington & Burling LLP
Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin
Kirkland & Ellis
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
White & Case LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Mensik Michael S. Baker McKenzie *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Delaney John Perkins Coie LLP *
Levi Stuart D. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher (ORL) ◇ *
Band 2
Ballack Karen N. Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Bell Suzanne Y. Covington & Burling LLP *
Hayes David L. Fenwick
Mousavi Nader A. Sullivan & Cromwell LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Peterson Brad L. Mayer Brown LLP *
Schwartz Tessa Morrison Foerster *
Band 3
Brockland John P. Hogan Lovells US LLP (ORL) ◇
Chernichaw Adam A&O Shearman (ORL) ◇ *
George Peter R. Baker McKenzie
Gilluly III John J. DLA Piper LLP (US)
Halpern Marcelo Perkins Coie LLP *
Howard Nigel L. Covington & Burling LLP *
Kramer Samuel Baker McKenzie
Krasnow Melissa VLP Law Group LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Lesser Lori E. Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Nash Glenn Sidley Austin LLP *
Neuburger Jeffrey D. Proskauer Rose LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Nishawala Vipul Clifford Chance US LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Osterman Jeffrey D. Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Quittmeyer Peter Eversheds Sutherland (US) (ORL) ◇ *
Schwartz William Morrison Foerster *
Tanenbaum William Moses & Singer LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Band 4
Chory John Latham & Watkins LLP *
Hanson Vivian L. Morrison Foerster *
Zabaneh Sam Latham & Watkins LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie is a high-profile practice with expertise in sophisticated BPO and ITO transactions. The firm specialises in multijurisdictional outsourcing contracts and their compliance with regulatory frameworks, alongside related strengths in international regulatory, telecom and intellectual property matters. The firm possesses a deep understanding of prevailing technology issues, such as data protection, privacy and cloud-based services. Baker McKenzie's clients are drawn from a wide range of industries, including healthcare, food and drink, IT suppliers and retail.

Strengths

"The team at Baker McKenzie has provided sound guidance on contractual provisions to protect our corporate interests."

"Baker McKenzie gives excellent coverage and is virtually unchallenged in its ability to address a legal question in a single jurisdiction, but quickly scale expertise around the world if needed."

"Baker McKenzie provides excellent service and is responsive."

Work highlights Baker McKenzie advised Mozilla in its acquisition of Fakespot.

Notable practitioners

Michael Mensik (see p.641) has vast experience of domestic and international outsourcings and the attendant data security provisions. He is well placed to advise on joint ventures and strategic alliances, along with the protection and marketing of technology services and products. Strengths: "He is a true outsourcing lawyer." Peter George has wide-ranging experience handling matters on a global scale, including BPOs, ITOs and data licensing, often on behalf of clients in closely regulated industries. His practice in the technology space encompasses areas such as robotic process automation, cloud services and social media. Strengths: "Peter is excellent to work with. He is professional, personable and always responsive to my enquiries." Samuel Kramer is an expert in the licensing of hi-tech IP and software, outsourcing arrangements and data privacy. His practice includes a focus on the fintech industry and supply chain integration.

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley has a strong technology group with capabilities on both coasts. Its broad client base ranges from startups to large multinationals in industries such as education, media, healthcare and retail. Proficient in domestic and cross-border technology transactions. The group represents leading technology companies in high-value strategic investments, acquisitions and sales. It possesses further prowess in structuring commercial contracts such as the negotiation of software licenses or business partnerships. The team is especially noted for its deep experience in innovative and disruptive technologies such as cryptocurrency, NFTs, machine learning and generative AI.

Strengths

"Cooley takes the time to understand the business problems we are trying to solve, and applies practical business judgment."

"Cooley is excellent in its handling of complex and sophisticated matters—it is not only foresighted, but its foresight comes from numerous perspectives."

"Cooley has the ability to synthesize complex issues into practical business solutions."

Work highlights Cooley advised Solana Foundation, the charitable arm of popular blockchain Solana, on numerous commercial transactions and key partnerships.

Notable practitioners

TJ Graham is a key contact.

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling offers a well-rounded practice advising across outsourcing, intellectual property and technology transactions, with a particular affinity for regulatory compliance and digital technology issues. It draws on a bench of attorneys located in key US markets and around the world. The firm is experienced in handling technology and outsourcing matters across industry sectors as varied as sports, healthcare and financial services.

Notable practitioners

Suzanne Bell (see p.1001) focuses on strategic alliances and other transactional procedures across a wide variety of disciplines, along with technology sector M&A, IP transactions and patent litigation settlements. Nigel Howard (see p.2591) handles a broad range of software transactions, such as ITOs, master services and data access agreements. He regularly advises on related data privacy, IP and cloud computing issues.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper is an international practice which leverages the firm's extensive global network to provide a wide range of assistance with cross-border outsourcing projects and broader technology deals. It fields a deep bench of attorneys with customer and supplier-side experience, spanning both BPO and ITO arrangements. The firm provides quality representation for technology-focused venture capital funds during multiple rounds of high-value seed investments. Maintains an impressive profile, with a broad client base including insurance and technology companies, major retailers and telecom providers.

Strengths

"DLA Piper handles matters well and in a timely fashion."

"The team has great breadth of expertise across all domains and industries and it takes a practical and pragmatic approach."

"A key strength of DLA is its commercial awareness and knowledge of industry trends. DLA Piper tells clients what is going to happen before it happens so that the client can be prepared and respond appropriately."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP represented Katapult Holdings Inc in a merger with FinServ Acquisition.

Notable practitioners

Vincent Sanchez (see p.689) has extensive experience with regard to ITOs, BPOs, technology audits and workouts arising therefrom, and also cybersecurity in complex network and supply chains. He handles cases spanning across banking, hospitality and the pharmaceutical industry. John Gilluly brings a corporate focus to his work in the technology sector, advising client businesses on everything from private equity and venture capital transactions to governance and SEC reporting. He is particularly well versed in the representation of software providers. Gregory Manter (see p.1047) is regarded for his expertise in complex BPO and ITO agreements. He displays further prowess in representing numerous industries in their ERP implementations and digital transformation efforts, such as for retailers, healthcare and financial services companies. Strengths: “Gregory will efficiently capture every concern that must be thought through by the client. His experience equips him to make reasoned recommendations to clients on how best to address issues when they arise.”

Fenwick

What the team is known for Fenwick has a well-known group of technology specialists with a broad knowledge base in the area. Fenwick represents household brand technology companies in their high-value transactions and complex commercial agreements. The firm is further adept in guiding emerging technology companies in multiround seed investments. It possesses expertise in new and cutting-edge fields such as AI and machine learning. Such deep expertise enables Fenwick to be a preeminent adviser across numerous fields including media, data management and analytics plus life sciences.

Strengths

“Fenwick has hyper commercially focused attorneys.”

Work highlights Fenwick advise OpenAI on intellectual property matters with a focus on copyright issues and negotiation of contracts.

Notable practitioners

David Hayes centers his practice on the transfer, distribution and licensing of technology and contentious IP issues. He is well placed to provide guidance on internet and digital media laws.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher is a market-leading outsourcing firm with extensive experience developing contracts with the industry's most significant providers. It regularly undertakes high-end transactional work, with outstanding credentials in technology matters and deep expertise in negotiating international and US business process sourcing. The firm represents blue-chip clients in the pharma, financial services and hospitality sectors, as well as in the automotive industry.

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher advised Marriott International on its digital transformation project and the modernisation of core technology systems.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Nordahl (see p.2628) is particularly adept at handling ITO and manufacturing outsourcing agreements. He leverages his expertise to also handle disputes and terminations relating to outsourcing contracts. He is active across a range of sectors, including financial services and pharmaceuticals, to name but two. William Peters (see p.1059) has an impressive clientele, and his experience spans across a range of sectors, including hospitality, hi-tech manufacturing and energy supply, among others. His work typically includes negotiating arrangements such as ITO, BPO and software development agreements. Strengths: “William Peters is creative and great at problem-solving.” “William Peters’ client service is some of the best in the game.”

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin is a widely respected firm with coast-to-coast strength in technology work. It spans across a great number of transactions in the space, including seed investments, IPOs and M&A. The firm also demonstrates expertise in data privacy and ancillary regulatory matters.

Strengths

“Goodwin responded to all matters with speed and courtesy.”

“Goodwin understands all complex matters and translates them into language that all stakeholders can understand.”

Work highlights Goodwin's Technology team advised Qaultrics in its $12.5 billion sale to Silver Lake in partnership with Canada Pension Plan Investment Board.

Notable practitioners

John Egan, Kenneth Gordon and Anthony McCusker are key contacts.

Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin & Hachigian

What the team is known for Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin & Hachigian is an acclaimed technology group that is well regarded for its emerging company and venture capital experience. The firm represents both investors and technology companies in multiple rounds of high-value seed financing. It possesses further expertise in commercial arrangements such as in strategic collaborations. The group has further transactional capabilities, including the handling of buy-side and sell-side mergers and acquisitions. The firm utilizes broad knowledge of the technology sector to guide investors and emerging companies in areas such as virtual reality, data analytics, online platforms and digital media.

Strengths

“The firm has a combination of knowledge and speed.”

Work highlights Gunderson Dettmer represented client Biomap in connection with its research and development collaboration with Mohamed bin Zayed University of Artificial Intelligence.

Notable practitioners

Brendan McCarthy, Tim Greene and Gina Marek are key contacts.

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth has a proficient outsourcing practice, offering strengths across ERP implementation agreements and transactions involving SaaS, cloud-based deals, system integration agreements and facilities management. It attracts a broad client base, which includes public sector bodies and financial institutions, in addition to major retail, food and drink, and healthcare corporations. The firm offers additional strengths in ongoing contract management and compliance audits.

Strengths

“Hunton Andrews Kurth has deep expertise in very recent developments in the market.”

“The team at Hunton has excellent subject matter knowledge, paired with a common sense approach to problem solving.”

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth advised Ashland on an information technology outsourcing transaction at more than 50 locations.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Harvey (see p.579) is recommended for all manner of IT contracts, such as system integration and cloud arrangements. He also advises on related areas such as social media, intellectual property and mobile technology. Strengths: “Jeffrey Harvey understands the nuances as well as the key players and their tendencies in the outsourcing marketplace.” “Jeff is an incredibly skilled negotiator.” Randall Parks (see p.663) has extensive experience advising on the full span of ITO and software service agreements, and the associated data privacy implications. Strengths: “Randall Parks is knowledgeable, reliable and a pleasure to work with.” “Randall is skilled in both drafting and negotiating.” “Randall is very sophisticated and forward thinking.” Andrew Geyer (see p.565) is a well-known outsourcing specialist who works closely with clients with respect to their information technology agreements. Additional expertise are seen in his licensing, procurement and commercial contract experience. Strengths: “Andrew is a fantastic negotiator.” “Andrew is responsive, practical and understands what we want.” Christina Edwards (see p.546) is a well-regarded senior associate who leverages her previous corporate experience to bolster her skills in negotiating and drafting commercial contracts, such as software licensing and master service agreements. Strengths: “Christina has an unlimited capacity for detail.”

Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton

What the team is known for Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton has a well-known outsourcing group that is able to leverage an extensive network of offices to assist clients. It drafts and negotiates commercial contracts such as strategic alliances and master service agreements in complex cloud migration and digital transformation projects. It has broad sector expertise including strength in telecommunications, healthcare and financial services spaces.

Strengths

“I appreciate its culture. Kilpatrick has a great team of multi-generational talents and diversity.”

Notable practitioners

Joshua Ganz is co-leader of the firm's technology, privacy and cybersecurity team. He is well known for the quality of his advice in outsourcing matters. Strengths: “Joshua is very experienced in a variety of technology transactions.” “Joshua is very technical and gives great client service.”

Sonia Baldia is well regarded for her ability to handle complex cross-border IT and business outsourcing matters. She advises finance, entertainment and healthcare clients in their extensive digital transformation projects. Strengths: “Sonia is very sharp and clearly knowledgeable. She is also very skilled at negotiating terms on our behalf.” “Sonia is tech savvy and has a keen understanding of her clients’ business needs.”

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis’ technology and outsourcing group comes highly recommended because of a strong background in complex IP and transactional matters. The firm acts for clients such as energy and healthcare companies on a range of domestic and cross-border IT and BPO deals, including digital transformations, strategic service arrangements and revenue cycle management. Kirkland and Ellis leverages broad corporate and capital markets expertise to represent high-value M&A and private equity investments in the technology field. The group is further skilled in negotiating and drafting strategic collaborations and license agreements.

Strengths

“Kirkland & Ellis is very knowledgeable about key issues and market norms.”

“Kirkland & Ellis is very good at explaining complex IP matters in layman’s terms as well as structuring transactions for the best result of the client.”

“I am always impressed with its creativity and cooperation.”

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised Castlelake on the formation of its insurance platform, focused on insurance-based solutions in the aircraft and finance space.

Notable practitioners

Gregg Kirchhoefer (see p.1735) draws on his extensive experience with regard to technology contracts. He is particularly knowledgeable on outsourcings and the implications of corporate transactions and data protection on IT service arrangements. Neil Hirshman (see p.1730) assists corporate customers and vendors with outsourcings and IT contracts of all kinds. He also advises on investment strategy with regard to innovators of outsourced technology and business process service providers, as well as collaborations and strategic partnerships between such providers. Strengths: “Neil is very good and understandably sought after.”

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins offers vast corporate and capital markets experience to public technology companies and underwriters in IPOs and high-value M&A transactions. The firm possesses cutting-edge expertise to assist emerging and growing tech companies through their seed financing rounds. Latham and Watkins provides strong technology transactions know-how, complemented by a sophisticated regulatory and IP team. Acting for suppliers as well as customers, their impressive client base covers a broad range of sectors which have complex supply and network ecosystems, and are often strictly regulated, including food and drink, automotive, pharmaceuticals and financial services.

Strengths

“At Latham and Watkins, the level of responsiveness and practicality of advice is always high.”

“The Latham and Watkins team is incredibly sophisticated and has a depth and breadth of knowledge.”

Work highlights Latham and Watkins represented Microsoft’s Climate Innovation Fund in its Series C investment in Amp Robotics.

Notable practitioners

John Chory (see p.2011) is an expert in advising emerging companies in the technology industry on matters ranging from business formation to venture capital financing, IPOs and M&A. He benefits from parallel experience in advising startups on technology licensing and securities law. Sam Zabaneh (see p.3282) regularly advises emerging companies in the technology sector, alongside private equity and venture capital investors, throughout their development. His experience includes financing transactions, M&A and corporate governance. Strengths: “Sam Zabaneh is a highly skilled technical lawyer who combines that skill with excellent commercial nous.” “Sam Zabaneh stands out for his deep understanding of the market, competitors and landscape.”

Loeb & Loeb LLP

What the team is known for Loeb & Loeb offers broad-based transactional expertise, which includes a notable focus on technology-enabled and cloud computing deals. They work on behalf of a diverse roster of clients, including healthcare providers, insurers, financial services institutions and retailers. Loeb & Loeb incorporates the strength of its wider media and technology group to provide clients with related strengths in areas including privacy and data security, advertising and emerging media platforms.

Strengths

“A genuine outsourcing firm.”

Notable practitioners

Akiba Stern is recommended for his experience of the full range of commercial technology contracts, from strategic alliances and joint ventures through to data licensing, technology transfers and the commercialization of IP. Strengths: “Akiba has really good market and commercial sense.” Kenneth Adler advises corporate and healthcare customers on outsourcings and IT services arrangements of all kinds. He also advises on the renegotiation of and exit from existing technology arrangements. Alison Pollock Schwartz represents a broad range of clients in IT and business process outsourcing matters. She drafts, reviews and negotiates both new and existing commercial agreements such as ERP implementations, and cloud service and master service arrangements for healthcare, insurance and real estate property companies.

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown is a prominent name in ITO and BPO transactions and disputes, fielding a deep bench of dedicated practitioners with outstanding skills in dealing with domestic and offshore providers. They are also adept at counseling clients on cloud computing, data licensing, robotic process automation and privacy compliance. The firm is well versed in handling business transition agreements resulting from acquisitions, as well as negotiating amendments to service agreements. Its broad client base includes a number of household names in the financial services, retail, manufacturing and media sectors.

Strengths

“The depth of Mayer Brown’s knowledge is outstanding.”

“Mayer Brown was able to assist on very complex deals, even being able to guide opposing counsel where needed for better understanding.”

“Mayer Brown’s responsiveness and service levels throughout our engagement has been very strong.”

Work highlights Mayer Brown acted for Sasser Family Holdings in a staff augmentation outsourcing with Cloudstaff USA.

Notable practitioners

Brad Peterson (see p.667)’s typical activity includes advising clients on SaaS agreements, AI issues and data analytics. He represents global financial services, media and pharmaceutical companies in complex cross-border outsourcing transactions.

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery has a dedicated bench of expert outsourcing attorneys, regularly negotiating and structuring BPO arrangements and complex IT transactions. Also active handling tech and outsourcing-related issues resulting from M&A and private equity transactions. Acts for a range of leading outsourcing providers and major corporate clients, including in the pharmaceutical, healthcare and TMT sectors. Held in particularly high regard for its strengths in cloud computing work.

Strengths

“McDermott Will and Emery LLP is practical, business-oriented and able to distill issues and exposures to the most elemental level.”

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery LLP provided strategic advice to the Meta platform concerning the use of NFTs for Instagram.

Notable practitioners

David Guedry (see p.575) has vast experience of handling both domestic and international outsourcing transactions. He is particularly well known for advising providers on ITO agreements with customers. Strengths: “David Guedry is one of the best lawyers around. He is able to cut through the noise.” Shawn Helms (see p.3232) has extensive experience handling outsourcing matters for vendors and suppliers, which frequently involves the latest developments in hi-tech, software and cryptocurrency traders. Strengths: “Shawn Helms knows the subject matter well, and gives timely responses.” “Shawn Helms is great to bounce ideas off.” Jason Krieser is the co-head of the technology and outsourcing group. He has a wide spectrum of experience handling outsourcing transactions, including ITOs, BPOs and strategic alliances. Heather Bethancourt (see p.3202) has significant experience in the outsourcing space with particular skills in the healthcare matters concerning revenue cycle management outsourcing. Strengths: “Heather has deep expertise in this space.”

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius offers impressive strengths in a broad array of domestic and international outsourcings, with notable expertise in emerging technologies such as automation, AI, blockchain and cloud computing. They draw upon additional resources in areas such as privacy and employment law when advising on all stages of a transaction, including renegotiating and terminating service agreements. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius acts for a diverse client base, which includes sourcing service providers as well as financial institutions and life sciences companies.

Strengths

“Morgan, Lewis & Bockius has exceptional industry knowledge with skilled partners and associates.”

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius represented The Vanguard Group in strategic outsourcing services transactions, including the ongoing governance of its strategic partnership with Infosys.

Notable practitioners

Barbara Murphy Melby is the global leader of the technology, outsourcing and commercial transactions practice. She is recommended for ITOs, BPOs and all manner of systems implementation and post-merger integration arrangements. Strengths: “Barbara is unbelievably talented and tremendous in client service.” “Barbara Melby is our go-to outside counsel for IT transactions.” Vito Petretti is a longstanding expert in outsourcing issues. Clients look to him for advice across a spectrum of issues and industries, including domestic and international technology service agreements. Strengths: “Vito Petretti is an effective lawyer.”

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster has a high-quality outsourcing team fielding expertise in cutting-edge cloud service deals and infrastructure transactions. Represents businesses at all stages of the life cycle, with particular expertise negotiating multisource deals on behalf of multinational corporations. Its diverse client base features national and international companies in the financial services, healthcare and media sectors, among others. Leverages its impressive nationwide and international talent pool to advise on major cross-border deals.

Strengths

“Morrison Foerster has top problem-solving skills.”

“Morrison Foerster takes the time to clearly understand our business and our concerns. It understands and negotiates the fine points, and offers up viable solutions for any roadblocks.”

Work highlights Morrison Foerster advised Nikon America in its acquisition of Avonix Imaging.

Notable practitioners

Vivian Hanson (see p.2584) chairs the firm’s outsourcing practice and is recommended for ITO, BTO and myriad technology arrangements of the greatest complexity. Strengths: “Vivian Hanson is professional, responsive and a highly valued adviser to our clients.” Tessa Schwartz (see p.1070) is highly experienced in the field of technology and intellectual property transactions, including patent acquisitions and development agreements. Her clients operate in hi-tech fields such as machine learning, e-commerce and social media. Strengths: “Tessa Schwartz’s client care is excellent, she is someone I look to for complex cases.” William Schwartz (see p.1070) centers his practice on handling technology and IP matters in a corporate context, such as development, distribution and commercialization, joint ventures and licensing. His clients include well-known players in the IT, communications and semiconductor industries. Strengths: “William Schwartz is legendary in his field.”

Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP

What the team is known for Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough has a growing practice in the areas of technology, outsourcing, privacy and procurement, with experience in advising on significant changes to clients’ internal technology and outsourcing systems. It is particularly noted for their bench strength in the New York and Southeastern legal markets. Clients include international businesses across sectors such as retail, energy and financial services.

Strengths

“Nelson Mullins was very responsive and available at any time it was needed.”

“The firm provides excellent client service and ability to work on complex projects.”

Notable practitioners

Edward Hansen has experience in a wide range of technology and outsourcing arrangements, taking in BPOs, transformational logistics projects and ERP implementations. Strengths: “Edward is good at getting people to give their honest view of what they really need to achieve.” Geoffrey Vickers advises on drafting and negotiating IT and business process outsourcing contracts, including licensing and master service arrangements. He represents such matters for a host of clients ranging from retailers and manufacturers to financial services companies. Strengths: “Geoffrey is an outstanding attorney who takes a very practical approach to contract issues and finding solutions that are reasonable and manage risk effectively.” “Geoffrey is responsive and provides great service.”

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright offers broad capabilities in outsourcing matters from its strong Atlanta-based team. The team routinely advise on ITO and BPO transactions in a broad range of industries.

Strengths

“Norton Rose Fulbright brought a lot of expertise to the table.”

“NRF completed projects and transactions efficiently and supplemental requests were met with attentiveness to both time, sensitivity and detail.”

Notable practitioners

Sean Christy benefits from his background in technology and has extensive experience of handling BPOs, SaaS agreements and digital transformation projects. He advises clients in all kinds of business sectors, and is frequently engaged by well-known hospitality chains. Charles Hollis handles a broad range of technology and outsourcing issues including ITOs, cloud migration and transformational projects. Strengths: “Charles has a really deep knowledge of the outsourcing world.” “Charles is very good at helping people understand details and nuance.”

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe has a well-known technology group with capabilities on both coasts. It has an impressive track record in technology deal work, in which it is able to leverage its international network of offices to advise on cross-border transactions. Clientele includes a number of household-name technology companies.

Strengths

“Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe is very detail-oriented.”

Notable practitioners

Sarah Schaedler and Daniel Yost are key contacts.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie is an active group whose attorneys are sought after by a stable of clients composed of a number of leading technology companies. It boasts capabilities across a number of matters, including M&A, blockchain issues and AI, to name a few. Its diverse sector expertise includes knowledge of the healthcare, financial services and entertainment spaces.

Strengths

“Perkins Coie is very flexible in what it offers clients.”

Notable practitioners

John Delaney (see p.539) is regularly called upon to advise on technology transactions ranging from ITOs to SaaS and infrastructure as service arrangements. He is sought out for his deep knowledge in disruptive and emerging technologies such as blockchain, virtual reality and artificial intelligence. Marcelo Halpern (see p.1728) comes recommended for his impressive technology expertise, which includes notable strength in cryptocurrency-related matters. His experience also includes licensing and outsourcing agreements. Strengths: “Marcelo is very commercial and pragmatic.”

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman has a national group of customer-side outsourcing lawyers with a focus on complex strategic transactions. Has an excellent track record in high-value ITO and BPO deals, as well as business-transformative transactions. Proficient handling offshore outsourcing mandates, in addition to its acclaimed onshore practice. Enjoys a strong reputation for its adroit handling of cybersecurity and cloud-based matters. Frequently acts for corporations with vast and sensitive data holdings, including healthcare providers, insurers and leading financial institutions.

Strengths

“Pillsbury is both incredibly efficient and has a deep knowledge of all facets of venture private equity investing as well as has incredible foresight for protecting its clients."

"Pillsbury has a lot of people with deep expertise."

Work highlights Pillsbury advised Allspring Global Investments in numerous externally sourced contracts required for various operations across the US, Europe and Asia.

Notable practitioners

James Alberg has many blue-chip clients in the information and financial services industries, and is particularly sought after for strategic BPO deals and software licensing agreements. Aaron Oser's experience includes ambitious sourcing projects on behalf of leading financial institutions and entities in industries such as manufacturing and retail, healthcare and education. John Barton is a seasoned attorney whose practice focuses on outsourcing. His areas of particular expertise include advising on issues in the healthcare, financial services and cloud-computing service providers.

Strengths: "John Barton has a great ability to understand your particular scenario and business objectives and create the right legal documents, negotiate and look out for your interests at every opportunity." Sarvesh Mahajan is an expert on ITO and BPO arrangements of all kinds, focused on helping providers from all over the world do deals with corporate customers in all manner of business sectors. Strengths: "Sarvesh is a terrific lawyer." Elizabeth Zimmer is a longstanding expert in outsourcing who is sought after by a clientele of household-name companies. Areas of expertise include SaaS deals, software licensing arrangements and business process outsourcing, among others. Strengths: "Her expertise, thoughtfulness and attention to detail is a true blessing."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin has a much sought-after technology department whose broad stable of clients includes heavy-hitting startups and multinationals. It routinely advises in complex matters across the life sciences, financial services and social media spaces, among others. Leverages an extensive network of offices to advise on domestic and cross-border matters.

Strengths

"Sidley Austin provided timely and well-calibrated advice on highly technical and nuanced matters." "Sidley Austin is very responsive."

Work highlights Sidley Austin represented Meta in numerous strategic alliance deals with major technology partners in the artificial intelligence, messaging and mobile space both domestically and internationally.

Notable practitioners

Glenn Nash (see p.1054)'s technology sector expertise sees him advise on joint ventures and other corporate transactions, as well as regulatory compliance and IP issues. His practice includes experience in disciplines such as e-commerce.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges has a dedicated technology and IP transactions team with experience of advising across tech-focused industries such as fintech, life sciences, consumer products and media. Capable of guiding clients through contract negotiations that center on technology, such as development, outsourcing and services agreements, and the tech aspects of corporate transactions such as M&A.

Strengths

"Weil, Gotshal & Manges has extensive experience in dealing with complex IP and technology transactions."

Work highlights Weil, Gotshal & Manges advised Goldman Sachs Asset Management on the technology, data privacy and IP aspects of its $300 million investment in Madhiva.

Notable practitioners

Karen Ballack (see p.1000) is well placed to advise across an array of technology-rich sectors, including the pharmaceutical and semiconductor industries. She typically handles transactions such as joint ventures, strategic alliances and development collaborations, along with the IP aspects of commercial deals. Strengths: "Karen Ballack is an extremely talented negotiator and one of the best drafters in the industry, with a wealth of knowledge, and experienced in a wide range of IP transactions." Jeffrey Osterman (see p.2631) has a broad practice within the field of technology, running the gamut from patent and content licensing to outsourcing, technology transfer and integration. Strengths: "Jeffrey Osterman is a fierce advocate for his clients, equipped with an arsenal of industry-specific knowledge."

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case has a transactional practice capable of handling everything from partnerships and joint ventures to M&A, outsourcing and intellectual property licensing. They are also well positioned to provide counsel on product development, service procurement and related disputes. White & Case's clients include high-profile technology companies active in fields such as machine learning, blockchain and digital health.

Work highlights White & Case represented F-Secure Corporation, a consumer cyber security company, on its $223 million acquisition of the mobile consumer business from Lookout.

Notable practitioners

Arlene Arin Hahn is a key contact for clients.

Wiggin and Dana LLP

What the team is known for Wiggin and Dana specializes in representing US and India-based service providers in complex outsourcing transactions, with considerable strengths in contract negotiations, drafting and ongoing post-contract support. The firm facilitates BPO and ITO transactions of all kinds, with additional expertise in areas such as data privacy and artificial intelligence.

Strengths

"The firm is very strong in its work on complex transactions."

"The depth of its team's knowledge is significant and material."

"Wiggin and Dana's ability to be creative in understanding and drafting complex contract language is top-notch."

Notable practitioners

George Kimball is a widely read authority on outsourcing law and a seasoned, largely vendor-side deal lawyer. His history in the field of technology and outsourcing includes both in-house and professorial experience. Strengths: "George is a great lawyer." Mark Heaphy is recommended for his handling of BPO and ITO arrangements, typically on behalf of service vendors. He has experience as both an adviser to suppliers on the contracting process and a negotiator in transactions. Strengths: "Mark has always impressed me with his technical and negotiation skills." "Mark is a solid lawyer with good experience in the outsourcing field." "He understands the client position and develops a thoughtful response to resolve any issues." Tamia Simonis is regularly called upon to advise vendor companies on ITO and BPO deals, and associated AI and data security issues. She has experience handling both domestic and cross-border matters.

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati has a highly regarded technology group with expertise across a broad variety of transactional, regulatory and contentious matters in the space. It represents clients operating in a number of sectors, including pharmaceuticals, renewables and AI.

Strengths

"Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati can provide practical strategic advice."

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati represented Google in a rate settling proceeding before the Copyright Royalty Board following amendments to the Copyright Act in 2018.

Work highlightsNotable practitioners

James Clessuras is a key contact for the firm.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Jeffrey Andrews (see p.3197) of Bracewell LLP is respected for his handling of all manner of IT and business process outsourcings. He is active across a wide range of sectors, including food and drinks, manufacturing, retail, transportation and utilities.

John Brockland of Hogan Lovells is experienced in advising businesses of all sizes on strategic technology transactions, including development, licensing and service agreements. He is also well versed in IP transactions and due diligence.

Adam Chernichaw (see p.524) is a founding member of Allen & Overy LLP's technology and outsourcing practice, and able to advise clients on both sides of a transaction. His clients include high-profile technology and social media companies and financial institutions. Strengths: "Adam Chernichaw is one of the best negotiators I have worked with."

Robert Finkel of WilmerHale is active across a range of sectors, including financial services and pharmaceuticals, advising on a wide range of corporate and outsourcing transactions and the licensing of both software and technology.

Todd Fisher of King & Fisher has vast experience of handling BPO, ITO and cloud computing agreements, along with technology licensing and other service agreements. Strengths: “Todd Fisher is a good deal lawyer.”

Christopher Ford of Davis Wright Tremaine LLP handles a broad range of IT systems and service agreements, outsourcings and also BPOs. He has a particularly extensive client following in financial services. Strengths: “Christopher demonstrates strong legal skills and is a strong leader who can lead negotiations.”

Melissa Krasnow (see p.614) of VLP Law Group LLP is a highly regarded attorney whose broad practice exhibits strength across a number of technology-related issues. She routinely advises on M&A, data security issues and related regulatory matters. Strengths: “I am amazed at the breadth of knowledge Melissa provides and her ability to help a new company understand and navigate the complex world of security and HIPAA compliance.”

Lori Lesser (see p.2608) of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP typically covers a range of transactional activities, along with licensing, privacy and tech sector disputes such as IP litigation. She acts for an impressive breadth of industry clients.

Strengths: “Lori has an exceptionally smart and insightful nature, she can analyze issues quickly.” “Lori is incredibly smart and practical with clients.” “Lori is a really brilliant lawyer; her drafting is excellent and she is a good negotiator.”

Stuart Levi (see p.621) of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates advises vendors and customers on all manner of outsourcings and technology collaborations, from ITOs and BPOs to cloud computing agreements and blockchain development projects. He is also adept at providing privacy and cybersecurity guidance and advice on IP.

Julian Millstein of Moses & Singer LLP has extensive experience handling strategic outsourcings for vendors and customers. He is also frequently called on for mediations and arbitrations, as well as workouts and restructurings.

Nader Mousavi (see p.1053) of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP is experienced in advising on technology transactions, including M&A, the licensing of IP, data and software, and joint ventures. His practice runs the gamut of new technologies, from autonomous vehicles and AI to cryptocurrency. Strengths: “Nader has tremendous attention to detail and great judgment.”

Jeffrey Neuburger (see p.2627) of Proskauer Rose LLP regularly advises on the implementation of new technology and major organization infrastructure, by way of cloud computing, outsourcing and service agreements. He brings to bear extensive experience in the sector as well as his knowledge of cybersecurity and cryptocurrency matters. Strengths: “Jeffrey Neuburger is a very skilled and knowledgeable lawyer.”

Vipul Nishawala (see p.2628) is well placed to advise on all stages of ITO and BPO work, cloud computing and software licensing agreements, and the leasing and purchase of equipment. He represents both suppliers and customers, with particular experience in the use of third-party technology by financial institutions.

James Paine of Holland & Knight LLP is particularly adept at advising on SaaS and licensing issues of all kinds. He has substantial experience across a range of sectors, including healthcare and hospitality, to name but two. Strengths: “James contractual acumen is outstanding and he is very thorough.”

Peter Quittmeyer (see p.1580)’s practice covers a broad range of matters, including counsel on complex technology licensing, joint ventures and attendant regulatory and data privacy requirements. He has substantial expertise in issues relating to internet law, cloud and data analytics.

William Tanenbaum (see p.2668) of Moses & Singer LLP regularly advises on outsourcing transactions. He fields additional expertise in handling cybersecurity, IoT and AI issues. He is particularly active within the healthcare sector.

NATIONWIDE: An Introduction to Political Law

Contributed by Nielsen Merksamer Parrinello Gross & Leoni LLP

Corporate Social Responsibility: Reevaluating Political Activity Compliance in the Current Election Cycle

Recent election controversies, proposed federal agency rules, state and federal legislation, shareholder activism, and resulting litigation have placed corporate political activity in a contentious crossfire, with stakeholders and third parties calling on corporations to better define their commitments to social responsibility. As we move into the 2024 Presidential election cycle, expect to see both an increase in corporate political activity and scrutiny on compliance with such activity.

Political Compliance Framework

Traditionally, three areas of law (collectively called “political laws”) have established the legal parameters for private sector interaction with US federal, state, and local governments: campaign finance, lobbying disclosure, and government ethics. Demonstrating compliance with these areas of law has lessened controversy when corporations engage in political activities.

Watchdog pressure and shareholder demands have prompted increased transparency of political activity for many years. The events of January 6, 2021, put pressure on companies to be more transparent when responding to inquiries about their election-related activities and whether they align with stated corporate values. Even as contributions resumed unabated in the 2022 election cycle, many companies revamped PAC bylaws and fine-tuned contribution recommendation criteria.

The increased interest in corporations’ values and social impact has additionally shined a more intense light on lobbying. While the First Amendment prohibits any cap on lobbying activity, lobby laws mandate disclosure. Those reading lobbying reports may look for a corporation’s position on global warming, reproductive rights, and other social issues. Shareholder proposals and regulators increasingly call for enhanced disclosure of lobbying activity, directly and through trade associations, and many corporations publicly post such information on their websites.

Most companies believe that rigorous compliance procedures, enhancements to disclosure, and pressure-testing of processes in the last election cycle may be sufficient to address present and future controversies. However, stakeholders are asking more pointed questions, while regulators now seek to establish new legal frameworks.

Federal and State Attempts at Regulation

Increasingly, Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) considerations impact government ethics issues, including evaluating potential conflicts of interests, the hiring of former government officials, and payments to nonprofit organizations related to or made at the request of government officials. The demands and countermands under the rubric of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) correlate with a focus on Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) measurements and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) goals.

The political law framework of campaign finance, lobbying disclosure, and government ethics laws described in this article has been largely in place, periodically enhanced and overseen by federal and state ethics agencies, since the Watergate era. Whether this current period of attempts at new regulation will fundamentally change the status quo remains in question.

For example, at the federal level, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has expressed support for the development and implementation of new political spending disclosure rules as a matter of corporate governance. In recent years, however, the SEC has been – and continues to be – limited by Congress not to directly regulate political activities through the passage of the 2023 Appropriations Bill (Section 633). We expect to see this same restriction in the 2024 Appropriations Bill.

In the absence of a political disclosure mandate from the SEC, the agency has moved forward with action related to climate-related disclosures, human capital, and board diversity. Separately, the Department of Labor recently promulgated a rule explicitly listing climate change as a factor that fiduciaries of private sector public benefit plans can consider. Although Congress acted to block this rule by resolution, President Biden vetoed the legislation. Shareholder proposals remain the dominant vehicle pressuring companies to make more disclosures.

Regardless of federal action, many states are using their pension systems to take stances on ESG issues. Pro and anti-ESG positions take the form of state laws, investment resolutions and policies, Attorney General opinions, and State Treasurer opinions.

What makes this political tug-of-war so complex is that there is no consensus as to what ESG investing means. “ESG” has become an umbrella term for different investment strategies and priorities. Some investors see ESG factors as material financial risks and argue that there is a financial duty to use ESG information to maximize returns. Standardization of ESG metrics and data will help reduce confusion and conflict and align ESG goals with the more established standards developed under political law compliance programs.

States are also attempting to regulate corporate board diversity, largely in terms of gender and minority representation, in pursuit of DEI goals. States have taken a variety of approaches including requiring board diversity, requiring disclosure related to board diversity, or urging board diversity through non-binding action. These efforts have been subject to litigation and shareholder derivative suits alleging lack of board diversity.

Business and Legal Community Response

The Business Roundtable, an association of CEOs of America’s leading companies, has over the past 40 plus years periodically issued its Principles of Corporate Governance. Every version since 1997 has stated that corporations exist principally to serve shareholders, holding to the dictum of economist Milton Friedman in an influential essay 50 years ago that “The Social Responsibility of Business Is to Increase Its Profits.”

However, the Business Roundtable released a new Statement on the Purpose of a Corporation in 2019 which focused on all stakeholders, not just shareholders. Although not as radical as requirements embedded in the Accountable Capitalism Act proposed by Senator Elizabeth Warren (D-MA), this statement generated front page news and seemed to signal a philosophical shift in the business community.

Cognizant of the need to define terms before creating laws, enacting limits, or finding consensus around best practices, a committee of the Business Law Section of the American Bar Association (ABA) has embarked on an effort to create a new legal framework related to CSR which recognizes ESG measurements and DEI goals, with clearer definitions and benchmarks.

Practical Guidance

What should a corporation do in the context of ongoing political law compliance? We propose the following steps.

Establish a Comprehensive Framework

A fulsome framework will consider issues that align with your company’s mission, core values, and public-facing positions concerning campaign finance, lobbying, and government ethics activities.

Define the Scope of Your Program

Once your company has thought through a big picture framework in a unified manner, clearly define the scope of your program in regard to your political law compliance. Determine the role of your corporate board. Think about what departments are key for establishing and administering your program. Management at all levels has a significant role in identifying and reporting risks and opportunities, relaying consistent messaging, and integrating framework considerations into day-to-day operations.

Develop a Proactive Plan

Make sure you have processes in place for monitoring, reporting, and addressing risks as well as potential opportunities. A proactive program should track federal, state, and local developments, benchmark against other companies, and monitor new risk areas.

Political Law Nationwide

Political Law
Leading Firms
Band 1
Covington & Burling LLP
Elias Law Group LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Wiley
Band 2
Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Band 3
Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky & Josefiak PLLC
Nielsen Merksamer Parrinello Gross & Leoni LLP
Perkins Coie LLP
Band 4
Akin
Ballard Spahr LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Sandler Reiff Lamb Rosenstein & Birkenstock, P.C.
Steptoe LLP
Venable LLP
Band 5
BakerHostetler LLP
Dentons LLP
Jones Day
Mayer Brown LLP
Pillsbury
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP's bipartisan political law practice is renowned for its strong capabilities in counseling corporations, financial institutions, tax-exempt organizations and political action committees. The group has substantial expertise, which includes campaign finance, pay-to-play rules, government ethics and lobbying disclosure. The team also has extensive experience representing participants in sensitive congressional investigations.

Strengths

"Covington is a great team to work with who can easily handle anything we throw at them."
 "They provide the highest quality of support and guidance on multifaceted issues. I know I can rely on them to be there when we need them."
 "Covington's attorneys expertly guide us through regulatory compliance issues. They are extremely knowledgeable and are very responsive to our requests."

Work highlights Covington & Burling LLP advised the 'Biden for President' campaign committee on their 2023 re-election launch.

Notable practitioners

Robert Kelner (see p.604) chairs the firm's election and political law practice group. He is held in high esteem for his vast experience in the field. He is adept at handling congressional investigations and cybersecurity matters, as well as offering political law compliance advice. Strengths: "He is a levelheaded adviser." Robert Lenhard (see p.620) is a highly regarded political law partner at Covington & Burling with previous experience as former chair of the FEC. He is regularly engaged by significant corporate clients to advise on political compliance, lobbying and pay-to-play rules.

Strengths: "You get seasoned advice from the likes of Robert." Zachary Parks (see p.663) has a broad range of expertise which encompasses election rules, lobbying disclosure, FARA and pay-to-play. He frequently provides advice on political law due diligence in the context of M&A deals. Strengths: "Zack can be relied upon for his expertise in the area of political contributions." "He is always available and willing to explain where we don't understand. He delivers on time and is a pleasure to work with." "We work extensively with Zack on political law questions and find his knowledge, experience and commercial approach to real-world challenges to be top class." Andrew Garrahan (see p.563) has a growing political law practice providing regulatory advice for corporate and individual clients. Strengths: "Andrew is very good at understanding complex regulatory issues while maintaining his creative thinking." "He is extremely knowledgeable about regulatory compliance issues and has been very responsive to our requests." "We are pleased with Andrew's support and thoughtful advice, which is practically-minded in terms of managing risk."

Elias Law Group LLP

What the team is known for Elias Law Group is a political law boutique boasting a deep bench of experienced practitioners able to advise on complex election law matters. The firm offers particular prowess in voting rights and redistricting litigation and is well placed to assist Democratic campaigns and institutions, as well as nonprofit organizations. It has offices in Washington DC and Seattle.

Strengths

"Elias Law Group are always at the cutting edge, getting the results their clients demand."
 "They are a critical partner in our work. From the most junior to most senior, Elias Law is comprised of the smartest and most strategic people."
 "They always take the legal problems that we bring to them, dig into them and find the best path forward to solve the issue."

Work highlights Elias Law Group advised the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee regarding campaign finance, election law and litigation matters.

Notable practitioners

Firm founding partner Marc Erik Elias is a highly regarded political law attorney who continues to be a popular choice for matters relating to voting rights. He also has considerable expertise in matters involving campaign finance law, redistricting and government ethics. Strengths: "Mark is a legal machine and the king at what he does." "He is a genius." "He is a highly skilled litigator and powerful legal mind, a respected thought leader in the space and a diligent advocate for his clients." Ezra Reese is Elias Law Group's political law chair. He garners recognition for his political law practice. He advises nonprofits and trade associations on issues relating to tax law, lobbying and campaign finance. Strengths: "Ezra is fantastic and incredibly quick in handling problems for us." "He is a very helpful adviser and is responsive to our needs." Jonathan Berkon is noted for his knowledge of state and local election law. His client base includes individuals, political action committees and nonprofits. Strengths: "Jon gets the nuts and bolts while also being an excellent legal strategist." "His understanding is exceptional, especially how things play out on the ground. His reliable experience and knowledge means he is able to provide smart and practical advice which is tailored to us to devise strategies and solutions." Abha Khanna is a litigation partner in the firm's Seattle office. She draws particular praise for her redistricting expertise, and frequently represents nonprofits and political organizations at the trial and appellate levels. Strengths: "Abha is a real partner, always keeping our best interests at heart and working tirelessly for us."

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom & Affiliates boasts a premier nonpartisan political law group with particular strength in corporate representation over gift and entertainment laws, campaign finance and lobbying disclosure rules. The practice remains at the forefront of advising on federal and state pay-to-play rules. It is a strong choice for representing corporations in responding to sensitive FEC complaints. The team is highly adept at providing political law compliance counsel in the context of M&A and media broadcasts. Its clients hail from a range of industries including financial services, energy, technology and insurance.

Strengths

"Skadden are unparalleled in responsiveness and their pragmatic approach to guidance."
 "They are constantly adapting to best serve us, making the partnership so efficient and seamless. Their expertise is unmatched."
 "Their turnaround is very quick while always tailoring their advice to us personally. Their depth of knowledge and speed at which they act are great value to us."

Notable practitioners

Head of Skadden's political law group Ki Hong (see p.588) maintains his leading position in the political law market. He offers extensive experience advising top-echelon corporate clients on political compliance. Strengths: "Ki is an excellent lawyer, a pragmatic partner and easy to work with. He can be relied on to provide best-in-class legal advice." "His expertise is unrivaled, providing invaluable experience. He has the right instincts and crucial judgment." "There is seemingly no political law-related question Ki cannot answer. He is highly sophisticated, client-focused and thinks outside the box. My experience working with him is nothing shy of stellar." Charles Ricciardelli (see p.679) has an established reputation in the market, with notable experience representing clients in the financial services sector in a range of matters including campaign finance and lobbying issues. Strengths: "He is a completely invaluable resource. He is thorough in his research and careful

Political Law
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Sandler Joseph E Sandler Reiff Lamb Rosenstein
Josefiak Tom Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Baran Jan W Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky *	Furst Johnson Jessica Holtzman Vogel Baran *
Burns Caleb P Wiley	Holtzman Vogel Jill Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky *
Elias Marc Erik Elias Law Group LLP	Jacobs Ronald Venable LLP *
Gross Kenneth A Akin	Jenkins Timothy Ballard Spahr LLP
Hong Ki P Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *	Keane Benjamin Dentons LLP
Kelner Robert K Covington & Burling LLP *	Laufman David Wiggin and Dana LLP (ORL) ◇
Laham Carol A Wiley	Renaud Mark Wiley
Lenhard Robert Covington & Burling LLP *	Rosen Tyler Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *
Sanderson Matthew Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered	Van Grack Brandon L Morrison Foerster (ORL) ◇ *
Toner Michael E Wiley	Walker Robert L. Wiley
Band 2	Band 4
Abel Jason Steptoe LLP	Bell Michael Hogan Lovells (ORL) ◇
Belinski Katherine Ballard Spahr LLP	Brown Samuel Holland & Knight LLP
Berke Elliot Berke Farah LLP (ORL) ◇	Erlingsson Emily Barrett Pillsbury
Borden Charles Holland & Knight LLP	Gilster Kyle Husch Blackwell LLP (ORL) ◇
Gordon Rebecca Perkins Coie LLP *	Holzrichter Mitchell D Mayer Brown LLP *
Kaune Jason Nielsen Merksamer Parrinello Gross & Leoni	Hunter Jeffrey Kelley Drye & Warren LLP (ORL) ◇
Laurenza Melissa Akin *	Kahl James Whiteford, Taylor & Preston LLP (ORL) ◇
Minor William DLA Piper LLP (US) (ORL) ◇	Khanna Abha Elias Law Group LLP
Parks Zachary Covington & Burling LLP *	Miles Melissa Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Potter Trevor Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered	Morgan Bryson Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Rajan Claire A&O Shearman (ORL) ◇ *	Norton Lawrence H Venable LLP *
Reese Ezra Elias Law Group LLP	Obermeier Stephen J. Wiley
Reiff Neil Sandler Reiff Lamb Rosenstein & Birkenstock	Olson Adie Steptoe LLP
Ricciardelli Charles Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Seliga Joseph Mayer Brown LLP *
Spies Charles Dickinson Wright PLLC (ORL) ◇ *	Sowards Newton Megan Jones Day
Torchinsky Jason Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky *	Stanley Trevor BakerHostetler LLP *
Band 3
Berkon Jonathan S Elias Law Group LLP	Svoboda Brian Perkins Coie LLP *
Birkenstock Joseph M. Sandler Reiff Lamb Rosenstein	Thomas Scott Blank Rome LLP (ORL) ◇
Bobys Matthew Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Up-and-coming individuals
Braden E. Mark BakerHostetler LLP *	Garrahan Andrew D Covington & Burling LLP *
DeLacy Christopher Holland & Knight LLP	Jackson Jennifer Steptoe UK LLP
Engle Craig ArentFox Schiff LLP (ORL) ◇	Associates to watch
	Pfeifer Michael Dentons LLP

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Wiley

What the team is known for Wiley's leading election law practice has a notable focus on advising Republican candidates and party committees.

The practice offers a wealth of experience in contentious FEC proceedings and congressional investigations. The team counsels corporations, nonprofit organizations and political action committees on federal and state lobbying, campaign finance and pay-to-play rules. Expertise also spans political law issues concerning the activities of foreign nationals and overseas corporations.

Strengths

"The guidance we receive from Wiley is phenomenal. We couldn't do what we do without them."

"We turn to Wiley for guidance on nuanced and thorny issues. They always provide detailed and clear analyses of the issues, each attorney we work with consistently demonstrating expertise in the subject matter at issue."

"Wiley exceeds our expectations year after year. They always have someone who can assist or answer our questions."

Work highlights Wiley represented Fox News Network before an FEC Matter Under Review, successfully obtaining a dismissal of an impermissible coordination complaint.

Notable practitioners

Caleb Burns maintains a wide-ranging practice which includes advising corporations, nonprofit organizations and PACs on issues relating to the Foreign Agents Registration Act and FEC regulations. Strengths: "Caleb is not only incisive, he is prompt to an impressive degree and so sharp on the law." "In a word, he is exceptional. Caleb is able to quickly distill issues to their essence, is a true expert as well as being creative and pragmatic to consistently provide reliable and ethical advice."

"Caleb has a strong grasp of the political and commercial implications of legal issues. He is an effective lawyer, especially with respect to advising on compliance." Carol Laham has a tremendous depth of knowledge in the field and is recognized for her expertise in campaign finance law. She is also called upon by clients to advise on political compliance as well as representing them before the FEC. Strengths: "Carol is an excellent lawyer who provides great counsel which helps us work more effectively." "She has an expert knowledge base and terrific communication skills." "Carol is direct, clear and not afraid to cut through the noise to get to the heart of what's going on. She has very strong judgment and wisdom."

Michael Toner leads the election law and government ethics team at Wiley. He is a recognized expert for his work in the FEC space. He routinely represents PACs, nonprofit groups and political candidates, as well as large corporations. Strengths: "Michael provides excellent advice on compliance matters. I rely on his expertise and diligence to keep us compliant in areas where a lack of attention can cause real damage." "Michael is a preeminent lawyer. He is unparalleled in knowledge, expertise and wisdom. You are getting the best of the best from Michael." "Michael is a true thought leader."

Mark Renaud handles the full range of election law issues including federal, state and local pay-to-play laws, lobbying rules and the development of

to give us solid advice. A conversation with him is so enlightening." "He gives clear advice which is always understandable and very collaborative." "I bring him problems and he breaks everything down in a digestible way that helps us find solutions. He distills the complexities of what we are talking about to put together a workable path forward."

Matthew Bobys (see p.508) is based in Skadden's Washington, DC office, where he offers vast experience in political compliance matters, often in respect to pay-to-play law. He acts for clients at the federal, state and local levels. Strengths: "Matthew is really good at striking a balance between legal and business perspectives. He is very experienced and good at what he does." "He has everything at his fingertips, making his advice super efficient, as well as having a strong grasp of what the market is doing." "Matthew is personable, knowledgeable, responsive and aware of the needs of our business." Tyler Rosen (see p.683) is a recognized expert on government affairs issues, where he advises clients on issues such as campaign finance, lobbying and conflict of interest matters. Strengths: "I regularly turn to Tyler to assist on very difficult political law questions. I rely on his substantive analysis and his view of the practical implications. His approach yields cogent, accurate and incredibly helpful advice on every occasion." "Tyler is extremely responsive and provides exceptional client service." "His knowledge of the law is broad and deep, enabling him to explain legal requirements clearly with business-sensitive applications. He is extremely responsive and always reliable." Melissa Miles (see p.643) is a counsel in the firm's political law practice. She provides advice on the full gamut of political law issues, including campaign finance lobbying compliance, ethics and pay-to-play. Strengths: "Melissa is a consistent leader on our matters. We trust her counsel as she takes the time to get to know our operations and structure." "Her thoroughness is amazing, being organized with her advice while also able to adapt." "Melissa is wonderful at thinking on her feet, meaning I can go to her for quick and rapid guidance. Her advice is practical and very tangible, and she's happy to get into the weeds with us."

internal compliance programs. Strengths: “Mark is practical, always reachable and willing to answer plainly, which allows us to move forward. He gets to know us, our preferences and policies, meaning he tailors his advice to us.” “Mark is phenomenal. He works with us to find solutions that adhere to both the letter and the spirit of the law as well as our established policies and procedures.” “It’s hard to surprise Mark as he has handled it all before. He is extremely knowledgeable with great experience.”

Robert Walker provides counsel to clients in connection with congressional and government ethics rules, drawing upon his experience as a former chief counsel and staff director of the Senate and House ethics committees. Strengths: “Robert is the guru you want for any thorny or nuanced issue.” “He is uniquely situated in relation to his government and private practice experience to be a very valuable contact regarding difficult issues.”

Brandis Zehr has established an impressive political law practice and offers notable experience in a broad range of issues, including matters relating to campaign finance, lobbying and representing clients before the FEC. Strengths: “She is extremely knowledgeable, with prior experience on campaign finance in particular. She is creative in finding solutions, enabling us to be more effective.” “She is responsive, reliable and does a fantastic job providing detailed but clear legal analysis with recommendations that are pragmatic and reflect a sophisticated understanding of risk.” “Brandis provides excellent support and actionable guidance.”

Stephen Obermeier possesses notable litigation expertise, representing clients in disputes involving campaign finance and voting rights. He acts for party committees and individuals on political law matters. Strengths: “Stephen has elite litigation credentials while also caring about the matters we take to him.” “He presents effective strategies with fantastic courtroom experience. He is great at helping us understand complex legal matters.” “Stephen is incredibly knowledgeable and quick on his feet. He takes the time to understand our business and our pressure points as well as making sure we completely understand the pros and cons of moving forward.”

Band 2

Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered

What the team is known for Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered is a highly respected political law group with an emphasis on campaign finance, lobbying regulations and government ethics. The practice boasts experience counseling clients on federal, state and local pay-to-play laws. The team is well versed in sensitive congressional ethics investigations. The lawyers possess notable strength in advising tax-exempt organizations on all aspects of compliance. Clients also include corporations and political action committees, as well as political candidates and office holders across the political spectrum.

Strengths

“Caplin & Drysdale is a strong practice, particularly when it comes to tax-related matters.”

Notable practitioners

Matthew Sanderson is co-leader of Caplin &

Drysdale’s political law group. He is well regarded for his enviable political law practice, which encompasses campaign finance matters, pay-to-play rules and government ethics. He counts corporations, political committees and advocacy groups among his clients. Strengths: “Matthew understands the landscape with such a depth of detail. He has deep experience and is the consummate political law practitioner.” “Matt is always very knowledgeable and great to work with.” “He is very responsive to our needs, his quality of legal advice being extraordinarily high. His advice is always practical and very easy to implement; everything is usable and takes into account our own risk tolerance.” Trevor Potter co-leads the firm’s political law group and has vast experience advising nonprofit organizations, candidates and large corporations on a range of matters. He offers clients significant expertise in campaign finance, pay-to-play and election law issues. Strengths: “Trevor is a longtime leader in the political law profession.” “He is outstanding.” Bryson Morgan has a growing reputation for advising clients on campaign finance, lobbying and ethics rules at the federal, state and local levels. He is able to draw upon his previous experience as investigative counsel in the Office of Congressional Ethics. Strengths: “Bryson always provides efficient, knowledgeable and apt advice that answers our questions.”

Band 3

Band 3

Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky & Josefiak PLLC

What the team is known for Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky & Josefiak PLLC is a respected boutique firm with offices in Washington DC and Virginia as well as Florida and Arizona. It is a wide-ranging political law practice with expertise in campaign finance, election law and government ethics. The team is well versed in the representation of political candidates, nonprofit organizations and lobbyists, among others with associations with the Republican Party.

Strengths

“The attorneys at Holtzman Vogel understand the political dynamics as well as the substance of highly complex matters, having tremendous experience across the political industry.”

“They help us navigate a complex and tricky area so we stay away from problems. For every question we have, they provide an expert.”

“Holtzman Vogel always provide quick yet elaborate recommendations that give us the ability to make the right decision.”

Work highlights Holtzman Vogel advised Dell Technologies on its federal PAC as well as state and local campaign finance matters.

Notable practitioners

Tom Josefiak (see p.598) is a partner at Holtzman Vogel who has deep federal law expertise and previously served as Chief Counsel of the Republican National Committee. Strengths: “You need people like Tom in order to succeed.” “Tom is a dean of the political law Bar with a phenomenal practice and reputation.” Holtzman Vogel partner Jan Baran (see p.496) is a highly accomplished political law attorney with superlative knowledge of state, local and federal law. He is renowned for his knowledge of campaign finance issues.

Strengths: “Jan is strong and experienced in political law.” “Jan is a specialist, literally writing the book on political and election law. He knows everything there is to know as he has been exposed to everything there is.” “He knows all the intricacies and where you can get tripped up. He never leaves you out on a limb but will keep you very well positioned and protected.” Jason Torchinsky (see p.720) is noted for his deep understanding of political law, and is regularly called upon to provide compliance counsel on issues relating to campaign finance, ethics and election law.

Strengths: “Jason is super smart and very able. He is very creative in getting us to a place where we can say yes.” “Jason understands the most complex matters. He is a fast, comprehensive and responsive attorney.” Accomplished political law partner Jessica Furst Johnson (see p.561) offers deep expertise in election law, campaign finance and lobbying and ethics compliance. Strengths: “She brings intellect, ability and political acumen.” “Jessica’s hands-on experience in all elements of the political ecosystem makes her counsel unmatched. I trust her implicitly with the most sensitive and high-stakes matters.” “She is always on hand and finds a way to get to a ‘yes’. She is able to handle highly specialist work for us.” Jill Holtzman Vogel (see p.587) is the founding and managing partner of Holtzman Vogel. She is widely recognized for her expertise in ethics and campaign finance law.

Strengths: “Jill is a tremendous champion for her clients. She will always have your back.” “Jill goes above and beyond and is very responsive.” “Her unique background helps her serve her clients.”

Nielsen Merksamer Parrinello Gross & Leoni LLP

What the team is known for Nielsen Merksamer Parrinello Gross & Leoni LLP is a California-based political law boutique with a national reputation. The firm advises leading corporations, tax-exempt organizations and trade associations on federal, state and local election law compliance and lobbying. Its substantive expertise includes campaign finance, ballot measures, government ethics, and gift and lobbying disclosure.

Strengths

“They have the specialized knowledge that we need to get novel questions answered.”

“Nielsen Merksamer have a fantastic hold on how each state functions, helping us through all the technicalities.”

“They understand our business and provide helpful advice that weighs the pros and cons of different approaches. They are proactive in spotting issues that are relevant to us.”

Work highlights Nielsen Merksamer provided national counsel to Chevron in relation to government ethics, lobbying disclosure and campaign finance matters at the federal, state and local levels.

Notable practitioners

Jason Kaune is based in Nielsen Merksamer’s San Francisco office and leads the firm’s political law practice. He advises clients on election law issues, campaign finance and conflict of interest matters at the federal, state and local levels. Strengths:

"He is fantastic on very technical parts of the law. He is very practical and helpful in making sure you know what the requirements are and understanding how they function from a business standpoint. He is really responsive and highly available." Jason is a great partner to work with. He understands our business and offers helpful strategic insights. "He is a trusted adviser who has such a depth of expertise as well as understanding our business and focus. He is extremely accessible and reliable, providing well-reasoned and thoughtful advice that reflects us and our risk profile."

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie LLP has a strong track record in partisan political law matters, including counseling Democratic campaigns and party institutions. The firm continues to provide campaign finance and ethics compliance advice to corporations, nonprofit organizations and political action committees.

Strengths

"Perkins are well connected in the political and government space and offer a wide range of experience and expertise in any issue."

"We always find the team to be very knowledgeable on political law subjects. Their service levels and responsiveness is excellent, being very quick to address inquiries and follow up on time-sensitive matters."

"Everything from Perkins is always very thorough and detailed as well as being pragmatic and practical. Interactions are always very professional, efficient and responsive."

Work highlights Perkins Coie represented the Montana Democratic Party in a lawsuit challenging the passage of three voter suppression bills.

Notable practitioners

Rebecca Gordon (see p.571) is routinely engaged to advise on campaign finance, pay-to-play and compliance matters. Strengths: "Rebecca is very responsive and thorough in her analysis. She will dig deep to find the answer, managing everything seamlessly. She understands we live in the real world and her advice is always practical." "She is responsive, diligent and has great knowledge of the law. She will take on matters that need real attention." Brian Svoboda (see p.713) is an established practitioner in political law and congressional ethics. He is sought after by corporations and trade associations as well as political parties and candidates. Strengths: "Brian is an affable and accessible counsel. He is very knowledgeable on aspects of political law." "Brian is very knowledgeable and excellent at explaining issues that otherwise would be virtually incomprehensible."

Band 4

Akin

What the team is known for Akin's political law group is recognized for its ability to advise clients across the political spectrum on federal and state pay-to-play, campaign finance and lobbying laws. The firm is able to draw upon its strength in government relations and lobbying to service corporate and tax-exempt organizations as well as private individual.

Strengths

"The connections and expertise Akin offer make them stand out."

"Akin provide an excellent service. They have a keen sense of how things work and are very reliable at providing operational analysis."

"Akin are a vital resource for us, having the right people for just about anything we bring them."

Work highlights Akin represented Sig Sauer before the FEC regarding an alleged violation of government contractors making political contributions.

Notable practitioners

Kenneth Gross is a highly revered senior counsel and consultant at Akin. He has vast experience advising clients on campaign finance, lobbying and political compliance matters. Strengths: "Ken has forgotten most of what we will ever learn when it comes to political law." "He is without a doubt a leader in this field." "Ken is the best, with tremendous client affinity and responsiveness." Akin's Melissa Laurenza (see p.617) is regularly sought out by clients, including large corporations and hedge funds, to advise on a wide range of matters, including campaign finance and lobbying regulations. She is also noted for her experience handling FARA-related issues. Strengths: "Melissa has a strong political law practice."

Ballard Spahr LLP

What the team is known for Ballard Spahr's highly regarded political law group has a wealth of expertise in lobbying registration and reporting as well as election law. The firm is adept at advising public and elected officials on ethics and gift rules in addition to fielding expertise in Foreign Agent Registration Act compliance and enforcement. The attorneys are eminently capable of representing Fortune 100 corporations, nonprofits, government agencies and public officials.

Strengths

"Ballard Spahr are able to take a big-picture view while also having very practical conversations. They have a really strong business understanding of risks and options as well. Their breadth of experience is very much appreciated."

"The team has a wealth of knowledge and expertise that we need, meaning they are always available to provide counsel."

"We have a really great experience working with the Ballard Spahr. Their advice is spot on and they deliver a very high-quality service."

Work highlights Ballard Spahr advised Mastercard Worldwide with regard to shareholder lobbying and political activity.

Notable practitioners

Katherine Belinski practices across the full range of political law matters, offering notable expertise in federal and state lobbying, ethics and political compliance. She regularly acts on behalf of multinational corporations. Strengths: "Kate is very thoughtful and solution-oriented, thinking about the long term as well as today. She is a real thought partner." "She is very knowledgeable and experienced, providing great advisory work and being super available." "She is very strong on the technicality of the law, providing legal advice that is not just based on political opinion." Timothy Jenkins has vast experience in the field, routinely advising on federal election law, government ethics and lobby registration matters. He counts large corporations, associations and nonprofit entities among his clients. Strengths: "Tim is a trusted resource." "He is very creative and pragmatic to find ways to do the things we need to do in a compliant way." "He is steeped in knowledge of political law."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP boasts a prominent political law team with a wealth of experience representing clients in the financial services sector, among others. The team provides corporate clients with high-level and often cross-border compliance counsel. The group is also well versed in advising political candidates and public officials on the full range of election law issues. Its capabilities include advising on the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

Strengths

"We specifically seek out Holland & Knight because of their ability to handle complex problems and unique tasks."

"They provide high-quality advice and service, working to very quick turnaround times on complicated questions."

"Their team is outstanding, with strong knowledge not only of federal but also of state and local government laws as it pertains to pay-to-play."

Work highlights Holland & Knight represented Congressman Tom Malinowski in a House Ethics Committee investigation regarding financial disclosure filings.

Notable practitioners

Co-head of the firm's political law practice, Charles Borden is a respected political law attorney with notable expertise in campaign finance and pay-to-play law. He acts for a variety of clients, including large corporations and political donors. Strengths: "He is encyclopedic in his breadth of knowledge, with in-depth commercial awareness. He has most probably already dealt with the issue before, meaning he is very efficient as well as thorough." "I find Charles's ability to answer, or bring together a team that can answer, my questions remarkable." "We are extremely pleased with the quality of advice and service provided by Charles." Christopher DeLacy is co-head of Holland & Knight's political law practice. He advises corporations, political action committees and political candidates on lobbying and ethics rules at the federal, state and local levels.

Strengths: "Chris is excellent to work with, having strong knowledge in the areas that are important to us." "Chris is always very professional and easy to work with." Samuel Brown has extensive experience advising businesses and public officials on the full range of political law issues, including pay-to-play rules, lobbying laws and campaign finance. Strengths: "Sam is great to work with, always providing strong support and guidance." "I can rely on Sam if I have thorny issues. He gives great advice and is very collaborative. I couldn't speak more highly of him."

Sandler Reiff Lamb Rosenstein & Birkenstock, P.C.

What the team is known for Sandler Reiff Lamb Rosenstein & Birkenstock P.C. is a respected boutique firm advising on campaign finance, lobbying compliance and government ethics at the federal, state and local levels. The firm has significant strengths in election law litigation and FEC enforcement proceedings. It is increasingly focused on representing corporations in addition to its traditional client base of Democratic Party institutions, candidates, office holders and advocacy groups.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Sandler is a seasoned political law attorney who previously served as in-house general counsel to the Democratic National Committee. He is adept at handling matters relating to lobbying, campaign finance and election law.

Strengths: "Joe is simply exceptional." Neil Reiff has extensive experience representing national and state party committees, candidates and other organizations in sophisticated campaign finance and election law matters. Joseph Birkenstock advises a broad array of clients, including nonprofit organizations, political candidates and major donors, on their lobbying and advocacy activities. He is also sought after to handle conflicts of interest and campaign impropriety claims.

Steptoe LLP

What the team is known for Steptoe LLP is a respected national offering, skilled in handling the full range of political law issues on behalf of political campaigns as well as corporate clients, advising at both state and federal levels.

Strengths

"I really enjoy working with Steptoe because they are incredibly responsive and provide high-level legal advice."

"The team are extremely knowledgeable about state and federal compliance and laws, meaning they always respond to our questions and concerns quickly and efficiently."

"The Steptoe & Johnson team are thorough and responsive, doing an excellent job of laying out options to meet our goals."

Work highlights Steptoe assisted Novo Nordisk with the development and daily operation of its national lobbying compliance program at state and local level.

Notable practitioners

Jason Abel is a Washington, DC-based partner at Steptoe & Johnson. His comprehensive political law practice includes advising trade associations, nonprofits and candidates on the Lobbying Disclosure Act, PAC compliance and campaign finance law. Strengths: "Jason's counsel is invaluable, his analysis always deeply sophisticated and his understanding of our business perfect." "He is a reliable attorney who provides high-quality advice." "Jason is very thorough and responsive to us in his research and answers. His advice is practical and direct, which makes my job easier." Adie Olson is a highly sought-after adviser for corporate clients. She provides counsel on a wide array of issues, including campaign finance, lobbying and ethics rules at the state and federal level. Strengths: "Adie has a really good handle on lobbying compliance. She is a real subject matter expert and an accomplished leader." "She is a fantastic communicator with really strong research and analytical skills." Jennifer Jackson is developing a notable practice servicing her corporate and trade association clients in relation to their compliance needs. She is recognized for her knowledge regarding lobbying, campaign finance and ethics. Strengths: "Jennifer is always prompt and thorough with her analysis and day-to-day responses. She communicates complicated information in an accessible way. Overall, she brings our company such peace of mind." "She provides very direct and pragmatic advice, providing helpful and actionable legal recommendations." "Jennifer is amazing. She is extremely responsive and will spend as much time as she needs to get us to where we need to be."

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable LLP offers a broad political law practice catering to corporations, trade associations, political action committees and individuals, among others. The practice provides expertise in a wide array of issues, including lobbying disclosure, campaign finance, ethics and the Foreign Agents Registration Act. The lawyers are capable of assisting clients with political law issues at the state and federal levels.

Notable practitioners

Ronald Jacobs (see p.595) represents a variety of clients, including elected officials, trade associations and multinational companies, in campaign finance and FEC compliance matters. Lawrence Norton (see p.655) advises political candidates as well as businesses and advocacy groups on the full range of political law issues, including campaign finance, lobbying disclosure and pay-to-play rules. He frequently represents clients in FEC and congressional ethics investigations.

Band 5BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler LLP is a go-to firm for state and local legislatures, particularly in relation to redistricting and voting rights litigation. The team is also frequently engaged to counsel corporations, trade associations and political action committees on political law compliance. The group offers substantive expertise in campaign finance and lobbying compliance.

Strengths

"BakerHostetler is capable of providing valuable advice on complex and multifaceted matters. The team has relevant experience and responds promptly to inquiries."

"They bring a plethora of knowledge on a wide array of matters from all over the country. This allows them be experts not only on the niche issues, but also on whole topics."

"We are very impressed with the depth of their knowledge of election law and ability to organize and synthesize a large volume of information, data and evidence."

Work highlights BakerHostetler represented the North Carolina General Assembly regarding redistricting planning and litigation.

Notable practitioners

Mark Braden (see p.511) is a highly experienced political law attorney. He draws upon his previous experience as chief counsel to the Republican National Committee and is adept at advising clients on campaign finance, lobbying compliance and redistricting litigation. Strengths: "Mark is great, with experience in and exposure to redistricting and campaign matters in particular." "Mark is a strong leader of his team." "Mark serves well with his legal acumen, experience, vision and general advice." Trevor Stanley (see p.709) attracts praise for his knowledge of campaign finance. He frequently undertakes redistricting litigation, and also advises clients on state and federal political law compliance. Strengths: "Trevor is extremely knowledgeable on every facet of the election process. Not only does he have a high level of understanding of the issues, he also has a knack for explaining complex matters in terms that clients can comprehend."

Dentons LLP

What the team is known for Dentons houses a well-regarded political law group with expertise advising on the full gamut of election law issues, including campaign finance and pay-to-play compliance. The team advises an impressive client base, which includes businesses, nonprofits and political candidates.

Strengths

"The client service we receive from Dentons is very strong. They are responsive and everything runs seamlessly. They always help us understand the risks of any particular approach."

"They provide a strong national perspective on our issues, being well connected both nationally and at the state level and proactive in anticipating our needs."

"Dentons really knock it out of the park. They are seamless in how they bring their global footprint together for us."

Work highlights Dentons advised Delta Air Lines on federal and state and local political matters pertaining to ethics, campaign finance, lobbying disclosure as well as PAC and trade association matters.

Notable practitioners

Benjamin Keane is co-head of Denton's political law, ethics and disclosure team. He boasts a burgeoning political law practice representing corporations, government officials and nonprofit organizations on pay-to-play rules, ethics and election law. Strengths: "Ben is a one-stop shop. Regardless of the issue, we can go to him and he has a solution. He is available and responsive to us and our needs." "His appetite to help never wanes; there is not an issue he will not engage with 100%. He is fully dedicated to us as a client and thoroughly responsive, willing to use all the resources of the firm to get us what we need." "His biggest attribute is that he takes complex legal situations and boils it down to something straightforward with clear outcomes and options moving forward." Senior managing associate Michael Pfeifer is noted for his knowledge of lobbying, government ethics and campaign finance rules, and also frequently acts on behalf of clients facing FEC and congressional ethics investigations. Strengths: “Michael is incredible and reliable. We do not worry when we know that Michael is there to help and guide us.” “He is responsive, thoughtful and hard-working.”

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day’s political law practice is known for its representation of Republican candidates and party committees. The practice counsels businesses, advocacy groups and political candidates across a wide array of campaign finance, lobbying regulation and government ethics matters. The team has complementary strengths in civil and white-collar litigation, making it a strong choice for contentious enforcement proceedings, including FEC complaints and congressional ethics investigations.

Notable practitioners

Megan Sowards Newton is an experienced election lawyer eminently capable of advising corporate clients as well as political candidates on campaign finance, ethics and lobbying disclosure issues. She also has extensive expertise in the Foreign Agents Registration Act. Strengths: “Megan is a fine lawyer and a solid attorney.” “She is fantastic – very diligent at always finding amicable solutions to allow everyone to move forward.”

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP houses a well-respected political law team with attorneys based in Washington DC, Chicago and Los Angeles. The team advises on political law compliance issues and also handles redistricting litigation. The group is well placed to act on behalf of corporations, nonprofits and lobbying firms, among others.

Strengths

“Mayer Brown provide a customized service for us. In a highly regulated space, they ensure everything we are doing is tip-top.”

“They are experts in the subject matters for which we seek their advice.”

“Their client care is incredible as well as being very efficient and timely in how they approach their work.”

Work highlights Mayer Brown counseled the London Stock Exchange Group regarding lobbying compliance and PAC matters as well as gifts and ethics advice.

Notable practitioners

Mitchell Holzrichter (see p.587) is a Mayer Brown partner recognized for his expertise in public infrastructure projects and transactions. He is well versed in advising clients regarding government ethics and regulatory matters. Strengths: “He is a great extension to our business, understanding us and our unique position. He is able to customize his service for us.” “Mitch is an attorney with tremendous experience and incredible pragmatism.” Joseph Seliga (see p.696) regularly advises on campaign finance and wider political law matters. His client base includes political candidates, committees and donors. Strengths: “Joe is an outstanding individual and an expert in his field. He has great judgment and provides great advice in a very timely manner.” “He has such deep knowledge and expertise with a fantastic breadth and depth of experience.”

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury’s political law practice is noted for its work advising clients on lobbying disclosure and campaign finance issues. The firm’s clients also benefit from its ability to devise political law compliance programs. The group represents large corporations in industries such as energy and technology, among others.

Strengths

“They are very smart, meaning we go to them for a lot of different matters. They take their time to think things through and are very detail-oriented.”

“Pillsbury always understand our business needs and are always available when needed.”

“They go above and beyond for us, not only giving us great advice but recommending options. They give us a lot of peace of mind that we are compliant and transparent. We are always blown away with how they work and what they provide for us.”

Work highlights Pillsbury advised AT&T regarding campaign finance, lobbying and ethics laws in California.

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Emily Barrett Erlingsson is a fast-rising star in the political law field. She advises clients on campaign finance and lobbying disclosure laws. Strengths: “Her approach is always thoughtful and practical. Her responsiveness is uniformly amazing.” “Emily knows her stuff inside and out. She is fluent in political law and up to date with developments. She is comprehensive in her advice and is incredibly responsive, going above and beyond.” “She is extremely quick with her legal analysis, having deep knowledge in the areas of law we need. She helps us understand not only the legal requirements but the background and why the law is the way it is.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

Michael Bell of Hogan Lovells is called upon by his diverse client roster to advise on matters relating to federal and state and local election law. He is also sought out for his expertise in compliance and lobbying disclosure. Strengths: “Michael is easy to engage with and helpful. We think highly of him and what he does for us.” “He is a very intelligent and capable attorney with a strong mastery of political law issues. He is very experienced and adept at helping clients, being very sharp, approachable and easy to work with.” “I consider him an extension of my team as he is very responsive and timely in his responses. He has expert knowledge of subject matters relevant to us and thinks creatively to help solve issues.”

Elliot Berke is a founding and managing partner of Berke Farah LLP. He regularly advises government officials on congressional ethics and campaign finance issues as well as corporations on lobbying compliance. Strengths: “Elliot is solution-oriented, meaning you can take any problem to him and he will navigate a way to find a solution. He finds creative ways to solve problems and helps us stay ahead of any issues in the changing regulatory landscape. He helps me be wise.” “He understands the nuances of politics and the law extremely well.” “Elliot’s vast experience brings a great deal of institutional knowledge to any challenge we present to him. He ably deconstructs complexity and offers sound advice for resolution on sensitive matters.”

Craig Engle leads the political law practice at ArentFox Schiff LLP. He has a wealth of experience advising on campaign finance law. His client base includes corporations, nonprofits and political candidates. Strengths: “Craig is an incredibly professional, responsive and extremely sophisticated political lawyer.” “He is a seasoned expert in the field of election law with the ability to consider various angles to solve potential problems.” “He is trustworthy and acts with the utmost integrity. He processes information immediately and finds solutions with such a strong grasp on the law. He is such a help in navigating difficult issues.”

Managing partner of Husch Blackwell’s Washington, DC office, Kyle Gilster is a highly sought-after political law practitioner. He counsels corporations and political action committees on campaign finance issues, among others.

Strengths: “Kyle is very sharp.” “Kyle ensures excellent communication throughout the process and is responsive to all inquiries whether substantive or updates.” “He understands the political climate very well. He is very professional, effective in his manner and highly tenacious.”

Jeffrey Hunter of Kelley Drye & Warren LLP frequently represents clients in enforcement proceedings including FEC investigations. He also counsels clients on PAC formation and operation, as well as campaign finance, lobbying disclosure and ethics compliance. Strengths: “Jeff is a highly rated expert instructor.” “He has a wealth of knowledge and is very succinct and clear in his analysis and advice. He was very thorough and patient.” “He is terrific with clients, meaning they are kept happy and well serviced. He knows the dynamics at play, including what is typical and what is not, as well as where to push and where not. He offers polished advice which is client-friendly.”

James Kahl is co-head of Whiteford, Taylor & Preston’s political law practice. He is highly regarded for his experience advising domestic and global corporations, trade associations and advocacy groups. His expertise pertains to federal and state campaign finance, lobbying and ethics regulations. Strengths: “Jim is a dedicated outside counsel. I trust him to provide excellent service, being an expert in his field.” “He helps us understand the landscape and stay abreast of relevant laws. He is very thorough in ensuring we are compliant as well as being extremely helpful, rigorous and professional.”

David Laufman of Wiggin and Dana LLP is a specialist in the Foreign Agents Registration Act, frequently advising clients on disclosure and compliance. Strengths: “David is an excellent partner and counselor. His level of sophistication and service is top-notch, and he is able to communicate effectively to all levels of our organization.” “His thought process is very rigorous, with sound judgment formed by his time in government and private practice.” “He has an incredible breadth of knowledge from inside and outside of government. He is viewed as a real thought leader and a great resource for complex issues.”

William Minor of DLA Piper LLP has a wide-ranging political practice which involves representing corporations, trade associations and individuals in matters relating to FARA and campaign finance laws. Strengths: “William is very strong at providing the commercial and legal context of any given matter, communicating concepts clearly.” “William has a deep understanding of relevant laws and is always available with timely and sophisticated advice in a constantly changing regulatory landscape.” “He does a very good job of understanding us and our position and figuring out a strategy meaning we are compliant with the law. He is a great resource to have.”

Claire Rajan (see p.674) of A&O Shearman regularly advises clients on a broad array of matters, including federal and state lobbying law, and FARA issues. She also offers notable experience representing clients before the FEC. Strengths: “Claire is a well-rounded lawyer for political law with a lot of experience in campaign finance and anti-corruption. Her commercial sense and judgment is really on point, making her a very efficient adviser.” “She is really sensitive to efficiency and tailors her advice to fit our demands. She gets to the heart of a matter, grasping the legal issues that matter.” “Claire integrates seamlessly to provide guidance regarding enforcement and government affairs matters.”

Charles Spies (see p.708) of Dickinson Wright PLLC offers a wealth of experience in a broad array of political law matters. He continues to be a popular choice for political candidates, super PACs and other individuals seeking compliance advice. Strengths: “Charles is a terrific lawyer, particularly fantastic with super PACs.” “He is super smart with a lot of political acumen.” “Charlie is an excellent attorney. He is quick to respond and a great source in political law for creative solutions within the bounds of the law. He is known for helping clients get as close to ‘yes’ as possible in a legally compliant manner.”

Scott Thomas of Blank Rome LLP has an impressive roster of clients, including politicians, multinational companies, nonprofit organizations and super PACs, among others. A former chairman of the FEC, he is widely regarded as an authority on FEC compliance issues.

Brandon Van Grack (see p.725) is cochair of the national security and global risk and crisis management teams at Morrison Foerster. He is renowned for his expertise regarding the Foreign Agents Registration Act and previously served as chief of the DOJ’s FARA unit. He advises nonprofits and corporations across the technology and investment sectors. Strengths: “He is extremely knowledgeable regarding the law as well as the approach government takes, making his input deeply valuable. He is hugely available for someone as in demand as he is.” “He has a wealth of experience in national security issues including FARA. His government experience is deep and he is highly collaborative in his approach.” “He is very helpful in prioritizing matters with his substantive knowledge. His client service is great, always contextualizing risk for our tolerance. He thinks through problems as well as solutions.”

Privacy & Data Security Nationwide

Privacy & Data Security: The Elite
Leading Firms
Band 1
Covington & Burling LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Morrison Foerster
Band 2
Cooley LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Latham & Watkins LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Venable LLP
WilmerHale
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
ZwillGen PLLC
Band 3
BakerHostetler LLP
Baker McKenzie
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Kelley Drye & Warren LLP
Perkins Coie LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Band 4
Alston & Bird LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Hintze Law PLLC
InfoLawGroup LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Akin

What the team is known for Akin Gump has a significant privacy and cybersecurity practice, with robust experience advising on a broad array of regulatory compliance matters. Particularly renowned for its capabilities in handling breach investigations and related litigation for notable clients.

Strengths

"Akin's team is excellent."

Work highlights Akin Gump assisted National Cotton Council of America with the launch of its US Cotton Trust Protocol.

Notable practitioners

Natasha Kohne (see p.612) has a well-rounded privacy practice with strengths in litigation, compliance counseling and data breach matters. She has notable expertise in advising on CCPA.

Michelle Reed has noted experience in cybersecurity matters. She is also often sought out by clients to provide privacy compliance advice. Strengths: "Michelle is an extremely impressive lawyer."

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird has expertise in advising multinational companies on a variety of data and privacy issues, and demon-

Privacy & Data Security: Highly Regarded
Leading Firms
Band 1
Akin
Arnold & Porter
Crowell & Moring LLP
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Loeb & Loeb LLP
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Band 2
Fenwick
Frankfurt Kurnit Klein & Selz
Goodwin
Holland & Knight LLP
Linklaters
Norton Rose Fulbright
Paul Hastings LLP
Reed Smith LLP
Band 3
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Fieldfisher
King & Spalding LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Octillo Law
Troutman Pepper

strates a sophisticated approach to compliance and data protection. Highly adept in issues regarding cybersecurity, with strength in network intrusions, and maintains a fine track record for its work in class action suits and FTC investigations. Also advises US companies on European privacy law, especially on compliance with the GDPR, in collaboration with the firm's Brussels office.

Strengths

"Alston & Bird has a strong bench and consistently provides high-quality work product."

"The team has a broad knowledge base which enables them to effectively address industry-specific issues and concerns."

"It's a very strong firm containing really good lawyers."

Work highlights Alston & Bird provided counsel to UPS on its California/Virginia/Colorado privacy compliance initiative, as well as on US and EU data protection matters.

Notable practitioners

Kimberly Kiefer Peretti (see p.606) focuses her practice on cybersecurity counseling, with notable expertise in HIPAA compliance. She draws on her valuable experience as a former cybercrime prosecutor at the Department of Justice. Strengths: "Kimberly is a terrific lawyer." "She is one of the leading experts in the sector."

Kristine McAlister Brown (see p.515) is held in high regard for her ability to handle class actions arising from data breaches. She has further experience of advising clients on enforcement actions. Strengths: "She's a terrific lawyer and she represents her clients very well."

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter is recognized for its substantial and far-reaching practice, which includes advising on national

Privacy & Data Security: Adtech
Eminent Practitioners
Eminent Practitioners
Ingis Stuart P Venable LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Civitanes Emilio W Venable LLP *
Freeman D Reed ArentFox Schiff LLP (ORL) ◇
Friel Alan Squire Patton Boggs (ORL) ◇
Goldberg Daniel Frankfurt Kurnit Klein & Selz *
Gottshall Justine InfoLawGroup LLP *
Halama Meredith Perkins Coie LLP *
Hintze Mike Hintze Law PLLC
Hutnik Alysa Kelley Drye & Warren LLP
Lee Jessica Loeb & Loeb LLP
Roth Marc Cobalt Law (ORL) ◇
Signorelli Michael Venable LLP *
Sussman Heather Egan Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe

security issues, privacy and other security aspects for government departments and agencies. Well versed in managing data breaches and also noted for its strengths in consumer class action defense in breach litigation. Possesses strength in cybersecurity and cyber advocacy, and adept at addressing healthcare and infant online privacy concerns.

Strengths

"Arnold & Porter's team members are intelligent, responsive to the clients' needs and bright."

"The team's advice is practical, pragmatic and business-oriented."

"The group has deep knowledge across a wide array of healthcare legal issues."

Work highlights Arnold & Porter represented Adobe in the CIPA putative class action litigation in Los Angeles Superior Court arising from allegations of violations of California's wiretap law.

Notable practitioners

Ronald Lee is particularly well known for his national security expertise honed in the Department of Justice. This enables him to provide data protection and cybersecurity advice to clients in sensitive sectors, including defense. Nancy Perkins is highly regarded for her work with businesses in creating and developing their data protection regimes. This utilizes her strength in HIPAA, CCPA and COPPA compliance. Strengths: "Nancy is very responsive and very practical." "She is a fantastic lawyer." Jami Mills Vibbert frequently assists clients in the healthcare sector with cybersecurity and privacy program reviews and HIPAA compliance. Strengths: "Jami is extremely knowledgeable." "She's really a great lawyer - she's very client-oriented and she's very dedicated."

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler is noted for its strength in litigation and defending regulatory investigations, and sought after for its wide-ranging compliance advice. Maintains a strong reputation for its standout breach response practice. Represents clients in hospitality, financial services, retail and IT. Held in high regard for its payment card security expertise. Handles matters relating to emerging technolo-

Privacy & Data Security: Cybersecurity
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Baker Stewart Steptoe LLP (ORL) ◇
Leading Individuals
Star individuals
Sotto Lisa J Hutton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Band 1
Dembofsky Luke Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Kiefer Peretti Kimberly Alston & Bird LLP*
Powell Benjamin WilmerHale*
Raul Alan Charles Sidley Austin LLP*
Serwin Andrew B DLA Piper LLP (US)*
Wugmeister Miriam Morrison Foerster*
Band 2
Archie Jennifer Latham & Watkins LLP*
De Rajesh Mayer Brown LLP*
Kobus III Theodore J BakerHostetler LLP*
McNicholas Edward R Ropes & Gray LLP*
Segalis Boris Morrison Foerster*
Sussman Heather Egan Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe
Band 3
Garland James Covington & Burling LLP*
Hoffman Craig A BakerHostetler LLP*
Kim Antony Latham & Watkins LLP*
Lashway David Sidley Austin LLP*
Liebermann Erez Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Mathews Kristen J Morrison Foerster*
Navetta David Cooley LLP
Sabett Randy V Cooley LLP
Saikali Alfred Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP*
Swaminathan Aravind Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 4
Kohne Natasha Akin*
Pastore James Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Reed Michelle Akin
Sumner Phyllis King & Spalding LLP*
Turner Serrin Latham & Watkins LLP*
Band 5
Bahar Michael Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP*
Brown Colleen Theresa Sidley Austin LLP*
Carlin John P Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton (ORL) ◇*
Cwalina Chris Norton Rose Fulbright
Freedman Linn F Robinson & Cole LLP (ORL) ◇*
Friedlander Nicole Sullivan & Cromwell LLP (ORL) ◇*
Gesser Avi Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Kaltsounis Andreas T BakerHostetler LLP*
Krasnow Melissa VLP Law Group LLP (ORL) ◇*
Lee Ronald D Arnold & Porter
Malatesta John Thomas Polsinelli PC
McCarthy Colman Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP*
Paluzzi Dominic McDonald Hopkins LLC (ORL) ◇*
Ropple Lisa Jones Day (ORL) ◇
Setterlund Eric Bradley Arant Boult Cummings (ORL) ◇*
Sharton Brenda Dechert LLP (ORL) ◇
Simon David Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher (ORL) ◇*
Visser Michelle Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Welle Jud Goodwin*
Woods John W Sidley Austin LLP*
Up-and-coming individuals
Kelly Matthew Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

gies, such as artificial intelligence and blockchain. Noted for strength in addressing the requirements of the healthcare sector.

Privacy & Data Security: Healthcare
Leading Firms
Band 1
BakerHostetler LLP
Davis Wright Tremaine LLP
Hintze Law PLLC
Hogan Lovells US LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Polsinelli PC
WilmerHale
Band 2
Alston & Bird LLP
Covington & Burling LLP
Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP
Morrison Foerster
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Greene Adam Davis Wright Tremaine LLP
Nahra Kirk J WilmerHale
Wilder Marcy Hogan Lovells US LLP
Band 2
Rosati Kristen Coppersmith Brockelman PLC (ORL) ◇*
Sessions Lynn BakerHostetler LLP*
Band 3
Canter Elizabeth Covington & Burling LLP*
Daniel Jodi Crowell & Moring LLP
Epstein Andrew Cooley LLP
Gersh Deborah L Ropes & Gray LLP*
Gottlieb Daniel McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Hirsch Reece Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP (ORL) ◇
Lashway Scott Mintz (ORL) ◇
Leopard Amy Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP (ORL) ◇
Peters Iliana Polsinelli PC
Sokolowski Sheila Hintze Law PLLC
Soliz Melissa Coppersmith Brockelman PLC (ORL) ◇*
Williams Rebecca Davis Wright Tremaine LLP
Zacharias Ed McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Up-and-coming individuals
Crespo Melissa Morrison Foerster*
Kenney Kathleen Polsinelli PC
Mills Vibbert Jami Arnold & Porter
Otto Paul Hogan Lovells
Reilly Brandon P Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP

Strengths

"I have been very impressed with the team's responsiveness, and their service levels are best in class."

"The quality of the group's communication is excellent."

"The firm has the expertise necessary to handle complex cybersecurity and privacy matters – both legal and technical expertise."

Work highlights BakerHostetler defended multiple online news sites in putative class actions brought under the federal Video Privacy Protection Act, in which plaintiffs claimed that the defendants failed to provide notice and obtain consent before allegedly disclosing their Facebook User ID and viewing history to Meta.

Notable practitioners

Theodore Kobus (see p.610) is noted as a market-leading expert in cybersecurity issues, including responding to high-stakes data breaches. Strengths: "Ted has a deep knowledge of the subject matter from experience." "He is always immediately responsive to our outreach, providing practical and time-sensitive guidance." Lynn Sessions (see p.3267) ' practice covers the full breadth of data crisis management, specifically

Privacy & Data Security: Litigation
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cooley LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Perkins Coie LLP
Band 2
BakerHostetler LLP
Hausfeld LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Morrison Foerster
Ropes & Gray LLP
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Rhodes Michael G Cooley LLP
Band 2
Keller Amy E DiCello Levitt (ORL) ◇
LeBlanc Travis Cooley LLP
Melodia Mark S Holland & Knight LLP
Pizzirusso James Hausfeld LLP
Saikali Alfred Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP*
Southwell Alexander H. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Band 3
Berengaut Alexander Covington & Burling LLP*
Brown Kristine McAlister Alston & Bird LLP*
Cheung Tiffany Morrison Foerster*
Collignon Casie BakerHostetler LLP
Karlsodt Paul G BakerHostetler LLP*
Klinger Gary Milberg Coleman Bryson Phillips (ORL) ◇*
Mortimer Ann Marie Hutton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Patel Purvi G Morrison Foerster*
Rubin Michael Latham & Watkins LLP*
Sharton Brenda Dechert LLP (ORL) ◇
Siebert Melissa Cozen O'Connor (ORL) ◇
Snell James Perkins Coie*
Sumner Phyllis King & Spalding LLP*
Swaminathan Aravind Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Turner Serrin Latham & Watkins LLP*
Visser Michelle Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Wolfson Tina Ahdoot & Wolfson, PC (ORL) ◇
Yanchunis John Morgan & Morgan (ORL) ◇
Up-and-coming individuals
Rogers Ashley Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*

in relation to the healthcare industry. Strengths: "Lynn is very responsive and has an expert knowledge of privacy." "She is extremely knowledgeable and great to work with." Casie Collignon is well regarded for representing clients in class action litigation. She has considerable experience of providing counsel on data breaches in the healthcare arena. Strengths: "Casie is an excellent advocate and counselor." "She's a great lawyer who provides excellent service." Craig Hoffman (see p.586) is distinguished by his wealth of experience in responding to information and data incidents. He is especially highly regarded for his representation of payment card providers. Strengths: "Craig has a deep knowledge of cybersecurity law and gives practical advice." "He's very good with clients and he has a lot of experience." Leader of the privacy and digital risk class action and litigation team, Paul Karlsodt (see p.602) is held in high regard for his ability to handle high-profile class actions. He has experience of representing clients

Privacy & Data Security: Privacy
Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Eminent Practitioners
Fischer L Richard Morrison Foerster *	Ingis Stuart P Venable LLP *
Wolf Christopher Hogan Lovells US LLP	Rosenfeld Dana Kelley Drye & Warren LLP
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Lee Jessica Loeb & Loeb LLP
Sotto Lisa J Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *	Libin Nancy Davis Wright Tremaine LLP
Band 1	Lyon Christine E Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer (ORL) ◇
Freeman D Reed ArentFox Schiff LLP (ORL) ◇	Simpson Aaron P Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Parnes Lydia B. Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati	Stegmaier Gerard M. Reed Smith LLP
Raul Alan Charles Sidley Austin LLP *	Taylor Nathan D. Morrison Foerster *
Serwin Andrew B DLA Piper LLP (US) *	Witt Amanda Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton (ORL) ◇
Wugmeister Miriam Morrison Foerster *	Band 5
Zwillinger Marc J ZwillGen PLLC	Bahar Michael Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *
Band 2	Baker Matthew Baker Botts L.L.P. (ORL) ◇ *
Archie Jennifer Latham & Watkins LLP *	Brown Colleen Theresa Sidley Austin LLP *
Eisenhauer Margaret P Privacy (ORL) ◇	Dayanim Behnam Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Gottshall Justine InfoLawGroup LLP *	de La Lama Amy Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner (ORL) ◇
Hintze Mike Hintze Law PLLC	George Beth Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer (ORL) ◇
Hintze Susan Hintze Law PLLC	Harding Elizabeth Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Hutnik Alysa Kelley Drye & Warren LLP	Horvath Jane Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Kobus III Theodore J BakerHostetler LLP *	Ilan Daniel Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton (ORL) ◇ *
Mathews Kristen J. Morrison Foerster *	Jehl Laura E Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (ORL) ◇ *
McNicholas Edward R Ropes & Gray LLP *	Jolly Ieuan Linklaters *
Nahra Kirk J WilmerHale	Kagan Odia Fox Rothschild (ORL) ◇ *
Navetta David Cooley LLP	Kernochan Tama Julia Venable LLP
Olsen Christopher N. Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati	Krasnow Melissa VLP Law Group LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Sussman Heather Egan Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe	Lee Ronald D Arnold & Porter
Band 3	Loughlin Scott Hogan Lovells US LLP *
Canter Elizabeth Covington & Burling LLP *	Mithal Maneesha Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Civitanes Emilio W Venable LLP *	Neiditz Jonathan Kilpatrick Townsend (ORL) ◇
De Rajesh Mayer Brown LLP *	Newby Tyler Fenwick
Determann Lothar Baker McKenzie *	Parsons Kandi ZwillGen PLLC
Halama Meredith Perkins Coie LLP *	Perkins Nancy L Arnold & Porter
Hengesbaugh Brian Baker McKenzie *	Roosa Steven Norton Rose Fulbright
Kestenbaum Janis Claire Perkins Coie LLP	Stauss David Husch Blackwell LLP (ORL) ◇
Koenig James Troutman Pepper *	Stein Benjamin InfoLawGroup LLP *
LeBlanc Travis Cooley LLP	Tene Omer Goodwin *
O'Neill Julie Morrison Foerster *	Tobón Camila Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP *
Rubin Michael Latham & Watkins LLP *	Weingarten Libby Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Segalis Boris Morrison Foerster *	Zetoony David Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Shelton Leipzig Dominique Mayer Brown LLP *	Up-and-coming individuals
Thomas Liisa Sheppard, Mullin, Richter (ORL) ◇	Golding Elliot McDermott Will & Emery LLP *
Tonsager Lindsey Covington & Burling LLP *	Maalouf Melissa ZwillGen PLLC
Band 4	Turner Drum Starr Polsinelli PC
Bacon Brittany Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *	Associates to watch
Goldberg Daniel Frankfurt Kurnit Klein & Selz *	Messerschmidt Cristina Baker McKenzie

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

in matters concerning customer data collection and digital advertising issues. Strengths: “Paul is my go-to for complex situations and is always available and thorough.” “He is a very strong advocate and he’s very well prepared.” Andreas Kaltsounis (see p.600) is the co-lead of the digital risk advisory and cybersecurity team. He is noted for his ability to assist clients facing ransomware attacks and regulatory investigations, among other issues. Strengths: “His knowledge of the law is outstanding.”

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for The Baker McKenzie team continues to provide clients with high-caliber cybersecurity and data protection services both domestically and globally. Singled out for its specific focus on crisis management, performing advisory roles and privacy policy. Known for its excellent handling of privacy matters in the healthcare and financial services industries. Also offers advice on data issues arising during complex transactions and regarded for its international privacy practice, with special strength in cybersecurity.

Strengths

“A very practical and responsive team.”

“Baker McKenzie’s lawyers are very detail-oriented.”

“It is a highly capable international team.”

Work highlights Baker McKenzie advised Emerson on its privacy program related to the spin-off of its climate technologies business, now known as Copeland.

Notable practitioners

Lothar Determann (see p.540) is recognized for his keen insight into European privacy legislation affecting USA-based clients. He is also well respected for his work on CCPA counseling. Strengths: “He’s very knowledgeable.” “Lothar is an absolutely brilliant lawyer.” Brian Hengesbaugh (see p.583)’s arsenal of services includes advising on cross-border data privacy and protection, digital media and cybersecurity matters. Strengths: “Brian is an excellent attorney with a wealth of historical knowledge.” “He’s very knowledgeable and pragmatic.” Cristina Messerschmidt has a burgeoning presence in the space. She has notable experience of assisting organizations in the retail, healthcare and technology sectors with complex privacy issues, such as cross-border data transfers and global privacy compliance.

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley has a robust practice with particular skill in handling privacy and data security matters linked to mobile, online and health technology. Enjoys a global presence that allows an integrated network of attorneys to assist clients nationally, as well as in the UK and the EU. Sought after for its expertise in privacy litigation, especially class action defense. Closely linked to leading trade groups and government bodies, with a growing client base in emerging technology companies. Regularly negotiates the privacy and data security aspects of corporate transactions.

Strengths

“The team has a deep understanding of data privacy laws and practical ways of applying them. The group is also quick and thorough.”

“Cooley has a very strong practice in cybersecurity and privacy.”

“The team has deep and broad experience.”

Work highlights Cooley assisted DraftKings during a series of credential stuffing and fraud attacks.

Notable practitioners

Michael Rhodes regularly advocates for innovative technology companies, handling high-profile class actions involving sophisticated elements such as augmented reality and biometrics. Strengths: “He’s a prominent litigator in this space.” “Mike is a top-notch lawyer.” Travis LeBlanc frequently advises on major data breaches and represents clients in FTC investigations and privacy litigation. He brings to private practice his experience as chief of the Enforcement Bureau at the FCC. Strengths: “Travis is very dynamic.” “His previous experience has allowed him to form deep knowledge in the area.” Andrew Epstein is renowned for his strength in the healthcare privacy field. He has notable experience of advising clients on responding to government investigations, as well as regulatory issues arising from transactions in the space. Strengths: “I have always been very impressed with Andrew and his knowledge of the subject matter, expertise, work ethic and professionalism.” “Andrew has a very strong and specific knowledge of US privacy issues.” David Navetta is well regarded for his experience in handling data protection issues, running the gamut from incident response to information transfers. He is equally adept at guiding clients through FTC investigations. Strengths: “He’s a really great lawyer.” David is well respected in this market.” Randy Sabett comes highly recommended for his contribution to the cybersecurity sphere, routinely advising a broad range of clients on data breaches, regulatory investigations and compliance issues. Strengths: “Randy is very knowledgeable.” “He’s impressively technical.”

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for The Covington & Burling team is well versed in domestic and cross-border privacy and data security issues. An adept team providing tailored and sophisticated privacy counsel for clients in industries that include food and drugs, IT, telecoms and healthcare. Possesses additional expertise in big data, digital marketing and financial services. Strong record for helping clients navigate challenging FTC investigations. Handles the risk assessment of third-party platforms, with compliance expertise regarding COPPA. Showcases additional strength in reporting and responding to data breaches.

Strengths

“The team has strong expertise in the subject matter.”

“The group is responsive and thoughtful.”

“Covington’s group is one of the best one-stop shops for regulatory advice. It has a well-deserved reputation for excellence.”

Work highlights Covington & Burling represented TikTok in a challenge to the Presidential Order which purported to ban the platform based on asserted concerns relating to data privacy and cybersecurity.

Notable practitioners

Alexander Berengaut (see p.503) leads on a significant number of high-profile data privacy litigation matters. He is frequently involved in cases challenging government actions. Strengths: “His work product is outstanding.” Elizabeth Canter (see p.519) attracts extensive praise for her burgeoning privacy and cybersecurity practice. She advises businesses from all sectors on compliance with laws governing the handling of health-related data. Strengths: “Elizabeth is super-responsive.” James Garland (see p.563)’s practice is fortified by his background in working at the Department of Justice. He regularly brings this experience to bear in the area of data access disputes concerning national security and rights to protect data. Strengths: “James has excellent judgment, responsiveness and the quality of his work is strong.” Lindsey Tonsager (see p.720)’s regulatory data privacy practice includes advising on COPPA and CCPA, particularly relating to newly developed technologies. Strengths: “Lindsey is a very good attorney, she is very thoughtful and knowledgeable.” “She’s very well respected and strong.”

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring has a well-regarded cybersecurity and privacy practice with expertise representing clients in diverse matters, including regulatory compliance, investigations, government enforcement and litigation.

Also experienced in tackling complex healthcare privacy issues such as HIPAA compliance, health information technology and data collection practices related to COVID-19.

Strengths

“Crowell & Moring contains highly skilled and competent professionals.”

“The team has tactical and strategic expertise.”

“The group balances their experience and the tactical aspects of legal matters well.”

Work highlights Crowell & Moring advised Aerojet Rocketdyne on its cybersecurity contractual obligations to its federal government clients, including requirements under the DFARS 252.204-7012 Clause.

Notable practitioners

Jodi Daniel regularly assists clients in the healthcare sector with a range of privacy and cybersecurity issues, including compliance with HIPAA. Strengths: “She’s great – she is really dedicated to the attorneys and really smart.” “Jodi is very responsive and takes a practical approach to matters.”

Davis Wright Tremaine LLP

What the team is known for Davis Wright Tremaine is well regarded for its prowess in privacy and data security relating to healthcare. Skilled on a range of issues such as breach response, the protection of health information and HIPAA compliance. Clients include traditional healthcare providers, as well as technology and corporate businesses.

Strengths

“The firm has strong expertise and provides practical advice on complex issues.”

“Davis Wright’s team provides prompt and thorough responses.”

Work highlights Davis Wright Tremaine provided counsel to Oregon Anesthesiology Group in a data breach class action. The matter arose from allegations that the defendant was impacted by a data incident caused by a third-party contractor, allegedly exposing the plaintiff and the class’s personal information.

Notable practitioners

Adam Greene is cochair of the firm’s health information group. He maintains a market-leading healthcare privacy practice, which sees him regularly advising international corporations on HIPAA compliance. Strengths: “Adam is a very strong expert in his subject matter area.” “He’s very knowledgeable.” Rebecca Williams has a strong HIPAA compliance counseling practice. She also has expertise in advising on breach issues. Nancy Libin has an impressive practice advising clients on a range of privacy issues including biometrics and laws affecting young people. Strengths: “Nancy has an incredible breadth of knowledge.” “She’s a very good lawyer.”

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk’s team is highlighted for its ability to handle both litigation and enforcement matters. The group also boasts strength in advising clients on incident response, as well as regulatory compliance. The team’s clients stem from a variety of industries, including the technology, financial services and retail sectors.

Strengths

“Davis Polk is a sophisticated and knowledgeable firm.”

“Incredibly impressed with the work of the team – they are substantive, organized, strategic and capable of handling large-scale matters.”

Work highlights Davis Polk represented Meta in its challenge to the FTC’s administrative proceeding to reopen and rewrite the parties’ 2020 Consent Order.

Notable practitioners

Angela Burgess and James Haldin are key contacts for the firm.

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton has a well-regarded team that is noted for its adept handling of cyber matters, with particular experience with data breach and incident response. Regularly called upon by clients to advise on GDPR and CCPA. Additionally recommended for its transactional expertise, providing a popular choice for M&A due diligence. Able to offer clients a globally integrated service through its international network of offices.

Strengths

“Debevoise’s practitioners are uniformly expert and very responsive.”

“The team contains a deep bench of subject matter experts.”

“The depth of the group’s experience and the reach of their contacts within the industry are invaluable.”

Work highlights Debevoise assisted Take-Two Interactive Software with subsidiary Rockstar Games’ cybersecurity incident and related matters at 2K Games, relating to the theft of four million records from a support database.

Notable practitioners

Luke Dembosky draws from a great fund of experience as a former Deputy Assistant Attorney General for National Security to advise a clientele consisting of a number of household-name financial institutions. He has particular expertise in counseling on cyber-attack preparation and response. Strengths: “He is a cybersecurity expert.” “Luke’s deep knowledge of the subject matter and the sophistication of his practice yields advice and recommendations that are practical and thorough.” Erez Lieberman has extensive experience in supporting clients in global ransomware response. He also demonstrates strong capabilities in compliance counseling and handling internal investigations. Strengths: “His advice is very practical and timely.” James Pastore boasts expertise in a range of contentious and post-crisis matters, including class action litigation and data breach response. Strengths: “He’s a solid lawyer.”

Avi Gesser is well known for advising large tech companies on AI readiness. He also has extensive experience of assisting clients in incidents stemming from both data breaches and ransomware events. Strengths: “Avi has truly impressive substantive knowledge, commercial savvy and sophistication.” “He is very on top of all the latest data privacy and artificial intelligence trends. He also offers really good client service and is experienced.” Matthew Kelly has notable strength in advising clients on the SEC’s new cybersecurity rule, among other issues. He is also adept at assisting with complex AI-related matters. Strengths: "Matthew is smart and very technical."

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper has a prominent data security and privacy practice acting for a broad array of clients from emerging growth entities to Fortune 500 companies. Often counsels on the privacy aspects of major M&A transactions. Maintains a fine reputation for its work on consumer class actions, defending matters related to data breaches and issues concerning the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA). Particularly strong in the communications, financial services and insurance sectors, among others. Consulted to provide input to legislators on the evolution of the privacy landscape.

Strengths

"DLA Piper's team provides excellent counsel in all situations. Their scale and breadth of practice allows for great insight and experience."

"It's a great team and they always offer prompt responses."

"DLA Piper provides a very high service level."

Work highlights DLA Piper provided counsel to Dropbox on several global cybersecurity issues and incidents.

Notable practitioners

Andrew Serwin (see p.697) is accomplished in navigating data security incidents and responding to enforcement issues. Strengths: "Andy is a very experienced and excellent privacy attorney." "He leverages his deep and broad expertise to provide practical and spot-on support."

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland has a notable team of expert privacy and cybersecurity lawyers, who routinely advise clients on compliance with state, federal and global laws. Attorneys at the firm also regularly counsel clients on responding to major data breaches, handling related regulatory investigations and litigation.

Strengths

"Eversheds' ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters is outstanding."

"The firm has a very solid practice."

Notable practitioners

Michael Bahar (see p.495) is a highly regarded practitioner with considerable experience advising clients on cross-border privacy laws. He has recently handled data breaches and investigations. Strengths: "Michael provides exceptional advice, and he has wide-ranging experience."

Fenwick

What the team is known for Fenwick has a technology-driven practice boasting an impressive track record of handling high-profile FTC regulatory cases and privacy litigation. Attorneys frequently advise clients on compliance with domestic and international legislation including COPPA, CCPA and GDPR.

Strengths

"Fenwick's team is extremely knowledgeable about the space and they have a deep understanding of the laws and regulations."

"The group is very thorough, innovative, efficient and solution-driven."

"Fenwick has a very deep bench."

Work highlights Fenwick provided counsel to CISCO Systems on its acquisition of SamKnows, a privately held broadband network monitoring company headquartered in London.

Notable practitioners

Tyler Newby handles privacy compliance counseling in novel areas including adtech and facial recognition. He has extensive knowledge of CCPA and COPPA legislation. Strengths: "Tyler is a really impressive lawyer."

Fieldfisher

What the team is known for Fieldfisher's team consistently demonstrates its ability to handle a wide spectrum of complex issues in the privacy space. The group is called upon to assist clients with data compliance, as well as crisis management. Its practitioners display strength in advising on multijurisdictional policies, such as GDPR. The team's clients cover a variety of sectors, including retail, health and technology.

Strengths

"Fieldfisher's team is terrific."

"The group is well respected in the privacy space."

Work highlights Fieldfisher advised Quantcast on its compliance with EU/UK GDPR and ePrivacy Directive requirements.

Notable practitioners

Mark Webber is a key contact for the firm.

Frankfurt Kurnit Klein & Selz

What the team is known for Frankfurt Kurnit Klein & Selz has a strong practice with expertise in a broad array of privacy and cybersecurity issues. Displays strengths in guiding clients through the implementation of CCPA and GDPR compliance programs, as well as offering great proficiency in adtech matters.

Strengths

"Frankfurt's practitioners are knowledgeable and attentive to the needs of the client."

"The team is really strong."

Work highlights Frankfurt Kurnit assisted War-gaming with its privacy compliance efforts around the CCPA and the new comprehensive state privacy laws.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Goldberg (see p.568) is recommended for his broad-based privacy expertise, often assisting clients with CCPA and GDPR compliance issues. Strengths: "Daniel is quick and knowledgeable." "He has a great reputation in the space."

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher has a highly regarded privacy and cybersecurity offering with notable strength in contentious matters. Regularly represents household-name companies in the technology sector in defending class action privacy lawsuits. Thoroughly experienced in acting for clients in major regulatory enforcement proceedings and investigations.

Strengths

"The team has a very clear depth of practice knowledge, as well as industry knowledge."

"Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher has a strong bench."

"Gibson does a good job on complex and sophisticated matters and it contains very strong players."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher advised Doordash on the design and implementation of a global privacy program.

Notable practitioners

Alexander Southwell (see p.708) represents clients on myriad privacy and data security matters, notably including cybersecurity. His practice is focused on contentious issues and frequently sees him representing household names in enforcement actions. Strengths: "Alex has a lot of experience in the space." "He's really smart and a really good litigator." Jane Horvath (see p.589) is cochair of the privacy, cybersecurity and data innovation practice group. She has experience advising on a wide range of issues, including complex data breaches and the implementation of the European Union's Digital Markets Act. Strengths: "Jane has deep experience in the privacy space." Ashley Rogers (see p.682) is routinely called upon by clients in the technology sector to provide counsel on complex FTC investigations and enforcement actions. Strengths: "Ashley is very experienced in privacy matters, very thorough and responsive." "She is strategic, detail-oriented and receptive to client needs."

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin's practice is particularly strong in providing US and EU-related advice for clients in the healthcare, financial, public services and technology sectors. The team advises on the full scope of privacy and cybersecurity related matters, including those arising from M&A transactions and regulatory investigations.

Strengths

"The group is strong in subject matter expertise, organization and preparation."

"The team's service level and responsiveness are outstanding."

"Goodwin's group is highly skilled and has a depth and breadth of subject matter expertise."

Work highlights Goodwin advised National Public Radio on privacy compliance in the US and Europe in connection with the organization's user engagement and sponsorship programs.

Notable practitioners

Omer Tene (see p.717) is held in high regard in the market. He is noted for his ability to assist large clients with data privacy reviews, transfers and incident responses. Strengths: "Omer is really practical and he has so much experience." "He's very smart and thoughtful." Jud Welle (see p.733) assists clients stemming from a broad spectrum of sectors, including financial services, healthcare and clean energy. He has extensive experience of providing counsel on incident response, as well as regulatory response and compliance. Strengths: "He's a great lawyer who is also responsive."

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig has a significant practice with great expertise in privacy and cybersecurity issues, in particular CCPA compliance, incident response and class action defense. Acts for a range of major clients, including multinational technology companies, financial institutions and retailers.

Strengths

"The team is very capable at handling complex issues."

"Greenberg Traurig's practitioners are extremely conscientious and smart."

"The group is fantastic."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig advised Anastasia Beverly Hills on all CCPA compliance issues relating to the processing of the personal information from employees and job applicants who are California residents.

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Harding is recognized for her strength in advising clients on privacy compliance across a range of jurisdictions. She has experience of providing counsel on privacy in relation to AI technology platforms. Strengths: "Elizabeth is a very good privacy practitioner." David Zetoony is noted for his ability to provide counsel on data privacy compliance. He has significant experience of advising clients on global privacy and security laws, including GDPR in the EU. Strengths: "He's a great lawyer." "David is a very technically strong attorney."

Hausfeld LLP

What the team is known for Hausfeld is well recognized by peers and clients as a leading plaintiff-side practice in cybersecurity and privacy litigation actions. The team is regularly involved in biometric and financial cases. The group is often sought out by plaintiffs to represent them against well-known names in the technology, communication and leisure sectors.

Strengths

"Hausfeld's team is talented across the board, it contains some of the hardest-working and smartest lawyers."

"The group does fantastic work."

Work highlights Hausfeld was appointed to the Plaintiff Steering Committee in a case against KeyBank National Association, arising from accusations that KeyBank failed to implement adequate data security measures during a breach.

Notable practitioners

James Pizzirusso is a highly experienced litigator, noted for his successful track record acting for plaintiffs in high-stakes cybersecurity and privacy law class actions. Strengths: "James is extremely knowledgeable and a pleasure to work with." "He's pragmatic and incredibly hard-working."

Hintze Law PLLC

What the team is known for Hintze Law is a highly regarded boutique firm, particularly noted for its experience in handling cutting-edge technology and emerging issues impacting information security, such as automatic tracking, biometrics and facial recognition. Well versed in establishing compliance regimes in addition to responding to data breaches and ensuing investigations. Also routinely advises clients on FTC compliance and the ongoing impact of CCPA. Highly regarded by healthcare and biotech clients for advising on relevant data privacy and security laws such as HIPAA and COVID-19 pandemic responses and monitoring.

Strengths

"Hintze's team has unique experience that allows them to dig into complex issues and provide practical, actionable advice."

"The firm has a terrific bench of attorneys who are subject matter experts."

"The group is excellent, they are very on top of issues and trends."

Work highlights Hintze Law provided counsel to the Washington Retail Association on the implications of a Washington state health data privacy bill.

Notable practitioners

Mike Hintze is highly regarded for his top-level experience of in-house data security in the technology sector, which he brings to private practice. Strengths: "Mike is excellent, he has deep expertise in privacy and his sophistication enables him to be practical in his approach."

Susan Hintze is particularly sought after for her expertise in the interplay of cutting-edge technology with data security regulations. Strengths: "Susan is an incredible talent, she is deeply knowledgeable and responsive." "She delivers outstanding client service. Her multidisciplinary experience is an essential benefit to clients who need broad business advice as well as more technical guidance." Sheila Sokolowski is well versed in healthcare privacy matters. She advises on HIPAA and HITECH issues and has experience helping digital health platform clients. Strengths: "Sheila delivers thoughtful and practical guidance."

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells remains one of the country's preeminent privacy and data security practices. A highly talented roster of attorneys advising clients on major data breaches and complex policy matters across a multitude of industries, including retail, automotive and media. Particular expertise in healthcare privacy issues such as HIPAA compliance, wearable technology and medical data cyber-attacks. Additionally capable in a regulatory capacity, especially relating to the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), working in conjunction with the firm's European offices. Skilled at representing clients in investigations conducted by the FTC and other enforcement bodies.

Strengths

"Hogan has global experts who can dive into complex issues."

"The group is very practical and efficient."

"The team has very deep legal technical skills and they offer very pragmatic advice."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells advised Fox Corporation on third-party risk management operations, including in connection with its negotiation of significant enterprise agreements.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Wolf is noted for his seasoned expertise in privacy law matters and remains an excellent choice of counsel for complex regulatory issues. Strengths: "Christopher is a superb lawyer." Marcy Wilder is well versed in representing clients in regulatory investigations, with a particularly strong reputation in the healthcare sector. She is particularly recommended for guidance with the implementation of HIPAA compliance plans. Strengths: "Marcy is an incredibly knowledgeable lawyer." "She's a fantastic attorney, she is a deep thinker who is also very practical and business-oriented." Scott Loughlin (see p.626) has significant experience of providing counsel on compliance with complex privacy regulations, as well as incident preparedness and response. He demonstrates notable strength in the healthcare sector. Strengths: "Scott provides knowledgeable guidance." Paul Otto is notably adept at providing counsel on cyber-attacks in the health sphere. He is also regularly called upon to advise clients on federal and state investigations. Strengths: "Paul is business-minded and he has a wealth of knowledge." "He provides excellent support, he is thorough and practical."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight is a well-known firm which demonstrates prowess in defending data security litigation, including that emerging from ransomware attacks and privacy law violations. Houses lawyers who routinely advise on a range of federal and state privacy laws, including CCPA compliance.

Strengths

"The team is excellent, they are responsive and offer quality advice."

"Holland & Knight's group is amazing to work with and the practitioners offer practical and targeted advice."

Work highlights Holland & Knight acted on behalf of Purpose Financial during a security incident perpetrated by the ransomware threat group Black Basta.

Notable practitioners

Mark Melodia is a highly regarded attorney, regularly sought out to defend corporate clients against both individual and class action privacy suits. Strengths: "Mark is a fantastic lawyer."

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth boasts a dedicated data breach group with a wealth of experience handling high-stakes cyber events. Maintains an excellent reputation for its information governance practice. Also sought after for international data transfer, privacy compliance and regulatory investigations expertise. Operates across numerous industries including technology, consumer products, healthcare, retail and financial services. Noted proficiency on cybersecurity risks associated with blockchain technology in addition to the GDPR and CCPA regulations.

Strengths

"Hunton Andrews has always maintained very high-quality standards and outstanding client service."

"The team are exceptional at handling the most complex issues. They also have phenomenal depth and breadth."

"Hunton has a very strong privacy practice, the attorneys' responsiveness and timely delivery are excellent."

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth provided counsel to Silver Lake Technology Management on a range of issues, including its acquisitions, investments and regulatory compliance.

Notable practitioners

Lisa Sotto (see p.708) continues to be renowned for her unparalleled skill in responding to data security incidents and breaches of privacy.

Strengths: "Lisa is one of the best data privacy and data security lawyers in the United States. She is easy to speak with, extremely knowledgeable, very smart and kind." Ann Marie Mortimer (see p.647) has notable strength in handling complex litigation arising from data breaches for clients in the technology space. Strengths: "Ann has an excellent understanding of client needs." "She's a really strong and strategic adviser." Brittany Bacon (see p.495) is engaged for her privacy expertise by clients including financial institutions, household-name brands and high-profile technology companies. Strengths: "Brittany is an excellent communicator with deep industry knowledge." Aaron Simpson (see p.703) is highly recommended for his ability to combine knowledge of EU and USA regulatory frameworks. Strengths: "Aaron is very experienced and very well connected." "He provides excellent customer service and is technically very strong."

InfoLawGroup LLP

What the team is known for InfoLawGroup has a well-established data privacy and security practice. Its attorneys have expertise in advising media and technology companies on national and international privacy law compliance, including children's privacy and wiretapping laws in the US. The firm has further experience of providing counsel on GDPR. The team is also adept at establishing privacy programs and assisting on biometrics issues under BIPA for large clients.

Strengths

"InfoLawGroup are specialists in the area; all of the attorneys I have worked with are excellent and they are very responsive."

"The team is very business-savvy and produces high-quality work."

"The group provides an excellent service."

Notable practitioners

Justine Gottshall (see p.1727) of InfoLawGroup is particularly well known for her extensive capabilities in data protection issues as they pertain to the media and entertainment industries. She regularly advises on adtech issues and the implementation of wide-ranging programs to comply with the CCPA and other legislation. Strengths: "Justine is professional, knowledgeable and sophisticated." "She has a wealth of legal experience." Benjamin Stein (see p.1763)'s practice covers a wide spectrum of issues, including advising clients on the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act, the VPPA and new state consumer privacy laws. Strengths: "He's a wonderful privacy professional."

Kelley Drye & Warren LLP

What the team is known for Kelley Drye comes recommended for its expertise in privacy and data issues affecting emerging technology companies. Well equipped to provide counsel on government investigations into issues concerning consumer data and marketing practices. Also known for its proactive engagement with key policy bodies. Experienced in representing clients in privacy, data security and consumer protection litigation. Boasts capability in handling matters related to big data, artificial intelligence and the Internet of Things.

Strengths

"Kelley Drye is comprised of a very strong bench with tremendous depth and breadth."

"The team is incredibly knowledgeable."

"The have a great deal of subject matter expertise and distill it into very practical advice."

Work highlights Kelley Drye represents Instacart on all aspects of their privacy program and compliance with federal and state privacy laws, including compliance with strict health data privacy requirements.

Notable practitioners

Managing partner Dana Rosenfeld is noted for her high-level compliance practice, which draws on her impressive background as a former assistant director of the FTC's Bureau of Consumer Protection. She routinely advises clients on compliance with varied legislation, including CCPA and COPPA. Strengths: "She's a fantastic lawyer."

Alysa Zeltzer Hutnik excels in handling data protection and privacy issues as they intersect with marketing law. She has noted expertise in the adtech space. Strengths: "Alysa has really broad knowledge and experience."

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding is rated throughout the market for its ability to handle complex litigation arising from privacy issues, but also offer counsel on the ever-changing regulatory landscape. The team are also notably adept at advising clients on incident response and regulatory investigations by the SEC and FTC.

Strengths

"The team's responsiveness, knowledge and communication is great."

"King & Spalding has a wonderful team that excels across a range of issues and practice areas."

"The firm brings a deep bench of expert privacy professionals."

Work highlights King & Spalding defended Capital One in over 60 consumer class actions arising from a data breach incident involving the compromise of personal information of 100 million customers.

Notable practitioners

Phyllis Sumner (see p.713) of King & Spalding is a noted incident response and litigation practitioner. She advises many well-known clients across a range of sectors including leisure and finance. She also has strong experience in privacy counseling on CCPA and Schrems compliance. Strengths: "Phyllis is very responsive and communicative." "She gives great advice and is very knowledgeable – she's really very strong."

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis' team is highlighted for its ability to handle litigation and investigations related to cybersecurity incidents. The group has further strength in advising clients on privacy and data issues arising from acquisitions, mergers and joint ventures. Its practitioners demonstrate their ability to advise on a plethora of complex privacy regulations, including GDPR, HIPAA and SEC Cybersecurity Rules.

Strengths

"The Kirkland team has a strong grip on the complexities and nuances of the legal and regulatory landscape."

"Overall Kirkland brings the talent and expertise for any business legal situation and I have been thoroughly impressed."

"The team is strong."

Work highlights Kirkland represented Accenture in a consumer class action arising from a data breach involving Marriott's guest reservation database.

Notable practitioners

Washington-based Erin Nealy Cox is a key contact for the firm.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins has a notably strong privacy breach and litigation shop with additional compliance capabilities. Serves a clientele of both emerging and established companies in data-heavy industries, including adtech and social media. Seasoned in guiding clients through substantial enforcement proceedings brought by regulators.

Strengths

"The Latham & Watkins group handles complex matters, and the practitioners have excellent judgment."

"Latham contains some very good lawyers."

"It's a solid player in the market."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins secured a victory on behalf of Apple when a split Ninth Circuit panel affirmed the dismissal of a consumer class action, arising from allegations that nearly all iPhones, iPads, iPods and Apple TVs were defective because of two theoretical security vulnerabilities.

Notable practitioners

Jennifer Archie (see p.492)'s practice runs the gamut of contentious and advisory privacy and data protection considerations; she combines regulatory advice with class action defense.

Strengths: "Jennifer has an impressive depth and breadth of experience." "She's a great attorney, she is very knowledgeable." Antony Kim (see p.606) regularly advises clients on cybersecurity preparedness, breach responses and regulatory investigations. Strengths: "Antony has a strong practice."

Michael Rubin (see p.685) is known for providing data privacy advice to leading technology companies. He is particularly experienced in FTC compliance and investigations work. He has noted expertise in litigation matters. Strengths: "Michael is a very strong lawyer, he's really sharp and gives great advice." "He is an incredibly effective advocate on the most complex issues." Serrin Turner (see p.723) frequently acts for major tech-driven businesses in regulatory investigations and class actions as part of his broader data security practice. Strengths: "Serrin is very analytical and sharp." "He is a zealous advocate."

Linklaters

What the team is known for Linklaters has a well-known privacy and cybersecurity team that advises clients on a range of domestic and international privacy issues. It also has noted strength in data breach response and internal investigation actions. The team has experience in advising clients on novel areas of privacy such as adtech.

Strengths

"Linklaters has experts in all key jurisdictions. The group is also proactive and responsive."

"The group has strong commercial awareness, combined with legal expertise in key areas."

"The team offers excellent advice and analysis and they are great to work with."

Notable practitioners

Ieuan Jolly (see p.597) brings a wealth of expertise to bear for clients, which include a number of major multinational corporates. His practice features strength in transactions involving data-rich assets and compliance counseling across a broad array of international privacy and cybersecurity regulations. Strengths: "Ieuan combines in-depth knowledge of the latest developments in the space, along with expertise in privacy." "He is very good. He is easy to work with and able to navigate very difficult matters."

Loeb & Loeb LLP

What the team is known for Loeb & Loeb has a standout practice known for providing high-quality privacy advice to clients on a range of transactional and regulatory matters. Frequently retained to advise on the implementation of regulatory frameworks, including CCPA and GDPR compliance

Strengths

"The group is detail-oriented, readily available and highly successful."

"Loeb's team are very knowledgeable and extremely responsive."

Work highlights Loeb & Loeb coordinated a global data breach response for an international manufacturing company.

Notable practitioners

Jessica Lee is well versed in privacy law compliance and advises clients on a wide spectrum of matters, including biometric legislation and adtech issues. Strengths: "She is absolutely superb in the space and she produces high-quality work product." "Jessica is a great lawyer."

Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP

What the team is known for Manatt Phelps' team is held in high regard throughout the market for its strength in the privacy healthcare space. The practitioners have experience of handling complex litigation arising from data breaches. The group also routinely advises clients on compliance with HIPAA privacy and the Breach Notification Rule.

Strengths

"The firm does very well with complex and sophisticated matters in the privacy space. The team is also highly responsive."

"Manatt Phelps' team has really great expertise and they are very dedicated."

"Manatt's staff are professional and smart and have broad knowledge of the areas of focus."

Work highlights Manatt Phelps' team acted on behalf of Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago in a class action lawsuit following a data breach handled by insurance counsel.

Notable practitioners

Brandon Reilly has significant experience of advising clients on a wide spectrum of privacy matters, including the CCPA, FDA regulations and HIPAA. He has further strength in representing clients in matters arising from ransomware attacks. Strengths: "Brandon is absolutely exceptional in his knowledge of the ever-changing privacy landscape."

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown has a major practice offering skillful representation across a broad array of privacy issues. It is particularly noted for its expertise in national security matters. Often represents industry-leading technology companies, automotive companies and financial institutions in regulatory compliance, incident response and litigation.

Strengths

"Mayer Brown are wonderful to work with."

"The lawyers at Mayer Brown are excellent."

"The client service provided is phenomenal."

Work highlights Mayer Brown represented Boeing Employees' Credit Union in two federal class action lawsuits that followed the 2022 ransomware attack on its printing vendor, Kaye-Smith Enterprises.

Notable practitioners

Rajesh De (see p.538) brings expertise gained in the MOD, DOJ and NSA to private practice. As a result, his data security practice revolves around matters of incident response and preparedness, with particular cybersecurity expertise. Strengths: "Rajesh is a very strong lawyer."

Dominique Shelton Leipzig (see p.699) is especially well known among peers in the data security field for her thought leadership on the CCPA.

Strengths: "Dominique is very well respected and very knowledgeable." "She is an excellent lawyer and she's really good at providing practical support."

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery continues to display impressive strength in the healthcare sector. Renowned for its excellent HIPAA practice, with a strong US base and key locations nationally to provide an expansive service. Also advises clients on privacy-related matters concerning M&A and other transactions, as well as advising clients on GDPR compliance. Additional expertise in cyber crises, e-commerce and internal investigations. Called in to handle breaches and ransomware attacks affecting healthcare companies.

Strengths

"The team are very good at what they do, they are an incredible asset."

"McDermott has a deep bench with a lot of specialists."

"Its attorneys are responsive and engaging."

Work highlights McDermott represented Kroll in a security incident involving the data of claimants in the high-profile bankruptcy cases for BlockFi, FTX and Genesis.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Gottlieb (see p.571) is a healthcare privacy specialist, advising businesses and investors in the sector on both general and healthcare-specific regulations. Strengths: "Daniel is excellent to work with and provides sound legal advice."

"He is thoughtful, dedicated and intelligent." Ed Zacharias (see p.2044) is noted for his in-depth experience in guiding healthcare technology companies through incidents and compliance matters. Strengths: "Ed is an amazing lawyer." Elliot Golding (see p.569) is adept at advising clients on national and international data matters covering compliance, data transfers and issues arising from new laws. Strengths: "Elliot is a great attorney." "He's very knowledgeable, incredibly smart and pragmatic."

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster is a market-leading data security and privacy firm, offering the full suite of privacy law services, including data breach notification and enforcement. Well versed in creating tailored privacy policies for clients. Possesses significant experience advising on FTC and state privacy regulatory compliance matters. Works with notable established and emerging life sciences and technology companies. Often provides counsel to clients on the privacy aspects of major M&A transactions.

Strengths

"The team has a depth of experience across complex subject matters."

"Morrison and Foerster's group excels at handling complex, sophisticated matters, drawing on experience from their broad client base, strong relationships and business-oriented thinking."

"The group is incredibly knowledgeable and very responsive."

Work highlights Morrison Foerster provided advice to a global shipping insurance company on a range of issues related to the development of innovative shipping-related loss detection and prevention services, particularly in light of the Fair Credit Reporting Act and the new US state consumer privacy laws in California.

Notable practitioners

Senior counsel Richard Fischer (see p.554) remains a highly regarded figure in the privacy space. His storied career has included acting for insurers, banks and retailers. Strengths: "Richard is very experienced and he has very sound judgment." Miriam Wugmeister (see p.738) is frequently engaged to advise on compliance with privacy regulations globally and for representation in major FTC investigations. Strengths:

"She has done incredible work - she works quickly and efficiently and she has a practical approach."

"Miriam is one of the most experienced people in the field." Boris Segalis (see p.696) is well known for his experience representing clients in government investigations and frequently provides regulatory advice to developers of new technologies, including AI. Strengths: "His advice is extremely sound and he has strong knowledge."

Tiffany Cheung (see p.1009) routinely handles complex and high-profile class actions. Her broad practice also involves representing clients in a range of disputes, including those relating to consumer advertising issues and wiretapping claims. Strengths: "Tiffany provides fantastic advice."

"She is practical, responsive and very knowledgeable." Kristen Mathews (see p.634) is a highly regarded attorney, noted for her standout experience perience in the creation of customized compliance programs, including breach response planning.

Strengths: “Kristen provides practical advice quickly.” Julie O’Neill (see p.657) is recommended for her expertise in a wide range of privacy matters, frequently advising on CCPA and COPPA compliance, as well as acting for clients undergoing FTC investigations. Strengths: “Julie is fantastic. In addition to being extremely responsive, she’s very thorough and has a very broad base of knowledge.” “She’s really pragmatic and very good with clients.” Purvi Patel (see p.664) has a broad client base that consists of organisations in the technology and retail space. She has experience of handling issues arising from claims under the California Consumer Privacy Act and California False Advertising Law. Strengths: “Purvi is excellent, she is really great to work with and very sharp.”

Nathan Taylor (see p.716) specializes in financial privacy law and is proficient at handling various governmental investigations. Strengths: “Nathan has excellent knowledge of the space.” “He is great – he’s very responsive, thoughtful and detailed.”

Melissa Crespo (see p.533) demonstrates considerable strength in providing counsel to clients on HIPAA compliance and matters related to AI technologies in the healthcare privacy sphere.

Strengths: “She is very responsive and offers great analysis.” “Melissa always provides a very high level of service and responds very quickly. She also has an exceptional knowledge of the subject matter.”

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright’s privacy and data security group is recognized for its incident response and cyber capabilities. Its global coverage is highly valued by significant clients in need of assistance on cyber attacks and ransomware incidents. The team is also adept at providing privacy compliance advice in line with the CCPA, HIPAA and GDPR.

Strengths

“The team are able to advise on the most complex matters, using superior technical understanding, experience in multijurisdictional legal advice and interactions with regulators.”

“Norton Rose’s group are exceptional at client service.”

“The firm has a deep, cross-border bench.”

Notable practitioners

Global co-head of information governance, privacy and cybersecurity, Chris Cwalina is well regarded in the cybersecurity sphere, with significant experience of responding to cyber incidents with global clients. Strengths: “Chris is knowledgeable and commercial.” “He is steeped in technical knowledge.” Steven Roosa has a distinguished practice in the space. He is noted for his ability to advise clients on cross-border privacy compliance, including with regard to GDPR and cross-border data transfers. Strengths: “He has a tremendous depth of knowledge.” “Steve is really excellent when it comes to privacy and his technical knowledge.”

Octillo Law

What the team is known for Octillo Law Firm: Legal + Tech is renowned in the privacy and data security space. The group boasts considerable experience in assisting clients in complex cybersecurity incidents. The team is also notably adept at defending clients in class actions and regulatory investigations.

Strengths

“We are routinely impressed by Octillo Law Firm.”

Notable practitioners

Daniel Greene and Patrick McNally are key contacts for the firm.

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick Herrington has an impressive integrated practice and it offers clients the full gamut of services across privacy and data security from advisory and regulatory compliance to high-profile litigation and enforcement. Growing team with the ability to act for clients on national and international mandates, tapping into the firm’s global network. Particularly adept at advising clients in the technology and education sectors in addition to clients in the financial services industry. Extensive experience advising clients on FTC-related matters.

Strengths

“Orrick, Herrington is an excellent firm. The team is very knowledgeable, always accessible, practical and experienced.”

“The team is well equipped to handle complex and sophisticated matters.”

“Orrick contains very skilled, thoughtful, strategic and practical practitioners.”

Notable practitioners

Heather Egan Sussman counsels clients on the full spectrum of transactional concerns pertaining to privacy and data security. She boasts specific experience in advising clients in the context of ransomware attacks as well as on adtech matters.

Strengths: “Heather is really sharp and impressive.” “She is thoughtful, strategic and proactive.”

Aravind Swaminathan is formidable in assisting clients with both the noncontentious and litigious elements of cyber-attacks and security breaches, including resulting class actions. Strengths:

“Aravind has a lot of experience and he’s responsive.” “He’s an amazing attorney.” Behnam Dayanim has considerable experience of advising clients in the gaming, technology and media sectors on a range of privacy issues. Strengths: “Behnam is a great lawyer.” Michelle Visser is equally capable in both compliance and enforcement elements of privacy regulation. She has strong expertise in BIPA litigation matters. Strengths: “She’s a terrific attorney.” “Michelle excels at client service, she’s an excellent lawyer.”

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings maintains an excellent reputation for its breadth of capabilities in privacy and data security matters; these include CCPA compliance, incident response counseling and regulatory due diligence on M&A transactions. Particularly noted for its work with major global technology, real estate and entertainment companies, often regarding adtech issues.

Strengths

“Paul Hastings has a sophisticated practice.”

“The team is very responsive.”

“We have been able to benefit from the legal expertise and resources that Paul Hastings has.”

Work highlights Paul Hastings acted on behalf of Ultimate Fighting Championship in a putative class action concerning UFC Fight Pass, a subscription-based video streaming service that gives UFC fans access to video content online.

Notable practitioners

Aaron Charfoos is the global chair of the firm’s data privacy and cybersecurity practice.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie has an experienced group that excels in matters pertaining to cross-border data transfer and also provides counsel on global strategies for compliance with data protection laws. Maintains particular expertise in requests for information work and is also adept at advising on data breach issues, including matters with national security implications. Represents clients from a range of sectors, including information technology, telecommunication and consumer product manufacturing. Noted for substantial strength in the representation of companies in government investigations and class actions.

Strengths

“The group is incredibly strong and they have a deep grasp of legal issues.”

“Perkins has a very solid bench and the lawyers are always responsive and considerate.”

Notable practitioners

Meredith Halama (see p.576) is very experienced in the privacy space, often advising clients on highly complex areas at the intersection of law and technology. She is also well respected by peers for her expertise in adtech privacy matters.

Strengths: “She has deep understanding of the industry and its business practices.” “Meredith is very well respected and impressive in the adtech space.” Janis Kestenbaum is highly experienced in advising on the navigation of consumer protection regulations in a privacy context. Strengths: “Janis is a great lawyer.” “She’s terrific, she is effective and very knowledgeable.” James Snell (see p.706) has a well-rounded privacy practice. He has expertise in COPPA and CCPA-related matters and is often sought out by clients to represent them in emerging areas such as session replay litigation.

Strengths: “Jim is a terrific adviser and he has a broad range of knowledge.” “He is a dedicated lawyer.”

Polsinelli PC

What the team is known for Polsinelli is renowned for its team of experienced practitioners, often previously in a privacy government role. It is a go-to firm for HIPAA advice for clients in the healthcare industry. The team has further experience of assisting clients with incident responses and related class actions. The practitioners are adept at handling issues containing cross-border elements.

Strengths

“It’s an excellent, customer-oriented firm.”

“Polsinelli’s team delivers timely, practical and high-quality work product.”

Notable practitioners

Iliana Peters of Polsinelli specializes in the intersection of privacy law with the healthcare sector, including the protection of electronic health and HIPAA compliance. Strengths: “Iliana is very knowledgeable and responsive.” “She’s a strong advocate for her clients.” John Thomas Malatesta handles a wide spectrum of cybersecurity issues including class actions and investigations. He also has notable experience of responding to ransomware attacks. Strengths: “John is a highly skilled attorney.” Kathleen Kenney of Polsinelli has vast knowledge of HIPAA matters, as well as other domestic and international privacy laws. Strengths: “Kathleen is a smart lawyer.” Starr Turner Drum has a burgeoning practice in this space. She is noted for her ability to represent clients in complex privacy litigation, as well as investigations by regulatory bodies such as the FTC and OCR. Strengths: “Starr is a fantastic resource and a pleasure to work with.” “Her work is impeccable, she delivers it efficiently and she finds solutions to the most intractable problems.”

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith has a well-established practice that is highly experienced in representing clients in complex FTC proceedings and privacy-related litigation. Additional capability in assisting clients with incident response preparedness and crisis planning. Also routinely sought out for guidance on diverse regulatory issues including CCPA and GDPR compliance.

Strengths

“Reed Smith’s team has knowledgeable counsel with up-to-date guidance in multiple areas of law.” “The firm has a great mix of attorneys for our needs. The team is also very responsive.” “The team is strong and provides solid advice.”

Notable practitioners

Gerard Stegmaier assists clients in complying with regulatory regimes, including both data protection and cybersecurity matters. He also frequently represents the subjects of governmental investigations and enforcement actions. Strengths: “Gerry is very responsive.”

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray has a well-regarded data security team boasting capabilities in both regulatory compliance and breach response. Works with household-name clients across a range of industries, with notable strength in the private equity and leisure sectors. Often turned to for assistance with diverse privacy legislation, including GDPR, CCPA and HIPAA compliance. Also widely regarded for its strength in data breach litigation.

Strengths

“The team’s level of service was exceptional.” “It’s a phenomenal team – they are extremely thoughtful and true subject matter experts.” “Ropes & Gray’s practitioners are very experienced, responsive and diligent.”

Work highlights Ropes & Gray is representing Cinven and its portfolio company, TaxAct, in a variety of FTC, state AG and congressional investigations related to allegations surrounding TaxAct’s use of pixel technology on its tax preparation website.

Notable practitioners

Edward McNicholas (see p.639) ‘practice incorporates both counseling and litigation, including investigations conducted by enforcement entities. Strengths: “Edward provides very sage advice and is very approachable.” “He’s very knowledgeable and well regarded.” Deborah Gersh (see p.1725) is noted for her ability to provide guidance on a range of issues under state privacy and security laws, as well as HIPAA. Strengths: “Deborah is very knowledgeable and practical.”

Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP

What the team is known for Shook, Hardy & Bacon maintains a fine reputation in the privacy and cybersecurity space, excelling in a wide range of compliance and contentious regulatory matters. Areas of particular expertise include issues emerging from legislation such as BIPA and CCPA, and advising clients on responding to cybersecurity incidents.

Strengths

“It is a go-to firm for complex privacy issues and it has a very deep bench.” “Shook, Hardy has a very deep bench.” “The team is comprised of talented individuals that collectively and individually provide excellent service and support.”

Work highlights Shook Hardy advised Mutual of Omaha on the privacy and data security legal consequences of adopting new consumer services and marketing techniques.

Notable practitioners

Alfred Saikali (see p.689) frequently handles data security compliance matters in addition to acting in privacy class actions. His regulatory practice encompasses both domestic and global matters. Strengths: “Al has a longstanding understanding of the importance of the space and provides valuable knowledge and insight.” “He is a phenomenal lawyer.” Colman McCarthy (see p.636) has a growing practice in privacy compliance counseling on CCPA issues. He is also experienced in advising clients on the steps to take in readiness and response to data breach incidents. Strengths: “He’s an extremely smart lawyer.” Camila Tobón (see p.719) is called upon for her data privacy expertise, advising companies on compliance matters and data programs. Strengths: “Camila has a depth of knowledge of the subject.” “She’s extremely easy to work with, always delivers on time and produces excellent work product.”

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin has an excellent practice that is recognized for its litigation strengths and compliance expertise, maintaining a respected incident response and data breach team. Offers advice to clients on a wide array of issues, including big data, cybersecurity and cross-border information flow matters. Broad-ranging sector expertise includes consumer products manufacturing, financial services, retail, technology and transportation. Works with the firm’s well-regarded corporate practice, conducting privacy and cybersecurity diligence for M&A.

Strengths

“Sidley has a very deep bench.” “Sidley’s attorneys provide practical advice.”

“The team’s technical expertise is really great.”

Work highlights Sidley Austin advises ABB on cybersecurity matters with respect to the investigation and response to a global ransomware matter.

Notable practitioners

Alan Charles Raul (see p.675) attracts praise for his vast experience in the privacy and data security space, often advising corporate clients on regulatory compliance and data breach response. He is also known for his significant contribution to federal privacy legislation. Strengths: “Alan is incredible, he’s very responsive and has tremendous experience.” “He is very thorough and very smart.” David Lashway (see p.617) is a highly regarded representative for clients in cybersecurity regulatory investigations and frequently advises on data breach response. Strengths: “David has very good experience and is a zealous advocate.” Colleen Theresa Brown (see p.514) has a strong privacy practice managing data breach issues and litigation. She also has experience of working on privacy matters following acquisitions. Strengths: “Her technical expertise is really great.” “Colleen is very strong.” John Woods (see p.737) is held in high regard for his ability to assist clients on high-profile cyber incidents. He is notably adept at advising clients on matters related to ransomware.

Troutman Pepper

What the team is known for Troutman Pepper boasts a distinguished team that is notably adept at advising clients in the automotive, technology and retail sectors. The group provides counsel on a number of issues, ranging from the formation of privacy programs to cyber incidents. The practitioners are also experienced in defending clients against allegations of violations of the FCRA.

Strengths

“The Troutman team includes a deep bench of legal and business experts.” “Troutman’s group is extremely collaborative and pragmatic.” “The team offers diverse knowledge in all areas of privacy.”

Work highlights Troutman Pepper advised InMobi on compliance with new laws in the US and China and new modules of the EU’s Standard Contractual Clause, among other issues.

Notable practitioners

James Koenig (see p.611) of Troutman Pepper has a noted practice showcasing prowess in responding to FTC investigations, particularly for technology companies. He has further experience of providing counsel on ransomware issues. Strengths: “Jim is a very strong and experienced attorney.” “He’s a great lawyer.”

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable has a distinguished privacy group that handles a diverse range of complex matters across an array of sectors, including retail, financial services and communications. Continues to be sought out for its advice and understanding of the latest developments in the market, and is noted for its regulatory and public policy expertise. Noted for its extensive experience addressing concerns associated with the advertising and marketing industries.

Strengths

"It's a very knowledgeable and responsive team."

"The team's work is efficient, practical and reflective of a deep understanding of the law."

"The practice has both breadth and depth."

Work highlights Venable provided counsel to Alliance for Trust in AI on its launch. Venable serves as general counsel, legal and policy staff to the Alliance.

Notable practitioners

Stuart Ingis (see p.593) maintains a prominent privacy practice in addition to being chairman of the firm. He is particularly capable at handling data security matters affecting the advertising technology industry. Strengths: "Stuart is extraordinary." "He is excellent, he has really good industry knowledge, commercial instincts and knows the law inside and out." Emilio Cividanes (see p.527) is notable for defending clients in government investigations, specifically those conducted by the FTC. Clients additionally look to him in advertising technology matters. Strengths: "He has great understanding and the ability to provide excellent client services." "Emilio is an exceptional lawyer." Michael Signorelli (see p.702) is regularly sought by high-profile clients to advise on adtech privacy issues. He boasts both domestic and international experience. Strengths: "Mike is fantastic, he's very responsive and strategic." "He is a pleasure to work with and he distills complex topics to their essence." Cochair of the privacy and data security group, Julia Kernochan Tama boasts an impressive practice in the space. Her clients stem from a broad range of sectors, including retail, financial services and media. She advises clients on health privacy and children's privacy issues, among other matters. Strengths: "Julia is an amazing lawyer." "She has technical expertise and is very strategic."

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale is prominent for counseling high-profile, sophisticated clients on cutting-edge privacy and data security concerns. Demonstrates vast experience and knowledge of the Internet of Things, cross-device tracking and big-data initiatives. Sought after for defensive skill in national and regional investigations and compliance issues. Offers strength in healthcare-specific data protection matters, including HIPAA compliance. Extensive experience of advising on the implementation of CCPA, CPRA and GDPR compliance plans.

Strengths

"The depth of the firm's experience always impresses me."

"The team handles very complex regulatory questions and the practitioners are exceptionally detailed."

"Wilmer is a fantastic firm."

Notable practitioners

Kirk Nagra is a high-level data security practitioner with notable capabilities to serve healthcare and financial services clients. Strengths: "Kirk is extremely well regarded." "He's one of the most experienced and best healthcare privacy lawyers." Benjamin Powell (see p.672) handles a wide range of incident response work, from the preparatory stages of planning and risk avoidance to internal and enforcement investigations.

Strengths: "He has a very strong reputation in the space." "Ben is one of the best lawyers in the market and he's great to work with."

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini demonstrates impressive capabilities in class actions and government investigations, with particular experience in matters concerning the FTC and state attorneys general. Regularly advises clients on implementing privacy policies and data security compliance. Also well regarded for its expertise in M&A activity with data transfer requirements, and transactions in which data is considered an asset. Noted for its expertise on issues concerning the CCPA, BIPA, COPPA and VPPA. Experienced in matters pertaining to national security, such as handling requests for information under the Foreign Intelligence Act and National Security Letters.

Strengths

"The team are very experienced and are capable of taking on complicated matters. They also have deep expertise and a deep bench."

"Wilson Sonsini's group provides practical, sophisticated and super-timely legal advice."

"The group is knowledgeable, client service-oriented and extremely responsive."

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini advised YouTube on a variety of compliance issues related to children's privacy and content moderation issues.

Notable practitioners

Lydia Parnes has a formidable reputation in the consumer protection sphere of privacy and data security, regularly representing clients in FTC investigations. Strengths: "She's one of the most wonderful lawyers to work with. She's hyper-responsive and exceptionally knowledgeable." "Lydia is a top-notch lawyer." Christopher Olsen shines in counseling clients undergoing FTC investigation, drawing on a wealth of firsthand experience as a former regulator. Strengths: "Chris provides practical, sophisticated and timely legal advice." "He has an excellent work ethic and is very responsive." Maneesha Mithal demonstrates considerable strength in assisting clients with FTC investigations and privacy strategies. Strengths: "She cuts to the heart of complex questions quickly and is always super-responsive." "Maneesha offers highly practical and thoughtful advice." Libby Weingarten has impressive strength in privacy counseling, often being sought out by clients to advise on CCPA, GDPR and GLBA issues. She also has experience in government investigations. Strengths: "Libby is a pleasure to work with - she has a very strong legal mind and provides strong practical advice."

ZwillGen PLLC

What the team is known for ZwillGen is a boutique privacy law firm that offers the full range of information security advice. Comes recommended for its class action work, acting for prominent internet, technology and media companies. Also well versed in FTC and state attorney general investigations, and maintains a fine reputation for its work on data protection, surveillance and cybersecurity issues. Additionally experienced in internet gaming and fantasy sports matters.

Strengths

"ZwillGen has a strong knowledge of the privacy laws."

"ZwillGen consistently provides clear, pragmatic advice and support in an efficient manner."

"The team is excellent and deep, they are always available and responsive."

Work highlights ZwillGen represented the Boston Globe in a putative VPPA class action.

Notable practitioners

Marc Zwillinger is a widely known expert in the rights of government agencies to access data held by businesses. Strengths: "Marc is an excellent lawyer." "He provides really expert advice and he's responsive to requests." Kandi Parsons is a rising star in privacy and regularly represents clients in FTC investigations and defending class actions. Melissa Maalouf is sought after for her expertise on data protection compliance matters, on both a state and global level. Strengths: "Melissa is terrific." "She is an excellent attorney. She has incredible subject matter expertise and provides prompt and practical advice."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Matthew Baker (see p.495) of Baker Botts is adept at handling state and global data privacy law compliance for various companies. He has considerable experience in advising on CPRA, BIPA and GDPR issues. Strengths: "Matt is business-minded and he provides very practical advice." "He is thorough, informative, thoughtful and efficient."

Stewart Baker of Steptoe & Johnson focuses on the intersection between data protection and national security law, particularly drawing from his previous government experience working for the Department of Homeland Security. Strengths: "Stewart is very smart and experienced." "He's a legend in the space."

John Carlin (see p.520) of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison is the cochair of the cybersecurity and data protection practice. He has a broad-ranging practice that involves providing ransomware and incident response counsel, as well as representing clients in class actions relating to alleged violations of wiretapping laws. Strengths: "He has excellent judgment and experience." "His advice on the most challenging questions is practical, helpful and reflects deep experience and judgment."

Amey de La Lama chairs the global data privacy and security team at BCLP. She has experience of handling an array of privacy matters, ranging from biometrics and AI privacy issues to GDPR compliance. Strengths: "She is an incredible attorney, who provides excellent advice no matter how complex the issue." "She's very responsive, knowledgeable and efficient."

Margaret Eisenhauer of Privacy & Information Management Services supplies clients with advice on establishing and maintaining privacy and data protection programs, covering concerns across multiple territories. Strengths: "Margaret is an incredible lawyer." "She is fantastic, she is really good at what she does."

Linn Freedman (see p.558) of Robinson & Cole counts data breach response and defending resulting privacy claims as important pillars of her practice, which regularly sees her acting for healthcare businesses. Strengths: “Linn provides excellent counsel on a wide range of privacy and information security matters.” “She is a true professional with deep knowledge.”

Reed Freeman of ArentFox Schiff regularly represents clients in FTC investigations in addition to advising clients on complying with federal privacy regulations. He has noted expertise in the adtech privacy space. Strengths: “Reed is super-smart and an excellent practitioner.” “He’s a very experienced lawyer.”

Nicole Friedlander (see p.2572) of Sullivan & Cromwell is recognized for guiding clients through the aftermath of cyber-attacks and data breaches, including internal investigations and SEC inquiries. Strengths: “Nicole has remarkable depth in cybersecurity. She is phenomenally practical and well versed.” “She’s a great lawyer.”

Chair of the data privacy, cybersecurity and digital assets practice, Alan Friel of Squire Patton Boggs is held in high regard in the data privacy space. He routinely advises adtech companies and advertisers on related legal issues. Strengths: “Alan is brilliant, he is one of the best in the industry.” “He’s a great lawyer who is very practical.”

Beth George is held in high regard for her ability to advise clients on crisis management and preparation. Strengths: “Beth is a really great lawyer who instills confidence in her clients.” “She’s a very knowledgeable attorney.”

Reece Hirsch of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius has a healthcare-centric privacy practice that revolves around compliance with HIPAA and other federal and state regulations.

Daniel Ilan (see p.593) of Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton frequently advises on domestic and international privacy law matters. He has noted experience with transactional privacy issues. Strengths: “He’s thoughtful and knowledgeable.” “Daniel is very business-savvy and pragmatic.”

Laura Jehl (see p.596) of Willkie Farr & Gallagher is called upon by clients to assist in a range of data privacy and cybersecurity matters, including breach notifications and AI and biometric law compliance. She has considerable experience of advising clients in the technology sector. Strengths: “She is a very good and practical lawyer.”

Odia Kagan (see p.599) of Fox Rothschild has experience of advising on privacy compliance across a range of sectors, including the manufacturing, finance and technology space. Strengths: “Odia is very pragmatic and knowledgeable.” “She displays a tremendous depth of knowledge.”

Amy Keller of DiCello Levitt, a plaintiff-side attorney, is praised for her work in cutting-edge data breach litigation matters. Strengths: “Amy is a very strong attorney.” “She’s a terrific lawyer.”

Gary Klinger (see p.610) of Milberg Coleman Bryson Phillips Grossman has notable experience of representing clients in class actions arising from data breaches and alleged violations of the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act. Strengths: “A terrific data breach lawyer.”

Melissa Krasnow (see p.614) of VLP Law Group has an impressively well-rounded privacy practice covering counseling on issues such as CCPA, HIPAA and COPPA, as well as handling data breach incidents and enforcement matters. Strengths: “Her work is really stellar and she has a deep understanding of the space.” “She’s a very client-focused lawyer.”

Scott Lashway of Manatt Phelps & Phillips is recognized for his work advising on cybersecurity and data protection programs in addition to assisting with data breaches, particularly in the healthcare sector. Strengths: “He has an excellent grasp and wide-ranging knowledge of the subject matter.”

Amy Leopard of Bradley Arant is noted for her expert representation of clients in the healthcare industry, counseling on breach response and the implementation of HIPAA compliance programs. Strengths: “She’s a really knowledgeable lawyer.” “Amy is an excellent attorney.”

Christine Lyon of Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer is the global cochair of the firm’s privacy practice, with deep experience in privacy counseling. She is noted for her ability to advise clients in the technology, life sciences and retail sectors. Strengths: “She is extremely responsive and has a practical approach.”

Jonathan Neiditz of Kilpatrick Townsend is well versed in global privacy laws. He has expertise in transactional matters, as well as data monetization. Strengths: “Jonathan is a terrific lawyer.” “He handles complex issues and is practical.”

Dominic Paluzzi (see p.661) of McDonald Hopkins is the cochair of the data privacy and cybersecurity group. He is notably adept at handling incident response following data security incidents on behalf of clients from a range of sectors, including retail, healthcare and technology. Strengths: “Dom is phenomenal to work with.” “I wholeheartedly endorse Dom for his expertise and unwavering commitment in handling privacy and security matters.”

Lisa Ropple of Jones Day is regularly sought out by clients to advise on significant ransomware incidents and breach issues. She also displays strength in litigation and privacy compliance counseling. Strengths: “Lisa is fantastic, she knows the subject inside and out.” “She is very responsive and practical.”

Kristen Rosati (see p.822) of Coppersmith Brockelman is recognized for her standout work handling compliance, breach response and regulatory investigations in the healthcare space. Strengths: “Kristen is a very strong communicator and she’s very effective. She also has great experience.” “She has deep subject matter expertise.”

Marc Roth of Cobalt Law is noted for his strength in advising clients on a range of issues, including the FTC Act, COPPA and CPPA. Strengths: “Mark is a great lawyer.”

Eric Setterlund (see p.697) of Bradley Arant Boul

Cummings is the cochair of the cybersecurity and privacy practice group. He is routinely called upon to represent clients during complex cyber attacks.

Strengths: “Eric has very deep knowledge and he’s very practical.” “His greatest strength is giving sound and actionable business advice.”

Brenda Sharton of Dechert has a very diverse privacy and data security practice with strengths in investigations, litigation and cyber-attack matters. Strengths: “Brenda is fabulous – her deep expertise is invaluable.” “She is super-responsive and has extensive experience.”

Chair of Cozen O’Connor’s emerging data privacy trends practice, Melissa Siebert has a distinguished practice that involves representing clients in data-related class actions. She regularly handles cases related to the GIPA, CIPA and VPPA. Strengths: “She’s a very good lawyer.”

David Simon (see p.702) is experienced in dealing with a wide range of cybersecurity issues, including assessing incident response plans and responding to large ransomware attacks. Strengths: “David is extremely knowledgeable.” “He has an extraordinary command of cyber, privacy and the evolving threat landscape.”

Melissa Soliz (see p.825) of Coppersmith Brockelman PLC has a burgeoning practice in the space. She is highlighted for her strength in advising clients on state and federal health and consumer data privacy laws. She has notable strength providing counsel on the ONC Information Blocking Rule. Strengths: “Mel is an outstanding resource.” “She’s just outstanding in this space.”

David Stauss of Husch Blackwell is noted for his ability to provide guidance and compliance advice to clients surrounding state privacy laws, including the CCPA and CPRA. Strengths: “David is super-knowledgeable and responsive. He is also great at keeping on top of all of the fast-moving trends.” “He is fantastic, he is extremely knowledgeable.”

Liisa Thomas of Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton fulfills a general advisory role, as well as advocating for clients in contentious data breaches. Strengths: “We are impressed with her attention to detail, ability to make very complex issues simple and excellent legal work.” “Liisa is very smart and very knowledgeable.”

Amanda Witt of Kilpatrick Townsend advises clients, including those in the technology sector, on compliance with data security regimes. Strengths: “Amanda is fantastic to work with. She delivers commercial advice and she is extremely knowledgeable.”

Tina Wolfson of Ahdoot & Wolfson is a distinguished litigator with notable experience of handling class actions arising from data breaches. Strengths: “Tina is a zealous advocate for her clients.”

John Yanchunis of Morgan & Morgan is a highly regarded litigator, who is notably adept at handling complex class actions in the data space. Strengths: “John is knowledgeable about data breaches.”

Private Credit Nationwide

Private Credit
Leading Firms
Band 1
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Band 2
Akin
Alston & Bird LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Breen Justin Proskauer Rose LLP *
Creem Gary Proskauer Rose LLP *
Daly Jennifer Paul Hastings LLP *
Kyrwood Jason Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Palumbo Nicholas A Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Saffos Stelios Latham & Watkins LLP *
Seale Daniel Latham & Watkins LLP *
Xue Alfred Latham & Watkins LLP *
Yount Jennifer St. John Paul Hastings LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for David Polk & Wardwell is considered a destination of choice for transactional work in the private credit space. The firm acts for an enviable array of major investment firms on lender-side work, drawing from a sizable pool of expert practitioners with a strong pedigree in complex financing matters.

Strengths

"Davis Polk are able to deftly navigate the most complex transactions and execute in a manner which is advantageous to their clients."

"The team is strong, from senior partners down to new associates. They are next to none in their understanding of the market."

"The Davis Polk team was fantastic. They're on top of details, available at all hours, and solution-oriented."

Work highlights Davis Polk represented a group of 24 direct lenders, including Oak Hill Advisors and Blue Owl Capital, in Finstra Group's $5.32 billion refinancing.

Notable practitioners

Jason Kyrwood (see p.616) is held in high esteem for his excellent pedigree in high-value financing work. He acts as co-head of Davis Polk's finance group as well as co-lead of the private credit and direct lending practice. Strengths: "Jason is a heavyweight in the private credit space." "He is very much on top of things. Jason is extremely responsive and his answers are thoughtful, taking advantage of all the resources the firm has internally." "Jason is always very involved in the negotiations and has a nuanced understanding of deal points." Nicholas Palumbo (see p.661) is a supremely experienced and respected force in the private credit market. He serves as co-lead of the firm's private credit and direct lending practice, regularly advising his clients on high-profile transactions. Strengths: "Nicholas is a phenomenal lawyer and is very effective at getting to the right answer in a quick and commercial way." "He is very constructive, protecting his clients' interests while solving problems efficiently and effectively." "Nicholas's ability to remain calm under duress is one of his finest attributes, you never see him sweat."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins has attained a reputation for excellence for its private debt and direct lending practice, with clients often turning to its lawyers for their most complex and sophisticated lending transactions. The firm offers expertise across the full range of financing matters, including midmarket and large-cap transactions.

Strengths

"Latham are excellent in both private credit and more general banking deals. They have a lot of experience and are a fantastic firm."

"I feel well represented and safe when I'm using them. They are going to be appropriately commercial, but not lead me to do anything off-market or stupid which would expose our platform."

Notable practitioners

Stelios Saffos (see p.688) is frequently called upon by private equity firms and other investors on a broad range of lending and wider capital markets transactions. Strengths: "He's an amazing lawyer with terrific knowledge of the market and a commercial approach." "You know you're in great hands when working with Stelios."

Daniel Seale (see p.695) is considered one of the industry's foremost experts in direct lending, with clients benefiting from his tremendous depth of experience in acting for private capital providers across the full gamut of financing transactions.

Strengths: "He's a leader in this space and he's got a really strong grip on what we are looking for, with a strong grip of our documentation and precedents. He's always efficient and helps us get to a good spot in negotiating documentation." Alfred Xue (see p.739) is held in high esteem for his lending practice and has an excellent track record in advising private equity firms and other alternative lenders on direct lending transactions. Strengths: "Alf is the leading practitioner in the US private credit space. He's fantastic with clients and he's very thoughtful and analytical." "He is prodigious and well liked by large number of direct lending clients, having worked on just about any direct lending you can name. Clients like him because he's commercial and makes things easily understood, speaking in a way that clients do." "I think he's a phenomenal lawyer, he works harder than anyone I know."

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings is widely considered one of the market's leading choices for sophisticated, high-end direct lending matters. Its impressively experienced team regularly assists a number of household name investor clients on lending matters, ranging from middle-market transactions to syndicated, international financings.

Strengths

"Paul Hastings have a strong presence and they have their finger on the pulse of where the market is moving for document points."

"Paul Hastings take a very commercial approach to deal-making and are great to work with. They know and understand the market for every type of deal and can accomplish great results for all parties involved."

"Paul Hastings are excellent at handling complex and sophisticated matters. The experience of their team makes them trusted advisers."

Work highlights Paul Hastings advised a syndicate of direct lenders on the financing of Thoma Bravo's acquisition of Coupa Software.

Notable practitioners

Jennifer Daly (see p.536) heads the firm's private credit group and is frequently called upon to advise industry-leading clients on complex financings. Strengths: "Jennifer is an incredibly valuable resource to have - she knows the market inside out." Jennifer St. John Yount regularly advises her clients in complex, large-stakes matters, often with a syndicated aspect. She is known for her experience within direct lending and is the cochair of the Paul Hastings global finance practice. Strengths: "Jennifer threads the needle very well and is trusted by both sides of a transaction." "Jennifer's transaction experience and rapport working with other law firms is unmatched."

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose is a recognized force in private credit work, with clients benefiting from the firm's long history and strong pedigree in direct lending transactions. The firm advises across the full gamut of financing matters for an enviable array of the planet's leading lenders and asset managers.

Strengths

"Proskauer Rose offers comprehensive and efficient counsel, with strong market knowledge and guidance across the spectrum."

"They are highly capable and are a real force in the market."

"Proskauer is the 800-pound gorilla in the direct lending market. They are legitimately market-leading in this space."

Notable practitioners

Justin Breen (see p.512) is noted for his talent, reputation and longevity within the direct lending market. He regularly represents high-profile clients in complex lending transactions. Strengths: "Justin is super-entrepreneurial, he understands the market and he is held in high regard." "Justin's most important aspect is his quality of work and responsiveness." Gary Creem (see p.533) is the co-head of Proskauer's private credit group, and he regularly advises high-profile clients. He is responsible for both investment and acquisition lender-side work. Strengths: "He's a very commercial lending lawyer with a great sense of the market and a calm and pleasant demeanor."

Band 2Akin

What the team is known for Akin's team is held in high regard for its special situations expertise, with lender-side clients profiting from the firm's deep resources and institutional knowledge of bet-the-company bankruptcy and insolvency matters. The firm also frequently advises in traditional private credit work, acting for private equity firms, institutional investors, family offices and wider private debt funds.

Strengths

"Akin offers excellent service. They are very creative, are always available, and are engaged in the deal."

"They are always helpful in thinking through which remedies can be exercised in a potential liquidation scenario."

"Akin are fully aware of the latest market trends in leveraged finance, complex financing structures deployed by financial sponsors, and bankruptcy."

Work highlights Akin advised Bain Capital Special Situations in its co-investment with Pollen Street

Capital in the GBP1.2 billion merger between The Markerstudy Group and Atlanta Group.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Fisher and Ranesh Ramanathan are key contacts in the firm.

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird is particularly well versed in middle-market lending transactions, acting for individual lenders and syndicates in complex financing structures. It offers high-quality resources in its Atlanta headquarters, alongside a number of debt finance experts in New York and Dallas.

Strengths

"Alston & Bird are very aware of market trends, both in legal and economic terms. They know what it takes to win financing mandates."

"Alston & Bird have excellent capabilities, responsiveness and accountability."

Notable practitioners

Matthew Wrynski is a key contact in the firm.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding draws from a considerably deep bench of lending experts nationwide and internationally to advise lenders on private credit work. The firm regularly advises a broad spectrum of major sponsor clients and institutional investors on high-end and middle-market lending transactions.

Strengths

"King & Spalding is one of the few firms that has a true private credit team dealing with every type of transaction."

"King & Spalding is one of the most robust practices in the market. They are well developed and focused."

Work highlights King & Spalding represented KKR Credit Advisors as administrative agent, collateral agent and lender in the $935 million credit agreement to fund HIG Capital and Francisco Partners' acquisition of RB Media.

Notable practitioners

Todd Holleman is a key contact for clients.

Private Equity Buyouts Nationwide

Private Equity Buyouts: High-end Capability
Leading Firms
Band 1
Kirkland & Ellis
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Band 2
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Paul, Weiss, Riffkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Band 3
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP are experienced in advising on large LBOs and throughout every stage of a fund's life cycle. Regularly works with well-known domestic and international clients, including private equity funds, corporate pension plans and investment banks. Brings to bear strengths in the firm's real estate, tax, employee benefits and wider corporate teams to offer holistic transactional advice.

Strengths

"Cleary were responsive and professional. They knew the issues and what was appropriate within the market."

"The team works tirelessly to support their client. The expertise, level of service and responsiveness is excellent."

"They're great thought partners. Cleary go beyond execution to help with strategy and problem-solving to achieve the desired outcome."

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP advised Warburg Pincus and Advent International in their acquisition of BioPharma Solutions.

Notable practitioners

New York-based David Leinwand is a key contact at the firm.

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP has a strong track record in advising high-end and mid-market funds as well as major institutional private equity departments. Areas of expertise include workouts, sales and LBOs, well supported by complementary departments such as financing and tax.

Strengths

"The Davis Polk team is very strategic in how they think about driving practical outcomes in both the drafting and negotiation process."

"It is a very strong, deep and well-resourced team."

"Depth and breadth are the hallmarks of Davis Polk. They are consistently well coordinated and provide top-level advice."

Private Equity: Buyouts: Mid-Market
Leading Firms
Band 1
Goodwin
Ropes & Gray LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Band 2
Dechert LLP
Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 3
DLA Piper LLP
Jones Day
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Paul Hastings LLP

Work highlights Davis Polk advised TPG on its $2.4 billion acquisition of Forcepoint's global governments and critical infrastructure business from Francisco Partners.

Notable practitioners

John Amorosi and William Chudd are key contacts. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP is experienced in a significant array of US and cross-border buyouts, often working with high-level funds and target corporations. Brings to bear an integrated global practice, able to provide support in areas such as tax, litigation and corporate governance. Demonstrates considerable strength in the healthcare sector, with notable experience handling investments into drug, device and wider consumer product manufacturers.

Strengths

"Debevoise are very commercially-minded and have excellent M&A and financing capabilities."

"They have a very good private equity offering, and have a lot of experience working with sponsors."

"Debevoise are very efficient. They offer strong quality and have a good turnaround."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton LLP advised Clayton Dubilier & Rice and TPG Capital in their acquisition of all outstanding shares of Covetrus.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Kevin Schmidt is a key contact.

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert LLP provides comprehensive counsel to a wide-ranging mid-market and upper mid-market client base. Offers growing strength in both inbound and outbound cross-border transactions, utilising its network of international offices.

Strengths

"Dechert have amazing quality and deliver a strong work product."

Notable practitioners

New York-based Mark Thierfelder is a key contact at the firm.

DLA Piper LLP

What the team is known for DLA Piper LLP is a prolific deals team with significant experience in transactional work for private equity firms and portfolio companies, with clients benefiting from the firm's extensive global platform and traditional strengths in cross-border matters. Excels in sectors including technology, consumer products, real estate, financial services and energy.

Strengths

"DLA Piper are focused on finding solutions to challenges, and can draw on a wider pool of expertise within the practice."

"Superb responsiveness and attention to client needs mark DLA's approach. They are always on-hand and willing to support, and provide rapid assistance."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP advised Morgan Stanley Capital Partners on the sale of Ovation Fertility to US Fertility.

Notable practitioners

Atlanta-based Joseph Silver is a key contact at the firm.

Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP

What the team is known for Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP are a longstanding deals team frequently called upon by clients to assist with upper mid-market mandates. Well versed in the full range of transactional private equity work, alongside notable abilities advising on private equity fund formation issues.

Strengths

"Fried Frank have a very experienced and professional team that can handle complex transactions."

"The team is effective in advising on legal points while highlighting key commercial implications."

"Fried Frank delivers high quality, distinguished and client-focused advice. They are very effective at breaking down complexity into actionable, commercial decision points."

Work highlights Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP advised Blue Owl Strategic Capital in the sale of Energy Capital Partners to Bridgepoint Group.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Ewan and Steven Steinman are key contacts. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP offers broad strengths acting for sponsors and portfolio companies in transactional work, with considerable skills in cross-border deals through its wide network of offices across the UK, Europe and the Middle East. Sector expertise covers diverse areas including consumer products, energy and entertainment.

Strengths

"Gibson have a broad team and are exceptional at managing complex personalities."

"They have a surgical approach on how to negotiate the points which matter and moving forward efficiently and with a business mindset."

"They are incredibly smart and a pleasure to work with. They know how to narrow matters down to what is important."

Work highlights Gibson Dunn advised Veritas Capital on its $3.1 billion acquisition of Wood Mackenzie.

Notable practitioners

Richard Birns, Ari Lanin, John Pollack and Michael De Voe Piazza are key contacts.

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin regularly advises on transactional work for private equity firms and portfolio companies, with key experience in the financial services, healthcare, technology and real estate sectors. Particularly noted for its representation of venture capital investors and growth companies.

Strengths

"Goodwin has a deep team with many specialists who are highly competent and commercial."

"It is a talented team."

"Goodwin has a great team of lawyers with expertise across all aspects of a buyout transaction. They have been a great partner to work with and have the right balance of technical expertise and commercial acumen."

Work highlights Goodwin advised Arlington Capital Partners on its carve-out acquisition of the Avian Vaccine Services Business.

Notable practitioners

John LeClaire, Brian McPeake, Chris Nugent and Yash Rana are key contacts.

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day is home to a robust private equity practice with a strong pedigree in deals work for a range of national and international sponsors, as well as advising on portfolio company transactions and venture capital investments. Draws upon the firm's impressive global resources to counsel on cross-border mandates.

Strengths

"The team is very knowledgeable in a variety of areas."

Work highlights Jones Day acted as US counsel to KKR in the EUR3 billion acquisition of IVI-RMA.

Notable practitioners

Randi Lesnick and Andrew Levine are key contacts.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis are a powerhouse transactional practice advising a range of leading US and international private equity investors, routinely seen handling high-end and complex mid-market transactional work. Leverages its extensive domestic and international talent pool to offer highly prized strengths in cross-border transactions. Offers supplementary expertise in areas including fund formation and regulatory matters to offer an integrated service to clients.

Strengths

"Kirkland & Ellis have excellent market knowledge and ability to get a deal done."

"They are super strong, highly technical and thoughtful. They help clients to think through all possible scenarios."

"Kirkland are extremely responsive, know the market and are reasonable in their approach to negotiating on behalf of their clients."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised Bain Capital in their acquisition of a minority interest in IMA Nanofabrication for $4.3 billion.

Notable practitioners

Los Angeles-based Michael Woronoff is a key contact.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP offers a full private equity service, from purchases and financings to debt commitment and exit transactions, with strong complementary practices in areas such as tax and antitrust. Supports a reputable and diverse client base on investments in such areas as entertainment, sports and media. Regularly executes sophisticated cross-border transactions, demonstrating strong familiarity with private equity laws in critical markets across the USA, Asia, Europe and the Middle East.

Strengths

"Latham have a unique global angle on situations and ability to leverage their deep knowledge across every aspect of the deal."

"They are incredibly responsive."

"Latham have really good depth across the firm."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP represented Silver Lake Partners in its $12.5 billion acquisition, in partnership with Canada Pension Plan Investment Board, of Qualtrics.

Notable practitioners

Alex Kelly and Kristen Smith Grannis are key contacts.

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery LLP is a respected firm noted for its strength in mid-market private equity deals. The team has strong skills in handling deals in the healthcare, manufacturing and technology sectors, among others.

Strengths

"They provide sophisticated legal services for complex issues. Everyone on the team is very knowledgeable and thoughtful."

"The team is very well versed in complex M&A transaction dynamics. They're business-minded, diligent and organized."

"McDermott is able to seamlessly navigate complex matters. Team depth is a major strength."

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery LLP advised H.I.G. Capital on the sale of Lipari Foods to Littlejohn for $1.2 billion.

Notable practitioners

Frederic Levenson, Gregory Metz, Frank Steinherr and Kristian Werling are key contacts.

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings LLP offers strong capabilities in handling transactional work for private equity firms, with clients benefiting from an extensive national and international platform for complex deal work. The firm exhibits notable expertise in deals in the industrial and manufacturing and healthcare spaces.

Strengths

"Paul Hastings handled sophisticated matters efficiently and provided valuable insights on market practice."

"The team is very pragmatic in their advice."

"Paul Hastings does a good job of communicating."

Work highlights Paul Hastings advised Accel-KKR on the $600 million sale of FM-Systems to Johnson Controls.

Notable practitioners

Brian Richard and Scott Joachim are key contacts.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP is an esteemed practice with considerable strength in complex investment and divestment work, advising an impressive client roster which includes leading mid-market entities and premier megafunds. Leverages its strong market presence to guide clients through a comprehensive array of acquisition techniques and advise on recent market developments.

Strengths

"The entire team at Paul Weiss is great. They are fantastic at researching issues and getting the right specialist involved when needed."

"Every member of the team is highly responsive without exception."

"Paul Weiss is immediately responsive to inquiries and consistently proactive in getting ahead of issues."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP advised Roark Capital Management in connection with its acquisition of Subway.

Notable practitioners

Angelo Bonvino and Matthew Abbott are key contacts. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray LLP are a well-established practice with exhaustive experience in private equity investments, calling upon well-honed skills across all stages of a transaction and offering supplementary counsel on transaction-adjacent concerns. Regularly works with global market leaders in buyouts of significant value, as well as handling mid-market deals, with a particularly prominent reputation in the healthcare and life sciences sectors.

Strengths

"Ropes & Gray consistently impresses with its professionalism, knowledge and expertise."

"Ropes & Gray has technical knowledge which can be translated into actionable advice."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray represented TPG Capital in the sale of Creative Artists Agency to Artémis.

Notable practitioners

New York-based David Blittner is a key contact.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP boasts a distinguished transactional team with particular flair for handling mid-market transactions, alongside a growing reputation for its work acting for bulge-bracket sponsors. Offers particular strengths in the finance, technology, healthcare and energy sectors.

Strengths

"Sidley provide good analysis of the legal matters as well as good advice on the range of commercial outcomes."

"The team includes true subject matter experts and experienced professionals with very strong judgment."

"Sidley can balance creativity with pragmatism."

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP represented Apollo Global Management in its high profile acquisition of a significant part of Credit Suisse's Securitized Products Group.

Notable practitioners

Los Angeles-based Dan Clivner is a key contact.

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher and Bartlett LLP are a leading presence in the private equity sector, advising both firms and portfolio companies on the most noteworthy multi-jurisdictional and high value buyouts at the industry's cutting edge. Regularly works alongside clients in the development and implementation of novel private equity financing and acquisition methods. Demonstrates broad geographical strengths, acting for investors across North and Latin America, Australasia and Europe.

Strengths

"They are very sophisticated in their advice and have deep experience in this sector."

"Simpson have a highly experienced team which can bring in subject matter experts as needed."

"They are hyper-responsive, have great talent development and young partners of high quality."

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Cooper and Marni Lerner are key contacts. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP boasts excellent capabilities in private equity deal work, particularly out of their New York and Houston offices. Significant investor clients turn to them for support in complex M&A, LBOs and dispositions. The team is especially well known for its deep energy industry experience.

Strengths

"Vinson & Elkins always does a fantastic job on complex matters."

"The firm has an excellent senior bench with a hands-on, pragmatic approach."

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins LLP advised EnCap Investments on the $4.2 billion sale of substantially all leasehold interest and related assets of Black Swan Oil & Gas, PetroLegacy Energy and Piedra Resources to Ovintiv.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Gill, John Grand and Sarah Morgan are key contacts.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP is often called upon to represent sponsor clients in private equity buyouts and purchases both nationally and cross-border. Enjoys a considerable market share of multibillion-dollar deals and serves a high number of market-leading private equity funds, pension funds and sovereign wealth funds.

Strengths

"Weil's breadth and depth of knowledge and resources makes it well-suited to providing support on complex and sophisticated cross-border legal matters."

"The private equity team is available at all times to respond to inquiries or get on a call. They always go the extra mile to provide excellent client service."

"Weil's ability to handle complexities across very different issues and stakeholders was remarkable."

Work highlights Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP advised Advent International in its $6.4 billion acquisition of Maxar Technologies.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Doug Warner is a key contact.

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP is a prolific private equity practice with considerable experience in domestic and international matters, regularly advising clients on issues ranging from foreign investment to post-transactional tax planning. Wide-ranging sector expertise covers areas including healthcare, infrastructure and technology.

Strengths

"It's a hard working team that can handle difficult demands with grace and resilient."

Work highlights White & Case LLP advised CVC Capital Partners on the acquisition of Scan Global Logistics.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Oliver Brahmst is a key contact.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP are a highly experienced transactional practice which acts for a range of large-cap and mid-market private equity investors, portfolio companies and management teams. Advises on domestic and international deals, aided by complementary resources in areas such as tax and restructuring.

Strengths

"Willkie have a deep and broad team of responsive and helpful lawyers."

"The team is available at all times and knows the market well."

"Willkie has a complete team that can advise on complex corporate transactions."

Work highlights Willkie Farr & Gallagher represented Blue Wolf Capital Partners in its $1.2 billion acquisition of LOGISTEC.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Poss and Neil Townsend are key contacts for the firm. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Private Equity Fund Formation Nationwide

Band 1

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton is in an elite category of private fund practices with a considerable global footprint and an extensive client base of top-tier private equity sponsors. Represents all manner of private equity businesses, including some of the largest debt fund managers. Noted activity in the representation of secondary funds in connection with transactions and fundraisings. Active in all types of investment strategies including buyout, distressed and credit, real estate and infrastructure funds.

Strengths

"The team is extremely high quality, they are extremely responsive and commercial."

"Debevoise has a deep bench and excellent lawyers."

"The group is very professional and extremely well equipped to handle complex situations."

Work highlights Debevoise represented KKR on the formation of KKR European Fund VI, an $8 billion Europe buyout fund.

Notable practitioners

Rebecca Silberstein has long been noted for her representation of the market's highest profile sponsors, recently handling the formation of high value buyout funds. Strengths: "Rebecca has great experience and market knowledge." Jonathan Adler has an estimable practice establishing buyout, real estate and credit funds. Strengths: "He is a brilliant negotiator, pragmatic and provides outstanding advice." "Jonathan is a great lawyer." Andrew Ahern is adept at launching a range of funds including buyout, credit, energy and venture capital funds. Strengths: "Andrew is an excellent advisor." "He is technically astute, business-oriented and a very effective operator." Lorna Bowen is sought after for her expertise in organizing a range of private equity funds and co-investment structures. Strengths: "Lorna provides excellent advice." Justin Storms is proficient in structuring coinvestment structures in addition

Private Equity: Fund Formation
Leading Firms
Band 1
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Band 2
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Goodwin
Latham & Watkins LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Band 3
Akin
Cooley LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Band 4
Clifford Chance US LLP
Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP
Dechert LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Linklaters
Mayer Brown LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Morrison Foerster
Paul Hastings LLP
Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

to both buyout and secondary funds. Strengths: “Justin is an excellent advisor.” “He is responsive, smart and incredibly knowledgeable.” Joe Binder has a burgeoning practice in the space. He is noted for his ability to provide counsel on the formation of funds focusing on the real estate, technology and hospitality sectors. Strengths: “He is a very insightful and sharp lawyer.” “Joe is very client service-oriented.” Andrew Ford advises sponsors on the formation of buyout and asset-focused funds as well as coinvestment structures. Strengths: “Andrew is effective and efficient.” “He’s a pleasure to work with.” Jason Auerbach has developed a strong practice buyout and funds of fund formation, frequently working with well-known sponsors. Sally Bergmann focuses her practice on providing counsel to sponsors forming growth, buyout and real estate funds. Strengths: “Sally is extremely responsive and she offers strong advice.” Alisa Waxman’s practice focuses on establishing funds investing on both a global and domestic scale, including global infrastructure and buyout funds. Strengths: “Alisa is a fantastic lawyer.”

Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP

What the team is known for Fried, Frank, Harris continues to attract high caliber sponsors in the

Private Equity: Fund Formation
Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Painter Robin A Proskauer Rose LLP *
Eminent Practitioners
Gerstenzang Michael A Cleary Gottlieb Steen *
O’Neil John R Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Wolf Barry M Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Bell Thomas Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Berthou Erica Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Covit Barrie B Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Karen Jonathan Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Landa Leor Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Masotti Marco Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison *
Rosh Kenneth I Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson
Silberstein Rebecca F Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Soler Jonathon G Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Wolitzer Michael Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Wright Andrew Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Band 2
Adler Jonathan Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Ahern Andrew Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Bowen Lorna Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Gindi Maurice Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP *
Grossman Shukie Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Hong Michael Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Lenas Elizabeth Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP *
Persaud Amanda Ropes & Gray LLP *
Sopher Edward D Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Storms Justin Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Band 3
Breslow Stephanie R Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
Chizzik Andrew Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Clark Barton B Latham & Watkins LLP *
Friedrich Laura S Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Herman Jason Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Hill Sean J Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Lavon-Krein Daniel Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Ryan Kelly Kirkland & Ellis *
Sarno Glenn R Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Schwartzman Andrea J Latham & Watkins LLP *
Singer Roger Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Watson David W Goodwin *
Winter David A Hogan Lovells US LLP
Band 4
Arora Monica Proskauer Rose LLP *
Ayer John Ropes & Gray LLP *
Beber Howard J Proskauer Rose LLP *
Biamonte Marc N Ropes & Gray LLP *
Caccia John Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *
Clark Timothy Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer (ORL) ◇ *
Deeken James Akin
Ford Andrew Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Gallegos Wendy Mayer Brown LLP *
Howard Matthew Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Kallos Chris P Kirkland & Ellis *
Kreisl David DLA Piper LLP (US)
Lee Tricia Dechert LLP
Leipsic Adrian Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP *
Murray Jordan C Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Nelson Edward D Latham & Watkins LLP *
Ohayon Lior Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Proctor Mark Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Sabin Michael Clifford Chance US LLP
Sager Nadia S Latham & Watkins LLP *
Samman Fadi G Akin
Schwartz Ian McDermott Will & Emery LLP *
Smith Joseph A Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
Srulowitz Stephanie Epstein Weil, Gotshal & Manges *
Sternoff Joshua H Paul Hastings LLP
Tegeler David W Proskauer Rose LLP *
Band 5
Ashley Allen P DLA Piper LLP (US)
Auerbach Jason Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Barshay Lawrence N Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver
Behrens Jason Linklaters *
Blaustein Robert Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Cruz Heather Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Dankis Mike Linklaters *
Devaney Megan Winston & Strawn LLP *
Farhadieh Arash Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Goldstein Matthew Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton *
Grady Blayne Akin
Greene Brian I Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Hussein Amran Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison *
Isom Phillip Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Kaplan Jeffrey Kirkland & Ellis *
Marrs Nathaniel Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Mehta Prakash Akin
Melamed Don Proskauer Rose LLP *
Neuschatz Zelenka Rebecca Fried, Frank, Harris
Requenez Eric Ropes & Gray LLP *
Rips Anna Paul Hastings LLP
Schwartz Phyllis Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP
Solomon Justin Kirkland & Ellis *
Tope Adam DLA Piper LLP (US)
Verbeseey Paul J Goodwin *
Washington Nicole Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Wiersma Lindsey Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton *
Band 6
Bakar Olesya Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇
Bergmann Sally Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Mandel Bradley Winston & Strawn LLP
Mannon Joseph M Vedder Price PC (ORL) ◇ *
Marian Cynthia Greenberg Traurig, LLP (ORL) ◇
Pereira Shaun Akin *
Reader Dennis Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP
Rosenberg Max Paul Hastings LLP
Thomas Stephanie Morrison Foerster *
van Loggarenberg Conrad Paul, Weiss, Rifkind *
Waxman Alisa Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Winters Ed Nixon Peabody LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Up-and-coming individuals
Fulton Jamal Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP *
Nestler David McDermott Will & Emery UK LLP *
Osayimwese Omoz Dechert LLP
Rowe Katrina Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Sherman David Kirkland & Ellis LLP *

real estate, energy, credit and buyout spaces. Valued for the breadth of its fund formation expertise, including infrastructure and growth funds. Able to offer its expanding client base an integrated service, working closely with its practices in tax, regulatory and employee benefits. Also noted for its strength in cross-border matters.

Venture Capital: Fund Formation
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Painter Robin A. Proskauer Rose LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Franklin Steven R. Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve
Mears Stephen Proskauer Rose LLP *
Band 2
Beaudoin Thomas A. Goodwin *
Captice Sean Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve
Clendenin John Cooley LLP
Dado John Cooley LLP
Goudey Shane Sidley Austin LLP
O'Donnell Ian Goodwin *
Peppe Nicole Goodwin *
Silber Jordan Cooley LLP
Tope Adam DLA Piper LLP (US)
Band 3
Beber Howard J. Proskauer Rose LLP *
Binder Joe Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
DeFalco Marie Lowenstein Sandler LLP (ORL) ◇
Doherty Eric Cooley LLP
Fore Robert Goodwin *
Hachigian Jay K. Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve
Kaplan-Gross Kimberley Choate Hall & Stewart (ORL) ◇
Nicholls III Malcolm B. Gunderson Dettmer Stough
Ricapito Bryan Hogan Lovells
Tegeler David W. Proskauer Rose LLP *
Tuchman Yoni DLA Piper LLP *
Van Buren Bradley Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Strengths

"Fried Frank is a great firm."

"The team is extremely knowledgeable and efficiently coordinates cross-border work."

"The group has subject matter expertise."

Work highlights Fried Frank advised Permira on the formation of Permira VIII.

Notable practitioners

Kenneth Rosh is extremely highly thought of for his fund formation advice, regularly working with leading asset management firms. Strengths: "He delivers sophisticated and commercial advice." "Kenneth is one of the best lawyers in the market."

Lawrence Barshay is recognized for his expertise in closed-end structures and hybrid funds. His work for private equity clients forms part of his wider private funds capabilities. Strengths: "He's very smart, thoughtful and quick to provide responses. He also has a lot of experience."

Rebecca Neuschatz Zelenka is accomplished in establishing private equity funds, including real estate and debt funds. Strengths: "She's a fantastic lawyer."

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis boasts an impressively deep group of private funds specialists noted for its handling of a large volume of fundraisings for prominent high end and mid-market sponsors. A global footprint ensures that it is well equipped to take on sophisticated matters involving buyout funds and real estate funds. Additional expertise in handling significant secondary transactions. Noted for its experience of working with a wide array of investors as part of a global platform.

Strengths

"Kirkland has a deep bench with true expertise."

"The team is very responsive and the quality of their work is excellent."

"The firm has strong resources to support broad array of needs and outstanding knowledge."

Work highlights Kirkland provided counsel to JPMorgan Chase on the formation of its JPMorgan Infrastructure Investments Fund, a $30+ billion utility fund.

Notable practitioners

John O'Neil is the head of the investment funds practice group. He is admired for his command of fund formation, including substantial buyout and real estate funds. Erica Berthou (see p.504) represents significant asset management firms on large fund raises, including real estate, energy and credit funds. Strengths: "She's a terrific lawyer."

"Erica has a lot of experience as a heavyweight in the industry." Andrew Wright (see p.738) regularly works with major sponsors on forming growth equity and buyout funds. He has particular experience related to funds focused on the energy and healthcare sectors. Strengths: "He has a deep understanding of the market." "Andrew is incredibly responsive and commercial." Sean Hill (see p.2020) has notable strength in forming funds including credit funds and other private equity vehicles. He has further experience of advising sponsor-side clients on secondary transactions in their funds. Strengths: "He is a wonderful lawyer."

Daniel Lavon-Krein is commended for his strong practice encompassing fund formation and sales of minority stakes in fund managers. Strengths: "Daniel's insight is invaluable to us." Kelly Ryan (see p.687) specializes in advising sponsors on real estate and infrastructure fund launches. Strengths: "Kelly is one of the most experienced funds attorneys in the industry." Matthew Howard (see p.590) has notable experience of advising sponsor-side clients on significant fund launches. Chris Kallos (see p.600) handles the establishment of significant buyout and venture capital funds. Jordan Murray (see p.650) is recognized for his work establishing private equity funds and handling minority stake transactions. He is routinely called upon by significant sponsors to provide counsel. Robert Blaustein is based in New York and has a widely respected practice advising asset managers on the formation of private equity funds. He has further experience of providing counsel on strategic investments and transactions. Strengths: "Robert has a strong understanding of the market." "He's a great practitioner."

Jeffrey Kaplan (see p.601) regularly advises emerging managers on raising buyout and growth equity funds. Strengths: "Jeffrey's an excellent thought partner." Justin Solomon (see p.707) is highly adept at providing counsel on the formation of funds to high profile private equity firms.

Nicole Washington is praised for her strong practice advising on fund formation matters, including early-stage fundraisings. Strengths: "Nicole is a great practitioner." Katrina Rowe (see p.685) has a burgeoning practice in this space. She has significant experience of providing counsel on the formation of a range of funds, including debt and infrastructure funds. David Sherman (see p.700) is routinely engaged in fund formation, management and operation of private equity funds.

Strengths: "David has a broad understanding of the sector and is a strong advisor."

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss has a strong private equity practice counseling elite private equity fund managers on some of the biggest fundraisings in the market. Highly regarded for its experienced structuring of high-end formations, encompassing buyout, distressed and credit funds, among others. Has strong track record in working with global investors.

Strengths

"Paul Weiss has an awesome reputation."

"The firm has a terrific team that is very knowledgeable, practical and has a great sense of the market."

"Paul Weiss has subject matter experts across the firm and high quality talent."

Work highlights Paul Weiss, advised Apollo Global Management on the launch and closing of Apollo Fund X, its latest flagship private equity fund totaling $20 billion.

Notable practitioners

Among those who frequently turn to Marco Masotti (see p.633) for advice on complex fund formation are many of the world's biggest name private equity sponsors. Strengths: "Marco is very knowledgeable on all fund related matters." "He is absolutely extraordinary, he's pragmatic and sharp."

Matthew Goldstein (see p.569) counsels sponsors on the structuring of both buyout and direct lending funds. He has further experience of representing private funds in co-investments and direct investments. Strengths: "Matthew is a very strong lawyer." Amran Hussein (see p.592) has notable experience of advising on the establishment of credit and buyout funds. Lindsey Wiersma (see p.734)'s practice is focused on forming a variety of private equity funds on behalf of major sponsors. Strengths: "Lindsey has extensive knowledge of the private equity industry." "She has a fantastic balance of experience and market awareness."

Conrad van Loggerenberg (see p.726) enjoys a burgeoning reputation for his funds practice, with an array of leading investment firms calling upon his skills in formation, maintenance and regulatory matters. Strengths: "Conrad is an outstanding technical lawyer who is also practical and a real joy to work with." "He is terrific and has a phenomenal client service approach."

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher is a prospering private equity practice with comprehensive expertise that spans traditional buyout funds and alternative assets, including real estate, distressed debt and credit. Unparalleled track record representing some of the largest private equity sponsors in mega fundraisings. Expertise in financial services, infrastructure and energy funds.

Strengths

"Simpson's team has great breadth and the lawyers are very client-oriented."

"Simpson has a deep bench and market insight."

"It's one of the best firms out there for complex and sophisticated funds matters."

Notable practitioners

Thomas Bell (see p.502) regularly advises leading asset management clients on raising large real estate and infrastructure funds. He has further experience of advising clients on secondary transactions. Strengths: "Tom is an icon in the space." Barrie Covit (see p.533) wins acclaim for his deep experience across the private equity fund formation industry. He has capacity to advise on a wide spectrum of funds including those focused on infrastructure, real estate and financial services. Strengths: "Barrie is a very strong lawyer." Jonathan Karen (see p.601) is known for his extensive understanding of launching infrastructure, credit, energy and real estate funds.

Strengths: "Jonathan is a great attorney." Michael Wolitzer (see p.737) is highly proficient in establishing private equity funds including credit and real asset funds. Strengths: "He's an excellent lawyer." Jason Herman (see p.583) is recognized for his knowledge of forming substantial buyout, real estate and credit funds. Glenn Sarno (see p.690) frequently handles the formation of significant funds investing in debt and real assets. He is also held in high regard for his international capabilities. Strengths: "Glenn is a very good lawyer."

Band 2

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb has deep expertise structuring private equity funds and alternative investment products that are offered in the USA, Europe, Asia and Latin America. Likewise proficient in counseling limited partners on their investments in private equity, hedge and real estate assets. Also noted for its advice on strategic minority investments to fund managers. Experienced in the formation of a range of private funds including credit and special situations funds.

Strengths

"Cleary has a strong team of both partners and associates who can function at the highest level on fund formation matters."

"It's practitioners provide thoughtful guidance and are very responsive."

"The team are industry experts in the fund formation space."

Work highlights Cleary assisted TPG with the formation of TPG Tech Adjacencies II, a technology-focused fund that will invest in internet, software, digital media and other similar technology companies.

Notable practitioners

Michael Gerstenzang (see p.565) is admired for his expertise in credit, secondary and growth funds. Strengths: "Michael is one of the leading fund lawyers in the market." Maurice Gindi (see p.567)'s fund formation practice covers the full range of private equity fund structures. Strengths: "Maurice is great to work with. He's very experienced and commercial." "He's prompt, professional and practical." Elizabeth Lenas (see p.620) is highly regarded for her experience in the fund raising and closing of buyout, credit and growth funds. Her clients are primarily fund sponsors and include those establishing some of the nation's largest funds. Strengths: "She is highly knowledgeable and a great motivator and collaborator."

"Liza is very responsive and very committed to client service." Adrian Leipsic (see p.620) is gaining recognition for his practice, which includes launching buyout and social impact funds. He has further experience of advising sponsors on joint ventures.

Strengths: "He is efficient and highly responsive to the needs of the clients." Jamal Fulton (see p.560) is noted for his ability to assist on the formation of a range of funds, including hedge, growth and buyout funds. Strengths: "Jamal is great to work with and very experienced." "He is an excellent lawyer and a pleasure to work with."

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin has a respected asset management practice, which encompasses an assortment of private investment products, including private equity, venture capital and real estate funds. Acts for a diverse client base of domestic and international funds of varying sizes. Valued for its advice across structuring, management and compliance issues.

Strengths

"Goodwin's team is sophisticated and it provides valuable insights."

"It is a great firm."

Work highlights Goodwin advised TA Associates on the completion of its fundraising for a fund, TA XV, with total limited partner commitments at its hard cap of $16.5 billion.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Beaudoin (see p.2007) is adept at forming venture capital funds. He is renowned for his international expertise, especially in advising Israeli fund sponsors. Ian O'Donnell (see p.1057) is prized for his deep knowledge of the launch and operation of early-stage investment funds, including those focusing on the life sciences and technology sectors. Strengths: "Ian is a really strong lawyer, he's great."

Nicole Peppe (see p.666) is proficient in the formation of US and international venture capital funds. Her client base includes both specialist venture capital sponsors and the early-stage arms of diverse private equity houses. Robert Fore (see p.557) is routinely called upon to advise sponsors on significant fund formations and operational issues. He advises on funds investing across a range of sectors, including travel and technology. David Watson (see p.2043) is valued for his expertise in private equity fund formation for household-name sponsors, notably with regards to real estate funds. Strengths: "David a very good lawyer." Washington-based Paul Verbesey (see p.727) has experience advising fund sponsors and investors on the formation and closing of high value private equity funds. Strengths: "Paul is a great practitioner."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for The Latham & Watkins team is expert in structuring all manner of private equity funds, with notable strengths pertaining to energy, power and infrastructure-foccused vehicles. Trusted advisers to private equity sponsors long after the fund formation process, assisting with ongoing compliance, M&A and other corporate issues. Continues to enjoy success in attracting a number of major new clients across the USA, with notable depth in credit and debt funds.

Strengths

"Latham is a strong firm."

"Latham & Watkins provides us with exceptional advisement."

"The team is extraordinary, the practitioners are detail-oriented, hard working, responsive and dedicated."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins assisted Searchlight Capital Partners with the formation of Searchlight Capital IV.

Notable practitioners

Barton Clark (see p.527) is highly regarded for his knowledge of the formation of funds investing abroad. He has further experience of advising funds focused on investing in the infrastructure and energy sectors. Strengths: "Barton is an excellent lawyer." Andrea Schwartzman (see p.694) is renowned for her significant experience in the market. Her deep expertise includes the establishment of buyout funds and credit funds.

Edward Nelson (see p.652) focuses on advising sponsors on launching significant buyout, real estate and infrastructure funds, among others. His broader funds practice includes work with alternative investment managers. Nadia Sager (see p.688) has the capacity to effectively advise clients on formations and capital raising for real estate and debt funds.

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose is an established name in the private equity funds market that is especially lauded for its work on behalf of sponsors, advising on transactions and fund formations which touch a broad range of industries. Boasts equal capabilities in buyout funds as those formed to invest in early-stage businesses. Strong international showing, with a noted presence in matters involving the European and Asian markets.

Strengths

"The team is highly experienced and has sophisticated skills."

Work highlights Proskauer Rose advised New Enterprise Associates on the formation and closing of two funds – New Enterprise Associates 18 and NEA 18 Venture Growth Equity.

Notable practitioners

Robin Painter (see p.660) is equally capable of representing sponsors and institutional investors in high profile fund formation. Strengths: "Robin is an amazing lawyer." "I couldn't recommend her highly enough for fund formation work." Stephen Mears (see p.640) frequently acts for prominent asset management firms in the establishment of venture capital funds. Strengths: "Stephen is super meticulous and provides outstanding service – he's an excellent lawyer." "He's responsive, hard-working and well-respected." Monica Arora (see p.493) routinely handles the formation of funds, including credit and asset-focused funds. She regularly advises clients on formations involving global investors. Strengths: “She’s an exceptional individual – she has high technical sophistication and extremely strong interpersonal skills.”

Howard Beber (see p.2007) is highly adept in advising on the launch of buyout, co-investment and sector-focused funds. Strengths: “He’s a strong attorney who is highly respected.” David Tegeler (see p.2041) is the global co-head of the private funds group. His wide expertise in the private equity funds world encompasses secondary transactions and credit fund launches. Strengths: “David is extremely experienced.” A specific area of strength for Don Melamed (see p.640) is establishing real estate funds on behalf of significant clients. Strengths: “Don is really fantastic, he’s detail-oriented and commercial.” “He is very talented and really smart.”

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for The Ropes & Gray team is well known for its excellent representation of sizable sponsor-side clients in a variety of private equity fund formations including buyout and growth capital funds. Proven track record structuring private equity vehicles such as real estate and credit funds.

Strengths

“Ropes’ team is solid.”

“The group offers excellent service and they are knowledgeable, smart and responsive.”

“It’s lawyers are very knowledgeable across the board and they have vast experience.”

Notable practitioners

Amanda Persaud (see p.667) receives plaudits for her work on the launch of buyout, real estate and credit funds. John Ayer (see p.2005) has an enviable reputation in Massachusetts and beyond for his practice forming private equity funds. Marc Biamonte (see p.505) frequently advises investment banks and asset managers on private equity fund formation and fund raising. Strengths: “Marc is awesome, he’s really sharp and his advice is also highly practical.” “He has great knowledge and experience.” Eric Requenez (see p.678) has a broad formation practice covers real estate, credit and co-investment funds. Strengths: “Eric is a great practitioner.”

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges is a choice destination for midmarket sponsors and larger asset managers seeking to raise mega private equity funds. Valued for its wide experience advising on the structuring of a variety of funds. Expertise devising a plethora of innovative private structures that span a diverse range of targets, from buyouts to real estate and infrastructure. A strong global practice enables the team to act for both US and foreign-based sponsors.

Strengths

“Weil’s team has outstanding legal expertise.”

“The practitioners have strong expertise in complex and sophisticated matters.”

“The group has great knowledge and is very commercial.”

Work highlights Weil, Gotshal & Manges advised Genstar Capital in its formation of Genstar Capital Partners XI.

Notable practitioners

Barry Wolf (see p.737) is able to utilize his position as executive partner and chair of the firm’s management committee to advise clients on their fund formation matters. Jonathon Soler (see p.707) is a highly regarded sponsor-side attorney focusing on fund formation. Strengths: “He is strong in so many areas and is such a great advisor.” Andrew Chizzik (see p.525)’s expertise encompasses the formation of significant buyout and infrastructure funds. Strengths: “Andrew is an amazing lawyer – always well reasoned and accommodating.” “He’s a great lawyer.” Stephanie Epstein Sruulowitz (see p.709) is experienced in the formation of both buyout and growth equity funds. Strengths: “Stephanie is smart and dedicated.” “She brings great perspectives to all matters.”

Band 3

Akin

What the team is known for Akin Gump counts a number of dominant investors and sponsors among its longstanding clientele and is noted for its acute insight into emerging market investment trends. Additionally able to assist fund managers with tax structures. Provides vital market perspective gained from representing investors in private equity and hedge vehicles.

Strengths

“Akin has a deep bench of subject matter experts, all over the globe.”

“A large team dedicated to fund formation with a sophisticated understanding of the market and trends.”

“The group has excellence and sophistication at every level.”

Work highlights Akin Gump advised Apollo Global Management in the formation, fundraising and closing of its 10th flagship vehicle, Apollo Investment Fund X, which held its final close with approximately $20 billion in committed funds.

Notable practitioners

James Deeken is routinely called upon by private fund sponsors and is particularly valued for the insight gained through his work with limited partners. Strengths: “He has a strong understanding of the market.” “James has a high level of expertise and knowledge.” Fadi Samman’s practice encompasses a wide spectrum of issues, including fund formation, M&A and secondary transactions, to name a few. Blayne Grady has notable experience of advising sponsors on launching and structuring credit, real estate and energy funds. Strengths: “Blayne is an incredibly thoughtful lawyer. He is also pragmatic and excellent at finding solutions to our most complex and intricate problems.” Prakash Mehta has vast experience of advising both asset managers and sponsors on establishing significant funds, including growth funds. Dennis Pereira (see p.666) is highlighted for his strength in advising clients on the formation of debt funds and close-end funds, among others. Strengths: “Dennis is smart, responsive and always available to tackle complicated issues.” “He’s a fantastic practitioner – he’s client focused and great at resolving complex matters.”

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley distinguishes itself as primary fund counsel to innumerable funds within the ambit of venture capital, ranging from preeminent market players to up-and-coming managers. Able to advise on an array of fund formation operations, including evergreen, growth equity and funds of funds, in sectors such as technology, healthcare and social media. Capable of representing fund managers on a global scale.

Strengths

“Cooley is excellent to work with.”

“It’s a great team, the practitioners are extremely commercial and provide extremely high level service.”

“Cooley has excellent depth on its bench.”

Work highlights Cooley advised Lux Capital on the closing of Lux Ventures VIII, at US$1.15 billion.

Notable practitioners

John Clendenin regularly assists asset management firms establishing funds focused on the health care and technology market. John Dado is the head of the fund formation practice group. He is admired for his profound understanding of the formation and operation of funds. Strengths: “John provides expert advice with a strong understanding of the commercial aspects of the business.” Jordan Silber is recognized for his prominent practice launching funds investing in the US and China. Eric Doherty regularly assists venture capital clients on fund formation and closing matters. Strengths: “He’s smart, efficient, sophisticated and has great commercial awareness.”

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk has a well-respected practice with notable experience of advising both sponsors and funds. Fields an experienced group of practitioners with long-standing practices in the market, combined with a stellar reputation in the related financial services sector. Noted for its track record of forming highly focused funds, including those investing in particular sectors or secondary fund interests.

Strengths

“Davis Polk has a deep team and can respond to high priority items quickly.”

“The group is very responsive and thoughtful with service.”

“Davis Polk has an expert for every sophisticated issue.”

Work highlights Davis Polk provided counsel to Godspeed Capital in connection with the formation of Godspeed Capital Investment Program II, which closed with $250 million in capital commitments.

Notable practitioners

The private equity element of Leor Landa (see p.616)’s private funds practice includes establishing buyout and infrastructure funds. Strengths: “Leor is a very experienced and knowledgeable lawyer.” “He is a strong attorney.” Michael Hong (see p.588) has notable experience of advising private equity sponsors on fund formation and co-investment matters, among other issues. Strengths: “Michael is an exceptional attorney.” “He is extremely competent and has deep sophistication.”

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher offers comprehensive services to fund managers, sponsors and investors in connection with fund formation and operational matters. Receives a high influx of secondaries mandates and is regularly called upon to assist with SEC enforcement matters. Advises in connection with multiple asset classes, including buyout, real estate and growth capital. Added strength in infrastructure, credit, secondary and co-investment funds.

Strengths

“We are very impressed with the team, they do a tremendous job.”

“The attorneys are excellent – they are thorough and understand complex transactions.”

“The group are very strong in areas pertaining to funds, they are also at the top in terms of results and responsiveness.”

Work highlights Gibson Dunn represented EQT Exeter in connection with the formation of EQT Exeter Industrial Core-Plus Fund IV.

Notable practitioners

Shukie Grossman (see p.575) regularly advises investment management firms forming buyout and real asset funds. Strengths: “He’s an excellent practitioner.” “Shukie is always thoughtful in providing legal advice and he has deep market knowledge and insight.” Edward Sopher (see p.707) is very well regarded for his work establishing co-investment, credit and real asset funds, as well as funds of funds. Strengths: “Edward is highly practical, efficient and results-oriented.” Roger Singer (see p.703)’s fund formation practice revolves around his notable expertise in real estate funds. Strengths: “Roger is very smart and commercial.” “He’s very responsive and offers very thoughtful advice.”

Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin & Hachigian

What the team is known for Gunderson Dettmer displays dominance throughout the North American and Chinese venture capital fund formation markets. Dedicated to the support of emerging technology and venture capital matters around the world.

Notable practitioners

Steven Franklin is highly respected for his deep expertise in launching substantial funds investing in the US and internationally. He has notable experience of providing counsel on the formation of funds investing in the technology space. Strengths: “Steven is a very talented lawyer.”

Sean Caplice has an impressive client base of leading investment management companies. He provides counsel on establishing funds focused on both growth and late-stage companies. Jay Hachigian’s broad-based early-stage capital business covers formation work for sponsors in addition to financing for both funds and growth companies. He has further experience of providing counsel throughout a company’s life cycle, from inception through to offerings and M&A.

Malcolm Nicholls is well versed in fund formations and secondary transactions. He has significant experience in advising sponsors forming technology-focused funds.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher draws on resources in the firm’s wider asset management team to provide comprehensive regulatory compliance and fund formation guidance to private equity fund managers large and small. Also retains an exclusive client roster of institutional investors and continues to attract new and diverse clients. Noted strength in the areas of energy and real estate funds.

Strengths

“Willkie’s team is very knowledgeable, it has a deep bench of experts who can handle all matters. It’s a very experienced team.”

“The group is experienced and responsive.”

“The team handles the most complex matters, and their ability to handle the complexity, while maintaining attention to detail, and being able to distill complex concepts into concrete action points is superb.”

Work highlights Willkie recently advised Jim Pieri, the founder, Managing Partner and Chief Investment Officer of Assured Healthcare Partners LLC (AHP) in the spinout of AHP and its affiliate funds from Assured Guaranty.

Notable practitioners

Laura Friedrich (see p.560) has a wide practice encompassing the formation of real estate and credit funds, and funds of funds. Strengths: “Laura is a pleasure to work with, as she possesses a sophisticated and nuanced knowledge of the private funds market.” “She’s a pleasure to work with.” Lior Ohayon (see p.658) is well known for his expertise advising financial institutions on the formation of access funds. Strengths: “Lior is one of the fiercest advocates in the space.” “He is highly knowledgeable and a strong leader.” Mark Proctor (see p.673) is experienced in launching a wide spectrum of funds, including real estate and infrastructure funds as well as feeder funds. Strengths: “He’s a well respected lawyer.” Arash Farhadieh (see p.550) is noted for his ability to handle complex formations on both an domestic and international level. He has further experience of providing counsel on secondary transactions. Strengths: “Arash is highly knowledgeable, hard-working and tremendous.” “He’s a very talented lawyer.” Brian Greene (see p.573) is particularly adept at establishing access funds on behalf of significant financial institutions. Strengths: “Brian is very knowledgeable about the industry and how to negotiate.” “He is an excellent lawyer.” Phillip Isom (see p.594) handles the full spectrum of fund formations, from sector-focused and middle-market buyout funds to special purpose vehicles. He has notable experience of providing counsel on issues with international elements. Strengths: “Phillip is a great lawyer.” Nathaniel Marrs (see p.632) is best known for his work on the formation of sector-specific funds, most notably real estate and energy. Strengths: “Nathaniel is an excellent lawyer.” “He’s very responsive, thoughtful and good at resolving challenging issues.”

Band 4

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance boasts a prominent team in the space. Its practitioners are routinely called upon to provide counsel on the formation of a range of funds, including secondaries funds, real estate funds and credit funds. The team has additional experience of handling restructurings and SEC enforcement issues.

Strengths

“It’s a sophisticated firm – the team provides high quality service.”

“Clifford Chance’s group is efficient and commercial in their responses.”

Work highlights Clifford Chance assisted Partners Group with the launch of Partners Group Private Credit Strategies, an open-ended private credit fund.

Notable practitioners

Michael Sabin of Clifford Chance is routinely called upon to advise sponsors on the structuring of sector-focused and direct lending funds.

Strengths: “Michael is a strong and engaging lawyer.” “He is strong in all aspects of legal analysis. He is very knowledgeable and has depth and breadth of experience.”

Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP

What the team is known for Curtis, Mallet-Prevost’s team is held in high regard for its strength in handling issues throughout the lifecycle of a fund, right from formation through to investment processes. The team has extensive experience of providing counsel on the formation of a range of funds, including ESG funds, funds-of-funds and venture capital funds. The practitioners are also adept at providing counsel on regulatory compliance.

Strengths

“The team offers a very high service level and are incredibly responsive. The practitioners are also thoughtful and insightful.”

Work highlights Curtis, Mallet-Prevost advised Acumen LatAm Impact Ventures on all aspects of the formation and launch of a social impact fund.

Notable practitioners

Shaun Reader handles the formation of funds investing across a range of sectors, including technology, real estate and life sciences. Strengths: “We have been extremely pleased with his service.”

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert draws strength from its international presence to assist clients on a series of complex fund formations. The team has considerable strength in representing sponsors in the space. The practitioners are adept at providing counsel on the formation of buyout funds, close-end funds and funds-of-funds. The group is also routinely called upon to advise clients on private credit and venture capital funds.

Strengths

“The team is very helpful and extremely knowledgeable in the areas of their speciality.”

"Dechert has a deep bench."

Work highlights Dechert assisted MiddleGround Capital with raising a third flagship middle market industrial/manufacturing buyout fund targeting $1.2 billion of capital commitments.

Notable practitioners

Tricia Lee of Dechert is held in high regard for her experience in establishing co-investment and real estate funds. Strengths: "She is an outstanding lawyer and she's very responsive." Omoz Osayimwese's practice covers the formation of a range of funds, including close-end and buyout funds. He is also adept at assisting clients on the operation of funds. Strengths: "He is responsive and a hard worker. He makes sure the quality of the work is high."

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper is a notably deep team able to call on fund formation experts across the country and internationally. Specific areas of strength include providing counsel on the structuring and formation of real estate and credit funds.

Strengths

"DLA's guidance is enormously valuable."

"The practitioners at DLA are excellent advisors."

"The team members have vast expertise and experience."

Work highlights DLA Piper advised Longfellow Real Estate Partners on a $2 billion closing for Longfellow Strategic Value Fund UK.

Notable practitioners

Los Angeles-based Yoni Tuchman (see p.722) is well regarded for his practice advising on the formation of venture capital funds. He has broad experience with funds focusing on technology and e-commerce as well as those focusing on ESG. Strengths: "Yoni has deep knowledge and sophistication." David Kreisler of Sidley Austin is commended for his understanding of private equity funds, including sector-focused vehicles and credit funds. He is also experienced in secondary transactions and the formation of co-investment vehicles. Strengths: "David is great to work with." "He expertly navigates issues." A specific area of strength in Allen Ashley's practice is advising on establishing real estate funds. Strengths: "Allen is thorough and knowledgeable." "He is super smart, practical, efficient and responsive." Adam Tope's diverse practice involves establishing a range of funds, including those focused on the energy sector. Strengths: "He has great market knowledge." "Adam's knowledge and response times are excellent."

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells' team demonstrates its ability to advise clients on the formation of a wide spectrum of funds, including buyout and debt funds. The team has notable strength in advising clients in the real estate, healthcare and energy sectors. It has a significant client base consisting of sponsors and institutional investors, although its recognized for its high quality work on behalf of SBIC licensees and applicants. The practitioners also have extensive experience in handling issues in the secondaries space.

Strengths

"It's an impressive firm in the space."

"The team has decades of experience and a deep bench. It is able to handle complex and sophisticated matters."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells represent Canapi Ventures in the formation of its second flagship fund, Canapi Ventures Fund II.

Notable practitioners

Bryan Ricapito is noted for his ability to provide counsel to a range of clients on the formation of venture capital funds focused on the technology, healthcare and life sciences space. He has experience of advising on fund of funds, fund maintenance and restructuring. David Winter of Hogan Lovells is held in esteem for his expertise in handling formations of debt, buyout and SBIC funds. Strengths: "David is pragmatic and has deep experience. He provides quality customer service."

Linklaters

What the team is known for Linklaters has a broad team of practitioners known for its extensive work across the private equity space. The team is able to advise on a number of transactional issues including fund formation, mergers and acquisitions as well as regulatory and compliance matters. Linklaters boasts the capability to handle complex cross-border matters often involving European and Asia-based clients. The team frequently supports clients on equity, debt and growth opportunity funds.

Strengths

"The team is practical, solutions-oriented and knows the market well."

"Linklaters team has a high level of attention to detail and a wealth of industry experience."

"The team excels at working through complex structures, they are also very responsive and practical."

Work highlights Linklaters advised Aermont Capital on the establishment of PGV SCSp, a long-term vehicle created to acquire and grow Pinewood Group.

Notable practitioners

Jason Behrens (see p.501) is highly experienced in advising a range of asset managers on fund formation and compliance issues. Strengths: "Jason consistently delivers excellent service." "He is an excellent attorney." Mike Dankis (see p.536) provides counsel to fund sponsors on the formation of an array of funds, such as credit and real estate. Strengths: "Mike is sophisticated and puts the clients first."

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown has a strong fund formation team that is held in high regard throughout the space. Its practitioners regularly advise clients on matters related to real estate, credit and insurance funds. The group has further experience of providing counsel on structuring and regulatory issues arising from the formation and financing of funds.

Strengths

"The team consistently exhibits strong talent."

"Mayer Brown's group has market intelligence, deep legal knowledge as well as familiarity in the space."

"The firm's team is talented at all levels and is supremely responsive."

Work highlights Mayer Brown provided counsel to Invesco Advisers on its final closing of Invesco Real Estate US Fund VI.

Notable practitioners

Wendy Gallegos (see p.562) of Mayer Brown offers advice to clients on the structuring and tax aspects of fund formation, among other issues. Strengths: "She has strong technical knowledge, comprehensive knowledge of the market and a collaborative approach." "Wendy is a strong practitioner."

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery is well regarded throughout the market for its ability to handle matters related to various funds, including real estate, secondary and buyout funds. The team has considerable experience of assisting on formations related to the healthcare space. Its practitioners are routinely called upon to handle fundraises on behalf of sponsors.

Strengths

"The team has leveraged their deep experience to navigate complex issues."

"The group is exceptionally sophisticated and extremely attentive to clients' needs."

"McDermott's team has an amazing knowledge of all things related to the formation of funds."

Work highlights McDermott provided counsel to Martis Capital on the formation of and fundraising for Martis Partners IV, a healthcare private equity fund that is targeting capital commitments of $750 million.

Notable practitioners

Ian Schwartz (see p.694) of McDermott Will & Emery regularly advises a broad range of private equity houses on financing, formation and the closing of funds. Strengths: "Ian is an experienced lawyer who is sophisticated and has a strong commercial sense." "He is a wonderful lawyer – smart, sophisticated, pragmatic and responsive." David Nestler (see p.653) draws praise for his ability to provide counsel on matters related to a range of funds, including real estate, credit funds and funds-of-one. Strengths: "David is extremely knowledgeable and an excellent negotiator." "He is on top of the details, organized and efficient."

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster boasts considerable strength in assisting clients with the formation of venture capital and private equity funds. The groups clients include high profile institutional investors and sponsors. The practitioners have notable experience of handling the formation of infrastructure, real estate and credit funds, among others.

Strengths

"The service level at Morrison Foerster has always been amazing."

"The group has a very broad knowledge of the funds market, great experience and they are very responsive."

"It's a great team to work with because they have the knowledge and industry expertise to advise on complex deals."

Notable practitioners

Stephanie Thomas (see p.718)'s practice involves advising on the formation of an array of funds, including buyout, secondary and infrastructure funds. Strengths: "She is excellent at both technical lawyering but also in communication skills." "Stephanie is very smart, responsive and commercial."

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings is recognized for its robust private equity team. The team regularly works on the formation, opening and closing of a range of highly valued fund types. The team is able to assist clients with cross-border matters and funds, including Europe and Asia-based funds. Its practitioners frequently support clients on both debt and equity funds. The group has significant experience advising in relation to real estate funds.

Strengths

"The team's advice is really strong and pragmatic." "The group is very efficient at working through issues."

Work highlights Paul Hastings advised Artemis Real Estate Partners on the formation of Artemis Real Estate Partners Fund IV.

Notable practitioners

Joshua Sternoff is especially highly regarded for his work on the formation of real estate funds.

Strengths: "Josh is a great lawyer." Anna Rips is recommended for her work with highly focused funds, including those designed as special purpose vehicles. Max Rosenberg is noted for his strength in the space. He has notable experience of advising clients on the formation of real estate and venture capital funds. Strengths: "Max is tremendous to work with."

Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP

What the team is known for Schulte Roth & Zabel boasts a highly respected private equity group working in tandem with the firm's market-leading hedge funds practice to provide a seamless private funds offering. Particularly strong real estate funds offering with experience advising on the formation of highly focused vehicles in terms of jurisdiction and asset class. Similarly strong in the structuring of direct lending funds.

Strengths

"Schulte's team are smart and combine real expertise with a commercial approach."

"The team provides a very high level of service and responsiveness."

"Schulte has a deep bench of lawyers."

Work highlights Schulte Roth & Zabel advised GoldenTree Asset Management on the formation and operation of its GoldenTree Distressed Fund IV.

Notable practitioners

Stephanie Breslow is experienced in launching a broad range of vehicles, including credit and co-investment funds. Strengths: "She is really insightful and smart." Joseph Smith is highly regarded for his work establishing funds investing in real estate and secondary interests. He is also adept at advising on issues that are cross-border in nature. Strengths: "Joe is solid and responsive lawyer." Phyllis Schwartz is adept at providing counsel to sponsors on the establishment of buyout, distressed credit and real estate funds. Strengths: "Phyllis is very good, she is very responsive and provides really commercial advice."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin's team is renowned for its ability to provide counsel on the formation of funds across an array of sectors, including mining, aviation and energy. The group also boasts strong cross-border capabilities. The practitioners have notable experience of assisting on the formation of secondary and buyout funds.

Strengths

"The team is very efficient and has a very strong understanding of what is happening in the market."

"Sidley Austin's group has a wide range of specialties."

Work highlights Sidley Austin assisted Gurnet Point on the launch of Gurnet Point Fund II, focused on healthcare investments.

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Shea Fries are key contacts.

Shane Goudey receives widespread praise for his knowledge of raising significant venture capital funds.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for The Skadden Arps team is adept at advising on a plethora of funds including buyout funds, funds of funds and sector-specific vehicles. Strong global presence allows the team to provide counsel on complex matters involving cross-border elements, such as master-feeder structures, funds of one and parallel fund structures.

Strengths

"Skadden has a high quality group."

Work highlights Skadden, Arps, Slate advised DRI Capital on the formation of a new investment vehicle.

Notable practitioners

John Caccia (see p.518) frequently advises investment management firms on raising energy and debt funds. Heather Cruz (see p.534) advises sponsors on the formation of private funds, including infrastructure and credit funds. Strengths: "Heather is a great practitioner."

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn boasts a well-respected practice combining strength in traditional buyout funds, with deep expertise in innovative strategies. Especially capable in the area of credit funds and special situations funds, with a track record of handling formations involving multiple jurisdictions.

Strengths

"The service Winston & Strawn provides is exceptional, the team is responsive, very attuned to the market standards and sophisticated."

"The team is insightful and dedicated to ensuring the finest representation for clients."

"The practitioners are both knowledgeable and commercial."

Work highlights Winston & Strawn represented Volery Capital Management in the closing of Volery Capital Partners Fund I and Volery Capital Partners Fund II.

Notable practitioners

Megan Devaney (see p.540) is commended for structuring funds of one and credit funds as part of her wider fund formation practice.

Strengths: "She is great, she is responsive and always prepared." Megan is thoughtful, smart and hard-working. Bradley Mandel has extensive experience of representing clients in the formation of closed-end and commingled funds. His clients include sponsors and institutional investors.

Strengths: "Bradley is a practical lawyer."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Olesya Bakar of Holland & Knight LLP is highlighted for her extensive experience of advising clients on the formation of real estate funds. She has further experience of assisting with matters concerning sports-focused funds. Strengths: "She's very responsive and a good negotiator." "Olesya is an excellent lawyer."

Timothy Clark (see p.527) has a strong private equity practice which encompasses formations for a range of funds. He is routinely called upon to assist in the formation of buyout and credit funds.

Strengths: "Timothy is on the ball, knowledgeable and practical." "He provides a high level of service and efficiency."

Marie DeFalco of Lowenstein Sandler is an accomplished investment funds practitioner who specializes in raising venture capital funds, including funds of funds. Strengths: "Marie is thorough and extremely responsive." "She is very commercial and pragmatic."

Kimberley Kaplan-Gross has vast experience of advising on formations for a range of private equity and venture capital funds. She is held in high regard for her international expertise.

Strengths: "She's extremely responsive and hard-working." "Kimberley very is knowledgeable and has technical legal skills."

Joseph Mannon (see p.631) of Vedder Price PC is the cochair of the investment services group and has a distinguished practice in the space. He has notable experience of handling issues containing cross-border elements. Strengths: "Joe has a wealth of experience and he thoroughly understands the industry." "He's very responsive and sophisticated in the space."

Cynthia Marian of Greenberg Traurig, PA has notable experience of providing counsel on the formation of closed-end funds and evergreen funds. Her clients include sponsors and asset managers. Strengths: "Cynthia has excellent domain expertise and commercial sensitivity." "She's an exceptional legal professional deep experience."

Bradley Van Buren of Holland & Knight boasts a distinguished practice in the venture capital space. He is routinely called upon to assist with the formation of funds focused on the cybersecurity and technology sectors. Strengths: "Bradley is an outstanding professional." "He does a great job."

Ed Winters (see p.736) of Nixon Peabody LLP has experience of acting on behalf of a broad range of clients, including asset managers and institutional investors. He is notably adept at handling issues relating to venture capital funds and private feeder funds. Strengths: “Ed is very knowledgeable and considers the issues in depth.” “He is deeply impressive.”

Private Equity Secondaries Nationwide

Private Equity: Secondaries
Leading Firms
Band 1
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Proskauer Rose LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Band 2
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Band 3
Akin
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton is widely acknowledged as one of the leading pioneers in private equity secondaries work, offering clients a full suite of services from fund formation through to buy- and sell-side representation in complex transactions. GP and LP clients benefit from the firm’s international team of experts, who are frequently called upon to advise on fund restructuring work, portfolio purchases and more traditional secondary deals.

Strengths

“There’s excellent attention to detail and they’re very knowledgeable about the market. It’s a strong team, from paralegals through to senior partners.”

“They have a strong handle on the internal complexities of our funds and are well equipped to handle more complex structures related to investments we are executing on. The Debevoise team has experienced lawyers across all disciplines and specialty areas and I have always found their level of service, attentiveness and availability to be extremely strong.”

“They never seemed short of resources or perspectives and they seemed committed at every turn to meeting our needs.”

“They’re the most deal-oriented of all the different teams I work with. We don’t like to do things plain vanilla, we’re open to creative thinking, and Debevoise knows we want to approach things with a blank slate.”

“No matter is too complex, so we go to Debevoise for our highly complicated transactions. They have a strong sense of market terms and provide helpful advice on what areas we should push back on.”

“It’s an extremely knowledgeable adviser with deep understanding of market precedents and trends. They’re able to identify potential issues ahead of time and come up with creative solutions and proposals. There’s a tight team structure for complex deals, meaning items are not lost in translation between internal teams.”

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton acted for TPG to handle its investment in Calera Capital Image Holdings, a $750 million single-asset continuation fund that closed in connection with Calera’s sale of portfolio company ImageFIRST Healthcare Laundry Specialists.

Notable practitioners

Ezra Borut, Jane Engelhardt and Kevin Schmidt are key contacts.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis’ outstanding pedigree in secondaries transactions sees it regularly act for an enviable array of household name funds in their most complex liquidity transactions. Its attorneys offer a wealth of expertise across continuation fund work, portfolio sales, fund restructuring and recapitalization matters and sponsor investment work, alongside additional resource in its tax and regulatory groups.

Strengths

“It’s a deep bench with experienced leadership and strong senior and junior professionals. They’re focused on best-in-class service, while being cognizant of budgets.”

“Kirkland, given the breadth of their engagement in the secondary market on the GP-led and LP-led side and the number of transactions they process, are very well aware of emerging trends and what is considered market.”

“They have the most experience in the industry so they can draft off of a very large database of transaction experience on behalf of their clients and they appreciate the commercial dynamics across deals and investors.”

“Kirkland’s secondaries team has a deep bench, drawing from a huge pool of dedicated team members in addition to traditional investment fund lawyers and M&A lawyers.”

“K&E is a clear, dominant force in terms of law firms working in the PE secondary market. It’s the largest and most experienced team on Wall Street doing these transactions and, given their very large team, they remain able to provide high-touch counsel to clients, notwithstanding how active they are in the market.”

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised Warburg Pincus on the $1.6 billion sale of 50% of portfolio company Duravant to Carlyle and a simultaneous GP-led purchase of the company by a Warburg Pincus continuation fund.

Notable practitioners

Sean Hill is a key contact for clients.

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer has attained a sterling reputation for the strength of its secondaries expertise, frequently advising a broad spectrum of private funds, institutional investors and wider participants on transactional matters. The firm is well versed in GP-led deals, acting for buyers and sellers, as well as acting on fund formation work.

Strengths

“It was a complex transaction, so Proskauer’s thought partnership to craft a transaction that would be supported by all parties was critical. They know all the players and have seen it all before – it is a source of great efficiency that they can put an issue out with their recommended solution, as opposed to leaving it open to ponder.”

“They have brought on an experienced team from senior to junior professionals with meaningful transaction experience and, just as important, known market relationships to move efficiently. They offer a combination of transaction experience and market-leading research.”

“Everyone we work with in this team is exceptional, from junior lawyers to partners who specialize in other things.”

“They’re excellent on both service and responsiveness metrics from a client perspective.”

“My favorite part about working with Proskauer is their commercial mindset. They think like business partners and are solutions-oriented.”

Work highlights Proskauer advised Lexington Partners on its purchase of a portfolio of private fund interests from CalPERS, for a total reported value of over $6 billion.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Robinson and Michael Suppappala are key contacts.

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray makes regular appearances in the secondary market's most sophisticated and prominent transactions, most often on behalf of buy-side investors. The firm offers an international pool of experts in the US, Europe and Asia, who have an excellent track record in advising on portfolio sales, fund recapitalizations, preferred equity deals and wider transactional work.

Strengths

"They're talented, sharp lawyers who know the space and the market."

"They have a big team which is multi-continental and cross-continental, so it's easy to work on global transactions with them."

Notable practitioners

Isabel Dische and Adam Dobson are key contacts.

Band 2

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk houses a compact and highly impactful secondaries practice which offers a significant depth of expertise across the full spectrum of transactional and fund formation work. The team acts for a broad spectrum of funds, buyers and sellers in GP-led matters and LP portfolio transactions.

Strengths

"This was a very complex transaction, and Davis Polk was a great help. We received immediate responses, especially during closing where everything is moving at 100 mph, and the team showed great commercial awareness."

"It's a full-service law firm that gets the right people to help us in all aspects of running a deal or raising a fund."

"Many complex issues arose from time to time and the team from DPW was always thoughtful and innovative in its approach. They were always available to answer our questions, and the partners were always quick to understand the complexity of the issue and work with us to reach an agreeable counterproposal or structural suggestion."

"It's a very sophisticated, well-informed team with deep knowledge and experience."

"They provide a high level of tailored service, while also having a great grasp of what's market."

Work highlights Davis Polk advised TorQuest Partners on a single-asset GP-led secondary transaction involving Can Art.

Notable practitioners

Leor Landa is a key contact for clients.

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher is frequently engaged by a number of major national and international funds and wider investors for its well-honed skills in secondaries matters. Clients benefit from the firm's top-tier strengths in fund formation and administration matters, alongside its highly regarded deal teams which are often found advising on the GP-led secondary transactions and fund-to-fund deals.

Strengths

"The team provides valuable guidance during complex transaction structures and legal negotiations."

"STB is very commercial and has a good grasp of latest legal and structuring trends in the industry."

"There are some extremely sophisticated partners on staff who advise on secondary transactions, pulling in people with funds and corporate expertise. They're great at getting parties to focus on the key issues and good at parsing out less meaningful points."

"Simpson Thacher is very good at being creative around structuring to get a deal completed. They are very commercial."

Work highlights Simpson Thacher acted for Calera Capital in closing its $750 million single-asset continuation fund for ImageFIRST Healthcare Laundry Specialists.

Notable practitioners

Lauren King is a key contact for clients.

Band 3

Akin

What the team is known for Akin's liquidity solutions practice offers wide-ranging skills across transactional matters, acting for sponsor clients, buyers and sellers in portfolio transactions, fund recapitalization and restructuring matters, and in forming continuation funds. The firm offers additional expertise in tax, M&A and regulatory matters.

Strengths

"Akin has been able to handle complex situations with rigor and efficiency. They seem to know the market very well and are aware of how certain terms are changing and evolving and making sure we are kept abreast of any relevant shifts."

"They produce incredibly consistent, high-quality work and have done an excellent job helping us execute a number of complex, fast-moving deals."

"Akin has been creative in proposing structures that aim to optimize outcomes for us both as buyers and sellers, and, whilst not as large as some of its competitors, Akin has deep expertise across its partnership especially as it relates to secondaries transactions."

"The team have been very responsive, technically skilled and effective in their roles. Both in terms of timeliness and quality of advice, they are consistently exceptional."

"It's a really great service. They find the ability to be creative and have a deep bench of experts in areas I didn't know there were experts in!"

Notable practitioners

Fadi Samman is a key contact.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan Lewis is held in particularly high esteem for its expertise in LP-led transactions, with a strong deal flow and a wealth of experience in acting on buy- and sell-side engagements. Clients benefit from the firm's strong transactional resources across the nation and internationally.

Strengths

"It's one of the most active firms in this area, which gives them great perspective, and it's one of the largest and most experienced teams."

"Morgan Lewis has a very knowledgeable team on complex secondary sales that is highly responsive to questions."

"They could handle complex and sophisticated matters easily, with an expert on each subject quickly available on our deals. Their coordination between practices and offices works well."

Notable practitioners

Jedd Wider and Joseph Zargari are key contacts.

Product Liability & Mass Torts Nationwide

Product Liability & Mass Torts
Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Heim Robert C. Dechert LLP	Eminent Practitioners
Beck Philip Bartlit Beck LLP	Marvin Douglas R. Williams & Connolly LLP	Mayer Theodore V.H. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP*
Davis Varner Chilton King & Spalding LLP*	Parsigian Kenneth J. Latham & Watkins LLP*	McDonough Madeleine Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Gussack Nina M. Troutman Pepper*
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Urquhart Jr. Quentin F. Irwin Fritchie Urquhart Moore	Johnston Sarah Barnes & Thornburg LLP
Beisner John H. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom*	Band 4	Kaplan Andrew Crowell & Moring LLP*
Cohen Lori G. Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Baum Ken Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum LLP	Kerner Glenn Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Ismail Tarek Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum	Branscome Kimberly Paul, Weiss, Rifkind (ORL) ◇*	Park Julie Morrison Foerster (ORL) ◇*
Wilkinson Beth A. Wilkinson Steklhoff LLP*	Brown Michael Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP	Pruitt Lyn P. DLA Piper LLP (US)
Band 1	Bueno Kim Butler Snow LLP*	Raber Stephen D. Williams & Connolly LLP
Agnewshwar Anand Arnold & Porter	Cereghini Paul G. Bowman and Brooke LLP	Smith Leslie M. Kirkland & Ellis*
Brock Robert C. Kirkland & Ellis LLP*	Citera Francis A. Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Strong Sabrina O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Brown Loren H. DLA Piper LLP (US)	Cohen Charles W. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP	Wyatt Geoffrey Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom*
Brown Michael K. Reed Smith LLP	Colton Lauren S. Hogan Lovells US LLP (ORL) ◇	Yoo Thomas Holland & Knight LLP
Cheffo Mark S. Dechert LLP	Conroy William J. Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C.	Zogby Michael Barnes & Thornburg LLP
Hubbard Heidi K. Williams & Connolly LLP	Dubin II Morton D. King & Spalding LLP*	Band 6
Imbroscio Michael X. Covington & Burling LLP*	Fitzpatrick James C. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP	Arnold Keri Wilkinson Steklhoff LLP*
Petrosinelli Joseph G. Williams & Connolly LLP	Geist Melissa A. Reed Smith LLP	Beausoleil William J. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP
Schmidt Paul W. Covington & Burling LLP*	Herrington Robert J. Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Benedict Mollie Tucker Ellis LLP*
Sullivan Diane P. Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP*	Hoeflich Adam Bartlit Beck LLP	Boney Lindsey Bradley Arant Boulton Cummings LLP
Band 2	Holian Matthew DLA Piper LLP (US)*	Cachán Manuel F. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher*
Adams Robert Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP	Knutson Sherry Tucker Ellis LLP*	Campbell Christopher DLA Piper LLP (US)
Bayman Andrew T. King & Spalding LLP*	Marshall Steve Venable LLP*	Cohn Halli Troutman Pepper*
Brown Arthur Arnold & Porter	Moore Kim Irwin Fritchie Urquhart Moore & Daniels LLC	Cullen, Jr. Thomas J. Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough
Campbell James M. Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C.	Murdica James F. Barnes & Thornburg LLP	Dodd Jan E. Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Cook Shayna Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum	North Jr. Richard B. Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough	Edwards Cara DLA Piper LLP (US)
Davidson Jessica Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher*	O'Donnell Michael Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP	Fisher Amy McCarter & English, LLP
Dukes David E. Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP	Olsen Michael Mayer Brown LLP*	Kitts Amanda S. Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Gage William Butler Snow LLP*	Pierson Andrea Faegre Drinker	Martin Kimberly B. Bradley Arant Boulton Cummings LLP
Jones Phyllis A. Covington & Burling LLP*	Reilly Kenneth J. Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP	McCall Kara Sidley Austin LLP*
Tomaselli Jr. Joe W. Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan	Richmond Orlando R. Butler Snow LLP	Monahan William Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*
Yates Pamela Arnold & Porter	Sharko Susan M. Faegre Drinker	Moore Douglas J. Irwin Fritchie Urquhart Moore & Daniels
Band 3	Smith Joel H. Bowman and Brooke LLP	O'Donoghue Brian Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan
Bicks Peter A. Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Steklhoff Brian L. Wilkinson Steklhoff LLP*	Pariser Daniel Arnold & Porter
Boutros Jr. Theodore J. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*	Weinstein Bacon Rebecca Bartlit Beck LLP	Ramirez Michelle Sidley Austin LLP*
Brown Allison Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom*	Williams Michael T. Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP	Reiskin Terri Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Fahey Sean P. Troutman Pepper*	Winter John D. Patterson Belknap Webb & Tyler (ORL) ◇*	Rohling Kelly Meghan Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Fournier Kristen R. King & Spalding LLP*	Band 5	Rumanek Eric Troutman Pepper*
Geraghty William P. Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP	Bernardo Richard T. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher*	Sarver Richard E. Barrasso Usdin Kupperman (ORL) ◇*
Haston Tripp Bradley Arant Boulton Cummings LLP	Boehm Paul E. Williams & Connolly LLP	Skidmore Jonathan B. Norton Rose Fulbright
Hoffman William Arnold & Porter	Boise Barry Troutman Pepper*	Spicer Adam King & Spalding LLP*
Hooper John King & Spalding LLP*	Brody Stephen D. O'Melveny & Myers LLP	Tauber Andrew Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP (ORL) ◇
Levine Heidi Sidley Austin LLP*	Cohen Joseph Porter Hedges LLP (ORL) ◇	Ullman Emily Covington & Burling LLP*
Parker Bruce Venable LLP*	Erfle Nancy Gordon Rees Scully Mansukhani (ORL) ◇*	Weisburd Steven B. Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Parker Stephanie E. Jones Day*	Fitzpatrick John Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP	Zellers Michael Tucker Ellis LLP*
Pole Debra E. Sidley Austin LLP*	Goetz Richard O'Melveny & Myers LLP	Up-and-coming individuals
Ring Daniel Mayer Brown LLP*	Herzog III Peter W. Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP	Brecht Celeste Jones Day
Sastre Hildy Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP	Hollingsworth Joe G. Hollingsworth LLP	Ross Emma Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum
Stoffelmayr Kaspar J. Bartlit Beck LLP	Hong Laura Kingsley Tucker Ellis LLP*
Thompson Craig Venable LLP*	Hooper James E. Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Anapol Weiss

What the team is known for Anapol Weiss is a strong plaintiffs' firm with expertise in mass torts arising from areas such as automobiles, pharmaceuticals and environmental toxins. It is highly regarded for its work in defective medical device litigation. The team is also well known for personal injury mandates involving asbestos-related claims and concussions.

Notable practitioners

Pennsylvania-based James Ronca is a key contact in this area.

Andrus Wagstaff

What the team is known for Andrus Wagstaff is noted for its versatile product liability practice, with expertise in complex litigation relating to pharmaceuticals, medical devices and consumer products. The firm handles high-value recovery actions for plaintiffs in multidistrict litigation against manufacturers and a wide array of cor-

Product Liability & Mass Torts: The Elite
Leading Firms
Band 1
Arnold & Porter
Covington & Burling LLP
Dechert LLP
Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Williams & Connolly LLP
Band 2
Bartlit Beck LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Jones Day
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Reed Smith LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Band 3
Butler Snow LLP
Faegre Drinker
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP
Band 4
Bowman and Brooke LLP
Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
Troutman Pepper
Tucker Ellis LLP
Venable LLP
Wilkinson Stekloff LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

porates.

Strengths

"Andrus Wagstaff is a key competitor in this space."

Notable practitioners

Aimee Wagstaff is cofounder of Andrus Wagstaff and is sought out for her handling of large MDLs, with expertise handling cases in the pharmaceutical, medical device and toxic tort sectors. Strengths: "Aimee is reputable."

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter has a prominent product liability practice, offering broad geographic reach and strength in depth. The firm fields notable life sciences industry expertise. It possesses an impressive bench of trial and appellate attorneys, acting across areas such as tobacco disputes, toxic torts and major consumer fraud actions. The team is particularly strong in the pharmaceutical sector when conducting high-profile cases for market-leading drug companies. The firm offers considerable capacity in CPSC-related matters on behalf of a broad client base, including regulatory compliance, product recalls and enforcement actions.

Strengths

"Arnold & Porter attorneys are very sophisticated, knowledgeable and well respected among the product liability circle."

"The group provides thorough and thoughtful advocacy and deep understanding of issues affecting the healthcare industry."

Work highlights Arnold & Porter served as Product Liability & Mass Torts Highly Regarded Leading Firms

Band 1
Barnes & Thornburg LLP
Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP
Irwin Fritchie Urquhart Moore & Daniels LLC
Norton Rose Fulbright
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Band 2
Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C.
Crowell & Moring LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
McCarter & English, LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Band 3
Goodwin
Holland & Knight LLP
Hollingsworth LLP
McGuireWoods LLP
Perkins Coie LLP
Watkins & Eager PLLC

national counsel for Altria Group in class actions and personal injury claims, regarding e-vapor products manufactured by JUUL Labs.

Notable practitioners

Anand Agneshwar is impressively active in the pharmaceutical sector, where he has acted for major national clients in several MDLs and consumer fraud litigation. Strengths: "Anand is one of the deans of product liability, a real master of navigating and driving successful resources in consolidated proceedings. He is trustworthy, smart, talented and communicates with an amazing level of candor and advocacy." "He is knowledgeable, responsive and an expert in his field." Michelle Gillice is recommended for her deep knowledge of product safety and regulatory-related issues, in which she represents a client base including manufacturers, importers and retailers. Strengths: "Michelle is a top-notch lawyer with impeccable writing skills, especially in difficult matters. She's also a joy to work with." "She is very competent in this area and has been super-helpful." Daphne O'Connor is highly regarded for the quality of her counsel in product liability litigation, especially as it relates to tobacco matters. She serves as cochair of the firm's product liability litigation group. Strengths: "Daphne is highly recommended. She is very experienced in mass tort litigation, highly strategic and knowledgeable." "She enjoys a good reputation in this area." Eric Rubel is well regarded for his experience in consumer product safety issues, fielding considerable expertise in CPSC actions, including compliance, recalls and enforcement proceedings. Strengths: "He is responsive, insightful and always willing to go above and beyond to help us with information and advice." "Eric is incredibly experienced and knows what he's doing." Arthur Brown is esteemed for acting as national counsel for major pharmaceutical companies in large-scale mass torts, including Bayer, Pfizer and AstraZeneca. Strengths: "He is an excellent attorney, active in the market, very prominent and deserving of recognition." Pamela Yates is best recognized in the market for her

Product Liability: Automobile
Leading Firms
Band 1
Bowman and Brooke LLP
Bush Seyferth PLLC
Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C.
Dykema Gossett PLLC
Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Watkins & Eager PLLC
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Ayers David L. Watkins & Eager PLLC
Brown Lanier Watkins & Eager PLLC
Cauley E Paul Faegre Drinker
Cereghini Paul G. Bowman and Brooke LLP
Conroy William J. Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C.
Cooney Michael P. Dykema Gossett PLLC
Ezell Sandra Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Feeney James Dykema Gossett PLLC
Godfrey Richard C. Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan
Kern Kurt C. Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough
Lenart Krista L. Dykema Gossett PLLC
Mallow Michael Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Nassih Amir Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP*
Seyferth Patrick Bush Seyferth PLLC*
Smith Joel H. Bowman and Brooke LLP
Smith Renee Kirkland & Ellis*
Straus Rachel Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Thomas John Dykema Gossett PLLC

skills at trial, frequently handling major pharmaceutical MDLs, including opioid litigation, as well as toxic tort matters. Strengths: "Pamela is leading product liability strategy for large multinational corporations and brings good results for her clients." William Hoffman is well regarded for his experience as coordinating counsel for pharmaceutical mass torts and market-leading MDLs. Strengths: "William brings his expertise to hand for guidance and is always available and collegial." "He is a fantastic attorney." Daniel Pariser possesses particular expertise representing notable clients in the pharmaceutical sector as well as medical device manufacturers. Strengths: "He is a smart, practical and tactical lawyer in the way he manages litigation. His strategic perspective on litigation to get every advantage is very valuable in this area. Daniel is also talented on his feet and creates amazing written work product which stands out." Michael Gentine (see p.564) has a broad base of product safety and consumer protection expertise and advises manufacturers and retailers on regulatory matters, including recalls and enforcement action. Jessica Wang (see p.730) practices in complex regulatory compliance and enforcement and expertly handles product safety matters.

Bailey & Glasser, LLP

What the team is known for Bailey & Glasser is a strong performer in a wide range of plaintiff-side product liability cases, including those concerning medical devices, pharmaceuticals and other consumer products. The firm frequently acts on plaintiff executive committees and takes key roles in e-discovery in multidistrict litigations, as well as possessing considerable trial and

Product Liability: Pharmaceutical
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Agneshwar Anand Arnold & Porter
Brown Arthur Arnold & Porter
Cheffo Mark S Dechert LLP
Cohen Lori G Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Colton Lauren S Hogan Lovells US LLP (ORL) ♦
Hubbard Heidi K. Williams & Connolly LLP
Ismail Tarek Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum
Murdica James F. Barnes & Thornburg LLP
Parker Bruce Venable LLP*
Tomaselli Jr Joe W Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan
* Indicates individual with profile.
♦ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

appellate ability.

Strengths

"The Bailey & Glasser team is smart and aggressively sought to win the case."

Work highlights Bailey & Glasser served on the discovery and ESI leadership subcommittee in the centralized 3M combat earplugs multidistrict litigation.

Notable practitioners

David Selby is well regarded for his trial expertise and is particularly adept at representing plaintiffs with injuries resulting from defective medical devices. Strengths: "David is a great lawyer." Katherine Charonko (see p.523) advises on a range of product liability multidistrict litigations and represents plaintiffs in automobile, medical device and personal injury claims.

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for Baker & Hostetler LLP is a respected group with impressive depth of experience in multidistrict toxic tort claims. The firm is experienced across a broad array of complex litigation, including personal injury cases involving chemical substance exposure as well as environmental contamination claims.

Strengths

"Baker & Hostetler has smart and strategic attorneys who keep the client's commercial goals in balance with litigation risks. The team has great talent at both partner and associate level and strives to have great insights into the client's business needs."

Notable practitioners

Gregory Ulmer and James Phillips are key contacts.

Barnes & Thornburg LLP

What the team is known for Barnes & Thornburg possesses an accomplished product liability and class action team equally capable in a national coordination and lead trial role. The firm has further expertise serving as national discovery and settlement counsel. It attracts a broad client base, with strength in the pharmaceutical and medical device sectors as well as consumer products, technology and retail. The group is further skilled in handling disputes involving cosmetics and other consumer products.

Strengths

"Barnes & Thornburg is consistently impressive, with deep knowledge and experienced indus-

Product Liability: Plaintiffs
Leading Firms
Band 1
Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP
Motley Rice LLC
Seeger Weiss LLP
Band 2
Simmons Hanly Conroy
Levin Papantonio Rafferty Law Firm
Band 3
Bailey & Glasser, LLP
Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll LLP
DiCello Levitt
Keller Postman LLC
The Lanier Law Firm
Napoli Shkolnik PLLC
Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP
Band 4
Anapol Weiss
Andrus Wagstaff
Panish Shea Ravipudi LLP
Robinson Calcagnie, Inc.
Weitz & Luxenberg, PC

try-leading experts. The team manages risks, vigorously defends clients and has deep understanding of the business and legal issues to provide the best possible advice."

"The firm has a deep bench of lawyers with broad product liability knowledge in the pharmaceutical and medical device space. It's an extremely responsive group of diligent workers with deep knowledge of the plaintiff tort Bar."

"The team is an essential part of our product liability defense. They are extremely knowledgeable and devise creative solutions to thorny problems."

Notable practitioners

James Murdica chairs Barnes & Thornburg's product liability group and acts on multiple mass torts in the pharmaceutical and medical device arenas. Strengths: "His deep insight of the key issues affecting litigation is impressive and a consistent source of knowledge on the future landscape of litigation." "He is thoughtful, strategic and diligent and particularly good at mass tort settlements." Sarah Johnston cochairs the firm's drug and medical device group, with demonstrable experience acting for clients in sophisticated MDLs. Strengths: "Sarah's commitment to client service is truly strong and has the ability to effectively analyze the complex issues involved across numerous nationwide litigations. It is evident that she cares deeply about her clients and is always a pleasure to work with." "She is skilled, reputable, active and highly regarded." Michael Zogby acts on pharmaceutical litigation as well as mass torts in medical devices, frequently serving as coordinating counsel and trial counsel. Strengths: "He is a super-knowledgeable lawyer who provides practical and timely advice." "Michael provides a lot of strategic advice, has a great reputation and is well respected."***

Bartlit Beck LLP

What the team is known for Bartlit Beck is an eminent trial boutique with an impressive track record of victories in high-stakes product liability matters. Highlighted for its depth of experience and outstanding courtroom abilities. Expert rep-

Product Liability: Plaintiffs
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Robinson Mark Robinson Calcagnie, Inc.
Leading Individuals
Star individuals
Lanier W Mark The Lanier Law Firm
Band 1
Buchanan David R Seeger Weiss LLP
Cabraser Elizabeth J Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein
Conroy Jayne Simmons Hanly Conroy
Rice Joseph F Motley Rice LLC*
Seeger Christopher A Seeger Weiss LLP
Band 2
Berman Steve W. Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro (ORL) ♦
Birchfield Jr Andy Beasley, Allen, Crow, Methvin (ORL) ♦
Fitzpatrick Fidelma L Motley Rice LLC*
Geller Paul Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP
Kline Thomas R Kline & Specter PC (ORL) ♦
Levitt Adam J. DiCello Levitt
Migliori Donald Motley Rice LLC*
Panish Brian Panish Shea Ravipudi LLP
Skikos Steven Skikos, Crawford, Skikos & Joseph (ORL) ♦
Wagstaff Aimee H. Andrus Wagstaff
Walsh Alexandra Walsh Law (ORL) ♦
Watts Mikal C Watts Law Firm (ORL) ♦
Band 3
Hazam Lexi J. Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP
Littlepage Zoe Littlepage Booth (ORL) ♦
London Sarah R. Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein
Menzies Karen Barth KBM Law Corporation (ORL) ♦
Pennock Paul Morgan & Morgan (ORL) ♦
Rafferty Troy Levin Papantonio Rafferty Law Firm
Selby David Bailey & Glasser, LLP
Sutton Tara D Robins Kaplan LLP (ORL) ♦
Band 4
Baig Aelish Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP
Charonko Katherine Bailey & Glasser, LLP*
Ciresi Michael V Ciresi Conlin LLP (ORL) ♦*
Debrosse Diandra DiCello Levitt
Gibbs Eric Gibbs Law Group LLP (ORL) ♦
Herman Stephen J Fishman Haygood LLP (ORL) ♦*
Keller Ashley Keller Postman LLC
Leopold Theodore J. Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll LLP
Nast Dianne NastLaw (ORL) ♦
O'Dell Leigh Beasley, Allen, Crow, Methvin, Portis (ORL) ♦
Sacchet Michael Ciresi Conlin LLP (ORL) ♦*
Scott Carmen Motley Rice LLC*

resentation of market-leading pharmaceutical companies and medical device manufacturers, among others. Frequently appears as national counsel in multidistrict litigation, as well as class actions and single-plaintiff state claims, often handling all aspects of a case from planning and strategy to resolution. Especially active in large-scale opioid disputes, which includes serving as trial counsel in nationwide disputes.

Strengths

"The trial counsel are fierce advocates who know when to litigate."

"Bartlit Beck are high-level elite lawyers."

Work highlights Bartlit Beck served as lead and coordinating counsel for Walgreens in nationwide litigation relating to the distribution and sale of prescription opioids.

Notable practitioners

Philip Beck is a highly experienced trial lawyer

Product Liability: Regulatory
Leading Firms
Band 1
Arnold & Porter
Cooley LLP
Crowell & Moring LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Carlson Sarah Dentons US LLP (ORL) ◇
Falvey Cheryl Crowell & Moring LLP
Gillice Michelle Arnold & Porter
Howsare Matt Cooley LLP
May Belinda Dentons (ORL) ◇ *
Murphy Brendan Perkins Coie LLP *
Park Julie Morrison Foerster (ORL) ◇ *
Rubel Eric Arnold & Porter
Troutman William Norton Rose Fulbright
Wilson Sarah Covington & Burling LLP *
Associates to watch
Cohen Matthew Crowell & Moring LLP
Gentine Michael Arnold & Porter *
Skolky Shawn Cooley LLP
Wang Jessica Arnold & Porter *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

who acts both for individuals and major corporations on a number of high-profile product liability cases. Strengths: “He is your trial gun on the front line in high-stakes litigation.” Kaspar Stoffelmayr is an esteemed practitioner in the market, recognized for his handling of mass torts across the pharmaceutical and toxic tort sectors. Strengths: “He is a very smart, gifted and talented lawyer.” “Kaspar is a fantastic attorney.” Adam Hoeflich is well regarded as a trial lawyer and strategic adviser, with noted strength in both individual cases and MDLs. Strengths: “Adam is an excellent attorney.” “He is a reputable lawyer who works on large-scale litigation.” Rebecca Weinstein Bacon is widely praised for her skills in product liability disputes, commercial cases and class actions. She is best recognized for advising major pharmaceutical clients in significant mass torts. Strengths: “She is a fantastic trial lawyer and reputable too.”

Bowman and Brooke LLP

What the team is known for Bowman and Brooke possesses a dedicated product liability defense firm, fielding a deep trial bench. The firm is widely considered a market leader in the automotive industry, with a client list that features numerous leading manufacturers. Its broad practice also includes strength in areas such as medical devices and consumer products alongside activity in large-scale consumer class actions.

Strengths

“Bowman and Brooke know our business well. They deliver good results, have the expertise and are highly experienced. The team are at the top of the list for product liability.”

“They are winners and provide remarkable execution. They also have an incredible geographical coverage and come highly recommended.”

Work highlights Bowman and Brooke served as lead counsel in multiple mass actions for Ford Motor Company including for breach of warranty and fraud involving the DPS6 transmission in

Product Liability: Tobacco
Leading Firms
Band 1
Herbert Smith Freehills
Jones Day
Latham & Watkins LLP
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Parsigian Kenneth J Latham & Watkins LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Gallagher Kat Rodman & Rodman, LLC. (ORL) ◇
Geraghty William P Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Loss Gregory M Herbert Smith Freehills
McGaan Andrew R. Kirkland & Ellis *
O'Connor Daphne Arnold & Porter
Parker Stephanie E Jones Day *
Reilly Kenneth J Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Rolph Christine Latham & Watkins LLP *
Rubinstein Benjamin Herbert Smith Freehills

2011-2016 Ford Fiesta and 2012-2016 Ford Focus vehicles.

Notable practitioners

Paul Cereghini chairs the firm and regularly acts as lead trial counsel in large-scale product liability cases and personal injury matters for major automobile companies. He also acts on concussion injury litigation. Strengths: “Paul is highly experienced in trial work.” “He is skilled.” Joel Smith is a sought-after trial lawyer who acts as national counsel on a number of mass torts for major automotive companies. Strengths: “He is reputable and has had successful results. His skill set is excellent and he is able to represent clients in difficult high-exposure cases.” “Joel is a skilled and talented lawyer.”

Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP

What the team is known for Bradley Arant Boult Cummings is a widely recognized firm with impressive national capabilities, drawing on strength in markets such as Florida, Texas and Alabama. It regularly represents leading pharmaceutical companies in both state and federal courts as well as acting in asbestos litigation. The firm is well regarded for its handling of complex MDLs. It possesses a strong bench of trial lawyers as well as those well versed in appellate law.

Strengths

“The team is quick to assess and manage complex matters, has a deep bench and huge network of resources to assist. They are extremely responsive, time-sensitive and well informed.”

“The lawyers are skillful, highly competent, timely, and diverse in their practice areas. The firm is well connected and ensures knowledge gaps are covered through their networks.”

“Bradley Arant provides solid work product across several disciplines, upholds a fairly deep bench and is responsive and helpful.”

Work highlights Bradley Arant continued to act for CVS as co-lead national trial counsel in several thousand opioid-related cases.

Notable practitioners

Tripp Haston is widely respected for acting both as national trial and coordinating counsel in

Product Liability: Toxic Torts
Leading Firms
Band 1
BakerHostetler LLP
Dechert LLP
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Husch Blackwell LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Bicks Peter A Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Brown Michael Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Cunningham Alexandra B. Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Dlugosz Jennifer L. Husch Blackwell LLP
Dubin II Morton D King & Spalding LLP *
Fleming III Douglas E. Dechert LLP
Fournier Kristen R King & Spalding LLP *
Grossman Theodore M. Jones Day
Hong Laura Kingsley Tucker Ellis LLP *
Lee Jennifer Husch Blackwell LLP
Miller J.Y. Husch Blackwell LLP
Olsen Michael Mayer Brown LLP *
Pardo James A McDermott Will & Emery LLP *
Ring Daniel Mayer Brown LLP *
Rohling Kelly Meghan Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Upshaw Anthony McDermott Will & Emery LLP * Wilmore Charles B. Liskow (ORL) ◇

major pharmaceutical mass torts and chemical litigation. Strengths: “Tripp is extremely aware of his client’s needs and how to best address them in a calm and collected manner to make sure they feel secure in their choice of support for their legal needs.” “He gets high marks for being able to maintain trial strategy and judgment strategically.” Lindsey Boney is relied upon by clients in the pharmaceutical and medical device space for his stellar representation in mass torts and MDLs. Strengths: “We rate Lindsey at the highest levels. His skillfulness and strategic leadership has helped navigate very difficult matters on our behalf.” Kimberly Martin routinely handles high-profile product liability disputes, including at both the state and federal level. She typically acts on behalf of clients in the medical device and pharmaceutical space. Strengths: “Kimberly has a good reputation.”

Bush Seyferth PLLC

What the team is known for Bush Seyferth is a well-known litigation group with strength in product liability and toxic tort claims. The firm has a standout reputation in litigation concerning automobiles, acting on behalf of a range of major manufacturers.

Strengths

“Bush Seyferth is a tremendous firm that is very strong in this space and has really strong trial attorneys. The team is good to work with and has good strategic sense and good writers who are also incredibly responsive. It has high credibility in the courtroom and isn’t afraid to take complex cases to trial.”

“Bush Seyferth get favorable results and are talented trial lawyers and appellate counsel.”

Work highlights Bush Seyferth was class action co-counsel to General Motors on three related putative class actions asserting warranty, consumer protection and fraud claims based on an alleged transmission defect impacting millions of vehicles.

Notable practitioners

Patrick Seyferth (see p.697) is praised for his trial abilities and extensive experience handling automobile claims. Strengths: "Patrick is a super-talented writer, great researcher and strategic."

Butler Snow LLP

What the team is known for Butler Snow has a strong reputation for its knowledge of the life sciences sector, where it regularly acts for a number of leading entities in complex product liability claims. Also noted for its handling of disputes involving agricultural chemicals and automobiles. Substantial experience handling major multidistrict litigation and widely regarded as one of the leading litigation firms in the Southeast, while making significant inroads elsewhere in the country.

Strengths

"Butler Snow has a strong, cohesive team approach and is responsive to the issues at hand. They work to understand clients' business strengths and weaknesses and bring an approach to resolve the issues."

"The firm is fantastic at handling complex litigations in multiple jurisdictions."

Work highlights Butler Snow served as lead trial and appellate counsel for Minerva Surgical in a case where the plaintiff alleged that its Endometrial Ablation System is defective, resulting in extensive and permanent injuries.

Notable practitioners

William Gage (see p.561) is renowned for acting as lead counsel for major pharmaceutical trial companies in large MDLs, drawing particular praise for his achievements in pelvic mesh litigation. Strengths: "He is a senior litigator and great trial lawyer who is very good at managing complex litigations in multiple districts. That is his specialty."

Kim Bueno (see p.3205) comes recommended for her trial capabilities, regularly acting for life sciences clients in complex large-scale litigation and personal injury claims. Strengths: "Kim is a terrific litigator and a wonderful person to work with." Orlando Richmond regularly serves as lead counsel and co-counsel on a range of mass tort litigations, including both pharmaceutical cases and toxic torts. Strengths: "He is a skilled attorney."

Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C.

What the team is known for Campbell Conroy & O'Neil is a dedicated trial boutique with formidable courtroom experience and significant technical expertise. Especially well regarded for automotive-related product liability issues, and maintains well-established relationships with several leading manufacturers in this space. Further strengths in toxic torts, most notably in asbestos cases. Also attracts mandates from a number of major insurers, as well as consumer goods companies.

Strengths

"Campbell Conroy's client care has been tremendous, and they were required around the clock at times."

"The firm has very experienced trial lawyers."

Notable practitioners

James Campbell is best recognized for his expertise in automotive litigation, regularly handling matters in both federal and Massachusetts courts. Strengths: "Jim is an excellent trial lawyer and masters work when helping an international company." "Jim is one of the go-to trial lawyers. He's responsive and provides good value and service."

"He's a thoughtful and excellent lawyer who is strategic, pragmatic and has extraordinary experience."

William Conroy is a leading automotive lawyer who is well regarded for catastrophic injury cases, in which he has acted for clients at both the state and national level. Strengths: "He is a great trial lawyer." "William is an excellent product liability lawyer."

Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll LLP

What the team is known for Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll has an impressive team with trial experience in mass and personal torts and class actions. It has noted strength in environmental matters and extensive skills dealing with data breach mandates. The team counsels clients in matters related to the automotive, consumer and pharmaceutical sectors, including high-profile fraud issues.

Strengths

"Cohen Milstein has excellent litigators with sharp minds who deploy the resources needed, are a pleasure to collaborate with and responsive to the needs of co-counsel, clients and the court."

"The firm has sophisticated lawyers who practice cutting-edge class actions."

"Cohen Milstein's dedication is very impressive. The wide range of partners and associates demonstrate the skills needed for successful engagement in a breadth of litigation."

Work highlights Cohen Milstein represented plaintiffs in a class action lawsuit against General Motors alleging breach of warranty and deceptive and fraudulent business practices related to the manufacture and sale of defective eight-speed automatic transmissions.

Notable practitioners

Theodore Leopold is an experienced litigator noted for his broad base of expertise in mass torts claims and consumer class actions. He cochairs Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll's complex tort, environmental litigation and consumer protection practices.

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley possesses an enviable depth and breadth of expertise in regulatory matters concerning a wide range of product lines. The firm is frequently sought after to advise clients on regulatory compliance, product recalls and consumer claims. It offers further capabilities in investigations and litigation before the CPSC.

Strengths

"Cooley is exceptionally well versed in the regulatory climate and exhibits an unparalleled depth of experience in counseling both large retailers and manufacturers on consequential product safety concerns. Each attorney has significant experience and expertise and is globally strong."

"The firm analyzes complex regulatory and legislative issues and provides actionable advice. It's a great team with a wide breadth of expertise and a good understanding of the industry."

"The team is incredibly knowledgeable, insightful and practical, and balances business needs with satisfying regulator action very well. It's a capable team that provides trusted guidance because they are practical and look at all sides of an issue."

Notable practitioners

Matt Howsare chairs the firm's North American product safety practice and possesses an impressive depth of expertise in regulatory issues. He counsels clients on risk assessments, product recalls and engagement with the CPSC.

Strengths: "He is a fantastic adviser and a fierce advocate. He takes a pragmatic approach and his guidance is accurate. His depth, experience and industry connections stand out among his peers."

"Matt's professionalism and expertise, along with his willingness to always make time for clients, make him great to work with. He is truly your advocate and does not surrender in a fight." "Matt is incredibly talented at law and has the right demeanor. He has extensive knowledge on how standards are created, monitored and updated."

Shawn Skolky is recognized for his experience advising clients on product safety reporting obligations, recalls, investigations and enforcement matters. Strengths: "He is responsive, easy to work with, pragmatic and gets the job done." "Shawn works tirelessly to get results and really dives deep on creative arguments and solutions to complex problems." "Shawn provides thorough, reasonable, actionable and prompt advice on complex matters."

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling possesses a dynamic group that maintains a strong position in the nationwide market, evidenced by notable trial victories in the pharmaceutical space. The firm also handles complex cases in other product areas, including mass torts and class actions involving construction and consumer product industries. It is frequently called upon to litigate major multidistrict matters and advise on appeals.

Strengths

"The team works seamlessly and is excellent at task management, communication, in-court advocacy and motion briefing at the trial and appellate level."

"The Covington team is first-class with exceptional experience and knowledge with respect to the subject matter. The team provides outstanding service."

"It's a top team which is very impressive with their capability and experience. Follow-ups are smooth and attention to detail is top-level."

Work highlights Covington & Burling represented Bristol Myers Squibb and AstraZeneca in hundreds of lawsuits alleging that their diabetes medicines Onglyza and Kombiglyze cause heart failure and other cardiovascular injuries.

Notable practitioners

Michael Imbrosio (see p.593) is renowned for his strengths in strategy and briefing on mass torts, especially in the pharmaceutical sector.

Strengths: "Michael is a talented trial lawyer and strategist." "Mike is phenomenal and does high-level sophisticated appellate work." "He has a real skill in doing expert depositions.” Paul Schmidt (see p.692) is highly experienced both in trial and at appeal, with particular strength in pharmaceutical litigation and toxic torts. Strengths: “Paul is a great advocate, he’s impressive on his feet.” “His strategic thinking and ability to distill complex legal concepts into clear and concise executive summaries is impressive.” “Paul is one of the smartest and most talented lawyers in the product liability space. He has the rare ability to be a high-level trial and appellate lawyer. He is very client-friendly, a creative problem solver and shares very practical advice. I consider Paul to be one of the top lawyers in the space.” Sarah Wilson (see p.735) is highlighted for her work advising clients on regulatory and enforcement matters in relation to recalls and product safety investigations. Strengths: “Sarah is a star. She’s knowledgeable, thorough in her work product and her advice is super-impressive.” “Sarah provides practical advice and regulatory guidance. She is always effective.” “Sarah is first-class and very knowledgeable within her field of expertise.” Phyllis Jones (see p.598) is an esteemed trial lawyer in pharmaceutical defense, with a case-load that includes opioid litigation. Strengths: “Phyllis is a phenomenal trial attorney who is very agile. She can go in with a plan, pivot or reset that activity and is also terrific on her feet.” “She works on significant matters, is a strategic thinker and very easy to work with.” Emily Ullman (see p.724) is talented in mass tort and class action litigation. She is particularly active in cases in the health and technology spaces. Strengths: “Emily is excellent in front of juries and also a very good legal writer, with a good understanding of legal issues.” “Emily is versatile and a dogged advocate who is comfortable arguing complicated legal motions. She is also an absolute master of running cases day to day and managing interactions with opposing counsel.”

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring has an impressive practice counseling a broad range of clients including pharmaceutical, automotive, transportation and medical device manufacturers. The firm provides regulatory and litigation advice related to product liability matters involving the CPSC and National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. It has extensive experience in class action and multidistrict litigation, including disputes involving environmental damage claims. Strengths “The Crowell team’s breadth of experience as a whole is impressive and the firm offers an expert in numerous areas that are relevant to our business. The attorneys are communicative and easy to work with and provide a high level of advice and service.” “Attorneys at Crowell get answers quickly and efficiently and communicate directly. They understand business needs and objectives and get the job done.” “Crowell & Moring took control of the strategy and executed it flawlessly, efficiently and effectively. The firm provides high service levels and responds promptly to any questions.”

Work highlights Crowell & Moring defended Olaplex Holdings in a lawsuit filed by plaintiffs alleging that Olaplex products caused them to suffer various injuries, including hair loss and hair breakage and sought relief for their alleged personal injuries. Plaintiffs also asserted warranty, negligence, product liability, consumer protection and unjust enrichment claims.

Notable practitioners

Cheryl Falvey is noted for her considerable expertise advising clients on regulatory issues, including risk assessments, product recalls and CPSC investigations. Strengths: “Cheryl does an amazing job in very difficult circumstances.” “She is as good as it gets in this field and has done incredible things for us. She navigates great results and always has a map to the right outcome.” Andrew Kaplan (see p.601) is held in high regard for the caliber of his advocacy in product liability litigation. He serves as chair of the firm’s mass tort, product and consumer litigation group. Strengths: “Andrew is incredibly commercial and efficient in providing analysis. He presents his findings very well and his writing is clear and concise. He’s just a pleasure to work with.” “Andrew is a highly astute attorney who is personable, knowledgeable and to the point.” Matthew Cohen is noted for his experience advising consumer product and automotive manufacturers on compliance and enforcement issues concerning the Consumer Product Safety Commission and other agencies. Strengths: “Matthew is detail-oriented and a creative problem solver. He is communicative with clients and pleasant to work with.”

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert houses impressive capabilities in the product liability and mass torts space. It is renowned for its expertise in toxic torts litigation and also possesses a wealth of experience representing major names in the pharmaceutical and chemical industries. The team skillfully coordinates major multidistrict product liability litigation as well as offering notable prowess in appellate matters.

Strengths

“Dechert’s lawyers are far superior writers and much more tactical in their approach, with really impressive judgment. They are reliable and prepared to think creatively and strategically.” “It’s a very good firm that is active and recognized in the sector.”

Work highlights Dechert scored a significant victory on behalf of Plum, PBC in a multidistrict baby food heavy metals personal injury case, in which the plaintiff alleged the defendant’s baby foods caused autism and ADHD.

Notable practitioners

Robert Heim is a well-respected trial lawyer who has acted on a number of significant product liability cases in pharmaceuticals and medical devices. Mark Cheffo is highly experienced as both national coordinator and trial counsel for numerous mass torts in the pharmaceutical and environmental spaces. Strengths: “He is a strategic thinker, has the ability to form relationships and is an extraordinarily likable deal maker. He is the brains of the litigation and has a keen legal mind, is a master of detail and knows all of the facts of litigation.” “He is one of most sophisticated product liability mass tort defense lawyers in the country.” Douglas Fleming is an experienced product liability litigator, distinguished by his expert handling of environmental toxic torts and insurance disputes.

DiCello Levitt

What the team is known for DiCello Levitt is a highly esteemed product liability group with strength in plaintiff representation. It is active across a number of sectors, including agriculture and manufacturing.

Strengths

“DiCello Levitt is a close competitor and stands out in this space.”

Notable practitioners

Adam Levitt is a go-to plaintiffs’ attorney in the class actions space, with expertise handling matters in the automotive and pharmaceutical sectors. Strengths: “Adam is very experienced and has the credentials behind him.” Diandra Debrosse has a burgeoning practice in this space, with considerable experience of assisting on products liability mass torts and class actions. Strengths: “Diandra is an excellent lawyer.”

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper has a strong reputation as a go-to trial and coordination counsel for marquee names in the pharmaceutical sector. Also offers expertise across broader products claims, including medical device and personal injury disputes as well as environmental toxic tort proceedings. Stands out for its experience in multijurisdictional disputes and is able to draw upon significant global resources.

Strengths

“The team is extremely responsive, creative and a go-to for complicated litigation.”

“DLA Piper readily has the resources to prepare for trial, and lawyers are always at hand and expertly provided. They have a good leverage of lawyers at different levels to ensure efficiency on tasks.”

“DLA Piper is highly skilled and effective and has a great bench with talented and experienced attorneys. The team is always responsive and goes above and beyond for the client.”

Work highlights DLA Piper represented Nurture in several actions alleging heavy metals such as inorganic arsenic and lead were present at dangerous levels in its baby food.

Notable practitioners

Loren Brown is a highly respected trial lawyer who is best known for his strengths in pharmaceutical mass torts and medical device cases. Strengths: “He provides risk guidance, helps assess different issues and is always helpful in that regard.” “He has brought innovation to us in every sphere – technology, litigation, strategy.” “Loren is incredibly highly regarded.” Matthew Holian (see p.586) has developed an increasingly strong reputation for defending major pharmaceutical companies as national counsel in MDLs, handling everything from discovery to resolution. Strengths: “He provides high-level strategic advice with clear recommendations. He’s smart, decisive and timely.” “Matthew is incredibly client-focused.” Lyn Pruitt is widely renowned for her considerable trial expertise and is frequently sought after for first-chair complex product liability trials and consumer class actions on behalf of pharmaceutical and medical device companies, among others. Strengths: “She is a fabulous trial lawyer who does a fantastic job.” “Lyn is an exceptional attorney.” Christopher Campbell chairs the firm’s product liability and mass torts practice and possesses widespread experience in the space, including acting in a national coordinating role as well as providing trial and regulatory counsel.

Strengths: “His legal knowledge is excellent and readily anticipates the client’s needs. His coordination skills are brilliant and he excels in every area of the collaboration.” “He is innovative, smart, prompt and a good planner.” Cara Edwards advises on an array of product liability disputes, including large-scale medical device MDLs. Strengths: “Cara has a creative and holistic approach.”

Dykema Gossett PLLC

What the team is known for Dykema Gossett is a well-regarded automotive product liability firm with particular strength in Detroit. It excels across both mass torts and consumer class actions. The team frequently represents major automobile clients in MDLs and large-scale economic loss cases, with further strengths in personal injury lawsuits and product defect litigation. Its expertise includes acting as local, regional and national counsel.

Strengths

“Dykema Gossett has highly skilled and effective lawyers, with very strong capabilities in a variety of practice areas including product liability.”

“The firm has exceptional trial lawyers with a very deep bench of knowledge. It has great product liability teams that are really involved in the automotive space.”

“Dykema Gossett are super-impressive.”

Work highlights Dykema Gossett successfully defended Tesla in a jury trial in which the plaintiff alleged the autopilot and airbag systems malfunctioned in her Tesla 2016 Model S.

Notable practitioners

Michael Cooney leads the firm’s litigation department and has a strong track record acting as national and regional trial counsel for major automotive manufacturers and suppliers. Strengths: “He is highly recommended, great in this space and is active in product liability and class action matters.” “Michael is a top trial counsel.” James Feeney is an accomplished trial lawyer and is frequently sought after by major automotive industry names to handle high-stakes multi-court product liability cases. Strengths: “He is an excellent lawyer who is very well known in this field.” “James has been doing this for a very long time and enjoys a good reputation.” “James is a top litigator in this space.” Krista Lenart offers notable expertise in defending automotive sector clients against consumer class actions and multidistrict litigation. Strengths: “Krista is incredibly impressive with her briefing and strategic thought.” John Thomas is a fine choice of counsel for large automotive manufacturers facing complex consumer class actions, as well as appellate litigation. Strengths: “John is a long-term appellant specialist.” “He has worked on some of the best briefs and we have been very happy with the value and service.”

Faegre Drinker

What the team is known for Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath has a highly respected team of product liability experts offering extensive experience in toxic tort and automobile disputes as part of a broad litigation practice. Handles major product liability matters for a wide client base, including medical device and food and beverage entities. Impressive track record in defending against both single-plaintiff and high-stakes mass tort actions across the USA, offering particular strength in the life sciences space. Maintains an impressive bench of trial lawyers in this market.

Strengths

“Faegre provides excellent legal analysis and offers strategic decision-making on complex issues. The team is responsive and able to dive into complex issues that have extremely subtle nuances which they see and respect.”

“The firm is respected, diligent, diverse and skilled. Faegre is a true team player, always able to take the lead and willing to play whatever role is necessary to achieve the task at hand.”

“Faegre attorneys are knowledgeable, responsive and bring creative solutions tailored to the business.”

Work highlights Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath served as national counsel to Zimmer Biomet in multiple mass tort actions and MDLs. Plaintiffs alleged that Zimmer’s metal-on-polyethylene hip devices are defectively designed and failed to warn doctors about the risks associated with metal corrosion.

Notable practitioners

Paul Cauley is noted for his impressive strength in defending major automotive manufacturers against large-scale consumer class actions, multidistrict litigation and claims brought by state attorneys general. He cochairs the firm’s nationwide class action team and is based out of the Dallas office. Strengths: “He is strategic, diligent and thorough. He is the leader and thinks several steps ahead.” Andrea Pierson has garnered a strong reputation for medical device MDLs, including those regarding pelvic mesh products and knee replacements. Strengths: “She is trusted to deliver timely guidance on complex issues.” “She is strategic, thoughtful and super-responsive. She provides solid and practical advice.” Susan Sharko routinely acts as national coordinating counsel for leading companies in mass torts and MDLs across a wide range of sectors, including pharmaceuticals, medical devices and toxic torts. Strengths: “Susan has a very good reputation.” “She is a fantastic attorney.”

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher is an esteemed litigation practice with considerable strength in consumer class actions and nationwide product liability claims. The team frequently acts on large-scale federal cases in the automobile and technology sectors. It fields a strong appellate team with a notable track record in big-ticket proceedings, complemented by a leading trial team. It has further experience in toxic torts, environmental cases and mass torts in the food and beverage industry.

Strengths

“The Gibson Dunn team work on cutting-edge cases and challenging work.”

“The firm is a big player in this space and active on high-quality matters.”

“Gibson Dunn is sizable and has a prominent place in the product liability market.”

Notable practitioners

Theodore Boutros (see p.1003) boasts a distinguished appellate practice, while also being highly active in consumer class actions, personal injury cases and environmental torts. Strengths: “He is phenomenal and certainly an asset to the firm.” “Theodore is excellent in this area.”

Goldman Ismail Tomaselli Brennan & Baum LLP

What the team is known for Goldman Ismail is a respected litigation boutique that is commended for its strength in trial advocacy and its command of complex data underpinning technical cases. Demonstrates expert strength in high-profile mass tort and product liability disputes involving drugs and medical devices, attracting an impressive roster of blue-chip pharmaceutical clients. Offers experience acting as national coordinating counsel in large multidistrict litigation.

Strengths

“Goldman Ismail are among the most capable and talented lawyers. Their expertise is very deep, particularly in life sciences, and they are responsive and super-easy to work with.”

“The team is excellent in every respect. They have outstanding trial counsel and a full backup team of impressive partners and associates. The lawyers are responsive, insightful and professional.”

Work highlights Goldman Ismail defended Medtronic in product liability litigation relating to MiniMed’s 600 Series Insulin Pump. Plaintiffs alleged that the pump suffered from a defect that caused one part of the pump to break and cause an over-or under-delivery of insulin.

Notable practitioners

Tarek Ismail is esteemed for his handling of high-profile pharmaceutical product liability cases. He is also highlighted for his work in medical device litigation and toxic torts alongside his strength in antitrust class actions. Strengths: “Tarek is a top-notch trial attorney and an excellent strategist.” “Tarek is a renowned trial lawyer, he has fantastic trial instincts, is smart and clear and deliberates the key points very well.” “He delivers outstanding leadership, insight, arguments and witness examinations.” Shayna Cook is a prominent trial lawyer with a strong track record as lead counsel in MDLs, frequently acting for major pharmaceutical corporations. Strengths: “Shayna is a wonderful communicator with a very practical approach to getting the right answer.” “She is extremely talented and clients go to her with their most complicated cases.” “She is excellent at understanding scientific facts and has the ability to convey those facts to the jury through witness examinations.” Joe Tomaselli is best known for his ability to lead expert science groups in constructing defense cases for high-profile life science entities. Strengths: “Joe has outstanding insight and provides strategic advice.” “He is a great strategist who we work closely with in many litigations.” “He is just exceptional and his ability to understand the science in a case is immense.” Ken Baum is experienced in advising on the scientific aspects of drug and medical device litigation, as well as handling expert witness preparation during major MDLs. Strengths: “He is leading one of the most complicated cases. He’s extremely talented and a sought-out specialist.” “Ken is the best science lawyer.” “He is an expert on key scientific issues and a super lawyer in that area.” Brian O’Donoghue advises clients on a broad range of product liability litigation and has significant experience handling claims on behalf of large corporations. Strengths: “Brian is an incredible litigator, strategist and client service provider.” “Brian is business-oriented and a great leader of teams.” Emma Ross enjoys a solid reputation for her product liability practice advising pharmaceutical and medical device companies in high-stakes litigation. Strengths: “Emma is extraordinarily smart, talented and incredibly impressive.”

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin’s broad-based practice has a significant trial capability. Core expertise in pharmaceutical and toxic tort litigation. The firm provides clients with a wealth of knowledge on regulatory issues related to product liability, and draws on strong food and beverage regulatory expertise. It is also noted for its extensive life sciences industry experience, offering impressive scientific and technological expertise.

Work highlights Goodwin served as monitoring counsel for Confluent Medical Technologies in connection with the Cordis IVC Filter mass tort litigation consisting of thousands of personal injury claims.

Notable practitioners

Richard Oetheimer is a key contact.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig has an active trial team that is noted for its expert approach to long-term nationwide litigation strategy. Fields impressive strength in high-profile drug and device cases, as well as areas such as talc litigation and other toxic torts. Also displays extensive experience in the defense of product recall claims. Increasingly strong consumer class action coverage bolstered by a dedicated group of litigators in the area.

Strengths

“Greenberg Traurig has a broad scope and deep capability.”

“The firm is excellent. I have worked with a variety of experienced lawyers.”

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented Alcon Vision in several pieces of litigation concerning a number of products including prescription eye products, contact lenses and surgical tools.

Notable practitioners

Lori Cohen is a market-leading trial lawyer with a formidable reputation in defending pharmaceutical and medical device mass torts, as well as toxic tort and consumer product litigation. Strengths: “Lori is one of the best trial lawyers in this space.” “Lori is an amazing lawyer and business partner.” “She’s preeminent within the pharmaceutical and medical device fields.” Francis Citera is a seasoned practitioner in the consumer class action space. He is experienced in both state and federal courts, and is also well versed in product safety and risk management issues. He cochairs the product liability and mass torts practice. Strengths: “Francis knows how to get to the issues at hand and does a great job of defending clients.” Robert Herrington is noted for his expertise acting for consumer products companies in complex litigation, including those alleging defects and misleading claims. He cochairs the firm’s class action litigation group and is a go-to choice for clients in the tech, retail and automotive sectors. Strengths: “He’s smart, thorough and modest in his demeanor. He’s good at communicating, he’s a very aggressive litigator and provides very good value.” “Robert has a number of great qualities. He is a great negotiator who communicates well with clients and is also a great strategist.” Glenn Kerner acts both as strategist and in trial during international product liability litigation, including in the pharmaceutical sector. Strengths: “Glenn is very practical and very skilled.”

Simmons Hanly Conroy

What the team is known for Simmons Hanly Conroy is recognized for its strength in asbestos mass tort disputes, along with its handling of opioid-related issues. It counsels plaintiffs on state and federal mandates arising from areas such as pharmaceuticals, medical devices and environmental protection. The team is also noted for its involvement in emissions multidistrict litigation.

Strengths

“Simmons carry out very good, high-quality work.”

Notable practitioners

Jayne Conroy is highly acclaimed for her presence across a broad range of cases, including opioid MDLs and medical device litigation. Strengths: “Jayne’s reputation exceeds her.”

Herbert Smith Freehills

What the team is known for Herbert Smith Freehills is noted for its considerable expertise in large-scale product liability suits against the tobacco industry, including those brought by classes of claimants, governments and state attorneys general. The firm has capabilities representing clients in domestic US and cross-border matters across a wide array of jurisdictions. It offers wider strength in regulatory advisory work.

Strengths

“Herbert Smith Freehills handles complex and sophisticated issues. Each member of the team is solid and deeply skilled and the team as a whole is highly collaborative.”

“The attorneys have excellent industry knowledge and legal skills. Herbert Smith Freehills has great partners and associates who are always available and responsive.”

“The team provides pragmatic and business-savvy advice on a range of highly complex regulatory and litigation-related issues. The lawyers are incredibly responsive and provide thoughtful, quick and to-the-point business-relevant advice.”

Notable practitioners

Gregory Loss maintains a broad and widely respected litigation practice that exhibits strength in product liability cases in the tobacco space. Strengths: “Greg is a phenomenal adviser who provides pragmatic and to-the-point legal advice through a commercial lens.” Benjamin Rubinstein is respected for the quality of his advocacy in product liability cases. He demonstrates deep knowledge of cases in the tobacco space. Strengths: “Ben is a highly dedicated attorney who makes the impossible possible.” “Ben is highly experienced at running multi-jurisdictional and international mass tort cases. He knows the science and the law as well as members in that field and is a consummate legal strategist for complex matters.”

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP enjoys a fine reputation for its work in product liability, offering expertise across a wide range of industries including pharmaceuticals, medical devices and manufacturing.

Strengths

“Holland & Knight has sufficient internal expertise to handle complex matters and has a strong and diverse team. They’re also agile and responsive.”

“Holland & Knight has excellent lawyers who are highly skilled at handling complex and sophisticated cases.”

Work highlights Holland & Knight represented Bridgestone Americas in five consolidated product liability lawsuits with product defect allegations, arising from a 2018 church van rollover in Polk County, Missouri.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Yoo is routinely engaged in product liability and mass tort cases. He frequently represents clients in the life sciences sector, among others. Strengths: “He is very knowledgeable in this field and has been helpful to acclimate the litigation.” “Thomas is an excellent litigator.”

Hollingsworth LLP

What the team is known for Hollingsworth LLP has a highly regarded team of expert product liability and mass tort lawyers. It has expertise advising clients in pharmaceutical and toxic tort-related litigation. The firm offers deep expertise in class actions and personal injury claims.

Strengths

“The team is very smart, tough and trusted in negotiation. The lawyers really understand what clients want, they’re not afraid to litigate and they have a deep knowledge of the product liability space.”

“The partners and associates alike provide thoughtful and strategic counsel informed by the firm’s deep experience. The team is incredibly responsive, provides a high-quality service and at all levels demonstrates commercial awareness.”

Work highlights Hollingsworth served as lead trial to Sotera Health and Sterigenics U.S. in cases alleging that ethylene oxide emissions from Sterigenics’ medical device sterilization facility in Willowbrook, Illinois caused various cancers to individuals living near the plant.

Notable practitioners

Joe Hollingsworth is well equipped to advise on product liability claims, fielding expertise in the pharmaceutical sector. Strengths: “Joe is a consummate trial attorney.” “Joe is a very savvy, experienced trial lawyer and a go-to adviser for his clients."

Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP

What the team is known for Hughes Hubbard & Reed is a highly regarded group with substantial experience in product liability defense and a notable focus on the pharmaceutical and tobacco sectors. Highlighted for its in-depth guidance on litigation strategy as well as its longstanding relationships with major clients. Strong national and international presence allows it to act on mass tort cases with a global reach. Extensive experience acting as lead litigation counsel in product liability trials.

Strengths

"The proficiency in supporting local counsel, aligning seamlessly with overarching strategy and attentiveness is unparalleled. I highly rate the depth and breadth of the team and their commitment to maintaining a high-end product."

"The team is responsive and tailors according to the needs of the situation."

"The firm has the unique ability to participate and coordinate in highly complex cases out of the US with their outstanding experience and knowledge. The entire team has deep experience and knowledge of the law as well as the technical and medical aspects required for crafting a successful defense."

Work highlights Hughes Hubbard & Reed represented LG Electronics in litigation alleging that exposure to non-ionizing radiation emitted from mobile phone handsets caused brain tumors.

Notable practitioners

Theodore Mayer (see p.635) currently serves as chair of the firm and acts regularly for clients defending against medical and pharmaceutical MDLs. He is particularly active in disputes involving pharmaceuticals, vaccines and blood products. Strengths: "He's very experienced and has a lot of wisdom in the area." Charles Cohen has a strong reputation in life sciences product liability, with experience representing domestic and international clients in pharmaceutical cases and toxic torts. Strengths: "He consistently demonstrates a keen ability to handle sophisticated cases and his adept leadership ensures a high-end product, always maintaining a proactive approach and staying on top of every detail." "Charles is brilliant, well versed, detail-oriented and success-driven. No stone goes unturned when he oversees a case, and he won't stop until the client receives the best possible defense." James Fitzpatrick frequently defends pharmaceutical clients against high-profile MDLs on a national and international scale. He is especially well versed in defending litigation involving vaccines. Strengths: "Jim's performance is marked by efficiency, delivering a service that is not only effective but also personalized and prompt. His dedication to forming intelligent teams and allocating resources judiciously underscores his effectiveness as a legal professional." "Jim consistently provides valuable input on the most challenging and complex medical and scientific product-related issues." "He is a longstanding and hugely valued asset to our company, has a deep understanding of the science and understands complex issues. He's also extremely practical and is an excellent problem solver." William Beausoleil is relied upon for his strategic advice in relation to complex mass torts and pharmaceutical MDLs. Strengths: "He has a smart legal mind, with good ideas for strategy and litigation." "He provides very practical advice and is on top of the details of the matters." "William is a smart lawyer and a joy to work with."

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth is highly regarded for its expert handling of toxic tort cases on behalf of major names in the chemicals, construction, manufacturing and energy sectors. The Virginia-headquartered firm is developing a strong national presence, serving as counsel in courts across the US. Its expertise spans environmental contamination and asbestos litigation, among other types.

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth represented Culpeper Wood Preservers in a lawsuit in which plaintiffs alleged that the lumber they used in their home deck was defective and not resistant to rot and mold.

Notable practitioners

Alexandra Cunningham (see p.3347) is frequently called upon for her toxic tort and environmental litigation experience. She is particularly adept at representing clients in asbestos-related claims. Strengths: "She is an expert on asbestos matters and other toxic torts. She is responsive and reasonable in her judgment and has a great understanding of our business."

Husch Blackwell LLP

What the team is known for Husch Blackwell is recognized for its considerable expertise handling asbestos exposure litigation often involving multiple state court actions, drawing on its nationwide reach. The firm is frequently called upon to act in a national coordinating role as well as handling representation in trial and settlement negotiations. It regularly acts for clients in the manufacturing, agriculture and healthcare sectors, among others.

Strengths

"Husch Blackwell prove to be very sophisticated lawyers at both the national and local counsel level. The depth of the team reaches beyond basic defense and includes experts in trial strategy. The team are extremely responsive, knowledgeable and commercial, and their advice supports their level of awareness."

"Their responsiveness is one of their strong points in client service they provide."

"They have a good team with experience in most of the jurisdictions that are important to the company. They provide significant value to us."

Work highlights Husch Blackwell served as coordinating counsel to Monsanto for the docket of Roundup cases in Missouri.

Notable practitioners

Jennifer Dlugosz is regularly called upon to represent clients in toxic tort claims, with considerable expertise handling multijurisdictional asbestos exposure litigation in courts across the country. Jennifer Lee stands out for her ability to handle a large docket of toxic tort-related litigation. Her strong trial experience is backed by successful defenses. Strengths: "Jennifer is strong on strategy and seeing the big picture, as well as being skilled in a courtroom with witnesses and a jury." J.Y. Miller has a growing reputation in the asbestos and toxic tort arena. Strengths: "He is a very well-known lawyer who is very good in this space."

Irwin Fritchie Urquhart Moore & Daniels LLC

What the team is known for Irwin Fritchie is a Louisiana-based firm with an increasingly significant presence in national product liability cases. The team frequently acts on major pharmaceutical and medical device MDLs. It also demonstrates strength in cases involving complex technical and scientific issues.

Strengths

"Irwin Fritchie is very prominent in this market."

Notable practitioners

Quentin Urquhart offers significant experience in mass torts and personal injury claims, with expertise in cases involving pharmaceuticals, medical devices and toxic torts. Strengths: "Quentin is very highly regarded." Kim Moore frequently acts on high-profile product liability cases and personal injury cases, and is especially well versed in litigation surrounding scientific issues. Strengths: "Kim is a fantastic lawyer. I have seen her handle large dockets of product liability work and she's a solid practitioner." Douglas Moore comes recommended for his solid trial experience. He is routinely engaged in product liability and mass tort litigation.

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day has a long-standing reputation as a premier firm for product liability cases in the tobacco industry. It is also active in other product areas, including pharmaceuticals, toxic tort and consumer fraud. Strong track record in the defense of consumer class actions, and also offers significant expertise in appellate proceedings. The team is notable for its strong trial capabilities. Its extensive national and global presence supports its handling of large-scale disputes.

Strengths

"The combination of experience, depth and breadth of knowledge is precisely what my organization needed in its defense of a particularly difficult set of circumstances. We feel indebted to them."

"Jones Day has strong capabilities to handle complex and sophisticated matters and has a number of really good lawyers. They are always responsive and have a very diverse team."

"The firm is wonderful to work with and has impressive, strategic lawyers with substantive strength."

Work highlights Jones Day represented Chevron in multi-fora defense in federal multidistrict litigation relating to claims that the herbicide paraquat causes Parkinson's disease.

Notable practitioners

Theodore Grossman excels in defending against consumer class actions, drawing on experience in trials across the US. Stephanie Parker (see p.663) co-leads the firm's business and tort litigation practice, and oversees its product liability litigation practice. She is an eminent trial lawyer in tobacco and in pharmaceutical trials. Strengths: "She is very service-oriented and does a particularly good job at ensuring that the firm responds to a variety of needs.” “Stephanie is a fantastic first chair trial lawyer who has the incredible ability to take complex sets of facts and distill them into a story.” “She is responsive and amazing with clients. She also provides very good strategy, advice and insight.” Celeste Brecht is noted for her growing experience handling complex product liability cases at trial, including toxic tort and pharmaceutical-related claims. Strengths: “She is a very strong advocate who understands what she has to do and does it efficiently.”

Keller Postman LLC

What the team is known for Keller Postman LLC offers recognized expertise in complex multidistrict product liability litigation on behalf of plaintiffs. The firm has expertise in bringing high-value recovery actions against various industries, including pharmaceuticals and medical devices.

Strengths

“Keller Postman’s work product is consistently at a high level. The team’s research and writing reflects a high level of experience and I’ve found them to offer outstanding contributions.”

Work highlights Keller Postman represented tens of thousands of plaintiffs exposed to toxic water at US Marine Corps Base Camp Lejeune who allege that they have developed diseases and chronic conditions as a result.

Notable practitioners

Ashley Keller is cofounder of Keller Postman and is held in high esteem for his expertise representing plaintiffs in multidistrict product liability litigation, with experience spanning a raft of claims. Strengths: “Ashley has quickly become a leader in the plaintiffs product liability practice. He is one of the best negotiators across the practice area and understands the business elements.”

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding is renowned for its deep bench, strong trial capabilities and experience in serving as national coordinating counsel. It undertakes a broad range of pharmaceutical and tobacco litigation, as well as handling automotive and toxic tort disputes. It offers clients in-depth regulatory strength, as well as experience in disputes arising from a wide range of sectors. The class action team is well versed in putative lawsuits and consumer protection class actions. Trial capabilities complemented by additional strength at appellate stage.

Strengths

“The firm is very strategic in its approach to litigation and the internal team is very responsive and strong. They provide excellent value, are cognizant of shifts and make an effort to understand the client’s commercial position and needs.”

“I have a great deal of trust and respect for the King & Spalding team and the legal advice is reliable for making business decisions. The team has depth and breadth of experience and each attorney is impressive.”

“King & Spalding has a remarkable aptitude for handling complex product liability matters, with a wide variety of expertise available. The attorneys are incredibly responsive and go above and beyond to ensure outstanding customer service.”

Work highlights King & Spalding served as co-national counsel to TikTok in connection with several hundred high-profile lawsuits that allege harm to underaged users of social media.

Notable practitioners

Chilton Davis Varner (see p.538) is a highly acclaimed trial lawyer with a remarkable track record in mass torts, class actions and MDLs. She is accomplished in both trial and appellate law across medical device, pharmaceutical and automobile cases. Strengths: “Chilton is a renowned product liability lawyer.” Andrew Bayman (see p.499) acts for a number of major pharmaceutical companies on their most significant product liability cases. He is especially active in federal courts, where he has acted on market-leading MDLs in the life sciences sector. Strengths: “He is a specialist in the medical and pharmaceutical fields and has a very good reputation.” “He is highly reputable, skilled and a phenomenal counselor.”

Kristen Fournier (see p.557) regularly acts as national coordinating counsel for major corporate clients in toxic torts, typically those relating to asbestos and chemical exposure. Strengths: “Kristen is strategic, thoughtful, and thinks through issues efficiently. She is a creative strategist who doesn’t just follow the typical playbook.” “She is extremely organized, detail-oriented and beyond responsive. She will tackle any challenge and provides great work product.” “She is a super strategist.” John Hooper (see p.588) represents major international companies on product liability cases across state and federal courts involving automotive and toxic tort concerns, as well as acting on consumer class actions. Strengths: “John is a pleasure to work with, does an excellent job and is very client-focused.” Morton Dubin (see p. 588) comes recommended as a first-chair trial lawyer in toxic torts, most significantly in litigation related to talc. He is also capable of leading cases before appellate courts and acting as coordinating counsel. Strengths: “Morton is a trial lawyer who is intelligent, thoughtful and strategic.” Adam Spicer (see p.708) is an increasingly prominent trial lawyer who has acted for major clients on pharmaceutical and medical device cases. Strengths: “Adam is skilled and reputable.”

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is active across a range of product liability and mass tort-related matters, drawing on its extensive experience in handling commercial litigation across the country. It has a significant presence in bet-the-company disputes for generic pharmaceutical and manufacturing companies, including multidistrict litigation and class actions. A strong choice for handling litigation involving complex technical and scientific elements.

Strengths

“Kirkland & Ellis has bright and creative lawyers who are always responsive and are constantly updating clients on industry developments. The firm recruits the best attorneys and trains them to be leaders.”

“The firm is very involved in a number of significant litigations especially in consumer products.”

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis represented Abbott Laboratories in connection with litigation surrounding their Similac brand preterm infant formulas, with plaintiffs alleging links to and failure to warn of a risk of developing necrotizing enterocolitis.

Notable practitioners

Robert Brock (see p.513) is a highly esteemed trial lawyer with notable experience across high-profile MDLs. He has achieved successful defense verdicts across the pharmaceutical, automobile and life science industries. Strengths: “Robert is a star and a fantastic trial lawyer.” Andrew McGaan (see p.638) is a highly experienced trial attorney who is noted for his strength handling complex product liability cases, including tobacco litigation filed in courts across the country. Strengths: “He is a tremendous trial lawyer with a wonderful reputation.” “He is a leading light in the tobacco space.” Renee Smith (see p.705) is increasingly recognized for her expertise in large consumer class actions, including recent mandates in the e-cigarette space. Strengths: “Renee is an excellent attorney.” “She is very involved in large multidistrict litigation.” Leslie Smith (see p.705) is a skilled trial lawyer who is experienced in a range of pharmaceutical cases and consumer fraud litigation. Strengths: “She is very good at the art of litigation. Her tactical lawyering skills, strategic decisions and ability to identify and capitalize on opportunities within litigation are very good.”

The Lanier Law Firm

What the team is known for The Lanier Law Firm is a highly regarded litigation group that excels in plaintiff-side representation. It exhibits capabilities in cases concerning personal injury, pharmaceutical and automobile-related claims, among others.

Notable practitioners

Mark Lanier is recognized as one of the leading plaintiff lawyers in product liability, regularly acting for multinational companies on high-profile litigation relating to asbestos, medical devices and pharmaceuticals. Strengths: “He understands, knows and loves people, and knows how to preach to them in a way that moves them and makes them make decisions on a case.” “He is a talented trial lawyer, he’s well prepared and his cross-examinations are stellar.”

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins has dedicated litigators to deal with a range of complex personal injury and product liability cases on behalf of some of the largest corporations in the tobacco industry.

Strengths

“Latham is highly strategic and laser-focused on getting the best business result for the client. Each team member brings different strengths, experience and patience in dealing with experts and clients.”

“The firm has a strong ability to handle complex matters, even when it relates to foreign jurisdictions. Latham provides high-quality legal services, is responsive to clients’ needs and has regard for the commercial issues involved.”

“Latham has the best team, delivers regular victories, is always responsive, proactive and not reactive.”

Notable practitioners

Kenneth Parsigian (see p.663) offers notable expertise in mass torts arising from the tobacco industry, in which he represents a number of leading clients. He is also skilled in federal pharmaceutical cases. Strengths: “Ken is the master of wise risk-taking, has superb judgment and maximizes outcomes. He is also a master negotiator and communicator.” “He is one of the strongest, long-term and strategic counselors.” Christine Rolph (see p.682) is a go-to for clients facing litigation in the tobacco space. Strengths: “Christine is a highly sophisticated, talented and experienced lawyer. She is smart and tries to understand the peculiarities of foreign jurisdictions to better advise her clients.” “She is diligent and gives great advice. She’s an amazing litigator who always stays cool under pressure.”

Levin Papantonio Rafferty Law Firm

What the team is known for Levin Papantonio has significant experience in consumer product liability cases including e-cigarette and talcum powder-related matters. It is well known for its work in opioid, medical device and defective products mass tort litigation mandates, as well as personal injury cases. The team’s experience includes toxic exposure investigation matters.

Strengths

“The Levin Papantonio team is skilled and reputable.”

Notable practitioners

Troy Rafferty is best known in the market for acting on high-profile pharmaceutical mass torts, as well as personal injury cases.

Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP

What the team is known for Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein is a premier plaintiff-side firm noted for its involvement in complex product liability and mass tort matters. It possesses strong experience in class action and personal injury mandates related to a wide variety of sectors including pharmaceuticals, automotive and professional sports. The firm also fields significant multidistrict litigation capabilities.

Strengths

“Lieff Cabraser is a key competitor in this space.” “Lieff Cabraser is a very good plaintiffs firm.”

Work highlights Lieff Cabraser prosecuted claims on behalf of families against baby formula makers where preterm and low-weight infants developed necrotizing enterocolitis, alleging links to cow milk-based formulas including Similac and Enfamil.

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Cabraser is considered a market-leading plaintiff lawyer with a formidable track record in pharmaceutical cases, as well as in automotive mass torts and environmental damage cases. Strengths: “Elizabeth is an excellent lawyer.” “She has a good reputation and skill set. She’s established and has been in this space a long time.” Lexi Hazam is a prominent mass tort practitioner who has acted on significant environmental class actions, as well as pharmaceutical and medical device mass torts. Strengths: “Lexi contributes very consistently to this space.” Sarah London is a distinguished practitioner who acts on behalf of plaintiffs in a broad variety of cases.

Strengths: “Sarah does a phenomenal job managing a complex coalition and steering matters to a significant result.” “She is a fantastic attorney.”

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown has a highly regarded litigation group that is especially noted for its extensive appellate practice and strong strategic capabilities. The practice group handles disputes involving a range of products, including medical devices and pharmaceuticals. The firm also acts for major food and beverage and chemical industry clients. It also has notable experience acting as national coordinating counsel in major litigation.

Strengths

“The firm has a stellar reputation and is one of the preeminent firms in Chicago, and deservedly so.”

“Mayer Brown is a key competitor in the environmental mass tort space.”

Work highlights Mayer Brown represented The Big Ten Conference in several putative class actions seeking recovery on behalf of former college football players for alleged concussion-related injuries.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Ring (see p.680) offers strong expertise in advising medical clients on major mass tort claims. He also acts on putative class actions regarding concussion injuries as well as acting for chemical companies in toxic torts. Strengths: “Daniel is a strategist who focuses on complex, multijurisdictional litigation and has a keen eye. He is very effective at managing challenges, does an exceptional job and is proactive at getting to the finish line.” “Dan is a good strategist and writer and has been doing this for a long time. He is highly respected.” Michael Olsen (see p.658) comes recommended for his handling of environmental matters, pharmaceutical cases, concussion-related litigation and toxic torts. He frequently acts as lead trial counsel for major multinational companies. Strengths: “He is an exceptional trial lawyer and a forceful advocate with a commanding presence in court. He really captures the space and attention of juries and jurors.”

McCarter & English, LLP

What the team is known for McCarter & English has significant expertise in pharmaceutical and medical device product liability mandates. It regularly appears in federal and state courts in class action, mass tort and multidistrict litigation. The team has wide knowledge of appellate and discovery matters. Its broad client base includes construction manufacturers, energy companies and transportation firms.

Strengths

“I am very pleased with the extensive knowledge and diversity of the individuals assigned to our cases. The attorneys are professional and courteous at all times.”

“McCarter & English leveraged their deep experience, the facts and processes and demonstrated full command of the details. They were always available and with quick responses.”

“McCarter & English employs a broad range of specialists.”

Work highlights McCarter & English represented

United States Metals Refining Company, Freeport McMoran Copper & Gold and Amax Realty Development in an action alleging that plaintiffs’ residential properties were contaminated by toxic and hazardous chemicals emanating from the defendants’ smelter operation located in Carteret, New Jersey.

Notable practitioners

Amy Fisher excels in the representation of pharmaceutical and medical device manufacturers in complex multidistrict product liability litigation, including acting in national defense roles. She is co-managing partner of the firm’s Indianapolis office. Strengths: “She is very practical and innovative when devising ways to dismiss cases. She manages the chaos of mass torts.”

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery has a high-profile practice with extensive experience handling significant toxic tort claims. The team frequently represents major clients in the manufacturing, chemicals and energy sectors. It has strong trial capabilities and is additionally able to provide strategic counsel on a national basis.

Strengths

“McDermott Will & Emery assembles a lean team that are highly efficient and effective, with great lawyers and great value.”

“The firm is highly regarded, brings unique talent and attributes and works very hard on difficult legal issues.”

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery represented Monsanto in multiple-venue product liability actions related to the manufacture, sale and distribution of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB), including mass torts actions alleging PCBs caused non-Hodgkin lymphoma and public nuisance claims in connection with waterways contamination.

Notable practitioners

James Pardo (see p.662) exhibits sound trial and litigation experience with expertise serving as national counsel in toxic tort claims. Strengths: “James is a terrific lawyer.” Anthony Upshaw (see p.724) is highlighted by market commentators for his trial experience and representation of clients in sophisticated toxic tort claims. Strengths: “He is one of our go-to trial lawyers in the mass torts and liability space, he is an exceptionally good lawyer who is loyal to his clients.” “He brings a lot of historic knowledge for the company. He’s practical, a good team player and can jump in on cases at a minute’s notice.”

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods has a prominent product liability practice with broad experience in mass torts and multidistrict litigation. It is particularly noted for its expert handling of disputes arising from areas such as pharmaceuticals and retail. The team has significant experience in consumer fraud class action and asbestos and toxic exposure cases.

Strengths

“McGuireWoods has always done everything we’ve needed them to do, including identifying new and emerging risks.”

Notable practitioners

Richmond-based Diane Flannery chairs the firm's product, environmental and mass tort litigation practice.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP has a respected mass tort group with a particular strength in asbestos liability matters. It also has a strong track record in automotive, pharmaceutical and medical device litigation. Strong nationwide presence sees the firm try cases across multiple states, often coordinating large-scale multidistrict litigation. The team has notable insurance recovery capabilities.

Strengths

"It's an outstanding team that produces excellent results. The lawyers are responsive and helpful."

"Morgan Lewis handles our litigation issues from beginning to end. It's a high-quality, solutions-oriented team that is easy to collaborate with."

"The firm is efficient, practical and highly competent."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius served as lead counsel for Philips RS North America in multidistrict litigation arising from its ongoing voluntary recall of certain CPAP, BiPAP and mechanical ventilator prescription medical devices. The firm most recently assisted with negotiating a proposed class settlement for all economic loss claims in the MDL.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Paul Zevnik leads the product liability, tort and insurance practice at the firm.

Motley Rice LLC

What the team is known for Motley Rice is regularly sought out for its expertise in medical device product liability mass tort and class action litigation. It acts in matters related to a wide range of sectors including pharmaceuticals, automotive and cosmetics. The team has strong skills in environmental and toxic torts and is well known for its work in catastrophic injury cases.

Work highlights Motley Rice served as co-lead counsel for the multidistrict litigation advocating for women who have suffered life-altering health problems allegedly caused by certain hair relaxer products.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Rice (see p.679) offers a vast range of expertise across the product liability landscape, including on automotive mass torts, asbestos litigation and pharmaceutical MDLs. Strengths: "Joseph is skilled and reputable." Fidelma Fitzpatrick (see p.555) advises on a range of product liability cases, with recent experience including medical device and toxic tort litigation. Strengths: "Fidelma has a very good reputation."

Donald Migliori (see p.642) displays capabilities across the product liability space, regularly acting for clients in tobacco, pharmaceutical and medical device litigation. Carmen Scott (see p.695) is particularly noted for her handling of pharmaceutical product liability mandates, including complex medical device disputes involving multiple claimants.

Napoli Shkolnik PLLC

What the team is known for Napoli Shkolnik has widespread expertise acting for plaintiffs in product liability claims, including those arising from the use of pharmaceuticals and asbestos exposure. The firm has additional capacity in environmental and smoking-related cases.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Joseph Napoli is a key contact at the firm.

Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP

What the team is known for Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough has an established team of seasoned trial specialists. It regularly tries cases on behalf of blue-chip clients in the pharmaceutical and medical device arena as well as major automotive manufacturers. The team also handles environmental tort claims, particularly those arising from asbestos exposure. It offers extensive advocacy capabilities and courtroom experience. Attorneys at Nelson Mullins handle cases across federal, state and appellate courts.

Strengths

"Nelson Mullins has deep bench strength and provides regular feedback on both tactics and strategy."

"Nelson Mullins is strongly respected, has excellent lawyers and does a terrific job."

"They are strong communicators who are good at persuading judges with sophisticated arguments."

Work highlights Nelson Mullins served as trial counsel for American Optical and its subsidiaries in several major product liability disputes. Underground coal miners alleged lung injuries from coal dust exposure that should have been prevented by American Optical's respirators.

Notable practitioners

Sandra Ezell has enviable expertise acting as trial counsel on behalf of major players in automotive manufacturing in a wide array of product liability litigation filed in courts across the country. Strengths: "Sandra is an excellent lawyer." "Sandra has a solid reputation." Kurt Kern is highly regarded for his trial skill and frequently acts for clients in the automotive sector on complex product liability cases. Strengths: "Kurt is excellent, reputable and gets successful results. He has an excellent skill set and represents clients in difficult high-exposure cases." David Dukes leads on several major MDLs in the pharmaceutical industry, as well as handling environmental cases. He is also accomplished in litigation within the technology sector. Strengths: "He is a fantastic trial advocate." Michael Brown is an experienced trial lawyer who offers strength across the space, regularly handling toxic tort, pharmaceutical and personal injury claims. Strengths: "He is a superb trial lawyer who is always ready to try a case and has great juror appeal." "He is a key trial lawyer and is invaluable to us. Mike is relatable to juries and is just terrific." "Michael is an outstanding trial lawyer who has great jury experience." Richard North handles a wide range of product liability disputes, with expertise handling major pharmaceutical MDLs and aviation disputes. Strengths: "Richard is a great trial lawyer." Thomas Cullen garners a particularly strong reputation for product liability cases involving forklift trucks and material handling equipment. He is also well versed in pharmaceutical mass torts. Amanda Kitts is a talented litigator who offers notable strength in product liability claims and maintains a broad practice, spanning toxic tort, pharmaceutical and medical device-related disputes. Strengths: "Amanda is a great lawyer who is very highly regarded, plays a big role in PFAS and in leadership roles too." Terri Reiskin is particularly noted for her representation of automotive manufacturers, while also offering experience across a broad range of consumer and product liability claims. Strengths: "Terri is an outstanding lawyer."

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright has a broad product liability practice, with experience spanning pharmaceutical, medical device and automobile product lines. It is also noted for its expert handling of toxic tort claims. The firm maintains strong links with major entities in the petrochemical industry. It has a strong platform and trial experience, attracting a diverse national and multinational client base. Its attorneys defend product liability cases of all sizes, from single-plaintiff claims to large multijurisdictional litigation.

Strengths

"The entire team was very helpful in getting this matter resolved."

"Norton Rose is very prominent in the market."

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright led the defense for Conagra Brands in a product liability case arising from alleged burn injuries from aerosol cooking spray products.

Notable practitioners

William Troutman is noted for his considerable strength in a wide array of product safety and compliance matters. His expertise is frequently sought after by manufacturers spanning the consumer products, food and automotive sectors, among others. Strengths: "He is an excellent attorney and I enjoy working with him." "William is a fantastic lawyer and has a known reputation in the industry." Jonathan Skidmore is a go-to trial lawyer for mass torts across the pharmaceutical and medical device space, as well as personal injury cases and automotive litigation.

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers is a robust team with considerable trial and appellate expertise. Represents an impressive list of pharmaceutical and technology companies, as well as leading automotive clients. Recent activity includes handling cases with additional false advertising aspects, as well as large-scale opioid litigation. Experienced in defending against consumer class actions and economic injury cases. Also offers counsel on regulatory proceedings concerning product safety.

Strengths

"The lawyers are highly capable of handling complex matters, they're responsive and offer good advice."

"The firm's litigation strategy never ceases to impress and attorneys work ceaselessly and efficiently to achieve great results. The team exceeds high expectations for responsiveness and service levels."

"O'Melveny & Myers exhibit an extraordinary commitment to the client, are trusted allies and excellent at managing large complex multi-stage litigation."

Work highlights O'Melveny & Myers represented Kia America in several wrongful death and personal injury claims, alleging that inadequate anti-theft technologies facilitated car thefts, leading to reckless driving by thieves and auto accidents.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Brody has garnered an increasingly strong reputation after acting on high-profile product liability cases for major multinational companies. Strengths: "He is an excellent strategist who is great at looking at the bigger picture." "Steve is a true trusted adviser whose legal guidance and acumen is always impressive. I especially appreciate his strategic, efficient approach to case management and counseling." Richard Goetz is well respected for his skill in leading pharmaceutical cases and toxic torts. He is also experienced in personal injury, false advertising and consumer products. Sabrina Strong comes recommended for her representation of clients in high-stakes product litigation and consumer class actions, typically acting for those in the life sciences space. Strengths: "She is a fantastic lawyer." "Sabrina is a great partner in terms of quality and client service."

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick is highlighted for its expertise in toxic tort litigation, with a particular specialty in defending chemical industry giants from asbestos-related mass tort claims. It fields a strong bench of capable trial lawyers who are regularly called upon to act in national counsel and first-chair trial roles. The team is also noted for its experience representing Chinese state-owned enterprises in domestic US litigation.

Strengths

"The team has tremendous intellect, a keen understanding of the law and takes a practical approach to achieve the results we need. They are tactical in their decision-making, exemplary in preparation and have supreme confidence."

"Orrick is extraordinarily well positioned to handle complex and sophisticated matters, with attorneys who are experienced, talented, hard-working and insightful. They show attention to detail while never losing sight of the big picture. Their collegiality, teamwork and diversity are also all second to none."

Work highlights Orrick obtained a defense verdict on behalf of Ethicon in two separate trials in Florida and New Jersey in connection with its pelvic mesh devices.

Notable practitioners

Peter Bicks is highly regarded for his representation of Fortune 500 companies in matters such as major MDLs in the talc space. He is especially active in personal injury lawsuits and primarily acts as strategic counsel on these matters. Strengths: "He's a fantastic trial lawyer whose client relations and skill set are top-notch." "Peter has incredible vision on large cases and clients turn to him for that vision and management." Meghan Rohling Kelly is a highly experienced trial lawyer who regularly handles product liability disputes, representing clients from a wide range of sectors including manufacturers and large corporations.

Strengths: "She is a fantastic trial lawyer, a great trial team lead and is incredibly smart and focused on the results. She thinks beyond the norm but considers strategy and positions cases for resolution." "Meghan is a fighter and a scholar. She is brilliant, hard-working, a tireless advocate and a terrific mentor." "Meghan has a reputation for being a great communicator and tactician."

Panish | Shea | Ravipudi LLP

What the team is known for Panish Shea Boyle Ravipudi LLP is distinguished for its plaintiff-side product liability practice. The firm fields notable experience in bringing high-value actions on behalf of consumers of a wide array of products. Its is a respected group with impressive depth of experience in personal injury and wrongful death claims.

Notable practitioners

Brian Panish is a partner and co-founder of Panish Shea & Boyle. He has secured a number of plaintiff verdicts in several areas of product liability, including automotive cases, environmental matters and personal injury litigation.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie is highlighted for its broad product liability reach, with particular focus on counseling technology innovators in emerging sectors. It is noted for its expertise in fast-moving areas such as virtual reality and vehicle automation. The firm attracts significant automotive, aviation and heavy industry mandates, as well as handling Proposition 65 litigation in the food and beverage space. The team offers strength in traditional tort areas such as asbestos litigation.

Strengths

"Perkins Coie is truly excellent at what it does. It's an extremely robust and diverse team."

Work highlights Perkins Coie secured dismissal with prejudice on behalf of Amazon against negligence and product liability claims brought by parents of individuals who died from ingesting sodium nitrite purchased on Amazon.com.

Notable practitioners

Brendan Murphy (see p.649) is well equipped to advise on consumer product safety matters, fielding expertise in reporting, compliance and recalls. Strengths: "Brendan is a superior tactician and writer."

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP

What the team is known for Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP is particularly noted for representing automobile manufacturers in a wide range of significant mass tort and product liability claims. The firm has expertise in large-scale multidistrict litigation and class actions. The firm is regularly called upon to defend automotive businesses facing wrongful death and personal injury claims.

Work highlights Quinn Emanuel represented General Motors in a three-state certified class action based upon plaintiffs' claims that its 2011 through 2014 trucks had excess oil consumption defects, including defective piston rings, in the vehicles' Gen. IV Vortec 5300 engines.

Notable practitioners

Richard Godfrey is an experienced practitioner in consumer class actions, particularly respected for his strength in automotive litigation. He is a partner in the Chicago office of Quinn Emanuel. Strengths: "Richard is a very well-known attorney in this area and a very good lawyer."

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith is a highly regarded group based across the country, noted for its expert handling of life sciences disputes. Equally adept serving in a national coordinating and lead trial counsel role in a number of high-profile drug and device trials, as well as leading negotiations for out-of-court settlements. Also offers strength in disputes such as toxic torts involving alleged asbestos exposure. Draws on a notable litigation bench with experience in defending against claims filed across the US.

Strengths

"The team is professional, knowledgeable and effective at handling liability claims involving multiple parties and stakeholders."

"Reed Smith stands out because of its collegiality."

Notable practitioners

Michael Brown is an esteemed trial lawyer, commended for his strength in mass torts. His experience includes leading mesh cases for prominent multinational companies. Strengths: "He is an excellent orator who is excellent at connecting with juries and convincing them of the client's position." "Michael is one of the finest product liability lawyers I've ever come across." "He is an effective oral advocate and an effective writer. He gets very good results." Melissa Geist is an expert trial lawyer who is experienced across both drug and medical device mass torts and MDLs. She regularly acts as national counsel in cases within the life sciences sector. Strengths: "Melissa is a skilled lawyer."

Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP

What the team is known for Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP excels in the representation of plaintiffs in product liability claims and consumer class actions. The team expertly acts for clients at all levels of litigation, from trial and appeals to national steering roles and large-scale settlement negotiations. The firm has handled cases concerning pharmaceuticals, automobiles and technology.

Work highlights Robbins Geller served on the plaintiffs' steering committee in the nationwide Juul e-cigarette litigation alleging predatory advertising, fraud and personal injury. The litigation has delivered around $490 million in settlements.

Notable practitioners

Paul Geller is a trial lawyer whose strong civil disputes practice includes acting on a wide range of product liability disputes and class actions. He is a founding partner of Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd and manages the firm's Boca Raton, Florida office. Strengths: "Paul is a consummate professional who has the ability to work seamlessly and collaboratively to address daunting challenges" that arise in complex mass tort litigation.” “He is a tremendous lawyer who has a pretty wide-ranging skill set and a lot of intellectual firepower. Paul is capable of handling significant cases.” “He works tirelessly, he’s creative and deserves every accolade.” Aelish Baig has significant experience handling multijurisdictional mass tort and consumer class actions concerning a raft of product types.

Robinson Calcagnie, Inc.

What the team is known for Robinson Calcagnie, Inc. expertly handles the full range of complex product liability matters for plaintiffs. It possesses substantial experience working on personal injury matters and offers expertise in medical device, pharmaceutical and defective products claims. The firm is increasingly visible as a prominent player and specializes in mass torts and consumer class actions.

Notable practitioners

Mark Robinson is a longstanding practitioner with a distinguished career in acting on landmark automotive litigation. He also has a strong reputation for talc cases and opioid litigation. He is the founder of Robinson Calcagnie, Inc.

Seeger Weiss LLP

What the team is known for Seeger Weiss is highly regarded for its representation of plaintiffs in mass tort litigation related to opioids, emissions and data security matters. It has significant experience in pharmaceutical and agricultural cases. The firm is well known for expertise in settling complex multidistrict litigation mandates in both federal and state courts.

Work highlights Seeger Weiss secured settlements worth more than $15 billion in the national prescription opioid litigation with Walgreens, Walmart, Kroger and CVS.

Notable practitioners

David Buchanan is a renowned trial lawyer who has acted on high-profile cases including opioid litigation, pharmaceutical cases and consumer products. Strengths: “He is a legitimately great attorney and one of the best I have encountered.” “David has an excellent reputation in this space.”

Christopher Seeger is a highly acclaimed practitioner who frequently acts on concussion class actions and automotive cases. He is particularly esteemed for his work on opioid litigation. Strengths: “Chris is a very strong strategist.” “Chris is a great lawyer. I have worked with him very closely on large litigation and he’s achieved great results.” “Chris has a very good reputation.”

Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP

What the team is known for Shook, Hardy & Bacon has a standout practice much admired for its roster of product liability experts based across the USA. It handles a high volume of cases across all major product areas, acting in lead and national coordinating counsel roles, and maintains a particularly strong reputation in life sciences, tobacco and automotive litigation. The team has an impressive track record in trials and appeals involving mass torts and class actions, complementing its litigation bench with significant in-house scientific strength.

Strengths

“They have exceptional expertise in automotive litigation and analysis of future liability trends. They have a deep bench of seasoned litigators specializing in automotive liability trial work and it’s a firm of action that is always available and easy to work with.”

“Shook Hardy has an excellent ability to advise on complex issues and present information coherently, always with an eye on the commercial position. They are always available, responsive and practical.”

“The firm produces an excellent work product and quality briefing, from a creative and strategic standpoint.”

Work highlights Shook Hardy served as lead counsel for Evenflo Company in multidistrict litigation alleging it made false and misleading statements about its Big Kid booster seat, particularly concerning side-impact testing.

Notable practitioners

Madeleine McDonough is currently serving as the firm’s chair and draws on a strong background in the sciences, leveraging her expertise to advise clients across the space on product liability and personal injury cases. Strengths: “She is an excellent lawyer and a leader in the products space for a very long time.” Michael Mallow impresses with his strength in class actions and MDLs in the automobile industry, in which he acts for an impressive list of major manufacturers. Strengths: “Michael is really excellent and shines in this space.” “He has an excellent reputation.” Amir Nassihi (see p.651) comes recommended for the sterling quality of his advocacy, particularly in consumer class actions. He cochairs the firm’s class action and appellate litigation practice. Strengths: “Amir is a talented thinker on automotive trends and a strong brief writer. He excels in appellate work and case strategy.” “He is very good from a strategy standpoint and very thoughtful. He definitely knows the ins and outs of the law and the key cases. He is very considerate and incorporates the latest decisions in his strategic approach to a case.” “He is one of the most creative attorneys in this space and really shines in this area.” Rachel Straus is commended for her work in consumer class actions and is greatly experienced in handling cases on behalf of notable automotive sector clients. Robert Adams is an experienced trial lawyer who regularly acts as first chair across a range of product liability cases, with particular expertise in pharmaceutical MDLs. Strengths: “He is involved in big litigation efforts and oversees the work.” “He is an excellent lawyer who is very prominent and deserves the recognition.” William Geraghty is highly regarded for his strength in defending mass torts in the medical device and tobacco sectors. Strengths: “William has handled a tremendous amount of cases and gained great success.” “He is a very skilled trial lawyer.” “He has a great reputation.” Hildy Sastre regularly defends clients in major trials across the medical device, tobacco and pharmaceutical industries. Her caseload includes pelvic mesh and hip implant litigation. Strengths: “Hildy has great instincts. She assembles a great team, provides exceptional client service and gives everything she has to try the case.” “She is a strategic trial lawyer.” “She is an excellent trial lawyer with first-hand knowledge. She is very well respected and clients praise her.” Kenneth Reilly is best regarded for his capabilities in tobacco, and acts for a number of leading clients in major MDLs. He is also recognized for his strength as a trial lawyer. Strengths: “Kenneth has lots of trial experience.” “He is a fine litigator.” Jan Dodd is esteemed for her experience as a trial lawyer in a range of pharmaceutical cases, as well as matters such as mass torts in the automotive sectors. Strengths: “Jan is a creative strategist and an organized leader.” “She is incredible at anticipating potential claims and giving advice accordingly.” “Jan is a great strategist, particularly when it comes to experts.” Steven Weisburd has a wealth of experience acting as trial counsel in state and federal courts, including multidistrict product liability litigation and consumer class actions. Strengths: “Steven handles clients with the utmost care and respect. He has the ability to make you feel you’re his only client and is a tough-as-nails litigator when he needs to be.” “He is a very good writer who produces creative arguments for complicated legal issues.” “He demonstrates a level of experience and oral advocacy that is polished and thoughtful, and he represents his clients’ interests well.”

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin has a deep bench noted for its expertise in the life sciences sector, having obtained a number of high-profile defense verdicts in this field. Proven ability in a range of complex automotive and toxic tort cases, including matters with a cross-border element. Draws on firm-wide resources in civil litigation and regulatory enforcement to provide a full-service approach to complex product liability and consumer class action disputes. Particular proficiency acting as coordinating counsel in large-scale multidistrict litigation.

Strengths

“Sidley Austin has stellar lawyers. It’s a well-rounded team that provides quality work product. It is extremely responsive and customer service-oriented.”

“The team is strategic, practical and very pleasant to work with.”

Work highlights Sidley Austin secured a trial victory for Sterigenics and its parent Sotera Health in a toxic tort trial arising from the FDA-approved use of ethylene oxide as a sterilizing agent for millions of medical devices and surgical kits.

Notable practitioners

Heidi Levine (see p.621) frequently acts as national counsel for pharmaceutical companies on high-profile MDLs. She handles matters across pretrial, trial and resolution. Strengths: “She is very well connected and strategic in how she approaches outside counsel. She’s a huge support to her clients.” “She is an excellent attorney who is very prominent in this space.” “She is the partner overseeing the entire matter and has a good head for settlement strategy.” Debra Pole (see p.670) has a longstanding career as a trial lawyer in MDLs and mass torts across both state and federal courts. Her practice includes toxic torts and consumer fraud claims in the life sciences sector. Kara McCall (see p.1744) comes recommended for her handling of consumer class actions, and acts for an impressive list of clients in the food, retail and manufacturing industries. Strengths:

"Kara is extremely smart and strategic, which are certainly her key attributes. She also provides great customer service and is a pleasure to work with." "Kara is a medical literature expert." Michelle Ramirez (see p.675) possesses strong experience representing clients in the pharmaceutical and medical devices space. Strengths: "She is very good with the business side and I am confident she will keep the commercial realities of the case at hand. She is fantastic to work with." "Michelle is an excellent lawyer and impressive at oral arguments."

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden is highlighted for its strength in class action and appellate work, most significantly in the construction, automotive and healthcare sectors. It maintains a strong presence in the drug and device space, achieving significant victories in this field. The team is recognized for its high-level strategic guidance to clients facing multidistrict litigation, regularly serving as lead coordinating and strategic counsel in high-level proceedings. It also advocates for legal reform on behalf of corporate clients.

Strengths

"Skadden has a proven history of driving successful outcomes. The firm has attorneys with extensive depth and expertise, and I'm amazed at their commercial awareness."

"They have outstanding legal acumen, they're collaborative and supportive of other organizations and industry goals. Skadden is extraordinarily polished in everything that it does."

"The firm has deep product knowledge and provides good, practical advice on how to navigate issues."

Work highlights Skadden represented Snap in multidistrict litigation alleging that Snapchat and other social media platforms are defective because they are designed to maximize screen time, which purportedly can encourage addictive behavior in adolescents.

Notable practitioners

John Beisner (see p.501) is considered to be one of the country's premier product liability and consumer class action attorneys, with the ability to handle complex MDLs and appellate litigation. He has conducted a number of groundbreaking cases ranging from toxic torts and personal injury claims through to medical devices. Strengths: "John Beisner is a giant in mass torts. He knows everything there is to know in this space." "He is the smartest product liability lawyer in the country and is a known strategist." "John advises from a strategic standpoint and is extremely intelligent and efficient." Jessica Davidson (formerly Miller) (see p.537) is highly regarded for her work across product liability MDLs and consumer class actions, frequently representing major international corporations. Strengths: "Jessica is a master at briefing issues. She's strategic, results-driven and aggressive." "She is brilliant at developing legal strategies and is always numerous steps ahead of opposing counsel." "She is an excellent brief writer, really good at providing practical advice, and she is a great lead lawyer in the mass tort space." Allison Brown (see p.514) represents clients in mass torts, class actions and MDLs across the products space, including acting for multinational pharmaceutical companies. Strengths: "Allison takes over a courtroom. She is smart, likable, unafraid and plays in any jurisdiction." "She has a tremendous grasp for taking complex facts and distilling information for the jurors. She gives good, practical advice to navigate data issues and is a very strong brief writer who can turn materials around quickly." "Allison does a lot of legal thinking and a lot of briefs, she is highly regarded and an outstanding writer." Richard Bernardo (see p.504) maintains an exceptional litigation practice, with recognized expertise in mass tort cases in a variety of sectors. Strengths: "Richard is high-end discovery counsel. He helps with strategic themes, witnesses and depositions." "He is great to work with and super-knowledgeable." Geoffrey Wyatt (see p.738) primarily handles large consumer class actions and mass torts, as well as being able to advise on complex appellate litigation. Strengths: "He's diligent and very good at anticipating what the other side will do." "Geoff has a balancing and optimistic approach." Manuel Cachán (see p.518) is an accomplished trial lawyer who has acted for major clients on pharmaceutical and toxic tort cases. Strengths: "He is an extraordinary trial lawyer who is super-talented in cross examination. He's also good at the big-picture focus in trials."

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell is a go-to products firm noted for its stellar representation of clients in the automotive industry. It is noted for its ability to handle sophisticated class action challenges at both the trial and appellate level. The firm's knowledge expands to include pharmaceutical and toxic tort issues, with recent experience handling talc litigation. Its global footprint ensures it is a first choice for complex multijurisdictional disputes.

Strengths

"Sullivan & Cromwell make it a priority to understand our business, they treat each case uniquely and keep in mind the bigger picture. The company's goals and needs are at the front of every case and the team relentlessly pursues the best possible outcome for us."

Notable practitioners

William Monahan (see p.645) heads Sullivan & Cromwell's products liability and mass torts group. His sector expertise covers consumer class actions and personal injury claims. Strengths: "Bill is absolutely brilliant. He is the most responsive lawyer, he's easy to work with and a real strategic thinker." "He is always responsive, thinks strategically and is ready to collaborate on any issue."

Troutman Pepper

What the team is known for Troutman Pepper has a respected national practice with a strong emphasis on drug and medical device cases. Strong reputation for its work as national coordinating counsel, regularly acting for blue-chip clients in major product liability litigation, including appeals. Draws on deep industry expertise in life sciences and healthcare to provide a full-service approach to litigation.

Strengths

"Troutman Pepper has some really great lawyers, is very sophisticated in product liability and public nuisance theories and has distinguished itself in that practice."

Work highlights Troutman Pepper served as coordinating counsel for Abbott Laboratories in personal injury cases alleging Abbott and Mead Johnson's specialized infant formulas and fortifiers caused premature infants to develop necrotizing enterocolitis.

Notable practitioners

Nina Gussack (see p.2965) attracts widespread recognition for her longstanding presence in pharmaceutical and medical device mass torts. She acts as trial counsel and national coordinator in both class actions and MDLs. Sean Fahey (see p.2962) has experience handling MDLs across a wide range of areas, including pharmaceutical and medical device mass torts, class actions and concussion litigation. Strengths: "Sean is a fantastic lawyer, an extension of our in-house team and works hard to understand business considerations. He is a great asset, a true partner and a pleasure to work with." Barry Boise (see p.509) is highlighted for his experienced representation of clients in complex product liability litigation involving pharmaceuticals and medical devices. Strengths: "Barry works on cutting-edge issues and is well respected on life sciences matters." "He is responsive and confident, has worked in this space for decades and has a great understanding of the plaintiff Bar." Halli Cohn (see p.1560) has a broad base of experience in product liability mass tort and class action matters. Eric Rumanek (see p.686) represents clients in pharmaceutical and medical device MDLs, as well as mass torts and personal injury cases. Strengths: "He is a very good trial lawyer who thinks strategically and long-term in trials." "Eric is very impressive and handles multiple complex trials very efficiently. He also has a good understanding of business partners."

Tucker Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Tucker Ellis has an impressively comprehensive team that is commended for its strategic thinking and courtroom advocacy. Offers significant experience in serving as national coordinating counsel to major pharmaceutical clients. Also frequently active in litigation regarding medical devices and toxic torts, both at trial and appellate level. Strong national platform sees the firm act in multidistrict litigation consolidated in courts across the USA.

Strengths

"The firm is exceptionally equipped to handle complex and sophisticated matters, has a very deep bench and is always responsive."

"The team knows this area of law inside and out and is one of my preferred firms for product liability."

Notable practitioners

Sherry Knutson (see p.610) is widely respected for her experience in high-profile product liability MDLs, regularly acting in pharmaceutical cases and toxic torts. Strengths: "She is a very good trial counsel who is likeable, strategic and very good at presenting." "She is a strong advocate and a good team partner." "Sherry is an amazing, talented lawyer." Laura Kingsley Hong (see p.588) chairs the firm's product liability group and frequently acts as first-chair trial counsel in mass torts at both the state and federal level. Strengths: "Laura is an exceptional lawyer." "Laura is focused on results, smart, engaged, respectful and very client-focused. She is always willing to help with an issue as needed and I highly recommend her."

Mollie Benedict (see p.502) is a go-to lawyer for pharmaceutical manufacturers facing complex product liability claims and frequently serves as trial counsel and in national coordinating roles in multidistrict litigation. Strengths: "Mollie is an excellent lawyer." Michael Zellers (see p.741) comes recommended for his representation of clients facing challenging litigation at both the state and national level, regularly handling large MDLs. Strengths: "Michael has extensive subject matter knowledge, he's very patient and has the credibility to represent the company."

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable is highlighted for its enviable track record of trial success in major pharmaceutical disputes, with niche expertise in vaccine litigation. Highly experienced team that is particularly commended for its in-depth understanding of the scientific issues underpinning complex product claims. Regularly called upon to act in federal multidistrict litigation and is equally adept in a national coordination and trial counsel role.

Strengths

"Venable is a predominant firm with great expert knowledge on a wide range of issues."

"Venable handles complex topics, provides a very good level of detail and very good service."

"Venable is a very strong firm with a range of really good litigators and a bench of expert lawyers. The team is very good on strategy, tactical in approach and very good as a firm in getting ahead of the science."

Work highlights Venable defended Venator Corporation against two lawsuits that alleged exposure to the company's wood products which caused the plaintiffs personal injury or illness and other hazards.

Notable practitioners

Bruce Parker (see p.662) frequently acts as national counsel on major pharmaceutical MDLs, with the ability to handle complex science and medical issues in these cases. Strengths: "Bruce is an excellent trial lawyer and an expert on experts." Craig Thompson (see p.1930) is best known for his strengths in medical device and drug cases, in which he often acts as national counsel. Strengths: "Craig has a stellar reputation as a lead trial lawyer." "Craig is an excellent strategist and trial lawyer." "He is a solid trial lawyer in this area who is incredibly personable and professional." Steve Marshall (see p.632) is widely recognized for his strength as a trial lawyer in high-profile medical and science cases, including pharmaceutical mass torts. Strengths: "Steve is very bright and I have high regard for him." "He is highly regarded, a great strategist and excellent in court."

Watkins & Eager PLLC

What the team is known for Watkins & Eager represents an impressive roster of product manufacturers from the automotive, pharmaceutical and transportation sectors. It has notable experience in mass torts and multidistrict litigation, as well as knowledge of asbestos matters. The team also has broad expertise in appellate and trial settings along with claims investigation matters.

Strengths

"The firm handles very complex litigation cases with extreme competency. I have worked with several members of the team at various levels of seniority and they provide high-level advice."

"Watkins & Eager provides top-notch customer service. Their experience and expertise in oddball product liability matters is exceptional."

Notable practitioners

David Ayers acts for automotive manufacturers in personal injury and mass tort claims, including cases in several overseas jurisdictions. Strengths: "He has a great strategic sense, he's well known and retains a lot of credibility in the courts. He is experienced, works well with our team and is always responsive. He is a tremendous asset for us." "David is known for his trial work." "David is a fantastic lawyer." Lanier Brown is an experienced litigator who represents clients in the automobile sector, with expertise covering wrongful death and personal injury claims. Strengths: "He is very experienced in this space and he does a fantastic job." "He has an excellent reputation. He's a successful trial attorney who leaves a positive impression."

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges has a strong trial group with notable skills in class action litigation. It represents a series of high-profile consumer product manufacturers, most significantly in the automobile, energy and pharmaceutical sectors. The firm's national coverage allows it to defend class actions across key jurisdictions including California, New Jersey and DC. It has further strength in mass torts and anti-trust litigation.

Strengths

"The firm is actively engaged and extremely responsive and has a demonstrated ability to balance legal and commercial considerations."

"Weil Gotshal is strongly recommended. The team for class action product liability are experts within the relevant regulatory specialty and thoughtful in their responses."

"It's a very experienced team that is easy to communicate with. Weil Gotshal are at the top of the field in this practice area."

Work highlights Weil Gotshal served as lead defense counsel to ExxonMobil in litigation commenced by states and municipalities seeking recoveries for alleged contamination of groundwater by MTBE.

Notable practitioners

Diane Sullivan (see p.713) is an esteemed trial lawyer with experience acting as lead counsel on numerous market-leading mass torts. Alongside her experience in representing Fortune 500 companies on nationwide talc litigation, she is also active in environmental and natural resource cases. Strengths: "Diane is an effective lawyer."

"She is a great and active attorney."

Weitz & Luxenberg, PC

What the team is known for Weitz & Luxenberg is a highly regarded plaintiff-side firm regularly seen in complex litigation, recognized for its success in personal injury matters and high-value settlements. The firm offers excellent capabilities in product liability cases, representing plaintiffs in a wide array of disputes, including those involving automobiles and pharmaceuticals.

Notable practitioners

Arthur Luxenberg is a key contact.

Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP

What the team is known for Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell has a high-quality trial practice, fielding an impressive bench of expert product liability attorneys. Maintains a broad caseload of disputes spanning all major product lines, including medical device and pharmaceutical cases. Frequently retained in major consumer class actions and wrongful death claims arising from the automotive industry. Also offers product liability expertise to manufacturing clients.

Strengths

"The lawyers are client-focused problem solvers who can deal with complex legal issues, internal client dynamics and have the bandwidth for complex litigation."

"Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell does a great job and makes strategic decisions."

"The team is extremely practical in how they interact with clients, has excellent commercial awareness and is willing to manage and structure files in an extremely practical manner, which puts our benefit at the top of the pyramid."

Work highlights Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell won a complete defense verdict in a 12-day wrongful death trial in North Carolina. The plaintiff claimed his mesothelioma was caused by his work with Pneumo Abex's friction materials which are used in various truck brake systems.

Notable practitioners

Michael O'Donnell is experienced across both mass torts and consumer class actions, with additional expertise defending major corporations facing consumer product litigation. Strengths: "He's an excellent negotiator and strategy lead for the company." "Michael works on some great cases. He is experienced and talented." Michael Williams is widely regarded as a leading class action defense lawyer and is regularly called upon by multinational consumer product manufacturers.

Strengths: "Michael does a very good job, is very good on communication and well organized." John Fitzpatrick is a seasoned trial lawyer who is best recognized for his strength in toxic torts such as asbestos cases. His experience includes acting as national counsel for several manufacturing clients. Peter Herzog impresses with the caliber of his litigation practice, which is particularly strong in class actions. His diverse industry expertise includes experience in energy and automotive cases. Strengths: "Peter is talented in all phases of litigation." James Hooper is well regarded for his strength across a range of product liability disputes, including asbestos litigation, pharmaceutical cases and toxic torts. Strengths: "James stands out as an excellent lawyer."

Wilkinson Stekloff LLP

What the team is known for Wilkinson Stekloff is a prominent firm with a top bench of trial lawyers. Best known for acting as trial counsel in bellwether pharmaceutical MDLs, in which the firm frequently acts for blue-chip clients. Further areas of expertise include toxic torts, tobacco litigation and concussion injury cases.

Strengths

"The firm is a powerhouse that handles complex and sophisticated matters in a strategic manner. As a trial boutique, it has excellent depth in managing national strategy to advising clients on complex litigation. The firm is also extremely responsive and provides the highest quality of service."

"They are extremely strategic, extremely experienced and feared by the plaintiffs Bar. The team is very well regarded and has insights to help contextualize massive cases."

"Wilkinson Stekloff has a deep and talented bench of litigators and specializes in high-stakes trials. They are extremely well prepared and diligent, with lots of trial experience."

Work highlights Wilkinson Stekloff represented 3M Corporation in multidistrict litigation alleging PFAS groundwater contamination from the use of aqueous film-forming foams.

Notable practitioners

Beth Wilkinson (see p.734) is a highly acclaimed trial lawyer with unparalleled expertise acting as lead trial counsel in bet-the-company pharmaceutical MDLs. Strengths: "Beth's skill set is beyond comprehension. She is just a brilliant trial lawyer and holds the jury in the palm of her hands. She is the best I have ever seen." "She presents a very fresh perspective, she's highly strategic and knows how to get results." "Beth is the best trial lawyer in the country, she is fantastic and practical."

Brian Stekloff (see p.711) has a significant reputation for acting as a trial lawyer across a number of mass torts, including on major pharmaceutical litigation. Strengths: "Brian is a tremendous trial lawyer and national counsel for various large mass tort litigations. Brian is very impressive, he's a great strategist and a really smart lawyer." "Brian is valuable in terms of being a lead strategic coordinator. His ability to see litigation as a whole and guide the cases sets him apart. We look to him for his leadership, great creativity and exceptional skill." "Brian has great judgment and is a very good strategist. He is also an excellent trial lawyer who knows how to talk to a jury and defend vigorously when appropriate." Keri Arnold (see p.493) is an accomplished trial lawyer with a wealth of expertise in complex product liability claims. She has handled cases on behalf of major names in the pharmaceutical and chemical sectors. Strengths: "She shines under adverse circumstances and handles adversity with grace, professionalism and really good trial skills." "Keri is an excellent trial lawyer who does a lot of the overall pretrial strategy, figuring out what the theme should be. She is fantastic to work with."

Williams & Connolly LLP

What the team is known for Williams & Connolly is a specialist litigation firm that houses an expert team with impressive trial experience. The firm frequently represents clients in the life sciences space, where it is noted for its long list of repeat mandates. It is adept at both trial counsel and coordinating counsel roles on major disputes. The team's broad product liability defense capabilities include acting on toxic tort claims, medical device cases and pharmaceutical litigation. It offers expertise handling all aspects of major product liability cases, including appellate proceedings and settlement negotiations.

Strengths

"Williams & Connolly handles some of the most complicated litigations in a lead role and has uniformly wonderful lawyers. The team provides outstanding service from our perspective."

"The team's analysis and strategies are insightful and collaborative."

Work highlights Williams & Connolly represented Gerber Products Company in litigation involving the company's baby food products, in which plaintiffs claimed that the baby food contained heavy metals that caused childhood autism and ADHD.

Notable practitioners

Douglas Marvin is a longstanding practitioner with significant experience as national coordinating counsel in mass torts. Heidi Hubbard remains first-choice trial counsel for clients facing significant MDLs, and is widely considered to be a leading figure in mass torts within the pharmaceutical space. Strengths: "Heidi is a good team player and known as a go-to trial attorney." "Heidi is an outstanding trial lawyer." Joseph Petrosinelli is well versed in disputes across federal and state courts, frequently defending against major MDLs for clients, particularly in pharmaceutical cases and toxic torts. Strengths: "He has good judgment and is trusted by adversaries and judges alike. He is good at resolving matters, good in the boardroom advising executives and has worked in a number of areas and excelled in all." "Joseph is collegial and collaborative." "Joe is the best MDL strategist in the country." Paul Boehm is a skilled litigator who is well versed in representing major multinational companies in product liability cases ranging from pharmaceutical litigation to toxic torts. Strengths: "Paul is really good at trial and motion strategy. He's a fantastic writer with lots of trial experience." "Paul is a smart, collaborative and effective attorney." "Paul is really insightful, strategic and helpful to his clients. He is very good before judges and provides a very polished presentation." Stephen Raber is recommended for his strength in pharmaceutical product liability, while also boasting skills in broader civil disputes taken to both trial and arbitration. Strengths: "Stephen is very skilled."

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn has a strong practice with expertise in federal multidistrict litigation and mass tort cases. Sought after by a wide range of clients from the pharmaceutical, medical device, aviation and automotive sectors. Has notable skills in a broad range of product liability matters including opiate litigation, failure-to-warn issues and mislabeling cases. Also offers expert counseling on environmental matters.

Strengths

"Winston & Strawn work on high-quality cases and are a big player in this space."

Notable practitioners

Sandra Edwards is a key contact.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Steve Berman has a strong track record in tobacco-related product liability disputes. He is also highly skilled in automotive cases and security settlements. He is managing partner and cofounder of Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro.

Strengths: "Steve enjoys a good reputation."

Andy Birchfield frequently acts on nationwide disputes, including high-profile cases in the pharmaceutical sector. He leads the mass torts division at Beasley, Allen, Crow, Methvin, Portis & Miles. Strengths: "Andy has a good reputation."

Kimberly Branscome (see p.511) is a well-regarded trial lawyer who has amassed a broad range of experience in mass torts and class actions. Her skills range from personal injury lawsuits in the automotive industry to toxic torts.

Strengths: "She is one of the leading lawyers in this space." "Kimberly is praiseworthy."

Sarah Carlson chairs the consumer product safety and advertising regulatory compliance practice at Dentons. Her expertise is frequently sought out by manufacturers, importers, distributors and retailers of consumer products in a wide range of regulatory matters and litigation. Strengths: "She is our go-to attorney and very knowledgeable about our products. She understands the business and regulatory issues we face." "We are extremely satisfied with Sarah's work. She is very creative, technical and efficient in relating her expertise to our objectives from a business perspective." "Sarah is a pragmatic attorney with a wealth of experience in product advertising and consumer fraud issues. She is a dedicated and enthusiastic advocate."

Ciresi Conlin cofounder Michael Ciresi (see p.2106) is a longstanding plaintiffs' practitioner who has acted on a series of bet-the-company class actions. He is also highly active in mass torts and is especially well recognized for his strength in tobacco litigation. Strengths: "Michael is a fantastic attorney."

Houston-based Porter Hedges partner Joseph Cohen garners praise for his expert representation of former senior company employees in large MDLs and mass torts, as well as acting for clients facing personal injury claims. Strengths: "Joe is an incredibly talented lawyer who puts his clients first and delivers outstanding service." "Joe is fantastic at what he does and has very deep knowledge of issues in the pharmaceutical industry." "He is a strong advocate for his clients, he's attentive and detail-oriented. He's also practical and responsive."

Lauren Colton leads Hogan Lovells' products law group and is commended for her handling of mass torts and class actions arising from the life sciences and pharmaceutical space. Strengths: "Lauren is very strategic, practical and really understands clients' needs. She is a sophisticated counsel in the US market." "She provides the highest level of service, she's very familiar with product liability law and is always thinking creatively and strategically to ensure the best outcome. We trust her guidance" and she successfully defends any matter she handles.”

Nancy Erfle (see p.548) is a partner at Gordon Rees Scully Mansukhani and is widely recognized for her strength in representing pharmaceutical and automotive clients in product liability cases and broader class actions. She is especially well known for her work in toxic torts such as talc litigation. Strengths: “Nancy is a fantastic trial lawyer and reputable too.”

Rodman & Rodman partner Kat Gallagher is a go-to trial lawyer in the product liability space, with particular expertise assisting clients through tobacco litigation.

Eric Gibbs of Gibbs Law Group LLP is a highly regarded litigator who focuses on the prosecution of an array of cases, including product liability. Strengths: “Eric is good in this space.” “He is a fantastic attorney.”

Stephen Herman (see p.1868) is a partner at Fishman Haygood LLP and is widely regarded for his strengths both within Louisiana and on nationwide litigation. He has acted on significant environmental mass torts as well as class actions and commercial litigation. Strengths: “Stephen is a fantastic lawyer.”

Cofounder of Kline & Specter, Thomas Kline has longstanding expertise in product liability and personal injury cases. He has achieved significant verdicts in medical device trials and is also experienced in pharmaceutical cases. Strengths: “Thomas is a very good attorney.”

Texas-based Zoe Littlepage is a partner at Littlepage Booth who is highly respected for her strength in mass torts, particularly in the pharmaceutical sector. Strengths: “Zoe is a good lawyer who has a good reputation.”

Belinda May (see p.635) of Dentons has significant experience advising a wide range of clients on consumer product safety matters and offers notable complementary expertise in responding to complex regulatory challenges. Strengths: “Belinda is fantastically knowledgeable about the product safety areas.” “She has expertise from the legal regulatory perspective and is very helpful in understanding and strategizing technical work.”

Karen Barth Menzies is an experienced practitioner in mass torts and personal injury cases, where she has acted on major pharmaceutical and medical device litigation. She is based in Oakland, California. Strengths: “Karen is a very strong lawyer.”

Dianne Nast is the founder of NastLaw and is well respected for her work in mass torts and commercial litigation, regularly acting on a broad range of cases including antitrust disputes and securities litigation. Strengths: “Dianne is a fantastic attorney.”

Leigh O'Dell has recognized strength in the mass torts and product liability space, with experience handling talc and medical device-related cases, among others. Strengths: “Leigh is an excellent attorney and highly recommended.”

Julie Park (see p.662) advises on class actions and mass torts across the products landscape, while also being able to provide counsel on regulatory matters. She operates across Morrison Foerster's San Diego and San Francisco offices. Strengths: “Julie is knowledgeable, accessible and very effective. She is well respected and can connect us to other expertise as needed.” “She works on very high-profile cases, she is very collaborative and does it in a very clear and thorough way. She has a great understanding from a legal and regulatory perspective and clients and government agencies trust her immensely with the process.”

Paul Pennock is a partner in Morgan & Morgan's New York office and regularly acts for clients in class actions and MDLs, with recent experience including disputes in the pharmaceutical and medical device sectors. Strengths: “Paul is very active on cases and very well known.”

Michael Sacchet (see p.688) is particularly highly regarded for his experience and capabilities representing plaintiffs in multidistrict product liability litigation. Strengths: “He is a wonderful, dependable attorney and an excellent oral advocate.” “Michael is an outstanding attorney.” “Michael has a keen intellect and brings creative ideas and rigor to his cases.”

Richard Sarver (see p.1877) regularly acts as a lead trial counsel in pharmaceutical MDLs, as well as assisting clients with environmental litigation and toxic torts. He is a founding member of Barrasso Usdin Kupperman Freeman & Sarver.

Steven Skikos is a widely respected lawyer who has a strong track record in pharmaceutical and medical device cases, including opioid litigation. He is a founding partner of Skikos, Crawford, Skikos & Joseph.

Tara Sutton stands out for the quality of her plaintiff-side representation in product liability litigation. She chairs the national mass tort litigation group at Robins Kaplan. Strengths: “She is fair, professional, collegial and a smart lawyer.” “Tara is very impressive.”

Andrew Tauber is well versed in acting as appellate counsel on a range of product liability matters, including environmental cases and medical device torts. He is a counsel in BCLP's Washington, DC office.

Alexandra Walsh, founder of Walsh Law, is focused on representing plaintiffs across a range of civil claims. She brings to bear longstanding trial experience in large-scale product liability disputes, as well as consumer fraud class actions.

Mikal Watts of Watts Law Firm in Texas takes on a wide range of work across the space, acting for clients in toxic tort, pharmaceutical and automotive litigation, as well as in personal injury claims. Strengths: “Mikal has an established career in this space.”

Charles Wilmore is an experienced trial lawyer with expertise handling a wide range of toxic tort cases involving chemical exposure and environmental contamination. He chairs the product liability, class action and toxic tort practice group at Liskow. Strengths: “He brings client-focused solutions and can handle long-term cases with multiple parties involved.” “He is an exceptional trial attorney and I have nothing but good things to say about his legal knowledge and advocacy skills.”

John Winter (see p.736) is a seasoned practitioner who frequently represents major multinational companies on pharmaceutical and medical device MDLs, with further experience in toxic torts. He is a partner at Patterson Belknap Webb & Tyler. Strengths: “John is an excellent lawyer in the product liability space.”

Projects Nationwide

Projects
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Shutran Richard Winston & Strawn LLP *
Miles Steven Baker Botts L.L.P. *	Weitzel Mark P Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Rod Jonathan Latham & Watkins LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Alexander Todd E Norton Rose Fulbright	Stirling Kelann Kirkland & Ellis *
Ayali Noam Norton Rose Fulbright	Webber Jason Latham & Watkins LLP *
Bartfeld Daniel D Milbank LLP *	Winburne Blake H Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Bice William B Milbank LLP *	Band 4
Chaudhry Rohit Kirkland & Ellis LLP	Adkins Jessica N Sidley Austin LLP *
Freedman Robert Paul Hastings LLP *	Ahlers Werner Federico Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *
Greenberg Jeffrey Latham & Watkins LLP *	Alexander Alan Vinson & Elkins LLP *
Martin Keith Norton Rose Fulbright	Archer Matt Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Michalchuk Daniel J Milbank LLP *	Arora Neeraj Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Urda Kassiss Cynthia A&O Shearman	Bean Lori Ann Clifford Chance US LLP
Band 2	Cross Christopher Latham & Watkins LLP *
Brasher Lance T Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *	Dalling Brandon King & Spalding LLP *
Czarniak Julia A Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Erlichman Ron Linklaters *
Galvis Sergio J Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *	Estes John E. Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *
Henegar Matthew Latham & Watkins LLP *	Estevez Roland Milbank LLP *
Higgins Tara A Sidley Austin LLP *	Filosa Richard Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Lilien Warren H Latham & Watkins LLP *	Fried Douglas M Norton Rose Fulbright
Mann Christopher L Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *	Hansen Kenneth W Norton Rose Fulbright
Pinkusiewicz Tomer Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *	Kamine Jorge Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Rafte G Alan Bracewell LLP *	Koenigsberg Benjamin Y Norton Rose Fulbright
Rowey Kent A&O Shearman *	Kraske Paul S Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Schroeder Jeff Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *	Lieberman David Simpson Thacher & Bartlett (ORL) ◇ *
Tan Gregory Paul Hastings LLP *	Maloney Amy C. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Band 3	Nashi Roald Kirkland & Ellis
Borisoff Alexander Milbank LLP *	Nolan Eamon Vinson & Elkins LLP
Bradshaw Brian A Sidley Austin LLP *	Pelham Webb Tristan King & Spalding LLP *
Dedania Chirag Latham & Watkins LLP *	Phelan Noreen Sidley Austin LLP *
Griskonis Marius Linklaters *	Raciti-Knapp Melissa Freshfields Bruckhaus (ORL) ◇ *
Marks Allan T Milbank LLP *	Ramirez Jaime Milbank LLP *
Millerman Elena White & Case LLP	Stephens Robert Sidley Austin LLP *
Monastyrskaya Tatiana Kirkland & Ellis LLP *	Tucker Hugh Haynes and Boone, LLP (ORL) ◇
Muller Michael Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Walther-Meade Carolina Milbank LLP *
Nyatta Inosi Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *	Up-and-coming individuals
Penna David J Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP (ORL) ◇ *	Compton Andrew Linklaters *
Smith Gregory K Morrison Foerster *	Leider Jeffrey Milbank LLP *
	O'Neill Sean Milbank LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

* Indicates individual with profile.

♦ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

A&O Shearman

What the team is known for The firm is well known for acting on a large number of innovative PPP projects across the USA. It possesses substantial expertise across transportation, energy and social infrastructure sectors. The team offers market-leading representation to sponsors, lenders and public sector clients. Its capabilities include PPP financed projects including railways, highways, bridges as well as various social infrastructure. The firm is further noted for PPP work in South America and other developing markets. Its attorneys advise clients on both secondary trades in brownfield assets as well as greenfield project development matters. The firm possesses enviable expertise in the agency finance space and is frequently sought to assist with the most complex financing and development matters on behalf of export credit agencies, development finance institutions and multilateral agencies. The firm is well regarded for its strength in mining work across the globe.

On 1 May 2024, Allen & Overy and Shearman & Sterling merged to form A&O Shearman.

Strengths

"The team has strong industry knowledge."

"The firm have a spectacular team."

Work highlights The firm advised Tokyo Gas America in connection with the tax equity financing of the 500 MW Aktina solar facility in southeastern Texas.

Notable practitioners

Jean Lee (see p.619) has considerable experience advising agency lenders, export credit agencies and other lenders on project financing and invest-

Projects: Agency Financing
Leading Firms
Band 1
A&O Shearman
Clifford Chance US LLP
Morrison Foerster
White & Case LLP
Band 2
Hogan Lovells
Milbank LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
McCarthy Catherine Clifford Chance US LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Bean Lori Ann Clifford Chance US LLP
Borisoff Alexander Milbank LLP*
Hechl Thomas Hogan Lovells
Lee Jean A&O Shearman*
Lilienthal Ann Morrison Foerster*
Longhin Fabricio Clifford Chance US LLP
Martinez Ricardo Hogan Lovells US LLP
Menski Martin White & Case LLP
Mir Sami A&O Shearman*
Perry Suzanne White & Case LLP*
Smith Gregory K Morrison Foerster*
Springsteen Jessica Clifford Chance US LLP*

ment in the international market, including expertise in Latin America, Africa and Asia. Strengths: "Jean is exceptional." Sami Mir (see p.644) works with agencies operating across the Americas in the most sophisticated of agency-backed financings for large energy and infrastructure projects. Strengths: "Sami is always responsive and constructive." Cynthia Urda Kassiss is widely renowned for her expert representation of lenders and borrowers in international project finance across the mining sector. Strengths: "Cynthia is an outstanding lawyer." Paul Epstein is equally adept at advising public bodies and lenders on the development and financing of PPP projects. He is particularly skilled at handling transportation sector projects. Strengths: "Paul goes above and beyond to provide valued insights and excellent service." Kent Rowey (see p.685) has a stellar reputation in the PPP market and is frequently sought after to handle the most complex of projects. He has particular knowledge of university-level power projects. Jillian Ashley (see p.493) handles the financing of a range of PPP projects including university utilities. She represents both developers and lenders. Matthew Nesburn is notable for his expertise across the full range of renewables asset types. He counsels clients at all stages of a project including handling both financing and development aspects.

Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP

What the team is known for Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP is an impressive boutique focusing on projects and transactional services in the renewables and alternative energy sector. It offers expertise encompassing the financing, development

Projects: LNG
Leading Firms
Band 1
Baker Botts L.L.P.
King & Spalding LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Band 2
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
White & Case LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Miles Steven Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Rod Jonathan Latham & Watkins LLP*
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Ayali Noam Norton Rose Fulbright
Bennett Jason Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Greer Scott A. King & Spalding LLP*
Jetter David Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Nyatta Inosi Sullivan & Cromwell LLP*
Band 2
Armstrong David P. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher*
Bradshaw Brian A. Sidley Austin LLP*
Brasher Mark Vinson & Elkins LLP
Mayo Julie Hutchings Baker Botts L.L.P.
Webber Jason Latham & Watkins LLP*
Band 3
Holmberg Thomas Baker Botts L.L.P.*
Hwang Monica O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Lang David A. King & Spalding LLP*
Myers Ingrid A. King & Spalding LLP*
Peponis Christopher Latham & Watkins LLP*
Strickland David White & Case LLP*
Up-and-coming individuals
Fusina Matthew Baker Botts L.L.P.*
<small>* Indicates individual with profile.</small>
<small>Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.</small> and structuring as well as acquisition and sale of power generation infrastructure. The firm is capable of handling matters involving commercial, industrial and utility-scale solar and wind assets as well as energy storage solutions.

Strengths

"The team are incredibly experienced, commercially-minded, solutions-oriented and up to speed on the latest market trends."

Work highlights Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP represented Sterling Power in the development financing facility of up to $25,000,000 for the development for sale of a portfolio of 61 solar plus battery energy storage projects.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Amis, chair of the firm, has a strong track record assisting clients in the renewable power sector across the whole project life cycle from financing and development to sales and acquisitions. Rusty Brewer has expertise spanning the development, financing, acquisition and sale of wind and solar projects. He represents both developers and investors. Strengths: "Rusty is just superb; really good at finding ways around sticking points that don't give away the farm."

Projects: Mining & Metals
Leading Firms
Band 1
A&O Shearman
Milbank LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

Nikesh Patel's renewables practice covers the development, financing and sale of wind, solar and battery storage projects. Strengths: "Nikesh is very knowledgeable, client-focused and has strong judgement."

Ashurst

What the team is known for Ashurst is well regarded in the PPP arena where the team is active on transportation, infrastructure and service-based contracts. The team frequently represents sponsors and bidders but is also capable in the debtor and underwriter counsel roles. It has a very strong public side representation including for government authorities and cities while also boasting top-draw private developer clients. The firm is also noted for handling social infrastructure PPPs.

Strengths

"Ashurst brings a very strong understanding of the latest trends in PPP agreements and the listens well to the unique needs of the client. It shows a strong level of commercial awareness in its ability to provide guidance on common and uncommon challenges."

"Ashurst provides great legal advice. They are very respectful of different perspectives and do a great job drafting contracts."

Work highlights Ashurst represented the New Jersey Economic Development Authority as special counsel in its development, construction and operation of the first purpose-built, greenfield port for offshore wind on the East Coast.

Notable practitioners

Betty Cerini's broad experience includes advising on both the development and financing of an array of PPP projects. She is notable for her expertise in social infrastructure projects. Anna Hermelin frequently represents public sector clients in the project financing of transport and social infrastructure projects. Strengths: "Anna brings a wealth of knowledge and understanding." "Anna is smart, responsive and has an incredible memory." Andrew Smith represents funders, procuring authorities and sponsors on a range of PPP-funded infrastructure projects. Strengths: "Andrew is a super person to work with. He is extremely knowledgeable, has great people skills and is very patient." Matthew Rickards expertly represents his clients in PPP financings including toll roads, express lanes and broadband infrastructure.

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. is highly regarded for its deep roots advising clients involved in the oil and gas industries. It represents developers and producers on major downstream assets ranging from LNG processing facilities to oil and petrochemical processing plants. The team is also capable of advising clients on DrillCo transactions for the development of upstream oil

Projects: Oil & Gas
Leading Firms
Band 1
Latham & Watkins LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Band 2
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Milbank LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 3
Bracewell LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP

and gas fields. It is particularly strong on LNG sale and purchase agreements, and export terminal and regasification facilities development. The firm possesses a growing strength in the renewable power space.

Strengths

"Baker Botts is really at the forefront of the LNG space."

"Baker Botts has a deep and talented team."

Work highlights Baker Botts L.L.P. assisted Mexico Pacific Limited with drafting and negotiating LNG sale and purchase agreements and providing other project development advice for its proposed Saguaro Energía LNG liquefaction project in Sonora, Mexico.

Notable practitioners

Steven Miles (see p.643) has substantial experience advising on the financing and development of the most complex and high value LNG infrastructure projects. Jason Bennett (see p.502) is a strong performer in domestic and international LNG infrastructure development. He works with an impressive client base on large-scale projects.

Strengths: "With no exception, I want Jason on my team and not across the table representing the other party in a negotiation. Jason understands key commercial and technical matters related to LNG."

David Jetter (see p.596) has an impressive track record advising clients across numerous LNG projects, both domestic and international. He is particularly knowledgeable of the Latin American market. Strengths: "What I like about David is he's very organized, has a high attention to detail and will really go the extra mile." "David has a positive approach and tremendous experience." "David is the best of the best when it comes to LNG." Julie Hutchings Mayo has experience advising on the financing and development of LNG infrastructure, including liquefaction facilities, receiving terminals and pipelines. Thomas Holmberg (see p.587) is commended for his excellent work on the development of LNG assets such as export facilities, regasification units and liquefaction projects.

Strengths: "Thomas is a fantastic lawyer, experienced, commercial and client-focused." Mona Dajani (see p.535) is well versed in the project financing of renewable assets such as wind, solar and battery storage. Strengths: "The strengths of Mona are her intelligence and experience in energy and energy infrastructure related matters, particularly renewables." Matthew Fusina (see p.561) concentrates his practice in the LNG sector, regularly advising clients on project financings and development matters. Strengths: "Matthew is a very smart and diligent lawyer." "Matthew is a great

Projects: Power
Leading Firms
Band 1
Latham & Watkins LLP
Milbank LLP
Band 2
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 3
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
<small>* Indicates individual with profile.</small>
<small>Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.</small> commercial lawyer – very experienced, knowledgeable and client-focused.”

Ballard Spahr LLP

What the team is known for Ballard Spahr LLP demonstrates strength across an array of PPP projects from highways and train stations to university utilities and student housing. The team is highly experienced at representing both private and public sponsors at each step of the project life cycle and equally skilled at lender representation.

Strengths

“The team understands the market, issues and provides practical advice and guidance to reach desired goals.”

“Ballard Spahr has a very knowledgeable and experienced team.”

“Ballard Spahr provides quality services in a timely fashion, while always being extremely responsive.”

Work highlights Ballard Spahr LLP represented the University of Florida in connection with the design-build-finance-operate-maintain PPP development of a new central energy plant on its Gainesville, Florida campus.

Notable practitioners

Steve Park offers expert representation to clients spanning the transportation, education and power sectors, with a particular focus on the developer side. Strengths: “Steve understands the commercial realities of all sides involved, strongly representing his own client’s interests and working to a commercially viable deal for all parties.” John Smolen adeptly represents developer clients in the financing of PPP projects including higher education utilities, highways and student housing. Strengths: “John is very client-focused.”

Bracewell LLP

What the team is known for Bracewell LLP has a skilled oil and gas practice that is frequently seen on upstream and midstream asset development. One of its major strengths is gas and liquids pipeline finance and construction. The firm is also competent on downstream projects covering refineries and petrochemical facilities. The firm regularly handles the sale and acquisition of portfolios and single asset renewable energy projects. The firm has further capabilities in the PPP space handling projects such as schools, highways and higher education utilities.

Strengths

Projects
Power & Renewables: Transactional
Leading Firms
Band 1
Latham & Watkins LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Band 2
A&O Shearman
Milbank LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 3
Bracewell LLP
Foley & Lardner LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Linklaters
Mayer Brown LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
McGuireWoods LLP
Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Alexander Todd E Norton Rose Fulbright
Chandler Trina Latham & Watkins LLP*
Chester Jeffrey A Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Gathright Bradford Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Griskonis Marius Linklaters*
Higgins Tara A Sidley Austin LLP*
Sahely Kaam Vinson & Elkins LLP
Schultz Ethan M. Latham & Watkins LLP*
Winburne Blake H Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 2
Atkin Jeffery R. Foley & Lardner LLP
Birenbaum Jonathan Winston & Strawn LLP*
Diffen Becky H Norton Rose Fulbright
Hanigan Elizabeth P. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Pogue Eric R Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP*
Rotter Irving L Sidley Austin LLP*
Seeger Kristin Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Thompson Dahl Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Varnell Danielle Bracewell LLP*
Zaelke Edward W McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Band 3
Azar Raymond White & Case LLP
Fleming Carl McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Gladbach Christopher McDermott Will & Emery LLP*
Hinds Elliot D Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP*
Lucan Andrea Wang Sidley Austin LLP*
Marshall Peter Vinson & Elkins LLP
Melmed Jonathan MA King & Spalding LLP*
Nese Brian Stoel Rives LLP*
Nolan Eamon Vinson & Elkins LLP
Patel Nikesh R Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP
Patterson Danielle Vinson & Elkins LLP
Phelan Noreen Sidley Austin LLP*
Politan Nicholas Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Sinaiko Daniel Latham & Watkins LLP*
Woodard Michael B. McGuireWoods LLP*
Up-and-coming individuals
Gibbons Louise Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Mendoza Kristin Kirkland & Ellis*
Sheldon Laura Bracewell LLP

Projects: PPP
Leading Firms
Band 1
Ashurst
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
Nossaman LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 2
A&O Shearman
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
O’Melveny & Myers LLP
White & Case LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Band 3
Ballard Spahr LLP
Kaplan Kirsch LLP
Milbank LLP
Band 4
Bracewell LLP
Jones Day

“The Bracewell team have an excellent command of precedents and how the market is evolving.”

Work highlights Bracewell LLP represented Competitive Power Ventures in the acquisition of four operating wind farms in Maine from Patriot Renewables and other project owners.

Notable practitioners

Highly regarded for his oil and gas industry expertise, Alan Rafte (see p.673) frequently handles high value and complex project financing for prominent sector clients. He also advises on development aspects of upstream and midstream projects. Danielle Varnell (see p.726) is sought out by industry clients for her skilled representation in the sale and acquisition of wind, solar and battery storage projects. She has additional strength in project development. Strengths: “Danielle is very smart and responsive and client-focused.” Fernando Rodriguez-Marin (see p.682) has deep experience representing lenders and investors in the bid process and the financing of PPP projects in the US. He has notable expertise in developments in the transportation sector. Strengths: “Fernando is a great lawyer; well-balanced in his considerations and always searching for solutions to resolve challenging issues for his clients.”

Nicolai Sarad (see p.690) has particular strengths advising on the PPP financing and development of large road projects alongside his broader infrastructure expertise. Strengths: “Nicolai is commercially astute.” Laura Sheldon assists her clients with the A&D of renewable energy assets. Strengths: “Laura has a great legal mind.”

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance LLP expertly represents development banks, multi-lateral agencies and export credit agencies in international project development and financing. The firm is particularly active in South America, especially in the Colombian and Argentine markets, with further expertise across Africa. It offers expertise spanning an impressive breadth of project types including transportation, conventional power and renewable energy infrastructure.

Work highlights Clifford Chance advised the

Projects: PPP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Mathews Daniel A Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Yarema Geoffrey S Nossaman LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Harder Patrick D Norton Rose Fulbright
Lee Young J Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Mirchandani Dolly White & Case LLP
Pinkusiewicz Tomer Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Rowey Kent A&O Shearman *
Seliga Joseph Mayer Brown LLP*
Band 2
Buchanan Douglas B Norton Rose Fulbright
Epstein Paul A&O Shearman
Fried Douglas M Norton Rose Fulbright
Girdhari Anita Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Horner David Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Kojima Yukiko Nossaman LLP
Marks Allan T Milbank LLP*
Narefsky David Mayer Brown LLP*
O'Neill John Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Park Steve T. Ballard Spahr LLP
Pikiel, Jr. Michael E. Winston & Strawn LLP*
Richards Eric A S O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Wagner Stephanie Mayer Brown LLP*
Band 3
Allison Barney Nossaman LLP
Blais Andrée Nossaman LLP
Boock Corey Nossaman LLP
Cerini Betty Ashurst
Devlin Roderick N. Nixon Peabody LLP*
Giuliano Adam Kaplan Kirsch LLP
Hermelin Anna Ashurst
Raytis Denise O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Sedlak Brian L Jones Day
Smith Andrew Ashurst
Band 4
Ashley Jillian A&O Shearman*
Butzin Brent Nossaman LLP*
Cousins Elizabeth Nossaman LLP
Dubeck Elizabeth O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Falk Jacob S. Norton Rose Fulbright
Hansen Kenneth W Norton Rose Fulbright
Holzrichter Mitchell D Mayer Brown LLP*
Murphy Toren Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
Neuringer Matthew Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Rickards Matthew Ashurst
Rodriguez Marin Fernando Bracewell LLP*
Sarad Nicolai J Bracewell LLP*
Smolen John Ballard Spahr LLP
Tan Gregory Paul Hastings LLP*
Up-and-coming individuals
Balassiano Evelyn White & Case LLP
Boyne Victoria Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Head Jamie Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Micovic Andrej Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Pedraza Ryan Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP*
Shapiro Daniel Winston & Strawn LLP*
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Department of Energy Loan Programs Office on a $2.5 billion loan to Ultium Cells LLC to help finance the construction of new lithium-ion battery cell manufacturing facilities in Ohio, Tennessee and Michigan.

Projects: Renewables & Alternative Energy
Leading Firms
Band 1
Latham & Watkins LLP
Milbank LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 2
A&O Shearman
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Band 3
Kirkland & Ellis
Mayer Brown LLP
Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Stoel Rives LLP
Band 4
Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP
Foley & Lardner LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Troutman Pepper
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Band 5
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Husch Blackwell LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Nixon Peabody LLP
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

Notable practitioners

Catherine McCarthy is a strong player in the international project finance space. She has a wealth of experience advising multilaterals and export credit agencies, particularly on renewable energy infrastructure projects. Fabrizio Longhin advises on agency-backed international project financings in the energy and infrastructure sectors. He has considerable expertise in Latin American jurisdictions, in particular Colombia and Argentina. Jessica Springsteen (see p.709) frequently represents development banks and export credit agencies in international project financings. She has experience handling projects in the transportation and renewable energy sectors. Lori Ann Bean has notable prowess in the agency finance space with considerable expertise in advising on energy and transportation projects. She is particularly commended for her work on the development of innovative financing structures.

Foley & Lardner LLP

What the team is known for Foley & Lardner LLP's expertise handling project development and A&D makes it a strong choice for clients active in the renewable energy space. The team shows particular expertise in acting for some of the largest solar energy companies. It offers tax support and extensive regulatory experience. The team ably advises clients on evolving technologies in the alternative energy market.

Strengths

"Foley has an ability to solve complex transactions in an efficient manner with the client always at the forefront."

"The team are always very responsive and attentive to all of our needs no matter the time sensitivity."

"The team have a lot of practical experience, are very thoughtful and extreme knowledgeable of details and market trends."

Notable practitioners

Jeffery Atkin handles a broad array of transactional mandates in the renewables space including the acquisition and sale of single assets and portfolios, with particular strength in utility-scale solar deals. Strengths: "Jeffery is super in tune with what is happening in the industry. He knows what is going on and can anticipate twists, turns and risks in market" Thomas Hoffmann has a strong presence in the renewables market and frequently advises clients on a broad array of financing and development matters. Jocelyn Lavallo is noted for her representation of lenders in project financings for renewable generation assets. Darin Lowder handles a range of project financings in the renewable energy space, regularly representing the lender.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP is very well thought of in the PPP arena for road, airport and infrastructure projects. The firm is highly regarded for expertise in the USA and in South America. Its noted skills include the initial bidding process and refinancing.

Strengths

"The firm's depth of experience in numerous PPP projects makes them a preeminent team in the industry."

"Gibson Dunn is adept at providing legal advice, but more importantly how to strategize solutions to complex and sophisticated matters, this goes well beyond their ability to interpret a contract or case law. They can draw on deep experience and a variety of specialists depending on the matter at hand."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP represented Poseidon Resources, a private water project developer, on its $328.5 million debt financing that will be used for various ongoing projects at the Claude "Bud" Lewis Carlsbad Desalination Plant.

Notable practitioners

Anita Girdhari (see p.567) has notable expertise in the development and financing of complex PPP infrastructure projects in the domestic and Latin American markets. Strengths: "Anita is very knowledgeable and goes deep into the weeds - knows everything back and forth. She is great in complex situations and is excellent to work with."

Tomer Pinkusiewicz (see p.669) has considerable prowess in the PPP market, where he expertly advises developers, investors and consortiums on some of their most complex projects.

Strengths: "Tomer is an absolute 'knock it out of the park' advisor. He has a tremendous depth in the space and his client service is very strong. There is no problem he can't solve." Nicholas Politan (see p.670) skillfully represents large clients in the acquisition and divestiture of solar and wind generation assets. Toren Murphy (see p.649) has experience assisting developer clients with the

Projects: Renewables & Alternative Energy
Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Weitzel Mark P Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Sherman Leslie E Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Eminent Practitioners
Tynion James Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Amis R Thomas Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Ratts Andrew Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Martin Keith Norton Rose Fulbright	Shimamoto Sean Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *
Band 1	Band 4
Alexander Todd E Norton Rose Fulbright	Adkins Jessica N Sidley Austin LLP *
Chaudhry Rohit Kirkland & Ellis LLP	Alcala Marissa Norton Rose Fulbright
Duff Michael Milbank LLP *	Astolfi Paul Mayer Brown LLP *
Eberhardt Robert Kirkland & Ellis LLP *	Boose Justin Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇
Glasecock Thomas B Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Cataldo Kelly Latham & Watkins LLP *
Katz Eli M Latham & Watkins LLP *	Collins Lauren A. Vinson & Elkins LLP
Moore Christopher J Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Dajani Mona E Baker Botts L.L.P. *
Moran Sean M Vinson & Elkins LLP	Henegar Matthew Latham & Watkins LLP *
Pogue Eric R Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *	Hunt Paul J Latham & Watkins LLP *
Rossi Laurae Winston & Strawn LLP *	Kamyans Sam Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Band 2	Karp Joseph Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Bice William B Milbank LLP *	Kaufman Paul Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Burton David Norton Rose Fulbright	Klaus Michael Milbank LLP *
Chida Junaid H O'Melveny & Myers LLP	Lorenz Geoffrey Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Eliason John Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Lowder Darin Foley & Lardner LLP
Gillespie Katherine Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton	Marriott Chad Stoel Rives LLP *
Glass Todd Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati	Masri Michael Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Goldberg Robert S Mayer Brown LLP *	Moniri Aryan Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *
Jones Laura Ellen Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *	Mostow Peter Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Joyce Michael Vinson & Elkins LLP	Nazif Omar Latham & Watkins LLP *
Koenigsberg Benjamin Y Norton Rose Fulbright	Nesburn Matthew A&O Shearman
Leonti John J Troutman Pepper *	Pearson Kevin Stoel Rives LLP *
Mertens Alexandra Stoel Rives LLP *	Petersen Laurette N. Sheppard, Mullin, Richter
Patel Nikesh R Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP	Prince Aaron Vinson & Elkins LLP *
Schroeder Jeff Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *	Rosenberg Amanda Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Sinaiko Daniel Latham & Watkins LLP *	Scott Henry T Milbank LLP *
Zaelke Edward W McDermott Will & Emery LLP *	Stephens Eric Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 3	Tingle Philip McDermott Will & Emery LLP *
Arora Neeraj Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Wendling Timothy K. Milbank LLP *
Brewer Rusty Amis, Patel & Brewer, LLP	Zaifman Hagai Sidley Austin LLP *
Callahan Timothy P McGuireWoods LLP *	Zarnowiecki Paul Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Davis Jeffrey White & Case LLP	Up-and-coming individuals
Emehelu Ikenna Akin (ORL) ◇	Berger James Norton Rose Fulbright
Griskonis Marius Linklaters *	Garcia Earley Alejandra Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe
Hoffmann Thomas Foley & Lardner LLP	Griffin Adam Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Kalra Amit Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP	Heideman Josh Vinson & Elkins LLP *
Klugman Nadav White & Case LLP	Hillman Richard Milbank LLP *
Kobos Adam C. Troutman Pepper *	Kim April Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Lavallo Jocelyn Foley & Lardner LLP	Leveck Katarzyna Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton
Lefko Hilary Norton Rose Fulbright	Opadiran Nike Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Nese Brian Stoel Rives LLP *	Sachdev Rohit Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

* Indicates individual with profile.

◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

financing and acquisition of PPP projects in a variety of sectors. Strengths: "Toren is very commercial."

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig possesses significant strength handling the acquisition and sale of wind and solar projects. The team is capable of advising on single asset and portfolio transactions. In addition to the firm's renewable energy expertise, it has experience in the conventional power space.

Strengths

"The Greenberg team are very responsive and offer an excellent client service."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented Ameren in Build Transfer Agreement for Boomtown, a 150 MW solar project located in MISO.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Chester has a wealth of experience handling renewable energy transactions, with particular strengths in advising on the purchase and sale of existing and development-stage wind and solar assets. Strengths: "Jeffrey is extremely responsive and commercially-minded and focused on the true substantive issues to allow transaction to close expediently." April Kim is an up-and-coming attorney recognized for her renewable projects practice. She is particularly commended for her tax equity expertise. Strengths: "April is collaborative, thoughtful and reasonable."

Hogan Lovells

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells is commended for representation of domestic and international export credit agencies and development finance institutions in projects around the globe. Its clients benefit from firmwide capabilities in international trade and government relations.

Strengths

"Hogan Lovells has a great ability to handle complex transactions and has a good bench of specialists that can come into play whenever needed."

Notable practitioners

Thomas Hechl's clients benefit from his considerable experience representing agency lenders on an array of projects across the globe. Ricardo Martinez routinely handles the financing of energy projects for agency lenders. He has recent experience assisting on transactions in Asia and South America. Strengths: "Ricardo's advice is always solution-oriented and efficient."

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP is highly respected for its work on tax equity matters in the renewables space, where the team frequently represents large financial institutions. It garners praise for its deep understanding of the tax code and knowledge of key federal actors. The firm appears on high-stakes conventional power facility development and financing, on which it acts for sponsor-side and lender-side clients. It offers additional strength representing clients in complex PPP transactions.

Strengths

"Hunton provides excellent service at all levels, from junior staff to partners."

"The team is comprised of inventive and proactive problem solvers."

"The team had excellent industry knowledge."

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP represented the tax equity investor in connection with the project financing of the Edwards Sanborn Solar and Battery Storage Facility in Kern County, California.

Notable practitioners

David Horner (see p.589) has considerable experience advising on the financing and development of PPP infrastructure projects. Strengths: "David offers an exceptional skill-set and personalized service." "David is highly responsive, whip-smart and shrewd, with excellent client skills." Laura Ellen Jones (see p.598) is an impressive performer in the renewables sector, providing expert advice on a broad array of tax credit matters relating to the development and financing of solar, wind, biomass and other assets. John O'Neill (see p.657) is head of the PPP and infrastructure group at the firm. He counsels clients on the financing and development of projects spanning the social infrastructure and transportation sectors. Strengths: "John is hugely experienced in projects and has a fantastic commercial sense." Jeff Schroeder (see p.693) is head of the firm's energy and infrastructure practice. He has considerable expertise in project finance and development, particularly in the renewables sector. Strengths: “Jeff is always always thoughtful and solution-oriented.” Geoffrey Lorenz (see p.626) handles the financing and acquisition of US solar and wind assets for investor clients. Jamie Head (see p.581) is noted for his strength assisting public and private industry participants with infrastructure financings. He has strength in PPP transactions pertaining to transportation and utility assets. Strengths: “Jamie is fantastic. He has a great presentation style and is able to distill very complex topics into easily digestible talking points.” “Jamie is the lawyer you want to have representing you on deals. He is highly thoughtful on complex structuring and drafting matters, but also a highly effective negotiator.” Andrej Micovic (see p.642)’s PPP practice sees him advise on a range of transport infrastructure projects including railways, bridges and stations. Strengths: “Andrej is very commercial and a pleasure to work with.” Ryan Pedraza (see p.665) is a development and finance lawyer with a focus on PPP projects in the infrastructure space. He is experienced across a range of transportation projects including railways, roads and bridges. Strengths: “Ryan is diligent, knowledgeable and an excellent communicator.”

Husch Blackwell LLP

What the team is known for Husch Blackwell LLP regularly represents clients in the tax equity financing of renewable energy assets. It has strength across wind, solar and battery storage assets. It is highly capable representing both developers and financial institutions including those involving utility-scale projects.

Strengths

“The firm’s legal advice is not only technically sound but also pragmatically tailored to align with our business objectives and the realities of the market.” “Husch Blackwell has a sophisticated and knowledgeable team who can support complex matters.”

Work highlights Husch Blackwell LLP advised a renewable energy fund led by Churchill Stateside Group in the closing of a tax equity investment for two standalone utility-scale battery storage projects.

Notable practitioners

Chicago-based Jai Khanna is a key contact

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day offers notable capabilities across a range of PPP projects, with particular experience working with well-known clients in the higher education sector. The team has particular expertise in university utility systems.

Strengths

“Jones Day provides exceptional work product and services on a consistent basis. I know any time we make a request, they always deliver.”

Work highlights Jones Day advised Vanderbilt University on the possible engagement of a private concessionaire to operate and improve its utility assets through a PPP structure over a long term.

Notable practitioners

Brian Sedlak is particularly noted for his handling of PPP structuring for campus-based energy solutions. Strengths: “Brian is a very thoughtful lawyer who understands the precedent and the market.”

Kaplan Kirsch LLP

What the team is known for Kaplan Kirsch demonstrates strength representing both local government and private developers in PPP projects across the transportation and higher education sectors. It is active on projects across the US with particularly notable experience in the Colorado market.

Strengths

“Kaplan Kirsch’s understanding of the potential future issues and ability to prevent them from happening stands out to me.”

Work highlights Kaplan Kirsch advised the Chicago Transit Authority on the Red Line Extension project, which will add a 5.6 mile, four station extension to Chicago’s existing transit system.

Notable practitioners

Adam Giuliano frequently represents public sector clients in the financing and development of PPP infrastructure projects, including highways and transit lines.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP is esteemed for working on high profile international LNG project development, financing and contracting work. The firm often takes leading positions on emerging market propositions in the Middle East, Africa and South America for sponsor clients. It frequently advises producers and pipeline companies on cross-border and domestic pipeline projects. The firm have additional capabilities handling the financing of renewable energy projects, as well as transactions in the space.

Strengths

“King & Spalding has the technical acumen to handle the most complex of transactions, with the commercial sense to advise their client to ensure the deal gets done.”

“I have yet to find a topic where they do not have a firm expert – no matter how esoteric.”

Work highlights King & Spalding LLP advised Rio Grande LNG, a subsidiary of NextDecade, on its $18.4 billion Rio Grande Project, including on the EPC contracts and natural gas transportation arrangements.

Notable practitioners

Scott Greer (see p.3228) represents a strong choice for owners and developers of LNG infrastructure, with impressive project development expertise in both the domestic and international markets. Strengths: “Scott is the EPC guru of LNG deals.” David Lang (see p.616)’s project finance practice is primarily concentrated in the LNG space and sees him assist on projects at home and abroad. Strengths: “David has a deep understanding of how the industry works.” “David Lang is experienced, hard-working, timely and intelligent.” Jonathan Melmed (see p.640) handles an array of transactions including those involving renewable and traditional power assets. Strengths: “Jonathan is commercial and savvy on the legal side.”

Ingrid Myers (see p.650) handles EPC contracts associated with new LNG projects as well as the expansion of existing contracts. She primarily represents developer clients. Brandon Dalling (see p.536)’s practice covers the finance and acquisition of projects in the oil and gas and renewable energy industries. Strengths: “Brandon is an excellent attorney, zealously represents his clients and is incredibly responsive.” Tristan Pelham Webb (see p.665) has a wide-ranging practice covering the acquisition and financings of projects including wind and solar assets.

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis has a robust oil and gas practice focusing on lender-side representations across the upstream and mid-stream sectors. It possesses expertise spanning a broad array of structured finance solutions to meet clients’ development and acquisition goals. The firm offers further strength in the financing of traditional power assets. It has a strong group of attorneys handling complex financing in the renewable energy space, including solar, battery storage and on and offshore wind assets. The firm has additional capabilities in the LNG space.

Strengths

“The firm has a deep bench with extensive knowledge of the industry.”

“Kirkland’s ability to staff up a team to handle complex matters is impressive.”

“The team at Kirkland are highly commercially-oriented and are able to understand business goals.”

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis Kirkland advised Vineyard Wind in the $1.2 billion tax equity financing for the Vineyard Wind 1 project.

Notable practitioners

Rohit Chaudhry has an impressive track record representing lenders in sophisticated financing arrangements for projects in the oil and gas and renewables sectors. He provides adroit counsel on both smaller distributed asset developments and large utility-scale projects. Strengths: “Rohit is absolutely outstanding, one of best in the business. He is excellent all-round, but biggest strength is his market knowledge.” Robert Eberhardt (see p.546) has a strong track record of handling financing and hedging agreements involving solar, wind and other energy projects. Strengths: “Robert provides outstanding guidance.” Tatiana Monastyrskaya (see p.645) has notable expertise in energy project finance and development, with a particular focus on oil pipelines. Strengths: “Tatiana is extremely knowledgeable, has commercial solutions, outstanding judgment and is highly responsive.” Kelann Stirling (see p.712)’s project financing experience covers an array of assets from the refinancing of gas-fired plants to virtual PPAs for renewable energy offtake to recapitalization of oil and gas assets. Sam Kamyans (see p.600) handles tax equity financing of energy infrastructure with a particular focus on renewable energy assets. Michael Masri is commended for his expertise in renewable tax credits for large solar and wind projects. Roald Nashi has wide-ranging project financing experience and regularly represents clients with interests in LNG, solar, pipeline and traditional power projects. Kristin Mendoza (see p.641) focuses her practice handling M&A in the energy space. She is particularly skilled at navigating the acquisition of and investment in companies with a significant renewable energy portfolio. Strengths: “Kristin is very diligent and market aware.”

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP is an internationally renowned projects group, esteemed for its representation of lenders and sponsors. The firm is hugely respected for midstream and downstream work in the oil and gas space. It is a leading practice on the development of renewable energy assets in the USA. The team has an exceptional capability for advising on projects involving gas-fired power plants and transmission lines. In the LNG space, it routinely acts for industry giants.

Strengths

“Latham is well plugged into the market across the board.”

“From partner to associate they are a strong team with the requisite experience, who ask the right questions and produce a high quality of work.”

“The team excel in complex project financings.”

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP advised Terra-Gen, a renewable energy developer, in the project financing and tax equity financing for the second phase of the Edwards Sanborn Solar Project in Kern County, California.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Rod (see p.681) has an impressive track record in oil and gas and LNG project financing. He is equally adept at lender and developer side representation. Trina Chandler (see p.523) has impressive expertise in energy sector M&A. She has particular strengths in advising on the acquisition and sale of conventional and renewable power generation assets or stakes in projects under development. Strengths: “Trina is a first rate power and renewables lawyer who provides highly relevant and thoughtful advice in a timely manner.” Jeffrey Greenberg (see p.573) has an impressive sector-crossing practice, offering expertise in the development, finance, sale and acquisition of single projects and portfolios in the LNG, renewables and conventional power markets. Strengths: “Jeffery is responsive and thoughtful and commercial.” Eli Katz (see p.602) is a rapidly growing presence in the renewables space with considerable abilities in complex tax equity project financing. He provides expert representation to lenders, underwriters, sponsors and borrowers. Strengths: “Eli conveys complex things in easy to understand way.” Ethan Schultz (see p.693) has a wealth of experience representing project developers and private equity funds in the acquisition and sale of large scale wind and solar project portfolios. He also advises on traditional generation A&D for projects at various stages of development. Matthew Henegar (see p.582) is a highly regarded project finance lawyer with a practice encompassing the financing and development of renewables, oil and gas and LNG projects. Strengths: “Matthew Henegar is very intelligent, responsive and in terms of strategy, he’s elite.” Warren Lilien (see p.623) has a wealth of experience handling project financing for conventional power projects. Strengths: “Warren is super user-friendly, thoughtful, very commercial and hyper-experienced.” Chirag Dedania (see p.539) is noted for his work across a wide range of project financings in the LNG, oil and gas and power sectors. Strengths: “We consistently find Chirag to be responsive and thoughtful.” Christopher Peponis (see p.666) is noted for his capabilities in the financing of energy projects, with a particular expertise in LNG assets. Daniel Sinaiko (see p.703) advises on the financing of solar projects through tax equity and other finance structures. Strengths: “Daniel is a high quality lawyer.” Jason Webber (see p.732) offers expert representation in project finance and development across the LNG and oil and gas sectors. He acts for both lenders and borrowers. Strengths: “Jason has the ability to bring unique solutions to bespoke projects.” Kelly Cataldo (see p.522) focuses her practice on the financing of energy projects with experience across battery storage and solar assets. Christopher Cross (see p.534) has capabilities spanning domestic and international project finance with noted expertise advising on projects in the oil and gas space. He has particular strength in Latin America and Asia. Strengths: “Christopher is very easy to work with, responsive, thinks ten steps ahead of the process and anticipates structural and commercial issues. Has a broad commercial perspective.” “Christopher is very skillful at navigating tricky and challenging situations.” Paul Hunt (see p.591) has a robust renewables practice advising on financings for wind and solar projects. He has expertise spanning debt, tax equity and other financing arrangements. Strengths: “Paul understands his client base and their niche’s very well. He understands the concerns at hand and he goes the extra mile.” Omar Nazif (see p.652) is routinely called upon by developers and financial institutions for his expertise in the project financing of wind, solar and battery storage projects. Strengths: “Omar is a terrific lawyer.”

Linklaters

What the team is known for Linklaters is notably active in the renewable energy space. The firm undertakes an array of A&D and project financing work pertaining to wind and solar assets. The team offers expert counsel to both developers and lenders.

Strengths

“Linklaters has exceptional handling of complex matters.”

“The team’s thorough understanding of the intricacies of project finance is instrumental in navigating challenging situations and achieving successful outcomes.”

Work highlights Linklaters represented EnCap Energy Transition Fund I and Broad Reach Power in connection with the sale of its 50% equity interest in Broad Reach Power to Apollo Funds.

Notable practitioners

Marius Griskonis (see p.574) has an impressive breadth of expertise spanning the development, financing, acquisition and sale of renewable energy infrastructure. He advises on complex single project and large portfolio transactions. Strengths: “Marius’ dedication, attention to detail and exceptional legal acumen have been nothing short of remarkable.” Ron Erlichman (see p.548) has experience representing renewable energy companies and financial institutions in project financings. Andrew Compton (see p.530) of Linklaters regularly handles the development and financing of energy projects and has a particular strength in the renewables space. Strengths: “Andrews strengths are his thorough thinking and understanding of the energy industry.”

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP is best known as one of the leading PPP teams in the country. It offers superb representation to numerous public bodies as well as private sponsors and lenders. The team is highly capable across all major infrastructure areas including roads, ports, airports and general transit, as well as social infrastructure projects. The firm also provides clients with strong knowledge of the renewables and tax equity space, with particular strength in Latin America.

Strengths

“Mayer Brown is adept at understanding complex and sophisticated matters and developing bespoke and innovative solutions to help facilitate projects.”

Work highlights Mayer Brown LLP represented Accelerate Maryland Partners, a consortium of Macquarie Capital & Transurban, on the execution of the Phase P3 pre-development agreement for the Maryland Department of Transportation’s I-495/270 P3 project.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Seliga (see p.696) is an impressive attorney sought after for his advice on the development and financing of transportation infrastructure. His PPP expertise is frequently looked to by both public sector clients and private investors. Strengths: “Joseph is a very strong lawyer who cares for his clients’ interests.” Robert Goldberg (see p.568) has considerable expertise in the financing and development of wind energy projects as part of a broad renewables sector practice. Strengths: “Robert has been doing this for a long time and understands every aspect of a deal. He sees issues before they become issues.” David Narefsky (see p.651) has depth and breadth of experience in the transportation sector, where he handles PPP matters for a strong roster of clients on both the developer and investor side. Stephanie Wagner (see p.728) is an impressive attorney who handles the financing and development of PPP projects, with a particular focus on transportation infrastructure. Paul Astolfi (see p.494)’s practice sees him represent clients in a range of project financings in the renewable energy sector. He has experience across wind and solar assets. Strengths: “Paul has a high level of commitment to client service, coupled with great responsiveness and business acumen.” Mitchell Holzrichter (see p.587) centers his practice on the financing of PPP projects including toll roads, highways and airports. Strengths: “Michael is practical, can quickly synthesise risks and present solutions to them. He is also pleasant to work with, efficient and very bright.”

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery LLP offers adroit handling of project financings in the renewable sector, notably including new offshore wind developments in the US. The firm demonstrates an impressive client roster across developers, utilities and financing parties including banks and private equity funds. It offers additional strength in the A&D of renewable energy assets.

Strengths

"The McDermott team is very knowledgeable, helpful and insightful."

"The team's responsiveness and thoughtfulness stands out."

"McDermott has industry veterans that understand the commercial side."

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery LLP represented American Electric Power Company in the negotiation of a build-transfer purchase agreement for the Mayapple Solar Project, a 224 MW solar project being developed by an affiliate of LightSource in Pulaski County, Indiana.

Notable practitioners

Edward Zaelke (see p.740) is a highly experienced attorney who regularly handles sophisticated financings for large scale wind and solar projects. He is equally skilled at the sale and acquisition of projects. Strengths: "Edward is very commercial in approach, patient in explaining concepts and creative in coming up with solutions." Carl Fleming (see p.556) is experienced in the A&D of a range of the renewable energy asset including wind, solar and battery storage. Strengths: "Carl is exceptionally attentive and proactive with clients." Christopher Gladbach (see p.567) advises power sector clients on A&D involving completed and development-stage projects and portfolios, including gas-fired, wind and solar assets. Strengths: "Christopher has a great grasp of the law and commercial issues." Philip Tingle (see p.719) has considerable experience managing the tax aspects of complex renewable energy projects. Strengths: "Philip is a very creative thinker in the space and gives us clear and succinct guidance."

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods LLP has significant expertise across the renewable energy sector. The team regularly represents electric utilities and energy companies in the acquisition and sale of assets. The firm demonstrates additional capabilities in the financing and development of wind, solar and battery storage projects.

Work highlights McGuireWoods LLP represented Alleans Renewables in both the acquisition of 70% ownership rights and sale of a 280 and a 285 MW development-stage solar project in Mohave County, Arizona.

Notable practitioners

Timothy Callahan (see p.518) has an impressive project finance practice focusing on lender and sponsor-side representation, with expertise in the financing, development and acquisition of wind, solar, gas-fired and battery storage infrastructure. Michael Woodard (see p.3356) expertly handles the A&D of energy assets. He primarily works with clients in the renewable sector. Strengths: "Michael consistently delivers quality service and understands the larger commercial vision."

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank LLP is one of the strongest and most focused projects firms operating in the USA today, frequently advising on some of the most complex and innovative project financings. The firm possesses strength across the full range of project financing and development, with particular skill representing big-name lenders. It has strength in Latin America, the USA and further afield. The team frequently provides advice to debt and equity investors, private sponsors and government lenders on sophisticated cross-border matters. The firm leverages its international expertise in mining and other sectors to represent development finance institutions, export credit agencies and multilateral development banks.

Strengths

"Milbank LLP has a highly technical and knowledgeable team."

"All of the partners are truly responsive and take a very commercial approach."

Work highlights Milbank LLP represented the tax equity investor in the financing the Daggett 2 project, a 182 MW solar facility combined with a 130 MW storage facility in San Bernardino, California.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Bartfeld (see p.498) has a wealth of domestic and international experience in the financing and acquisition of projects across the oil and gas and power sectors. He is the global practice leader for energy, projects and infrastructures and frequently acts for lenders, borrowers and multilateral agencies. Strengths: "Daniel is highly smart, efficient, knowledgeable and a great leader." William Bice (see p.505) is an attorney of exceptional capability well known for his project financing work in the power space. He also advises on development and restructuring matters. Strengths: "If you want something done, Bill will get it done regardless of complexity." Michael Duff (see p.544) is recognized for his projects work in the renewable energy sector. He is praised for his expert handling of tax equity matters. Strengths: "Michael has good technical experience, he knows the industry and is well-regarded." Daniel Michalchuk (see p.642) is a well-known project finance attorney, who has expertise across oil and gas and electric power projects. He advises on domestic US and international developments. Alexander Borisoff (see p.510) leverages his expertise in the mining and energy sectors to assist agency lenders on international project finance, with a particular focus on Latin America. Strengths: "Alexander Borisoff has very deep sector knowledge and a high commercial awareness and he immediately, adequately and efficiently addresses client requests." "Alexander has excellent knowledge and level of service." "He is exceptionally sharp, dedicated and helpful." Allan Marks (see p.632) is highly regarded for his work assisting sponsors and lenders on a broad array of project financings. He is particularly expert in PPP structures. Strengths: "Allan is an excellent lawyer." Roland Estevez (see p.549) lends his expertise to complex project financing arrangements in Latin America. He works across both traditional and renewable asset classes. Strengths: "Roland is very well versed on the market and is a lawyer who will boil things down to what is important." Michael Klaus (see p.609) primarily represents financial institutions in the acquisition and financing of projects in the renewables space.

Strengths: "Michael is a fantastic project finance attorney. His expertise, professionalism and collaborative approach allows him to close deals effectively and efficiently. It is no wonder that clients and opposing counsel alike enjoy working with him." Jaime Ramirez (see p.675) is commended for his work in significant project financings as well as acquisition and divestiture transactions. He has considerable expertise in Latin American jurisdictions. Henry Scott (see p.695) regularly represents his lender clients in the financing of projects in the renewable energy sector. He has experience across solar, wind and battery storage assets. Carolina Walther-Meade (see p.729) is well known for her representation of lenders and sponsors in domestic and international project financing in the energy, mining and transportation sectors. She is particularly knowledgeable of Latin America markets. Strengths: "Carolina has a client-centric approach and due to her long-standing experience has a high commercial awareness and level of sophistication." "Carolina is super smart and very knowledgeable." Timothy Wendling (see p.733)'s practice covers the financing of renewable projects including wind and solar assets. Richard Hillman (see p.584) routinely acts for lenders and sponsors in financings in the renewable energy space, notably those involving solar assets. Jeffrey Leider (see p.619) handles a diverse range of energy transactions. He represents lenders and sponsors in the financing and acquisition of oil and gas and renewable energy projects. Strengths: "He'll put something on his back and run through a wall to get it done. It's not just the effort, but his technical savvy, strategy, smarts and sheer will power are awesome." Sean O'Neill (see p.657)'s practice covers project financings of a variety of assets including those in the renewable energy, oil and gas and LNG spaces. Strengths: "Sean is an incredibly strong lawyer with a mind towards practicality and consensus building."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP is well thought of for the depth of its bench and level of understanding concerning renewables projects. The firm is well versed in warehouse and tax equity structuring. It is active on solar and wind financings throughout the USA. It has additional strength in the conventional power space, assisting significant clients with the development, financing, acquisition and disposition of power projects throughout the USA. The firm is able to draw on expertise of practitioners stationed across a nationwide and international network of offices.

Strengths

"Morgan Lewis has a very commercial and practical approach to transactions."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP represented Invenery and a subsidiary in the $100 million back-leverage financing for an approximately 104 MW wind-powered electric energy generation project.

Notable practitioners

James Tynion expertly represents renewable power sector clients across the financing, development, sale and acquisition of projects. He capably handles both tax equity and debt financing structures. Elizabeth Hanigan is an impressive lawyer in renewable energy infrastructure M&A with expertise handling the acquisition and sale of development-stage wind and solar assets, completed projects and portfolios. She frequently acts for developers, private equity funds and institutional investors in these transactions and has further capabilities negotiating build-transfer and power purchase agreements. Michael Müller handles the financing of projects in the traditional power space and is regularly sought out by clients for his substantial expertise. Neeraj Arora is a strong performer in the renewables sector who frequently represents developers, lenders and investors in connection with the development and financing of solar, offshore wind and battery storage infrastructure. Strengths: “Neeraj has a wide range of knowledge, is extremely responsive, personable and has business savvy.” Richard Filosa has considerable expertise in the conventional power sector, where he ably represents clients in financing, structuring and the negotiation of commercial agreements. Amy Maloney’s expertise covers the financing, sale and acquisition of assets in the power and renewables space.

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster is well placed to advise agency clients of every stripe on sophisticated cross-border transactions covering Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

Notable practitioners

Ann Lilienthal (see p.623) is commended for her work supporting the financing and development of projects located around the world such as fiber-optic cables, public transport and those concerning renewable and conventional power. Gregory Smith (see p.705) is frequently sought after by development finance institutions, export credit agencies and multilateral agencies to handle complex and high value projects. He has particular expertise in Africa and the Middle East. Strengths: “Gregory is fast and impressive in the quality of his work, and he makes himself available when we need him.”

Nixon Peabody LLP

What the team is known for Nixon Peabody LLP undertakes an array of project financing work in the renewable energy space with experience across a range of assets. The firm has additional capabilities in PPP transactions and has a particular strength handling infrastructure projects in the transportation sector.

Notable practitioners

Roderick Devlin (see p.541) represents clients in the development and financing of PPP infrastructure, with particular focus on highway and aviation projects.

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright is a powerhouse in the project financing and development space with an impressive offering across a range of asset classes. Its attorneys are active in conventional oil and gas projects, plus big ticket LNG financing and developments, both domestically and abroad. The firm is well regarded for work in the PPP arena and is active on several transportation-focused projects for both bidders and investors. It can call on a global network of offices to assist on multijurisdictional deals. The team continues to assist clients on high profile wind and solar project financings. The firm offers further strengths advising on the sale and acquisition of project companies, single projects and portfolios in the conventional and renewable power sectors.

Strengths

“The Norton Rose team has a very strong depth and breadth of talent.”

“The firm is exceptionally suited to tackle any problem associated with infrastructure development.”

“Norton Rose has a very deep bench in the energy industry.”

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright represented IRG Acquisition Holdings in the purchase of a 1,365 MW renewables portfolio from American Electric Power for $1.5 billion.

Notable practitioners

Todd Alexander is highly regarded for his work on the financing, development, acquisition and sale of single projects and portfolios across the conventional and renewable power sectors.

Strengths: “Todd is very thoughtful and commercial – he is what you want in a transactional lawyer.”

“Todd is a market leading lawyer.” Noam Ayali is widely regarded as a leader in the development and financing of major LNG projects. He has further capabilities assisting with renewable and conventional power matters. Strengths: “Noam has deep knowledge of the market and industry specific knowledge.” An esteemed projects lawyer, Patrick Harder consistently plays a central role in the development and financing of complex, high value PPP projects in the social infrastructure and transportation sectors. He acts for an impressive roster of public sector clients. Keith Martin is esteemed for his market-leading expertise in tax equity financing. He primarily focuses on representing clients in the renewables space.

Strengths: “If you want to know the way that things are going to play out in renewable energy and project financing before they come to pass, Keith Martin has the best crystal ball of anyone I know.”

“Keith is an outstanding lawyer.” “Keith is extremely in tune with tax and project finance issues related to the Inflation Reduction Act.” Douglas Buchanan

KC is equally capable of advising on domestic and international infrastructure PPP projects. David Burton assists a variety of clients with tax equity finance, particularly involving solar projects. He has further strengths in advising on renewable energy fund formation. Strengths: “David is incredibly responsive, really knowledgeable, very pragmatic and commercial – he is also a great problem solver.” Becky Diffen is an expert attorney with considerable expertise in the purchase and sale of renewable generation assets and portfolios. She is particularly notable for her knowledge of the wind sector. Strengths: “Becky is respon- sive and a good communicator, but, more importantly, she is also very knowledgeable about both legal and commercial matters, then how to deal with them effectively.” Hilary Lefko assists clients with tax matters in connection with renewable energy project financing. Strengths: “Hilary is a very capable tax attorney and recognized industry expert.” Marissa Alcalá’s practice sees her represent sponsors and developers in a range of financings in the renewable energy space. Jacob Falk is a highly capable attorney who advises on projects involving transportation, higher education and social infrastructure. Douglas Fried is commended for handling complex and high value financing and development work in the PPP space. He has considerable expertise in acting for lenders. He is head of the infrastructure, mining and commodities practice and cohead of North American infrastructure. Kenneth Hansen assists clients with the financing of energy and other infrastructure projects. He has particular expertise in the Department of Energy’s Loan Guarantee Program. Benjamin Koenigsberg has an impressive track record of advising lenders, sponsors and private equity funds on project financing in the renewables space. He is further noted for his expertise in the LNG sector. Strengths: “Benjamin is knowledgeable, responsive and great to work with.” James Berger focuses his practice in the renewable energy space representing his sponsor clients on project financings.

Nossaman LLP

What the team is known for Nossaman LLP is one of the go-to firms for representation of public sector clients including state authorities, government departments and universities in the PPP space. The firm offers comprehensive assistance across the life span of a project, including initial advice on legislation and obtaining environmental approvals, as well as representation at the construction, financing and operation stages. It possesses expertise in the establishment of PPP programs for public bodies. The firm has a well-known ability in road and rail PPP structures is augmented by additional skill in social infrastructure projects.

Strengths

“The Nossaman team has always performed at the highest level and are fully committed to their clients. They seem to take the success of the projects very personally which reflects their commitment.”

“Nossaman is very responsive and provides high quality service.”

“The firm’s connection to industry trends and sentiment is a strength.”

Work highlights Nossaman LLP advised the City of Inglewood on a $1.1 billion elevated fixed guideway rail project to connect LA Metro’s Crenshaw Light Rail Line with the Market Street area, the Kia Forum, the Intuit Dome and Sofi Stadium at Hollywood Park.

Notable practitioners

Geoffrey Yarema continues to play a central role in advising clients on PPP projects and broader strategy in the transportation sector. Yukiko Kojima is a strong performer in the PPP space frequently sought after to assist with the financing and development of airport terminals and convention centers among other infrastructure projects.

Barney Allison is a key player in the PPP space who frequently acts for public agency clients on the development and financing of a wide range of infrastructure projects. He has a particular strength in the transport sector. Andrée Blais has a strong infrastructure project financing practice with a particularly focus representing public sector clients on PPP transactions. Strengths: “Andree provides stellar legal counsel and guidance.” Corey Boock is equally experienced in public and private sector representation, with considerable expertise in the financing and development of transportation and wastewater infrastructure projects. Strengths: “Corey provides clients with top level service. He is keenly aware of the market and seeks to find commercially viable solutions to problems as they are encountered.” “Corey is an outstanding lawyer. He is responsive and has broad experience.” Brent Butzin (see p.517) is noted for his strong representation of public sector clients in the financing of PPP projects including rail, road and social infrastructure. Elizabeth Cousins has a strong practice advising public authorities on PPP and other project contracts. She has particular expertise in water infrastructure.

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers LLP offers clients a strong bench of capable project finance and development attorneys with a wide range of skills. The firm wins praise for its work as bidders' counsel on big ticket PPP offerings, particularly in the airport and infrastructure space. It is further able to provide comprehensive support to equity investors, financiers, sponsors and hedge providers in the projects space.

Strengths

“The team are always up to the minute on news in the industry.”

Work highlights O'Melveny & Myers LLP advised the Puerto Rico Public-Private Partnership Authority, in collaboration with the Puerto Rico Highways and Transportation Authority on a long-term concession agreement for financing, operation, maintenance and improvement of four toll roads.

Notable practitioners

Junaid Chida has a wealth of experience acting for developers, financial institutions and tax equity investors on project financings in the renewables sector. Eric Richards maintains his position as a go-to PPP lawyer for the redevelopment, improvement and expansion of airport terminals. Monica Hwang has expertise in LNG project structuring as well as offtake, upstream feed procurement and other commercial agreements. Strengths: “Monica is an extremely knowledgeable and experienced attorney, and an expert in LNG matters.” “Monica is an excellent lawyer with great awareness of the industry.” Denise Raytis is a growing presence in transportation PPP projects with experience representing both developers and lenders. Strengths: “Denise is one the smartest, most technically capable and responsive lawyers to work with.” Elizabeth Dubeck has experience assisting with the financing and development of a broad array of PPP projects, with a particular focus on the transportation sector.

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP offers clients a broad projects practice with particular strengths in PPP and renewable power developments. It takes a leading role representing sponsors and developers on complex PPP negotiations. The team is recognized for notable capability in transit and aviation PPPs. The firm is well versed in issues surrounding tax equity planning in the renewables space. It has possesses considerable prowess handling acquisitions and sales of single projects and portfolios. The firm is also active on conventional power development.

Strengths

“Orrick is a client-focused firm that has full service capabilities and top-tier talent.”

“The team's depth of knowledge is incredible.”

“Orrick understands commercial objectives of a transaction and is adept at solving problems.”

Work highlights Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP advised Equinor on its acquisition of a 100% stake in battery storage developer East Point Energy.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Mathews has an impressive track record of representing lenders, sponsors and investors on a broad array of PPP projects, particularly in the transportation and energy sectors. Leslie Sherman has notable expertise spanning solar and wind generation projects as well as battery storage development. He is commended for his work advising clients on the structuring and negotiation of PPAs. Strengths: “Les is a brilliant mind and very practical.” Mark Weitzel has substantial experience working advising prominent clients on the financing and development of power generation projects spanning both the conventional and renewables sectors. Bradford Gathright represents a strong choice for investors and developers in conventional and renewable energy infrastructure M&A. He has expertise across project and portfolio transactions. Strengths: “Bradford is detail-oriented, practical, knows industry well and well organised.” Thomas Glascock has considerable experience advising clients engaged in renewable energy projects. He is at home working on both solar and wind financings. Strengths: “Thomas is a highly experienced and top notch professional.” Young Lee has a stellar reputation for her handling of transportation sector PPP. She provides expert representation in the development and financing of high value and sophisticated infrastructure projects. Strengths: “Young is a spectacular lawyer. She is smart, creative and commercial – a stand out person to work with.” Christopher Moore provides clients with top tier tax equity and other project financing counsel. John Eliason manages a broad array of tax-based financing arrangements, with a particular focus on solar generation and energy storage infrastructure projects. Strengths: “John is very knowledgeable and practical.” Kristin Seeger has expertise in handling sales and acquisitions of renewable energy projects and platforms, with particular strengths in assisting with utility-scale solar transactions. Strengths: “Kristin's customer problems become her own and she is there for you no matter what.” Dahl Thompson has notable expertise in the sale and acquisition of conventional and renewable power assets and portfolios at all stages of development. Strengths: “Dahl has excellent industry knowledge.” Blake Winburne is highly regarded for his work on the acquisition and sale of gas-fired, wind and solar assets at various stages of development. He also advises on complex financing and development matters.

Strengths: “Blake has strong commercial acumen, executive presence and excellent, long standing stature.” Matt Archer's broad practice encompasses both the development and A&D of assets in the renewable space. Strengths: “Matt has really excellent industry knowledge and is a really skilled negotiator.” Matthew Neuringer regularly assists private developer and public sponsor clients with the project financing of PPP projects in the transport and education sector. Eric Stephens has particular strengths in the financing and development of distributed solar projects as well as energy storage solutions, both standalone and paired with generation assets. He has further expertise in advising on the structuring and negotiation of PPAs and EPC agreements. Strengths: “Eric is an expert in his field.” Paul Zarnowiecki is recognized for his work supporting sector clients on renewable and battery storage projects.

Victoria Boyne is noted for her strength in the PPP space. She is experienced across a range of matters concerning social and transport infrastructure. Alejandra Garcia Earley has wide-ranging experience in project financings which she brings to bear when expertly representing clients on matters, including those involving renewable energy assets. Louise Gibbons has experience across the full range of assets in the renewable energy space with noted strength with those concerning solar projects. Strengths: “Louise is excellent; very thorough, detailed and so pragmatic.” Adam Griffin's projects practice covers debt and tax equity financings of renewable energy assets including battery storage and solar. Strengths: “Adam Griffin is exceptional; a top tier resource, knowledgeable, resourceful, organized and responsive.” Rohit Sachdev represents project developers and owners on complex financings. His expertise includes wind, solar and battery projects. Strengths: “Rohit is excellent, knowledgeable and timely in his work. In addition, he is very commercially-oriented and has a great demeanor.”

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings LLP is a strong choice for lenders active in the traditional power space. The team are experienced in the project financing and refinancing of gas-fired power plants.

Strengths

“Paul Hastings has a highly technical and knowledgeable team.”

Work highlights Paul Hastings LLP advised Spearmint Renewable Development Company in the acquisition of a 150 MW battery energy storage project from Con Edison Development.

Notable practitioners

Robert Freedman (see p.558) has an impressive

track record of advising private equity funds, institutional investors and commercial banks on complex and high value financings for conventional and renewable power projects. Gregory Tan (see p.715) has an impressive lender-side practice, managing project finance and development work across the entire energy sector as well as in PPP infrastructure. Strengths: “Gregory has a very commercial approach, is highly practical and deal-orientated.”

Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP

What the team is known for Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP is a rapidly expanding practice with notable capabilities to advise on sophisticated project development and financing matters, including tax equity structuring, in the renewables space. The firm is equally capable of acting for investors, developers and owners on both utility-scale and distributed solar and wind projects.

Strengths

“We are very impressed with the depth and breadth of knowledge on the team.”

“The Sheppard team is extremely client-focused and always available.”

Work highlights Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP represented Hecate Energy in the build transfer of a 300 MW solar project to a US utility.

Notable practitioners

Katherine Gillespie has substantial experience in the development and financing of single projects and portfolios. She has a particular focus on wind-powered generation facilities. Elliot Hinds (see p.584) represents clients active in the renewable energy space in the sale and acquisition of a range of projects. Amit Kalra is recognized for his expertise in tax-based financing structures for renewable energy projects. Andrew Ratts draws on deep tax equity expertise to expertly assist clients in the financing of renewable energy projects. Joseph Karp regularly handles complex PPAs for his renewable energy sector clients with experience covering solar, wind and battery storage assets. Strengths: “Joseph’s prompt, thorough and expert service is invaluable.” Paul Kaufman represents clients participating in the development of solar, wind and battery storage projects. Strengths: “Paul is an excellent lawyer with very strong and practical business acumen.”

Laurette Petersen works with project sponsors on a range of issues in the development and financing of renewable energy assets. Katarzyna Leveck focuses her practice advising clients on project financings in the renewable energy space.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP has a growing presence in the development, financing, acquisition and sale of energy infrastructure, both domestically and internationally. It represents sponsors and lenders across the LNG value chain in the development of a wide range of facilities. The firm has a growing presence in the renewables space particularly concerning the A&D of solar and wind single assets and portfolios.

Strengths

“Sidley has lawyers who know their markets well and are very technically capable.”

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP represented GE Vernova in connection with its acquisition of equity interest in, and tax equity financing of, a 98 MW repowered wind project located in West Virginia, US.

Notable practitioners

Tara Higgins (see p.584) has an impressive breadth of expertise across the renewables sector, where she offers expert representation in the development and financing of single projects and portfolios. She also advises on the acquisition and sale of both assets and project companies. Strengths: “Tara is extremely intelligent and big picture focused.” “Tara is a fantastic lawyer.” Irving Rotter (see p.684) has expertise spanning conventional and renewable energy A&D. He frequently assists both buyers and sellers with transactions ranging from stakes in single projects to whole portfolio investments. Strengths: “Irving is incredibly knowledgeable.” Brian Bradshaw (see p.511) is recognized for advising clients on project finance and development across the conventional power, renewables and LNG sectors. Strengths: “Brian is very knowledgeable.” Andrea Wang Lucan (see p.626) is noted for her work in the acquisition and sale of project companies and renewable generation assets. Jessica Adkins (see p.489) clients benefit from her expert handling of both traditional power and renewable project financings. Strengths: “Jessica continually impresses me with her creativity, intelligence and grit. She leads her teams with a client-focused mentality.” Noreen Phelan (see p.668) represents a strong choice for private equity and other investors engaged in single project, portfolio or project company A&D. Strengths: “Noreen is incredible when it comes to deal execution. She’s good at unlocking solutions to complicated structuring challenges and she has an incredible memory.” Robert Stephens (see p.711) has particular expertise in tailored project financing structures in the conventional and renewable power sectors, including secured wind hedges and revenue put hedges. Hagai Zaifman (see p.741) has experience across a wide variety of renewable energy financings, including solar and wind assets. Strengths: “Hagai is very knowledgeable and practical.”

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates has a highly regarded projects group offering clients a broad projects practice that has equal experience representing lenders and developers. The team is active on conventional power, midstream and downstream oil and gas, and renewables project development. It is also noted for expertise in the development of electric transmission line projects. The firm provides clients with key financing and M&A advice and support from an international network of offices. It is frequently involved in projects across the USA, Europe and Africa. The firm has additional strength in the LNG sector.

Work highlights Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates represented Duke Energy in the $2.8 billion sale of its unregulated utility scale commercial business to Brookfield Renewable, including 3.4 GW of wind, solar and battery storage assets.

Notable practitioners

David Armstrong (see p.493) has considerable expertise advising lenders on a range of structured finance solutions to support large scale LNG projects. Lance Brasher (see p.512) is a highly regarded attorney able to advise on sophisticated project financings across the energy industry. He also counsels on PPP structures for infrastructure projects. Strengths: “Lance is very measured, insightful and extraordinarily experienced in his field.” Julia Czarniak (see p.535) is a strong performer in domestic and international project finance across the LNG and broader oil and gas sectors. Strengths: “Julia represents clients’ interests in a pragmatic and commercial way. She has great responsiveness, good at managing a team and produces high quality work.” Sean Shimamoto (see p.700)’s tax expertise is frequently sought out in the development and financing of renewable energy projects as well as in the context of the acquisition and sale of interests in single projects and portfolios. Strengths: “Sean is an excellent advisor. He has provided superior client service in very clear and concise manner.” Paul Kraske (see p.613) focuses his practice on the development, financing, acquisition and sale of transmission infrastructure, with further experience advising on wind and solar projects. Strengths: “Paul is an excellent lawyer who has a strong sense of client service and is a pleasure to deal with.” Aryan Moniri (see p.646) focuses his practice on the financing of wind, solar and battery storage projects. Strengths: “Aryan is an excellent attorney.” Nike Opadiran (see p.658) focuses her practice in the renewable energy space, offering experience in the tax equity financing of a range of wind and solar assets.

Stoel Rives LLP

What the team is known for Stoel Rives LLP has a talented sponsor-side practice that focuses on renewable project development with expertise in solar and wind developments. It offers further knowledge of alternative energy projects including algae, geothermal and biomass facilities. The team is active on power purchase agreements, financings, turbine supply agreements and construction matters. The firm possesses a good understanding of the tax structures surrounding renewable projects. It offers cross-border capabilities, representing clients on project development and financing matters in Europe, South America and Africa.

Work highlights Stoel Rives LLP represented Allianz Capital Partners of America in the debt and tax equity financing of a 147 MW photovoltaic solar facility located in Concho County, Texas.

Notable practitioners

Alexandra Mertens (see p.641) has notable expertise in the development and financing of renewable energy projects and portfolios. She handles tax equity, debt and other structured finance arrangements. Strengths: “Alexandra is practical, responsive and is always able to find a commercial resolution to any issues that come up.”

Brian Nese (see p.652) has deep experience in the renewable energy market with a particular focus on solar projects. He advises developers, owners and operators on project development, financing and M&A. Strengths: “Brian is extremely practical and very pragmatic.” Chad Marriott (see p.632) is noted for his work on wind and solar project financings. Kevin Pearson (see p.665) is a tax specialist commended for his work handling tax equity financing arrangements for renewable energy projects. Strengths: “Kevin is very commercial and timely.”

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP is a respected New York-based firm with a strong understanding of project sponsor work. The team is very well regarded for work on conventional oil and gas matters as well as on complex LNG projects at home and abroad. It also possesses notable capabilities in regard to liquefaction projects. The firm is also highly active on international mining project financings, with a particular strength in South America.

Strengths

“The Sullivan & Cromwell team has strong analytical skills and is able to view issues holistically to provide sound advice and options for paths forward to resolve issues.”

Notable practitioners

Sergio Galvis (see p.562) has considerable prowess in domestic and international energy infrastructure investments, with particular strength in the mining sector. He is highly knowledgeable of Latin American markets. Strengths: “Sergio goes above and beyond in delivering exceptional client service. His attention to detail, responsiveness, meticulous research and strategic thinking contributes to the successful resolution of complex legal issues.” Christopher Mann (see p.630) has a strong track record for handling project finance and development across an impressive breadth of sectors, including mining, LNG and PPP infrastructure. Inosi Nyatta (see p.655) is an esteemed project finance attorney who is particularly active in the LNG space, both domestically and internationally. Strengths: “Inosi is phenomenal. She is very responsive, incredibly bright and commercial and she’s a pleasure to work with.” “Inosi is a very strong attorney, especially on very complex transactions – she really knows project finance.” Werner Federico Ahlers (see p.489) is commended for his experience managing complex matters for clients engaged in large projects in Latin America. John Estes (see p.548) represents his clients in complex project financings. He has expertise in the LNG and mining industries. Strengths: “John is very sharp, commercial and really good at explaining the issues and getting you what you need.” “John is extremely knowledgeable.”

Troutman Pepper

What the team is known for Troutman Pepper has a strong team highlighted for its capabilities to advise on development and financing matters for solar, wind and other renewable and alternative energy projects. The firm is noted competence in tax equity financing structures as well as those involving financial derivatives. The team advises borrowers, lenders, developers and lessees among other project participants.

Work highlights Troutman Pepper represented Competitive Power Ventures in the closing of debt financing for a portfolio of three solar projects totaling 398 MW in Maryland, Georgia and Pennsylvania.

Notable practitioners

John Leonti (see p.620) is commended for his handling of tax equity financing for renewable energy projects and portfolios. He is also highlighted for his expertise in solar hedges. Adam Kobos (see p.610) has expertise in tax equity financing for renewable energy projects. He has further capabilities in assisting with tax matters in connection with project development and M&A. Strengths: “Adam knows the energy industry inside and out on tax related matters.”

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP is a Texas-based powerhouse highly regarded for its focus on the energy industry. The team is well known for its superb representation of the most significant oil and gas multinationals and energy-focused private equity funds. It has talented project counsel that understand the market, regulatory landscape and industry inside out. The team acts on behalf of developers, governments, lenders, borrowers and suppliers. Its strengths include the development of downstream oil and gas processing plants, LNG facilities and hydroelectric facilities. The firm also has market-leading capabilities in the acquisition and sale of single projects and portfolios in the conventional and renewable power sectors. It is further recognized for considerable strength in renewable energy projects across all asset classes.

Strengths

“The V&E team are very responsive and knowledgeable.”

“V&E is very commercial and understand the economic drivers of a transaction.”

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins LLP advised Brookfield Renewable Power in the acquisition of Scout Clean Energy from Quinbrook Infrastructure Partners for approximately $1 billion.

Notable practitioners

Sean Moran has substantial expertise in the renewables sector when it comes to tax equity and other forms of project finance. He has a strong track record assisting with wind infrastructure development. Strengths: “Sean is the kind of person you call when you have an unusual or difficult tax issue.” “While his subject matter expertise is within tax matters, Sean has a very acute commercial awareness and is adept at managing complex renewable energy finance transactions.” “Sean is a highly experienced renewable energy lawyer who has great expertise in the field.” Kaam Sahely has a strong track record of representing private equity and other investment funds in the acquisition and sale of wind, solar and conventional power portfolios, project companies and single assets. Mark Brasher is recognized for his strength handling project financing work in the LNG space. Michael Joyce has significant experience across the renewables sector handling tax equity and other forms of financing for wind and solar projects and portfolios. Strengths: “Michael takes a practical approach to solving problems.” “Michael Joyce is extremely commercial and can cut through the noise to get to what matters.” Peter Marshall has strength in renewable energy sector transactions and is capable of assisting with the acquisition and sale of wind and solar projects, portfolios and project companies. Strengths: “Peter pulls rabbits out of hats; he solves every problem.” “Peter is highly responsive, very sharp on structure side and super commercial.” “He is one of the most creative problem solvers and does an excellent job focusing on the issues that are most important to his clients.” Danielle Patterson frequently advises her clients on investments in the renewable energy sector including through joint ventures and acquisitions. Strengths: “Danielle is an excellent lawyer with an ability to summarize complex issues and recommend solutions.” Alan Alexander (see p.3195) regularly handles project financings with a primary focus on the oil and gas sector. His experience ranges from traditional asset development through to low carbon alternatives such as RNS and ammonia. Strengths: “Alan has strong sector knowledge.” Lauren Collins focuses her practice in the renewable energy sector, regularly handling the tax equity aspects of project financings. Strengths: “Lauren is great at explaining complex legal topics and recommending options.” Eamon Nolan’s practice encompasses the disposition and acquisition of renewable assets including solar, wind and hydroelectric projects. He has additional strength in project financing. Strengths: “Eamon is very commercial and extremely responsive.” Aaron Prince (see p.672) focuses his practice in the renewable energy space, handling the tax equity financing of solar and wind projects. Strengths: “Aaron is excellent, insightful and great to work with.” Josh Heideman (see p.582)’s practice primarily sees him handling the tax equity financing of renewable energy assets such as wind, battery storage and solar farms. Strengths: “Josh is diligent and thorough and does a great job for his client, but is also looking to be constructive and get everyone’s objective to get the deal done – he is really good at that. He knows the industry very well and is extremely smart and responsive.”

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP is routinely retained by lenders and sponsors on a wide variety of project financing and development. The team is particularly adept at managing large and diverse sets of interests in LNG, conventional oil and gas and power work. It is very well thought of on downstream oil and gas. The firm is active on international work, particularly in Latin American markets. It has additional capabilities in the acquisition and sale of wind and solar project assets and portfolios at varying stages of development. The firm possesses further strength in PPP work and world class agency finance expertise. The firm provides expert representation to top development banks and export credit agencies in project financings across the globe. It adeptly handles PPP financing of transport and social infrastructure.

Strengths

"The team has excellent communication skills and go above and beyond."

"White & Case have a deep bench of experts across key disciplines."

"The firm has commercially driven partners who understand client needs and technically savvy associates."

"The team are very knowledgeable and able to structure transactions in a simplifying and effective way."

Work highlights White & Case LLP represented EnCap and Broad Reach Power on the $1 billion agreement to sell the battery storage business of EnCap's portfolio company Broad Reach Power to ENGIE.

Notable practitioners

Martin Menski is regularly sought out for his expert representation of agency lenders in project financings across the energy and infrastructure sectors. He has particular strength in African and Latin American markets. Dolly Mirchandani has considerable prowess assisting clients with their PPP project development and financing goals across the transportation and social infrastructure sectors. Strengths: "Dolly is incredibly detail-oriented, very knowledgeable pragmatic and strategic. Doesn't miss a beat." Suzanne Perry (see p.667)'s project financing practice has an international focus. She regularly represents development banks and export credit agencies.

Strengths: "Suzanne is a fighter and strong leader who works super hard for her clients." Raymond Azar's practice primarily focuses on transactions in the renewable and conventional power space. He has experience in the acquisition and sale of assets such as gas-fired plants as well as solar projects. Strengths: "Ray is dedicated, hard-working and has a natural commercial sense to get deals done. He has the ability to lead and mediate complicated situations to create a clear path and structure for execution." "One great quality of Ray is that he is very business-oriented. He has this ability to think and act beyond what one could expect from a legal counsel." Jeffrey Davis has a robust renewables sector practice, where he frequently represents sponsors in tax equity and other forms of structured finance. Nadav Klugman advises clients in the renewables space on project development and portfolio investments, particularly involving solar generation assets. Elena Miller is a go-to lawyer in the energy infrastructure space, with particular strengths advising clients on structured finance transactions. Strengths: "Elena is fantastic. She is very detailed and commercial. She sees both sides of it which helps to give her a good grasp of how to go through nuanced or difficult points." David Strickland (see p.712) regularly handles EPC agreements relating to LNG plants as part of his wider project development practice. Strengths: "David is knowledgeable on the industry and market conditions. He is a very strategic thinker, and so when there are differences of understanding between the parties, he can distil and express clearly the concerns of each party and come up with a resolution that addresses both sides." Evelyn Balassiano has a wide-ranging PPP practice which sees her routinely assist with an array of transport projects as well as those in the utilities sector. Strengths: "Evelyn is a rising star."

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP undertakes a range of work in the renewable energy space. The team is experienced across a range of assets including solar, wind and other alternative energy sources. The firm regularly handles transactions and financings in the space for a range of industry clients.

Strengths

"Willkie have a thoughtful, detailed and commercial team."

Work highlights Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP represented Arevia Power, a renewable energy developer, in its $150 million senior secured loan facility from Global Atlantic.

Notable practitioners

Eric Pogue (see p.670) expertly represents renewables sector clients on the development, financing, acquisition and sale of single projects or portfolios. Strengths: "Eric is a fantastic renewables lawyer." Jorge Kamine (see p.600) handles complex project financings for clients covering the power, LNG, and oil and gas sectors. Strengths: "Jorge is very thoughtful and personable in his approach to challenging and complex issues. He is thorough in his understanding of the key issues, and is very responsive and strategic." Amanda Rosenberg (see p.683) focuses her practice in the renewables space and frequently assists with the tax equity financing of solar and wind projects.

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati has a respected lender-side renewable project development and financing offering, bolstered by existing relationships with venture capital and investment entities. It is widely commended for sponsor-side work and is active on wind, biomass and utility and residential solar matters. The team are experienced with power purchase agreements and tax equity planning. The firm is further able to offer assistance to clients in structuring financial deals related to energy storage, energy efficiency and PACE programs.

Strengths

"The team exhibited a deep market understanding." "Wilson Sonsini provided incredible client service."

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati represented ClearEarth in the negotiation and execution of a PPA with PacifiCorp in connection with the 280 MW Two Rivers Wind Project in Carbon County and Albany County, Wyoming.

Notable practitioners

Todd Glass represents a strong choice for renewables sector clients. He advises on tax equity and other project financing structures as well as related commercial agreements. Strengths: "Todd has a fantastic breadth of experience and ability to navigate complex situations." "Todd is an excellent resource for understanding the broader industry and possesses great commercial judgment." Peter Mostow offers particular strengths in the structuring and negotiation of key commercial and financing agreements including PPAs and virtual PPAs.

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn LLP is well regarded for its renewables project development, financing and transactional work. The team are equally strong on wind and solar generation matters. The firm actively represents lenders, investors and developers in the USA with a full service approach catering to the growing corporate and industrial presence in the sector. The firm has further capabilities handling PPP-backed infrastructure projects, particularly in the transportation sector.

Strengths

"The team are very technical and capable of working through complex transactions."

Work highlights Winston & Strawn LLP represented Kiewit Development Company in connection with a proposed project to design, build, finance, operate and maintain the proposed new central utility plant for Henry Ford Health System as part of its new approximately $3 billion Detroit South Campus.

Notable practitioners

Richard Shutran (see p.701) has substantial experience acting for public and private companies and investors across a range of finance and transactional matters, with particular strengths in the sale and acquisition of renewables projects. Laurae Rossi (see p.684) is widely renowned for representing lenders in the debt financing of renewable energy infrastructure. Strengths: "Laurae toes the line very well with being commercial to get a deal done as well as protecting her client." "Laurae is an exceptional lawyer." Jonathan Birenbaum (see p.506) has experience handling a range of energy sector transactions, including the acquisition and sale of existing and development-stage conventional and renewable energy assets. Strengths: "Jonathan is so client-focused and is great at anticipating business issues." Michael Pikiel (see p.669) is experienced in representing both developers and investors on large scale infrastructure projects, including those in the transportation sector. Strengths: "Michael is very commercial and technical." Daniel Shapiro (see p.699) is recognized for his expertise and skill in PPP infrastructure projects.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Justin Boose of Holland & Knight LLP is cohead of the firm's renewables practice group. He is well known for his work in solar, wind and battery storage projects. Strengths: "Justin understands all of the technicalities." "He's a very good lawyer."

Ikenna Emehelu of Akin represents both borrowers and lenders in the project financing of renewable generation assets. Strengths: "Simply put, Ike is a great lawyer. He is deeply knowledgeable about project financings and a problem solver." David Lieberman (see p.623) of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP has notable experience in the conventional power and renewable project financing and development. He is particularly knowledgeable of refinancing structures.

David Penna (see p.666) of Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP handles a range of projects matters across the energy sector. His practice encompasses the development and financing of wind, solar and biomass projects as well as advising lenders and developers on natural gas projects.

Melissa Raciti-Knapp (see p.673) of Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer has a wealth of experience assisting commercial banks and multilateral agencies with international project finance matters, particularly in the Latin American market.

Strengths: "Melissa is a very effective team leader, an extremely competent attorney and a very savvy negotiator."

Hugh Tucker of Haynes and Boone is noted for his robust oil and gas sector practice advising clients on development, finance, M&A and joint venture matters. Strengths: "Hugh is an excellent lawyer, who understands the need of the client and is very efficient in the way he provides his service."

Public Finance Nationwide

Public Finance
Leading Firms
Band 1
Ballard Spahr LLP
Chapman and Cutler LLP
Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP
McGuireWoods LLP
Nixon Peabody LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Band 2
Bracewell LLP
Butler Snow LLP
Foley & Lardner LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Katten
Kutak Rock LLP
Locke Lord LLP
Squire Patton Boggs
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Ballard Spahr LLP

What the team is known for Ballard Spahr LLP boasts a well-regarded public finance practice advising on deals in a wide range of capacities, including frequently acting as bond counsel. The firm has a deep bench of practitioners with expertise in an impressive array of sectors, with strength working on education facilities, student housing and utilities projects. Its nationwide offering includes offices in DC, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Work highlights Ballard Spahr served as bond counsel to the Maryland Economic Development Corporation in connection with a new student housing facility for Morgan State University.

Notable practitioners

Philadelphia-based Valarie Allen, who co-leads the firm's public finance practice, is a key contact.

Chapman and Cutler LLP

What the team is known for Chapman and Cutler LLP has an impressive public finance group bolstered by the firm's wider capabilities in financial matters. It often serves as bond or underwriter's counsel and has noted capabilities in the health-care sector. The firm has a strong base in Illinois with additional public finance partners located in other key states.

Notable practitioners

Chicago-based Nancy Burke is a co-leader of Chapman and Cutler's national public finance department.

Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP

What the team is known for Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP has established a nationwide presence in the municipal finance space with offices in states along the East and West Coasts. It offers excellent services in a range of financial and infrastructure matters in industries such as energy, utilities, education and healthcare. It has a broad offering serving as bond counsel, borrower's counsel, disclosure counsel and underwriter's counsel.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Howard Zucker and Raleigh-based Jeffrey Poley are key contacts.

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods LLP possesses great strength in public finance and is sought out for its strong capabilities acting as issuer's, underwriter's or borrower's counsel. It undertakes an array of work in the transportation sector including on rail lines and airports. It is also regularly engaged by state and local municipalities, offering a strength across a range of housing and community developments.

Strengths

"The team has significant institutional knowledge."

Work highlights McGuireWoods LLP represented J.P. Morgan Securities as lead underwriter in the issuance of $643.4 million Maryland Economic Development Corporation Private Activity Revenue Bonds for the Purple Line Light Rail.

Notable practitioners

Chicago-based Kay McNab chairs the McGuireWoods public finance department.

Nixon Peabody LLP

What the team is known for Nixon Peabody LLP has a distinguished public finance practice with experience advising clients as bond counsel and underwriter's counsel. It has impressive capabilities in industries including transportation, housing and utilities. The firm has strengths in key states including offices in California, DC and New York.

Strengths

"Nixon Peabody has top-rate lawyers."

"Nixon Peabody have a strong team, good attention to detail, are knowledgeable and hard-working."

Work highlights Nixon Peabody LLP served as bond counsel to the Puerto Rico Aqueduct and Sewer Authority in connection with $565,180,000 Revenue Refunding Bonds, 2022 Series A.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Virginia Wong is Nixon Peabody's project finance and public finance group leader.

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright boasts a comprehensive public finance offering, acting for issuers, borrowers and underwriters. The firm is experienced in advising on a broad range of projects including healthcare, transportation and affordable housing. It has public finance partners spread across its offices, including in Texas, California and New York.

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright acted as co-bond counsel to The City of New York on the issuance of approximately $1.35 billion of its General Obligation Bonds.

Notable practitioners

Dallas-based Paul Braden is head of Norton Rose Fulbright's US public finance practice.

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP has an established practice in the public finance space, providing expert counsel to a range of market participants. It undertakes an array of work in the healthcare, affordable housing, education and utility sectors as well as advising on bonds for social infrastructure. The firm offers a nationwide practice with partners based in California, DC and New York.

Work highlights Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe advised the underwriters in connection with the issuance of $3,521,750,000 Customer Rate Relief Bonds by the Texas Natural Gas Securitization Finance Corporation.

Notable practitioners

San-Francisco-based Justin Cooper and Sacramento-based Jenna Magan co-lead Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe's public finance department.

Band 2

Bracewell LLP

What the team is known for Bracewell LLP provides excellent representation in public finance transactions with expertise across a number of key sectors. It has a strong presence in the Texas market advising market participants on a range of financing structures. The firm has experience representing hospitals, educational institutions, airports and many local municipalities.

Work highlights Bracewell LLP represented the City of Houston, Texas Airport System (Houston Airport System) as bond counsel and special tax counsel in its $760 million Subordinate Lien Revenue Refunding Bonds.

Notable practitioners

Austin-based Glenn Opel chairs the firm's public finance department.

Butler Snow LLP

What the team is known for Butler Snow LLP expertly handles an array of work in the public finance space. The team is highly capable across projects including roads, affordable housing and schools as well as mixed-use buildings. The firm has additional strength in the healthcare sector, regularly acting as bond counsel on transactions.

Work highlights Butler Snow LLP served as bond counsel to Perry County, Alabama in connection with the permanent financing of construction on roads and bridges through the issuance of a State Gasoline Tax Anticipation Warrant, Series 2023.

Notable practitioners

Ridgeland-based Thad Varner is the public finance practice group leader.

Foley & Lardner LLP

What the team is known for Foley & Lardner LLP has a highly regarded public finance practice with broad capabilities across a range of projects including housing and healthcare. It provides expert counsel to state and local governmental bodies with particular strength in Florida and Illinois. In addition to its strength representing public entities, the firm ably assists banks and other private clients.

Work highlights Foley & Lardner LLP represented O'Connor Woods, a California-based retirement and assisted living facility as underwriter on a tax-exempt forward-delivery advance refunding bond issue.

Notable practitioners

Chicago-based Laura Bilas is chair of Foley & Lardner's public finance practice.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig has expertise acting in a range of capacities in municipal financings including as issuer's, underwriter's and borrower's counsel. The team regularly undertakes work in the education, transport and housing sectors. Its offices are spread across the US, with notable public finance teams in Massachusetts, Florida and Texas.

Notable practitioners

Orlando-based Warren Bloom and Houston-based Franklin Jones cochair the firm's national public finance practice.

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP is regularly engaged by public authorities and municipalities in connection with the financing of a range of infrastructure including airports, roads, wastewater and mixed-use developments. It offers additional capabilities in the education sector. The team provides expert representation as bond and disclosure counsel.

Strengths

"The team are very knowledgeable."

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth represented the City of Richmond on its Diamond District Redevelopment Project, an approximately $2.4 billion mixed-use redevelopment of a 40-year old stadium.

Notable practitioners

Houston-based Thomas Sage and Atlanta-based Douglass Selby co-lead Hunton Andrews Kurth's public finance practice group.

Katten

What the team is known for Katten demonstrates strength acting as bond counsel in public finance transactions. The firm is well versed in transportation projects offering experience with passenger rail, highways and airports. It represents both developers and government authorities and had additional capabilities acting as underwriter's counsel.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Craig Scully is chair of the firm's public finance practice.

Kutak Rock LLP

What the team is known for Kutak Rock LLP has a broad practice offering advice across the spectrum of public financing. It is noted for its strong representation as bond counsel. Alongside the housing, education and transport sectors, the firm is also able to advise tribes and tribal entities.

Strengths

"The team's knowledge and experience in this space is very strong."

Work highlights Kutak Rock acted as bond counsel to DeKalb County, Georgia in connection with the issuance of its Water and Sewerage Revenue Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $531,770,000.

Notable practitioners

Denver-based Anne Gish and Omaha-based John Wagner are cochairs of Kutak Rock's national public finance group.

Locke Lord LLP

What the team is known for Locke Lord LLP is regularly called upon to act as bond counsel on a range of municipal bond financings. The team have experience across a variety of projects in the transport, utilities, education and healthcare sectors. In addition to its borrower-side representation, the firm is equally strong acting as issuer's counsel to government entities as well as underwriter's counsel to financial institutions.

Work highlights Locke Lord LLP served as bond counsel to Northeastern University in connection with the issuance of $375.5 million Massachusetts Development Finance Agency Revenue Bonds, Northeastern University Issue, Series 2022.

Notable practitioners

Boston-based Stephanie Massey and Dallas-based Kevin Twinning are cochairs of the public finance practice group.

Squire Patton Boggs

What the team is known for Squire Patton Boggs handles a range of municipal bond financings and refinancings. The firm is notably active in the transport sector, frequently acting as bond counsel on projects including toll roads and airports. It has strength acting for government entities as well as developers active in a variety of sectors.

Work highlights Squire Patton Boggs served as bond counsel for Transurban in connection with the issuance of the $840,690,000 Virginia Small Business Financing Authority Subordinate Lien Revenue Refunding Notes (I-495 HOT Lanes Project), Series 2022.

Notable practitioners

Cleveland-based Catherine Romanchek is a key contact.

Real Estate Nationwide

Real Estate
Leading Firms
Band 1
Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Band 2
Dechert LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Goodwin
Paul Hastings LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Band 3
Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Band 4
Ballard Spahr LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Jones Day
Katten
King & Spalding LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Band 5
Alston & Bird LLP
Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Goulston & Storrs
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP
Polsinelli PC
Ropes & Gray LLP
Seyfarth Shaw LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP

What the team is known for Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP has a strong track record of handling significant real estate transactions. Its wide-ranging expertise includes regular work on property acquisitions and dispositions, developments and leases. The firm is also recognized for its expertise in financings and capital markets issuances, and complex restructurings and recapitalizations. The team offers additional capacity advising real estate clients on tax and restructuring matters.

Strengths

"Fried Frank are at the top of their game. The team provides pure competence and professionalism."

"Fried Frank are the best in class for service."

"Fried Frank are top of the line in their ability to handle complex and difficult matters."

Work highlights Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson acted as counsel to Citadel in connection with a ten-year master lease of 585,000 sq ft of office space.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Mechanic is a key contact. He is chair of the firm's real estate department.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher houses significant capabilities across all aspects of real estate, with regular work on the acquisition, disposition and development of very large and noteworthy real estate assets and portfolios. The firm acts for an enviable client base which includes high-end lenders and investment firms. It commands an impressive array of international resources located across the breadth of the USA, Europe and Asia.

Strengths

"The Gibson Dunn team has the most sophisticated team members on board to handle the most complicated transactions."

"The depth of the team is a highlight and their commercial acumen is top tier."

"They are both lawyers and deal makers, working on the most sophisticated and biggest deals in New York, the USA and internationally."

Work highlights Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP advised real estate investment firm Kennedy-Wilson Holdings and other purchasers on the acquisition of a $5.4 billion real estate construction loan portfolio from Pacific Western Bank.

Notable practitioners

Jesse Sharf in Los Angeles is a key contact.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig, LLP is a real estate powerhouse with enviable nationwide coverage. It advises across the full spectrum of real estate, including acquisitions and dispositions as well as development-related matters. It is accomplished at advising on related restructuring matters and workouts, land use issues and cross-border transactions. The firm is experienced at handling a comprehensive array of asset classes, including commercial, retail and residential property projects.

Strengths

"Greenberg Traurig is capable of handling a wide range of complex and sophisticated transactions."

"Greenberg Traurig has capable attorneys at all levels who never miss a deadline."

"Greenberg Traurig is a go-to firm for builders and developers. The team is very experienced and well regarded."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig, LLP advised SL Green Realty on the sale of a 49.9% interest in a Class A office tower near Grand Central Terminal.

Notable practitioners

Robert Ivanhoe in New York is a key contact.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is notable for its real estate-related work for private equity groups. It demonstrates substantial strengths in joint venture formation and single-asset and portfolio acquisitions and dispositions. The firm is also noted for its expertise in complex debt restructurings and workouts. It regularly handles complex transactions on behalf of REITs.

Strengths

"I turn to Kirkland whenever I have my most complicated matters and they always have the experts on hand to efficiently and effectively handle the issue."

"Kirkland & Ellis handles complex and sophisticated matters with expertise and ease."

"Kirkland has a fantastic real estate funds practice."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised GLP Capital Partners in the fundraising and deployment of its first US self-storage investment fund.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Schechter in New York is a key contact.

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP is renowned for its representation of premier real estate funds in the acquisition and disposition of real estate portfolios and trophy assets in New York and across the USA. Its notable strengths include structuring complex equity investments, as well as M&A within the real estate industry. It also demonstrates considerable experience advising on portfolio and asset refinancing matters.

Strengths

"Simpson Thacher are very good at handling complexity and getting to essence of issue efficiently."

"The team is sophisticated."

"The Simpson Thacher team has complete grasp of the market."

Notable practitioners

Sasan Mehrara is key contact.

Band 2Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert is renowned for its full range of financing work, including prowess in relation to loan origination, securitization and servicing. It is regularly sought out for work relating to significant real estate assets and loan portfolios, and offers particularly experienced counsel on syndicated transactions. The team frequently acts on behalf of a range of market-leading institutional lenders and investment companies.

Strengths

"The team has significant relevant experience for complex real estate transactions."

"Dechert provides exceptional counsel on complex and sophisticated matters."

"The team handles complicated matters in the real estate space."

Work highlights Dechert LLP represented Freddie Mac as mortgage loan seller in connection with the securitization of $1.16 billion in mortgage loans secured by multifamily properties.

Notable practitioners

Laura Ciabarra is a key contact. She is based in New York.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper has expansive geographic coverage coupled with the ability to advise on a full range of matters, from permitting and development on large, complex projects to high-value capital markets and joint venture transactions. It advises national and international real estate investors, owners and developers on a wide array of deals throughout the USA. The firm also displays strength in handling sports sector project work.

Strengths

"DLA has a comprehensive team structure that can provide transaction-specific resources, which has been beneficial."

"The DLA team has tremendous depth of knowledge, and they are creative problem solvers in nuanced situations."

"The lawyers at DLA Piper have exhibited great depth of knowledge combined with extensive experience that they are able to deploy in strategic discussions."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP represented Harrison Street in connection with an acquisition/joint venture with American Campus Communities of a portfolio of public-private partnership student housing facilities.

Notable practitioners

John Sullivan is chair of the firm's US real estate group and is a key contact.

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin focuses on work for institutional investors, REITs and private equity funds. It is often called upon to handle complex financings and joint venture formation as well as property acquisition, disposition and development. It represents a good choice of counsel for transactions in the hospitality and leisure market. It offers additional experience handling complex transactions in both public and private real estate markets.

Strengths

"Goodwin has a very organized and sophisticated team with a variety of practice experts."

"Goodwin is a trusted partner. The team can dive deep into the details while also being commercial."

Work highlights Goodwin advised Gaming & Leisure Properties on its tripartite agreement with the Oakland Athletics and Bally's Corporation for the construction of the A's new baseball stadium on land owned by Gaming & Leisure Properties.

Notable practitioners

Dean Pappas, chair of Goodwin's Los Angeles office, is a key contact.

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings LLP operates across the full spectrum of real estate work, including property development, acquisitions, disposals, leaseings, financings and joint venture formation. It works for a number of preeminent clients in the sector, including major financial organizations and international developers. The firm also comes recommended for providing real estate counsel to leading technology companies. It offers additional expertise in advising on environmental aspects of real estate transactions.

Strengths

"Paul Hastings are well connected in the market and are always able to provide strong market guidance."

"The team depth at Paul Hastings is strong, and while the partner advice is exceptional, we value all levels of the team."

"Paul Hastings has an extremely deep bench comprised of brilliant lawyers across all disciplines."

Work highlights Paul Hastings LLP represented Morgan Stanley, JPMorgan and Bank of America in the $1 billion refinancing of Westfield Century City, which is owned by a subsidiary of Uni-bail-Rodamco-Westfield Group.

Notable practitioners

Eric Landau is chair of the firm's real estate department and a key contact.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP is an international powerhouse with substantial prowess in the full spectrum of real estate matters. It offers noted expertise in debt and equity financing, and is particularly accomplished at advising on cross-border investments. The team boasts further capabilities handling complex real estate development matters.

Strengths

"Skadden's team gives extremely nuanced and tailored advice that takes into account the complexities of a given transaction."

"Skadden is able to meet extremely challenging deadlines on complex issues and always has someone we can speak to on very short notice."

Work highlights Skadden advised the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey on CMA CGM's acquisition of Global Container Terminals' interests in the Port Jersey-Port Authority Marine Terminal and Howland Hook Marine Terminal.

Notable practitioners

Neil Rock is global real estate group chair and a key contact.

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP provides its broad, international client base with high-level advice. It has significant expertise in all areas of real estate, including high-value joint ventures, acquisitions, sales and developments. The team is particularly noted for its strengths in debt and equity financing. It exhibits further capacity for handling complex real estate restructuring matters.

Strengths

"Sullivan & Cromwell has an outstanding team of legal experts in every field."

"The firm is extremely responsive and consistently hits requested deadlines."

"Sullivan & Cromwell's practitioners are high caliber and get deals done."

Notable practitioners

Robert Schlein is a key contact.

Band 3

Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP

What the team is known for Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP services premier lenders in real estate-related loan origination and securitization. It regularly structures financing across a range of asset classes, with particular experience in relation to hotels and properties used for the purpose of hospitality and leisure. The team is also well versed in acquisitions, joint ventures, sales and exchanges, development and construction. It exhibits expertise in syndicated lending practices, alongside its market-leading CMBS work.

Strengths

"Cadwalader has expertise in all finance-related matters and is capable of handling the most complex financing transactions."

"Cadwalader are the best in the business. Their expertise is unparalleled and they have a deep bench of incredible people."

Work highlights Cadwalader Wickersham & Taft represented the real estate investment arm of Kayne Anderson Capital Advisors in the acquisition of a $1.3 billion medical office loan portfolio from regional bank Synovus Bank.

Notable practitioners

Bonnie Neuman is a key contact.

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP is respected for advising on real estate financing, with notable work on loan origination. It also counsels real estate investors and owners on joint venture formation as well as on property acquisition and disposition. The team enjoys a fine reputation for its work in the health-care and multifamily sectors. It also regularly represents clients in complex real estate development matters.

Strengths

"Cleary has strong team of knowledgeable attorneys and focuses on important issues. We go to Cleary for our most complex matters."

"The firm is highly responsive and extremely focused on making sure that the clients feel that they are working in complete lockstep to close a transaction."

"Cleary has a really strong real estate group."

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton advised Goldman Sachs and others, as lenders, on the origination of a floating-rate mortgage loan to affiliates of Washington Prime Group secured by 38 open-air mall properties.

Notable practitioners

Steven Wilner based in New York is a key contact.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP handles both single property and large portfolio financings, acquisitions and dispositions. Its clients include multinational banking groups and asset managers. The team is noted for its counsel on hospitality and gaming developments, as well as healthcare and life sciences facilities.

Strengths

"Latham & Watkins has a deep bench of attorneys with broad expertise."

"Latham & Watkins is fantastic. The team is very knowledgeable and thinks way ahead in negotiations."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins advised Healthpeak Properties in connection with its agreement with Physicians Realty Trust to combine in a stock-for-stock merger.

Notable practitioners

Michelle Kelban in New York is a key contact.

Band 4

Ballard Spahr LLP

What the team is known for Ballard Spahr LLP is well versed in providing counsel on development, construction and leasing, as well as a wide array of loan transactions and distressed real estate deals. The team is also regularly engaged for its expertise in land use and condemnation matters. It enjoys a fine track record for its work on resort hotel developments and affordable housing transactions. It is additionally experienced in advising clients on community enrichment projects and developments.

Strengths

"Ballard Spahr is a strong, diversified firm with many tools."

"They are excellent. I find them to be competent, skilled, responsive and friendly."

Work highlights Ballard Spahr LLP represented Temple University in obtaining the legislative and administrative approvals for a new home for the College of Public Health, a 300,000 sq ft facility which will utilize portions of the former Paley Library.

Notable practitioners

Amy McClain is a key contact. She is based in Baltimore.

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP represents clients in a range of real estate services, including sophisticated financing and leasing matters. It possesses noteworthy strength in representing clients on complex mixed-use developments and hospitality. The team is also recognized for its land use and zoning expertise.

Strengths

"The team's knowledge and awareness of commercial real estate and the issues is excellent."

"Holland & Knight always finds a way to solve complex issues."

"The team at Holland & Knight has the highest level of expertise in many lines of business."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP advised the Tennessee Titans on a new $2.2 billion stadium replacement.

Notable practitioners

Vivian de las Cuevas-Diaz is a key contact at the firm.

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day advises clients such as investment groups and large corporates on a full range of real estate-related matters, including high-value acquisitions and dispositions, and all manner of complex financing transactions. It is notable for its ability to provide strong real estate teams throughout the USA. The team is able to draw on wider corporate expertise to provide real estate clients with a full range of services.

Strengths

"Jones Day has a wide-ranging bench from seasoned partners to associates."

"The team's level of expertise is second to none. They have an uncanny ability to work with other groups and on very complex projects."

Work highlights Jones Day represented Hard Rock International on the acquisition of The Mirage Las Vegas Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas from MGM Resorts International.

Notable practitioners

Robert Lee co-heads Jones Day's worldwide real estate practice and is a key contact.

Katten

What the team is known for Katten regularly advises on development issues as well as on the purchase and sale of a variety of asset classes, including office, hospitality and mixed-use projects. It is known for its work on a range of financing transactions, where it represents both borrowers and lenders. The team is also highlighted for its expertise in affordable housing finance transactions. It offers additional experience handling cross-border transactional and investment matters.

Strengths

"One of the firm's key strengths is its ability to handle any type of real estate transaction, regardless of size or complexity."

"Katten is a fine firm with a great breadth of experience."

Work highlights Katten represented The Pacific Companies and Affirmed Housing Group in multiple affordable housing development transactions throughout California using the low-income housing tax credits.

Notable practitioners

Key contact Timothy Little is the chair of Katten's real estate department.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP has a well-integrated team with expertise across a range of real estate transactions, including M&A, financings and restructurings. It is experienced in representing domestic and international investors in the acquisition and disposition of high-profile assets.

Strengths

"King & Spalding are adept at boiling down complex concepts and making them easy to understand and navigate."

"King & Spalding are very strong in understanding the end goal and working to help achieve it."

Notable practitioners

Mark Thigpen leads the firm's global real estate practice and is a key contact.

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP advises a wide array of clients, including developers and investors, on a broad range of transactions across the country. It regularly undertakes property acquisitions, dispositions and developments, as well as a wide variety of complex financing transactions. The team is also experienced in handling complex restructurings and workouts.

Strengths

"Mayer Brown's team are extremely responsive and knowledgeable."

"The team exhibits in-depth knowledge of the subject matter."

Work highlights Mayer Brown LLP represented American Equity Investment Life Insurance, as lender, in the acquisition of a $40 million senior construction loan secured by an industrial property.

Notable practitioners

Neil Wasserstrom is a key contact. He is the managing partner of the Houston office.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP undertakes a broad range of acquisitions, leaseings and financings for its public and private sector clients. It regularly handles hospitality, healthcare and multifamily projects, among other commercial developments. The team demonstrates strength in handling matters for significant transport sector clients, developers and investment funds, among others.

Strengths

"We turn to Paul, Weiss for all our most sophisticated and complex work."

"Paul, Weiss has terrific lawyers, great clients and an enormous corporate practice."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss represented the Metropolitan Travel Authority in reaching a ground lease and development agreement with Boston Properties for development of its former headquarters into a new office building.

Notable practitioners

Harris Freidus in New York is a key contact.

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose LLP handles the purchase, sale and development of marquee real estate assets and portfolios. It is also adept at real estate finance, joint ventures and leaseings. The team has noted prowess in the healthcare and hotel sectors. Additionally, it is esteemed for its work in the REIT space. It advises a diverse array of clients, including corporate owners, developers and investment groups.

Strengths

"The Proskauer team is complexity simplified. They are not afraid to do the heavy lifting so that we can make informed business decisions that are implemented with care."

"The responsiveness is out of this world. Proskauer never leave us in the dark about status of projects."

"We go to Proskauer Rose for complex real estate development deals because of their expertise, attention to detail and timeliness."

Work highlights Proskauer Rose represented Alexandria Real Estate Equities in the formation of a joint venture with a foreign investor to fund construction costs of an office/lab project.

Notable practitioners

Ronald Sernau is a key contact. He is based in New York.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP earns praise for its expertise in real estate lending finance, including originating and documenting mortgage, mezzanine and construction loans. It is also adept at advising on M&A activity involving real estate groups. The team acts for a distinguished roster of clients, including leading financial institutions and private equity firms. Additionally, its lawyers are knowledgeable across cross-border and international real estate transactions.

Strengths

"Sidley has excellent depth of knowledge and their responses are thoughtful, thorough and strategic."

"Sidley has an extremely deep bench."

"They are very in tune with our positions and are strategic in their negotiations."

Work highlights Sidley Austin advised Goldman Sachs on its joint venture with the Michaels Organization and their acquisition of more than 10,000 multifamily units from Harmony Housing.

Notable practitioners

Beatriz Azcuy, the head of the real estate group in Miami, is a key contact.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP provides high-quality representation in the full spectrum of corporate real estate matters. It is able to act for major REITs, developers, lenders and asset managers. The team is adept at handling major financings on both the borrower and sponsor sides.

Strengths

"Willkie has the experience and willingness to go the extra mile to represent us in transactions with our best interests in mind."

"Their work is extremely detail-oriented and meticulous. They understand the business side of real estate very well."

"Willkie has an amazing group of people and does high-profile deals."

Work highlights Willkie Farr & Gallagher advised Paramount Group and its affiliates on a $200 million mezzanine loan investment in 1285 Avenue of the Americas.

Notable practitioners

Krystyna Blakeslee is a key contact. She is based in New York.

Band 5

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird LLP has an extremely well-rounded real estate practice with notable strength across a broad range of activities including acquisitions, joint ventures, leasing and financing. The team boasts an impressive list of clients from developers to lender and investors entities. It also offers highly noted skills in the capital markets space.

Strengths

"The firm never leaves you waiting for support. Once you are a client, you are always a priority."

"Alston & Bird understand the market and the issues that impact our business."

"They have done excellent work on some complicated transactions."

Work highlights Alston & Bird represented Ready Capital Corporation in its $787 million acquisition of Broadmark Realty Capital.

Notable practitioners

Practice co-leader Jason Howard is a key contact.

Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP

What the team is known for BCLP represents clients in matters relating to multiple asset classes, including including office, multifamily, hospitality, retail, industrial and mixed-use properties. It draws upon a sizable nationwide footprint to advise across mandate types including acquisition, leasing, construction and development.

Strengths

"The group can definitely handle complex matters."

"The team members are extremely responsive."

"They have demonstrated time and again their expertise and ability to address ever-changing regulations and are very good at identifying pathways to success."

Work highlights BCLP represented Ares Management as a preferred equity investor in connection with a $320 million transaction for a ground-up development on Atlantic Avenue in Brooklyn.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Andrew Auerbach is a key contact at the firm.

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP is experienced in advising on real estate transactions across the USA. Its wide-ranging expertise includes property acquisition, disposition, financing, joint ventures and leasing. Its advisers are experts on shopping center and office property developments, as well as high-profile mixed-use projects. It offers additional capacity to advise clients on real estate-related tax matters.

Strengths

"Debevoise's team are always very practical in their advice."

"The firm's attorneys are practical, business-savvy and creative in their approach to legal solutions."

"I always find the Debevoise team to be highly organized and well resourced, and I am continually impressed by their ability to handle complex issues."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton represented Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield in connection with the financing of Westfield Century City, a two-level, 1.3 million sq ft outdoor shopping mall.

Notable practitioners

Peter Irwin is the chair of the firm's real estate group and a key contact.

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland has a well-respected group with expertise across a variety of real estate transactions including acquisitions, financings and dispositions. The firm has experience representing clients across a variety of industries, including the hospitality and technology sectors.

Strengths

"What makes Eversheds different is that they pair sophisticated legal analysis with a practical and commercial approach."

"Eversheds has a very talented team capable of handling complex and sophisticated matters."

"Eversheds' extensive experience base is applied in a pragmatic and insightful manner."

Work highlights Eversheds Sutherland advised Blue Source Sustainable Forests Company on the acquisition of entities managed by The Forestland Group, among other issues.

Notable practitioners

Victor Haley, practice group leader, is a key contact.

Goulston & Storrs

What the team is known for Goulston & Storrs is regularly sought out for its expertise in complex real estate deals. It is able to advise on the full spectrum of matters including acquisitions, developments and financings. The team has strong supplementary knowledge of land use and zoning. Clients span the market and include REITs, investors, developers and lenders. It has particular expertise in retail projects.

Strengths

"Everything just runs perfectly. I wish there were more firms and people out there like Goulston. They go the extra mile; it's just how they are."

"The team is very sophisticated and able to handle large matters."

Notable practitioners

Jean Bowe is a key contact. She practices from the firm's Boston office.

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP has an impressive nationwide real estate practice that has highly experienced practitioners in dealing with a wide range of matters including acquisitions and dispositions, financing and leasing. The team is able to bring forth a strong set of skills in dealing with a broad array of assets such as industrial, office, residential and hospitality.

Strengths

"The real estate team is extraordinarily strong and offers a wide range of experts across many disciplines. I have been impressed by their ability to negotiate and close transactions under extremely tight deadlines."

"The team at Hunton Andrews Kurth are thoughtful and give great attention to every word."

"The team is ultra responsive and always up for any challenge."

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth assisted Beal Bank with its $110 million acquisition loan to Capital Commercial Investors in connection with CCI's purchase of the Exxon Mobil Campus in Las Colinas.

Notable practitioners

Howard Schreiber is a key contact in Texas.

Polsinelli PC

What the team is known for Polsinelli PC has a broad real estate practice with considerable strength in handling acquisitions and leasing issues. The team is notably adept at handling issues on behalf of clients in the retail and energy sectors. The practitioners have further experience providing counsel on issues concerning multi-family and condominium developments. Its group is highlighted for its additional strength in handling complex, high-profile acquisitions.

Strengths

"Polsinelli's real estate team are as savvy as any. They can tackle complicated matters but also do so with a problem-solving mindset that gets deals done."

"Polsinelli's lawyers have a wide range of experience and knowledge."

Work highlights Polsinelli PC assisted Flint Development with the sale of Caroline Commerce Center to Trader Joe's.

Notable practitioners

Amy Hansen, real estate chair, is a key contact.

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray is sought after for its expertise in advising on large-scale real estate projects. It has a strong history of representing private equity clients as well as REITs. Its knowledge spans acquisitions, developments and refinancings. It has a strong global network to complement national capabilities.

Strengths

"Ropes & Gray's team has tremendous expertise in real estate and provides counsel on matters with high levels of complexity."

"Ropes & Gray has significant team depth, a broad skill base and a commercial approach to solving complex problems."

"I always know that Ropes will respond to me in a timely manner. They are thorough but also business-oriented."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray represented Partners Group on more than ten joint ventures valued at approximately $3 billion in aggregate.

Notable practitioners

Jack Creedon is a key contact.

Seyfarth Shaw LLP

What the team is known for Seyfarth Shaw LLP is able to advise investment banks, pension funds and life insurance companies, and real estate owners and developers, on commercial real estate matters. It has notable strength handling projects in the healthcare and retail sectors. The firm has nationwide strength with offices in Illinois, New York and California, to name just a few.

Strengths

"Seyfarth has a deep bench of highly skilled lawyers who handle very complex transactions."

"The team at Seyfarth Shaw have a proven depth of knowledge, breadth of experience and unwavering commitment to their clients."

"They have a strong commitment to client service and are highly knowledgeable about complex transactions and their financial impact."

Work highlights Seyfarth Shaw advised LBA Realty on a $245 million acquisition of portfolio of 17 properties totalling 2.4 million sq ft in Richmond and Sandston.

Notable practitioners

Atlanta-based Paul Mattingly is a key contact.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP represents real estate companies, REITs and institutional and private investors, among other clients, in a broad range of mandates. It offers particular expertise in investments, acquisitions and divestments, development and financings. Its lawyers have further experience acting for clients dealing in distressed properties and loan workouts.

Strengths

"Weil is our most relied-upon firm for complex matters."

"Weil typically handle our most complex transaction matters and have shown a consistent ability to reach an optimal outcome on even the most challenging matters."

"The team at Weil is proactive and has excellent market intelligence which has helped us make better commercial decisions."

Work highlights Weil advised Aman Group on the negotiation and documentation of senior secured term facilities to fund Aman and Janu branded resort developments.

Notable practitioners

Evan Levy, co-head of Weil's real estate practice, is a key contact and is based in New York.

Registered Funds Nationwide

Band 1

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert is one of the market leaders for registered fund expertise, aiding the most high-profile asset managers and expansive fund complexes, alongside small to mid-sized entities, in fund formation, transactions, regulatory compliance and litigation. Demonstrates familiarity with a diverse array of fund structures. Noted for its considerable strength in all matters relating to exchange-traded funds.

Strengths

"Dechert has an excellent depth of talent."

"The firm has a strong team that is very responsive."

"Dechert has a number of experienced partners in the investment management space who are very strong."

Work highlights Dechert provided counsel to MainStay Funds on launching new funds and reorganizing existing funds.

Notable practitioners

Allison Fumai's clients include significant financial institutions, which she routinely advises on operational issues and regulatory compliance.

Strengths: "Allison is very commercial and proac- tive." "She is a super strong attorney." Christopher Harvey has a wide-ranging knowledge of vehicles such as ETFs and manager-of-managers funds.

Strengths: "His opinions are well respected and he brings a level of depth to conversations and issues." Stephen Bier advises clients on a host of matters affecting mutual funds and ETFs. He is routinely called upon to advise clients on regulatory and compliance matters, as well as transactional issues.

Christopher Christian is best known for his international funds work, working with foreign-domiciled funds and UCITS. Strengths: "He's extremely solution-oriented." Douglas Dick's strong practice encompasses advising open-end funds and ETFs on transactional and associated regulatory issues.

Strengths: "He provides outstanding client service." John O'Hanlon regularly acts on the launch and operation of mutual funds and ETFs. He draws on his experience within the SEC to advise on regulatory and compliance issues.

Strengths: "John has decades of experience and guidance." "He's a valued partner, particularly on complex issues." Mark Perlow is known for his astute advice concerning open-end and closed-end funds.

Strengths: "Mark has a broad knowledge of the space. He's really incredible." "He is very strong, so thoughtful and deep in his analysis - he's a tremendous lawyer." Cynthia Beyea is gaining recognition for her broad-based practice centered on registered funds. Strengths: "She is very experienced and very knowledgeable." "Cynthia is extremely responsive and an excellent lawyer in all respects." Thomas Bogle advises clients on a broad range of issues including launching new funds, regulatory filings with the SEC and negotiating new contracts. Adam Teufel is called upon by investment companies to provide counsel on both corporate and regulatory issues surrounding ETFs and mutual funds. Strengths: "Adam is tremendous. He is thoughtful and provides excellent service." "He has very strong experience."

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray boasts a hugely respected '40 Act practice, fluent in all types of registered fund from ETFs to proprietary and master-feeder funds. Handles the full range of matters, including fund formation and operation, regulatory compliance and tax matters, and is additionally uniquely placed to advise on hedge funds and private equity funds.

Strengths

Registered Funds
Leading Firms
Band 1
Dechert LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP
Band 2
K&L Gates
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Vedder Price PC
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Band 3
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Faegre Drinker
Goodwin
Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Paul Hastings LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Band 4
Clifford Chance US LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Godfrey & Kahn, SC
Perkins Coie LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Sullivan & Worcester
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Thompson Hine LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◊ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

"Ropes & Gray has a deep and experienced bench."
 "The team contains many partners with deep experience. The group provides excellent service and responsiveness."

"The group has great depth of experience and a thoughtful and practical approach."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray assisted Blackstone Alternative Asset Management with the organization and ongoing operation of a publicly-offered registered open-end fund, Blackstone Alternative Multi-Strategy Fund.

Notable practitioners

Bryan Chegwidan (see p.524)'s practice largely revolves around ETFs and sees him serving as fund and independent trustee counsel. Strengths: "He is an outstanding attorney. He is deeply knowledgeable and thoughtful." Bryan is a smart and experienced lawyer. Michael Doherty (see p.543) is sought after for his deep understanding of fund formation and related regulatory and compliance matters. Strengths: "He has a depth of experience and is thorough and smart." Paulita Pike (see p.669) is esteemed for her work representing funds and their independent trustees and directors. Strengths: "She's very well known in the industry." Elizabeth Reza (see p.2036) has strong regulatory and operational capabilities relating to registered funds. She has experience advising on mutual funds as well as open and closed-end funds. Strengths: "Elizabeth is great. She's really business-minded." Brian McCabe (see p.2028) is skilled at handling matters involving mutual funds and ETFs and is noted for his independent trustee representation. Strengths: "Brian is a very strong and responsive lawyer." "He is service-oriented and knowledgeable." Timothy Diggins is commended

Registered Funds	Senior Statespeople	Leading Individuals
	Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
	Baumgardner John E. Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *	Frischling Carl Perkins Coie LLP *
	Leading Individuals
Star individuals		Diggins Timothy W. Ropes & Gray LLP
Neale Margery Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *		Farrar William Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *
Band 1		Gluck Elliot Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Boehm Steven B. Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *		Goshko Mark K&L Gates *
Chanda Rajib Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *		Graber Sean Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Chegwidden Bryan Ropes & Gray LLP *		Hardt Renee Vedder Price PC *
Coleman Stuart H. Proskauer Rose LLP *		Hardy Kevin Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Fuller Alison Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP		Harman Thomas S. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Gonzales O'Kelly Cathy Vedder Price PC *		Kean Jesse Sidley Austin LLP *
Leto Bruce G. Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP		Leahy David M. Sullivan & Worcester
McGuire W. John Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP		Pugliese Domenick Sullivan & Worcester
Palmer Christopher Kirkland & Ellis LLP *		Spinola Jay Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Band 2		Stephens David Proskauer Rose LLP *
Baris Jay G. Sidley Austin LLP *		Band 5
Bateman Marguerite Vedder Price *		Avdeychik Vadim Clifford Chance US LLP
Blass David W. Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *		Baum David Alston & Bird LLP (ORL) ◊ *
Copenhaver Lea Anne Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP		Beyea Cynthia Dechert LLP
Crawshaw Donald Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *		Bogle Thomas Dechert LLP
Deringer Joshua Faegre Drinker		Bregasi Ndenisarya K&L Gates *
DiClemente Matthew R. Stradley Ronon Stevens		Burdon Kenneth E. Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Doherty Michael Ropes & Gray LLP *		Caccese Michael S. K&L Gates *
Fumai Allison Dechert LLP		Chen Pamela Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Greene Nathan J. Sidley Austin LLP *		Davis Gregory Ropes & Gray LLP *
Harvey Christopher P. Dechert LLP		Eades Deborah Vedder Price PC *
Hoffman Michael K. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *		Flores Laura E. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Joseph Roger P. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP		Goldberg Alan Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP
Pike Paulita Ropes & Gray LLP *		Green Bradford A. Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Reza Elizabeth J. Ropes & Gray LLP *		Hiller Thomas R. Ropes & Gray LLP *
Rosella Michael R. Paul Hastings LLP		Howes Kelley Morrison Foerster (ORL) ◊ *
Roth Stephen E. Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *		Krus Cynthia M. Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *
Runyan Nicole Kirkland & Ellis LLP *		Louizos Stacy H. Blank Rome LLP (ORL) ◊
Zutz Robert K&L Gates *		Mahon John Proskauer Rose LLP *
Band 3		Majewski Thomas M. A&O Shearman (ORL) ◊
Bier Stephen Dechert LLP		Marten John S. Vedder Price PC *
Christian Christopher Dechert LLP		McCurry Kate Kilpatrick Townsend (ORL) ◊
Dick Douglas P. Dechert LLP		Menconi Chris Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Haskin Benjamin Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *		Miller Paul Seward & Kissel LLP (ORL) ◊ *
Hearth David Paul Hastings LLP		Pershokow Amy Ward Vedder Price PC *
Levin Timothy W. Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP		Senderowicz Jeremy I. Vedder Price *
Mahaffey David C. Sullivan & Worcester		Smith Jeremy Ropes & Gray LLP *
Malloy Michael Faegre Drinker		Steingarten Derek Morrison Foerster (ORL) ◊ *
McCabe Brian D. Ropes & Gray LLP *		Sullivan David C. Ropes & Gray LLP *
Mundt Michael Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP		Teufel Adam Dechert LLP
O'Hanlon John V. Dechert LLP		Westle Thomas Blank Rome LLP (ORL) ◊
Perlow Mark Dechert LLP		Zornada George K&L Gates *
Purple Eric Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP		Up-and-coming individuals
Rowland Gregory Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *		Brizek Ryan Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Strasser JoAnn Thompson Hine LLP		LeMaster Jeff Clifford Chance LLP
Band 4		Monfort Jason Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Amorosi Mark K&L Gates *		Nosal Lisa Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Cone Clifford Clifford Chance US LLP		Sood Neesa Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Delligatti Paul Kirkland & Ellis LLP *		Williams David Faegre Drinker *

for his experienced counsel to mutual funds and independent trustees. Gregory Davis (see p.538) displays a strong practice in fund formation and fund structuring, advising on regulatory and compliance matters. Thomas Hiller (see p.2020) is particularly adept at advising asset managers on issues relating to closed-end funds. Jeremy Smith (see p.705) has considerable experience advising investment managers and funds on matters concerning ETF and close-end funds. Strengths:

"Jeremy is an excellent lawyer." David Sullivan (see p.2040) is relied upon by fund managers to provide guidance on a broad range of issues such as fund formation, financing and regulatory compliance. Strengths: "He's a great lawyer." "David is very intellectual and provides practical advice."

Stradley Ronon Stevens & Young LLP

What the team is known for Stradley Ronon maintains an impressive client list of fund complexes, fund managers and independent trustees, who benefit from the firm's skill, industry integration and nationwide presence when developing new products or approaching other registered fund concerns. Handles a wide range of open and closed-end funds and is particularly noted for its strength in the ETF space.

Strengths

"Stradley Ronon's team handles complicated and sophisticated work."

"The team always provides thoughtful and nuanced advice."

"The group is very responsive and has a breadth of expertise."

Work highlights Stradley Ronon advised Dimensional Funds on the launch of a new ETF share class for its US mutual funds.

Notable practitioners

Alison Fuller is highly commended for her representation of mutual funds and their independent directors. Strengths: "She's a great lawyer." Bruce Leto's distinguished practice involves advising significant investment managers on M&A, launches and regulatory issues. Strengths: "Bruce is a very experienced lawyer."

Matthew DiClemente is experienced across the registered fund sector, including ETFs and mutual funds. Strengths: "Matthew provides tremendous support for clients. He is thoughtful, responsive and a pleasure to work with." Michael Mundt utilizes his SEC experience to assist clients with innovative solutions to complex issues relating to ETFs. Strengths: "Michael is an excellent lawyer."

Eric Purple's well-regarded registered fund practice includes advising independent directors and investment managers on fund formation and regulatory matters. Strengths: "Eric is a wonderful lawyer; he is super responsive and intelligent. He also offers great client service." Alan Goldberg has a noted practice which involves advising significant investment companies and independent board members. Strengths: "Alan brings his personal expertise to help us achieve our tasks."

Band 2

K&L Gates

What the team is known for The K&L Gates team is highly accomplished in the domain of ETFs and adept in its appraisal of complex regulatory and compliance matters, due to the contingent of SEC alumni in the ranks of its investment management team. Acknowledged for its deep-seated expertise in open and closed-end fund matters. Capable of deploying well-integrated global support, and providing funds with a wealth of ancillary materials and training programs.

Strengths

"K&L Gates is a great firm."

"The team is fantastic – the practitioners have detailed subject matter expertise and experience."

"K&L Gates has a deep bench of expertise and the team is very responsive."

Work highlights K&L Gates provided counsel to NexPoint Advisors and NexPoint Funds on proxies for the conversion of a closed-end fund into an operating company and another for conversion of a closed-end fund into a REIT.

Notable practitioners

Robert Zutz (see p.742) has a significant practice advising independent trustees and investment managers on funds including ETFs. Strengths: "Robert is a terrific lawyer and he is knowledgeable." Mark Amorosi (see p.491) is renowned for his depth of knowledge in mutual fund operation and launches. Strengths: "Mark is very knowledgeable and a solid lawyer." "He is a fantastic attorney."

Mark Goshko (see p.2018) is recommended for his representation of mutual funds and ETFs. He has notable experience gained from advising on both regulatory and operational issues, including reorganizations. The Washington-based Ndenisarya Bregasi (see p.512) assists independent trustees on governance and regulatory mandates. She has further experience providing counsel on complex transactions. Strengths: "Ndenisarya is an outstanding lawyer."

Michael Caccese (see p.2010) is regularly called upon by investment managers to provide counsel on mutual and closed-end funds. He is adept at advising on transactional matters as well as regulatory filings. George Zornada (see p.2044)'s practice covers a wide array of issues, including advising on regulatory and transactional matters. He has notable experience advising clients on deals concerning ETFs, BDCs and closed-end funds. Strengths: "George is professional, on top of the details and a pleasure to work with." "He is very commercial and incredibly resourceful."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius offers expertise across all aspects of the registered fund space, including ETFs, money market vehicles and mutual fund complexes. Advises in connection with '40 Act matters and the full range of state and federal regulatory matters. Noted for its ability to handle the international aspects of investments, working with experts in the firm's offices globally.

Strengths

"Morgan Lewis is a go-to firm for complex and sophisticated matters."
"The lawyers at Morgan Lewis are very professional, knowledgeable and effective. The firm has a deep pool of talented individuals."
"Morgan Lewis has an extremely deep and expert team."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius advised SEI Investments Company on launching its first interval fund.

Notable practitioners

John McGuire has cultivated a market-leading reputation in the ETF marketplace. Strengths: "He is an ETF expert." Lea Anne Copenhefer is equally capable acting for major investment advisers and the independent directors of registered funds. Her work includes the formation of both public and non-traded funds. Strengths: "Her business-friendly approach combined with subject matter expertise and judgment sets her apart."

Roger Joseph's international registered funds work includes a number of major fund launches. Strengths: "He is a very good lawyer." Timothy Levin has in-depth knowledge of mutual funds and regularly handles fund formation. Strengths: "He is fantastic. He has a practical approach to matters." "Timothy is very smart and a really good attorney." Sean Graber's broad caseload ranges from establishing funds to M&A and operational matters. He has additional experience advising on novel issues such as auction funds. Strengths: "He has extensive knowledge and produces an excellent work product." "Sean is an amazing lawyer." Thomas Harman's wide practice encompasses complex UCITS and closed-end fund issues. Strengths: "Thomas is a great attorney, always responsive and an excellent sounding board." "He provides sound judgment." Laura Flores is adept at advising ETFs and their managers on launches and registration with the SEC. Chris Menconi is especially well reputed for his understanding of publicly traded funds.

Vedder Price PC

What the team is known for Vedder Price represents open and closed-end funds across an array of regulatory, transactional and compliance issues. Typically advises on matters relating to derivatives and structured products, CFTC procedures, and tax and ERISA affairs. Notable for its strength in the area of mutual funds and ETFs.

Strengths

"Vedder Price's practitioners are very knowledgeable."

"The team is proactive, thorough and a pleasure to work with."

Work highlights Vedder Price represented the Independent Trustees of Invesco ETFs in connection with two acquisitions of external suites of funds.

Notable practitioners

Cathy Gonzales O'Kelly (see p.569)'s formation and operation expertise covers mutual and closed-end funds and ETFs. Strengths: "She is a top-notch lawyer." "Cathy provides excellent service and has good business judgment." Marguerite Bateman (see p.499) is acknowledged for her exemplary representation of independent trustees of registered funds and ETFs. Strengths: "Marguerite is an excellent lawyer."

Renee Hardt (see p.578) is esteemed for her registered fund expertise, including independent trustee representation. Strengths: "She is an excellent adviser and has a lot to add in terms of her experience and judgment." "Renee is very knowledgeable."

Deborah Bielick Eades (see p.546) routinely offers advice and guidance to clients relating to open and closed-end funds. John Marten (see p.632) is well versed in advising independent trustees on all matters relating to the operation of funds. Strengths: "He is very knowledgeable and easy to work with."

Amy Ward Pershkov (see p.667)'s practice involves advising independent boards of trustees and investment companies on '40 Act compliance. Jeremy Senderowicz (see p.697) focuses his practice on providing counsel to significant ETF fund complexes.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher counsels leading registered funds, as well as their advisers and independent directors, in connection with the full range of '40 Act matters. Covers the whole spectrum from organization and registration to offerings. Particular strength in connection with alternative investments, closed-end funds, ETFs and BDCs.

Strengths

"Willkie has a deep and experienced team."

"The team is very strong. They are very responsive and detail-oriented."

"The practitioners are extremely responsive and have strong commercial awareness."

Work highlights Willkie Farr & Gallagher assisted an investment adviser with respect to the launch of a suite of 24 "buffered" ETFs.

Notable practitioners

Margery Neale (see p.652) is recognized for her high-level practice encompassing ETFs and other registered funds. Strengths: "Margery is one of the most knowledgeable '40 Act practitioners in the market." "She is smart, thoughtful and detail-oriented." "Margery is a legend in the field. She is able to get at the heart of the matter due to her sharp instincts and her vast experience."

Benjamin Haskin (see p.579) is particularly recognized for his expertise in significant ETF matters. Strengths: "Benjamin is a very substantive and thoughtful attorney." "He is a superb attorney who has a business-friendly approach combined with subject matter expertise. He is also always client-focused and practical." Elliot Gluck (see p.567) is well versed in the formation and operation of registered funds, including ETFs and closed-end funds. Strengths: "He is great to work with, responsive and experienced." "Elliot is extremely skilled and has strong industry knowledge."

Jay Spinola (see p.709) has a broad registered funds practice which covers the establishment of ETFs, as well as regulatory and operational issues for open-end and closed-end funds. Strengths: "Jay is very diligent, dedicated and responsive." "Jay has expansive knowledge of the registered fund space."

Neesa Sood (see p.707) frequently advises asset managers and independent boards on closed-end and mutual fund matters.

products. Strengths: "Stephen is thorough and proactive." "He is very smart and an excellent attorney." Cynthia Krus (see p.614) is renowned for her strength in the BDC space. She has experience advising clients on a range of issues including offerings, transactions and compliance issues. Strengths: "I rely on her knowledge and experience with regards to BDC matters." "She provides excellent client service on complex matters and demonstrates her deep knowledge of the industry."

Faegre Drinker

What the team is known for Faegre Drinker offers solid registered funds support to clients. Boasts strength in handling issues relating to mutual funds and ETFs. Areas of expertise include fund formation, restructuring and regulatory compliance and enforcement. Additional noted strength in the alternative investment space, including investments in alternative instruments by closed-end funds. Acknowledged for its experience dealing with the SEC in obtaining exemptive and no-action relief.

Strengths

"The team is very responsive."

"Faegre Drinker's practitioners are experts in the field."

Work highlights Faegre Drinker advised Hamilton Lane Private Assets Fund on its registration of digital share classes.

Notable practitioners

Joshua Deringer's practice encompasses both mutual funds and closed-end funds, including interval funds. Michael Malloy is skilled in advising funds and their independent directors on a broad range of registered fund issues. David Williams (see p.734) is highlighted for his ability to advise clients on mergers, formations and offerings. He has experience providing counsel on issues relating to closed-end funds and mutual funds. Strengths: "David is a smart lawyer."

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin represents a respectable roster of traditional mutual funds, sub-advised entities and funding vehicles for insurance products, with an invaluable proficiency in tackling the securities and regulatory issues facing bank-sponsored mutual fund complexes. Handles long-term governance matters in addition to large-scale restructuring. Distinguished in its ability to handle industry-specific litigation, enforcement and investigations.

Strengths

"Goodwin's team are extremely proactive and communicative."

"The group is outstanding. The lawyers are smart and easy to work with."

"Goodwin has a strong interconnected practice and the practitioners are very knowledgeable."

Work highlights Goodwin assisted the Independent Directors of the Hartford Funds with the launch of a closed-end tender offer fund, among other issues.

Notable practitioners

Paul Delligatti is a key contact.

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis has a strong bench of distinguished practitioners. The team has an enviable client list that is composed of renowned asset managers and investment companies. Its practitioners are called upon to advise clients on an array of issues including structuring, launching and forming funds. The group has further experience assisting clients on matters concerning BDCs.

Strengths

"Kirkland & Ellis have expansive capabilities across multiple specialty areas, enabling them to handle complex matters."

"The team is very responsive and knowledgeable."

"It's a highly skilled and talented team that operates with impressive efficiency."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised 26North Partners LP on the structuring and launch of 26North BDC, Inc., among other issues.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Palmer (see p.660) is known for his work in the insurance fund space and his independent director representation. Strengths: "He is excellent – he has deep knowledge and is efficient." "Chris is very responsive and constantly demonstrates an unwavering commitment to client service." Nicole Runyan (see p.686)'s registered funds practice is notable for its breadth, with recent work encompassing BDCs and ETFs.

Strengths: "Nicole is simply outstanding. She is a strong lawyer and my go-to for commercial and practical advice." "She is very knowledgeable in the space and diligent." Paul Delligatti (see p.540) provides extensive strategic guidance to clients on ETFs, ESG funds and regulatory compliance issues. Strengths: "Paul is an outstanding lawyer with excellent client service skills." "He has a deep knowledge of what's happening in the industry."

Pamela Chen (see p.524)'s practice involves representing a wide spectrum of funds, including BDCs, closed-end and open-end funds. She has notable experience providing counsel on fund formation and structurings, among other issues.

Strengths: "Pamela is highly detail-oriented, responsive and knowledgeable." "My experience of work with her has been outstanding. She is incredibly responsive and attentive." Bradford Green (see p.572) is held in high regard for his ability to provide counsel on the structuring, launch and operation of funds. Strengths: "He is a strong industry expert." "Bradford is knowledgeable and responsive." Jason Monfort (see p.646) regularly advises banks and insurance companies on a range of governance and regulatory matters for their funds. Lisa Nosal (see p.655) is held in high regard for her ability to assist clients with the launch and formation of a range of funds and BDCs. Strengths: "She is incredibly responsive and very efficient." "Lisa is very knowledgeable and diligent."

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings is notable for its registered funds prowess, especially within the niche area of unit investment trusts. Draws upon corporate and capital markets resources relevant to fund transactions such as M&A and spinouts. Serves an impressive stable of

Band 3

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland's registered funds practice is noted for its capabilities in the registered insurance product and BDC spaces, along with key aptitudes in structuring and maintaining ETFs, closed-end vehicles and mutual funds, both in the USA and internationally. Regularly advises on the structuring and management of investment products in the retail, high net worth and retirement markets.

Strengths

"The team is excellent in the BDC space."

"Eversheds Sutherland maintains a high level of responsiveness and provides excellent service."

Work highlights Eversheds Sutherland provided counsel to Resolution Life's board of directors on entering into a strategic partnership with Blackstone.

Notable practitioners

Steven Boehm (see p.508) is renowned in the market for his distinguished practice in the BDC space. Strengths: "Steve is a top practitioner in the BDC space." Stephen Roth (see p.684) is lauded for his expertise in mutual funds and insurance clients ranging from investment advisers to fund administrators. Strengths include mutual funds, closed-end funds and ETFs.

Strengths

"Paul Hastings has a very deep and excellent team."

"The team's practitioners are exceptionally experienced and offer proactive advice based on a wealth of industry experience."

"The team is always very responsive."

Work highlights Paul Hastings assisted Brookfield Asset Management on the launch of a registered closed-end tender offer fund, Brookfield Infrastructure Income Fund.

Notable practitioners

Michael Rosella's practice is highlighted for his capabilities regarding UCITS and his deep knowledge of the SEC. Strengths: "Mike provides excellent service and knowledge." "He's a pleasure to work with." David Hearsh frequently advises mutual and closed-end funds as well as their independent trustees.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin continues to play an important role in the market, offering expertise in connection with the development and governance of a broad range of fund structures including fixed income funds, alternative investment funds and money market funds. Often acts as underwriters' counsel, drawing on the firm's recognized strength in the capital markets space. Particular strength in matters related to closed-end funds and ETFs.

Strengths

"Sidley's attorneys are incredibly responsive and guide us through complicated matters."

"The team are well resourced and always have depth to lean on. The group is also very proactive."

"The group is thoughtful and thorough."

Work highlights Sidley Austin advised BlackRock on registering five new open-end funds.

Notable practitioners

Jay Baris (see p.497) is highly skilled in advising registered funds, including ETFs and their independent trustees. Strengths: "Jay is a knowledgeable lawyer." "He is a great attorney." Nathan Greene (see p.573) is highly regarded for his understanding of the regulatory framework surrounding registered funds. Strengths: "Nathan is an invaluable resource for clients." "He thinks broadly and deeply about issues." Jesse Kean (see p.603) is valued for his knowledge of mutual funds and ETFs. He is experienced in fund establishment and transactions carried out by fund complexes. Strengths: "Jesse is an excellent lawyer."

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher is a well-known investment funds law firm that assists clients with significant ETF, BDC, and open and closed-end fund matters. Valued for its knowledge of M&A matters involving registered funds.

Strengths

"The team is very responsive."

"Simpson Thacher has a very strong practice."

Notable practitioners

A key component of Rajib Chanda (see p.522)'s practice is advising alternative investment advisers on the launch and operation of registered funds. Strengths: "Rajib is a very intelligent and sophisticated lawyer with excellent experience."

"He is an expert in the industry. His knowledge base is exceptional."

David Blass (see p.507) is particularly adept at representing clients in major fund M&A and significant offerings. Strengths:

"David represents a wide range of clients and has a broad sense of the market."

Kenneth Burdon (see p.516) has extensive experience in the market and is routinely called upon to advise funds and investment managers on launches, offerings and regulatory issues. Strengths: "Ken is very client service oriented." "He offers practical advice and is very easy to work with."

Ryan Brizek (see p.513) is highly regarded for his strength in providing counsel on the operation and formation of BDCs and closed-end funds. Strengths: "Ryan is a really good lawyer." "He is a super responsive attorney."

Band 4

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance has a deep bench of talented practitioners. The team is noted for its ability to handle a range of issues in the space, including the operation, formation and launches of BDCs and ETFs. Its practitioners have further experience providing counsel on matters relating to registered closed-end funds. The group also has experience assisting clients with complex regulatory issues.

Strengths

"Clifford Chance's team are the confluence of excellent and experience."

Work highlights Clifford Chance advised Aetos on the formation and ongoing representation of its $1.5 billion registered fund of funds complex.

Notable practitioners

Clifford Cone has significant experience advising banks and asset managers on the formation of ETFs and other registered funds. He also has considerable experience providing counsel on '40 Act issues. Strengths: "He is an excellent attorney."

"Clifford is an outstanding lawyer who is outstanding technically, extremely professional and a zealous advocate for his clients."

Vadim Avdeychik has a well-regarded transactional registered funds practice, backed up by substantial experience in dealing with the '40 Act. Strengths: "He is a great lawyer." Jeff LeMaster focuses his practice on assisting clients with matters related to the '40 Act. He also has experience advising clients on the Volcker Rule and FINRA issues. Strengths: "Jeff is an excellent partner."

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell has a respected team which assists clients across the registered funds space, including handling regulatory concerns. Noted for its particular strength in ETFs and mutual funds. Boasts substantial experience handling significant transactions, such as structuring transactions.

Strengths

"The Davis Polk team is extremely diligent and responsive in thinking through novel issues."

"Davis Polk are terrific at getting to the heart of a question or scenario and giving clear decisive advice and guidance."

"The team is able to tap into deep and significant experience."

Work highlights Davis Polk & Wardwell advised 26North in connection with obtaining an SEC exemptive for its Business Development Company business.

Notable practitioners

Gregory Rowland (see p.685) is notable for his knowledge of the crossover between registered funds and digital currency. Strengths: "Greg is responsive and client-focused." "He is knowledgeable, responsive and service-oriented."

Godfrey & Kahn, SC

What the team is known for Godfrey & Kahn's team has considerable experience handling issues relating to open-end mutual funds, ETFs and closed-end interval funds. The practitioners are adept at providing counsel on registration and organization of funds, as well as regulatory issues. The group has notable experience advising clients on responsibilities under the '40 Act.

Notable practitioners

Nicholas Wahl is a key contact.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie is able to advise clients on the full range of registered fund issues. The team is respected in the market for its ability to provide counsel on a range of matters relating to open-end and closed-end funds. The group is called upon to offer guidance on both regulatory and transactional issues.

Strengths

"Perkins Coie's team provides excellent advice."

Notable practitioners

Carl Frischling (see p.560) is highly regarded for his advice to independent trustees of registered funds. He assists clients with the formation and structuring of funds, among other matters. Strengths: "Carl is a true giant in the industry."

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose is noted for its representation of registered funds and their independent board members in connection with a range of regulatory matters, including investigations and enforcement actions. Recognized strength in the BDC space. Commended for its expert knowledge of open and closed-end funds.

Strengths

"Proskauer Rose has a great team of professionals on novel and complex matters."

"The team members display a great deal of knowledge on a variety of matters."

Work highlights Proskauer Rose advised Central Park Group on the structuring, launch and management currently of a family of '40 Act registered alternative closed-end funds.

Notable practitioners

Stuart Coleman (see p.530) is particularly highly regarded for his ability to assist independent trustees of registered funds with navigating federal regulations. Strengths: "Stuart is a titan of the industry." David Stephens (see p.711) is recommended for his experience gained from working with the managers and board members of major fund complexes. John Mahon (see p.629) is equally adept in advising registered fund complexes on major transactions and ongoing regulatory matters.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden acts for a broad cross-section of parties in the registered fund arena in relation to product structuring. Provides crucial regulatory guidance concerning international stock markets and authorities. Particular strength in the BDC and closed-end fund spaces. Assists with a range of governance and transactional matters.

Strengths

"Skadden's team are consistently able to solve complex matters."

"The team demonstrate a solid understanding of the '40 Act and are very responsive."

Work highlights Skadden advised Silver Point Capital on the conversion of Silver Point Specialty Credit Fund, L.P. into a business development company.

Notable practitioners

Michael Hoffman (see p.586) is esteemed for his strength in closed-end funds, BDCs and fund M&A. Strengths: "He's strategic and commercial in his approach." Kevin Hardy (see p.578) is accomplished in registered fund matters including closed-end funds. Strengths: "Kevin provides clients with excellent counsel and guidance while also understanding commercial concerns." "He has a strong awareness of the marketplace."

Sullivan & Worcester

What the team is known for Sullivan & Worcester boasts a distinguished registered funds group that handles mutual funds, closed-end funds and ETFs. Particularly well regarded for its strength in independent trustee representation.

Strengths

"Sullivan & Worcester's practitioners are knowledgeable and provide thoughtful advice in an efficient manner."

"The team is extremely thorough and responsive." "It's a great firm."

Work highlights Sullivan & Worcester advised the Independent Trustees of the Pacific Select Fund and Pacific Funds Series Trust on board governance and responsibilities under the federal securities law and state law.

Notable practitioners

David Mahaffey is best known for his high-level representation of independent trustees for ETFs and open and closed-end funds. David Leahy is valued for his astute advice to independent trustees and directors of mutual funds, closed-end funds and ETFs. Strengths: "David is a knowledgeable lawyer." Domenick Pugliese's broad capabilities enable him to handle ETFs and mutual funds matters, with particular expertise in advising independent trustees. Strengths: "He is well connected, thoughtful and responsive." "Domenick is responsive and knowledgeable."

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell counsels registered funds, advisers and independent directors on a wide range of concerns. Draws upon familiarity with the financial services sector to provide invaluable guidance on regulatory enforcement and compliance. Advises clients in the open and closed-end fund space, including BDCs.

Strengths

"Sullivan & Cromwell has a deep bench of talent."

"The work provided by the firm is consistently thoughtful and the attorneys are extremely knowledgeable."

"The level of expertise and resources the firm can bring to any issue is excellent."

Notable practitioners

John Baumgardner (see p.499) is acclaimed for his deep knowledge of '40 Act issues as they pertain to his clientele of independent trustees.

Strengths: "He is really smart and brings a tremendous perspective to the issues he works on. He is also highly collaborative." Donald Crawshaw (see p.533) is particularly recognized for his strength in mutual and closed-end funds. Strengths: "Donald is an invaluable source of industry knowledge and experience." "He is well known in the industry, collaborative and has great technical expertise." William Farrar (see p.551) is particularly rated for his profound understanding of the BDC space. He draws on his experience to offer informed advice on fund formation, fundraising and M&A.

Thompson Hine LLP

What the team is known for Thompson Hine is noted for its significant registered funds practice. The team is well known for its handling of matters relating to actively managed ETFs, corporate and board governance, mutual funds and '40 Act compliance. The group regularly represents fund and asset managers as well as retirement plans.

Strengths

"The team has a high level of technical knowledge of the '40 Act."

"The group is very professional and knowledgeable."

"Thompson Hine are very responsive and proactive."

Work highlights Thompson Hine assisted LIST Income Opportunities Fund with registering five interval funds, one of which is the List Income Opportunities Fund.

Notable practitioners

JoAnn Strasser has wide expertise in registered funds, including ETF and mutual fund matters. Strengths: "JoAnn combines great technical expertise with consummate business skills." "She is a very knowledgeable lawyer."

Other Ranked Lawyers

David Baum (see p.499) of Alston & Bird LLP has a distinguished practice in the space. His practice covers a wide array of issues, including advising on fund formation and matters relating to the '40 Act. Strengths: "I am very confident in David's knowledge and expertise." "David is very responsive and knowledgeable in his field."

Denver-based counsel Kelley Howes (see p.590) is the cochair of Morrison Foerster's investment management group. She is well known for her experience advising funds on regulatory compliance. Strengths: "Kelley is very well versed in the SEC regulatory environment and '40 Act matters."

Stacy Louizos of Blank Rome LLP is cochair of the investment management group. She is highlighted for her ability to advise investment companies, investment advisers and independent directors on a wide range of issues, including regulatory compliance and fund formation. Strengths: "Her knowledge and experience is excellent." "Stacy is remarkable in her ability to help the board navigate very complicated issues."

Thomas Majewski of A&O Shearman is adept at advising funds and investment advisers on a range of matters including transactions, structuring and formation. He routinely provides counsel on closed-end funds and debt funds.

Kate McCurry of Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton has considerable experience advising clients on the launch and reorganization of funds. She is adept at handling issues relating to ETFs and open-end funds. Strengths: "Kate is proficient, intelligent and provides excellent customer service." "She is a very knowledgeable attorney who is very attentive and responsive."

Paul Miller (see p.643) of Seward & Kissel LLP has notable experience advising on issues relating to ETFs, including fund formation and registration. Strengths: "Paul provides exceptional service." "He is a fantastic attorney who is responsive and thorough."

Cochair of Morrison Foerster's investment management practice, Derek Steingarten (see p.710) is recognized for his ability to advise clients on complex transactional issues, as well as fund formation and registration. Strengths: "Derek offers quality business-oriented counsel and unfailing responsiveness." "He is thoughtful and clear in his advice."

Cochair of Blank Rome's investment management group Thomas Westle is noted for his ability to provide counsel on the registration and reorganizations of BDCs and closed-end funds. Strengths: "He is a very experienced attorney." "Thomas is a super knowledgeable attorney who is also extremely responsive."

REITs Nationwide

REITs	REITs	REITs
Leading Firms	Senior Statespeople
Band 1	Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Menna Gilbert G Goodwin *
Goodwin	Bernstein Jay L Clifford Chance US LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP	Leading Individuals
Latham & Watkins LLP	Star individuals	Green Christopher C Vinson & Elkins LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP	Kleindorfer Julian T H Latham & Watkins LLP *	Linsky Heath D Troutman Pepper (ORL) ◇ *
Band 2	Band 1	Myers Jason Clifford Chance US LLP
Alston & Bird LLP	Bergdolt Robert H DLA Piper LLP (US) *	Salon Justin Morrison Foerster *
Clifford Chance US LLP	Bonser David W Hogan Lovells US LLP	Smith Robert K. Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Morrison Foerster	Goldschmidt David J Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Weinstein Toni Dentons (ORL) ◇
Sidley Austin LLP	LeBey Daniel M Vinson & Elkins LLP	Band 5
Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz	Sheehan Bartholomew Sidley Austin LLP *	Cope S Gregory Vinson & Elkins LLP
Band 3	Slotkin David P Morrison Foerster *	Davidson James V. Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
DLA Piper LLP (US)	Werner Kathleen L Clifford Chance US LLP	Friedhoff Jason A. Sidley Austin LLP *
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP	Band 2	Furman Kathryn M. King & Spalding LLP *
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP	Barr Stuart A Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP	Gilchrist Bruce Hogan Lovells US LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP	Cummins J Gerard Sidley Austin LLP *	Herz Joe Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Band 4	Emmerich Adam O Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz *	Johnson III C Spencer King & Spalding LLP *
Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP	Epstein Andrew Clifford Chance US LLP	Kessler Michael Alston & Bird LLP *
King & Spalding LLP	Kneib Lewis Latham & Watkins LLP *	McEvoy Stacey Hogan Lovells
Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP	McTiernan Michael Hogan Lovells US LLP	Pinedo Anna Mayer Brown LLP *
Proskauer Rose LLP	Medvinsky Larry P Morrison Foerster *	Rothermel Anthony W King & Spalding LLP *
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP	Panovka Robin Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz *	Roupas Christina T. Cooley LLP (ORL) ◇
Band 5	Petrosky Edward F Sidley Austin LLP *	Shoesmith Godric C Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Baker McKenzie	Prevost Lauren Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP	Smith Abigail Latham & Watkins LLP *
Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Santucci Ettore A Goodwin *	Stadler Brian M Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Kirkland & Ellis	Thurston Rosemarie A Alston & Bird LLP *	Stambaugh Christopher DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Mayer Brown LLP	Band 3	Steinhaus Darryl DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Paul Hastings LLP	Adams Daniel P Goodwin *	Swartz Zach Vinson & Elkins LLP
Sullivan & Worcester	Cernius William J Latham & Watkins LLP *	Townsend Keith M King & Spalding LLP *
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP	Coco Joseph A Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Weber Benjamin Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.	Connaughton Alice Morrison Foerster *	Weiner Seth Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.	Johnson Kerry DLA Piper LLP (US)	Wells Benjamin Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.	Kranz Yoel Goodwin *	Up-and-coming individuals
	Band 4	Beers Emily Morrison Foerster *
	Choate Michael J. Proskauer Rose LLP *	Campbell Andrew Morrison Foerster *
	Freed David Mayer Brown LLP *	Chase Scott C Goodwin *
	Goode Jason Alston & Bird LLP *	Saltz Kate Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
	Goolsby Bryan L Winston & Strawn LLP (ORL) ◇

Band 1 REITs

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin is a dominant force in the REITs industry, representing some of the most active participants in sophisticated securities and corporate transactions, with a stellar track record in IPOs and M&A deals. Provides further capabilities on REIT-related executive compensation, often helping to structure incentive schemes. Draws from a broad client base of public and private REITs, real estate investment bankers, entrepreneurs and other high-profile businesses operating in the real estate sector.

Strengths

"Goodwin's team are responsive and professional."

"It's a great team to work with. They provide expert coverage for any issues that comes up."

"It's practitioners are all talented and committed to client service."

Work highlights Goodwin advised Donahue Schriber Realty Group on its sale to First Washington Realty in an all-cash transaction for an aggregate purchase price of $3.015 billion.

Notable practitioners

Edward Glazer (see p.567) is known as a preeminent figure in the REIT tax space. He is renowned for his experience of handling tax issues arising from M&A and other commercial transactions. Gilbert Menna (see p.2030) is recognized for his comprehensive knowledge of the operation of REITs, notably publicly traded REITs.

Strengths: "Gilbert is a sophisticated and commercial attorney." Neal Sandford (see p.2038) is well versed in structuring a full range of REIT transactions on behalf of publicly traded REITs and investors. Ettore Santucci (see p.690) is admired for his skill in major REIT securities offerings and M&A, as well as executive compensation matters. Strengths: "Ettore is a great lawyer." Daniel Adams (see p.489) is noted for his experience in handling a variety of significant REIT transactions.

Strengths: "Daniel is a really good lawyer." "He is a smart and commercial lawyer." Yoel Kranz (see p.613) is proficient in handling notable IPOs and M&A. He has substantial experience of acting on behalf of both public and private REITs. Strengths: "Yoel is a very good and hard-working lawyer." "He is a smart lawyer with a strong reputation."

Scott Chase (see p.523) is an up-and-coming lawyer who regularly advises on a range of REIT transactions, including public offerings and M&A. Strengths: "Scott is an excellent attorney."

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells is distinguished by its deep bench of professionals specializing in all REIT-related corporate, tax, regulatory and securities issues. Its client base consists of both public companies and underwriters. Takes a leading role in REIT corporate transactions and IPOs, as well as serving its REIT clients in related areas such as employee benefits and real estate. Cultivates a major international REITs practice, working in conjunction with the firm's global network of offices.

Strengths

"Hogan Lovells has a sophisticated practice and a great team. The group is client-focused, results-driven and offers practical advice."

"The team has broad depth and experience and great insight into the REIT industry."

"Its partners and associates are highly experienced and very knowledgeable."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells advised Duke Realty Corporation on its $23 billion combination with Prologis.

Notable practitioners

REITs: Tax
Senior Statespeople & Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Crocker Jr James E Alston & Bird LLP *
Feagles Prentiss Hogan Lovells US LLP
Glazer Edward Goodwin *
Eminent Practitioners
Howell III George C Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Arumi Cristina Hogan Lovells US LLP
Brause Christian Sidley Austin LLP *
Cosby Cameron Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson
Mangin Jr Christopher Vinson & Elkins LLP
O'Brien Ana G Latham & Watkins LLP *
Polster David Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Ponda Ameek Ashok Sullivan & Worcester *
Sibley Kendal Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP *
Band 2
Anderson Paige Vinson & Elkins LLP
Gianou Nickolas Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Hammett Donald Alston & Bird LLP *
Howe Joseph Arnold & Porter (ORL) ◇
Rizzo Sarah Beth Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *
Sandford H Neal Goodwin *
Seaton Michael Clifford Chance US LLP
Shelley Shane Morrison Foerster *
Band 3
Beinus Michael Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Cullen Daniel Baker McKenzie
Donovan Timothy Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Hung Shiukay DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Jones Ivy Sidley Austin LLP *
Levy David Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Matejcek Peter Baker McKenzie
Riley Carl Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Zomorodi Pardiis Latham & Watkins LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Prentiss Feagles is exceptionally well regarded for navigating tax regulations in the context of major REIT transactions. Cristina Arumi is prized for her impressive command of the full spread of tax issues faced by REITs. Strengths: "Cristina is extremely responsive and deeply knowledgeable." "She is terrific, she's incredibly bright and hard-working." David Bonser is lauded for his expertise spanning REIT IPOs and other capital markets transactions. Strengths: "David is practical and professional." "He is an outstanding lawyer; he is smart, business-focused and overall very impressive." Michael McTiernan is renowned in the market for his previous experience as the lead of the SEC's REIT group. He is adept at assisting clients on sophisticated corporate and securities transactions. Strengths: "Michael is a great attorney to work with." Bruce Gilchrist is experienced in handling complex capital markets transactions and M&A. Strengths: "Bruce is a really good lawyer." Stacey McEvoy is sought out by clients for her ability to advise on complex REIT transactions.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins boasts impressive strength on both transactional

REITs: Maryland Counsel
Leading Firms
Band 1
Venable LLP
Band 2
Ballard Spahr LLP
Miles & Stockbridge PC
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Hanks Jr James J Venable LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
McGowan Patricia Venable LLP *
Moran Charles R Ballard Spahr LLP
Pate Christopher W Venable LLP *
Webb J.W. Thompson "Topper" Miles & Stockbridge *
Band 2
Carlson William Shapiro Sher Guinot & Sandler (ORL) ◇ *
Fox Douglas M Ballard Spahr LLP
Schiffer Michael D Venable LLP *
Wilson Scott Miles & Stockbridge PC *
Band 3
Bashore II J. Thomas Ballard Spahr LLP
Field Brian Venable LLP
Fonda Carmen Venable LLP *
Up-and-coming individuals
Ament Hirsh M Venable LLP and securities matters in relation to REITs, alongside sophisticated spin-out, compliance and REIT conversion practices. Demonstrates experience in relation to roll-up IPOs. Brings to bear its complementary capabilities in real estate, tax and corporate law to provide comprehensive counsel on matters ranging from the structuring and formation of REITs to public offerings and private placements of debt and equity.

Strengths

"Latham & Watkins is a terrific firm."

"The team contains outstanding thinkers and solution seekers."

"Latham & Watkins' team is comprised of experts and is very responsive."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins represented Extra Space Storage in the acquisition of Storage Express, an operator of 107 remote storage properties across Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky.

Notable practitioners

Julian Kleindorfer (see p.609) is acclaimed for his in-depth knowledge of leading M&A and securities offerings. Strengths: "Julian is one of the best in the business." "He is always responsive and is a REITs expert." Ana O'Brien (see p.656) is esteemed for her deep understanding of the taxation matters arising from transactions in the REITs space. Strengths: "She is very client-friendly and strong with her technical positions and advice." "She is fantastic, she's responsive, knowledgeable and has tons of experience." Lewis Kneib (see p.610) is particularly well regarded for his expertise in capital markets transactions including high-value debt and equity offerings. Strengths: "Lewis's depth and breadth of knowledge is extraordinary." "He's a great thinker and commercially thoughtful." William Cernius (see p.522) is recognized for his longstanding experience in debt and equity offerings. Strengths: "He is a great lawyer." Pardiis Zomorodi (see p.1088) attracts recognition for her ability to advise on the tax aspects of REIT transactions. Abigail Smith (see p.704) is routinely called upon to provide counsel on high-profile offerings. Her clients include prominent banks and as well as significant REITs.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden has an eminent REITs group with wide-ranging experience of forming uniquely structured companies as well as enormous capital raisings and M&A. One of the chief names in tax-free spin-out REIT conversions. Advises REITs of every kind, including special purpose, hybrid and mortgage REITs. Commands a strong international corporate real estate practice.

Strengths

"Skadden's team handles very complex issues and is extremely proactive."

"The group provides fantastic service."

"Skadden has a deep bench with significant expertise across subject matters."

Work highlights Skadden provided counsel to Empire State Realty Trust on REIT tax and corporate securities in connection with various acquisitions and dispositions, including like kind exchanges.

Notable practitioners

David Goldschmidt (see p.569) is a national leader in the mortgage REITs space, counting high-profile issuers and underwriters among his clientele. Strengths: "David is commercially minded, thoughtful and responsive." "He is excellent. He is a pioneer in the space." David Polster (see p.1750) utilizes his wide knowledge of corporate tax to assist clients in standout REIT transactions. Strengths: "David is great at providing best in class tax advice." "He is extremely smart and technically skilled." Nickolas Gianou (see p.565)'s tax practice encompasses a broad range of issues including M&A, capital raises and debt offerings. Strengths: "Nick is an excellent lawyer." "He is an extremely strong attorney." Sarah Beth Rizzo (see p.681) is well placed to advise on tax matters related to REIT transactions. Strengths: "Sarah is a very thorough lawyer." "She's an excellent REITs tax attorney." Joseph Coco (see p.528) handles equity offerings in REITs as well as joint ventures and other structural matters. Strengths: "He is a quick and efficient lawyer."

Band 2 REITs

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird demonstrates a strong affinity for a broad array of REIT-related work, including capital raises, M&A and regulatory matters. Solid credentials representing REITs that deal with all manner of assets, from retail to office, hospitality and mortgage, particularly in the public, non-listed REITs space. Boasts national scope and cross-disciplinary resources in areas such as tax, financial services and construction. Team members hold high-profile positions within the REIT community and regularly write and speak at events on the topic of REITs.

Strengths

"Alston & Bird's team has high levels of expertise and the ability to handle complicated issues."

"The team are very strong; they are easy to work with and are tapped into this niche industry."

"The bench is strong and the practitioners are highly responsive."

Work highlights Alston & Bird assisted the Special Committee of the Board of Directors of NorthStar Healthcare Income with the company's internalization of its external adviser, management and operating functions.

Notable practitioners

James Croker (see p.534) is experienced in counseling clients on the tax aspects of a wide array of REIT matters including debt offerings, M&A deals and IPOs. Strengths: "Jim is a really excellent lawyer." Donald Hammett (see p.577) has a tax-centric REIT expertise that encompasses securities, M&A and joint venture formations.

Strengths: "Donald is extremely knowledgeable and a fantastic attorney." "He is a strong lawyer."

Rosemarie Thurston (see p.718) is experienced in securities offerings and in structuring REITs, notably with public non-traded REITs. Strengths: "She provides high-level professionalism and is a subject matter expert." "Rosemarie is exceptionally knowledgeable and very efficient in her advice."

Jason Goode (see p.570) is particularly highly regarded for working with non-traded REITs on transactional and regulatory securities matters.

Strengths: "Jason is an excellent lawyer." Michael Kessler (see p.606) advises in connection with complex REIT transactions. Strengths: "Michael is highly responsive and proactive."

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance is a strong capital markets platform which caters to leading REIT clients and prominent underwriters, with a particular affinity for mortgage REITs and REITs with European assets. Able to offer clients a full suite of advice because of its strength in areas such as M&A, financing, and debt and equity offerings, as well as tax concerns. Exhibits particular knowledge of entity formation, such as transactions to create REIT joint ventures.

Strengths

"The team's level of service is always outstanding."

"Clifford Chance's group understands and provides guidance on sophisticated matters."

"It has a strong presence in the market and is on top of all of the trends."

Work highlights Clifford Chance advised Goldman, BMO, JP Morgan as underwriters to Broadstone Net Lease on the $275 million common stock offering of Broadstone Net Lease.

Notable practitioners

Jay Bernstein is revered for his wide skill across complex capital markets transactions, IPOs and M&A. Strengths: "He's experienced and knowledgeable." "Jay continues to be one of the top REIT lawyers in the industry." Kathleen Werner is commended for her work on capital markets and M&A matters encompassing publicly traded and public non-listed REITs. Strengths: "Kathleen is an excellent lawyer." Andrew Epstein is highly rated for his wide knowledge of equity and mortgage REITs, including IPOs and M&A. Strengths: "He is a solid lawyer." "Andrew is an excellent and practical lawyer." Michael Seaton is a seasoned tax attorney, with considerable expertise advising on REIT transactions. Strengths: "He provides excellent client service and is very adept at handling intricate questions." "Michael is a great lawyer."

Jason Myers' broad practice for underwriters and private REITs involves providing counsel on significant M&A and IPOs. Strengths: "Jason is smart, thoughtful and a problem-solver."

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster is a strong REITs practice that regularly handles high-value M&A, joint venture and other transactions covering both publicly traded and public nonlisted REITs. Receives regular capital markets mandates, including debt and equity offerings. The firm is frequently called upon to act for lodging, real estate and gaming businesses in relation to projects such as mortgage REITs. Represents funds trading in a comprehensive array of asset classes, including retail, residential, industrial, student housing, healthcare and agriculture properties.

Strengths

"Morrison Foerster's service is very consistent, reliable and timely."

"The team has a solid breadth of experience in the REIT industry and it is very responsive."

"The firm has a deep bench of talented attorneys."

Notable practitioners

David Slotkin (see p.704) is a REIT specialist who counts capital markets offerings and M&A as key components of his practice. Strengths: "David's knowledge of the industry is immense; he has a ton of experience." "He has a depth of experience."

Larry Medvinsky (see p.640) is highly experienced in advising REIT clients on transactions. His capabilities include equity and debt offerings in addition to more structural advice in the context of joint ventures. Strengths: "Larry is very responsive, results-driven and practical." "He has in-depth industry knowledge."

Shane Shelley (see p.699)'s tax capabilities see him acting on a wide variety of REIT corporate transactions such as M&A and debt offerings. Strengths: "He is terrific, he's responsive and client-focused." "Shane is extremely knowledgeable and very practical." Alice Connaughton (see p.531)'s practice revolves around the niche of publicly registered, non-traded REITs. In particular, she is noted for her advice to non-traded REIT complexes on securities offerings.

Strengths: "Alice is a very strong lawyer in the space." "She's a phenomenal attorney; she's smart and practical." Justin Salon (see p.689) is noted for his ability to handle complex transactions involving REITs including M&A as well as debt financing. Strengths: "He's extremely well versed in the industry." "Justin is an excellent attorney."

Emily Beers (see p.501) has a burgeoning practice in the space. She is adept at providing counsel on securities offerings and M&A deals. Strengths: "She delivers high-quality work products on a very timely basis." "Emily is a great lawyer." Andrew Campbell (see p.519) chiefly advises private and publicly held REITs on an array of corporate transactions. Strengths: "Andrew is outstanding." "He's a very strong lawyer."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin is a premier group for counsel on debt and equity securities offerings involving REITs due to its enduring relationships with major underwriters. Also provides counsel in relation to REIT bank financing, boasting experience in representing agents, lead arrangers and borrowers throughout a number of term loans and credit facilities. Also maintains a strong offering in REIT transactions, including mergers, acquisitions, dispositions, joint ventures and strategic alliances.

Strengths

"Sidley Austin has knowledgeable attorneys who are also very responsive."

"The team provides excellent representation on a wide variety of matters. Sidley is able to bring subject matter expertise to all situations."

"Its practitioners have sufficient expertise to handle complex matters."

Work highlights Sidley provided counsel to American Healthcare REIT on its NYSE listing and IPO.

Notable practitioners

Christian Brause (see p.512) is highly experienced in counseling issuers and underwriters on REIT financing. Strengths: "Christian is an excellent lawyer who is really collaborative and smart." "He's thoughtful and easy to work with."

Bartholomew Sheehan (see p.699) is best known for his work with financial institutions in REIT debt and equity transactions. Strengths: "Bart is great, he's deeply experienced in REIT matters and the overall REIT sector. He has a very strong client service disposition and is exceptionally easy to work with."

"His work is outstanding." Gerard Cummins (see p.534) is esteemed for his skill in securities offerings and corporate matters, representing REITs and lending institutions. Strengths: "Jerry has industry expertise." "He is a terrific lawyer; he's smart, commercial and easy to work with."

Edward Petrosky (see p.667) is especially well thought of for acting as underwriter's counsel in debt and equity offerings. Strengths: "Edward is a great lawyer."

Ivy Jones (see p.1034) is a highly regarded tax practitioner with specialist expertise in capital markets transactions involving REITs. Strengths: "Ivy is an extremely talented lawyer." Jason Friedhoff (see p.559) is particularly noted for his expertise in securities offerings where REITs are the issuers.

Strengths: "Jason's expertise, communication skills, strategic thinking, attention to detail and client-centric approach make him an outstanding partner to work with." "He's really bright, knowledgeable and efficient."

Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz

What the team is known for Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz is a remarkable M&A powerhouse with deep specialization in strategic corporate transactions involving REITs. Manages joint ventures, restructurings and REIT spinouts within the gaming and hospitality sectors. Draws upon the firm's widespread resources in the tax, antitrust, employee benefits and litigation domains to provide counsel to REIT CEOs and boards.

Strengths

"Wachtell contains extremely smart lawyers who are REITs specialists."

Notable practitioners

Adam Emmerich (see p.2565) specializes in handling major REIT M&A and securities offerings. Robin Panovka (see p.2632) is well known for his expertise in bulge-bracket M&A and REIT corporate law.

Band 3 REITs

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper serves as formation, securities and tax counsel for numerous prominent players in the field of both non-traded and exchange-listed REITs. Clients benefit from the transactional insight of its renowned national real estate practice. The firm's client base includes institutional investors, operators and owners of real estate, and private equity funds. Exhibits a particularly strong presence in work pertaining to Regulation A and SEC-qualified REIT offerings.

Strengths

"DLA Piper's team are quick and efficient."

"The DLA team is very knowledgeable and experienced. They are able to quickly and thoroughly respond to complex questions."

"The group has strong technical knowledge and relative experience."

Work highlights DLA Piper represented STORE Capital Corporation in its merger with GIC and Oak Street Real Estate Capital.

Notable practitioners

Robert Bergdolt (see p.503) is recognized for his comprehensive expertise in matters involving publicly registered non-Exchange-traded REITs. Strengths: "He's an excellent attorney; he's got years of experience and provides practical advice."

Shiukay Hung (see p.591) advises on a range of complicated tax aspects regarding REIT transactions and joint venture vehicles. Strengths: "Shiukay provides excellent client service and solid advice." "He is extremely responsive and thinks commercially through complex and sophisticated matters." Kerry Johnson frequently handles M&A and securities offerings involving publicly traded REITs. Strengths: "Kerry is a great lawyer." "Her guidance is terrific." Christopher Stambaugh (see p.709) is notably adept at advising clients on securities offerings. He is highly regarded for his ability to provide counsel on issues concerning NAV REITs. Strengths: "Chris is great to work with; he has a deep level of knowledge and is very responsive." "He is a thoughtful adviser and extremely knowledgeable." Darryl Steinhause (see p.711) is highlighted for his strength in structuring securities offerings, as well as advising on refinancings. Strengths: "He brings an incredible amount of experience."

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth demonstrates particular strength in the field of securities, tackling IPOs and other debt and equity offerings for underwriters and issuers alike. Highly knowledgeable on the tax issues impacting a variety of public and privately owned entities, from mortgage REITs to hotel vehicles. Demonstrates a particular affinity for REIT formation within the hospitality sector.

Strengths

"Hunton has an excellent REIT practice."

"The team is very responsive and we really enjoy working with them."

"The firm has significant capabilities to get complex matters resolved. The team is exceptional."

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth advised Healthcare Realty Trust on its $18 billion combination with Healthcare Trust of America.

Notable practitioners

George Howell (see p.590) regularly advises clients on securitization and is known for his expertise in mortgage REITs. Strengths: "He is very knowledgeable and practical in his approach."

Kendal Sibley (see p.701) is commended for her astute representation of REITs in a range of transactions including equity and debt offerings, as well as M&A. Strengths: "Kendal is fantastic, she is practical, knowledgeable and experienced." "She provides excellent, commercial advice."

Robert Smith (see p.706) is particularly adept at advising mortgage REITs on capital market transactions. Strengths: "He's very responsive and has great knowledge of the market." "Robert has a strong ability to balance the legal and commercial issues when dealing with complex issues." James Davidson (see p.537) is routinely called on by both underwriters and issuers to advise on significant REIT IPOs. Strengths: "Jim is a super experienced REIT lawyer." "Kate Saltz (see p.689) is held in high regard for her ability to provide counsel on debt offerings and At-the-Market Shelf Offerings. Strengths: "Kate is outstanding; she's highly knowledgeable and a true pleasure to work with." "She's very hard-working and knowledgeable."

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher & Bartlett is a growing force in the sector covering both publicly traded and public non-listed REITs. Experienced in handling major M&A transactions and IPOs, as well as high-value debt and equity offerings.

Strengths

"Simpson Thacher & Bartlett has a deep bench of experts who are able to advise on complex situations."

"The team are innovative problem-solvers who can handle the most complex and sophisticated matters."

Notable practitioners

Brian Stadler (see p.2665) practice involves advising clients on a broad range of issues in the REITs space, including complex M&A deals, dispositions of organizations and joint ventures. Strengths: "He has such a wealth of experience and depth of knowledge." "Brian is a wonderful lawyer." Benjamin Wells (see p.733) focuses his practice on advising on issues related to registered funds, including closed-end funds and REITs. Strengths: "He is thoughtful and provides practical and insightful advice."

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins provides guidance to a broad client base of sponsors, issuers and underwriters, as well as other critical real estate players, on a comprehensive array of REIT processes, such as formation, transactions, regulations, tax and other concerns. Demonstrates a particular aptitude for the discipline of REIT capital markets offerings, including both private and public debt and equity offerings, such as Rule 144A offerings, and IPOs, as well as REIT M&A.

Strengths

"Vinson & Elkins has a deep bench of some of the best lawyers around."

"The Vinson team is incredible to work with. They are client-driven problem-solvers who are always focused on delivering results for their clients."

"The team is very prompt and responsive."

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins advised Ellington Financial on its entry into a definitive agreement to acquire Great Ajax for a combination of stock and contingent cash consideration.

Notable practitioners

Daniel LeBey is routinely called upon by both sponsors and REITs for his ability to handle equity and debt offerings, as well as M&A. Strengths: "Daniel is amazing; he is one of the most knowledgeable lawyers I have worked with." "He is an excellent lawyer." Christopher Mangin is experienced in providing counsel to REITs and private equity sponsors on a host of matters, including M&A and capital market offerings. Strengths: "He does an outstanding job in assessing complex matters." "Chris is amazing; he is a strong lawyer and is incredibly thoughtful." Paige Anderson has a strong presence in the tax space and is frequently called upon to handle the structural issues encountered when REITs are engaged in major transactions. Strengths: "Paige leans on her extensive experience and knowledge to find solutions." Christopher Green is particularly adept at handling securities offerings on behalf of underwriters and mortgage REITs. Strengths: "Christopher is very practical, knowledgeable and responsive." "He is a smart and thoughtful lawyer." Gregory Cope acts as counsel to both underwriters and major REITs on M&A and equity offerings. Zach Swartz is an up-and-coming attorney, often advising on REIT security offerings and M&A transactions. Strengths: "He is diligent, thoughtful and ahead of the curve."

Band 4 REITs

Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP

What the team is known for Fried Frank is a renowned team, handling IPOs and other capital markets transactions on behalf of REITs and underwriters. Frequently sought for its highly focused REIT tax team, with expertise in structuring trusts on a day-to-day basis and in the context of transactions. Regularly encounters M&A, joint ventures and spinouts in this capacity.

Notable practitioners

Cameron Cosby is commended for his strength across the REIT tax space, with notable experience of formations, M&A and debt and equity offerings. Strengths: "Cameron is an extremely strong lawyer." Stuart Barr is highly regarded for his representation of both issuer and underwriter clients in debt and equity offerings in REITs.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding displays skill in advising public and private REITs, US and foreign investors, and fund sponsors on transactions, with a particular affinity for the structuring of open and closed-end funds as private REITs. Benefits from strong ancillary knowledge of tax, restructuring, real estate and private equity. Work typically includes a variety of transactions, from fund formation and public offerings to mergers and acquisitions and the purchase of both individual assets and property portfolios.

Strengths

"King & Spalding's team is extremely bright, efficient, commercial and easy to work with. The bench strength at King & Spalding is solid."

"The firm's practitioners are exceptionally strong."

"The groups members are practical, knowledgeable and very attentive."

Notable practitioners

Kathryn Furman (see p.561) is routinely called upon to advise both public and private REITs on joint ventures, M&A and capital raisings. She is particularly adept at advising on fund formations.

Strengths: "Kathryn is brilliant, she is professional and an expert in her field." Spencer Johnson (see p.597) is renowned for his ability to handle a wide array transactional matters, including capital raisings and acquisitions. His client base includes highly distinguished REITs. Strengths: "Spencer is incredibly intelligent and experienced." "He is client-centric and deeply committed." Anthony Rothermel (see p.684) has notable experience of advising both public and private REITs on big-ticket transactions, including restructurings and M&A. Keith Townsend (see p.1585) is notable for his extensive experience of handling M&A as well as formation and equity transactions. He is routinely called upon by publicly traded REITs.

Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP

What the team is known for Morris, Manning & Martin has a strong presence in the REITs industry for M&A and publicly registered offerings. Expertise in non-traded REITs and SEC regulation. Operates across a comprehensive spectrum of real estate classes, ranging from student housing and condominiums to medical and mixed-use projects. Diverse client base includes a wide range of market-leading real estate funds and sponsor entities responsible for multiple REITs.

Strengths

"The team are always quick to respond and do an excellent job."

"Morris, Manning's practitioners are knowledgeable, proactive and very responsive."

"The firm has strong lawyers."

Work highlights Morris, Manning & Martin represented American Healthcare REIT on its offering of common stock on the New York Stock Exchange.

Notable practitioners

Lauren Prevost brings her expertise in capital markets products to her work with non-traded REITs. Strengths: "Lauren is a terrific lawyer." "She is highly knowledgeable and very experienced."

Seth Weiner's expertise in real estate investment vehicles sees him regularly working with REITs and underwriters. Strengths: "Seth is an excellent resource." "He is knowledgeable, extremely responsive, efficient and detail-oriented."

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose draws upon extensive experience in handling non-traded REITs, to assist investors, underwriters and issuers alike in their high-profile transactions and innovative REIT structures. Clients benefit from the firm's complementary strength in tax, compensation and private equity. Frequently called upon to represent sponsors and their programs, cross-border and domestic investor REITs, issuers, underwriters and financial advisers, across sectors such as health care, data centers and retail.

Strengths

"Proskauer's team has strong depth and breadth and it offers an incredibly high level of service."

"It's an outstanding professional team with extensive background and expertise."

Work highlights Proskauer Rose advised on matters relating to Global Net Lease and The Necessity Retail REIT in their definitive merger agreement, under which GNL will acquire RTL in an all-stock transaction.

Notable practitioners

Michael Choate (see p.525) is recognized for his deep experience in securities and M&A, particularly involving unlisted REITs. Strengths: "Mike is one of the most outstanding attorneys I have had the pleasure to work with." "He's incredibly knowledgeable about the REIT space."

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell houses a team of versatile corporate, real estate and tax professionals attuned to the unique commercial needs of REITs. Represents many other market participants, including real estate operating companies, investors and financial advisers. Brings to bear international resources to advise on fund formation and administration both domestically and around the world. The team's typical work includes REIT formation, structuring and tax, private and public offerings, and multi-jurisdictional transactions.

Strengths

"Sullivan & Cromwell contains smart and talented lawyers."

Work highlights Sullivan represented American Tower Corporation in its sale of an approximately 36% ownership interest in its US data center business to certain affiliated investment vehicles of Stonepeak as part of a new long-term strategic partnership.

Notable practitioners

Benjamin Weber (see p.732) is noted for his experience in REIT corporate matters, including significant M&A.

Band 5 REITs

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie is well versed in advising clients on a plethora of complex REIT matters for both private and public REITs. Routinely called upon to advise on M&A, joint ventures and other structural matters. Draws strength from its global presence to advise on transactions with cross-border elements. Additional experience of advising boards of directors on offerings of equity and debt securities. Draws from a deep tax team to provide expertise in a range of REIT and partnership structures.

Strengths

"Baker McKenzie's team offer high-level service and do an excellent job."

"The firm's subject matter expertise spans a broad range of industries and disciplines."

"The team is very responsive and timely."

Work highlights Baker McKenzie advised Apollo Global Management on its $39 million private offering of Delaware statutory trust interests related to retail property located in San Antonio, Texas.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Cullen is routinely called upon to advise both private and publicly traded REITs on complex issues, such as UPREIT structures, DST offerings and internalization. Strengths: "Dan is always responsive and offers multiple solutions to the business issues we face." "He's a phenomenal lawyer." Peter Matejcek is well versed in advising on the tax structures of significant REIT transactions, including M&A and public offerings.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig advises clients on the full range of corporate, tax, real estate and securities matters that impact traded and non-traded REITs. Provides incisive guidance on federal and state regulatory issues pertaining to non-traded REITs. Benefits from widespread national and international resources to counsel clients on portfolio acquisitions across numerous jurisdictions. Oversees public and follow-on offerings, exit strategies, M&A, and corporate governance contentions.

Strengths

"Greenberg Traurig is a fantastic firm with a customer service-oriented culture."

"The firm's team members are incredibly prompt and excel in this area."

"It's an extremely strong team from top to bottom. They are extremely adept at handling complex matters."

Notable practitioners

Timothy Donovan is a leading tax attorney for matters relating to REIT transactions. Carl Riley has considerable experience of handling complex tax issues arising from formations, transactions and IPOs. Joe Herz centers his practice around M&A and capital market transactions in relation to non-traded and public REITs. He is routinely called upon by underwriters and issuers to provide counsel on IPOs and private offerings. Strengths: "He is incredibly knowledgeable, proficient and commercial." Godric Shoesmith has extensive experience of assisting clients with IPOs and private offerings. Strengths: "Godric is an excellent attorney." "He's a pleasure to work with."

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis leverages global relationships with household-name investment managers to advise on cross-border

REIT matters. Particularly highly regarded for high-value whole or partial sales of REIT complexes. Demonstrates ability to advise boards of directors on corporate governance issues such as shareholder activism defense.

Strengths

"Kirkland has a strong bench and respond very quickly."

"Kirkland has extraordinary talent across the board and deep domain expertise."

Work highlights Kirkland represented CyrusOne in a $701 million asset-backed securitization of a portfolio of data centers located in Virginia and Texas.

Notable practitioners

Michael Beinus (see p.501) ' practice involves providing counsel on tax issues arising from joint ventures, financing and M&A.

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown's team continuously demonstrates its ability to handle a broad array of complex issues, including high-profile formations, joint ventures, securities offerings and M&A deals. The groups has further strength in advising clients on regulatory issues in the space. The practitioners are also adept at providing counsel on cross-border issues.

Strengths

"Mayer Brown is an outstanding firm."

"Mayer Brown has a strong and deep bench."

"It's a very seasoned team with deep transaction experience across complex matters. Its practitioners are also highly responsive."

Work highlights Mayer Brown advised Great Ajax in connection with its merger with Ellington Financial.

Notable practitioners

David Freed (see p.558) of Mayer Brown has notable experience of advising both underwriters and REITs. He is routinely called upon to advise clients on IPOs as well as follow-on equity offerings. Strengths: "David is a fine lawyer." Co-leader of the global capital markets practice Anna Pinedo (see p.669) is noted for her ability to provide counsel to distinguished REITs on complex financings and M&A deals.

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings has a well-regarded REITs team with the capacity to advise a broad client base which includes underwriters and REIT managers. Particularly adept at advising on equity and debt securities offerings, drawing on a deep well of capital markets expertise within the firm. Regularly handles substantial transactions as well as corporate governance issues.

Strengths

"Paul Hastings has strong REIT experience."

Work highlights Paul Hastings advised Watermark Lodging Trust in the sale to private real estate funds managed by Brookfield Asset Management of all outstanding shares of common stock of Watermark in an all-cash transaction.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Frank Lopez is a key contact.

Sullivan & Worcester

What the team is known for Sullivan & Worcester is a Boston-centric team handling a wide spectrum of REIT transactions, including formations, equity and debt offerings and joint ventures. Combines tax structuring expertise with significant experience of advising on complex M&A, often with cross-border elements.

Strengths

"The team provides insights into complex matters in a timely fashion."

"Sullivan & Worcester's team has expertise in this field and they are very efficient."

"The team is extremely responsive."

Work highlights Sullivan & Worcester assisted American Tower Corporation in its sale of an approximately 36% ownership interest in its US data center business to certain affiliated investment vehicles of Stonepeak as part of a new long-term strategic partnership.

Notable practitioners

Ameek Ashok Ponda (see p.2035)'s global transactional REIT practice regularly sees him handling REIT conversions as well as M&A. Strengths: "Ameek is very knowledgeable of subject matters and he articulates advice well." "He is wonderful, he is smart, detail-oriented and extremely knowledgeable."

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges boasts a distinguished practice in the REITs space. The team is routinely called upon by issuers and underwriters to provide counsel on IPOs and secondary offerings. The practitioners demonstrate considerable strength in handling high-profile M&A deals.

Strengths

"It's a great team, they are very smart and have great knowledge."

"The practitioners are very commercial and experienced."

Work highlights Weil is advised The Kroger Company on its merger with Albertsons Companies.

Notable practitioners

David Levy routinely handles tax issues on behalf of REITs related to M&A, structured asset acquisitions and securities offerings. Strengths: "David is very technical and responsive." "He is a fantastic lawyer and REIT specialist."

Band 1 REITs: Maryland Counsel

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable is an expert practice on Maryland corporate law matters with the ability to handle substantial IPOs, stock and debt offerings and M&A on behalf of market-leading traded and non-traded REITs and businesses. Often called upon to advise on corporate governance concerns. Regularly provides input on developments and improvements in the State of Maryland's legislature as it pertains to REITs.

Strengths

"Venable is a standout firm on Maryland matters. It's an excellent team."

"The team consistently provides expert advice and assistance in a responsive manner."

"I rate the group very highly on handling complex matters; it's a strong team."

Work highlights Venable successfully represented Impac Mortgage Holdings in its recapitalization transaction.

Notable practitioners

James Hanks (see p.1925) is experienced across the spectrum of REIT matters, boasting a storied career of independent director representation.

Strengths: "James is the dean of the Maryland Bar." "He is one of the best lawyers in the space."

Patricia McGowan (see p.638) regularly counsels clients on a variety of Maryland-specific REIT issues, including those arising in M&A and IPOs.

Strengths: "She is top-notch in terms of legal knowledge and business judgment." "Patricia is very responsive and gives good advice."

Christopher Pate (see p.664) is best known for his work with special committees to REITs. Strengths: "Chris is an experienced and excellent lawyer." "He is thoughtful, proactive and responsive."

Michael Schiffer (see p.692) is esteemed for representing special committees in REIT IPOs and other transactions. Strengths: "Michael is another excellent lawyer and he's very responsive." "He's a great lawyer."

Brian Field is called upon to advise clients on restructurings, acquisitions and mergers. Strengths: "Brian is an excellent lawyer."

Carmen Fonda (see p.557)'s knowledge of corporate structuring in accordance with Maryland's laws is increasingly sought by REITs nationally.

Strengths: "Carmen is an excellent attorney."

Hirsh Ament has a burgeoning practice that involves advising clients on complex acquisitions in the space. Strengths: "Hirsh is excellent and a pleasure to work with." "He is a great lawyer; he is thoughtful, commercial and responsive."

Band 2 REITs: Maryland Counsel

Ballard Spahr LLP

What the team is known for Ballard Spahr is a leading Maryland firm for REITs and their general counsel, handling both corporate and capital markets transactions and challenging management issues for public REITs and private entities alike. The firm is also strong on related areas such as real estate, tax, securities and insolvency. Brings to bear the firm's nationwide resources to counsel REITs with a wide geographical reach.

Strengths

"Ballard Spahr's team is incredibly knowledgeable about Maryland law."

"The firm's practitioners are very much on top of market terms in their expertise areas - especially Maryland law and REITs."

"The team is innovative in how they address thorny issues."

Work highlights Ballard Spahr advised Healthpeak Properties on the upside of Healthpeak's commercial paper program to $2 billion.

Notable practitioners

Charles Moran receives praise for his extensive knowledge of corporate and securities matters related to REITs. Strengths: "Charles is very efficient and provides great advice." "He is knowledgeable about Maryland law." Douglas Fox is adept at advising clients on a range of REITs matters including formations and securities issues. His practice sees him acting as counsel to both investors and non-traded REITs. Thomas Bashore is a go-to Maryland counsel, noted for his ability to handle publicly traded REITs. Strengths: "He is great – he's incredibly thoughtful and helpful."

Miles & Stockbridge PC

What the team is known for Miles & Stockbridge is a respected Baltimore-based practice known for assisting REITs in a range of significant corporate transactions. Recognized for its experience in M&A and the representation of special committees.

Work highlights Miles & Stockbridge acted as Maryland counsel to CoreCivic, providing corporate governance and other Maryland law advice.

Notable practitioners

Topper Webb (see p.1931) is highly regarded for his skill advising clients on substantial REIT transactions. Scott Wilson (see p.735) has considerable knowledge of Maryland corporate law matters. A substantial part of his practice is assisting both REITs and investors on a range of issues including M&A.

Other Ranked Lawyers

William Carlson (see p.520) of Shapiro Sher Guinot is sought after for his work with REIT boards of directors and special committees.

Bryan Goolsby of Winston & Strawn is particularly adept at handling securities and corporate governance matters.

Joseph Howe of Arnold & Porter regularly handles cross-border matters, including the establishment of inbound investment structures. Strengths: "His level of tax knowledge is amazing." "Joseph is a really excellent lawyer."

Heath Linsky (see p.624) is known for his securities and M&A expertise in relation to public non-listed REITs. Strengths: "Heath has great work ethic and is a strategic thinker." "Heath is a really superb lawyer to work with."

Christina Trotta Roupas of Cooley acts on behalf of both underwriters and REITs in corporate and capital market transactions.

Toni Weinstein of Dentons is valued for her understanding of debt and equity offerings and representation of REIT boards. Strengths: "Toni does great work."

Retail Nationwide

Retail	Retail: Corporate & Transactional
Leading Firms	Leading Firms
Band 1	Band 1
DLA Piper LLP (US)	Jones Day
Greenberg Traurig, LLP	Latham & Watkins LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Band 2
Perkins Coie LLP	Alston & Bird LLP
Seyfarth Shaw LLP	Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP
Band 2	Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP	Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright	Morrison Foerster
Band 3	Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Alston & Bird LLP
ArentFox Schiff LLP
Davis+Gilbert LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Goulston & Storrs
Holland & Knight LLP
Pillsbury
Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP
Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP
Band 4
Arnold & Porter
BakerHostetler LLP
Baker McKenzie
Ballard Spahr LLP
Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP
Cozen O'Connor
Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton
Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky and Popeo PC
Morrison Foerster

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird is well placed to advise a broad stable of retail sector businesses across the key disciplines of litigation, tax, real estate, intellectual property and financing. Clients include both well-known brick-and-mortar franchises and online retailers. Also works with financial institutions including banks and payment processors.

Strengths

"Alston & Bird's practitioners are highly capable and effective."

Work highlights Alston & Bird defended T-Mobile in a case brought by 25 at-will employees of a former Sprint retailer, Arch Telecom, alleging that T-Mobile improperly closed a number of retailer stores following its historic merger with Sprint.

Notable practitioners

Atlanta-based finance lawyer Jordan Myers is the founder of the firm's retail industry team.

ArentFox Schiff LLP

What the team is known for ArentFox Schiff possesses noted strength in the representation of globally recognizable fashion brands, as well as consumer products manufacturers. Able to advise on international work, with experience of operational retail matters pertaining to Latin America, Europe and Asia. Broad expertise includes IP issues, e-commerce and real estate matters.

Strengths

"A strong team with vast knowledge in the space." "The group is thorough and professional."

Strengths ArentFox Schiff advised Petco on FDA, advertising, privacy, government relations and strategic IP issues.

Notable practitioners

The firm's chair, Anthony Lupo, is a key contact for retail clients. He is based in Washington, DC.

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter calls upon a deep bench to assist retailers on both regulatory and litigation matters. The firm is adept at handling contentious issues, including false advertising, antitrust and consumer class actions. It guides retailers through complex and significant investigations at both state and federal levels. The group's client-base covers a number of sectors, ranging from food and beverage and real estate to luxury brands and fashion.

Strengths

"Arnold & Porter does a tremendous job of breaking down very complex and sophisticated matters into solutions."

Work highlights Arnold & Porter represented Nature's Bounty and its subsidiary Puritan's Pride in a consumer class action alleging false price advertising.

Notable practitioners

Raqiyah Pippins, cochair of the consumer products practice and cochair of the consumer products and retail industry group, is a key contact.

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler has a noted retail practice with experience counseling clients on matters including advertising and privacy. Further expertise includes the representation of clients on disputes pertaining to trademark infringement, as well as class actions relating to consumer and employment law. Acts for a broad client base that includes sporting goods retailers, food and beverage groups and e-commerce companies.

Strengths

"The attorneys are extremely responsive and proactive."

Strengths BakerHostetler successfully represented Sherwin-Williams in a series of claims in which an independent contractor floor installation provider alleged independent contractor misclassification and brought PAGA claims.

Notable practitioners

Phillip Eskenazi and Amy Ralph Mudge are key contacts.

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie has considerable experience of handling complex acquisitions and joint ventures. The team also demonstrates its ability to provide counsel on a plethora of employment issues. Its practitioners are also routinely called upon to assist in disputes arising from advertising and labeling claims.

Strengths

"The team has a very prominent international presence."

Work highlights Baker McKenzie secured a victory on behalf of Walmart and Belkin International in a class action alleging that the advertisement and labelling on Wi-Fi routers manufactured by Belkin and sold by Walmart are inaccurate and misleading.

Notable practitioners

Ballard Spahr LLP

What the team is known for Ballard Spahr is a nationwide firm with experience counseling retailers on IP issues, real estate matters and regulatory proceedings. Maintains a varied client base including retailers from the e-commerce, fashion and food and beverage industries.

Work highlights Ballard Spahr advised Sportsman's Warehouse on all aspects of their national broad based real estate portfolio, including acquisitions, dispositions, leasing, maintenance and facilities.

Notable practitioners

Aliza Karetnick is a key contact at the firm. She is based in the firm's Philadelphia office.

Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP

What the team is known for BCLP offers a multidisciplinary team equipped to tackle issues retailers may face. The firm offers particular strength in handling intellectual property, trademark and patent matters. It also leverages transactional expertise and provides counsel on financings and acquisitions. The firm's clients range from fashion and luxury brands to superstores and grocers.

Strengths

"The team is very responsive."

"The group is committed to providing stellar client service."

Work highlights BCLP defended Karsten Manufacturing against an allegation that certain PING® Putters infringe upon certain claims of plaintiff EvnRoll Putters LLC's patent.

Notable practitioners

Carol Osborne, the firm's retail and consumer products sector leader, is a key contact.

Cozen O'Connor

What the team is known for Cozen O'Connor's team advises clients on a wide spectrum of issues in the retail space, including commercial disputes, IP, employment and real estate matters. The practitioners are also held in high regard for their ability to assist clients with regulatory compliance. Its client list is comprised of department stores, restaurants and luxury goods retailers.

Notable practitioners

Cochair of the patent prosecution group, Edward Weisz, is a key contact.

Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP

What the team is known for Cravath, Swaine & Moore's team is held in high regard for its extensive experience in the space. The practitioners are routinely called upon to handling complex M&A deals and restructurings. The groups clients include luxury goods conglomerates and department store chains.

Strengths

"The quality of the team's work is exceptional."

Notable practitioners

Philip Boeckman is a key contact.

Davis+Gilbert LLP

What the team is known for Davis+Gilbert is known for advising on leasing and employment law matters for retail sector clients. Sought out by household names, including international fashion retailers, for its expertise in advertising and IP. Additional experience in connection with the online retail space.

Strengths

"The firm contains very smart and practical attorneys."

Notable practitioners

Partner Robert Karin is based in New York and is a key contact for Davis+Gilbert's retail sector work.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper is a commercial giant which offers full-service capability in the US retail space. Areas of strength include corporate transactional work, real estate, employment matters and consumer class action defense, as well as anticounterfeiting, cybersecurity and data protection. Act for clients on brand management matters including advice related to trademark prosecution, enforcement and licensing. Clients benefit from the firm's size and cross-border cooperation with other DLA Piper offices.

Strengths

"The DLA Piper team is among the best in the business."

"The team possesses the innate capability to handle complex and sophisticated matters smoothly."

Work highlights DLA Piper successfully defended Goli Nutrition in a trademark case raised by GOLO, relating to allegations that 'Goli' and 'Goli Nutrition' trademarks were likely to cause confusion with plaintiff's GOLO mark.

Notable practitioners

Stefanie Fogel is the global cochair of the firm's consumer goods, food and retail sector team. She operates from DLA Piper's Boston office.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson Dunn is an elite global firm and a longstanding heavyweight in the retail sector. Acts for a number of instantly recognizable global brands and retailers in connection with their most business-critical corporate and transactional matters, including distressed M&A, and loan restructuring work stemming from retailer bankruptcies. Also noted for its litigation capacity, with expertise in matters such as anticounterfeiting, and offers further capability handling class actions.

Strengths

"Gibson, Dunn is an excellent firm."

Work highlights Gibson Dunn represented Amazon in a putative class action regarding the alleged temporary suspension of Amazon Prime shipping benefits at the outset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Notable practitioners

Howard Hogan is the chair of the firm's fashion, retail and consumer products group. He is based in Gibson Dunn's Washington, DC office.

Goulston & Storrs

What the team is known for Goulston & Storrs is highly reputed for its real estate work in the retail sector. Act for clients including developers, REITs, landlords and tenants. Also noted for its strong reputation for helping international brands and retailers integrate and expand into the US market.

Strengths

"The team knows the industry and what's important in a deal."

"Goulston are practical and look for solutions to get the deal done."

"Goulston's group is always able to handle the most complex issues."

Notable practitioners

Karen O'Malley in Boston and David Rabinowitz in New York are key contacts at the firm.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig is a leading firm with a client list that reads like a who's-who of US retailers. Continues to impresses with its real estate work for bricks-and-mortar businesses. Also noted for its handling of labor and employment issues as well as national health and safety compliance. The team also excels when advising retail clients on IP concerns including trademark and brand protection. E-commerce is a further strength and the group is frequently called upon for emergent online privacy issues.

Strengths

"I have the highest confidence in Greenberg's ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented WholeFoods in a case arising from allegations of a breach of contract and misrepresentations.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Warren Karp acts as cochair of the Greenberg Traurig global retail industry group.

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Household-name clients such as Walmart, Mattel and Best Buy go to Hogan Lovells for advice on retail matters. The team has a broad practice and advises on areas including marketing and government engagement, as well as day-to-day activities such as real estate and intellectual property matters. Stands out for its e-commerce work, including the establishment of new online retail platforms.

Strengths

"Hogan Lovells' team meets extremely tight deadlines."

"The practitioners are sophisticated and knowledgeable within our industry."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells represented Albertsons in an inquiry into allegations made by California District Attorneys regarding the sale of expired over-the-counter drug products.

Notable practitioners

Meryl Bernstein, who co-heads the firm's global retail, consumer products and fashion group, is a key contact.

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight has a standout retail practice with notable strength when it comes to real estate transactions. Clients come to the group for advice on the acquisition, redevelopment and financing of shopping malls. Other areas of strength include labor and employment, particularly OSHA-related matters. Also well regarded for its expertise in trademark matters and for its work with luxury brands.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight is a solid firm."

Work highlights Holland & Knight represented Jim Koons Automotive Companies in its $1.2 billion sale to Asbury Automotive Group.

Notable practitioners

Lauren Faulkner and Mike Haag are key contacts.

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP

What the team is known for Hunton Andrews Kurth has a strong retail and consumer products groups that is known for its expertise in technology, data protection and e-commerce. Also noted for a robust class action defense practice and a highly competent labor and employment group. Represents a range of clients in the areas of grocery retail, entertainment and consumer technology.

Strengths

"The practitioners have a very deep knowledge of the industry and regulatory trends."

"The team is very responsive and thorough."

"Hunton's lawyers are responsive and practical."

Work highlights Hunton Andrews Kurth acted on behalf of Rite Aid Corporation in litigation brought by a group of insurance and pharmacy benefit companies in relation to allegations of overcharging for prescription medications.

Notable practitioners

Steven Patterson in Washington DC cochairs of the firm's retail and consumer products industry practice group.

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day is a global powerhouse which advises some of the biggest names in retail on a full suite of corporate and transactional matters, including M&A, refinancings, securities offerings and private equity investments. Impressive international footprint allows for seamless handling of matters with cross-border elements.

Work highlights Jones Day advised Asbury Automotive Group on its definitive agreement with the Jim Koons Automotive Group of Companies to acquire Jim Koons Automotive.

Notable practitioners

New York-based M&A specialist Randi Lesnick is a key contact at Jones Day.

Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton

What the team is known for Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton has a respected retail and consumer goods team with experience acting for global brands in the clothing, cosmetics and online retail industries. Demonstrates particular strength in IP-related matters, and is further called upon by clients seeking advice on issues including bankruptcy, real estate and false advertising.

Strengths

"Kilpatrick has so many talented and excellent lawyers."

Work highlights Kilpatrick Townsend acted as trademark counsel to Sun-Maid Growers of California. This included registering, protecting and enforcing Sun-Maid's brands across the globe.

Notable practitioners

Farah Cook in Atlanta, Babak Kusha in San Francisco and Marc Lieberstein in New York cochair the firm's retail and consumer goods industry team.

Kirkland & Ellis LLP

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis possesses a highly regarded team in the retail space. The team is renowned for its strength in advising clients on a range of transactional issues, including acquisitions, financings and mergers. The practitioners routinely represent luxury brands and consumer investors.

Notable practitioners

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins is a corporate powerhouse which advises on some of the most complex and sophisticated acquisitions, IPOs and restructurings in the retail sphere. Also well regarded for issues such as data security, licensing and outsourcing, as well as brand protection and regulatory compliance.

Strengths

"The team has excellent commercial instincts and deep transactional experience."

"Latham's team is one of the best in the business."

Work highlights Latham advised Tapestry on its acquisition of Capri Holdings.

Notable practitioners

Partner Michael Benjamin, global chair of the retail and consumer products industry group, is a key contact. He is based in Latham & Watkins' New York office.

Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky and Popeo PC

What the team is known for Mintz has a well-regarded team with experience advising clients on a broad range of retail-related issues, including transactional and regulatory matters. Demonstrates further capability handling class action defense, as well as issues pertaining to privacy. Acts for international retailers from a diverse array of industries, counting sporting goods, cosmetic and fashion companies among its clients.

Notable practitioners

Robert Burwell in San Francisco and Chuck Samuels in Washington, DC cochair the firm's retail and consumer products team.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius has an impressively broad retail practice, with a strong handle on matters such as labor and employment, data privacy and security and consumer class action defense. Also noted for its handling of a range of corporate and transactional matters, including M&A, IPOs and financing. Draws on expertise in technology and fashion and luxury products when working with retailers.

Strengths

"Morgan Lewis contains very knowledgeable lawyers and layers of talent."

Notable practitioners

Miami-based partner Anne Marie Estevez is the founder and cochair of the firm's retail and e-commerce industry group.

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster's consumer products and retail-focused practice has the versatility to advise on a full range of issues faced by businesses in the retail sector. Noted for its work on M&A, real estate and corporate transactions. Also adept at advising clients on advertising and supply chain issues, as well as privacy and data security matters.

Work highlights Morrison Foerster defended Amway in a PAGA representative action arising from allegations of independent contractor misclassification of direct sellers of Amway-branded health and beauty products.

Notable practitioners

Erin Bosman in San Diego is a key contact.

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright has a respected consumer markets team offering experience of a wide range of matters affecting retailers, including product safety litigation, regulatory compliance and enforcement matters, and class action defense. Other areas of expertise include trademark portfolio management and real estate financing and development. Acts for retailers and manufacturers from industries such as cosmetics and sporting goods.

Strengths

"Norton Rose is an excellent firm."

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright represented CVS Pharmacy in relation to claims regarding the alleged illegal sale of homeopathic drug products in violation of the Federal Food, Drug & Cosmetic Act.

Notable practitioners

Partners Jeff Margulies and Will Troutman are based in LA and are key contacts for the firm's work in the retail sector.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss has an impressive reputation in the retail sphere as well as standout ability in the food and beverage sector. Noted for its leading corporate and financing practice, working with clients on M&A, restructuring and capital markets-related transactions. Clients include private equity firms, retailers and casual dining restaurant chains.

Strengths

"When you need to get something done expertly Paul Weiss' team always delivers."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss advised Amazon on including its $1.4 billion acquisition of iRobot.

Notable practitioners

New York-based partner Scott Barshay is the chair of Paul, Weiss' corporate department.

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie is one of the largest and most devoted retail teams in the USA. A roster of top-shelf clients continue to rely on the team's expertise in the retail space. Has strength in matters connected to e-commerce, data privacy and data protection. Leading experience of representing retailers in the outdoor, sports and athletic wear spaces, with further expertise in markets including fashion and food and beverages. The firm leverages extensive knowledge of the technology sector to provide counsel to retailers on cutting edge issues such as NFTs and artificial intelligence.

Strengths

"Perkins Coie's team handles matters with ease, efficiency and diligence."

"The team consistently provides strong analysis and work product."

Work highlights Perkins Coie represented Costco in litigation against various manufacturers, distributors and retail pharmacies involved in the manufacture, distribution and sale of prescription opioids.

Notable practitioners

Kevin Hamilton is the chair of the firm's retail and consumer products industry group and is based in Seattle.

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman is an esteemed firm that advises global clients on a host of domestic and international retail mandates. Particularly well regarded for counsel on payments, e-commerce, and pre-paid regulation and compliance. Clients include large national retailers as well as web-focused startups.

Work highlights Pillsbury defended Costco in enforcement actions instituted by environmental agencies, alleging violations of environmental laws related to air quality.

Notable practitioners

Deborah Thoren-Peden and Christine Richardson are coleaders of the firm's consumer and retail group.

Seyfarth Shaw LLP

What the team is known for Seyfarth Shaw is widely known for its strong litigation work in the retail sphere, and for being a go-to firm for employment and class action issues. Also attracts praise for its real estate work. Clients include national and regional retailers such as department stores, dollar stores and online merchants.

Strengths

"Seyfarth Shaw has strong experts."

Work highlights Seyfarth Shaw advised 7-Eleven on all new store real estate developments throughout the United States.

Notable practitioners

Partners Eric Greenberg and Lynn Kappelman are based in Seyfarth Shaw's Boston office and are key contacts for the firm's retail work.

Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton LLP

What the team is known for Sheppard, Mullin offers notable expertise in a host of issues affecting household-name retailers. Particularly expert representing clients in regulatory challenges as well as taking on significant class and competitor actions stemming from data privacy, pricing and advertising claims. Also adept at tackling bankruptcy and restructuring matters.

Strengths

"The team provides excellence across the board."

"Sheppard, Mullins fields sharp and business-savvy lawyers with relevant expertise in retail law."

Work highlights Sheppard Mullin represented Hot Topic in class and PAGA actions, alleging various wage and hour violations.

Notable practitioners

Rachel Tarko Hudson in San Francisco and Samantha Hardy in San Diego co-lead the retail team and are key contacts for the practice group.

Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP

What the team is known for Vorys is an Ohio-based firm that continues to display a broad range of strengths in the retail sector and advises on matters such as data security, outsourcing, employment law and customs issues. Frequently engaged by retailers facing consumer class actions.

Strengths

"All matters are handled in a professional manner with a focus on the client."

"Vorys' team is very skilled."

Work highlights Vorys advised Designer Brands on a new senior secured delayed draw term loan in connection with a proposed tender offer to repurchase up to $100 million of its Class A Common Shares.

Notable practitioners

John Landolfi is leader of the firm's consumer products and retail law practice and is a key contact.

Securities Litigation Nationwide

Securities: Litigation
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Band 2
A&O Shearman
Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer
Kirkland & Ellis
Sidley Austin LLP
Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Band 3
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Cooley LLP
Goodwin
Ropes & Gray LLP
WilmerHale
Band 4
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Morrison Foerster
Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Williams & Connolly LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Band 5
Dechert LLP
Jenner & Block LLP
Milbank LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1 Securities: Litigation

Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP

What the team is known for Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP is acclaimed for the depth of its expertise in securities litigation, most notably with respect to issuer representation and M&A litigation in Delaware courts. It also has significant experience in Rule 10b-5 class actions and Section 11 and 12 claims. The firm is capable of providing expert representation to accounting and audit firms, as well as acting on high-value litigation for financial services institutions. It represents companies in a variety of sectors, including energy, pharmaceuticals, technology and media.

Strengths

"The Cravath lawyers are a pleasure to work with. They demonstrate thoughtful judgment and provide commercial and practical advice that adds value to any situation."

"Cravath's level of service is unmatched. They're my favorite firm."

"Cravath is outstanding. If I have a bet-the-company case, I go to them."

Work highlights Cravath represented Ryan Breslow, co-founder and executive chairman of Securities: Litigation: Mainly Plaintiff

Leading Firms
Band 1
Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP
Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP
Band 2
Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC
Kessler Topaz Meltzer & Check, LLP
Labaton Keller Sucharow LLP
Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
Band 3
Berman Tabacco
Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP
Gibbs & Bruns LLP
Grant & Eisenhofer PA
Pomerantz LLP
Saxena White
Selendy Gay PLLC

Bolt Financial, in stockholder litigation in Delaware concerning the company's agreement to guarantee Mr. Breslow a $30 million loan.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Gary Bornstein and Kevin Orsini co-head the litigation department.

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP boasts an impressive securities practice with strength in a wide-ranging set of litigation matters. It represents an enviable roster of major financial institutions and blue-chip public companies in connection with a range of bet-the-company matters, including M&A litigation, accounting cases and securities fraud actions. The firm continues to play a major role in ongoing RMBS litigation stemming from the 2008 financial crisis.

Strengths

"Davis Polk is a terrific firm. The work product is tip-top."

"Davis Polk is best in the business for client service."

"Each lawyer on the team is strong and has a deep knowledge of the area."

Work highlights Davis Polk successfully represented underwriters in connection with California state and federal court securities suits regarding the IPO of Arlo technologies.

Notable practitioners

James Rouhandeh leads the firm's litigation practice and is based in New York.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP exhibits far-reaching capabilities for domestic and international clients, housing expert securities litigators and advisers across its US offices and global network. The firm's areas of strength include securities class action defense, M&A litigation and shareholder derivative suits. It is sought after by clients from a range of industries, including technology and manufacturing, in addition to major financial institutions.

Strengths

"Gibson Dunn can handle complex, esoteric matters of the law in litigation."

"They are thoughtful and knowledgeable, and deliver strong work product with a good understanding of our commercial goals."

"The Gibson bench is very good and they do a good job of finding the best people for the job. Its a really cohesive team and they are a pleasure to work with."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP represented Slack Technologies before the Supreme Court in securities litigation arising from its direct listing on the New York Stock Exchange.

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Brian Lutz and New York-based Robert Serio are key contacts for the firm.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP boasts an excellent team with growing strength in the securities litigation space. It is particularly noted for its representation of accounting firms. The firm is impressively active on the issuer side, handling numerous securities fraud class actions and major Section 11 IPO cases. It acts for leading corporate issuers in the technology and life sciences spaces and also acts for globally recognizable financial institutions in connection with their role as the underwriters of securities.

Strengths

"The firm has the expertise, experience and highly successful track record. Its major strengths are strategic thinking, counseling and advocacy."

"Latham has an excellent breadth of skills and experience that allows them to provide advice on a wide range of matters."

"The teams I have worked with are thoughtful in their strategies and are not afraid of creative thinking."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP successfully represented Oracle chairman, CTO and co-founder Larry Ellison and CEO Safra Catz in Delaware stockholder litigation challenging Oracle's $9.4 billion acquisition of NetSuite.

Notable practitioners

Andrew Clubok, Blair Connelly and Colleen Smith are key contacts at the firm. They are based in the DC, New York and San Diego offices, respectively.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP boasts a premier securities litigation practice offering undeniable strength to leading public companies across the globe. It has unparalleled expertise in handling bet-the-company securities litigation for clients from the financial services industry. The firm demonstrates huge capacity in the representation of corporate issuers, with notable victories in securities fraud and ERISA class actions, IPO cases and M&A litigation. It achieves notable success at trial and in settlement negotiations in these areas as a result of the courtroom experience brought to bear by its expert litigators.

Strengths

"The breadth of their bench and the quality of their work make them among the best securities litigation practices."

"A go-to firm for significant and complex securities litigation. The team is made up of top-notch, experienced practitioners who go to all ends to exhaust all possible avenues on your case."

"I have been impressed with the breadth of knowledge and expertise of the legal team, and their ability to anticipate and strategize."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss represented Apple in a securities class action alleging Apple and CEO Tim Cook made misleading statements concerning the strength of iPhone sales in China.

Notable practitioners

New York-based firm chair Brad Karp is a key contact for securities litigation.

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP hosts a sophisticated group of securities litigators expertly handling the representation of major financial institutions and private equity clients. It has global capacity when it comes to M&A-related litigation, particularly for foreign clients operating in US markets. The firm remains a go-to for underwriters on a range of high-value matters, with particular strength in connection with the class actions and derivative suits that follow high-profile public offerings. It also acts for blue-chip corporate issuers, including those in the technology and pharmaceutical sectors, as well as a number of corporate issuer clients from East Asia and Latin America.

Strengths

"At Simpson Thacher they know the space well, are smart, write well and display good judgment."

"The best of the best. STB lawyers are brilliant, tenacious, collegial and cooperative. They would do anything to help their clients."

"Above all, this team is highly responsive and self-executing. They are able to communicate directly with the business, advise on next steps clearly and succinctly and reach a good outcome."

Work highlights Simpson Thacher & Bartlett represented Toronto-Dominion Bank in long-running securities litigation that alleged the bank aided and abetted Robert Allen Stanford's Ponzi scheme by failing to detect the fraud. The matter was settled on eve of trial for $1.2 billion.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Jonathan Youngwood is the global cochair of the firm's litigation practice.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom possesses an elite offering in the securities litigation space. It is known to represent both corporate clients and financial institutions. The firm is active in a number of high-profile litigation matters arising from IPOs, on which it has represented both underwriters and public company issuers. It retains its status as a preeminent class action defense team, with numerous successes in securities fraud and excessive fee lawsuits. It also fields noteworthy expertise in insider trading and FCPA-related issues. The firm boasts considerable strength across the country.

Strengths

"Skadden is first-rate. They work hard, communicate well and make sure to end cases quickly."

"We retain Skadden for our highest-risk matters, where they provide great value through their deep bench, capabilities and expertise."

"Skadden is a fantastic partner to our business. They are the best of the best, with deep knowledge and expertise that they couple with creativity and practicality."

Work highlights Skadden represented Six Flags in the Northern District of Texas, successfully achieving dismissal of a securities class action that alleged Six Flags made misleading statements about the progress of a branded theme park in China.

Notable practitioners

Jay Kasner is the head of the firm's securities litigation practice and operates out of the firm's New York office.

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP is considered a go-to for major financial institutions involved in bet-the-company securities law disputes, and achieves particular success in matters with cross-border elements. The firm is recognized for its work on major cases coming out of the financial crisis, and draws praise for its representation of banks as underwriters in stock offerings. It acts on precedent-setting matters for both issuers and banks, with a number of victories for leading corporate issuers in event-driven class actions. Noted for the global reach of its practice, often representing non-US clients in multijurisdictional matters.

Strengths

"When it comes to securities litigation, Sullivan & Cromwell are ace."

"One of the best firms in the country. They are the smartest and deepest and have brain power."

"They prepare thoroughly, have a mastery of the legal and practical necessities and are always timely and prepared."

Work highlights Sullivan & Cromwell represented Citigroup in obtaining the dismissal of a putative class action in connection with its 2020 settlements with banking regulators concerning its internal controls and risk management systems.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Jeffrey Scott and Julia Malkina co-lead the securities litigation practice.

Band 2 Securities: Litigation

A&O Shearman

What the team is known for A&O Shearman is a destination firm for financial institutions involved in securities litigation as underwriters, as well as corporate issuer clients. It often advises on matters involving multiple jurisdictions for domestic and international companies, with significant activity for Asian clients entering US markets. Its noted recent activity includes lawsuits in connection with benchmarking matters relating to the financial services industry.

On 1st May 2024, Allen & Overy and Shearman & Sterling merged to form A&O Shearman.

Strengths

"Their strength is a combination of technical expertise coupled with a practical approach."

"The firm provides top-shelf service. They know what in-house lawyers want before they do!"

"Its always an excellent experience working with the firm. Its lawyers are creative, dynamic thinkers that are ready and able to handle complex matters with high stakes."

Work highlights The firm successfully represented Paramount Global (formerly ViacomCBS) in a securities class action arising from the historic collapse of Archegos Capital Management, alleging misstatements and omissions in March 2021 offering documents concerning Archegos' positions.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Adam Hakki is a key contact at the firm.

Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer

What the team is known for Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer has an emerging securities litigation practice group with experience representing leading issuers, their executives and directors in a variety of securities matters, including class, derivative and books and records actions. It has impressive expertise defending clients in the tech and pharmaceutical sectors, among others. The firm is particularly strong in the California and New York markets.

Strengths

"Freshfields serve as a great partner to us. They provide great client service and are proactive, identifying risks and ways to mitigate them."

"Freshfields' lawyers capably handle complex and sophisticated matters and their teams are consistently strong."

"The firm is as good as they come. Their team is outstanding."

Work highlights Freshfields represented 3M and its officers and board of directors in cases alleging failure to adequately reserve for and disclose potential liability relating to 3M's production of PFAS chemicals.

Notable practitioners

Meredith Kotler and Mary Eaton co-head Freshfields' securities litigation practice group and are both based in the firm's New York office.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is a well-regarded firm with significant nationwide securities litigation capabilities. It handles the full range of securities disputes including M&A litigation, securities class actions and shareholder derivative suits. The firm acts for an impressive range of issuer-side clients, as well as their officers and directors, and possesses noteworthy experience of accounting firm representation. It also has a significant practice representing private equity firms, often in derivative and fiduciary duty cases.

Strengths

"Kirkland's team is excellent. They are skilled and knowledgeable in the area."

"I have been very pleased with the advice and responsiveness of the firm."

"Their service levels are exceptional and their litigation team is significantly more business and commercially savvy than most."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis continued to represent 3G Capital, formerly one of Kraft Heinz's largest shareholders, in actions related to a $15.4 billion writedown of Kraft Heinz's assets and disclosure of an SEC investigation. The firm recently achieved settlement in securities litigation and dismissal with prejudice in two derivative lawsuits.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Sandra Goldstein and Chicago and DC-based Mark Filip are key contacts for the firm's securities litigation practice.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP boasts a highly regarded securities litigation offering with impressive coverage of all key US markets. The firm is particularly noted for its representation of issuers and their officers and directors, while also offering recognized experience of underwriter representation. It regularly handles major M&A litigation in Delaware and elsewhere, covering both breach of fiduciary duty suits and contract disputes. It has additional strength in connection with the representation of accounting firms.

Strengths

"Sidley provides excellent and timely service, but where they stand out is in their ability to think outside the box and provide effective solutions and approaches to deal with issues that defy convention and require novel, creative thinking."

"The entire team is excellent. They deliver tremendous value to their clients."

Work highlights Sidley Austin successfully represented XRI Investment before the Delaware Supreme Court in a case regarding a $10.6 million loan XRI provided to one of its founders who later defaulted.

Notable practitioners

Sara Brody is the key contact in the securities litigation group and works across the firm's San Francisco and Palo Alto offices.

Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz

What the team is known for Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz utilizes its position as one of the most highly acclaimed M&A firms in the US in order to offer effective counsel to clients facing securities litigation arising out of these transactions. It is also well versed in handling shareholder derivative litigation and securities class actions.

Strengths

"Wachtell lawyers are responsive, extremely smart and effective."

"Wachtell do terrific work and are extremely strong in the Delaware Court of Chancery."

"They have a group of smart, talented lawyers."

Work highlights Wachtell represented Amazon in the Delaware Court of Chancery in a case brought by the Oklahoma Firefighters Pension & Retirement System alleging that Amazon breached its fiduciary duties in connection with alleged anti-trust violations.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Moses and William Savitt cochair the firm's litigation practice and are based in New York.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP maintains a dedicated group of securities litigators coupled with firmwide M&A and private equity expertise. It represents financial institutions and public companies in the full range of securities disputes, retaining a particularly strong reputation for the representation of boards of directors and independent committees. The firm demonstrates excellent capabilities in securities litigation related to M&A proceedings, with a large presence in major Delaware cases.

Strengths

"The firm provides impeccable service and has very knowledgeable, commercial and practical attorneys."

"I appreciate their client focus."

"They're good at getting complex cases organized and have a very good associate pool."

Work highlights Weil successfully defended AMC in stockholder litigation in the Delaware Court of Chancery arising from its planned overhaul of its capital structure. The plaintiffs alleged AMC's senior management and board of directors breached their fiduciary duties by diluting common stockholders' voting power.

Notable practitioners

John Neuwirth and Caroline Zalka lead the securities litigation group at the firm. They operate out of the New York office.

Band 3 Securities: Litigation

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP has a respected securities litigation offering fielding experts in securities fraud defense and M&A-related litigation. It acts for both issuers and underwriters, as well as corporate officers and directors. It represents major financial institutions alongside tech and energy sector clients.

Strengths

"Cleary Gottlieb has really smart, committed people and has always been one of my favorite firms."

"They are outstanding in quality, confidence and business skills."

"The quality of their work – especially the briefing, oral argument and litigation strategy – is very strong."

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb represents Allergan in a securities class action alleging that the company misled investors about the health risks associated with certain breast implant products.

Notable practitioners

New York partner Roger Cooper is the key contact for the securities litigation group.

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley LLP offers a highly skilled team with a practice that covers both coasts. It specializes in the representation of corporate issuers, and draws on huge corporate depth to represent leading companies in the life sciences field, as well as in technology. The firm regularly defends against Rule 10b-5 class actions, IPO suits and M&A litigation.

Strengths

"Cooley is a client-first firm. They are responsive and also adjust based on the person with whom they are working. The team is able to provide an array of services, from senior strategists to the technical people needed for complex discovery."

"Cooley has a deep bench of knowledgeable and experienced lawyers."

Work highlights Cooley represented Silverback Therapeutics in a securities class action alleging the company misled investors about the efficacy of a cancer drug candidate. The court dismissed the case with prejudice.

Notable practitioners

Patrick Gibbs leads the securities litigation group and is based in San Francisco.

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin demonstrates complementary litigation and M&A expertise to great effect when advising on securities disputes relating to major corporate transactions. It draws an impressive set of clients from the technology and life sciences sectors, as well as representing major financial institutions acting as underwriters. The firm offers an impressive geographical coverage, with securities litigators present in the firm's Boston, New York, DC and California offices.

Strengths

"I have been really impressed. They are a fantastic full-service firm that provides great expertise."

"The issues involved are complex and nuanced and the team is great at picking up issues and working collaboratively to obtain information that is helpful to the group."

"The team's expertise is not just deep in terms of individual knowledge but also broad, covering a wide range of issues from regulatory compliance to litigation. The team has a robust support structure, which allows for efficient handling of complex matters and seamless coordination among different experts."

Work highlights Goodwin represented Citrix in a federal securities class action that alleged Citrix made misstatements about its attempts to transition its business from on-premise software to subscription-based cloud software. Goodwin achieved a dismissal with full prejudice.

Notable practitioners

Deborah Birnbach and James McGarry are key contacts for the firm's nationwide securities practice. They are both based in the firm's Boston office.

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray LLP boasts a versatile and highly rated practice, with capabilities spanning the securities litigation area. It is known in the market for its strength in the mutual fund area, representing leading investment funds and managers in excessive fee disputes, derivative suits and various fiduciary duty cases. It is highly active on the issuer side, particularly for life sciences clients. The firm also has a growing presence representing financial institutions in underwriter cases and RMBS disputes.

Strengths

"Ropes & Gray has deep expertise and cares deeply about its clients. They go to bed thinking about issues like they are theirs and not mine and I never second-guess their decisions. Their judgment is excellent."

"All of the Ropes partners and associates I have worked with are thoughtful, intelligent, responsive and pleasant to work with."

"We use them for high-profile, high-stakes litigation where there is significant, sensitive reputational risk. They have an excellent team of litigators who are extremely creative, diligent and client service-oriented, particularly with the needs to brief senior figures and getting people comfortable with strategy."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray successfully obtained dismissal on behalf of Deutsche Bank and 44 current and former members of its supervisory and management boards in a shareholder derivative suit seeking $18 billion in damages in connection with alleged fiduciary duty breaches in supervision of the bank over a 12-year period.

Notable practitioners

New York-based David Hennes and Boston and New York-based Peter Welsh are key contacts at the firm.

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale boasts a solid securities litigation practice covering all aspects of the practice area, including securities class action, derivative suits and M&A litigation. It draws upon its outstanding capability in regulatory and white-collar matters to hold an impressive record in cases involving allegations of insider trading, breaches of fiduciary duty and corporate misconduct. The firm frequently represents corporate issuers, with a notable focus on life sciences and technology companies.

Strengths

"WilmerHale's guidance is tremendous. They know all the ins and outs of the class action litigation process without question."

"The Wilmer team is incredibly knowledgeable and I have so much confidence in their advice. They also bring a practical perspective and lots of experience."

"The team is excellent across the board, always responsive and provides top-notch work product."

Work highlights WilmerHale represented Spruce Power (formerly XL Hybrids) in a securities class action in New York, a shareholder derivative action in Massachusetts and a class action in Delaware.

Notable practitioners

New York and Boston-based Michael Bongiorno and DC-based Matthew Martens are key contacts in the department.

Band 4 Securities: Litigation

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP boasts an experienced and respected group that works closely alongside the firm's market-leading securities regulation and white-collar criminal defense practices. Its areas of expertise include securities fraud class actions, shareholder derivative suits and M&A litigation. The firm's clients include major corporations and their officers and directors, with particular expertise in handling matters on behalf of insurance industry giants.

Strengths

"The team works cohesively, and shows technical expertise and sound strategic judgment."

"Debevoise has a very deep bench with a lot of expertise and strong junior lawyers too."

"Their culture fits very well with large financial institutions and they're deservedly well respected."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton represented VMware in a securities class action suit alleging the company and its directors manipulated revenue numbers.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Maeve O'Connor and Washington, DC-based Jonathan Tuttle cochair the securities litigation department.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP offers notable securities litigation capabilities, with expertise handling shareholder and derivative actions and M&A disputes, alongside further strengths in investigations and enforcement actions. It particularly excels in the representation of issuers, with a client base spanning the energy, pharmaceutical, technology and financial sectors.

Strengths

"They are very creative and constantly thinking outside the box."

"The team is highly competent with a deep bench."

Work highlights King & Spalding successfully represented Rio Tinto in the Second Circuit affirming the denial of a class action that alleged Rio Tinto defrauded investors regarding a coal mining project in Mozambique.

Notable practitioners

Atlanta-based Jessica Corley leads the firm's business disputes and securities litigation practice group.

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster is a well-respected firm with strength across the US, known for its expert representation of corporate issuers in class actions, derivative suits and wider shareholder disputes. It is also respected for its work in M&A litigation. The firm handles a number of high-stakes cases on behalf of major investment funds and private equity firms.

Strengths

"MoFo's team is knowledgeable, responsive and client-focused."

"Their lawyers are sophisticated, well organized and strategic."

"They are thoughtful and understand both legal and economic issues well and work well as a team."

Work highlights Morrison Foerster represented Unity Software and certain officers and directors in multiple investor suits, including a putative class action that alleged the company made misleading statements and/or failed to disclose issues with its ad monetization product.

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Jordan Eth is a key contact in the firm's securities litigation group.

Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP

What the team is known for Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP provides counsel to a variety of financial institutions, including several global investment banks, facing securities litigation across the USA. It draws on comprehensive experience in RMBS litigation, as well as significant bankruptcy expertise. The firm also represents numerous corporate clients in breach of fiduciary duty and stock drop shareholder litigation.

Strengths

"Their lawyers are exceptionally talented."

"They have a detailed and thoughtful approach that is very effective. They're excellent."

"Their advice and guidance is based on a solid foundation of past experience and insight into the needs and desired outcomes of the parties involved. They quickly engender trust based on the team's ability to listen and respond in a thoughtful matter. They're also available 24/7 and anticipate the next step in every part of a complex matter."

Work highlights Munger, Tolles & Olson represented Berkshire Hathaway and its vice chairman, CFO and other executives in a Delaware Court of Chancery action alleging breach of fiduciary duties in connection with the 2023 acquisition of a majority interest in Pilot Travel Centers and the valuation of plaintiff Pilot Corporation's minority interest.

Notable practitioners

Los Angeles-based John Spiegel is a key contact for securities litigation.

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers LLP is a well-respected firm which leverages its recognized strength in litigation in a wide variety of securities cases, including class actions, derivative suits and M&A litigation. It acts for public companies and their directors, as well as underwriters, and is regularly engaged by leading financial institutions.

Strengths

"They exceed our very high expectations for responsiveness and levels of service."

"The OMM team thought through the issues, showed up at key moments with creative and successful strategies and boxed in opposing counsel. It was really strong work."

"A great team that is strategic, practical, well-versed in the law and a pleasure to work with."

Work highlights O'Melveny & Myers represent Maxar Technologies in securities class actions in Colorado federal and California state court, as well as derivative litigation in Delaware, relating to Maxar's public disclosures and statements regarding accounting for the company's GEO communications assets.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Jonathan Rosenberg and Los Angeles and Newport Beach-based Matthew Close cochair the firm's securities litigation group.

Williams & Connolly LLP

What the team is known for Williams & Connolly LLP offers a robust litigation practice offering counsel to accounting and private equity firms, as well as public companies and their senior executives in a variety of securities and M&A disputes. It is recognized for litigating a variety of securities-based cases. The firm is notably active in financial services litigation, having worked on a number of RMBS-related matters. It has a substantial practice advising clients in securities cases arising out of government actions and investigations. The firm draws on its exceptional reputation for trial advocacy to provide clients with highly effective representation.

Strengths

"Williams & Connolly have an excellent bench and are streamlined in their staffing. A go-to for high-profile and high-stakes litigation, they are brilliant."

"The quality of associates and the broader team is very high."

"They are a very strong law firm capable of taking on sophisticated and complex work. They are the go-to firm for high-stakes, high-profile corporate/commercial litigation. They're reasonable, practical and down-to-earth."

Work highlights Williams & Connolly represented Medtronic in a securities case relating to an action taken by a regulator alleging that the regulatory action rendered certain of Medtronic's statements about future product approvals false and misleading.

Notable practitioners

The securities litigation group is led by Steven Farina, Robert Van Kirk and Amanda MacDonald. They are based in Washington, DC.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP boasts a highly respected group of securities litigators handling a range of cases, including class actions and other complex litigation catering to asset management and financial services clients. It offers specialist expertise in M&A litigation, accounting and disclosure issues as well as financial fraud.

Strengths

"They handle very sophisticated cases to an extremely high quality."

"This is a smart team. Not only do they have impressive general legal knowledge at their fingertips, but they also have an exceptional ability to think creatively and ask the right questions."

Notable practitioners

Tariq Mundiya chairs the firm's litigation practice and is based in the New York office.

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati enjoys a solid reputation for its expertise in securities class actions and derivative suits, including cases of accounting and securities fraud. The firm possesses a large client base of corporate issuers, regularly acting for clients from the technology and life sciences industries, with additional experience pertaining to a broad range of other sectors including aerospace, energy and financial services. It regularly features in litigation arising out of IPOs and stock offerings. It is also active in Delaware M&A litigation.

Strengths

"We are really happy with their services, they are a trusted partner and we work seamlessly with them. They are very client-oriented and they will put heart and soul into the arguments and will leave no stone unturned."

"WS has an extremely strong and competent team. They provide insightful, actionable advice on the most difficult matters."

"The team is extremely strong and could not have provided a better service."

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini represented Mylan in a securities class action alleging that statements regarding its quality control processes were misleading.

Notable practitioners

Caz Hashemi heads the firm's litigation group and operates out of the firm's Palo Alto office.

Band 5 Securities: Litigation

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert LLP possesses a noteworthy securities litigation capacity, representing a blue-chip corporate clientele alongside their officers and directors, in high-profile cases across the country. It handles a wide range of matters, including securities class actions, shareholder derivative suits, mutual fund litigation and M&A disputes. The firm is particularly active in defending private equity and mutual funds, as well as pharmaceutical and life sciences clients.

Strengths

"Dechert just has excellent quality throughout."

Work highlights Dechert represented a special litigation committee of Exelon in response to a shareholder demand letter alleging bribery, breach of fiduciary duty and other misconduct, in connection with a deferred prosecution agreement entered into by Exelon subsidiary Commonwealth Edison.

Notable practitioners

Chicago and New York-based David Kistenbroker and New York-based David Kelley head the securities litigation group.

Jenner & Block LLP

What the team is known for Jenner & Block LLP is noted for its broad securities litigation practice. It is regularly sought after by notable corporates from a wide array of industries to represent them and their officers and directors in shareholder class actions and derivative suits. The firm has particular strength in its Chicago and New York offices.

Strengths

"The team is very knowledgeable in the securities field. Jenner has assembled an exceptionally diligent and very client-focused team."

Work highlights Jenner & Block represented Uber in a shareholder derivative lawsuit in the Northern District of California, arising from alleged misrepresentations in its initial public offering.

Notable practitioners

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank LLP boasts a well-rounded securities litigation group, with additional strength in regulatory and criminal matters. It regularly handles cases for major financial institutions, including benchmarking disputes, financial crisis litigation and underwriters' representation. It also handles matters for corporate issuers, acting for both companies and executives in major securities fraud class actions. The firm is active in matters for asset managers and investment managers, including in excessive fee lawsuits.

Strengths

"I am very happy with Milbank's representation. They are sophisticated and provide us with a responsive, knowledgeable and quick team."

"They are thorough and responsive, and have significant attention to detail."

"Their litigation tactics are exceptional."

Work highlights Milbank represent PLDT in a class action alleging PLDT and nine of its current and former directors and officers made materially false and misleading statements regarding capital expenditures during the period 2019 and 2022, with approximately 48 billion Philippine pesos at issue.

Notable practitioners

Firm chair Scott Edelman is a key contact for securities litigation. He is based in New York.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP boasts considerable cross-state expertise, with litigation and enforcement capabilities spanning California, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York. The firm has notable strength in representing underwriters as well as major corporate issuers and their directors and officers, offering a wealth of experience handling fiduciary duty, M&A and IPO-related disputes, among others.

Strengths

"Morgan Lewis produces excellent work and every member of the team is superb."

"It's a strong team that does a good job of representing clients."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius represented J.P. Morgan Securities and nine other underwriters in parallel securities class actions regarding Bloom Energy's 2018 IPO alleging that the offering documents contained false or misleading statements.

Notable practitioners

Jordan Hershman leads the securities litigation practice group and operates out of the firm's Boston office.

Band 1 Securities: Litigation: Mainly Plaintiff

Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP

What the team is known for Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossman LLP is an impressive plaintiff litigation firm offering notable representation of institutional investors in a variety of securities cases, including MBS and securities fraud cases. It is frequently seen in matters pertaining to breaches of fiduciary duty in M&A transactions on behalf of shareholder clients. The firm has a dominant track record in achieving high-value awards for clients.

Strengths

"Bernstein Litowitz is wonderful. They are organized, can answer any question and have a quick turnaround."

"Their lawyers are always excellent. They're smart and aggressive. It's one of the best plaintiff's firms."

"Bernstein Litowitz has deep knowledge and the resources to explain and guide clients through matters."

Work highlights Bernstein Litowitz recovered $1 billion following settlement of a securities class action against Wells Fargo alleging the bank made false and misleading statements regarding its compliance with regulatory Consent Orders.

Notable practitioners

Salvatore Graziano, Hannah Ross and Jerry Silk are key contacts. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP

What the team is known for Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP hosts a bench of top-flight plaintiff litigators offering quality representation for institutional investors and pension funds, as well as a number of other clients in the financial industry. The firm is active in all manner of shareholder derivative and securities fraud cases, as well as corporate governance matters. It has a proven track record of winning high-value settlements in class actions against defendants in the financial services, energy and healthcare industries, among others.

Strengths

"They are at the top. It's a good group."

"It's a large group with some really talented people. They have a very strong client base and get some amazing results. They're one of the leaders in the field because of that."

"It's a fearsome firm that takes its cases seriously."

Work highlights Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd secured $300 million in settlement in a securities class action against Wells Fargo that alleged Wells Fargo executives improperly concealed force-placed insurance practices from investors.

Notable practitioners

Darren Robbins is a key contact at the firm. He is based in San Diego.

Band 2 Securities: Litigation: Mainly Plaintiff

Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC

What the team is known for Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC is an established East Coast securities litigation group with a proven track record in complex shareholder derivative suits. It regularly advises institutional investors on major class actions, including RMBS-related matters, and offers additional capabilities in antitrust litigation. The firm recently played a key role in diversity and harassment-related shareholder actions, achieving settlements and reform packages.

Strengths

"Cohen Milstein is a mainstay firm with some very good litigators."

"They do great work and have lots of strong attorneys."

Work highlights Cohen Milstein represented several investors in a securities fraud class action brought against Wells Fargo alleging false and misleading statements made by the bank and its executives surrounding its compliance with federal regulations. The case was settled for $1 billion.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Steven Toll and Julie Reiser cochair the firm's securities litigation practice.

Kessler Topaz Meltzer & Check, LLP

What the team is known for Pennsylvania-based Kessler Topaz Meltzer & Check LLP is recognized for its offering to institutional investors in shareholder class actions and individual opt-out litigation. It continues to grow its international client base as well as to offer services on a global scale under both US and foreign securities laws. The firm also possesses a significant capacity in M&A litigation and in actions against financial institutions.

Strengths

"Kessler Topaz has a very strong securities litigation team."

"A mainstay in securities litigation with good-quality lawyers."

Notable practitioners

David Kessler co-heads the securities litigation offering at the firm and is based in Pennsylvania.

Labaton Keller Sucharow LLP

What the team is known for Labaton Keller Sucharow remains a prominent player at the plaintiffs' Bar, noted for achieving significant success in high-profile cases against financial institutions and major public companies on behalf of investor clients. The firm is bolstered by its presence in Delaware and brings significant M&A litigation on behalf of minority shareholders. It offers a strong investigative team, which allows it to pursue alleged securities fraud even when wrongdoing is not in the public domain.

Strengths

"Labaton provides very good service, responds quickly and has fantastic preparation."

Work highlights Labaton Keller Sucharow continued to act as co-lead counsel in a securities class action brought against Dell's controlling stockholders alleging breach of fiduciary duty in the course of a $14 billion share exchange transaction, achieving pre-trial settlement of $1 billion.

Notable practitioners

Chris Keller and Jonathan Gardner are key contacts at the firm and are based in New York.

Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP

What the team is known for Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP houses a bench of elite plaintiff-side litigators with an exceptional track record in high-value securities actions across the country. It is highly specialized in representing institutional investors in high-value litigation against major banks and other financial institutions. It is also a prominent force in rate-fixing and market manipulation cases against financial institutions, and a go-to for major clients in opt-out litigations. Quinn Emanuel is recognized for its international reach litigating both for and against domestic and international entities.

Strengths

"Quinn Emanuel are great litigators. They are smart and very good tacticians."

"Quinn is a go-to firm for us. They are the black belt you bring in."

"Quinn Emanuel is a great strategic adviser to us. There are very few firms that can handle the complexities Quinn can."

Work highlights Quinn Emanuel served as co-lead counsel to a class of former Dell Class V common stockholders in litigation against the board of directors of Dell, Silver Lake and Goldman Sachs challenging a 2018 transaction, achieving a $1 billion cash settlement.

Notable practitioners

Harry Olivar chairs the firm's nationwide securities litigation group and operates from the Los Angeles office.

Band 3 Securities: Litigation: Mainly Plaintiff

Berman Tabacco

What the team is known for Berman Tabacco is a respected securities litigation group with a national practice, favored by numerous major institutional investors across the US. It regularly acts for statewide retirement systems, public funds and pension plans on significant class action concerns.

Strengths

"I have the highest regard for the attorneys at Berman Tabacco, the team is a pleasure to work with. I continue to be impressed with the team's breadth of experience and knowledge. They work seamlessly together."

"They are some of the sharpest and most competent attorneys I've ever had the pleasure to work with. They can handle virtually any commercial litigation or securities matter."

"The firm's lawyers are very responsive and communicative at every stage of litigation. Each of the lawyers I've worked with are knowledgeable and ready to answer my question."

Work highlights Berman Tabacco represented Utah Retirement Systems in an action alleging a massive fraud occurred at Aegean Marine Petroleum Network, achieving settlements with four defendants totaling over $41 million.

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Nicole Lavalley and Boston-based Leslie Stern are key contacts.

Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP

What the team is known for Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP possesses an experienced securities litigation team capable of handling complex shareholder class actions and derivative suits. It is frequently sought after by a wide array of institutional investors and asset managers. The firm has a strong bench of litigators, with particular depth in the New York and California markets.

Strengths

"The lawyers are very experienced."

"They've grown, they're smart, they're aggressive and have a good client base. I respect their opinion on cases."

Work highlights Bleichmar Fonti & Auld served as co-counsel representing the Police and Fire Retirement System of the City of Detroit in a derivative suit against members of Tesla's board of directors alleging that from 2017 to 2020 the defendants awarded themselves excessive compensation.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Fonti leads the firm's securities practice and is based in New York.

Gibbs & Bruns LLP

What the team is known for Gibbs & Bruns LLP is an established Texas-based litigation boutique with notable securities disputes expertise. The firm is recognized for its particular experience handling complex litigation involving residential mortgage-backed securities as well as other financial products. It counts institutional investors and investment managers among its client base. The team has additional strength in market manipulation cases.

Strengths

"Gibbs & Bruns is a skilled law firm."

"In their niche acting against banks and financial institutions on the plaintiff side, they are a national force."

Work highlights Gibbs & Bruns represented PIMCO as the largest investor in approximately a dozen legacy RMBS trusts in which Deutsche Bank and US Bank sought judicial instructions concerning the "termination price" that the holders of "clean up call rights" must pay to the RMBS trusts and their investors.

Notable practitioners

Houston-based David Sheeren and Kathy Patrick are key contacts at the firm.

Grant & Eisenhofer PA

What the team is known for Grant & Eisenhofer PA boasts a dedicated team of plaintiff-side attorneys and is considered a go-to for international and domestic clients bringing securities claims in the USA and other jurisdictions. It is noted in particular for substantial expertise in shareholder litigation resulting from M&A, and remains a prominent outfit in Delaware-based proceedings. The firm continues to be prominent in class action, opt-out and institutional investor litigation, and has an impressive track record of negotiating record-breaking settlement deals.

Strengths

"Grant & Eisenhofer is really good. They know everything and keep us up to date."

"The team has very strong litigation skills."

Work highlights Grant & Eisenhofer acted as lead counsel in a securities class action against Peloton alleging that Peloton misled investors regarding the level of demand after the COVID-19 pandemic.

Notable practitioners

Jay Eisenhofer and Daniel Berger are key contacts for the securities litigation group. They are based in the firm's New York office.

Pomerantz LLP

What the team is known for Pomerantz LLP is a highly regarded force on the plaintiff side of securities class actions and shareholder derivative lawsuits. It is known for taking on major corporate issuers and banks in proceedings, often alleging securities fraud. It achieves major settlements for its client base of domestic and international pension funds and investment trusts.

Strengths

"I have high confidence in the firm's ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters. They have a great depth to their team."

"Pomerantz has lots of great attorneys, all of whom are very knowledgeable."

"The lawyers we work with have all shown excellent communication skills and class action knowledge."

Work highlights Pomerantz represented investors in a class action against Deutsche Bank alleging misstatements about the efficiency of its anti-money laundering and 'Know-Your-Customer' controls. The case was settled for $26 million.

Notable practitioners

Jeremy Lieberman is the head of the firm and a key contact for securities disputes. He operates out of the New York office.

Saxena White

What the team is known for Saxena White is a dedicated securities litigation practice with a national footprint. It is garnering increasing recognition for effective representation of institutional investors in securities fraud class actions, as well as proficiency in shareholder litigation.

Work highlights Saxena White acted for Fulton County Employees' Retirement System in a shareholder derivative suit against senior Goldman Sachs figures alleging oversight failures in connection with the Malaysian fund 1MDB. The firm obtained a $79.5 million settlement and corporate governance reforms.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Steven Singer directs the firm's securities litigation practice.

Selendy Gay PLLC

What the team is known for Selendy Gay is a strong performer in a host of securities, business torts and antitrust-related litigation. The team offers considerable prowess acting for institutional investors and banks on the plaintiff side of disputes concerning financial products.

Strengths

"They have a really good bench with really smart and motivated attorneys."

"Strategically, Selendy put us in the best position possible to argue our case and position ourselves for settlement."

Work highlights Selendy Gay secured an $855 million judgment in the New York Supreme Court for Cerberus Capital in a breach of contract case against Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce regarding loans Cerberus provided to CIBC during the 2008 financial crash, which CIBC did not repay.

Notable practitioners

Philippe Selendy is a key contact in the practice and is based in New York.

Securities Regulation Nationwide

Securities: Regulation: Advisory
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
WilmerHale
Band 2
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Covington & Burling LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Martin David Covington & Burling LLP *
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Breheny Brian V. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Cross Meredith B. WilmerHale
Dye Alan L. Hogan Lovells US LLP
Kim Thomas J. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Lane Brian Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Lynn David Goodwin (ORL) ◇ *
White John W. Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP *
Band 2
Brown Lillian WilmerHale
Burke Kerry Covington & Burling LLP *
Dicker Howard Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Drexler Kimberley Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP *
Fox Raquel Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *
Gerber Marc Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Gez Maia White & Case LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Heyliger Adé Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
Ising Elizabeth A. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Knight Jay Barnes & Thornburg LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Mueller Ronald O. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Plesnarski Rob O'Melveny & Myers LLP (ORL) ◇
Snyder Kristin Debevoise & Plimpton LLP *
Zyskowski Lori Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Up-and-coming individuals
Gaines Weston Hogan Lovells
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Bruch Law Group PLLC

What the team is known for Bruch Law Group PLLC is a respected boutique practice specializing in securities enforcement matters. It is particularly noted for its strength in individual representation, and regularly engaged by senior executives on highly consequential SEC enforcement proceedings. Host to a compact, formidable bench of experienced attorneys, whose expertise runs the gamut of securities actions ranging from disclosure and accounting issues to insider trading and FCPA violations.

Work highlights Bruch Law Group PLLC served as the independent consultant following SEC and CFTC settlements with major US financial and commodities trading firms. This included

Securities: Regulation: Enforcement
Leading Firms
Band 1
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
WilmerHale
Band 2
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Band 3
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Dechert LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Milbank LLP
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Band 4
Bruch Law Group PLLC
Covington & Burling LLP
Jones Day
Morvillo Abramowitz Grand Iason & Anello P.C.
Ropes & Gray LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

conducting a review pursuant to the settled SEC order of the electronic communications retention policies and procedures.

Notable practitioners

Gregory Bruch (see p.515) represents individual defendants from large banks and corporate issuers in regulatory investigations covering financial fraud, corruption and improper accounting.

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP is a full-service securities offering with extensive international capabilities, often utilized by global financial institutions and the boards and directors of major public companies. Can field several former SEC regulators and federal prosecutors who are able to advise on all manner of securities enforcement and compliance matters. Areas of expertise include high-frequency trading, virtual currency exchange, swap dealing and cross-border securities activity. Offers a growing practice advising fintech companies on regulatory matters relating to the sale of cryptocurrencies.

Strengths

"The team has exceptional strategic vision."

"The Cleary lawyers are very knowledgeable with great judgment. They are incredibly focused on client service and responsiveness."

"Cleary is very commercial and practical in their advice."

"Cleary has a strong, highly qualified global network."

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP represented the CEO of Ripple in connection with an SEC investigation and enforcement action. The SEC alleged that the digital asset, XRP, was sold as an unregistered security.

Notable practitioners

Matthew Solomon (see p.707) represents public companies, financial institutions, investment funds and individual executives in a whole suite of investigations and enforcement matters brought by the SEC, CFTC and DOJ. Strengths: "Matt is a great oral advocate with a great sense of what arguments will resonate with the court. He has great instincts on how to construct arguments and is excellent at complex work." "He can handle cases from soup to nut."

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP has a distinguished team offering counsel on the full range of securities regulatory matters from SEC reporting and disclosure to public companies' liabilities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Fields experts in issues arising from M&A and capital market transactions as well as enforcement and internal investigations. Deep bench of former senior SEC officials adds impressive credibility in connection with both advisory and enforcement matters. Also sought after for its expertise in corporate governance.

Strengths

"The Covington & Burling team is proactive, practical and provides hands-on advice."

"The team has a strong breadth."

"Covington is a large firm with an excellent bench."

Work highlights Covington & Burling LLP advised Procter & Gamble on SEC reporting, public disclosures, ESG and related corporate and governance activities.

Notable practitioners

David Martin (see p.633) remains an eminent name in the securities regulation area. He advises public companies on corporate governance, corporate finance and regulatory compliance.

Strengths: "He is a terrific legal and commercial partner." Kerry Burke (see p.516) offers global corporations a wealth of expertise in securities regulatory matters and compliance. She provides clients with advice on ESG, public disclosures, corporate governance and SEC reporting.

Strengths: "Kerry has a broad range of expertise in corporate and securities. She is very involved and practical." "Kerry is a phenomenally business-oriented capital markets lawyer. She brings a strong business acumen." Gerald Hodgkins (see p.585) draws upon his extensive experience at the SEC to represent both individual and corporate clients facing major investigations and enforcement proceedings. Strengths: "He is very responsive, asks good questions and is very transparent and thoughtful." "Gerald is really strong."

Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP

What the team is known for Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP is regularly sought out by clients for counsel on accounting and disclosure matters. Offers additional capabilities in SEC enforcement investigations, including FCPA matters and whistle-blower actions. Clients include US public companies and international corporations, finan-

Securities: Regulation: Enforcement
Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Ricciardi Walter G Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton *
Cutler Stephen M Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP	Eminent Practitioners
McKown Joan Jones Day	Warin Joseph Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
McLucas William WilmerHale	White Mary Jo Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Seymour Karen Patton Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *
Canellos George S Milbank LLP	Tuttle Jonathan Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Ceresney Andrew J Debevoise & Plimpton LLP	Band 4
Band 1	Addleman Katherine Haynes and Boone, LLP (ORL) ◇
Avakian Stephanie WilmerHale	Bondi Bradley Paul Hastings LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Johnson Dixie L King & Spalding LLP *	Carman Eva Ciko Ropes & Gray LLP *
Levander Andrew J Dechert LLP	Cottrell Amelia Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *
Peikin Steven R Sullivan & Cromwell LLP *	Crimmins Stephen J Davis Wright Tremaine LLP (ORL) ◇
Band 2	Davison Douglas Linklaters (ORL) ◇ *
Baker III William R Latham & Watkins LLP *	Grime Richard Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Cohen Robert A Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *	Kaplan Robert Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Cohen Stephen Sidley Austin LLP *	Kornblau David Dentons (ORL) ◇
Goldsmith Barry Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP	Moore Bridget Baker Botts L.L.P. (ORL) ◇ *
Lawrence Carmen J King & Spalding LLP *	Zornow David M Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom
Osnato Michael Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP *	Band 5
Reisner Lorin L Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison *	Bandy Anita Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *
Richards III Lee S Perkins Coie LLP (ORL) ◇ *	Beamon Martine Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP *
Solomon Matthew C. Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton *	Callahan Veronica Arnold & Porter (ORL) ◇
Band 3	Davies Christopher WilmerHale
Bruch Gregory S Bruch Law Group PLLC *	Dell Michael Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel (ORL) ◇ *
Goel Asheesh Kirkland & Ellis *	Esmaili Ranah L Sidley Austin LLP *
Gray Elizabeth P Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP *	Gottschall Kurt Haynes and Boone, LLP (ORL) ◇
Hanna Sandra Steptoe LLP (ORL) ◇	Hawke Daniel Arnold & Porter (ORL) ◇
Hodgkins Gerald Covington & Burling LLP *	Indek Ben Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP (ORL) ◇
Karp Brad S Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison *	Magee Jessica Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇
Koch M. Alexander (Alec) King & Spalding LLP *	Morvillo Richard J Seyfarth Shaw LLP (ORL) ◇
Martin Lori WilmerHale	O'Connor Daniel Ropes & Gray LLP *
Meister David Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP	Rubin Brian L Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Rashkover Barry Walden Macht & Haran LLP (ORL) ◇	Schubert Daniel WilmerHale
Riewe Julie Debevoise & Plimpton LLP	Walker Richard King & Spalding LLP
Salehi Nader H Kirkland & Ellis LLP	Weinberg Richard D Morvillo Abramowitz Grand Iason
Schonfeld Mark Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

cial institutions, audit committees and boards of directors.

Strengths

"The firm has a strong and broad team."

"The team gives informed, practical advice that appropriately allows clients to balance and mitigate risks."

"Cravath has tremendously deep knowledge of complex securities reporting matters."

Work highlights Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP reached a settlement for Goldman Sachs Asset Management in an investigation by the SEC's Climate and ESG Task Force into the company's historical policies and procedures.

Notable practitioners

John White (see p.734) is sought after for his expertise in corporate governance, as well as public reporting and securities compliance, and is often a go-to attorney for clients needing crisis management expertise. Strengths: "John is a legend in the securities industry and a deep thinker. He is always available and helpful." Kimberley Drexler (see p.544) is regularly called upon to advise on corporate governance and compliance matters, with clients benefiting from her wealth of expertise in disclosure, financial reporting and transactional issues. Strengths: "She is an outstanding subject matter expert." "Kimberley is very knowledgeable and is great to work with. She isn't afraid to suggest paths of action in difficult situations."

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP houses an impressive enforcement group with a wealth of experience defending clients in securities fraud investigations. Demonstrates prowess in the regulatory space, advising on the full range of compliance and reporting procedures. Particularly expert in Dodd-Frank reforms, including notable expertise in issues related to the Volcker Rule. Also offers insight into cyber-related activity, including cryptocurrency and market manipulations. Represents an enviable roster of major financial institutions and blue-chip public companies, and particularly noted for its roster of broker-dealer clients. Fields an impressive team comprising a number of former high-ranking SEC staffers.

Strengths

"The Davis Polk team has great breadth and good specialization as well."

"A real strength of the firm is its great insights into regulators, business dynamics and practices."

"Davis Polk's team is able to absorb and synthesize complex facts and help translate them into digestible explanations."

"Their work product is really high level and very consistent."

Work highlights Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP advised Apex Fintech Solutions on a new model for retail securities order executions and in seeking exemptive relief from the SEC to facilitate the proposal.

Notable practitioners

Robert Cohen (see p.529) is noted for his representation of major public companies and financial institutions on reporting and accounting issues, financial fraud and other regulatory actions. Strengths: "He expertly marries legal advice, practical judgment and setting client expectations." Martine Beamon (see p.2533) is noted for her adept handling of securities enforcement matters for both corporate and individual clients in complex SEC investigations. Strengths: "Martine takes difficult tasks and achieves outstanding work product. She is wholly invested in her clients' success and incredible with strategy." "Martine is outstanding." "She is an extraordinarily good lawyer."

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP enjoys an outstanding reputation for its handling of the full range of investigatory and enforcement work, with complementary strength in the FCPA and corporate law spaces. The firm demonstrates a broad private equity client base and experience in the asset management space, advising a broad range of investment and hedge funds on SEC enforcement issues. They operate an active practice advising major corporations as well as high-profile employees and senior executives in SEC investigations and related civil securities actions.

Strengths

"The team understands client needs and calibrates its advice."

"Debevoise learns about the client and develops foundational knowledge, which is really beneficial. Their advice is nimble and holistic."

"The firm consistently produces high-quality work and its team has a good bedside manner."

"Debevoise has a deep and rich bench."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton LLP secured a victory for Ripple Labs against the SEC in connection with the legal and regulatory status of its XRP token.

Notable practitioners

Mary Jo White serves as senior chair of the firm, but retains an active practice in securities regulatory enforcement matters. She advises several market-leading clients on all manner of SEC investigations and enforcement actions. Strengths: "She is strategic, practical and a trusted voice in the boardroom." Andrew Ceresney is one of the leaders of the Bar, with an excellent record defending clients against SEC and other regulatory actions. He acts for leading financial clients, as well as corporate issuers and individuals. Strengths: “Andrew is strategically sound, brilliant and he never drops a single ball.” “Andrew is an expert on regulatory enforcement matters.” “He has enormous experience and is a great counselor.” “Andrew is an incredibly effective advocate.”

Kristin Snyder (see p.706) utilizes her years of experience at the SEC to offer valuable insights into regulatory issues facing her corporate clients. Strengths: “She has great judgment and a terrific background.” “Kristin is very good with clients and has great experience.” “Kristin has tremendous credibility with government officials and is very responsive. She is always thinking about how an issue will be seen by the regulator.” “She is very attuned to what the expectations are for regulators and gives very detailed, accurate advice.” Julie Riewe focuses on advising clients through complex enforcement and compliance issues, as well as investigations by the SEC. She regularly acts for funds and asset managers, as well as banks and businesses. Strengths: “Julie’s knowledge base and sophisticated judgment always steers clients to excellent outcomes.” “She helps clients to evaluate what needs to be done, is a forward thinker and really proactive.” “Julie understands the inner workings of a company, how decisions are made and what basis they are made on.” “She is a terrific lawyer.” “Julie is clear in her advice and has an impressive ability to understand complex issues and provide actionable advice.” Jonathan Tuttle is particularly known for his abilities in accounting cases. His expertise also covers a range of SEC matters for wider financial services companies and corporate clients. Strengths: “He has a combination of incredible judgment and knowing how to read the room.” “Jonathan is thoughtful and deeply steeped in regulatory and government investigation issues. He is careful and nuanced.” Robert Kaplan draws on his wealth of previous SEC experience in advising asset management clients on the full suite of SEC regulatory issues, as well as offering extensive enforcement capabilities. Strengths: “Robert is super knowledgeable and on top of everything.” “Rob is an excellent speaker, who presents complex topics in a way that is easy to understand and commands the attention of the room.”

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert LLP is much admired for its strength in matters at the intersection of SEC enforcement and white-collar defense, particularly for senior individuals or independent boards of directors facing regulatory investigations. Often a go-to firm for asset management clients in particular, including investment and mutual funds. Adept at handling alleged insider trading cases. Regularly handles enforcement proceedings and investigations by FINRA and the CFTC, and remains active in FCPA matters.

Strengths

“The firm’s service levels and responsiveness is excellent. The team understands complex issues really well.”
 “The team is incredibly knowledgeable in this area and is very plugged in.”
 “Dechert works closely with clients and takes creative approaches to problems.”

Work highlights Dechert LLP represented Icahn Enterprises in Southern District of New York and SEC investigations stemming from allegations raised by Hindenburg Research in two short sellers reports.

Notable practitioners

Andrew Levander has a formidable reputation across the most complex of criminal, civil and regulatory proceedings. He is highly adept at matters involving allegations of FCPA violations, money laundering and accounting fraud, among others.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP houses a notably deep bench of enforcement lawyers, which also displays unrivaled strength in civil FCPA proceedings. Sought after by clients from a range of industries including technology and manufacturing, in addition to major financial institutions. Houses an impressive roster of regulatory experts who provide advice on securities law, shareholder activism, corporate governance and accounting issues. Expertise also extends to areas such as proxy fights and corporate social responsibility.

Strengths

“The Gibson team is very strong, sophisticated and has broad experience.”

“The team is incredibly skilled and knowledgeable.”

“Gibson’s team thoughtfully plans and structures regulatory responses and has an amazing ability to see the regulator’s perspective.”

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP represented Binance Holdings Limited in a multi-agency government investigation by the DoJ, SEC, CFTC, OFAC and FinCEN into alleged anti-money laundering, bank secrecy and other related violations.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Warin (see p.730) retains his status as a preeminent FCPA expert and a leading choice for clients facing major investigations and enforcement actions from the SEC and other regulatory bodies. Thomas Kim (see p.607) remains a go-to for public companies for corporate governance and finance advice, as well as for advice on SEC filings and reporting. Brian Lane (see p.616) advises leading public companies and private equity firms on their most complex securities regulatory matters. He draws on significant experience in accounting practices, disclosure issues and general corporate governance concerns.

Strengths: “Brian is extraordinarily knowledgeable.” Barry Goldsmith has impressive experience representing clients in high-stakes enforcement matters, particularly before the SEC, DOJ and FINRA. He regularly acts for public companies, private equity sponsors and financial institutions.

Elizabeth Ising (see p.593) is a well-known expert on the advisory side, and frequently advises leading companies on areas such as shareholder activism and corporate governance. Strengths: “Elizabeth has a great practice.” Ronald Mueller (see p.648) is a highly sought-out adviser on regulatory matters involving corporate governance, disclosure and executive compensation. Lori Zyskowski (see p.743) is a talented adviser to corporations seeking guidance on securities regulation issues, including corporate governance and ESG matters. Strengths: “She is excellent.” Mark Schonfeld (see p.693) cochairs the firm’s securities enforcement group and regularly acts for financial institutions, public companies and investment funds facing SEC investigations and enforcement actions. Strengths: “Mark has a deep understanding of regulatory interactions and priorities and efficiently steers complex matters towards good outcomes.” “He is very commercially aware and listens to clients’ objectives.” Richard Grime (see p.574) offers extensive skills in the FCPA and wider anticorruption space, as well as accounting fraud concerns. He regularly acts for clients before the SEC and DOJ. Strengths: “Richard is very well networked. He is a practical, client-friendly and trusted adviser.”

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells is notably adept at advising a broad range of public companies and their senior executives on current regulation and reform in the securities law space. Frequently sought after for counsel on public disclosure and shareholder proposal responses, as well as Dodd-Frank and FCPA-related matters. Draws on a strong bench to provide expert support to clients in areas such as Section 16. Also called upon to handle SEC enforcement actions and parallel government investigations.

Strengths

“Hogan Lovells is always responsive and ready to jump to action.”

“It is clear Hogan has world-class attorneys with deep knowledge of their subject matter areas.”

“The Hogan Lovells team is always up to speed on the latest in the SEC world. They always provide practical guidance.”

“The team is sophisticated and technically strong.”

“Hogan lawyers are proactive in providing advice.”

Work highlights Hogan Lovells advised Public Storage on the SEC financial reporting and disclosure considerations for its $2.2 billion acquisition of Simply Self Storage from Blackstone Real Estate Income Trust.

Notable practitioners

Alan Dye is the go-to authority on Section 16 reporting, while also advising leading corporations and boards on wide-ranging securities compliance and disclosure matters. Strengths: “He is the national expert on Section 16 and represents the best of the best.” “Alan is incredible.” “He is the preeminent Section 16 lawyer.” “Alan is top of the market.” Weston Gaines guides public company clients through regulatory issues with the SEC, providing advice on corporate governance, securities law compliance and SEC reporting. Strengths: “Weston provides strong, sound advice.”

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day offers demonstrable strength in SEC enforcement matters, with a talented roster of senior former government lawyers. It frequently advises a range of market-leading clients, including major banks, global corporations and high-ranking individuals. It has expertise across a wide range of regulatory issues, with vast experience in enforcement actions and investigations involving the FCPA, accounting issues and insider trading.

Strengths

"Jones Day is extremely practical. The team can speak to business people in a language that makes sense to them."

"The team is very effective in its advocacy and intellectual application of the law."

"All the lawyers at Jones Day deliver work product that is thoughtful, creative and based on rigorous work."

Work highlights Jones Day represented the former CEO of Rio Tinto, Tom Albanese, in a Rule 10b-5 securities fraud case brought by the SEC.

Notable practitioners

Joan McKown brings excellent governmental experience to bear when representing clients in high-stakes SEC investigations and enforcement matters, including insider trading and financial fraud claims.

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP has a strong bench of go-to enforcement attorneys with notable regulatory capabilities. Fields a number of experts on federal securities law who are well versed in proceedings before the DOJ, SEC, FINRA and CFTC. Offers a notably broad practice, with strengths in the handling of whistle-blower retaliation investigations, accountancy fraud and the representation of credit rating agencies. Frequently acts for financial institutions, multinational corporations and senior executives.

Strengths

"The firm is resourceful, responsive and attentive to client needs."

"King & Spalding provides outstanding service."

"It is a very knowledgeable team with relevant depth and breadth. They are extremely strong."

"The King & Spalding team understands how legal implications impact business."

Work highlights King & Spalding LLP represented Philip Jacoby, the former CFO of Osiris, in a civil securities fraud action in the District of Maryland. The lawsuit included allegations of accounting and disclosure violations.

Notable practitioners

Dixie Johnson (see p.597) is a respected regulatory practitioner who regularly handles enforcement actions by the DOJ and SEC on behalf of clients such as asset managers, banks and public companies. Strengths: "She is incredibly responsive and diligent." "Dixie is authoritative on the law and takes control of situations to do right by the client." "She brings with her extensive regulatory and agency knowledge." Carmen Lawrence (see p.618) represents public companies and investment advisers in SEC inquiries and internal investigations. She is particularly strong on accounting and disclosure, as well as MBS-related matters. Strengths: "Carmen is amazing." "She is a real force in front of a board." Alexander Koch (see p.611) is coleader of the firm's securities enforcement and regulation practice. He handles sensitive SEC investigations for clients ranging from huge public companies in the life sciences sector to large accounting firms. He is well versed in whistle-blower retaliation matters, as well as accounting fraud and corruption. Strengths:

"Alec has tremendous judgment and analytical skills." "Alec is wonderful." Richard Walker draws upon impressive in-house and governmental experience to represent major corporate clients in connection with a range of enforcement proceedings and SEC investigations.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis provides significant global corporations and financial institutions with representation in connection to high-stakes SEC enforcement proceedings. The team is experienced in tackling challenging international work, with valuable expertise in handling matters in Africa, Europe and Asia. It assists its clients with a wide array of alleged securities violations, including market manipulation, bribery, FCPA, insider trading and accounting fraud.

Strengths

"The team provides holistic advice and their service is great."

"The Kirkland & Ellis team showcases their experience in this area through their partners who have worked both in the SEC and DOJ."

"The partners are very hands-on with very strong subject matter expertise."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis represented Charter Communications in a multi-year investigation by the SEC's Division of Enforcement regarding Charter's Rule 10b5-1 share repurchase plans.

Notable practitioners

Asheesh Goel (see p.1726) coleads the firm's government and internal investigations group. Draws upon impressive government experience to represent clients in SEC investigations and enforcement matters. Offers additional strength in insider trading and FCPA matters. Strengths: "Asheesh is a very strong practitioner." Nader Salehi is highly regarded for his representation of broker-dealers in SEC and FINRA regulatory actions. He is also a go-to for sensitive internal investigations. Strengths: "Nader is excellent, he provides in-depth practical advice and great overall client engagement." "Nader is a fantastic lawyer."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP has far-reaching credibility in the securities space thanks to the strength of its lawyers on both coasts and the breadth of its global office network. Able to service clients based in multiple jurisdictions facing high-profile SEC investigations or enforcement actions. Represents investment banks, public companies and accounting firms. Known for its expertise in FCPA investigations and capital markets regulation.

Strengths

"Latham's team is very experienced and adept at handling complex matters. They are always looking for solutions."

"The team shows strong business and commercial awareness."

"The firm has an incredible team."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP represented the founder of Binance in connection with enforcement actions by the DoJ, SEC and CFTC regarding alleged violations of registration and compliance provisions under the Bank Secrecy

Act, Commodity Exchange Act and US securities laws.

Notable practitioners

William Baker (see p.496) assists clients with a host of SEC-related mandates. He regularly defends against enforcement proceedings, particularly around issues of disclosure and corruption.

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank LLP is a major player in securities regulatory enforcement matters, with a large share of the market in mandates involving major accounting firms and financial institutions. Also regularly represents broker-dealers, mutual funds and investment advisers. Handles investigations brought by diverse regulators, including the SEC and FINRA, covering issues such as FCPA violations, insider trading and market manipulation.

Notable practitioners

George Canellos is lauded by market commentators for his top-end work in SEC enforcement. He handles major regulatory investigations for investment funds, banks and accounting firms, as well as high-ranking executives. Strengths: "He is simply outstanding." "He is a very smart, talented guy."

Morville Abramowitz Grand Iason & Anello P.C.

What the team is known for Morville Abramowitz Grand Iason & Anello P.C. is an impressive boutique with deep capabilities in white-collar matters, as well as an active practice in regulatory investigations and enforcement actions. Particularly prominent before the SEC, while also handling proceedings involving FINRA, the CFTC and international regulators. Represents a number of high-ranking individuals, as well as corporate clients, broker-dealers and asset management firms. Demonstrates notable strength in FCPA and insider trading matters.

Work highlights Morville Abramowitz Grand Iason & Anello P.C. represented Robert Alexander, the founder and president of an online gaming company, against allegations of securities fraud stemming from his alleged participation in a scheme to defraud investors.

Notable practitioners

Richard Weinberg handles various securities enforcement matters involving the CFTC, SEC and DOJ, and is an expert on matters such as options trading.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP is sought after by financial institutions needing regulatory and compliance advice thanks to its familiarity with a host of government agency and regulatory enforcement proceedings. Often called upon by major foreign banks to handle multi-regulator cross-border enforcement actions. Also handles significant matters for public company clients, including both domestic and foreign companies across several industries. Works on the full range of SEC proceedings, including accounting investigations, and fields an impressive roster of former SEC employees. Client base increasingly includes asset and investment managers facing regulatory proceedings.

Strengths

"The Paul Weiss team provides sophisticated legal advice and is terrific at spotting issues."

"Paul Weiss attorneys are very commercial in determining how best to handle a matter. They are extremely result-oriented and consistently identify creative and effective paths to success."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP represented Guy Elliott in successfully limiting the scope of scheme liability claims under SEC Rules 10b-5(a) and (c), relating to the Rio Tinto litigation.

Notable practitioners

Walter Ricciardi (see p.679) is highly skilled at acting for banking and accounting clients, as well as international corporations. He handles enforcement actions and investigations by bodies such as the SEC and CFTC into market manipulation allegations, among others. Lorin Reisner (see p.2643) is known for his excellent representation of clients in matters before the SEC. He represents large corporations, as well as private equity firms and asset managers, in insider trading, accounting and disclosure matters. Strengths: "Lorin is a terrific lawyer with great judgment. His recommendations are thoughtful and balanced." "Lorin is really talented." Brad Karp (see p.2598) maintains a strong reputation in the market for his work across high-stakes civil, criminal and regulatory matters. He is highly adept at SEC enforcement, handling sensitive investigations and proceedings for major banks, investment funds, companies and executives. Strengths: "Brad is an exceptional lawyer in all respects. He is a thoughtful, effective and sophisticated advocate."

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray LLP houses a highly capable team with impressive strength in the representation of private equity firms in SEC investigations and enforcement proceedings. Also acts for mutual funds, hedge funds and financial institutions in matters relating to disclosure and trading. Often represents large corporations in the technology and life sciences space. It boasts a well-regarded advisory practice, working with investment advisers, private equity firms and hedge funds in relation to SEC filings, securities offerings and corporate governance.

Strengths

"The team is practical, commercial and strikes a good balance providing practical regulatory legal advice."

"The firm is outstanding with its command of the facts, understanding of the legal issues and strategy."

"The team's sharp analytical skills and exceptional ability to strategize and find innovative solutions offers clarity and guidance in even the most complex cases."

"Ropes & Gray's team is smart, organized and communicative and they deliver well-rounded advice."

"Ropes has a strong bench and the team anticipates client needs."

Notable practitioners

Eva Ciko Carman (see p.520) handles SEC examinations and investigations on issues ranging from insider trading to accounting fraud. She regularly handles matters for leading asset management firms and investment funds. Strengths: "Eva provides terrific guidance for clients navigating SEC and DoJ matters. She is a really great counselor." "She is a very good lawyer, she thinks creatively with fresh approaches." Daniel O'Connor (see p.656) regularly guides his clients, including public companies, private equity firms and asset managers, through SEC and internal investigations on issues ranging from accounting and disclosure concerns to insider trading allegations. Strengths: "Dan provides very thorough and meticulous work."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP is an impressive performer in the regulatory enforcement space thanks to its attorneys' in-depth knowledge of regulators and government agencies, while also impressing in the advisory space. Active on behalf of hedge funds and accounting firms on a broad range of matters including insider trading cases. Particular expertise in handling FINRA and SEC investigations for broker-dealers and other financial institutions. Offers expert representation of public companies in enforcement actions and investigations concerning accounting irregularities, whistle-blowing and other issues. Often involved in matters with complex multijurisdictional elements.

Strengths

"The firm provides holistic advice and brings encyclopedic, in-depth and current knowledge of the thinking of securities regulators."

"Their powerhouse team is stacked with former SEC attorneys and other experts that have seen so many large cases in this area."

"There are many experienced lawyers on the team who assist with a wide variety of matters and issues. Their service level is outstanding."

"The team continuously demonstrates an extremely deep understanding of complex and inter-related issues."

"Sidley offers extremely valuable and technical knowledge."

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP negotiated a favorable outcome for McDonald's in an SEC investigation into disclosures it made following the employment termination of Steve Easterbrook.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Cohen (see p.529) has wide-reaching capabilities in regulatory enforcement. He is highly effective in representing asset managers and public companies before the SEC in disclosure and reporting matters, as well as in FCPA issues. Strengths: "Stephen is an outstanding lawyer and is highly commercially aware." "He is responsive and has strong relationships with attorneys at all levels of the SEC." "Stephen is an expert in this area and a zealous advocate for his clients." "His experience and acumen is always on-point."

Ranah Esmaili (see p.548) brings extensive experience to her practice assisting corporate clients in securities enforcement actions. Her experience includes insider trading, SPAC litigations and regulatory sweeps. Strengths: "Ranah is an outstanding lawyer and highly commercially aware." "She has an excellent SEC background." "Ranah is able to see around corners and she understands what companies are looking for and what their objectives are." "Ranah very much understands the need to tailor solutions to client needs."

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP is a highly rated team that comprises a number of very prominent practitioners with impressive government experience. Demonstrates extensive strength in SEC investigations and enforcement proceedings. Acts for major financial institutions, asset managers, and big-name corporations in matters related to disclosure, accounting practices and whistle-blowers.

Strengths

"Simpson Thacher & Bartlett is really strong."

"The firm has a good bench."

"The team has really strong judgment and is very strategic and responsive. They are also very connected to securities regulators."

Work highlights Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP represented JPMorgan in a record-keeping investigation and resolution with the SEC following the inadvertent deletion of tens of millions of emails.

Notable practitioners

Stephen Cutler brings impressive government and in-house experience to his practice, which sees him handle complex regulatory enforcement actions, as well as internal investigations for major financial institutions and public companies.

Strengths: "Stephen is really strong and has great experience." Michael Osnato (see p.659) specializes in complex SEC regulatory matters and is particularly noted for his handling of investigations and enforcement actions involving financial products. Strengths: "He is a very sophisticated and strong lawyer who deals with difficult and complex regulations."

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates covers all the bases for major corporate clients and financial institutions, including enforcement defense. Handles SEC investigations and provides SEC reporting and compliance advice to companies from a broad array of industries, including banking and pharmaceuticals. Also advises clients on the regulatory compliance aspects of mergers and acquisitions. Regarded as one of the leaders in CFTC enforcement actions and investigations. Houses an impressive roster of former federal law enforcement officials.

Strengths

"Skadden is a great team of former government officials that provides on-point advice for interacting with the regulators."

"The team has an ability to navigate and advise on complex issues."

"Skadden's team is practical, pragmatic and deeply knowledgeable. They are remarkably responsive and timely."

"The firm has a variety of very sophisticated attorneys proficient in the most complex of legal matters.”

Notable practitioners

Brian Breheny (see p.512) is held in high esteem for his work in corporate governance. He advises major public companies on SEC compliance matters, and often counsels on the regulatory components of M&A. Strengths: “Brian is seasoned and his background allows clients to get a good perspective about how regulators think about the issues.” “He has a depth of experience and has seen everything.” “Brian is one of the best securities lawyers in the country.” Raquel Fox (see p.557) is experienced in assisting companies with matters including SEC reporting, initial public offerings, mergers, corporate governance and SPAC transactions. Strengths: “Raquel is really good.” “Raquel is really practical, has great experience and anticipates issues before they happen.” Marc Gerber (see p.564) advises major public companies on corporate governance matters, and is also well versed in shareholder proposals, proxy statements and disclosure concerns. Strengths: “He is a trusted partner, subject matter expert and is incredibly responsive.” “He is deeply knowledgeable, practical, pragmatic and solutions-oriented.” “Marc is always very responsive and helpful with ad hoc questions.” David Meister is particularly highlighted for his leading practice in CFTC enforcement actions and investigations. He also regularly acts on FINRA and SEC actions, representing leading public companies, investment banks and broker-dealers. Strengths: “David has such wisdom and experience.” “David’s experience at the CFTC and DOJ results in clear and practical advice for clients.” “He is so consistent and has a strategic mind.” David Zornow boasts notable expertise in white-collar criminal defense proceedings and wider regulatory mandates. He is highly adept at defending clients against SEC and DOJ actions arising from allegations of accounting fraud and FCPA violations, among others. Anita Bandy (see p.496) is recommended for her guidance on SEC and DOJ enforcement matters for an array of clients, including financial services companies and corporations. Strengths: “She is super knowledgeable with unique insights into how to deal with the SEC.” “Her background presents an extraordinary understanding of the SEC. She is an incredible resource.” “Anita is really strong. She is smart and has a broad range of experience.”

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP is frequently called upon by major financial institutions, investment firms, credit rating agencies and fintech companies to handle regulatory matters and enforcement proceedings, including disclosure and accounting fraud actions. Notable experience in front of US and international financial regulators, including the SEC, CFTC and DOJ. Often conducts sensitive internal investigations as well as major regulatory actions on behalf of international corporations.

Strengths

“The firm is extremely helpful, mobilizes quickly and knows how to position arguments.” “The Sullivan & Cromwell team is proactive, very good at coordination and great at having focused discussions on key issues. They consistently provide clear and actionable advice on litigation matters.”

“The team is always clear in its judgments.”

“The firm operates at a very prominent and high-profile level.”

Work highlights Sullivan & Cromwell LLP represented Coinbase in SEC litigation and state securities proceedings charging that the company operated as an unregistered securities exchange, broker dealer and clearing firm and offered crypto staking services that are unregistered securities.

Notable practitioners

Former co-director of SEC Enforcement Steven Peikin (see p.2633) represents companies, lending platforms, hedge funds and financial institutions facing a range of high-stakes securities enforcement proceedings. Strengths: “He has a really effective way of getting results.” Karen Patton Seymour (see p.698) is a respected practitioner with extensive experience advising and representing clients in the securities space. Her particular focus is financial services regulation. Strengths: “Karen is a seasoned hand in securities enforcement.”

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP houses a respected advisory practice hosting a strong bench of recognized specialists in disclosure, compliance and corporate governance. Advises on the securities regulatory aspects of significant business combinations, IPOs and restructurings. Clients include numerous public companies, investment management firms and high-ranking executives.

Strengths

“Weil’s team is well informed on new SEC regulations and the industry. They ensure that clients are well versed, compliant and able to make decisions quickly.”

Work highlights Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP advised Cedar Fair on the governance and disclosure aspects of its merger with Six Flags Entertainment.

Notable practitioners

Howard Dicker (see p.541) is sought after by clients for his advisory work on the full range of securities compliance. He primarily advises public companies, often in the utilities and energy space, on matters such as disclosure, reporting and corporate governance. Strengths: “Howard has the facts at his fingertips and is very impressive.” Adé Heyliger (see p.584) is a seasoned counselor to public companies and corporate boards on a range of topics including M&A compliance, corporate governance and shareholder activism. Strengths: “He is an expert in the area, having spent time at the SEC, which gives him background knowledge of the industry. He is fantastic.” “Adé is fantastic. He is plugged in and has broad experience. He is easy to work with and super knowledgeable.” “Adé is a good practitioner and knows his stuff.”

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP has a respected group of regulatory lawyers catering to asset management and financial services clients facing securities litigations, enforcement actions and investigative proceedings. Offers specialist expertise in accounting and disclosure issues as well as financial fraud. Regularly works with asset managers, corporations and broker-dealers, and has a proven track record of defending senior employees including executives, hedge fund principals and traders under investigation by the SEC.

Strengths

“The firm is commercial in its guidance in the rapidly evolving regulatory environment.”

“The securities regulatory team analyzes issues how a regulator would and provides confident advice that clients can use.”

“Willkie has depth and expertise in handling these matters.”

“The Willkie team brings the necessary intelligence, sophistication, and experience to handle complex matters.”

“The partners are incredibly knowledgeable of the issues and fully understand the regulators perspective.”

Work highlights Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP represented The Options Clearing Corporation in a second set of SEC and CFTC investigations into its compliance with its SEC-approved stress testing and clearing fund methodology rules.

Notable practitioners

Elizabeth Gray (see p.572) wins plaudits from clients for her work in enforcement matters before the SEC, CFTC and other bodies. She acts for leading broker-dealers, investment advisers and funds. Strengths: “Elizabeth is a senior attorney who brings value for the client and is dedicated to getting the best result possible.” Amelia Cottrell (see p.532) frequently acts on behalf of individual clients in high-stakes SEC investigations. She is also sought by companies for her representation in a range of securities enforcement proceedings. Strengths: “Amelia is a wonderful lawyer.”

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale is a market-leading practice in the securities regulatory space, representing top-tier clients on everything from high-stakes enforcement proceedings to day-to-day compliance and corporate governance. Houses a deep bench of former SEC and government agency officials well equipped to counsel financial institutions, accounting firms and major corporates on all manner of investigations and compliance matters. Able to handle large, cross-border investigations, drawing on notable experience in working with foreign regulators. Particularly adept at handling enforcement actions for high-profile investment managers.

Strengths

“WilmerHale is exceptional and has a really strong bench in the SEC enforcement space.”

“The firm practices at the gold standard in the investigations space and brings expertise on niche topics.”

“The team provides both substantive and strategic advice and is always client-focused.”

“The firm brings practical perspectives and experience.”

Work highlights WilmerHale represented the former CEO of Alameda Research, Caroline Ellison, in connection with a criminal investigation by the US Attorney’s Office for the Southern District of New York and investigations by the SEC and CFTC into the collapse of FTX, Alameda Research and Sam Bankman-Fried.

Notable practitioners

William McLucas receives plaudits for his expert handling of SEC enforcement actions and investigations. He regularly acts for major public companies, as well as leading banks and mutual funds. As former co-director of the SEC's Division of Enforcement, Stephanie Avakian offers notable expertise to private clients involved in a diverse array of securities enforcement matters.

Strengths: "She brings her strong relationships and experience to bear in high-stakes matters."

"Her work ethic and vision is valuable." "Stephanie brings a ton of knowledge about how the SEC operates." "She is a very strong individual and leader in this space."

Meredith Cross advises a range of public company clients on corporate finance and corporate governance issues involving SEC regulations. Strengths: "She is the go-to for hard questions and there is no substitute for the depth of experience and judgment that she brings to the table." "Meredith is very experienced."

Lillian Brown is very well regarded for advising public companies on matters such as SEC reporting and disclosure, as well as corporate governance mandates. Lori Martin is highly respected for her work representing asset managers and investment funds in regulatory proceedings. Strengths: "Lori is extremely knowledgeable and a very thoughtful, service-oriented lawyer." "Lori is incredibly accessible and knowledgeable. She is willing to pivot and her advocacy is phenomenal."

Christopher Davies specializes in handling large, multijurisdictional regulatory proceedings and investigations. He frequently acts for major accounting firms and public companies before the SEC, DOJ and foreign regulators. Strengths: "Christopher has the right touch, analysis and brains. He is exceptional." "He is insightful, commercial and a brilliant litigation strategist." "He is a very strong practitioner." Daniel Schubert is noted for his experience representing both the financial services and accounting sectors as well as institutions and individuals in complex SEC investigations and enforcement matters. Strengths: "Daniel is so experienced, incredibly smart and always delivers under the most challenging of circumstances."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Katherine Addleman of Haynes and Boone, LLP is held in high regard for her representation of public companies, broker-dealers and investment managers in SEC enforcement actions related to accounting, disclosure and financial fraud. Strengths: "Kit is very experienced and extremely knowledgeable on SEC matters and SEC regulations." "She is outstanding." "Kit is very successful in arguing cases with great strategy." "She always offers up-to-date insights." "Kit is an excellent attorney who is always available to her clients."

Bradley Bondi (see p.509) of Paul Hastings LLP has a strong track record in the representation of both high-ranking executives and major public companies in SEC enforcement proceedings. He offers particular expertise in fraud-related cases. Strengths: "He has an extraordinary ability to combine intelligence with practicality." "Bradley provides both knowledge and insight to help get to the best decision." "He is an amazing attorney and litigator." "Brad's commitment to his clients is legendary."

Veronica Callahan of Arnold & Porter comes recommended for her expert SEC practice, which includes advising on internal investigations, enforcement proceedings and related securities class actions. She is a fine choice of counsel for a broad roster of financial services entities.

Stephen Crimmins of Davis Wright Tremaine LLP handles complex and sensitive SEC enforcement actions and investigations on behalf of public companies and broker-dealers. He offers significant strength in financial fraud and accounting issues. Strengths: "Stephen is outstanding." "Steven is a great lawyer and an insightful team member."

Douglas Davison (see p.538) of Linklaters represents clients in regulatory actions conducted by bodies such as the SEC, DOJ and CFTC. He offers strength in insider trading, financial fraud and FCPA matters, and is particularly adept at handling cross-border investigations. Strengths: "Douglas is a terrific lawyer." "He is involved in cutting-edge issues."

Michael Dell (see p.2558) of Kramer Levin Naf-talis & Frankel LLP is a solid choice for auditors and accounting firms on actions by the SEC and PCAOB, as well as equivalent foreign regulators in cross-border proceedings. Strengths: "Michael is a masterful lawyer. He is incredibly experienced and extremely sharp in recognizing risk and responding." "Michael is an incredibly talented lawyer."

Maia Gez (see p.565) of White & Case LLP offers expert securities advice to large corporates. She assists clients in a range of industries and is familiar with cross-border complexities. Strengths: "Maia is extremely client-focused, knowledgeable and technically sound." "She is always accessible and very knowledgeable." "She has a straightforward and practical approach." "Maia is a brilliant lawyer. She is very personable and she focuses on getting to a practical solution."

Kurt Gottschall of Haynes and Boone, LLP is especially noted for his sophisticated handling of regulatory enforcement matters across a broad range of industries. Strengths: "Kurt is super smart."

Sandra Hanna of Miller & Chevalier Chartered focuses her practice on SEC enforcement work, covering the gamut of issues from financial reporting to FCPA and insider trading. Strengths: "Sandra is really good at understanding the law. She is engaged and connected." "Sandra routinely handles sophisticated and complex matters." "Sandra has deep knowledge of her clients' industry and regulatory environments. She provides strong advice on a host of topics." "Sandra has her ear to the ground with what's going on in the enforcement landscape. She also has a strong ability to connect with clients."

Daniel Hawke of Arnold & Porter brings extensive experience to bear in his representation of senior executives, public companies and financial institutions on a range of regulatory enforcement proceedings. Strengths: "Clients are always very happy with the results he produces."

Ben Indek of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP focuses his practice on the representation of broker-dealers, and frequently handles large-scale investigations brought by FINRA and the SEC. Strengths: "Ben is an excellent lawyer."

Jay Knight (see p.610) is cochair of Barnes & Thornburg LLP's securities and capital markets practice group. He advises large corporations on a broad range of regulatory matters, including reporting compliance and governance issues. Strengths: "Jay is thoughtful and smart." "Jay is an experienced securities lawyer." "He combines very deep knowledge of securities laws with an understanding and attention to the practical needs of public companies."

David Kornblau of Dentons is well known for his expert SEC enforcement work, which sees him act for clients such as investment banks, asset managers and broker-dealers. Strengths: "David is a terrific lawyer." "David can distil complex topics into understandable terms and he is very responsive."

David Lynn (see p.628) of Goodwin advises a range of companies and financial institutions on disclosure, compliance and wider SEC issues, and is highly adept in corporate finance. Strengths: "He is an exceptional attorney."

Jessica Magee of Holland & Knight LLP is recommended for her strong representation of clients in regulatory enforcement actions at the SEC. She serves as chair of the firm's securities enforcement defense team. Strengths: "Jessica is exceptional." "She is very smart with great judgment."

Bridget Moore (see p.646) of Baker Botts L.L.P. is a fine choice for public company clients on SEC investigations involving a range of issues, including concerns relating to disclosures and auditing and whistle-blower allegations. Strengths: "She has really sophisticated analysis and practical advice for clients in complex issues." "She is a terrific lawyer." "Bridget is very strong. She is very capable and bright." "She really masters the facts and guides clients through SEC personalities and policies."

Richard Morvillo of Seyfarth Shaw LLP is a versatile white-collar lawyer and regularly handles SEC and DOJ investigations into public companies, accounting firms, asset managers and leading executives.

Rob Plesnarski of O'Melveny & Myers LLP offers an impressively broad securities advisory practice. He advises corporate issuers, financial institutions and investment funds on areas such as Dodd-Frank reforms.

Barry Rashkover of Walden Macht & Haran LLP handles a wide range of regulatory enforcement matters, with particular expertise in acting for public company clients and broker-dealers. Strengths: "Barry is extremely bright and practical, very organized and very familiar with staff and requirements of the SEC." "He is excellent."

Lee Richards (see p.2643) of Perkins Coie LLP is recognized for his capabilities in regulatory and criminal law, and has significant experience before the SEC, FINRA and DOJ. Strengths: "He has years of experience and a really nice touch." "Lee is excellent." "He is a great litigator."

Brian Rubin (see p.685) of Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP offers extensive experience in SEC and FINRA enforcement proceedings. His clients include several notable banks, broker-dealers and insurance companies. Strengths: "Brian is practical and insightful. He has deep knowledge and great judgment." "He is balanced and measured with well-reasoned guidance." "Brian has a very good bedside manner. He has a really deep understanding of case law and helps clients to frame and understand their issues."

NATIONWIDE: An Introduction to Sports Law

Contributed by Herrick, Feinstein LLP

Set forth below is an overview of current considerations, trends and evolving legal issues that are at the forefront of the sports industry.

Access to Capital

Generally, there has been a great deal of competition for lending deals in the sports space. There has also been a proliferation of private equity investments in minority interests in professional teams. These options, among others, help a team to bolster its balance sheet and provide liquidity. The NFL has the most restrictive rules for team ownership in professional sports. These rules ban private equity investments, public corporations or sovereign wealth funds from owning any shares in the league and its teams. With growing valuations of NFL teams, there may be a barrier to continued growth if the ban on institutional capital remains. Further, certain professional sports leagues are considering placing a limit on the total number of team owners. Private equity has also been involved in the investment in additional assets, such as the real estate surrounding the teams, including stadiums and arenas as well as entertainment districts. Investments in these properties are often done along with teams in public-private partnerships. There have been reports that private equity firms are engaging with college sports as a potential vehicle for new investment opportunities.

Sports Betting

Sports betting is part of popular sports culture and many states have passed, and are continuing to pass, legislation to legalise sports betting in varying forms. Such forms include mobile sports betting with multiple sportsbooks options, one mobile betting option, in-person online betting (ie, proximity to brick-and-mortar sportsbooks) and only physical sportsbooks. Some states restrict sports betting to only in-person betting, while others allow both in-person and mobile betting options. There has been a shift emerging in sports betting with the rise in Artificial Intelligence (AI). Centered on predictive analytics, companies are using AI to analyze historical data, player statistics and many other data points to identify patterns and determine game outcomes. Currently, almost 40 states permit sports betting in some form, with over half of states allowing mobile betting. There is significant growth in sports betting in the US year-over-year, in part due to the proliferation of online sports books. Mobile wagering apps allow gamblers to bet not just on the outcome of a game, but also a number of metrics such as specific events within the game and players' performances.

Name, Image and Likeness

The rights of college athletes to be able to financially exploit their own name, image and likeness (NIL) experienced a groundbreaking moment in 2021. This occurred when some new state laws and National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) rule changes provided such athletes, for the first time, with the right to profit by licensing their NIL rights. In the past, NCAA rules prohibited college athletes from accepting any such compensation as a condition of being able to compete as an "amateur". As these rights develop, allowing college athletes to monetise their success, a new world of sponsorship opportunities will open up from endorsements, custom apparel, releasing NFTs, personal appearances and sponsored content on social media. This has led to the formation and growth of entities known as "collectives" that exist to generate and pool revenue for use in NIL opportunities.

The ability of college athletes to monetise their NIL has also provided new opportunities for women athletes, in particular NCAA women's basketball, which is one of the top sports in generating NIL revenue. As time has passed, a landslide of enactment of NIL laws at the state level has continued. The potential collision between state laws, which have expanded on permitted NIL activities and the NCAA has led some to call for federal regulation to provide an NIL framework.

College Athlete Unionisation

A development in its nascent stage is whether college athletes have the right to unionise. A college basketball team recently voted for unionisation with a service employee union. This unionisation vote opens the door for the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) to decide whether college athletes can form a union under the National Labor Relations Act. The election took place after a regional NLRB director determined in February 2024 that the basketball players are employees. Notwithstanding that the basketball players were not eligible for scholarships, the director found that the players were given equipment, apparel and an early notice about financial aid, all of which were considered to be forms of compensation. The college has submitted a request for review of the decision to the NLRB.

Non-Fungible Tokens

Non-fungible tokens, or NFTs, are unique digital assets that use blockchain technology to record ownership. Each NFT has a unique identifier that is recorded on a blockchain database, which acts as a public ledger to verify ownership and transfers. In sports, NFTs have been created for the ownership of video clips, highlights, images of iconic moments and player trading cards. NFTs also provide teams and leagues with additional opportunities to further enhance relationships with fans and allow for real-world applications beyond investment. For example, holders of NFTs may be granted special in-person experiences or discounts on merchandise. NFTs also provide athletes with ways to reach a broad consumer base with their own licensed NFTs, such as athlete designed artwork or images. Players have paired the sale of their own NFTs with the opportunity to meet them in person and attend games. The ability of athletes to continue marketing their own individual NFTs may become a point of discussion with leagues and teams going forward.

The NFT market poses risks for both investors and creators. Little regulation currently exists, and it remains to be seen how regulatory authorities will look to assert control over the market. Further, investing in NFTs is speculative in nature with limited historical information to make informed decisions. Valuations, based heavily on demand and scarcity, has fluctuated and the ability of others to create new NFTs poses a risk for value retention. The developing security and valuation issues in the broader cryptocurrency market may also cause teams, leagues and other players to reassess their use of NFT, given crypto's status as a common currency for NFT purchases and the overlapping use of blockchain technology in both crypto and NFTs.

Women In Sport

The evolution of the sports business landscape has created new opportunities for women athletes as well as for women's sports generally. While NIL opportunities have been beneficial for women collegiate athletes, NIL collectives have not fully supported women's sports. In 2022, the WNBA, a high-profile professional women's athletic league, completed one of the largest-ever capital raises for a women's sports property. The ongoing competition for sports programming has also created openings for women's sports content. The Women's Sports Network, a streaming service which debuted in 2022, provides continuous coverage of female athletes on and off the field, with original programming, live sporting events, competitions and studio shows modeled after ESPN's SportsCenter. Equal pay for female athletes remains a major challenge in women's sports.

Industry Trends

Team valuations continue in an upward trajectory resulting in an ever-shrinking pool of individual qualified buyers. Key drivers of team valuation growth include:

- the limited number of sports teams;
- sports teams being viewed as "trophy assets";
- as discussed further below, increased distribution outlets for sports programming; and
- sporting events being the last bastion of must-see live video programming.

Certain US-based leagues have modified ownership regulations to allow new investment opportunities such as multiple party ownership, private equity portfolio fund investments, sovereign wealth and pension funds, family offices, foreign team investments and minor league opportunities. Succession planning in team ownership has become a critical issue, particularly in the NFL. In addition, sports and entertainment venues have, in recent years, paired with and become integral components of mixed-use development projects. Another industry trend has been a rise in streaming services resulting in new ways of viewing sports programming, new industries entering the streaming market and new methods of consuming sports content. This has also caused an increase in competition among the wide selection of streaming platforms.

Sports teams and leagues are working to maximise revenue streams, mine data and provide novel services from increased streaming of programming, which could lead to virtual and interactive technology. There has been an increase in focus and availability in fan engagement technology including virtual reality and augmented reality experiences. The use of AI has become pivotal in the sports world in everything from sports wagering, to more sophisticated training programs to fan experience and interaction. Sustainability initiatives and practices have come into the conversation for both fans and teams ranging from green stadium designs, clean energy solutions and eco-friendly merchandise. The increased focus on diversity and inclusion is also a critical issue in the sports industry.

Sports Law Nationwide

Sports Law
Leading Firms
Band 1
Covington & Burling LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Winston & Strawn LLP
Band 2
ArentFox Schiff LLP
Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Latham & Watkins LLP
Band 3
Foley & Lardner LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Herrick, Feinstein LLP
Katten
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Band 4
Arnold & Porter
Global Sports Advocates, LLC
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Jackson Lewis P.C.
K&L Gates
McGuireWoods LLP
Meister Seelig & Fein PLLC
Mintz
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Polsinelli PC
Sidley Austin LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Wilkinson Stekloff LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling is an extremely well-respected firm with a deep bench of practitioners advising on high-profile contentious and non-contentious mandates. Represents some of the largest sporting organizations in the country, including teams, leagues, colleges and conferences, with further experience acting for sporting bodies from the wider American continent. Also a prominent player in the e-sports sector. Noted for its expertise in media issues, financing and M&A, as well as tax-related matters. Skilled in handling industry-wide litigation including class actions.

Strengths

"Covington lawyers are smart, tough and client-focused."

"The team has a deep and talented roster of lawyers."

"Covington's group consistently provides excellent advice and guidance on complex matters."

Work highlights Covington & Burling successfully defended the NFL against an antitrust challenge from the City of Oakland regarding the Raiders' relocation to Las Vegas.

Sports Law	Senior Statespeople and Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Eminent Practitioners
Tagliabue Paul Covington & Burling LLP *	Gibson Douglas G Covington & Burling LLP *
Leading Individuals
Star individuals	Raij Irwin P Sidley Austin LLP *
Kessler Jeffrey L Winston & Strawn LLP *	Smith Steven B. Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP
Band 1	Sullins Adam Latham & Watkins LLP *
Dreyer Anthony J. Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Wilkinson Beth A Wilkinson Stekloff LLP *
Greene Paul Global Sports Advocates, LLC *	Band 4
Klein Adam Katten *	Bartie Jared F Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Leccese Joseph M Proskauer Rose LLP *	Birns Richard Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *
Levy Gregg Covington & Burling LLP *	Bloom Elise M Proskauer Rose LLP *
Oliveau Maidie E ArentFox Schiff LLP	Boehning H Christopher Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton *
Oram Jon H. Proskauer Rose LLP *	Braham Denis Clive Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Ruskin Bradley I Proskauer Rose LLP *	Capps Leane Polsinelli PC
Zern Peter Covington & Burling LLP *	Carroll Keith P Holland & Knight LLP
Band 2	Fogel Baird D Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Block Benjamin C Covington & Burling LLP *	Hartmann Thaddeus Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *
Brand Richard L ArentFox Schiff LLP	Israel Jonathan L Foley & Lardner LLP
Greenspan David Winston & Strawn LLP *	Krochak Jason Proskauer Rose LLP *
Hess Stephen The Law Office of Stephen A. (ORL) ◇ *	Mulrain C Anthony Holland & Knight LLP
Hoffman Lent Karen Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Rifkin Alan Rifkin Weiner Livingston LLC (ORL) ◇
Jacobs Howard L Law Offices of Howard L (ORL) ◇ *	Schmidt Christopher Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP
Katz Wayne D Proskauer Rose LLP *	Schulz Kevin Foley & Lardner LLP
Kishner Irwin Herrick, Feinstein LLP	Schuster Mitchell Meister Seelig & Fein PLLC *
Nash Daniel L Akin (ORL) ◇	Spector Jeremy D Covington & Burling LLP *
Saviano Frank A Latham & Watkins LLP *	Sweeney Kevin R Polsinelli PC
Whitaker Mark DLA Piper LLP (US) *	Tulumello Andrew Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP *
White Peter C DLA Piper LLP (US) *	Wilson John K&L Gates
Young Richard R Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP	Yates Christopher S Latham & Watkins LLP *
Band 3	Up-and-coming individuals
Appelbaum Jeffrey R Thompson Hine LLP (ORL) ◇	Amoona Jonathan Winston & Strawn LLP *
Baker Charles H Sidley Austin LLP *	Lee Andrew Foley & Lardner LLP
Davis Ryan Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP	Parsigian Jeanifer E Winston & Strawn LLP *
Feher David G Winston & Strawn LLP *	Associates to watch
Lazatin Christine G Proskauer Rose LLP *	Kaiser Matt Global Sports Advocates, LLC *
Ludwin Derek Covington & Burling LLP *

Notable practitioners

Paul Tagliabue (see p.715) brings vast experience to a broad spectrum of sports law matters, such as strategic risk mitigation, public policy and organizational governance. He is widely recognized for his previous experience as former commissioner of the NFL. Douglas Gibson (see p.566) is particularly adept at advising sports clients on M&A, joint ventures, debt financing and media rights agreements. His clients include sports leagues and teams. Strengths: "Douglas is a strong practitioner." Gregg Levy (see p.621) is widely recognized for his work with the NFL. He is highly sought after for his litigation expertise, notably in class actions arising from antitrust claims and media rights disputes. Strengths: "He blends exceptional strategic vision with a keen understanding of his client's needs." Peter Zern (see p.741) concentrates his practice primarily on transactional mandates within the sports sector, often handling those that are international in scope. He adeptly advises on M&A, joint ventures, debt and equity financings and stadium development projects. Strengths: "An excellent and collaborative lawyer." "He is one of the best sports lawyers in the industry." Benjamin Block

Sports Law: Esports
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Bartie Jared F Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Colton Glenn ArentFox Schiff LLP
Israel Jonathan L Foley & Lardner LLP
Khalili Arash Loeb & Loeb LLP (ORL) ◇
Mulrain C Anthony Holland & Knight LLP
Rose Seth A Loeb & Loeb LLP (ORL) ◇
Rutledge Karl Lewis Roca (ORL) ◇ *
Schulman David Greenberg Traurig, LLP

(see p.507) is renowned for his significant litigation practice and ability to handle a range of disputes. His recent experience has involved collective bargaining negotiations, as well as class actions arising from antitrust claims. Strengths: "Ben is extremely qualified with exceptional communication and litigation skills." Derek Ludwin (see p.1342) has the capacity to handle complex antitrust disputes in addition to non-contentious regulatory compliance. Strengths: "Derek is a seasoned, smart and sophisticated attorney. He also provides outstanding service." Cochair of the sports industry group, Jeremy Spector (see p.708) is held in high regard for assisting clients on a vast range of issues, including sponsorship and licensing matters, as well as tax audits. Strengths: “Jerney is great at communicating complex issues.”

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose has a strong bench of seasoned practitioners, with enviable experience in large-scale M&A, complex financing, real estate matters, media rights issues and labor and employment negotiations. Acts for an outstanding portfolio of clients, with experience advising major leagues, investors into varied sports ventures and leading sports teams. Also offers broad litigation capabilities, which includes handling employment and discrimination disputes.

Strengths

“Proskauer Rose is excellent from top to bottom.”

“The team has incredible expertise.”

“The practitioners are prominent players in the space.”

Work highlights Proskauer represented Major League Soccer in its agreements with Lionel Messi to play for Inter Miami FC.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Leccese (see p.618) maintains an excellent corporate practice within the sports industry, advising on matters such as arena developments, M&A and PE investments. Strengths: “Joe has an incredible breadth of experience in the sports industry and uses it to provide thoughtful, strategic advice.” Jon Oram (see p.658) brings considerable expertise to an impressive range of sports law matters. He is often called upon to represent leagues, committees and investors in joint ventures, expansions and sponsorship agreements.

Strengths: “Jon is an excellent lawyer and is very well respected.” Bradley Ruskin (see p.687) maintains an excellent reputation for his litigation capabilities within the sports industry, and is sought out by prominent associations and leagues for representation in an array of contentious proceedings. He routinely handles antitrust and breach of contract disputes. Strengths: “A strong advocate who gives practical advice.” Wayne Katz (see p.602) is particularly adept at advising on corporate matters within the sports industry, bringing deep expertise to transactional mandates such as team financings, stadium developments and ownership transfers.

Christine Lazatin (see p.618) is experienced in representing the NBA and NHL, adeptly advising on corporate transactions within the sports industry. She demonstrates notable strengths in managing financings for teams, leagues, and institutional investors. Strengths: “Christine is an excellent attorney.” Elise Bloom (see p.2538) routinely represents clients in class actions. She has considerable experience of handling disputes concerning wage and hour claims, as well as allegations of age discrimination. Jason Krochak (see p.614) is highlighted for his ability to advise leagues and private equity firms on a number of issues, such as licensing agreements, acquisitions and league expansions. He has further expertise in sports betting matters.

Strengths: “Jason is a fantastic lawyer.”

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden has a highly renowned sports law practice with standout capabilities in a diverse range of contentious and noncontentious matters. Offers exceptional proficiency in litigious concerns, with noteworthy experience in antitrust disputes, IP and labor-related issues. Also knowledgeable about commercial transactions, licensing agreements and financing. Recognized not only for representing individual teams and owners, but also for acting as principal outside counsel to the NBA and NHL. Adept at advising on sports betting-related matters.

Strengths

“Skadden’s team provides high-level advice.”

“Its practitioners are hard-working, smart, extremely knowledgeable and have great practical experience.”

“Skadden has the skill and capacity to handle complex issues.”

Work highlights Skadden handled PGA Tour’s antitrust case, Jones et al v PGA Tour, in California’s Northern District Court.

Notable practitioners

Cochair of the sports law practice Anthony Dreyer (see p.544) is highly adept at advising on IP matters relating to the sports industry. He is held in particularly high regard among major leagues and associations, such as the NHL and NFL. Strengths: “Anthony provides advice on a range of matters and has a deep understanding of the industry.” “He is one of the leading sports law attorneys, particularly in the field of intellectual property.” “Anthony is an excellent litigator.”

Karen Lent (see p.2589) is particularly adept at representing sports associations and teams in proceedings relating to personal injury claims and antitrust disputes. Strengths: “Karen is a remarkable attorney that provides great advice and counsel.” “She is extremely knowledgeable and experienced.” Thaddeus Hartmann (see p.579) is notably adept at advising clients on high-profile mergers and acquisitions in the space.

Winston & Strawn LLP

What the team is known for Winston & Strawn is a highly regarded litigation practice also relied upon by big-name clients for ongoing corporate advisory services. Routinely represents premier athletes and players’ associations in arbitrations, antitrust cases and personal conduct disputes. Experienced in representing media companies, government entities and sponsors. Also offers high-end advice on non-contentious matters, including employment and marketing agreements. Has capacity to handle major equal employment opportunity and discrimination matters.

Strengths

“Winston’s sports law group is one of the best in the business.”

“The team provides outstanding service and response time.”

Work highlights Winston & Strawn represented North American Soccer League in an antitrust lawsuit against USSF and MLS in New York’s Eastern District, arising from allegations of exclusionary practices violating federal antitrust laws.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Kessler (see p.605) is regarded as one of the foremost trial lawyers in the sports space, bringing outstanding expertise to labor and antitrust disputes. Strengths: “Jeff is an incredible lawyer.” “He’s one of the leading lawyers in this space.” David Greenspan (see p.574) focuses his sports law practice primarily on contentious mandates. He is particularly well equipped to represent college athletes and leagues in antitrust litigation. Strengths: “David is a very strong litigator.” David Feher (see p.552) is the cochair of the firm’s sports law practice. He demonstrates notable strength advising on class actions arising from antitrust claims and employment issues. He also possesses additional expertise handling eligibility disputes. Jonathan Amoona (see p.491) is a skilled litigator with considerable experience of handling contract disputes, disciplinary actions and antitrust cases. Strengths: “Jonathan is an experienced and talented litigator.” “A fantastic well-rounded sports attorney.” Jennifer Parsigian (see p.663) routinely represents teams and players in complex antitrust matters. She is held in high regard for her strength in representing clients in class action suits. Strengths: “Jennifer is an awesome lawyer.”

Band 2

ArentFox Schiff LLP

What the team is known for ArentFox Schiff is a leading force in the specialist area of naming rights and sponsorship, an area in which the firm has carved out a dominant niche. Strong track record advising on sports arena financing, construction projects and other corporate transactions. Has notable experience negotiating and drafting media rights agreements. Additionally offers counsel on the use of innovative technologies in the sports sector.

Strengths

“The team members provide efficient and top-notch advice.”

“ArentFox’s practitioners are very knowledgeable and helpful.”

Work highlights ArentFox Schiff advised Kevin Durant on his ownership interests in various professional teams, including the Philadelphia Union Soccer Club, NJ/NY Gotham FC and the Brooklyn Aces professional pickleball team.

Notable practitioners

Glenn Colton is a respected practitioner with considerable strength in the eSports and fantasy sports space. He advises clients on a wide spectrum of issues, including ownership agreements, transactions, contract negotiations and IP issues. Maidie Oliveau maintains a highly respected sports law practice with a notable transactional. She is routinely called upon to advise clients on licensing and sponsorship agreements.

Strengths: “Maidie is absolutely best in class. I would recommend her for the most complex matters in the sports industry.” Richard Brand adeptly handles a range of corporate transactions relating to the sports industry. He brings particularly strong expertise to matters relating to stadium developments and naming and licensing agreements.

Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP

What the team is known for BCLP offers a highly capable team that maintains a strong sports law practice that is international in scope. Adeptly advises on significant anti-doping mandates for anti-doping agencies and sporting organizations. Respected for its work with international sporting bodies and domestic minor leagues as well as emerging sports. Other areas of expertise include naming rights, sponsorship agreements, stadium development and corporate transactions.

Strengths

"The team has tremendous knowledge."

"The team provides practical advice and solutions for complex matters."

Work highlights BCLP acted as the National Collegiate Athletic Association's national coordinating counsel and lead the defense for concussion and sports-related injury claims.

Notable practitioners

Richard Young has cultivated an outstanding reputation in the field, notably in the field of anti-doping. He handles international proceedings with aplomb and regularly appears before bodies such as the Court of Arbitration for Sport. Strengths: "Richard handles high-profile anti-doping cases." A key component of Ryan Davis' broad-based sports practice lies in handling naming rights transactions. He also boasts experience in high-profile personal injury disputes. Steven Smith is highly attuned to the needs of clients seeking counsel in relation to media and naming rights agreements. He also has additional experience of advising clients on Athlete Protection Policies. Christopher Schmidt boasts considerable experience in handling high-profile litigation in the sports space, with notable strength in advising on concussion claims. Strengths: "Chris is a skilled trial attorney."

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper has an established practice valued for its long-standing expertise in a range of transactional and development matters. Advises an impressive portfolio of sports teams, leagues and broadcasters on a range of complex concerns, with notable expertise in stadium development, financing, employment and real estate mandates. Visible recently in major sponsorship deals and trademark disputes. Able to leverage the firm's impressive global network on cross-border mandates.

Strengths

"DLA Piper is an exceptional firm."

Notable practitioners

Mark Whitaker (see p.734) maintains a strong reputation in the sports space. He has significant experience advising major associations such as the NHL and NFL on a broad spectrum of corporate transactions. Peter White (see p.734) is the global cochair of the firm's media, sport and entertainment group. His diverse practice encompasses M&A and real estate issues, as well as contentious proceedings. He is in high regard among major sports leagues, including the NBA and NFL.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins has a well-regarded sports law group that acts for a stellar client base in a variety of contentious and non-contentious matters. Has aptitude in a broad array of issues relating to the broadcasting and media space, including the acquisition of sports distribution rights. Offers notable expertise in new media and digital distribution within the sports sector. Has an impressive reputation for the diversity of its client base, including sports technology companies, major international bodies such as the IOC, and leagues and teams.

Strengths

"The firm's practitioners have substantive knowledge."

"Latham & Watkins has strong depth."

"The team is confident, well experienced and able to handle complex matters with ease."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins represented Skydance Media in its partnership with the NFL and NFL Films to create the premier global multi-sports production studio in the industry, Skydance Sports.

Notable practitioners

Frank Saviano (see p.691) is well equipped to advise on a broad range of transactional matters for sports clients. He is sought out by major associations and teams to advise on joint ventures, arena development and M&A. Strengths: "Frank is an absolutely exceptional lawyer." Adam Sullins (see p.713) ' broad practice encompasses a range of corporate transactions, including M&A, joint ventures and broadcast media deals. Strengths: "Adam is a excellent practitioner." Christopher Yates (see p.1087) demonstrates considerable strength in representing clients in antitrust disputes. He has extensive experience of handling high-profile class actions. Strengths: "Chris has a depth of knowledge of the space."

Band 3

Foley & Lardner LLP

What the team is known for Foley & Lardner has extensive expertise in corporate transactions, media rights deals and advising on the development of sports stadiums. Acts for clients, including universities, leagues and teams, on contentious and noncontentious antitrust, tax, IP and labor mandates. Demonstrates particular strengths in team transactions including significant franchise acquisitions. Handles high-value sponsorship, media rights and licensing deals for major teams and competitions.

Strengths

"Foley & Lardner's team are extremely reliable and solution-oriented in handling complex matters."

"The group is very strong and has a tremendous amount of legal horsepower and acumen to handle even the most complex, demanding and sophisticated formation and deal work."

Work highlights Foley & Lardner advised Comate Global on a multi-year Spanish language media rights deal with Univision.

Notable practitioners

Jonathan Israel is particularly adroit at advising investors and organizations on investments into the burgeoning eSports arena. He is also adept at handling employment and litigation matters for sports teams. Strengths: "Jon is one of the most responsive and technically strong lawyers I have worked with in the industry." Cochair of the sports practice, Kevin Schulz advises high-profile clients on M&A and sponsorship agreements, among other matters. Strengths: "He provides amazing advice and insights." "Kevin provides thorough, practical and timely advice on the most complex matters." Andrew Lee is highlighted for his ability to handle a range of issues, including acquisitions, licensing and sponsorship deals. Strengths: "He demonstrates a great mix of experience, expertise and business acumen." "Andrew is excellent all-around; he is versatile, savvy, hard-working and a successful attorney with great client skills."

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher has a highly regarded practice that boasts notable strength in both litigation and arbitration proceedings relating to the sports industry. Has noteworthy strength in handling transactional matters whereby the team advises investors and sports companies in high-value M&A and financings. Also brings expertise to corporate matters, media rights issues and stadium developments. Maintains a diverse client roster made up of leagues, associations, athletes and media groups.

Work highlights Gibson Dunn advised affiliates of the Dallas Cowboys and the New York Yankees on Legends' acquisition of ASM Global.

Notable practitioners

Richard Birns (see p.506) is the cochair of the sports practice and demonstrates the capability to handle a broad spectrum of issues. He boasts a varied client list that ranges from gambling organizations to telecommunication companies. Strengths: "Richard is a great lawyer."

Herrick, Feinstein LLP

What the team is known for Herrick, Feinstein is recognized for its work with some of the most storied names in American sports, but also home to an ever-expanding client roster of teams, leagues and investors. Provides counsel on complex disputes and daily advisory needs across a number of sports. Regularly advises on multimillion-dollar financing and refinancing deals. Recent experience also includes entertainment and intellectual property transactions.

Strengths

"The Herrick team is very responsive."

"The practitioners demonstrate solid expertise on complex matters."

Work highlights Herrick, Feinstein assisted the New York Racing Association with the formation of a joint venture with a European gambling software engineering firm.

Notable practitioners

Irwin Kishner has extensive experience of handling large-scale corporate transactions in the sports space. He also possesses additional expertise in advising leagues, teams and media organizations on development and media rights agreements, among other issues. Strengths:

"Irwin is an excellent transactional lawyer with deep expertise. He is also extremely client-focused, responsive and service-oriented."

Katten

What the team is known for Katten has a strong team with an enviable client base of top teams in basketball and baseball, in addition to numerous other sports. Also acts for buyer groups, unions and developers in sports matters. Represents a number of key players in the market with respect to sporting arena developments, media rights deals, financing and broadcasting. Also assists clients on regulatory matters such as compliance with league regulations.

Strengths

"Katten has such a wide breadth of expertise that they can draw on."

"The firm has a very strong bench of practitioners."

Work highlights Katten advised Dr. Miriam Adelson, Sivan Dumont, and Patrick Dumont on the acquisition of a controlling ownership interest in the Dallas Mavericks NBA team from Mark Cuban.

Notable practitioners

Adam Klein (see p.609) maintains a multifaceted sports law practice which encompasses financings, sponsorships and advising on arena developments, among other matters. Strengths: "Adam is one of the very best lawyers in the sports finance and advisory industry." "He has a depth of knowledge of the space."

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers has a wealth of experience structuring deals for established sports clients. Noted expertise in team and company M&A, league sponsorship and stadium development. A growing esports practice, advising on the acquisition of esports entities, tournament hosting negotiations, and sponsorship. Capable of handling cross-border ventures, including deals involving broadcasting rights and licensing agreements. The firm is also equipped to advise on investigations for teams and organizations.

Strengths

"Go-to firm for a variety of matters across multiple disciplines. The team also provides excellent service and responsiveness."

Work highlights O'Melveny advised Stanford University on its decision to leave the Pac-12 and join the Atlantic Coast Conference at the start of the 2024-2025 season, which included advising on media rights.

Notable practitioners

Co-head of the firm's entertainment, sports and media practice Amy Siegel is a key contact.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison has a broad offering which demonstrates strength in a range of contentious and non-contentious matters. Highly sought after for its expertise in investigations and high-profile disputes, particularly in relation to concussion. Also capable of handling M&A transactions as well as matters relating to licensing agreements and sponsorship deals. Sought out by a diverse client base made up of international sporting bodies, private corporations and individuals.

Strengths

"Paul, Weiss' team is very strong and has very strong attorneys."

"The team is efficient and quick."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss advised the Boston Bruins on an independent review of the team's player-vetting processes and decision to sign Mitchell Miller.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Boehning (see p.508) has extensive experience of handling significant litigation and regulatory issues. He has strength in handling matters related to bribery and corruption claims, among others.

Band 4

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter offers strong capabilities in representing leagues, teams and associations in contentious issues. The firm provides noteworthy strength in handling antitrust matters, and is further equipped to handle complex IP, patent and copyright disputes. The team also leverages additional skill to advise players in appellate matters.

Notable practitioners

C. Scott Lent is a key contact for the firm.

Global Sports Advocates, LLC

What the team is known for The Global Sports Advocates team is renowned throughout the market for its strength in advising athletes in complex sports disputes. The group has handled a vast range of matters including breach of contract and IP disputes. The practitioners demonstrate considerable strength in assisting clients facing allegations of anti-doping rule violations. The team is adept at handling both domestic and international issues.

Strengths

"Global Sports Advocates has the scope and experience to handle complex matters."

"The team's level of service is exceptional."

"The group has a lot of experience and expertise."

Work highlights GSA defended Peter Bol against doping allegations following a false positive test for EPO. Sport Integrity Australia and WADA cleared him in July 2023.

Notable practitioners

Paul Greene (see p.573) concentrates his practice primarily on disputes within the sports space, in particular anti-doping proceedings. He is regularly retained to represent athletes before the Court of Arbitration for Sport and other governing bodies. Strengths: "Paul is one of the best lawyers in the anti-doping space." "His cross-examination skills are second to none." Matt Kaiser (see p.599) has a growing practice in the sports sphere. He has notable experience of assisting on matters arising from allegations of violations to the anti-doping rule. Strengths: "He is very experienced and goes above and beyond to help clients."

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig's team is held in high regard for its ability to advise clients on a range of issues, including acquisitions, endorsement agreements and licensing agreements. The group represents athletes, sports teams and corporations in the sports sector. The practitioners have further experience of handling issues in the esports space.

Strengths

"The team is very effective; they know this space well and have a lot of experience."

"The group has a deep understanding of space and we trust them to handle matters of the highest difficulty."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented Paolo Banchemo in an endorsement deal with Nike and its affiliate, Jordan Brands.

Notable practitioners

As cochair of the video game and esports practice at Greenberg Traurig, David Schulman counts advising esports teams, league operators and developers to be a key component of his practice. His recent work includes providing guidance on investments into the space, league entry negotiations and infrastructure agreements. Denis Clive Braham is a prominent real estate attorney, known for his expertise in sports-related transactions, particularly venue development and stadium agreements. Strengths: "He has great expertise with respect to venue construction and development of venues."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight services clients with a multidisciplinary team with experience in both contentious and non-contentious matters. The team offers noteworthy strength in handling employment contract agreements. The firm also represents teams and players in business disputes and sensitive investigations. Its members are adept in advising businesses seeking to form partnerships and establish sponsorships with sports leagues. The members are also equipped to advise on transactional matters, such as mergers and acquisitions.

Strengths

"Top-to-bottom the team is incredibly qualified, diligent and excellent to work with."

"Holland & Knight's team of attorneys can answer almost any question that an athletic-related support entity may have."

Work highlights Holland & Knight represented the Tennessee Titans in negotiations with the State and Local governments on over $1.2B in public funding.

Notable practitioners

Keith Carroll advises athletes, senior executives and sport franchises on a host of issues. He is adept at handling business disputes and league investigations. Strengths: "Keith is knowledgeable and easy to work with." Anthony Mulrain boasts strength in both the sports and esports space. He has a varied practice which covers licensing issues and sponsorship agreements, as well as litigation matters.

Jackson Lewis P.C.

What the team is known for Jackson Lewis is notable for its coverage of regulatory compliance, crisis management and litigation. It provides counsel on NCAA and NAIA regulatory compliance, Title IX and wage and hour issues. The firm conducts NCAA rule investigations and represents universities before NCAA committees. It also assists sports agencies with regulatory matters.

Strengths

"Jackson Lewis has a strong practice."

"A really good firm, very strong in labor and employment in sports matters."

Notable practitioners

Paul Kelly is a key contact for the firm.

K&L Gates

What the team is known for K&L Gates' team demonstrates its ability to advise a range of clients, including major sporting bodies and individuals. The team is adept at handling IP issues, as well as significant transactions in the space. Its practitioners have further experience of advising clients on sponsorship and collaboration agreements.

Strengths

"The team is very responsive."

"K&L Gates' practitioners really know the industry."

Work highlights K&L Gates provided counsel to 3ICE on drafting standard-form player and coach agreements.

Notable practitioners

John Wilson leads the global sports industry group. He routinely advises leagues, teams and athletes on transactions in the space. Strengths: "John is a great, solutions-oriented lawyer." "He has great overall experience, compassion and understanding." "John is very diligent, responsive and quick."

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods is a global firm that leverages the strength of its wholly owned subsidiary in the sports space. Its practitioners provide legal and public affairs services to clients worldwide. With expertise in handling corporate transactions, disputes and regulatory matters, it is notably adept at negotiating credit facilities for major sports franchises and leagues.

Notable practitioners

Mike Andrews is a key contact for the firm.

Meister Seelig & Fein PLLC

What the team is known for Meister Seelig & Fein PLLC's group advises professional athletes in US leagues on a range of issues, such as litigation and intellectual property matters. The team navigates complex disputes and crisis management, protecting clients' reputations and brands.

Strengths

"Meister Seelig has a truly deep bench of very talented practitioners."

"The group is always available and makes me feel supported."

"The team's ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters is outstanding."

Work highlights MSF represented Jake Paul in a defamation lawsuit in New York's Southern District Court.

Notable practitioners

Litigation department chair, Mitchell Schuster (see p.694) specializes in sports and entertainment litigation, crisis management and estate planning. He has notable experience of providing counsel to athletes. Strengths: "Mitch is outstanding in all categories, but in particular his responsiveness, awareness of other industries and his wide range of expertise in many legal areas."

Mintz

What the team is known for Mintz's sports practice is held in high regard throughout the market. The team advises a vast range of clients including teams, leagues and athletes, among others. The group provides counsel on a broad spectrum of matters including sponsorship, regulatory and licensing issues. The practitioners are adept at handling transactions, although they demonstrate further strength in representing clients in litigation. Mintz's team has further strength in the esports space.

Notable practitioners

Steven Olenick, chair of the Sports & Entertainment Practice, is a key contact.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius' team boasts notable strength in handling transactional matters, including financings and acquisitions. The group's clients include leagues, investors and universities. The practitioners are also adept at handling IP-related issues. It is a well-rounded practice that has further experience of handling employment and sponsorship work.

Strengths

"Morgan, Lewis' attorneys are incredibly sharp and able to work through nuanced legal topics."

Work highlights Morgan Lewis advised Boston Unity Soccer Partners on its agreement to be awarded expansion rights for the NWSL 15th team.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Moorad is a key contact for the firm.

Polsinelli PC

What the team is known for Polsinelli's group boasts a diverse client list that is comprised of professional and amateur sports teams, leagues and sponsors. It handles wide variety of matters including media rights, corporate governance, real estate finance and intellectual property matters.

Strengths

"Polsinelli's team provides practical and sound advice."

"The group is extremely responsive and provides service of the highest level."

Work highlights Polsinelli provided counsel to Arrowhead Events on the successful 2026 World Cup Host City bid to host games at Arrowhead Stadium.

Notable practitioners

Leane Capps is the vice chair of the sports & entertainment group. She is notably adept at handling litigation, arbitration and appellate matters. She has further experience of advising clients on media rights agreements. Strengths: "Leane is an excellent litigator." "She is an extremely knowledgeable and sophisticated attorney with a wide range of experience." Kevin Sweeney of Polsinelli PC represents an impressive array of sports conferences in key issues such as media agreements, realignments and NIL rights.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin has a strong team that has excellent transactional and corporate capabilities. Acting for teams, leagues and investors, the firm advises on complex cross-border M&A as well as on financings and joint ventures. The team also offers further prowess in representing governments and universities in facility matters, including naming rights and stadium development.

Strengths

"Sidley's team brings the legal technical expertise, experience and industry knowledge that are so important on both sides of sports deals."

"The team is able to pull in subject matter experts across a range of topics and geographies."

Work highlights Sidley advised multiple investors on the definitive purchase and sale agreement to acquire the NFL's Washington Commanders from the Snyder family.

Notable practitioners

Charles Baker (see p.495) advises investors, clubs and private individuals on a broad scope of transactional mandates within the sports space.

Strengths: "Charles is a wonderful practitioner."

Irwin Raji (see p.673) is well equipped to advise teams, investors and public entities on an array of transactional mandates relating to the sports industry, including M&A, joint ventures and stadium development plans. Strengths: "Irwin has a deep knowledge of deal dynamics."

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell provides broad multidisciplinary expertise to service teams, leagues, owners and investors. It leverages transactional and corporate abilities to assist on M&A and joint ventures. The firm is also adept in handling litigation matters and investigations. Offering additional skill in real estate matters, the firm represents stadium developments and financings.

Strengths

"Every member of the team is very capable, not only in their subject matter expertise, but in a variety of other areas as well."

"Sullivan & Cromwell's lawyers are extremely responsive and timely in working through all issues as required."

"The team's practitioners are great at thinking through complex and sophisticated matters."

Notable practitioners

Ivan Deutsch leads the firm's Sports & Entertainment practice and is a key contact.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges' sports practice is held in high regard throughout the market. The practitioners have considerable experience in handling commercial disputes on behalf of athletes and players' associations. The team also provides counsel on investigations of alleged misconduct. Its attorneys have further strength in assisting clients with significant transactions. The firm is also adept at representing clients in antitrust litigation.

Strengths

"Weil, Gotshal has a very strong team with a diverse range of strengths. The group is very impressive."

Work highlights Weil represented Washington State University in a dispute concerning governance rights and the direction of the Pac-12 Conference.

Notable practitioners

Cohead of the complex commercial litigation practice, Andrew Tulumello (see p.1370) has extensive experience of handling litigation and investigations concerning allegations of abusive coaching, among other issues. Strengths: "Andrew is a strong lawyer."

Wilkinson Stekloff LLP

What the team is known for Wilkinson Stekloff's group focuses its practice on sports litigation for professional and collegiate sports corporations. The team has experience of handling high-profile antitrust cases and investigations.

Strengths

"Wilkinson's team is terrific."

"The group has deep experience in complex sports law matters."

"The team contains very strong litigation lawyers."

Work highlights Wilkinson Stekloff represented the National Collegiate Athletic Association in a putative antitrust class action lawsuit brought by current and former student-athletes under the Sherman Act.

Notable practitioners

Beth Wilkinson (see p.734) of Wilkinson Stekloff has a distinguished practice in the sports space. She boasts significant strength in handling antitrust class actions. Strengths: "Beth's expertise is invaluable." "She's a wonderful lawyer."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Jeffrey Appelbaum of Thompson Hine has extensive experience of handling construction and real estate matters relating to the sports sphere. He is also sought out for his expertise in insurance and risk management issues. Strengths: "Jeffrey's skill set is great and he is a subject matter expert."

Jared Bartie (see p.498) of Willkie Farr & Gallagher has an impressive roster of clients in the esports sphere. He provides counsel on a range of issues, including ownership agreements, corporate sponsorships and league entry negotiations. Strengths: "Jared is a great lawyer, he is so skilled." "Jared is my go-to attorney on matters that require practicality."

Baird Fogel (see p.556) of Eversheds Sutherland heads the US sports law practice. He is highlighted for his strength in handling transactional issues on behalf of investors, athletes and leagues. Strengths: "Baird exudes professionalism." "He knows the industry so well and his advice is invaluable."

Stephen Hess (see p.583) of The Law Office of Stephen A. Hess represents an impressive client list which includes USA Boxing and USA Taekwondo. His practice incorporates a broad spectrum of issues such as contract negotiations and suspension issues. Strengths: "Stephen provides excellent professional services." "He is very experienced and has the ability to provide sound legal advice in numerous areas."

ried and has the ability to provide sound legal advice in numerous areas."

Howard Jacobs (see p.594) has cultivated an excellent reputation for his representation of athletes in doping cases and other disciplinary actions. Strengths: "Howard is very strong in all areas."

Arash Khalili of Loeb & Loeb is cochair of the sports practice. He represents esports clients with endorsements deals, sponsorships and media agreements.

Daniel Nash of Akin is held in high regard for his expertise in contentious matters. He has recently been involved in class actions arising from anti-doping and personal injury claims, and is routinely sought out by the NFL. Strengths: "Daniel is a fantastic lawyer."

Alan Rifkin offers broad transactional and commercial litigation experience. He has additional strength in advising on issues relating to NIL, media rights and sports facility negotiations. Strengths: "Alan is an exceptional attorney who has vast experience of handling sports matters."

"He brings an unparalleled level of energy." "He is a fierce advocate for his clients and thorough in his evaluation of issues."

Seth Rose of Loeb & Loeb is commended for his ability to handle a wide spectrum of issues on behalf of esports professionals and sponsors. His vast experience ranges from handling sponsorship agreements to intellectual property disputes.

Karl Rutledge (see p.687) of Lewis Roca specializes in gaming, promotional marketing, and esports, ensuring compliance with state and federal laws. He advocates for clients and navigates negotiations with regulators and other stakeholders.

Startups & Emerging Companies Nationwide

Band 1

Cooley LLP

What the team is known for Cooley LLP leverages substantial experience in cutting-edge emerging companies work for both companies and investors, particularly in the technology and life sciences domains, across the USA. The team readily assists startup businesses throughout their life cycle, even from before their official formation, with the help of an impressive network of investors. Cooley LLP counts among its clients prominent young companies in the healthcare, media, software and retail sectors.

Strengths

"The Cooley team is exceptionally high-caliber."

"The team are experts in the startups space."

"The Cooley team delivers exceptional work product with excellent coordination across teams."

Work highlights Cooley LLP advised Contentsquare on its $400m series F financing round. Notable practitioners

Vice-chair of Cooley LLP, Michael Lincoln has a roster of clients that includes startup companies, venture capital firms and angel investors. Strengths: "He's one of the best." "Mike is awesome, he's a rock star." "He's a super impressive lawyer." Palo Alto-based partner Mark Tanoury enjoys a broad-based practice but is particularly noted for his work with leading venture capital sponsors. Craig Jacoby represents emerging companies operating in a wide variety of industries. He is recognized for his ability to guide clients through early-stage financing transactions.

Strengths: "Craig is one of the best lawyers I know. He is calm, insightful and deeply committed to his clients' best interests."

Eric Jensen brings his high level of capital markets expertise to acting for emerging companies in IPOs. He routinely works with organizations in the technology and software sectors. Rachel Proffitt shows a broad skill set ranging across both venture capital and capital markets transactions. Her clients include high-growth companies in the e-commerce sector. Strengths: "Rachel is absolutely terrific."

Sacha Ross advises both high-growth companies and strategic investors in venture financings. His focuses his practice on advising clients in the technology sector. Strengths: "He's very responsive and very strategic in his advice." David Young maintains a well-reputed practice counseling

Startups & Emerging Companies
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cooley LLP
Fenwick
Goodwin
Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin
Band 2
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Latham & Watkins LLP
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Band 3
Lowenstein Sandler LLP
Morrison Foerster
Perkins Coie LLP
Pillsbury
WilmerHale
Band 4
Dentons
Mintz
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Band 5
Foley & Lardner LLP
Foley Hoag LLP
Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Katten
King & Spalding LLP
Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Nixon Peabody LLP
Reitler Kailas & Rosenblatt LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Silicon Legal Strategy, A Professional Corporation
Troutman Pepper
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Startups & Emerging Companies
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners	Davidson Gordon K Fenwick
Bochner Steven Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati	Sonsini Larry W Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati
Leading Individuals
Band 1	Boyajian Victor Dentons US LLP
Lincoln Michael Cooley LLP	Brophy Fiona Perkins Coie LLP
McCusker Anthony Goodwin *	Brown Michael A Fenwick
Tanoury Mark Cooley LLP	Bull Richard DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Band 2	Cohen Allan Nixon Peabody LLP *
Bautista John Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Dinow Adam Cooley LLP
Chory John Latham & Watkins LLP *	Dwyer Thomas P Troutman Pepper *
Hachigian Jay K Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve	Errico Christopher T. Dentons
Jacoby Craig Cooley LLP	Fleming Ronald A. Pillsbury
Taku Yoichiro Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati	Foreste Nick Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP
Band 3	Fox Joshua Mintz
Bain Michael D WilmerHale	Hamilton Andrew Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Clarfield Hess Cynthia Fenwick	Ladd-Kravitz Emily Greenberg Traurig, LLP
Egan III John J Goodwin *	Lehrer Jeffrey K DLA Piper LLP (US)
Esquivel Michael T Fenwick	Mo Curtis L DLA Piper LLP (US)
Gammell David D Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve	Molina Leandro Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Gaviria Ivan A. Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve	Naughton Laurence P Mintz
Glaser Michael Morrison Foerster *	Rosenblum Peter Foley Hoag LLP
Jensen Eric Cooley LLP	Rubin Asher M Sidley Austin LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Kropp Jason L WilmerHale	Rumberger Jr Edwin Thom WilmerHale
Mitchell Patrick Goodwin *	Schall Gary WilmerHale
Proffitt Rachel Cooley LLP	Schindler Lee Perkins Coie LLP *
Ross Sacha Cooley LLP	Sigety Elizabeth Fox Rothschild (ORL) ◇ *
Sherman Craig E Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati	Sorin David Brown Rudnick LLP (ORL) ◇
Socol Randy DLA Piper LLP (US)	Torres Charles DLA Piper LLP (US)
Stevens Mark C Fenwick	Voxman W Alex Latham & Watkins LLP *
Venuto Stephen Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP	Up-and-coming individuals
Young David R Cooley LLP	Akers George Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Zimmerman Edward M Lowenstein Sandler LLP	Chimon Jason Nixon Peabody LLP *
Band 4	Clark Randall Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve
Bloom Mitchell S Goodwin	Colla Derek Cooley LLP
Brown Matthew Katten	Knoop Michelle Goodwin *
Flint Bradford Ropes & Gray LLP *	Novotny Jon Goodwin *
Indick Murray Morrison Foerster *	Pollick Josh Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP
Levy Stephane Cooley LLP	Sorin Jared Brown Rudnick LLP (ORL) ◇
McVay Ken Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve	Associates to watch
Patt Jeffrey Katten	Civetta Alexander Mintz
Potter Benjamin A Latham & Watkins LLP *	Lester Rebecca Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough *
Werner Peter Cooley LLP	Rydder Schwartz Maria DLA Piper LLP (US) *
Band 5	Valenzuela Fabiola Katten
Bartus Matthew Cooley LLP

established and emerging companies in Los Angeles. He has experience of handling a wide spectrum of transactions from seed to later-stage financings. Strengths: “He’s absolutely fabulous and the quality of his legal work is extremely high.” Stephane Levy garners recognition for representing investors and startups across a range of emerging company transactions. Peter Werner frequently represents high-growth companies and investors in financings, governance issues and securities transactions. Strengths: “Peter is really great; he balances practicality with strong lawyering.” “He is a fantastic attorney.” Matthew Bartus is held in high regard for his ability to advise organizations throughout their life cycle, from formation through to IPO. Strengths: “Matthew has an in-depth knowledge of the law and a depth of experience.” Adam Dinow is routinely called upon to advise clients on funding rounds from seed financings to Series D financings. Strengths: “Adam is an awesome lawyer.” Derek Colla is routinely called upon to advise investors on early-stage funding rounds.

Fenwick

What the team is known for Fenwick demonstrates the sought-after ability to counsel startup businesses, particularly in the tech sector, on the full extent of company growth processes, as well as advising venture capital investors. The firm operates at the forefront of cutting-edge technology markets, including fintech, virtual reality and the sharing economy. It is noted for its connections to Silicon Valley technology companies and venture capital firms, due to its long-established presence in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Strengths

“Fenwick are excellent across the board.”

“It’s a top-tier firm.”

Work highlights Fenwick represents Whatnot in its $260m series D funding round.

Notable practitioners

Gordon Davidson continues to draw great acclaim for his representation of Silicon Valley’s leading technology companies. Cynthia Clarfield Hess acts for startups in transactions undertaken at all stages in their life cycle. Strengths: “She’s a very good lawyer.” Michael Esquivel maintains a strong practice representing digital health startups and their investors in the Silicon Valley area. Mark Stevens represents high-growth companies in the science, gaming and media industries. He is notable for acting on deals for technology companies. Michael Brown has a strong practice representing technology startups throughout their life cycle. Strengths: “A really good lawyer and a terrific guy.” “He’s super pragmatic and efficient in his advice.”

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin is a leading player in the startups and emerging companies field, aiding biotech, e-commerce and digital media entities, among others, throughout their development from creation to sale or IPO. The team is also experienced in matters such as intellectual property and M&A. It boasts a significant investor-side practice, acting for a number of leading venture capital funds. The firm benefits from a broad geographical spread, from San Francisco and Silicon Valley to Boston and New York. Strengths

"Goodwin is a market-leading firm."

"The team is fantastic and contains business-minded lawyers."

"Goodwin's team is superb."

"The lawyers are super pragmatic and great to work with."

Work highlights Goodwin provided counsel to Coalition on a Series F financing.

Notable practitioners

Anthony McCusker (see p.637) advises both startups and investors operating in a range of sectors, including fintech and biotech. Strengths: "He's a real expert and he's super experienced."

John Egan (see p.2014) routinely represents emerging companies from the technology sector in high-value financings. He is cochair of the firm's technology and emerging companies group. Patrick Mitchell (see p.2030) is routinely called upon to provide counsel to growth equity and venture capital firms. His broad practice involves advising on transactions and portfolio investments. Strengths: "Pat is super practical, very solutions-oriented and is able to craft winning solutions." Mitchell Bloom draws acclaim for his representation of startups in the life science sector. He has particular experience in transactions involving emerging biotechnology companies. Michelle Knoop (see p.610) is developing a strong practice advising companies on funding cycles and providing general corporate advice. Strengths: "Michelle is a fierce negotiator, she's phenomenal." Jon Novotny (see p.655) focuses his practice on advising clients on early-stage financings concerning organizations in the technology sector. Strengths: "An exceptional lawyer who is very commercially savvy."

Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin & Hachigian

What the team is known for Gunderson Dettmer Stough Villeneuve Franklin & Hachigian maintains a dedicated emerging companies practice, with the ability to advise investors and early-stage tech companies on a diverse spectrum of matters, including international investments. The team also provides guidance on complementary areas of law, such as employee benefits and executive compensation, IP and tax. It regularly advises clients who operate in the media, software and pharmaceutical sectors.

Strengths

"Gunderson is a go-to firm in Silicon Valley."

Work highlights Gunderson Dettmer represented Our Next Energy in its $300m Series B financing.

Notable practitioners

Jay Hachigian's practice sees him regularly handling financings for life sciences and technology companies. His work with venture capital sponsors includes both investments and fund formation. Strengths: "Jay is a very good lawyer."

David Gammell represents startup companies throughout their life cycle. He also acts on behalf of venture capital funds in financing transactions.

Strengths: "He's a super practical lawyer." Ivan Gaviria's practice revolves around the technology sector, and he largely acts for company-side clients. His work includes acting on financing rounds and M&A. Ken McVay acts on behalf of both emerging companies and venture funds in the technology industry. He handles the full range of matters in a startup's life cycle, from financings to M&A and IPOs. Randall Clark is based in New York and has a burgeoning practice representing both companies and venture capital funds across all stages of corporate life cycles.

Band 2

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper LLP works with both venture capital investors and growing businesses at all stages of startup development, bringing to bear international strength to benefit both kinds of client. The firm is well distributed throughout the USA and capable of handling everything from M&A to governance and IP. It has particular expertise in the software and life sciences sectors.

Strengths

"DLA's team provides subject matter expertise on a wide range of legal matters facing startups."

"In addition to having a very detailed and in-depth understanding of the applicable laws, the team also shows an understanding of the market in that space and provides commercial advice."

Notable practitioners

Randy Socol acts for both emerging companies and venture capital firms operating in the life science and technology sectors. Strengths: "Randy has a tremendous breadth of experience coupled with excellent commercial knowledge. He is also an extraordinary negotiator." Richard Bull (see p.1005), vice-chair of the emerging growth and venture capital team, is an experienced partner who advises venture funds and startups on early stage financings. Strengths: "He's a great asset to the team." Chair of the emerging growth and venture capital team, Jeffrey Lehrer is a well-regarded lawyer who advises venture funds on investments in early-stage companies. Strengths: "An unfailingly practical lawyer who is quintessentially solutions-driven." "Jeffrey's a fantastic lawyer and a go-to for us." Curtis Mo is an experienced practitioner who regularly advises clients on early stage financings, particularly in the technology sector. Charles Torres frequently advises emerging growth companies on venture capital and corporate transactions. Strengths: "Charles is creative and diligent." "He is incredibly knowledgeable and effective." Maria Rydder Schwartz (see p.687) is an associate who assists emerging companies and venture capital funds on a range of financial issues and financings. Strengths: "Maria's level of responsiveness is outstanding."

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP is particularly well recognized for its representation of nascent life sciences businesses throughout their financings, IPOs and sales, as well as in general corporate issues throughout their life cycles. Drawing upon extensive global resources, the firm is also highly adept in representing both investment banks and venture capital firms. It is respected for its work with a number of prominent emerging data and fintech companies.

Strengths

"Latham & Watkins has a deep bench of brilliant lawyers."

"The Latham's team is terrific."

"The practitioners are very sophisticated."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins advised Clerkie in its Series A financing.

Notable practitioners

John Chory (see p.2011) is the global chair of the firm's emerging companies practice. He has substantial experience of providing counsel to fintech and life science companies from inception through to IPOs. Benjamin Potter (see p.1062) is noted for his strong reputation in California and nationwide on the startups scene. He provides counsel to clients on a wide spectrum of issues, ranging from early-stage financing to IPOs. Strengths: "Benjamin is super technical and super strong on the details. He's brilliant." "He's very knowledgeable, pragmatic and responsive." "Ben's an amazing partner who provides an outstanding caliber of work." Alex Voxman (see p.1082), cochair of the Los Angeles corporate department, is a well-regarded partner who advises companies on a broad spectrum of issues, ranging from seed to late stage financing. Strengths: "The breadth of his experience and practical advice make him an excellent lawyer."

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

What the team is known for Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP advises companies and investors at the forefront of the technology industry on financings, investments and IPOs, in areas like social networking, life sciences and fintech, including blockchain. The department cultivates a strong Silicon Valley presence alongside its nationwide network to serve burgeoning tech markets from New York to Los Angeles.

Strengths

"The team thinks in a sophisticated and creative manner."

"The firm has excellent attorneys with broad and deep knowledge."

"Orrick's group has wide market expertise."

Work highlights Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe advised Coatue Management in its €320m Series D financing of Satispay, a mobile payments system.

Notable practitioners

John Bautista's stable of clients includes leading venture capital firms and fintech companies, which he represents in major financing transactions. Strengths: "A super supportive partner who is very good at providing practical advice." Stephen Venuto routinely represents growing companies in financing transactions. His client base includes many reputable media and technology companies. Strengths: "Stephen delivers the highest possible quality of service and responsiveness." Josh Pollick, co-leader of the global technology companies group, is highlighted for his ability to provide counsel to technology companies on complex financings.

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati

What the team is known for Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati demonstrates an acclaimed record for advising Silicon Valley technology startups on their IPOs and venture capital financings, as well as general corporate and IP matters. The team is experienced in all corporate transactions including M&A and public and private securities offerings. It is highly respected for the sheer number of startups it has successfully cultivated over the past 50 years.

Strengths

"Wilson Sonsini provides a full-service and sophisticated practice."

"Wilson Sonsini is a terrific firm."

"The team has a broad set of capabilities and deep expertise in each area."

Work highlights Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati represented MasterControl in a $150m Series A fundraising.

Notable practitioners

Steven Bochner's capital markets practice regularly sees him working with both emerging companies and venture capital firms in early-stage financings and investments. Strengths: "Steve is a seasoned practitioner that has seen it all."

Larry Sonsini is renowned for his work with a number of the leading technology companies of Silicon Valley. He draws acclaim from peers for the strength of his reputation in the Bay Area.

Yoichiro Taku routinely represents technology startups in venture financing transactions. This work forms part of his wider transactional practice, which also includes M&A and capital markets work. Strengths: "He's incredibly service-oriented." "Yoichiro is immensely helpful."

Craig Sherman is highly regarded for his representation of emerging companies from a range of sectors. He is particularly adept in the representation of sell-side companies in early-stage M&A.

Band 3

Lowenstein Sandler LLP

What the team is known for Lowenstein Sandler LLP typically acts on behalf of venture capital investment firms, startups and growing businesses in the technology sector, with a particularly strong East Coast presence. The team cultivates a significant IP practice in tandem, counseling businesses of all sizes, including some of the biggest names in the technology industry. It is valued by clients for its innovative approach, including the running of startup accelerator VentureCrushFG.

Strengths

"The team is very knowledgeable about the venture market."

"Lowenstein's practitioners are extremely responsive and proactive in their communications and they have excellent legal knowledge."

Work highlights Lowenstein Sandler LLP represented Aquiline Capital Partners in the Series B financing of Valera Health.

Notable practitioners

Edward Zimmerman is acclaimed for his work on behalf of technology companies in financing matters. Strengths: "He is a wonderful thought-partner. He's very good at quarterbacking large complex transactions and bringing to bear his expertise into a matter."

Morrison Foerster

What the team is known for Morrison Foerster handles the full spectrum of transactional work throughout the development of startups, across such diverse technology subsectors as renewable energy and life sciences. The team is notable for its strong investor-side practice, both within the USA and internationally, with a unique focus in the area of impact investing.

Strengths

"The team is able to guide clients through very complex issues."

"Its practitioners are always very responsive and look out for the company's best interests."

"The group is very commercial and sophisticated when handling complex matters."

Work highlights Morrison Foerster advised Verkada on its $205m Series D financing.

Notable practitioners

Michael Glaser (see p.1024)'s venture capital practice centers around fundraising work with hi-tech industries. His clients include software producers and financial organizations. Strengths: "He's an excellent lawyer." Murray Indick (see p.1033) guides emerging companies through their life cycle as well as acting for notable venture capital investors. Strengths: "He's an amazing lawyer." "Murray is exceptional – he has vast and deep experience." "He's practical in his approach, responsive and very experienced."

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie LLP counsels across a full range of corporate and IP issues in the consumer technology domain, with an emphasis on financial services regulatory advice in relation to fintech startups. Its typical work includes equity financing deals, exit transactions and board management advice, as well as data security and privacy concerns. The department represents clients from the software, computer sciences and telecommunications sectors, with expertise in autonomous vehicles.

Strengths

"Perkins Coie's group provides with timely and reliable advice on complex matters."

"The team has exceptional depth and breadth."

"Perkins Coie has a deep bench of skilled lawyers."

Work highlights Perkins Coie LLP represented Sourcemap in its $20m Series B financing.

Notable practitioners

Fiona Brophy is firm-wide co-chair of the firm's emerging companies and venture capital practice. She has experience advising clients through all aspects of the startups life cycle, including venture capital financing. Strengths: "She is available, responsive and provides excellent advice." "Fiona is very knowledgeable, practical and responsive." Lee Schindler (see p.692) is an experienced attorney who advises technology and life science companies on a range of issues, including on early-stage financing rounds. Strengths: "Lee has deep and impressive subject matter expertise and is business-savvy."

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP boasts an established team that is well regarded for its startups and emerging companies practice, representing technology clients across the United States. It is noted for its expertise across all aspects of formation and financing, as well as for its strength in a range of corporate matters. The team possesses significant expertise in the semiconductor and software sectors.

Strengths

"Pillsbury's team is both incredibly efficient and has a deep knowledge of the space."

Work highlights Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw LLP represented Nomad Health in a $105 million financing co-led by Adams Street Partners and Icon Ventures.

Notable practitioners

Ronald Fleming, leader of the emerging companies team in New York, is adept at assisting emerging companies in the technology and life sciences space. He advises clients on funding rounds and investments. Strengths: "Ronald is a really good lawyer."

WilmerHale

What the team is known for WilmerHale is well regarded for advising venture capital investors and startup companies, with a key affinity for both IP and general corporate advice. It is particularly strong in the Boston market and capable of guiding an emerging business from inception all the way to sale or IPO, typically drawing clients from the life sciences and breakthrough technology fields.

Strengths

"WilmerHale has an expert in every area."

"The team has incredible responsiveness."

Work highlights WilmerHale advised Wellington Management in its $238 million Series E investment into SeatGeek.

Notable practitioners

Michael Bain is routinely retained by startup tech companies seeking guidance in venture capital transactions. Strengths: "He works efficiently and is great at working through a number of issues." "He's an incredible sounding board." Jason Kropp advises a broad range of clients including startups, investors and venture capital funds. He is capable of advising both sponsor and company clients on matters beyond venture capital financings, such as fund formation and later-stage M&A. Strengths: "Jason is an experienced adviser with deep and broad understanding of the biotech industry." "He's fantastic and he gives very practical advice." "Jason is very strategic with his negotiation approach." Edwin Thom Rumberger is noted for his strength in providing counsel to venture capital funds, investors and startups on issues concerning the medical and construction industry. Strengths: "He's a go-to lawyer for us. He goes above and beyond for us and is super responsive and is super flexible with his billing, knowing we're a startup." "He's been exceptional."

Gary Schall, cochair of the emerging company and venture capital practice, assists companies throughout their life cycle, from seed financings to exits. Strengths: "He is incredibly knowledgeable, thoughtful, direct and highly passionate about what he does." "His work is extraordinary." "His raw intellect and legal prowess is exceptional."

Band 4

Dentons

What the team is known for Dentons is a highly respected team renowned for considerable experience in the startups market. It is particularly adept in investments in the technology space and called upon by both early-stage companies and venture capital firms. The department has considerable experience of handling matters that are cross-border in nature, garnering strength from its global presence.

Strengths

"Dentons is a fantastic firm. The team is super responsive and great to work with."

"It's a very good firm."

Work highlights Dentons represented LL Funds in the Series B financing for Picket Houses.

Notable practitioners

Victor Boyajian represents a range of emerging companies as well as funds active in the technology sectors including fintech. Strengths: "Victor is a very good lawyer who is prominent in the space." Christopher Errico regularly acts for emerging companies in transactions involving venture capital funds and angel investors. Strengths: "Chris is a great lawyer."

Mintz

What the team is known for Mintz is a well-known and respected outfit with a strong offering in the startups and emerging companies space. The team regularly handles a range of matters including early to late stage financing rounds, mergers and acquisitions, IPOs, and general corporate advice. Mintz is well known for its representations of venture capital investors as well as venture-backed companies in the healthcare, life sciences and technology sectors.

Strengths

"Mintz has a strong team."

"The firm is highly responsive and available to provide bespoke service."

Work highlights Mintz provided counsel to SYN Ventures on a Series A extension financing round into Sevco Security.

Notable practitioners

Joshua Fox is recognized for his expertise in acting on seed and early-stage financings for emerging companies. Strengths: "Josh is fantastic. He always provides great, commercial advice." "He does an incredible job on matters." Laurence Naughton routinely advises companies from the life sciences, financial and technology sectors from their formation through to financing rounds. He provides counsel on a broad spectrum of issues, including financing and M&A matters. Strengths: "Larry is incredibly responsive, thoughtful, and knowledgeable." Alexander Civetta routinely represents early-stage companies in seeking seed funding. Strengths: "He is an outstanding attorney who is super helpful." "His experience is exceptional and his responsiveness couldn't be better."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP assists both investors and emerging companies across a diverse array of legal disciplines, such as financing, IP and tax, with a focus on the life sciences and technology sectors. The team is able to advise on transactions at all stages of a company's life cycle, from inception through angel and venture financing to IPO. It brings to bear an international network of legal professionals, both throughout the USA and overseas in Asia, the Middle East and Europe. The department is particularly active in the areas of renewable energy, fintech and healthcare and life sciences.

Strengths

"The team is excellent; the lawyers are well connected and super responsive."

"The group are a pleasure to work with. They're very practical and very commercial."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP represented SandboxAQ in its $500m Series D financing.

Notable practitioners

Andrew Hamilton is well respected for his practice representing emerging companies in venture capital financing and acquisitions. Strengths: "He's an excellent lawyer."

Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP

What the team is known for Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP has a distinguished team of practitioners with considerable experience of handling cross-border issues. The department maintains an enviable client base drawn from the growing community of start-ups and scale-ups in the Southeastern USA. It also boasts key relationships with venture capital funds and companies across the nation.

Strengths

"The team handles a variety of issues with great effect."

"Nelson Mullins is strong in handling complex and sophisticated matters and provides sound advice."

"The firm has a large team staffed with different industry experts."

"The group is very strong."

Work highlights Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough advised Digibee on its $60m Series B financing.

Notable practitioners

Leandro Molina routinely acts for startups in the technology sector on financing rounds, with a focus on fintech emerging companies. Strengths: "Leandro is a great attorney with a lot of experience and a great turnaround speed." As part of his broader transactional practice, George Akers regularly represents growth companies in venture financing transactions. He has particular experience advising companies and investors in the healthcare, technology and software sectors. Strengths: "George is great to work with." "George is very responsive and very meticulous." Rebecca Lester (see p.621) advises companies on financings and general corporate matters. She boasts notable strength in handling cross-border transactions, especially in Latin America.

Band 5

Foley & Lardner LLP

What the team is known for Foley & Lardner's practice group is well regarded for its representation of life sciences and technology companies. The firm regularly assists early-stage companies and venture funds on financings, including seed and Series A, B and C financings.

Strengths

"Foley's team is extremely responsive."

"Foley & Lardner's team enters complex matters with a nuanced sense of all issues."

"The firm has experts to provide clarity and to simplify the complex."

"The team is outstanding – they are agile and approachable."

Work highlights Foley & Lardner represented TCGX as lead investor in its $100m Series B financing of Versanis Bio.

Notable practitioners

Natasha Allen, Lisa Conmy and David Kantaros are key contacts.

Foley Hoag LLP

What the team is known for Foley Hoag has a well-regarded startup practice which regularly advises early-stage companies on formations, corporate governance and financings. The team's clients stem from a wide array of sectors, including the energy, technology and cannabis industries.

Notable practitioners

Peter Rosenblum focuses his practice on advising private equity sponsors on significant transactions and investments. His emerging company clients stem from the technology, energy and life sciences sectors.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig's team maintains a strong emerging companies department. The group regularly advises companies and venture capital funds on early-stage financings, from seed through to Series A, B and C. The team boasts strength in handling issues containing cross-border elements.

Strengths

"Greenberg Traurig's team has incredible depth of experience."

"The firm has a deep bench of attorneys."

"Its practitioners have deep knowledge and experience."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented White Lion Capital in its investment in Tempo Automation.

Notable practitioners

Emily Ladd-Kravitz, cochair of the venture capital and emerging companies technology group, is notably adept at providing guidance on financings and corporate governance issues. Strengths: "Emily is very thorough, responsive, smart and well versed in the space."

Katten

What the team is known for Katten represents both investors and high-growth companies in financing matters across a multitude of industries, including the life science and technology sectors.

The department is proficient in aiding startup companies throughout their life cycle from inception to IPO. Its expertise in the emerging companies space is bolstered by strength in matters of IP and tax.

Strengths

"The group is exceptionally good at providing speed and thoughtfulness on deals."

"Katten's team is very strong in all areas."

Work highlights Katten represented SomPriya Fine Spirits, as issuer, in a $15 million Series C round led by Cleveland Avenue through a unit purchase.

Notable practitioners

Head of department Matthew Brown is adept at providing counsel to businesses and investors on various financing transactions, securities and regulatory concerns. Strengths: "He is incredibly intelligent and provides sound counsel on issues." "A very seasoned attorney who really cares about his clients." Jeffrey Patt is routinely called upon by investors and startup organizations to handle a range of transactions spanning from seed to later-stage financings. Strengths: "Jeffrey is efficient, effective and easy to deal with." Chicago-based associate Fabiola Valenzuela has broad experience assisting clients on early series fundraisings. Her clients include both emerging companies and investors. Strengths: "Fabiola is a fantastic lawyer." "She's a pleasure to work with."

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding has a highly regarded startups and venture capital team. Working with emerging companies in the technology, life sciences and food sectors, the team advises on general corporate matters, and early-stage financings.

Strengths

"King & Spalding has a great team."

"The firm has a very deep bench of subject matter experts to draw upon."

Work highlights King & Spalding advised Kiyatec, a cancer modeling company, in its $18m Series C financing.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Knox, global cochair of the technology practice group, is a key contact.

Morris, Manning & Martin, LLP

What the team is known for Morris, Manning & Martin boasts a strong practice in the space. The team routinely demonstrates its ability to advising emerging companies and venture funds on financings across the life cycle of a company. The group handles issues across a wide spectrum of industries, such as the technology, financial and transport sectors.

Strengths

"The team is super sharp."

"The firm is excellent at getting to the most salient points in complex situations."

"The group has multiple points of contact that can provide expert guidance in a wide variety of disciplines."

Work highlights Morris, Manning & Martin represented Iralogix in its $22 million Series C funding.

Notable practitioners

Nick Foreste of Morris, Manning & Martin is noted for his experience in acting on early-stage financings for technology companies and funds.

Strengths: "He's super commercial and really responsive." "Nick is an outstanding lawyer; he's extremely practical and knowledgeable. He knows how to get deals completed as efficiently and effectively as possible."

Nixon Peabody LLP

What the team is known for Nixon Peabody LLP has a robust startups and emerging companies team which is known for its extensive representations of early-stage companies. The team is especially adept at handling seed and early-series funding rounds as well as mergers and acquisitions of later-stage companies.

Strengths

"The team is very helpful, personable, attentive and quick to respond."

Work highlights Nixon Peabody LLP represented Cedars-Sinai Health Ventures as the lead investor in its Series A financing of RhythmScience.

Notable practitioners

Allan Cohen (see p.528) is the managing partner of Nixon Peabody's Long Island office. He frequently represents a range of clients in early-stage financings and later-stage acquisitions.

Strengths: "Allan is an excellent lawyer." Jason Chimon (see p.525) is notable for his strong practice representing a range of early-stage companies throughout their life cycle, including with seed financing and structuring issues.

Reitler Kailas & Rosenblatt LLP

What the team is known for Reitler Kailas & Rosenblatt's group is highlighted for its ability to provide strong counsel to both funds and emerging companies. The team is notably adept at handling financings and has the capacity to support organizations throughout their life cycle.

Strengths

"Reitler Kailas has really good lawyers."

Notable practitioners

Edward Reitler is a key contact at the firm.

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray's emerging companies and venture capital practice advises both startups and funds. The team has particular expertise in the life sciences sector. The firm advises on general corporate matters as well as on financings.

Strengths

"Ropes & Gray contains subject matter experts that are very efficient."

"The caliber of Ropes & Gray's team on every matter is exceptional."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray represented TRexBio in a multi-year research collaboration and exclusive worldwide license agreement with Eli Lilly and Company.

Notable practitioners

Bradford Flint (see p.2016) of Ropes & Gray is the cochair of the emerging companies and venture capital practice. He routinely advises high-growth companies and venture capital funds across a range of fields including life sciences, technology and healthcare. Strengths: "Bradford is excellent on all fronts." "He is extremely bright and always provides advice with our best interests in mind."

Silicon Legal Strategy, A Professional Corporation

What the team is known for Silicon Legal Strategy is a renowned startup-focused boutique. The team regularly represents early stage companies in early-stage funding rounds. Its practitioners are also experienced in handling a range of general corporate matters on behalf of clients.

Strengths

"Silicon Legal Strategy is a highly regarded firm."

Notable practitioners

Founder Andre Gharakhanian is a key contact at the firm.

Troutman Pepper

What the team is known for Troutman Pepper contains a well-regarded startup team. The group regularly advises emerging companies in the technology and the life sciences sectors. The firm assists on angel and seed funding rounds. Its practitioners also boast notable strength in handling Series A, B and C financings.

Strengths

"Troutman Pepper are expert in this area and provide prompt guidance as questions arise."

"They are high-quality, responsive, well informed and think like business people; they're our favorite attorneys."

"We work with Troutman Pepper because of their breadth of expertise both in the US and abroad."

Work highlights Troutman Pepper represented Palvella Therapeutics, a late clinical-stage bio-pharmaceutical company, in its $37.7m Series D preferred stock financing."

Notable practitioners

Thomas Dwyer (see p.545) is a highly regarded startups lawyer who advises emerging companies and venture funds early-stage financings. He serves as co-head of the department. Strengths: "He's very strong technically, personable and approachable." "Thomas is a pragmatic lawyer."

Other Ranked Lawyers

The Baltimore-based Asher Rubin (see p.685) of Sidley Austin LLP represents a range of clients in the life and biomedical sciences sector in early series venture investments. Strengths: "Asher is an outstanding lawyer."

Elizabeth Sigety (see p.701) of Fox Rothschild has strength supporting early-stage companies, venture firms and angel groups in a range of mid-to late-stage financings and IPOs. Strengths: "Elizabeth brings great insight to matters and she is a pleasure to work with."

David Sorin of Brown Rudnick represents emerging companies from several tech-heavy industries, including software developers. He also acts for venture capital sponsors in early-stage financings and fund formation. Strengths: "I've had nothing but tremendous experiences with David."

Jared Sorin of Brown Rudnick has a burgeoning practice in the space. His clients include venture funds and startup organizations. He has considerable experience of handling early-stage financ-ings and formation issues. Strengths: “Jared is easy to work with and very knowledgeable.” “His advice is thoughtful and considerate of his clients’ needs.”

Tax Controversy Nationwide

Tax: Controversy
Leading Firms
Band 1
Baker McKenzie
Latham & Watkins LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Band 2
Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Chamberlain Hrdlicka
Kostelanetz LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Band 3
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Hochman Salkin Toscher Perez P.C.
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Miller & Chevalier Chartered
Band 4
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Steptoe LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Band 5
Baker Botts L.L.P.
BakerHostetler LLP
Covington & Burling LLP
Crowell & Moring LLP
Fenwick
Holland & Knight LLP
Jones Day
Kirkland & Ellis
White & Case LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Tax: Controversy
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Aughtry David D Chamberlain Hrdlicka	Hall Charles W. Norton Rose Fulbright (ORL) ◇
Fuller James P Fenwick	Libin Jerome B Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Goldberg Jr Fred T Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher *	Parker Emily A Holland & Knight LLP
	Rosenbloom H David Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Fisher Miriam L Latham & Watkins LLP *	Kittle-Kamp Thomas L Mayer Brown LLP *
Madan Raj Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *	Linguanti Thomas V Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Oates Mark A Baker McKenzie	Verdolini Mario Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Webber A Duane Baker McKenzie *	Band 4
Williamson Joel V Mayer Brown LLP *	Akins Sean Covington & Burling LLP *
Band 2	Boylan Kim Marie White & Case LLP
Desmond Michael Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *	Brackney Megan L Kostelanetz LLP *
Gerachis George Matthew Vinson & Elkins LLP	Fischer David Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *
Gomez Armando Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *	Frewing Scott H Baker McKenzie
Keneally Kathryn Jones Day	Friedman Jeffrey A Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *
Kenworthy Kevin Miller & Chevalier Chartered *	Gregor Kat Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP *
Kittle Brian W. Mayer Brown LLP *	Husseini Richard A Kirkland & Ellis LLP *
Lerner Matthew D Sidley Austin LLP (ORL) ◇ *	Jones Maria Miller & Chevalier Chartered *
Pakenham Kathleen M Vinson & Elkins LLP	Kovacev Robert Miller & Chevalier Chartered *
Pawlow Jean A Latham & Watkins LLP *	Marshall S Starling Crowell & Moring LLP
Reemer Ellis L DLA Piper LLP (US)	McManus Brian Latham & Watkins LLP *
Rizek Christopher Holland & Knight LLP	McNulty Mary A Holland & Knight LLP
Stark Sanford W Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP *	Mersereau Dwight Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *
Band 3	Otero Kevin Covington & Burling LLP *
Bowers Chris Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *	Paul Sarah E Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP *
Ciraolo Caroline D. Kostelanetz LLP *	Porter John Baker Botts L.L.P. *
Dillon Sheri A Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP	Up-and-coming individuals
Erbsen Diana DLA Piper LLP (US)	Federico Carina Crowell & Moring LLP
Hani George Miller & Chevalier Chartered	Hunter Juliana Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Hill Lawrence Steptoe LLP	Tidwell Royce L Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom *
Kaplan Barbara T Greenberg Traurig, LLP (ORL) ◇	Wirtz Adriana Vinson & Elkins LLP *

The editorial is in alphabetical order by firm name.

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. offers a respected tax practice with significant experience acting for clients in a wide range of tax controversy litigation. Frequently represents clients from the technology, financial services and energy sectors. Noted for its SALT practice as well as its strength in estate tax disputes.

Strengths

“They are fantastic; smart, practical, helpful and very thoughtful in the way they work.”

“The team is incredibly responsive and proactive in keeping clients up to date.”

Work highlights Baker Botts L.L.P. represented

Archrock before the Oklahoma Tax Commission in protesting an unexpected multimillion dollar sales-tax assessment arising from a multi-year sales-and-use tax audit that reversed course on the taxability of natural-gas compression services.

Notable practitioners

John Porter (see p.671) is notable for his experience representing clients in IRS proceedings involving gift and estate tax disputes.

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler LLP is a significant national firm with experience acting across a full range of controversy matters, including audits, tax credit disputes and regulatory compliance. Notable strength in both domestic and cross-border tax litigation. Offers further expertise acting in the US Tax Court as well as handling proceedings in federal appellate courts and the US Supreme Court.

Strengths

“They have a very high ability to efficiently handle complex matters.”

“BakerHostetler can handle a wide variety of subjects within the tax space.”

Work highlights BakerHostetler LLP represented Stingray Pressure Pumping in a use tax appeal to the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Jeffrey Paravano is a key contact.

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie is a leading firm with notable national and interna-

Tax: Fraud
Leading Firms
Band 1
Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Chamberlain Hrdlicka
Freeman Law
Hochman Salkin Toscher Perez P.C.
Kostelanetz LLP
Marcus Neiman Rashbaum & Pineiro LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Bruton, III James A. Williams & Connolly LLP (ORL) ♦
Fink Robert S Akin (ORL) ♦
Namorato Cono R Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Agostino Frank Agostino & Associates (ORL) ♦
Campagna Larry A Chamberlain Hrdlicka
Ciraolo Caroline D. Kostelanetz LLP*
Keneally Kathryn Jones Day
Matthews Mark E Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Michel Scott D Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered
Skarlatos Bryan C. Kostelanetz LLP*
Toscher Steven Hochman Salkin Toscher Perez P.C.
Band 2
Brackney Megan L. Kostelanetz LLP*
Freeman Jason B. Freeman Law*
Nanavati Jay R. Kostelanetz LLP*
Neiman Jeffrey Marcus Neiman Rashbaum & Pineiro*
Ostrander Thomas W Duane Morris LLP (ORL) ♦*
Paul Sarah E Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP*
* Indicates individual with profile.
♦ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

tional strength. Renowned for its sophisticated controversy work across a range of matters, including transfer pricing and audits. Offers a number of partners with significant government experience, including alumni of the IRS and DOJ. Acts for household names such as technology, aerospace and hospitality clients. Equally capable of representing both multinational corporations and individuals.

Strengths

"Baker's advice is timely, thorough, practical and thoughtful. They provide top-shelf advice, and we trust them with our most important matters."

Work highlights Baker McKenzie were successful in obtaining a partial summary judgment for FedEx in a challenge to the validity of a US Treasury regulation.

Notable practitioners

Mark Oates is an experienced tax controversy practitioner with additional expertise in white-collar criminal defense. He has notable expertise in matters with cross-border elements. Duane Webber (see p.731) has deep expertise in tax controversy litigation and appeals, and boasts a client roster that includes major manufacturing companies. He is adept at handling complex matters with international components. Strengths: "He is a strong and collegial lawyer." Scott Frewing is an experienced tax partner who advises clients on transfer pricing, audits and controversy matters both domestically and abroad.

Caplin & Drysdale, Chartered

What the team is known for Caplin & Drysdale is a well-regarded tax boutique with an impressive bench fielding expertise across both civil and criminal proceedings. Experienced in handling audits, voluntary disclosures and criminal inquiries. Regularly acts for clients including leading financial institutions in cross-border disputes such as transfer pricing cases. Strong profile for its representation of US clients with offshore bank accounts. Offers notable experience in the US, Brazilian, Australian and European markets.

Notable practitioners

Cono Namorato is an acknowledged leader in tax controversy law, and brings decades of experience handling a wide variety of issues for individual and corporate clients. David Rosenbloom is an esteemed tax controversy attorney and is highlighted for his expertise in international disputes. Mark Matthews is lauded for the depth and breadth of his expertise in criminal tax disputes, and offers particular experience in cross-border matters. Scott Michel is an experienced counselor to prominent individuals and companies facing criminal tax investigations and related civil proceedings.

Chamberlain Hrdlicka

What the team is known for Chamberlain Hrdlicka fields a respected practice, recognized for its notable state and federal tax litigation practice, which includes criminal proceedings, IRS audits and civil fraud. Regularly acts before federal appellate courts and the US Supreme Court. Expertise covers transfer pricing disputes. Acts for clients such as high net worth individuals, manufacturers and healthcare companies. Houses a number of former IRS and DOJ attorneys.

Strengths

"They have been excellent in helping us through each stage of the dispute process, and very responsive to any questions or concerns that we had."

"The firm has a special strength in the area of tax litigation and enjoys an excellent national reputation in that regard."

"They're excellent tax attorneys. They understood the issues and did a terrific job representing me."

Notable practitioners

David Aughtry draws upon his experience working for the IRS to advise clients facing tax controversy issues and Tax Court litigation. Larry Campagna represents clients in all aspects of criminal tax matters, including grand jury investigations and IRS assessments.

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP is a recognized tax controversy practice with a strong track record acting for individuals and corporations in high-profile disputes. Represents clients in IRS audits and appeals, as well as in the courts. Client base includes a number of household names from a wide range of industries, including technology and sport.

Work highlights Covington represented Amazon.com in litigation involving a state sales tax matter concerning the obligation to collect and remit sales tax on sales by third-parties using an online marketplace.

Notable practitioners

Sean Akins (see p.489) is highly regarded for his tax litigation practice. He regularly represents clients before the IRS, as well as in the US Tax Court. Strengths: "He is very easy to work with and has a good knack for taking complex issues apart and explaining them in a way that is easy to understand." Kevin Otero (see p.659) is highly thought of for the quality of his tax controversy practice, which incorporates experience in significant disputes and investigations.

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring LLP has a respected tax controversy practice that represents clients before the IRS and state tax courts. The team advises clients on a wide range of controversy work, transfer pricing issues and appeals.

Strengths

"It is a talented team."

Work highlights Crowell & Moring LLP represented Express Scripts in tax litigation concerning the domestic production activities deduction and other matters.

Notable practitioners

Starling Marshall focuses her practice on tax controversy issues and is experienced in litigation before both the state and federal courts. Strengths: "She has a really good demeanor and works well with clients. Starling is really spectacular." Carina Federico is an up-and-coming tax controversy attorney. Her practice focuses on a range of matters from IRS audits to litigation. Strengths: "She is hard-working and well respected." "She is very on top of things and very smart."

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper LLP possesses notable civil and criminal tax expertise with impressive international capabilities. Advises clients on a full range of tax controversy matters spanning audits, appeals and litigation. Offers additional experience in SALT controversy matters. Diverse client roster includes the charity, financial services and food producer sectors, as well as high net worth individuals.

Strengths

"They have a strong ability to handle complex tax issues."

"DLA shows particular acumen in anticipating positions of tax authorities."

"They provide exceptional support for complex multinational issues."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP represented YA Global in an ongoing case concerning claims that the offshore investors in the fund had income effectively connected with a US trade or business.

Notable practitioners

Ellis Reemer is a tax litigator with experience in state, federal and international disputes. He frequently defends clients in audits and fraud, among other matters. Diana Erbsen draws upon impressive government experience to represent clients in a broad range of tax controversy disputes. Strengths: "Diana is a very intelligent and capable practitioner.” “Diana is an excellent tax practitioner when it comes to controversy matters.”

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland LLP offers a longstanding tax litigation practice that houses an experienced bench of former IRS attorneys. Particularly adept at insurer representation and state and local tax disputes. Frequently appears before state, federal and administrative courts across the country on high-value controversies. Regularly advises large multinational corporations including Fortune 100 companies. Sector expertise covers e-commerce, technology and telecommunications.

Strengths

“I can always rely on the Eversheds team to get me a thorough answer to my question in a timely manner.”

“The combination of technical, procedural and strategic experience and knowledge is exceptional.”

“They were easy to work with and very professional.”

Work highlights Eversheds Sutherland represented Verizon against the New York State Department of Taxation, which alleged that Verizon owed more than $12 million in gross receipts taxes relative to digital subscriber line and fiber broadband services.

Notable practitioners

Jerome Libin is held in high regard for his work representing major multinational corporations in complex tax controversy disputes. David Fischer (see p.554) is noted for his expertise in tax litigation. He is regularly called upon to represent high net worth individuals and large corporations in various disputes at both a federal and state level.

Strengths: “He has excellent communication skills and a calm and collected demeanor.” “David does a great job of digging into the technical details and getting to the right answer.” Jeffrey Friedman (see p.1324) is widely considered an expert in state and local tax controversy matters. Dwight Mersereau (see p.1347) of Eversheds Sutherland LLP represents his clients in significant tax controversy matters at all types of proceedings. Strengths: “Dwight is a reliable wealth of information, strategy and vision.” Sarah Paul (see p.665) draws on her experience as an Assistant US Attorney to advise clients on a wide range of tax controversy matters. She provides additional expertise in tax fraud matters. Strengths: “Sarah Paul is super sharp.”

Fenwick

What the team is known for Fenwick is a respected West Coast firm with notable skill in domestic and international tax controversy. Brings broad experience in transfer pricing and tax planning-related issues. Further knowledge in corporate and finance disputes as well as state and local tax matters.

Strengths

“Fenwick is a trusted partner. They go above and beyond to support.”

Notable practitioners

James Fuller is a well-regarded tax practitioner and frequently represents large companies in federal tax matters. He is especially noted for his expertise in transfer pricing litigation.

Freeman Law

What the team is known for Freeman Law is a Texas-based boutique with a strong reputation for criminal tax defense. Sought after by both individuals and organizations in disputes with the IRS. Noted for experience in both domestic and cross-border disputes.

Work highlights Freeman Law represented Optimal Wireless in connection with their suing for declaratory judgment and violations of the Anti-Injunction Act related to assessments of the Employer Share Responsibility Payment related to the Affordable Care Act’s Internal Revenue Code provisions

Notable practitioners

Jason Freeman (see p.3222) is highly regarded for his experience in civil and criminal disputes. He acts for clients in IRS audits and advises on regulatory matters, drawing on his background as a CPA.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP has a well-regarded group of tax litigators who advise a broad range of clients in domestic and cross-border tax disputes. The team regularly works on IRS audits and transfer pricing issues, among other matters.

Strengths

“The team performs well. They are diligent, comprehensive and effective.”

“It is clear that responsiveness is a high priority for Gibson. They provide useful and practical suggestions in viewing the project as a whole.”

“The team offers an excellent combination of tax technical expertise partnered with seasoned litigators.”

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP continued to represent The Coca-Cola Company in a transfer pricing case which consisted of $10 billion in income adjustments and approximately $3.5 billion in income tax deficiencies.

Notable practitioners

Michael Desmond (see p.540) advises high-profile clients on tax litigation and disputes matters nationwide. He serves as the practice cochair. Strengths: “He is very smart, strategic and knowledgeable of tax law.” “His knowledge of complex matters is incredibly valuable. He is responsive and insightful.” Sanford Stark (see p.1366) frequently represents household-name clients in tax controversy disputes and offers particular expertise in transfer pricing matters. Strengths: “He is very comprehensive and good with simplifying complex issues in front of varied audiences.” “He understands the business challenges and can distill the overall review into key takeaways.”

Hochman Salkin Toscher Perez P.C.

What the team is known for Hochman Salkin Toscher Perez P.C. is a respected Beverly Hills tax boutique with recognized controversy expertise at both state and federal level. Bench offers deep governmental experience and additional strength in criminal tax disputes. Broad client base includes public companies and high net worth individuals.

Notable practitioners

Steven Toscher is a well-regarded tax practitioner who advises clients on sensitive issues, including criminal tax fraud investigations.

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP offers a well thought-of team with international and domestic tax expertise. Sought after by high-profile clients for matters including refunds, exclusions and tax credits.

Strengths

“They are extremely well skilled. The practical advice they have given us is super helpful.”

“They have an exceptional wealth of knowledge in this area.”

“We have been overwhelmingly impressed with their quality of counsel and their practical application of it. Their commercial acumen is another attribute which we find helpful and useful.”

Notable practitioners

Emily Parker is regularly called upon to represent individuals and companies in complex tax litigation, offering particular expertise in the energy sector. Christopher Rizek is considered an expert tax controversy litigator and brings experience in matters including captive insurance disputes and foreign asset reporting issues. Mary McNulty has experience in a variety of tax controversy matters, from audits to bankruptcy-related disputes.

Strengths: “She is very sharp and is relentless.”

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day boasts a strong team with significant experience representing clients in high-stakes tax litigation. Acts for a variety of clients, including high net worth individuals and large multinational corporations across a range of sectors. Also noted for its capabilities in criminal tax issues and is able to draw on the firm’s white-collar defense practice for further support.

Notable practitioners

Kathryn Keneally is noted for her defense of clients in civil and criminal tax disputes and frequently acts on investigations for clients including high net worth individuals and multinational companies. Strengths: “Kathy is very strong technically and in devising forward strategy.” Kathy has been extremely responsive. She’s a strong strategic thinker.”

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis’ tax controversy team advise their clients across a variety of issues, from IRS audits to litigation. It has experience before both the state and federal court, representing a range of clients, such as private equity and retail firms.

Work highlights Kirkland advised Darling Ingredients in connection with a dispute with the sellers of Valley Protein regarding computation of a tax benefit in connection with the sale.

Notable practitioners

Richard Hussein (see p.3234) is noted for his expertise in IRS audits, litigation and related appellate matters.

Kostelanetz LLP

What the team is known for Kostelanetz LLP maintains its reputation as an expert tax boutique with significant strength in criminal proceedings.

Also noted for its experience in civil fraud matters. Supports a variety of clients including high net worth individuals and major corporates.

Work highlights Kostelanetz LLP served as tax counsel to First Hawaiian Bank in connection with tax-related fiduciary obligations, applicable periods of limitations, potential tax liabilities and penalties, and impact of Federal Priority Act, 31 USC 3713.

Notable practitioners

Bryan Skarlatos (see p.703) draws widespread acclaim for his work defending both companies and individuals facing a wide variety of complex criminal tax allegations. Jay Nanavati (see p.651) offers notable experience defending clients in all stages of criminal tax proceedings. Caroline Ciraolo (see p.526) offers impressive governmental experience and is recognized for her adept representation of clients in high-profile criminal tax cases. Megan Brackney (see p.511) is well regarded for her handling of both civil and criminal tax controversy issues. She acts for clients in federal district courts as well as the US Tax Court.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP offers an extensive tax controversy practice which is regularly retained to handle major US Tax Court disputes. Also noted for its experience in high-value claims brought before state and federal appeal courts. Additional focus on multi-jurisdictional fraud investigations. An impressive geographical footprint ensures the team is active in all major US markets, with recent successes on behalf of clients in the technology, media and financial services sectors, among others. Able to draw on expertise from strong benefits, white-collar and appellate practices to support on multi-disciplinary matters.

Work highlights Latham represented Netflix in 15 putative class action lawsuits brought by various US cities alleging that Netflix owes franchise fees.

Notable practitioners

Miriam Fisher (see p.1323) chairs the firm's tax controversy group and draws widespread praise for her extensive experience in tax litigation and related appeals. Strengths: "Miriam is incredibly good at simplifying complex issues and statements, which helps for strategy." Jean Pawlow (see p.665) offers notable expertise in federal and international tax litigation and garners praise for her experience in transfer pricing and state tax issues. Brian McManus (see p.639) is increasingly recognized for his work advising clients on a wide range of tax controversy matters. He acts for clients from a variety of industries, including technology and financial services.

Marcus Neiman Rashbaum & Pineiro LLP

What the team is known for Marcus Neiman Rashbaum & Pineiro LLP boasts a highly regarded team sought after for expertise in both international and domestic tax disputes. Noted for high-value tax disputes including IRS enforcement, refunds and disallowances. Additional expertise in whistle-blower tax matters.

Work highlights Marcus Neiman Rashbaum & Pineiro LLP represented Moore Ingram Johnson & Steele LLP in litigation over an IRS summons issued in connection with a Section 6700 penalty investigation.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Neiman (see p.1486) defends individuals and companies involved in a broad range of tax disputes, including audits and investigations.

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP offers a highly accomplished practice with enviable experience in litigating high-stakes controversies before the US Tax Court. Further noted for its strength in international work such as transfer pricing disputes, and offers recognized strength in administrative appeals. Supported by tax offerings in its offices in Europe, South America and Asia. Includes large technology companies and consumer goods manufacturers on its impressive client roster. Also offers excellent state and local tax capabilities.

Strengths

"They are always responsive, organized and knowledgeable. They always exceed my expectations and have a strong sense of managing risk."

Work highlights Mayer Brown secured a retail sales tax exemption and $18.5 million tax refund for Landis+Gyr.

Notable practitioners

Joel Williamson (see p.1767) is widely considered a prominent tax controversy lawyer with deep experience in government litigation. Brian Kittle (see p.609) offers notable expertise representing major financial services companies in tax controversy disputes. Thomas Kittle-Kamp (see p.1736) has broad experience in tax disputes and transfer pricing issues, with clients including companies from the energy and medical sectors.

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery LLP is a strong presence in high-value tax disputes across the USA, fielding particular expertise in transfer pricing litigation and SALT work. Acts on behalf of major multinationals such as medical device manufacturers, oil and gas companies and financial institutions. Adeptly advises on base erosion and profit-sharing matters, as well as issues concerning the treatment of foreign earnings.

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery LLP represented Citgo Petroleum in two cases in the US tax court and federal district court in Texas, both of which address the issue of whether Citgo is entitled to hundreds of millions of dollars related to fuel excise taxes.

Notable practitioners

Catherine Battin and Timothy Shuman are key contacts.

Miller & Chevalier Chartered

What the team is known for Miller & Chevalier is highlighted for its comprehensive civil and criminal tax practice. Advises corporate entities and individual clients on investigations and enforcement proceedings involving matters such as cross-border tax compliance. Offers an outstanding track record in litigation before the US Tax Court and is also noted for its handling of appeals. Diverse industry expertise spans the energy, financial services, insurance and technology sectors, among others.

Strengths

"Their work was very thorough, very well supported and presented in a very effective manner."

"The firm has a strong bench of experts in a variety of areas. They are incredibly responsive and able to parse issues to identify solutions."

"The combination of the tax controversy expertise layered with the industry expertise has been incredibly valuable"

Work highlights Miller & Chevalier represented British Airways in three tax refund suits related to frequent-flyer miles.

Notable practitioners

Kevin Kenworthy (see p.605) is a noted tax litigator who has expertise in a variety of disputes, including tax refund and tax credit issues, and maintains an impressive client base which includes major energy companies. George Hani frequently acts on tax refund litigation for major energy organizations as part of a broader tax controversy practice. Maria Jones (see p.598) of Miller & Chevalier Chartered focuses her practice on tax controversy matters, IRS audits and tax litigation. Strengths: "Maria provides superior service on very complex and sophisticated matters. Her work product is exceptional and she is incredibly responsive." "She has strong communication skills and provides expert and candid advice."

Robert Kovacev (see p.613) is held in high regard for the quality of his representation in matters concerning tax controversy and tax litigation.

Strengths: "He brings some incredible experience and is responsive to requests."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP wins broad praise from market observers for its recent performance in the tax controversy space. Offers strength in high-stakes matters at both administrative and judicial court level, including notable expertise in transfer pricing and tax credit disputes. Also offers noted strength in partnership litigation matters. Especially well versed in risk assessment in the tax planning process and economic substance litigation. An impressive client roster includes multinational energy and medical device companies and tax-exempt organizations.

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP represented George Weiss Associates in a litigation docketed in the United States Tax Court. The case includes several issues of first impression, including the characterization of barrier option contracts.

Notable practitioners

Sheri Dillon leads on tax planning and controversy matters and advises clients on litigation for a range of business in the tax courts. Thomas Linguanti offers experience in tax controversy litigation and related appellate matters. His clients include household-name corporations as well as individuals.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP possesses market-leading strength across an impressive range of tax disputes, both in and out of the US Tax Court. Houses a deep bench of experts with a wealth of government experience. Attracts a raft of blue-chip corporations, including major retailers and insurers. Expertise extends to both trial and appellate cases, with frequent appearances in multi-judicial disputes. Has enviable experience defending large tax-related class actions.

Strengths

"The Skadden team has provided the highest level of responsiveness and service."

"The Skadden team approached a complex case with logic, strategic thinking and reasoned solutions."

"They're highly responsive, engaged and strategic."

Work highlights Skadden represented Amgen in connection with a transfer pricing case in the US Tax Court concerning the licensing of complex biopharmaceutical products from the United States to Amgen's Puerto Rican subsidiary.

Notable practitioners

Fred Goldberg (see p.1327) offers a wealth of experience representing an array of prominent clients involved in serious tax controversy disputes.

Raj Madan (see p.1343) is a highly regarded litigator with notable Tax Court experience and an enviable client roster that includes major global technology companies. Strengths: "Raj is a valued resource for his strategic insight and breadth of experience in respect of tax controversy."

Armando Gomez (see p.1327) wins praise from across the market for his representation of clients in Tax Court litigation, credit disputes and related appellate matters. Chris Bowers (see p.1310) maintains a varied practice which includes the representation of domestic and international clients in tax controversy matters. Kat Gregor (see p.574) offers substantial expertise acting for both individuals and corporations in complex tax disputes. A co-founder of the firm's tax controversy group, she has notable experience appearing before the US Tax Court and the US Court of Federal Claims.

Juliana Hunter (see p.591) is an up-and-coming practitioner who regularly handles tax disputes.

Royce Tidwell (see p.1369) is an up-and-coming attorney who regularly handles complex tax controversy matters. Strengths: "He is my top choice tax litigator for complex issues."

Steptoe LLP

What the team is known for Steptoe LLP houses a strong tax litigation practice that offers experience in handling high-value claims before state and federal judicial and administrative courts. Sector-specific experience pertaining to the energy, insurance, pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries, among others. Also noted for its international expertise.

Strengths

"They have deep experience and very current knowledge of the issues."

Work highlights Steptoe LLP represented Constellis Group in the US Tax Court over the issue of excise tax relating to an employee stock ownership plan.

Notable practitioners

Lawrence Hill has broad experience representing clients in tax litigation before the IRS and in federal and state courts. Strengths: "He is very knowledgeable and always willing to take a phone call. He provides great advice and is a great communicator." "He is technically superb and so knowledgeable. He knows all the details and brings a lot of gravitas."

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP fields a strong team noted for its expertise in domestic and cross-border tax law. The firm's controversy and litigation attorneys are experienced in a range of industries, including technology, financial services and energy.

Strengths

"We were very impressed by the advice from the team at V&E."

"They're very attentive and very knowledgeable."

"The team's responsiveness, knowledge and commercial approach is exceptional."

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins LLP represented S Crow Collateral Corp in connection with litigation against the United States, seeking punitive damages in connection with the unauthorized disclosure of confidential tax information.

Notable practitioners

George Matthew Gerachis heads the firm's tax group and is recognized for his experience in tax controversy litigation and related appeals.

Strengths: "He is very personable and easy to work with." "He was very strategic."

Kathleen Pakenham is noted for her representation of clients in a broad range of tax disputes, including all phases of litigation and related appellate proceedings. Strengths: "She is a master at her craft, with the experience to back it up." "Kathy is a trusted adviser. She is able to provide guidance and direction on complex and complicated matters with the company's best interest in mind." "Kathy is not only knowledgeable, but a pleasure to work with."

Adriana Wirtz (see p.736) is an up-and-coming tax controversy attorney based in Vinson & Elkins LLP's New York office. She represents her clients in a broad range of matters, including audit and litigation. Strengths: "Adriana is one of our trusted advisers. I always feel that she addresses our questions and concerns promptly and thoroughly. I am very impressed with her quick thinking and arguments." "Adriana is a pleasure to work with. She is always professional and delivers results." "She's extremely responsive and collaborative with strong tax controversy knowledge and experience."

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP is notably active in cross-border tax litigation, regularly appearing in transfer pricing disputes on behalf of clients such as financial institutions, investment companies and manufacturers. Strong civil controversy practice complemented by white-collar criminal defense expertise. Extensive experience on international tax disputes, drawing on the firm's impressive global network of offices.

Work highlights White & Case LLP served as co-counsel in consolidated cases in the US Tax Court involving two subsidiaries of Occidental Petroleum.

Notable practitioners

Kim Marie Boylan heads the firm's global tax group and offers notable experience litigating complex tax disputes. Clients may benefit from her expertise as a qualified CPA.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Frank Agostino is an experienced litigator with demonstrable expertise handling a broad range of criminal tax issues.

James Bruton is a highly experienced litigator who enjoys a stellar reputation in the world of civil and criminal tax defense.

Robert Fink is highly respected for his extensive expertise defending individuals facing major allegations of tax fraud.

Charles Hall offers decades of experience litigating cases in the tax controversy arena.

Barbara Kaplan is recognized by the market for her breadth of expertise in tax controversy. She co-chairs the firm's global tax group and offers notable skill representing both corporations and individuals.

Matthew Lerner (see p.620) frequently acts in tax litigation, audits and related appeals for a client base including companies within the technology and transportation sectors. Strengths: "Matt is a very bright and capable practitioner."

Thomas Ostrander (see p.2973) has a broad practice which encompasses federal and state investigations and complex litigation with the IRS.

Mario Verdolini (see p.727) leads the firm's tax litigation group and offers experience acting across a range of tax disputes including investigations and appeals. Strengths: "Mario has been a tremendous asset."

Tax Corporate & Finance Nationwide

Tax: Corporate & Finance
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP
Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP
Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP
Kirkland & Ellis
Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP
Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz
Band 2
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Latham & Watkins LLP
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP
Band 3
Baker McKenzie
Fenwick
Goodwin
Mayer Brown LLP
McDermott Will & Emery LLP
Ropes & Gray LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Band 4
Baker Botts L.L.P.
Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP
Covington & Burling LLP
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP
Jones Day
Milbank LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Proskauer Rose LLP
White & Case LLP
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP
Band 5
A&O Shearman
Akin
Alston & Bird LLP
Clifford Chance US LLP
Dechert LLP
DLA Piper LLP (US)
Miller & Chevalier Chartered
Paul Hastings LLP
Stephens LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

What the team is known for Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP attracts acclaim for its expert handling of complex capital markets and M&A transactions. Draws on strong global tax capabilities, offering notable experience in cross-border matters such as multinational joint ventures. Regularly acts for leading financial institutions and technology and pharmaceutical companies. Also noted for its strength in matters pertaining to the investment funds space, acting for a number of private equity funds and hedge funds. Advises major household name clients, including Google and 3M.

Strengths

"They are top of the pack in terms of excellence and responsiveness."

"Not only can they handle complex and sophisticated matters, but they can do so in compressed timeframes while maintaining a high quality."

"They had a lot of experience handling complex transactions."

Work highlights Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP represented Warburg Pincus in connection with the $8.9 billion sale of Summit Health-CityMD to VillageMD.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Meyer Fedida is a key contact.

Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP

What the team is known for Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP boasts a dominant tax practice that offers high-level expertise across an impressive range of transactions. Held out as a marquee name for public company M&A and capital markets transactions. Attracts high-value mandates from its broad client roster, which includes several high-profile media and technology companies. Offers noted strength in matters with a cross-border dimension. Expertise also covers private equity deals.

Strengths

"The Cravath team has significant depth in tax."

"They have a strong bench with experience across international and US corporate tax. We use Cravath for our most complex tax issues."

"They offer creative solutions to complex problems and a good partnership."

Work highlights Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP provided tax advice to WestRock Company in connection with its $20 billion combination with Smurfit Kappa Group.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Lauren Angelilli is a key contact.

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP

What the team is known for Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP is admired for its sophisticated work across the breadth of domestic and cross-border transactional tax issues. Notable expertise in counseling financial institutions on structured products offerings. Also highlighted for its strength advising on the structuring of complex formations such as spin-mergers. Additional strength in the tax aspects of real estate transactions and frequently acts for the largest international investment banks.

Strengths

"They are unsurpassed in responsiveness, creativity and execution. Their quality of service and responsiveness is the best of any firm I have ever worked with."

"The tax team at Davis Polk is always extremely knowledgeable in the matter at hand, and provides useful explanations and background which helps us assess risk."

"The team has a deep understanding of the subject matter and provide clear communication."

Work highlights Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP advised Livent on its all-stock merger of equals with Allkem, valuing the combined company at $10.6 billion.

Notable practitioners

New York-based David Schnabel is a key contact.

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is home to highly experienced practitioners noted for their expertise across a broad range of cross-border transactions, including restructurings and financings. Significant private equity capabilities complemented by its strong public company M&A practice. Particularly commended for providing tax advice in complex real estate transactions. Additional strength in ancillary areas such as executive compensation. Works with clients such as pension funds, energy companies and car makers.

Strengths

"They have a strong sense of what's market, and have great client service. They can tailor advice appropriately to what you need."

"The team is thoughtful and respectful. They are experts in their subject matter and they have a strong sense of what is commercial. The teams have great client service and tailor advice appropriately to what you need."

"The Kirkland & Ellis tax team is absolutely superb. They are extremely experienced, effective and commercial."

Work highlights Kirkland & Ellis advised Alpine Investors on the tax aspects of the structuring and formation of Alpine Investors IX, LP, its latest flagship fund with a hard cap of $4.5 billion.

Notable practitioners

Todd Maynes and Dean Shulman are key contacts.

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP

What the team is known for Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP boasts an expert fund formation practice with extensive experience advising sponsors on transactional tax issues. Also advises on areas such as M&A and divestitures for a broad client base, which includes hospitality and technology companies. Noted for its work on high-value capital markets and real estate transactions. Strong skills in handling capital markets-related tax issues. Impressive client roster includes J.P. Morgan, Microsoft and Hilton Worldwide.

Strengths

"They are our most trusted partner when dealing with the most sophisticated transactions."

"They are all extremely smart and practical."

"Their collective knowledge spans across a wide range of tax issues, ensuring a well-rounded approach to our needs."

Notable practitioners

New York-based Nancy Mehlman and Marcy Geller are key contacts.

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates

What the team is known for Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates houses a deep bench of premier transactional attorneys, regularly called on to advise on the tax implications of high-value deals. Experience across cross-border and domestic matters such as spinouts and joint ventures, advising clients such as healthcare and technology corporations. Notable REITs expertise. A hugely impressive geographical coverage allows the firm to serve all key US markets.

Strengths

"The tax group is phenomenal and world-class. I would trust them on any tax-related matter to provide helpful, business-friendly advice."

"They offer a strong technical analysis and understanding of the policy underpinnings for a position."

"No matter which team members supported the partner, they were responsive and able to meet our needs to the fullest extent."

Work highlights Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates advised Activision Blizzard on the tax aspects of its $75 billion acquisition by Microsoft Corporation.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Eric Sensenbrenner is a key contact.

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP

What the team is known for Sullivan & Cromwell LLP performs consistently well on multibillion-dollar transactions for clients such as luxury goods manufacturers and media and technology companies. Recognized for its creative counsel on the tax implications of sophisticated deals such as M&A and public offerings. Possesses notable capability to handle the tax aspects of cross-border transactions. Other areas of strength include matters relating to the European Commission's state aid rules, and the IRS's debt-equity regulations.

Strengths

"Sullivan & Cromwell is my go-to firm for unique and complex matters. They have the ability to understand the issues at hand quickly and to come up with commercially reasonable solutions."

"They provide creative solutions, have deep experience in the market and can give extensive advice based on those experiences."

Work highlights Sullivan & Cromwell LLP advised AT&T on the tax aspects of the merger of Warner Media and Discovery.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Davis Wang and Isaac Wheeler are key contacts.

Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz

What the team is known for Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz offers a long-standing transactional practice housing a deep bench of highly experienced tax attorneys who regularly advise on high-value corporate deals. Highlighted for its frequent representation of multinational companies in cross-border M&A and REIT deals.

Strengths

"It is an outstanding firm."

Work highlights Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz represented Pfizer in its $43 billion acquisition of Seagen.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Jodi Schwartz is a key contact.

Band 2

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP maintains an enviable profile for its work advising private equity funds on transactional tax matters, as well as offering broad corporate capabilities. Strong global practice sees it regularly represent its wide-ranging client roster in cross-border M&A and financing transactions. Noted sector-specific experience pertaining to the private equity, technology, pharmaceutical and media industries, among others. Top practice for insurance-related tax advice. Offers capabilities in tax issues concerning hedge fund formation and private financings.

Strengths

"They are unsurpassed in responsiveness, creativity and execution. Their quality of service and responsiveness is the best of any firm I have ever worked with."

"The team has a deep understanding of the subject matter and provide clear communication."

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton LLP advised Cladvising Brookfield Reinsurance on its acquisition of American Equity Investment Life Holding Company.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Peter Schuur is a key contact.

Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP

What the team is known for Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP offers sophisticated advisers to clients such as real estate companies, financial institutions and healthcare providers. Works with public companies, private equity firms and hedge funds, among others. Extensive transactional practice that regularly advises on tax planning and structuring across cross-border deals. Additional strength in the investment management space, with a strong track record of advising on the tax aspects of fund formation and seeding. Boasts enviable expertise in the capital markets arena, frequently advising on IPOs, high-yield debt offerings and REIT transactions.

Strengths

"I am very pleased with Fried Frank's responsiveness and ability to find solutions in complicated and time-sensitive situations."

Work highlights Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP was counsel to CVS Health in its approximately $8 billion acquisition of Signify Health.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Alan Kaden is a key contact.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP is highly regarded for its handling of complex national and international deals. Acts for a notable client roster, which includes entities from the energy and private equity sectors. Regularly advises foreign investors on tax issues arising from multijurisdictional transactions. Also noted for its expertise in real estate transactions and investment fund matters. Standout tax adviser to clients in the oil and gas upstream and midstream sectors.

Strengths

"Gibson Dunn always impress with their professionalism, dedication and user-friendliness. They deliver advice in a very organized and comprehensive fashion."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP represented VMware in its acquisition by Broadcom. The transaction was valued at $61 billion.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Eric Sloan is a key contact.

Latham & Watkins LLP

What the team is known for Latham & Watkins LLP enjoys a superb geographical footprint, fielding skilled practitioners across the US. First-rate choice of counsel for heavyweight tax transactions involving renowned media and pharmaceutical companies as well as energy entities. Regularly appears in complex, cross-border M&A and restructurings. Additional expertise spans corporate finance and investment fund matters. Diverse client portfolio includes domestic and international corporations, private equity firms, compensation committees and individual executives.

Strengths

"They are extremely attentive. They not only know and understand business, but have the client's interests at heart."

Work highlights Latham & Watkins LLP advised on the tax aspects of the formation of a new publicly listed company consisting of both the WWE and UFC.

Notable practitioners

Jiyeon Lee-Lim in New York is a key contact.

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

What the team is known for Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP is highly recommended for its expertise in large-scale M&A, as well as areas such as insolvency proceedings. Advises a range of multinationals on complex tax issues arising from high-value transactions, including complex IPOs. Well placed to handle tax issues arising from cross-border deals. Works with clients from a broad swath of industries, including investment, retail and telecommunications. Able to draw upon the firm's complementary expertise in areas such as finance, securities and bankruptcy.

Strengths

"I am always impressed with their valuable advice and ability to explain clearly."

Work highlights Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP advised Amazon on its $1.4 billion acquisition of iRobot.

Notable practitioners

New York-based practitioners Scott Sontag and Brad Okun cochair the department.

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

What the team is known for Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP houses highly experienced tax practitioners with notable strength spanning private equity, restructuring, capital markets and M&A. Acts for a broad client base including technology firms, financial services providers and retailers.

Experienced in representing sovereign wealth funds and development finance institutions. Standout adviser in the bankruptcy space and well-versed in restructuring and modifications of debt. Also possesses notable cross-border expertise.

Strengths

"The experience with the tax team has been really good. They understand us very well and are responsive."

Work highlights Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP advised Altas Partners on the tax matters related to its $4 billion formation of Altas Partners Holdings III LP.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Pari is a key contact at the firm's Washington, DC office.

Band 3

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie is well-known for its expertise in a number of tax-related areas, including structuring high-value multijurisdictional transactions. Held in high regard for its transfer pricing work. Impressive international footprint, as domestic capabilities are enhanced by strong offerings in Europe, Asia and Australasia. Clients span a broad array of industries from pharmaceuticals to finance. Impressive client roster features big names such as Boeing and Merck.

Strengths

"The team as a whole is outstanding. Baker provides a detailed and client-focused service."

"They have such a large footprint and advisors with strength in every area. We always find we are able to get quality advice in a very short time."

Work highlights Baker McKenzie advised Grupo Traxión, S.A.B. de C.V. on the tax implications of an international equity offering of the company's common stock.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Salim Rahim is a key contact.

Fenwick

What the team is known for Fenwick fields a strong West Coast group with a high-profile acting for emerging companies on transactions such as M&A, joint ventures and divestitures. It regularly serves as tax counsel on sophisticated cross-border deals. It also offers industry expertise pertaining to the technology and consumer products sectors, among others. Client base includes Fortune 100 companies.

Strengths

"They are always available and prepared to talk through issues. They're calm, considered and helpful."

"Fenwick delivers the results. The members of the team are collaborative with each other and with us as the client."

Notable practitioners

Silicon Valley-based Adam Halpern is a key contact.

Goodwin

What the team is known for Goodwin is a Boston-headquartered firm noted for its experience in M&A-related tax issues. Offers further expertise in corporate transactions such as buyouts and joint ventures. Acts for clients from a wide range of industries, including the real estate, financial services and private equity sectors.

Strengths

"Goodwin has an incredible breadth of experience. The team always bring creativity to any topic in an effort to find the most elegant and effective solution."

"They are extremely strong across the board. It's a one-stop shop with top talent."

Work highlights Goodwin advised Ouraring on its acquisition of Proxy.

Notable practitioners

Neal Sandford is based in Boston and leads the firm's tax group.

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP offers accomplished advisers on the tax aspects of major transactions, including M&A and structured financings. Also draws on significant strength in structured finance and securitizations, and advises on the tax aspects of capital markets transactions. Regularly works with those in the telecommunications, financial services and pharmaceutical sectors. Clients benefit from close cooperation between a network of global offices.

Strengths

"They have very impressive experts in many areas of law."

"Mayer Brown has very competent tax professionals able to assist and explain very complicated items in an easily understood fashion."

"The advice received from Mayer Brown was thoughtful, detailed and accessible."

Work highlights Mayer Brown LLP secured a retail sales tax exemption and $18.5 million tax refund for Landis+Gyr.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Jason Bazar is a key contact.

McDermott Will & Emery LLP

What the team is known for McDermott Will & Emery LLP boasts a long-standing corporate tax practice that stands out for the breadth of its transactional experience. Works with an enviable client base that includes financial institutions as well as industrial and consumer goods manufacturers. Particularly adept at handling energy tax matters. Well-known for particular expertise in transfer pricing matters. Robust capabilities in handling state and local tax issues.

Strengths

"The tax team is technically very strong and always responsive. They go above and beyond to understand the transaction and the client's structure to provide the best advice."

"They take great care in providing sound advice, and do a tremendous job in communicating and documenting complex issues to our team."

Work highlights McDermott Will & Emery LLP advised Credit Suisse on the post-merger integration tax issues arising out of its merger with UBS.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Tim Shuman is a key contact.

Ropes & Gray LLP

What the team is known for Ropes & Gray LLP fields a respected transactional tax group that attracts a broad domestic and international client base. Maintains its strong profile for private equity work, while also advising public companies on transactions such as M&A and joint ventures. Offers recognized expertise in the investment funds space, regularly advising on the tax aspects of fund formations. Expertise also spans tax issues pertaining to investment structures and international financial products. Recognized capacity to advise tax-exempt organizations including hospitals, universities and private foundations.

Strengths

"Ropes & Gray has a deep and broad team that has helped us tackle many complicated and novel products and structures."

"The tax partners I work with at Ropes are extremely commercial and have a very strong sense of market."

Work highlights Ropes & Gray LLP represented Signify Health on the tax matters related to its sale to CVS Health. The sale was an all-cash transaction valued at approximately $8 billion.

Notable practitioners

Boston-based Elaine Murphy is a key contact.

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP is well-regarded for its handling of complex transactions in the hedge fund and insurance fields. Sought out for a range of complex deals, including structured financings. Significant experience representing securities firms and REITs. Offers a comprehensive state and local tax practice, with expertise covering all 50 states. Also capable of handling tax components of sophisticated international transactions.

Strengths

"They are outstanding at managing projects and providing practical guidance. They are an excellent technical resource."

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP represented Lincoln Financial in a $28 billion reinsurance transaction with Fortitude Re.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Laura Barzilai is a key contact.

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP maintains a strong profile for its handling of transactions involving MLPs and private equity funds. Recognized as a go-to tax practice for deals arising from the energy sector. Additional strength in the investment funds space, with a strong track record of working with private equity firms on fund formation and investment matters. Advises on tax aspects of business reorganizations. Diverse client portfolio spans the shipping, financial services, real estate and healthcare sectors, among others.

Strengths

"Vinson & Elkin's tax department is able to handle the most complex and sophisticated matters."

"The team is always available at all times of night and day to help their clients solve the most complex issues."

"Nothing seems to stump them! They are good at walking through the issues so anyone on the call can understand the tax regulatory issues."

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins LLP advised Chevron Phillips Chemical Company on cross-border tax considerations arising from its joint venture agreement with QatarEnergy to develop an $8.5 billion integrated polymers facility in Orange, Texas.

Notable practitioners

Houston-based Ryan Carney is a key contact.

Band 4

Baker Botts L.L.P.

What the team is known for Baker Botts L.L.P. has a strong tax offering that regularly represents notable energy and technology companies, among others. Experience extends to a range of high-value transactions, including cross-border M&A. Expert in tax-related capital markets issues in the energy field. Offers ancillary tax controversy and litigation support, as well as a strong bench dedicated to state and local tax issues. Significant MLP practice.

Strengths

"The technical expertise of the firm is extensive. That knowledge allows the firm to not only navigate complex matters, but to also suggest creative solutions."

"Baker Botts has a very deep bench, with subject matter expertise across the firm, that is brought to bear as needed."

"The attorneys I work with at Baker Botts have extensive experience and the technical skills to research, analyze, document and present complex matters in various jurisdictions."

Notable practitioners

Dallas-based Stephen Marcus is a key contact.

Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP

What the team is known for Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP draws from a deep bench of experts in UK and US tax law to provide strength across transactions such as cross-border mergers, spinouts and joint ventures. Demonstrates considerable expertise in tax-free and tax-efficient M&A structures. Particular strength in the financial services industry, advising banks, insurance companies and funds in connection with structuring and transactional matters. Notable for providing tax advice to debtors, creditors and investors on large corporate restructurings and bankruptcies. Expertise covers tax issues relating to asset-backed securities, among other financial products.

Strengths

"They have a deep bench which is essential to getting matters handled as quickly and effectively as possible."

Work highlights Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP represented Integrated Whale Media Investments in the sale of a majority ownership in Forbes Global Media Holdings to an investor group led by Austin Russell. The transaction was valued at $800 million.

Notable practitioners

Linda Swartz leads the firm's tax practice and is based in New York.

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP is highlighted for its strong tax planning on both the national and international scales, as well as its broad corporate transactional expertise. Relied on by a number of financial services providers and US sports leagues. Regularly works with those in the beverage, medical devices and electronics sectors. Also noted for its strength in the regulatory and legislative space, fielding a number of partners who have held senior positions at the IRS and the Treasury Department. Offers capability in tax-efficient fund structures including carry vehicles and employee feeder entities.

Strengths

"Covington do a great job of balancing practical advice with technical ability. They make complicated elements easily digestible."

"Their lawyers are excellent, easy to work with, practical and tenacious."

Work highlights Covington & Burling LLP advised FIFA in connection with the cross-border tax ramifications involved in the hosting and operation of the 2026 World Cup.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Daniel Luchsinger is a key contact.

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP

What the team is known for Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP is a notable firm with cross-border expertise which sees it regularly advise on transactions for high-profile insurance, pharmaceutical and technology companies, among others. It is able to advise on tax implications of large corporate acquisitions. Its expertise spans international tax planning and an enviable reputation for its handling of state and local tax transactional issues.

Strengths

"The team show great depth and breadth of knowledge and expertise. They are always responsive and helpful."

"Eversheds is aware of what is happening locally, regionally and globally. They follow emerging trends to ensure we get the right advice."

"The team is strong top to bottom and capable of providing deep subject matter expertise on all issues."

Work highlights Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP advised NextEnergy Capital on the launch of its $1.5 billion NextPower V ESG fund.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Robert Chase is a key contact.

Jones Day

What the team is known for Jones Day offers a strong tax group fielding recognized capabilities in M&A transactions. Additional strength in the tax aspects of bankruptcies, restructurings and debt issuances. Counts high-end financial institutions, telecom providers and pharmaceutical companies on its client roster. Able to act on state tax planning and transactions involving state and local tax credits. Maintains an extensive nationwide presence with offices across the country.

Strengths

"They have the technical knowledge and experience to assist with complicated tax issues."

Work highlights Jones Day advised AAR Corp on its acquisition of Trax USA Corp.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Joseph Goldman is a key contact.

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank LLP enjoys an excellent reputation for its bankruptcy and restructuring work. Particularly visible advising on the tax issues arising from aviation finance matters, including debt financing through enhanced equipment trust certificates. Additional areas of expertise include M&A and securities offerings. Regularly handles cross-border tax matters.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Russell Kestenbaum heads the firm's tax group.

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP is noted for its deep experience in advising on the tax aspects of diverse corporate transactions, as well as its strong bench of lawyers. Regularly selected to handle cross-border deals, including M&A, partnerships and joint ventures. Further able to advise on tax aspects of equity and debt securities offerings. Expertise spans a variety of sectors, from energy and life sciences to investment funds. Maintains a strong presence on both coasts.

Strengths

"The Morgan Lewis team is always well prepared and delivers superb results."

"The team always provides reliable guidance in connection with complex and sophisticated matters. They are very commercial in their approach to work."

Notable practitioners

San Francisco-based Barton Bassett is a key contact.

Proskauer Rose LLP

What the team is known for Proskauer Rose LLP boasts a solid tax team with experience spanning cross-border structuring, M&A and financing transactions. Displays particular strength in fund formation and has noted expertise in the REIT space. Expertise covers issues such as transfer pricing, business migration and restructurings. Regularly advises clients from the finance and retail sectors, as well as the sports industry. Network of offices covers both the East and West Coasts.

Strengths

"The Proskauer team showcases a great degree of expertise in sophisticated and complex topics and has the ability to apply their technical knowledge to the matter at hand."

"The team is very responsive."

Work highlights Proskauer Rose LLP advised the Women's Tennis Association on the tax considerations in connection with its strategic partnership with CVC Capital Partners.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Amanda Nussbaum is a key contact.

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP boasts recognized tax expertise, including a focus on restructuring and integration issues arising after cross-border M&A transactions. Demonstrates strength in tax planning and transfer pricing matters, among others. Regularly works with major entities in the private equity, healthcare, energy and communications fields. Also acts for sovereign wealth funds and government entities.

Strengths

"Their service level is excellent. They provide timely, accurate and concise advice and responses."

"The tax team can apply complicated rules to our facts and address questions, concerns and develop solutions timely, accurately and most importantly, concisely."

Work highlights White & Case LLP advised EchoStar on its $28.4 billion merger with Dish Network Corporation.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Sang Ji is a key contact.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

What the team is known for Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP offers a respected team with notable strength in high-value corporate transactions, including M&A, the creation of joint ventures and investments. Adept at handling issues with cross-border elements and offers significant expertise in real estate, private equity and insurance-related matters, among others. Also able to call on the firm's wider capabilities in dispute resolution.

Strengths

"The team is excellent. They're extremely responsive, knowledgeable and efficient in solving problems. They all act as team players."

"The depth and breadth of the team is impressive. They always have someone available to address our issues, no matter how novel."

"Willkie provides a strong technical team approach and responds quickly and efficiently to our business needs."

Work highlights Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP advised Ferrara Candy Company on its acquisition of Dori Alimentos.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Peters is a key contact.

Band 5

A&O Shearman

What the team is known for A&O Shearman houses strong tax expertise across a range of transactions, including cross-border M&A and financial offerings. Attracts an impressive multinational client base, which includes marquee financial institutions and investment groups. Knowledgeable in tax-efficient investment and operating structures. Experienced in advising on tax issues relating to management and employee compensation packages.

On May 1st, 2024, Allen & Overy and Shearman & Sterling merged to form A&O Shearman.

Strengths

"The team is consistently organized and proactive in keeping its work moving forward."

Work highlights The firm advised CVS Health in its agreement to acquire Oak Street Health in an all-cash transaction valued at approximately $10.6 billion.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Larry Crouch is a key contact.

Akin

What the team is known for Akin fields a well-regarded team with notable expertise in a wide range of tax matters, including advising on M&A, financial products and capital markets transactions. Acts for clients from a variety of sectors, including energy, pharmaceuticals and financial services. Offers strong capabilities in cross-border issues.

Strengths

"They really quickly understand our goals and work very efficiently."

"The Akin team is solutions-oriented."

Notable practitioners

New York-based Patrick Fenn and Stuart Leblang cochair the firm's tax group.

Alston & Bird LLP

What the team is known for Alston & Bird LLP offers a broad corporate practice that demonstrates notable strength in tax issues involving REITs and restructuring transactions. Retained by clients such as global manufacturers and logistics companies to advise on cross-border and domestic deals. Noted experience working with tax-exempt organizations.

Strengths

"Alston & Bird is where we turn when we need someone thinking all the way through our issues."

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Kendall Houghton is a key contact.

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance LLP is known for their full range of financial services from REITs to financial products. It also has clients in both the energy and healthcare sectors.

Work highlights Clifford Chance LLP advised OGCI Cl on its inaugural $1.5 billion Decarbonization Fund.

Notable practitioners

Dechert LLP

What the team is known for Dechert LLP has impressive capabilities in a range of tax matters.

Its lawyers are adept at handling issues relating to midmarket private equity deals, among other transactions.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Joshua Milgrim is a key contact.

DLA Piper LLP (US)

What the team is known for DLA Piper LLP (US) is a respected firm with a strong tax presence in the US. The team has extensive expertise in complex transactions such as M&A and joint ventures.

Strengths

"DLA is able to cut through technical and factual complexity to provide advice that is both timely and concise."

"DLA is very sophisticated, and able to provide practical solutions that take into account our business and structure."

"The DLA team is extremely strong from top to bottom. I am equally impressed with the technical expertise of the team as well as their practical and pragmatic approach to problem-solving."

Work highlights DLA Piper LLP (US) advised Warner Brothers Discovery on the tax aspects of its internal restructuring.

Notable practitioners

Palo Alto-based Stacy Paz is a key contact.

Miller & Chevalier Chartered

What the team is known for Miller & Chevalier Chartered is a DC-based practice with capabilities in handling tax aspects of domestic and cross-border transactions. Expertise covers reorganizations, financial products and transfer pricing. Works with clients from a range of industries, including entities in the fast food, oil and gas, and technology sectors.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Kevin Kenworthy is a key contact.

Paul Hastings LLP

What the team is known for Paul Hastings LLP has a robust tax team that often advises on complex transactions. The team has a strong presence on both coasts and works with high-profile clients from sectors such as financial services and food and agriculture.

Notable practitioners

New York-based Joseph Opich is a key contact.

Step toe LLP

What the team is known for Steptoe LLP houses a comprehensive tax offering that fields extensive transactional experience. Advises on high-value deals such as spinouts, IPOs and restructurings on behalf of a broad range of domestic and international companies. Works with clients from the technology, e-commerce and banking sectors, among others. Also noted for its strength in tax matters pertaining to the insurance industry.

Notable practitioners

Washington, DC-based Philip West is a key contact.

Transportation Aviation: Finance Nationwide

Transportation: Aviation: Finance
Leading Firms
Band 1
Clifford Chance US LLP
Milbank LLP
Vedder Price PC
Band 2
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP
Norton Rose Fulbright
Pillsbury
Band 3
Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP
White & Case LLP
Band 4
K&L Gates
Katten
O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Vinson & Elkins LLP
Winstead PC
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Clifford Chance US LLP

What the team is known for Clifford Chance is a distinguished aviation finance practice with extensive experience working on aviation capital markets transactions, securitizations, ECA financing and leasing matters. The firm frequently handles EETCs and acquisition financings. The team represents significant clients including government authorities, investment banks and operating lessors. It is able to draw upon resources of the wider firm for tax and corporate expertise.

Strengths

"Clifford Chance is an excellent firm. They have a great bench and are a go-to for clients seeking a finance solution in aviation."

"The firm's lawyers provide quick responses."

"Clifford is an exceptional full-service firm that can handle the most complex matters."

Work highlights Clifford Chance advised True-Noord on a $275 million term loan used to finance a portfolio of 31 regional jet and turboprop aircraft.

Notable practitioners

John Howitt is a seasoned practitioner who continues to be highly regarded in this space, with a wealth of experience leading financing transactions, including securitizations, as well as handling complex loan restructurings. Zarrar Sehgal is one of the foremost experts in issues such as EETCs and structured finance. Strengths: "Zarrar is a legend in the space. His knowledge of aircraft finance is outstanding." "Zarrar is detail-oriented, reliable and provides very strong expertise." Emily Wicker regularly leads significant aircraft leasing agreements, including AFIC and EETC transactions. Strengths: "Emily is always knowledgeable and commercial." "She distills information into commercial language." Patrick O'Reilly has a solid practice that includes working on financing and

Transportation: Aviation: Finance
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Howitt John P. Clifford Chance US LLP
Pritchard John F. Holland & Knight LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Chung Steven. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP *
Fine Drew S. Milbank LLP
Lessard Mark N. Pillsbury
Sehgal Zarrar. Clifford Chance US LLP
Veber Jeffrey T. Vedder Price *
Band 2
Beringer Adam. Vedder Price PC *
Brusiloff Paul D. Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Durham Phillip. Holland & Knight LLP
Gentner Joshua D. Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP
Hansen Christian. White & Case LLP *
Kass Geoffrey R. Vedder Price PC *
Liu Brian E. Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Lynes Timothy J. Katten
Pascale James. Milbank LLP
Vazquez Alyssa. Norton Rose Fulbright
Wicker Emily C. Clifford Chance US LLP
Band 3
Barlow Peter. Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP
Johnson Alexandra. Milbank LLP
Jones-Prus Melissa. Pillsbury
Mechlowicz Freyda. Milbank LLP
Miller Madalyn M. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP (ORL) ◇ *
O'Reilly Patrick. Clifford Chance US LLP
So Jaeyong. Winstead PC
Tenen Jeffrey S. Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP
Band 4
Berkery David. Vinson & Elkins LLP
Cevher Conti Mehtap. Hogan Lovells US LLP (ORL) ◇
Darling Amanda. K&L Gates *
Denham Mark. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP
Gee Cameron. Vedder Price PC *
Goldstein Jonathan C. Baker Botts L.L.P. (ORL) ◇ *
Henderson Fiona. Norton Rose Fulbright
Jensen Niels. Vinson & Elkins LLP
Johnson Kevin J. Fafinski Mark & Johnson, P.A. (ORL) ◇
Kaplan Jason. O'Melveny & Myers LLP
Lam Le V. Winstead PC
Latman Marc D. Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP
Leavitt Nathan. Holland & Knight LLP
Reddy Deepak. McGuireWoods LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Sanders Terry. Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP
Yoo Jaesuk. Winstead PC
Star associates
Nikolaieva Iryna. Debevoise & Plimpton LLP
Associates to watch
Hueth Demi. Vinson & Elkins LLP *

operating leases. Strengths: "He is commercially driven and provides great insight and advice." "Patrick is an excellent lawyer."

Milbank LLP

What the team is known for Milbank LLP boasts a highly respected practice recognized for extensive experience in a broad range of aviation finance matters. Its areas of expertise include Ex-Im bank financing, asset-backed securitiza-tions and EETC finance, as well as high-value aircraft portfolio M&A work. The team is experienced in handling warehouse and secured portfolio financings. The firm acts for an impressive number of stakeholders, including international banks and private equity firms, aircraft leasing companies and a range of airlines.

Strengths

"Milbank is a global practice with great, experienced practitioners."

"The Milbank team is among the best out there. They are very knowledgeable and creative problem-solvers."

"The firm is one of the best in the space."

Work highlights Milbank LLP advised the lenders in Griffin Global Asset Management's and Palisade Aviation Holdings Warehouse's upsize of their senior secured warehouse facility to $2 billion, adding new banking partners Citibank and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking as well as an additional commitment from Bank of Montreal.

Notable practitioners

Drew Fine continues to be regarded as one of the most accomplished figures in the field. He is renowned internationally for his expertise in complex aviation financing agreements, including asset-backed securitizations. Strengths: "Drew is smart, commercial and a terrific lawyer." James Pascale is a capital markets attorney with especial expertise in aviation financing. He is particularly notable for his knowledge and experience of Enhanced Equipment Trust Certificate deals.

Strengths: "Jim is an excellent lawyer." Alexandra Johnson leads the firm's Global Transportation and Space Group. She expertly counsels an array of clients including lenders, issuers, borrowers and underwriters in a variety of complex international financial transactions. Strengths: "She is a fantastic attorney who is very collaborative." Freyda Mechlowicz offers counsel to major banks and investment managers on various debt financings in the aviation sector. She is particularly recommended for her expertise in ABS transactions. Strengths: "Freyda is a great lawyer with a good commercial sense." "She is incredibly smart and impressive."

Vedder Price PC

What the team is known for Vedder Price PC is an acclaimed group skilled in an array of aviation finance matters including single-investor operating leases, progress payment facilities and secured loans. The firm is particularly noted for work with export credit agency-based financing transactions. It regularly represents aircraft operating lessors, manufacturers and financial institutions, as well as airlines and commercial banks.

Strengths

"Vedder Price has strong expertise in a wide range of services."

"The team are very commercial and easy to work with."

"Vedder Price is a leading practice in this space."

Work highlights Vedder Price PC represented Macquarie AirFinance in the $2.2 billion acquisition and financing of over 50 aircraft from ALAFCO Aviation Lease and Finance Company KSCP.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Veber (see p.726) is a noted leader in the field of aviation, with expertise covering the full gamut of financing initiatives. He is a go-to practitioner for matters such as asset-backed securitizations and blockbuster warehouse credit facility deals. Strengths: “He is a fantastic and leading lawyer in the finance world.” “He combines his experience, legal knowledge and abilities in a client-friendly way.” Adam Beringer (see p.503) advises on warehouse financings and portfolio securitizations, among other matters. Strengths: “Adam is a brilliant lawyer with a broad base of knowledge.” “He is very diligent and business-oriented.” Geoffrey Kass (see p.602) is head of the firm’s global transportation team. He handles matters such as structured financings and sale and leaseback transactions. Strengths: “Geoff is a long-standing and trusted attorney.” “He is a seasoned attorney in aviation finance.” Cameron Gee (see p.564) maintains a broad practice that encompasses expertise in leveraged leases, securitizations and warehouse financings. He is active on the domestic and international stages. Strengths: “Cam is a very strong lawyer who is commercially driven and understands the nature of deals.” “His breadth of knowledge across a range of topics is outstanding.”

Band 2

Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

What the team is known for Debevoise & Plimpton LLP is a notable practice with experience representing airlines and financial institutions in a variety of aviation finance matters. It has capability in aircraft portfolio restructuring, export credit agency matters and EETC financing. The firm has further specific expertise in business jet purchasing and financing, as well as in airport infrastructure development work. Its client base includes airlines and aviation service providers.

Strengths

“The team are thoughtful and provide strong, flexible guidance and direction.”
“The team at Debevoise & Plimpton are attentive, responsive and timely.”

Work highlights Debevoise & Plimpton LLP advised AAR on the company’s new revolving credit facility.

Notable practitioners

Paul Brusiloff is regularly engaged by the firm’s solid roster of airline and borrower clients for assistance with financings and restructurings. Strengths: “Paul is an incredibly gifted leader who is extremely intellectual and personable.” “Paul is very intelligent and empathetic to the client’s needs.” Brian Liu focuses on aviation and equipment financing, including advising on securitizations and secured credit facilities. His client base includes leading airlines. Strengths: “Brian is a master of his craft and an extremely bright attorney.” “Brian is a brilliant attorney in the airline space.” Iryna Nikolaieva is recognized for her work assisting on large aviation financings with particular competence in leasing transactions.

Strengths: “Her business acumen and attention to detail goes above and beyond.” “Iryna is phenomenal; she has a great amount of expertise and institutional knowledge.”

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP is a prominent practice with a deep bench of experienced practitioners with strong capability in the full range of aviation finance matters. Its areas of expertise include leasing and sales transactions, securitization and debt financing. The firm is recognized for proficiency in cross-border transactions for airlines and jet operators. It works with an impressive client roster that includes airlines, leasing companies and corporate jet operators. The team is able to draw on support from its nationwide network of offices, especially in New York and San Francisco.

Strengths

“The team are very responsive and offer efficient, clear and concise advice in a timely manner.”

“The firm has a strong and hard-working aviation team.”

“Holland & Knight is able to handle complex transactions.”

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP advised Pegasus Airlines on a $600 million sustainability-linked loan, which was secured by the support of UK Export Finance to fund ten new Airbus A321neo aircraft.

Notable practitioners

John Pritchard is one of the most esteemed figures in the aviation finance Bar. With over 25 years’ experience in the field, he is held in particularly high regard for his work for significant international lending clients. Phillip Durham chairs the asset finance practice at the firm and handles both domestic and international aviation financings. Strengths: “Phil is a pleasure to work with. He consistently provides clear, distinct advice with a high level of service.” “He is strong, practical and knows the market very well.” Nathan Leavitt is noted for his representation of aircraft leasing companies. He has particular expertise in aviation sector Chapter 11 proceedings. Strengths: “Nathan is a strong practitioner in the space.” “Nathan is very commercial and knows how to get deals done.”

Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP

What the team is known for Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP is a well-regarded practice with significant experience in asset-backed security transactions, EETC finance and aviation workouts and bankruptcies, among other matters. It is experienced in handling aviation-related M&A. The team offers unique strength advising a number of major global leasing companies, as well as airlines and lenders.

Strengths

“The team at Hughes Hubbard are knowledgeable and proactive.”

“The team are always accessible and return work on or ahead of deadlines.”

“Hughes are an exceptional firm.”

Work highlights Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP advised Griffin Global Asset Management and borrowers Palisade Aviation Holdings Warehouse, on a $2 billion amendment, extension and upsizing transaction for its senior secured financing facility.

Notable practitioners

Steven Chung (see p.526) advises on a range of aviation finance matters, including acquisitions and cross-border financings. His impressive client base includes sponsors and lenders. Strengths: “Steven is a top lawyer, both commercially and technically.” “He is very practical, easy to work with and has always been excellent.” Mark Denham has a strong practice advising on aircraft leases and loans, warehouse facilities and aircraft sales. His client base includes financial institutions and corporates. Strengths: “Mark is fantastic to work with. He is very commercial and has his finger on the pulse of aviation finance.” “He is smart, attentive and understands trends in the space that are important to the client.” Terry Sanders represents the full range of sector clients including financing parties, lessors and manufacturers. He has notable expertise across a variety of asset finance transactions. Strengths: “Terry is a robust and strong attorney.”

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright represents significant aviation industry clients in matters including aircraft acquisitions, sales, leasing and all types of financing. Its areas of expertise include operating leases and M&A. The firm’s clients include financiers, airlines and brokers. The team is particularly active in the Latin American market, as part of its substantial global presence.

Strengths

“The team consistently delivers and has outstanding service levels.”

“The group really foster close relationships, work collaboratively and are very smart.”

“Norton Rose is a fantastic firm.”

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright have advised LATAM Airlines on numerous matters, including the negotiation of long-term leases with a lessor, as well as multiple sales of airframes and engines.

Notable practitioners

Alyssa Vazquez leads the US aviation practice at the firm. She handles the full range of financing matters covering aircraft leasing and acquisition transactions. Strengths: “Alyssa has long-standing relationships in the space, gets the deal done for the client and is collaborative.” “Her ability to analyze market trends and provide proactive recommendations adds significant value to the decision-making processes.” Fiona Henderson provides deft representation to lenders, investors and issuers in cross-border financing transactions. Strengths: “She is practical, has a good business sense and knows how to get deals done.”

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury is experienced in debt financing, leasing, aerospace procurements and corporate transactions in the aviation industry. Its clients include USA-based and international airlines, liquidity providers and rating agencies. Its areas of expertise include ECA financings and cross-border leaseings. The firm also offers services related to lease portfolio securitizations.

Strengths

"Pillsbury is fantastic. The team have built an inspirational practice and have a global reach in classic aircraft finance deals."

"Pillsbury is very knowledgeable and capable with respect to aircraft financing."

"Pillsbury is a great firm with great lawyers."

Work highlights Pillsbury represented Jackson Square Aviation as junior lender in the financing for seven Airbus A320 and four Boeing 737 MAX aircraft on lease to Allegiant.

Notable practitioners

Mark Lessard has a highly acclaimed practice which sees him advise on acquisitions, fund formation and capital markets transactions. Strengths: "Mark is very creative and provides lenders with the protection they need and expect." Mark has an excellent reputation in the market. Melissa Jones-Prus has a broad practice, acting for lenders in a full range of aviation finance deals. Strengths: "Melissa is a fantastic practitioner who is great to work with." "She is a highly recommended lawyer."

Band 3

Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP

What the team is known for Smith, Gambrell & Russell houses an established aviation finance group, acts for leasing companies and domestic airlines, as well as clients in the banking sector. Advises on operating leases, aircraft portfolio transactions, asset-backed securitizations and refinancings.

Strengths

"The team are very adept at balancing legal issues and the desired commercial result."

"The firm have a deep bench of lawyers that tap into every area of aviation."

"Smith Gambrell have great experience and depth, which is very helpful for their clients."

Work highlights Smith, Gambrell & Russell represented EXIM Bank in connection with the restructuring of an existing facility with respect to six 787 Aircraft and one 777 Aircraft from Kenya Airways to the Kenyan Government.

Notable practitioners

Joshua Gentner is widely recognized in the market for his established transactional practice, representing significant clients in the financial sector, as well as airlines. His expertise covers lease financings and securitizations, among other matters. Strengths: "Joshua is a go-to and trusted counsel." "He is very experienced and has good, long-standing relationships." Peter Barlow is commended for his expertise in aviation financings. He has particular experience of aviation sector restructurings and bankruptcy proceedings. He represents leasing companies, airlines and financing parties. Jeffrey Tenen is adept at handling issues such as asset-based financings and credit facilities. Strengths: "Jeffrey is highly knowledgeable in aviation finance." Marc Latman handles sale and leaseback transactions on behalf of aircraft leasing companies. He also manages restructurings for sector clients. Strengths: "Marc is user-friendly, client-focused and person- able." "Marc is very strong and experienced in large transactions."

White & Case LLP

What the team is known for White & Case LLP is a well-known practice with ability in a range of aviation finance matters including EETCs, Ex-Im bank deals and cross-border transactions. It is skilled in representing large domestic and international clients including banks, airlines and private equity interests. It is also well-versed in JOLCO and ANPI financings. The team's clients benefit from the firm's extensive global footprint, with a particular focus on the UK and Asian markets. It is able to advise on the full spectrum of matters, aided by complementary tax, banking, M&A and litigation teams.

Strengths

"The firm is very knowledgeable, experienced and capable of handling complex and multidisciplinary matters."

"White & Case is excellent at providing cross-border advice."

"The firm have an excellent team."

Work highlights White & Case represented Azul Airlines in the $2.25 billion restructuring of its aircraft lease obligations across its fleet, in addition to a restructuring of its obligations to original equipment manufacturers and existing bondholders.

Notable practitioners

Christian Hansen (see p.578) is highlighted for his established role in the aviation finance market. His client base features a strong list of airline and lessor names and he is particularly experienced in advising on Latin American deals. Strengths: "Christian is a very practical and business-oriented attorney." "Christian is a notable lawyer."

Band 4

K&L Gates

What the team is known for K&L Gates leverages its strong aerospace practice to complement its aviation practice and advise clients on financing and leasing pertaining to hydrogen fuel tanks, magnetic propulsion and acquisitions of aircraft and aerospace technology. The team is adept in representing major domestic and international clients including banks, airlines and technology providers. The firm is well versed in the full range of aviation finance matters.

Strengths

"The team is extremely responsive and can address any issues or concerns."

"The lawyers at K&L Gates are very adaptable, collaborative and explain things appropriately in commercial terms."

Work highlights K&L Gates represented JP Lease Products & Services on three Japanese Operating Lease with Call Option (JOLCO) financing for three Airbus A320 aircrafts with ICBC Financial Leasing as Intermediate Lessee.

Notable practitioners

Amanda Darling (see p.537) is recommended for her asset and project finance expertise in the aviation industry. Strengths: "She has deep insight into the aviation industry and is always able to provide helpful feedback." "Amanda is very user-friendly, knowledgeable and good to work with."

Katten

What the team is known for Katten represents an impressive roster of clients including banks, airlines and hedge funds on a range of aviation financing matters. It is skilled in emerging market transactions, aircraft acquisitions and leasing structures. The firm has additional expertise in commercial fleet sales and financing. It is particularly active in bankruptcy and insolvency-related work, in addition to handling aircraft portfolio transactions.

Strengths

"Katten has a very efficient team that moves the process along very swiftly."

"The team are constructive, solution-oriented, really fair and good advocates for their clients."

Notable practitioners

Timothy Lynes typically acts for clients such as banks and aircraft manufacturers on financings. Strengths: "Tim is a very notable attorney."

O'Melveny & Myers LLP

What the team is known for O'Melveny & Myers LLP is a national powerhouse with a strong practice in aviation finance. The group is particularly proficient and skilled in aviation infrastructure and equipment finance. The team advise an array of clients from government agencies and private sponsors to airlines and private equity investors. The firm is further noted for its experience in handling aviation-related M&A.

Strengths

"Working with O'Melveny & Myers is a very positive experience."

"The firm has a very knowledgeable and capable team."

Work highlights O'Melveny & Myers LLP represented Citibank, as facility agent and collateral agent, in connection with a $1.4 billion term loan credit agreement with a new leasing vehicle and the acquisition of a portfolio of seventy aircraft.

Notable practitioners

Jason Kaplan cochairs the firm's Aviation Group, focusing on equipment finance transactions on behalf of airlines, aircrafts, leasing companies, trustees and private equity investors. Strengths: "Jason is very practical as well as easy and enjoyable to work with." "Jason provides a great service."

Vinson & Elkins LLP

What the team is known for Vinson & Elkins LLP boasts strong capabilities in aviation finance and acts for the full spectrum of sector participants. The team exhibits strength in warehouse facilities, secured notes and restructurings, among other matters.

Strengths

"The firm has an experienced team with deep knowledge of aviation finance matters."

"V&E have a broad base of strong associates and partners."

"The firm has great lawyers."

Work highlights Vinson & Elkins LLP represented Citibank in a $400 million syndicated asset-based, senior secured revolving credit facility to Alaska Airlines.

Notable practitioners

David Berkery is held in high regard for the quality of his advice in such matters as unsecured loans, warehouse facilities and asset-backed securitizations. He serves as co-head of the firm's aviation finance team. Strengths: "David is proactive, approachable and immediately understands what needs to be done." "David is very thorough." Niels Jensen offers clients deep expertise in a range of aviation transactions, including structured financings, restructurings and joint ventures. He is co-head of the firm's aviation finance team. Strengths: "He understands the motive of the other side, is thoughtful and comes up with very strong concepts that cut to the crux of the issue." "Niels is a very sharp and technical lawyer." Demi Hueth (see p.590) is a senior associate with a strong practice in corporate, asset-backed and structured financings.

Winstead PC

What the team is known for Winstead PC represents airlines in matters relating to aircraft leasing and acquisitions. The firm is particularly noted for its work with domestic airlines.

Strengths

"Winstead's strength of client bench gives it a commanding sense of the market."

"The team have a great depth of industry experience."

"Winstead is a fantastic firm."

Notable practitioners

Jaeyong So has an active aviation practice, frequently representing major airlines in direct lease financings. He is noted for handling high-value offerings. Strengths: "Jae is thorough, knowledgeable and a master technician." "He is extremely responsive, hard-working and understands the operational side of airlines." Le Lam is a go-to for debt and capital market transactions in the aviation industry, regularly advising on unsecured and secured bonds, convertible notes, EETCs and private, as well as syndicated loans. Strengths: "Le is very focused on the technical side while finding commercial solutions." "He has a great perspective and is good to deal with." Jaesuk Yoo has notable expertise handling loan and debt financing arrangements on behalf of well-known airlines. Strengths: "He is very good at negotiating key points and is thoroughly enjoyable to work with." "Jae is a strong and robust practitioner."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Mehtap Cevher Conti of Hogan Lovells maintains a strong asset finance practice in the aviation space. She advises on leases, portfolio acquisitions and secured debt matters, among others. Strengths: "She is highly regarded and understands the issues in the space."

Jonathan Goldstein (see p.569) of Baker Botts

LLP has a comprehensive aviation finance practice, advising on a plethora of matters, including asset-based securitizations, structured financings, syndications and secured and unsecured lending. He is also adept in aviation-related M&A and joint ventures. Strengths: "He is extremely commercial, hard-working and flexible."

Kevin Johnson of Fafinski Mark & Johnson, P.A. has a notable practice on the commercial side of aviation finance, including leasing, mergers, cross-border transactions and others. Strengths: "Kevin has really good rapport and command of the material."

Madalyn Miller (see p.643) of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP works with clients on a host of transactions, including acquisition financings. Strengths: "Madalyn is a great attorney." "She is a strong and recognized lawyer in the asset finance market."

Deepak Reddy (see p.676) of McGuireWoods LLP acts for an impressive roster of clients, including major airlines, private equity firms and investment funds in leasing and refinancing transactions. Strengths: "Deepak is an extremely knowledgeable and dedicated attorney who delivers a high-quality service." "He is knowledgeable, collaborative and brilliant to work with."

Transportation Aviation: Litigation Nationwide

Transportation: Aviation: Litigation
Leading Firms
Band 1
Perkins Coie LLP
Band 2
Condon & Forsyth LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Band 3
Clyde & Co LLP
Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP
Jackson Walker LLP
Reed Smith LLP
Victor Rane
Band 4
Arnold & Porter
Kirkland & Ellis
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Transportation: Aviation: Litigation
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Dillow John Perkins Coie LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1	Raffaele Steve Holland & Knight LLP
Harakas Andrew Clyde & Co LLP	Sundvall Sheila Paul Hastings LLP (ORL) ◇
McQuillen Michael G. Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP	Weiner David Arnold & Porter
Band 2	Westwood Wilson Diane Fox Rothschild (ORL) ◇ *
Bradley Patrick E Reed Smith LLP	Band 4
Christensen Christopher R. Condon & Forsyth LLP	Alexander Barry Victor Rane
Shultz Mack Perkins Coie LLP *	Ellis Jeffrey Clyde & Co LLP
Shupe J. Denny Victor Rane	Guilfoyle Kathleen Campbell Conroy & O'Neil (ORL) ◇
Stern Jonathan M Victor Rane	Knight Christopher E Fowler White Burnett PA (ORL) ◇ *
Band 3	Maggio John Condon & Forsyth LLP
Battista Anthony Condon & Forsyth LLP	Nemsick Judith Holland & Knight LLP
Beiersdorf Oliver Reed Smith LLP	Odell Christopher M Arnold & Porter
Brown Brad Jackson Walker LLP *	Scoville Michael McGuireWoods LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Harrington David J Condon & Forsyth LLP	Staton Katherine Jackson Walker LLP *
Kelly Christopher G Holland & Knight LLP	Sutherland Kevin Clyde & Co US LLP
Koh Steve Perkins Coie LLP *	Woolston V Perkins Coie LLP *
O'Connor William Cooley LLP (ORL) ◇

Band 1

Perkins Coie LLP

What the team is known for Perkins Coie LLP is a preeminent practice considered a go-to shop for high-profile aviation disputes. It regularly handles complex contentious issues resulting from significant aviation accidents, covering toxic tort and product liability matters. It represents leading aerospace manufacturers in federal and state courts across the US and in foreign jurisdictions. The firm is active in the risk and liability elements of the burgeoning aerial and unmanned technology sector, as well as related regulatory and policy issues.

Strengths

"Perkins Coie has a fantastic group of lawyers."

"Perkins Coie has a large bench of good practitioners."

Work highlights Perkins Coie LLP was retained to represent Boeing in the wrongful death cases arising out of the March 2019 crash of Ethiopian Airlines flight 302 shortly after take-off from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and to advise the company on other matters relating to that accident and the Lion Air flight 610 accident.

Notable practitioners

John Dillow has extensive experience representing clients in product liability disputes and class action proceedings. Strengths: "John is a top talent and excellent lawyer." Mack Shultz (see p.701) regularly represents a variety of industry-leading manufacturing clients in product defense cases and air accident litigation. He also counsels clients on litigation avoidance strategies.

Strengths: "Mack is a very knowledgeable and experienced attorney." "Mack is a great attorney."

Steve Koh (see p.611) has notable experience defending aircraft manufacturers in wrongful death and personal injury claims, as well as complex commercial litigation. Strengths: "Steve is excellent. He has deep institutional market knowledge and knows the aviation space back to front." "Steve is collaborative and effective." V Woolston (see p.738) is a well-established product liability litigator, with notable experience defending aviation manufacturers. He is recognized for his expertise in disputes concerning turboprop aircraft, light jets and helicopters. Strengths: "He is very knowledgeable and easy to work with."

Band 2

Condon & Forsyth LLP

What the team is known for Condon & Forsyth LLP is a highly respected practice with significant experience in the representation of airlines and insurers in aviation accident investigations and litigation. Its areas of expertise include class actions, emergency response and mass disaster litigation. The firm often acts on Montreal Convention-related matters, as well as contractual disputes and regulatory investigations. The team maintains a strong presence on both coasts.

Strengths

"The team are technical and supportive."

"Condon & Forsyth's team are very impressive and knowledgeable of the industry."

"The team find great solutions and do a great job."

Work highlights Condon & Forsyth LLP defended the Broward County Sheriff's Office from claims stemming from the crash of a 1999 Eurocopter EC-135.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Christensen has considerable experience representing a range of domestic and international carriers in high-profile air crash litigation, including managing cross-claims against manufacturers. Strengths: "Chris is a thought leader in the space and is very experienced." "He is a very strong lawyer." Anthony Battista has a varied aviation practice, with experience representing airlines and lessors in breach of contract claims and air crash litigation. Strengths: "He works incredibly hard." "Anthony does a good job at representing airlines." David Harrington acts on behalf of airlines and helicopter companies in crash litigation and NTSB investigations. Strengths: "David is brilliant. He is a very nuanced, strong attorney that communicates well." "He has strong skills in this space." John Maggio is commended for his representation of aviation sector clients in wrongful death and breach of contract litigation. He acts for carriers, manufacturers and insurers.

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP is a well-regarded aviation practice with significant expertise in handling high-profile contentious matters for US and foreign airline clients. The firm is particularly active in litigation and NTSB and FAA investigations resulting from aircraft accidents and mass disasters. It stands out for involvement in matters involving military accidents and manufacturers of military aircraft and components.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight is a great national firm for aviation defense work with multiple years of experience."

"The firm's lawyers very much understand the space."

"The firm has a good team."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP represented Cape Air and their insurers in connection with the NTSB investigation and litigation from the 9/9/21 crash in Provincetown, MA of Cape Air Ft. 2072 en route from Boston.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Kelly handles a variety of personal injury and wrongful death disputes. He represents an impressive roster of domestic and international airlines. Steve Raffaele has a strong track record of acting for airlines in high-stakes litigation. His practice includes handling breach of contract claims, putative class actions and fatal accident litigation, as well as NTSB investigations. Strengths: "Steve is great to work with." "Steve has a diverse practice and does a good job." Judith Nemsick has experience across a broad range of disputes, from breach of contract and passenger delay, to product liability and wrongful death. Strengths: "She has a lot of experience in airline litigation."

Band 3

Clyde & Co LLP

What the team is known for Clyde & Co LLP is a sought-after practice with expertise representing a range of aerospace industry entities, including airlines and their insurers, in commercial disputes, as well as those arising from significant aviation disasters. The firm has specific expertise in contract disputes, product liability and Montreal Convention cases. It offers services in litigation concerning employment, financing agreements and security instruments. The team is further noted for an accomplished appellate practice representing clients at all levels up to the US Supreme Court.

Strengths

"The team at Clyde & Co have good industry experience and know-how."

"Clyde & Co's team have experience, quality and are dedicated to this space."

Notable practitioners

Andrew Harakas represents prominent domestic and international airlines in sophisticated litigation. Strengths: "Andrew is a go-to for litigation in this space. Anything related to it, he is a top choice. He is extremely knowledgeable and has fantastic client skills." "Andrew is a strong, intellectual lawyer with fantastic abilities." Jeffrey Ellis is recognized for his strong advocacy work representing domestic insurers and carriers. His experience incorporates wrongful death and personal injury claims, as well as appellate and class action cases. Kevin Sutherland acts for airlines, manufacturers and insurers in complex litigation. He has experience in wrongful death, personal injury and product liability disputes. Strengths: "Kevin is a very experienced attorney."

Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP

What the team is known for Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP offers wide-ranging expertise in aviation disputes. Its client base covers a number of industry participants, including airports, manufacturers and domestic and international carriers.

Notable practitioners

Michael McQuillen is a Chicago-based partner, and represents a number of leading domestic airlines and manufacturers in a wide variety of aviation-centric disputes. Strengths: "Michael is a leader in the industry. He is very practical and an excellent attorney."

Jackson Walker LLP

What the team is known for Jackson Walker LLP boasts broad abilities in aviation disputes. Its lawyers offer consummate representation in litigation concerning product liability, contractual issues and negligence, among other matters.

Strengths

"Jackson Walker has a very strong and knowledgeable team."

"The team at Jackson Walker are very commercial in their approach."

"The Jackson Walker team are highly responsive."

Work highlights Jackson Walker LLP represented Smartwings in a mandamus proceeding in the Fifth Circuit that sought to impose stricter conditions on Boeing in conjunction with the deferred prosecution of Boeing in the 737 Max cases.

Notable practitioners

Brad Brown (see p.514) acts for a number of industry-leading manufacturers, covering both fixed-wing aircraft and rotorcraft. Strengths: "He is always responsive, strategic, business orientated and looks for solutions that are in line with business objectives." "Brad is very practical and smart." Katherine Staton (see p.710) has particular experience acting for airlines and aerospace and defense companies in contractual litigation. Strengths: "Katherine is a wonderful attorney who is very helpful and commercial." "Katherine is a great attorney."

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith LLP is a noteworthy aviation litigation group able to act in all manner of disputes nationwide including passenger claims, injury and wrongful death cases, as well as in commercial disputes. The firm is a popular choice for component manufacturers and domestic airlines.

Strengths

"The in-depth experience and knowledge that each attorney has is exceptional."

"The team are very collaborative and a go-to for litigation in this space."

Notable practitioners

Patrick Bradley has considerable experience acting for component manufacturers in all manner of product liability cases. Strengths: "He is a very solid and commercial lawyer with a lot of experience." Oliver Beiersdorf is noted for handling cases concerning personal injury, wrongful death and other passenger claims. Strengths: "He is an excellent and very sophisticated aviation litigator."

Victor Rane

What the team is known for Victor Rane fields a highly regarded team well-known for its work on behalf of aerospace manufacturers, airlines and insurers. The firm advises on a number of contentious matters, including military air crashes, civil aviation disasters and cargo claims, among others.

Strengths

"The firm have a deep bench of experienced trial attorneys who have very strong knowledge of the aviation industry."

"The team produce fantastic results."

Work highlights Victor Rane represented The Collings Foundation in litigation regarding a Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress crash at Bradley International Airport in Connecticut on October 2019.

Notable practitioners

Denny Shupe is a seasoned aviation litigator. His experience encompasses a myriad of commercial and product liability disputes. Strengths: "Denny is client-focused, has deep expertise and knowledge of litigating aviation defense claims."

"Denny is very good to work with." Jonathan Stern is engaged by a range of airline and insurer clients to handle personal injury and wrongful death cases. Strengths: "Jonathan does excellent coverage defense work." "Jonathan is a very robust and commercial lawyer." Barry Alexander is routinely engaged by insurers and airlines to handle accident litigation and punitive damages disputes.

Band 4

Arnold & Porter

What the team is known for Arnold & Porter has an impressive practice with strength in aviation disputes, notably including product liability and mass tort cases. The group leverage their significant trial expertise to assist domestic and international clients.

Strengths

"The team have long-standing experience of major aviation work."

Work highlights Arnold & Porter represented major investors and creditors in the bankruptcy cases of Zetta Jet USA and Zetta Jet Pte, in the US Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California and in related litigation.

Notable practitioners

David Weiner has a wide-ranging practice, with significant experience handling personal injury and air crash litigation. Strengths: "David is a recommended attorney." Christopher Odell is a go-to trial lawyer for complex mass tort cases in the aviation industry. Strengths: "He has a very strong record."

Kirkland & Ellis

What the team is known for Kirkland & Ellis is a global powerhouse with a broad practice in aviation disputes. The team expertly advises domestic and international clients on complex commercial litigation, including FCC-related claims.

Strengths

"Kirkland & Ellis has excellent practitioners."

Notable practitioners

Michael Slade is a key contact in Chicago.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Kathleen Guilfoyle of Campbell Conroy & O'Neil, P.C. acts for clients including airlines, airports and manufacturers in aviation litigation. Strengths: "She is wonderful, responsive and good with clients." "Kathleen is great to work with."

Christopher Knight (see p.1477) of Fowler White Burnett PA has a notable practice primarily in healthcare claims, medical malpractice, as well as wrongful termination cases, among others. Strengths: "Chris is an excellent practitioner."

William O'Connor of Cooley LLP has considerable experience acting in rotorcraft-related cases, including wrongful death claims and product liability disputes. Strengths: "He is very well-respected within the industry and has a broad knowledge base."

Michael Scoville (see p.695) of McGuire Woods LLP is recognized for his skillful representation of multinational corporations in wrongful death disputes and post-accident litigation. Strengths: "Michael is excellent. He knows the facts extremely well, is an excellent writer and offers good advice for negotiations." "Michael is a very good and respected attorney."

Sheila Sundvall of Paul Hastings LLP represents component manufacturers in a diverse range of personal injury and product liability lawsuits. Strengths: "Sheila does a good job on behalf of her clients."

Diane Westwood Wilson (see p.734) of Fox Rothschild is an experienced attorney who acts for a range of aviation stakeholders, including airports, airlines and manufacturers. Strengths: "Diane's service is invaluable."

Transportation Aviation: Regulatory Nationwide

Transportation: Aviation: Regulatory
Leading Firms
Band 1
Cozen O'Connor
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Pillsbury
Band 2
Adams and Reese LLP
Baker McKenzie
Holland & Knight LLP
Band 3
Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
Garofalo Goerlich Hainbach PC
Jenner & Block LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Donley Charles F. Pillsbury
Heffernan David Cozen O'Connor
Mosner Anita Holland & Knight LLP
Band 2
Ellman Lisa Hogan Lovells US LLP
Foglia Jonathon H. Cozen O'Connor
Trock Jennifer E. Baker McKenzie
Warren Marc Adams and Reese LLP*
Band 3
Arshad Amna Crowell & Moring LLP (ORL) ◇
Connor G Brent Vedder Price (ORL) ◇ *
Derco Drew M. Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
Hainbach Don H. Garofalo Goerlich Hainbach PC
Jennings Ochoa Laura Pillsbury
Rizzi Patrick Cozen O'Connor*
Romanow Josh Pillsbury
Sahr Evelyn Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC
Stocum Benjamin Holland & Knight LLP
Up-and-coming individuals
Welford Rachel Cozen O'Connor
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Cozen O'Connor

What the team is known for Cozen O'Connor houses a skilled regulatory group, servicing an impressive roster of aerospace manufacturers and trade associations, as well as commercial and cargo carriers. It regularly practices before the FAA, DOT and other government agencies in all matters related to compliance, licensing and rule-making. The team is experienced in counseling a diverse range of industry stakeholders, including a number of private equity companies investing in the aviation industry. The firm's further expertise lies in advising on the regulatory elements of airline joint ventures, alliances and M&A activity, as well as in the formation of new airlines.

Strengths

"Cozen O'Connor's lawyers are a go-to for aviation regulatory work and they are excellent."

"Cozen attorneys are very knowledgeable about aviation regulations and are skilled at drafting effectively."

"The team's skills, research and legal arguments are top-notch."

Work highlights Cozen O'Connor advised the Lufthansa Group's numerous airlines and other aviation industry subsidiaries and affiliates on a wide range of US aviation regulatory issues.

Notable practitioners

David Heffernan is highly respected in the field, and has considerable experience advising a myriad of aviation clients. He regularly handles proceedings before the FAA and DOT. Strengths: "He's an encyclopedia of aviation law and has key contacts in the aviation industry." David is a great lawyer who is easy to work with and knows the sector. Jonathon Foglia is particularly well-versed in issues including licensing, registration and advertising standards. He represents airlines and trade associations, among other industry participants. Strengths: "Jonathon is a top-notch regulatory advisor." "He is an expert in the regulatory environment." Patrick Rizzi (see p.681) is an experienced regulatory lawyer who acts for an impressive range of clients, including commercial airlines and UAS industry players. Strengths: "Patrick is a thorough and detailed professional." "He is a very knowledgeable and experienced attorney." Rachel Welford advises a broad client base, including airlines, corporations and non-US carriers, on a range of regulatory and compliance matters. She has experience handling CARES Act work and obtaining authorizations from the DOT. Strengths: "Rachel has encyclopedic knowledge." "She has a very pragmatic view of the regulations, drafts incredibly well and is trusted."

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells has a highly acclaimed regulatory practice working with an impressive client roster comprised of airlines, airports and aviation industry manufacturers, as well as private equity firms and financial institutions. The firm has an excellent capability in acting for clients in compliance and legislation matters before government agencies. The team are frequently engaged in the technological aspects of aviation and offers an excellent unmanned aircraft system (UAS) or drone practice, particularly on behalf of entertainment and media industry clients. It also represents clients seeking regulatory approval for joint ventures in the sector.

Strengths

"The quantity and quality of their bench is one of the most attractive aspects of the firm."

"The team are always detailed, expeditious and timely."

"The firm has a strong team which has deep knowledge across the various regulatory areas within aviation."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells represented Pyka in securing approval from the Federal Aviation Administration to operate its zero-emission automated Pelican Spray uncrewed aircraft commercially nationwide.

Notable practitioners

Lisa Ellman is chair of the firm's global UAS practice. In addition to her role at the firm, she also acts as executive director of the non-profit organization Commercial Drone Alliance. In private practice, she provides drone-related regulatory advice to numerous industry leaders in the technology, e-commerce and robotics sectors. Strengths: "She is well connected with the agencies, makes things happen and understands commercial aviation." "Lisa is a tremendous asset."

Pillsbury

What the team is known for Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP maintains a distinguished practice with substantial expertise in all aviation regulatory matters, including service negotiations, rulemaking and certification. It is noted for its representation of international airlines, including those in the Asia-Pacific and Latin American markets. The firm also handles regulatory proceedings before the TSA, DOT and DOJ. It offers additional expertise in aviation-related antitrust immunity matters, aircraft safety and management regulations and aviation-related environmental regulatory issues.

Strengths

"Pillsbury offers reliably fast turnaround and good communication."

"Pillsbury has a strong practice, a deep bench and is very efficient."

"Pillsbury's service is outstanding."

Work highlights Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP served as special regulatory counsel to American Airlines in hundreds of aircraft financings involving Boeing, Airbus, and Bombardier aircraft.

Notable practitioners

Charles Donley is a highly experienced lawyer who ably handles a wide array of regulatory cases, including antitrust immunity applications and TSA investigations. Strengths: "Charles is very knowledgeable." "He is easy to work with and very pragmatic." Laura Jennings Ochoa is a respected attorney particularly noted for her government agency expertise. She assists airlines in regulatory challenges and petitions to the DOT. Strengths: "Laura is great." Josh Romanow advises foreign carriers on matters ranging from US market entry to competition law. He is also experienced in handling passenger-related disputes. Strengths: "Josh is knowledgeable, responsive and helpful."

Band 2

Adams and Reese LLP

What the team is known for Adams and Reese LLP is recommended for its burgeoning aviation regulatory practice. The firm houses a skilled regulatory group, servicing airlines, trade associations and manufacturers. The team frequently practice before the FAA and other government agencies in all matters related to compliance, licensing and enforcement.

Notable practitioners

Marc Warren (see p.730) is particularly well-known for his excellent FAA practice. He provides expert advice to manufacturing, airline and UAS clients. Strengths: “Marc does excellent work.” “Marc is an expert in this area.”

Baker McKenzie

What the team is known for Baker McKenzie acts for airlines, airports and aerospace manufacturers in a range of aviation regulatory issues including NTSB investigations, conflict zone flight safety and airport access matters. It is particularly recognized for its expertise in advising clients on FAA approvals and on UAS matters. The firm often handles regulatory issues pertaining to airport infrastructure developments.

Strengths

“Baker McKenzie’s team are very knowledgeable on regulations and have solid working relationships with the FAA.”

“The team provides rapid and insightful responses on a range of aviation law issues.”

“The firm is very responsive, efficient and has a high level of relevant and technical know-how.”

Notable practitioners

Jennifer Trock advises clients on a broad range of aviation regulatory and safety issues. She is particularly noted for her agency-facing practice.

Strengths: “Jennifer shows great creativity and diplomacy in her work.”

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP has an excellent aviation practice servicing a global clientele of high-profile airlines and other industry entities, including manufacturers and cargo carriers. It is well-known for the quality of representation in matters such as alliances, competition, licensing and enforcement defense. The firm offers regulatory expertise across a range of areas including US Open Skies policies and UAS matters. It is capable of handling queries concerning complex and evolving sanctions policies.

Strengths

“Holland & Knight’s team are always responsive and provide stellar legal services.”

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP advised Volaris on devising strategies to adapt to Mexico’s downgrading to a Category 2 status according to the FAA’s International Aviation Safety Assessment program.

Notable practitioners

Anita Mosner is a premier regulatory lawyer who represents an impressive portfolio of international airlines. She devotes considerable time to regulatory counseling and compliance, often defending clients in enforcement actions before the FAA.

Strengths: “Anita has great insights into the regulators and broad experience which benefits her clients.” “Anita has unique industry knowledge and it is always a pleasure working with her.” Benjamin

Slocum regularly assists airlines and foreign air carriers with various regulatory issues before the FAA and DOT. His recent experience includes advising on drone-related matters.

Band 3

Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC

What the team is known for Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC offers a respected practice noted for representing both domestic and foreign airlines, as well as freight forwarders, security companies and travel agents. It often handles matters involving codeshare agreements, anti-trust immunity and passenger rights as well as other regulatory proceedings before US government bodies. The firm is routinely consulted by foreign carriers for assistance with US regulatory requirements.

Strengths

“The team offer excellent capacity and responsiveness.”

“The group are very helpful and supportive in the advice they give.”

“The firm deliver good quality advice.”

Work highlights Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC represented JetSMART in successfully launching a codeshare with American Airlines.

Notable practitioners

Drew Derco handles commercial expansion, international treaty advice and antitrust immunity applications. Strengths: “Drew is very experienced.” Evelyn Sahr engages in a broad range of regulatory matters, notably advising on the expansion of the US operations of foreign carriers. She also has considerable experience interacting with agencies including the DOT, TSA and FAA. Strengths: “Evelyn is well-versed and has great connections.”

Garofalo Goerlich Hainbach PC

What the team is known for Garofalo Goerlich Hainbach PC is a widely respected boutique aviation firm offering expert regulatory counsel to a broad client base of foreign and domestic airlines, aircraft management companies, operators and manufacturers, among others. It regularly represents clients before government agencies in a suite of issues, including those pertaining to federal rulemaking, compliance, licensing and operations.

Strengths

“Garofalo is a boutique firm with good practitioners.”

Notable practitioners

Don Hainbach represents clients before all manner of regulatory bodies, including the NTSB, TSA and FAA. Strengths: “Don is a great lawyer who is very knowledgeable.” “Don is a strong veteran of the space.”

Jenner & Block LLP

What the team is known for Jenner & Block LLP offers capabilities across the gamut of regulatory issues in the aviation industry, including administrative, enforcement and licensing matters. It is well-known for representing the interests of leading airlines, manufacturers, trade associations and UAS operators. The firm is highlighted for its expertise in business aviation matters as they relate to government agency compliance. The team is capable of handling high-stakes litigation and complex arbitration proceedings. It also has a niche practice in advising sports teams on FAA regulatory compliance related to stadium construction.

Notable practitioners

Lauren Watson is a key contact in Chicago.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Amna Arshad of Crowell & Moring LLP handles a wide range of aviation regulatory and compliance issues. She represents both US and foreign carriers, manufacturers, airports and other sector clients. She is particularly notable for her knowledge of the UAS space. Clients benefit from her previous tenure in the Office of Aviation Enforcement and Proceedings. Strengths: “She is an excellent aviation regulatory practitioner with invaluable expertise.”

Brent Connor (see p.531) of Vedder Price PC acts for a diverse clientele, including airlines and component manufacturers. His expertise encompasses both aviation regulations and international trade matters, particularly those relating to sanctions. Strengths: “Brent is a fantastic lawyer.”

Transportation Aviation: Transactional Nationwide

Transportation: Aviation: Transactional
Leading Firms
Band 1
Sidley Austin LLP
Band 2
Crowell & Moring LLP
Fafinski Mark & Johnson, P.A.
Greenberg Traurig, LLP

Band 1

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP houses a distinguished transactional practice in the aviation space. The group offers an integrated service, leveraging expertise in M&A, capital markets, energy, restructuring, IP and venture capital to provide thorough representation to airlines and other aviation industry participants.

Strengths

"Sidley Austin has a great team and are a go-to firm for aviation transactional work."

"The team has enormous depth."

Notable practitioners

Bart Biggers is a key contact based in Dallas.

Band 2

Crowell & Moring LLP

What the team is known for Crowell & Moring LLP is highly sought after by major banks and private equity firms in the aviation space. The team provides expertise across the spectrum of transactional matters, counseling on joint ventures, spinoffs and acquisitions related to aircrafts, engines and parts, as well as maintenance facilities.

Strengths

"Crowell & Moring's team are very knowledgeable."

"The firm houses a strong group in the transactional space."

Notable practitioners

Mary-Caitlin Ray is a key contact based in Washington, DC.

Fafinski Mark & Johnson, P.A.

What the team is known for Fafinski Mark & Johnson, P.A. is a recommended boutique firm handling sophisticated transactions in the aviation sector. The group advises a wide array of clients, including financial institutions, airlines and individuals involved in the purchase, sale or financing of an aircraft. The firm is particularly proficient in counseling on bankruptcy matters in the space.

Strengths

"The team is extremely timely in their responses."

"Fafinski Mark & Johnson has a solid team who are easy to work with and are very commercial."

Work highlights Fafinski Mark & Johnson, P.A. represented Cross Ocean Partners in acquiring five Airbus A321 aircraft from five separate sellers with closings in Europe and the US.

Notable practitioners

Kevin Johnson is a key contact based in Minnesota.

Greenberg Traurig, LLP

What the team is known for Greenberg Traurig has a broad and robust practice in the aviation transactional space. The team provides extensive support on all aspects of aircraft ownership and operation, including advice on acquisitions, joint-ownership and financing. The firm also leverages expertise in intellectual property, tax and restructuring to provide a comprehensive service to clients.

Strengths

"The team always provide prompt and well-thought-out responses to questions."

Work highlights Greenberg Traurig represented a nationally-recognized agricultural company in connection with the sale of four Gulfstream mid-sized cabin business aircraft.

Notable practitioners

Jacob Bundick is a key contact based in Nevada.

Transportation NTSB Specialists Nationwide

Transportation: NTSB Specialists
Leading Firms
Band 1
Fox Rothschild
Holland & Knight LLP
Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Allen Benjamin Holland & Knight LLP
Korapaty Sarah Holland & Knight LLP
Tobin Thomas Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman *
Tochen David Fox Rothschild *
* Indicates individual with profile.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Fox Rothschild

What the team is known for Fox Rothschild is highlighted for its sophisticated NTSB practice, representing clients in complex investigations in the automotive, aviation and railroad sectors, among others.

Notable practitioners

David Tochen (see p.719) is an experienced attorney highly regarded for his expertise in the transportation space. He is particularly notable for his background as a NTSB general counsel, providing significant expertise in investigations.

Strengths: "David is a go-to attorney for big cases."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP has a NTSB specialist team with deep experience and expertise of handling complex investigations. The firm represents clients in a range of sectors including rail, road, maritime, autonomous vehicles and aviation.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight is an experienced counsel for high pressure and time-sensitive matters."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP advised Gulfstream Aerospace Corporation on an accident investigation and related litigation concerning the emergency landing and subsequent crash of Gulfstream GIV-SP at Las Americas International Airport in the Dominican Republic.

Notable practitioners

Benjamin Allen leverages his extensive experience working within the NTSB to expertly advise clients on accident investigation and litigation matters in the maritime, aviation and railroad space. Strengths: "He is a go-to for NTSB matters." Sarah Korapaty is co-leader of the firm's NTSB investigation practice. She regularly counsels clients in accident investigations in the aviation sector. Strengths: "Sarah is very prominent in aviation litigation and NTSB work." "Sarah is great to work with."

Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP

What the team is known for Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP has a deep bench of NTSB specialists who advise clients across the spectrum of transportation claims. The team frequently represents transportation providers, manufacturers and pipeline operators in the aviation and marine areas.

Strengths

"Wilson Elser is consistently responsive to requests.”

Work highlights Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP represented GATX Corporation in an NTSB investigation of a train derailment in East Palestine, Ohio in February 2023.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Tobin (see p.719), based in New York, is a leading expert in National Transportation Safety Board investigations. He is best known for his work managing business-critical investigations on behalf of pipeline companies following damaging and fatal explosions. He is further able to draw upon years of experience representing rail and road sector companies in NTSB proceedings. Clients also benefit from his background as a mechanical engineer. Strengths: “Tom is a good lawyer.”

Transportation Rail (for Railroads) Nationwide

Transportation: Rail (for Railroads)
Leading Firms
Band 1
Sidley Austin LLP
Stephoe LLP
Band 2
Covington & Burling LLP
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Band 3
Dentons
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
McGuireWoods LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Atkins Raymond A. Sidley Austin LLP*
Dupree Jr Thomas Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP*
LaRocca Anthony J Steptoe LLP
Rosenthal Michael L Covington & Burling LLP*
Band 2
Billik Eric McGuireWoods LLP*
Byrne William Holland & Knight LLP
Denton Peter Steptoe LLP
Hirsh David A Dentons LLP
Hynes Terence M Sidley Austin LLP*
Kimball Emily Hogan Lovells US LLP
Rifkind David F Stinson LLP (ORL) ◇
Sheys Kevin Law Office of Kevin M Sheys LLP (ORL) ◇
Stein Linda S Steptoe LLP
Warren Matthew Sidley Austin LLP*
Up-and-coming individuals
Loss-Eaton Tobias Sidley Austin LLP*
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP has an esteemed transportation practice noted for its representation of a significant tranche of railroad industry clients across the US. The firm offers expertise in all regulatory, financing and environmental matters and regularly represents clients before the Surface Transportation Board (STB), including on high-value rate dispute proceedings. Clients are able to call on the firm's appellate and tax controversy practices, where the team represents clients at all levels up to the Supreme Court.

It also has experience assisting clients in preemption issues, M&A, antitrust litigation and class action lawsuits. Its clientele also includes trade associations, private equity funds and logistics companies.

Strengths

“Sidley Austin is highly capable of handling complex and sophisticated matters.”

“The firm has a very deep practice in the rail space.”

“Sidley Austin's team are very responsive and provide an excellent work product.”

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP represented Gulf & Atlantic Railways in its proposed acquisition of the rail assets of Pinsky Railroad.

Notable practitioners

Raymond Atkins (see p.494) is routinely engaged in high-level rail work, including large-scale civil actions and regulatory matters. Strengths: “Ray is a font of knowledge in the area of railroad regulatory law.” “Ray is an outstanding brief writer and incredibly knowledgeable about railroad economics and regulation.” Terence Hynes (see p.592) represents a range of railroads and investors in a variety of transactional matters. He has particular experience in issues related to the permitting, financing and acquisition of rail lines. Strengths: “Terry is a giant in the rail industry, with so much knowledge and experience.” Matthew Warren (see p.730) is well-regarded for handling a range of transactional and regulatory matters before the STB, as well as for his work litigating at a state and federal level. Strengths: “Matt is a fabulous writer with the rare ability to distill very complex matters into comprehensible filings.” “Matt always has a positive attitude and is helpful and good to work with.” Tobias Loss-Eaton (see p.626) is an up-and-coming attorney with impressive experience advising some of the largest railroad companies in the United States. Strengths: “Tobias is an excellent, commercial and strong practitioner who is a key specialist in the space.” “Tobias provides great client service and is easy to work with.”

Stephoe LLP

What the team is known for Steptoe LLP is noted for its work in regulatory proceedings and litigation for large railroad clients, construction companies and trade associations. It is involved in matters such as line construction projects, high-value commercial disputes and representation before the STB. The firm is particularly recognized for skills in federal preemption, on which the team has frequently advised. The team also has noted expertise in safety and environmental work, including issues under the NEPA.

Strengths

“The team's availability, responsiveness and service are top-notch.”

“Steptoe is a fantastic practice and a go-to shop for railroad regulatory work.”

“The team are timely in their responses and provide well-thought-out solutions.”

Notable practitioners

Anthony LaRocca has a broad practice which includes preemption matters, high-value railroad acquisitions and antitrust issues. Strengths: “Tony is alert to innovative ways to approach a problem and knows how to develop solutions that are consistent with his clients' interests.” “Tony is an incredibly deep thinker who is an excellent resource for working through complex regulatory issues.” Peter Denton has a strong practice handling railroad-related regulatory and legislative concerns. He has further expertise in mergers and acquisitions involving railroad property, as well as in STB proceedings concerning the construction and abandonment of rail lines. Strengths: “Peter is very experienced and one of the major experts in the regulations of Class I and II railroads.” “Peter is responsive, quickly determines the issues and provides solutions that benefit the client's needs.” Linda Stein has notable experience in litigation, arbitration and a range of STB proceedings including rail rate reasonableness cases and railroad construction concerns. Strengths: “Linda is very experienced and has an excellent reputation.”

Band 2

Covington & Burling LLP

What the team is known for Covington & Burling LLP is a highly esteemed practice with experience working in transactional, antitrust, regulatory and government relations matters for rail clients. The firm frequently represents railroad interests in litigation, arbitration and mediation proceedings before the STB, with noted prowess in issues concerning rulemaking, rate challenges and abandonment proceedings. It is experienced in counseling clients on a range of operational, safety and security requirements.

Strengths

"The team have long-time expertise in the space with a very good railroad reputation."

"Covington & Burling is a great firm."

Notable practitioners

Michael Rosenthal (see p.683) continues to represent leading railroads in various regulatory matters before the STB. He also deftly handles arbitration proceedings. Strengths: "Michael is a fabulous attorney with great knowledge and experience." "Michael is an excellent attorney."

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP is a strong practice known for its work with a roster of class one railroads. It routinely represents clients in cases involving proposed regulatory requirements for the rail industry, as well as large class action lawsuits. The firm has a notable appellate practice that sees the group engaged in cases at a federal, state and Supreme Court level.

Strengths

"The team is easy to work with, very pleasant and collegial in their approach."

"The firm has a very strong bench."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP, were retained to challenge, on behalf of the entire North American railroad industry, a new Ohio law requiring a minimum of two crew members on every train.

Notable practitioners

Thomas Dupree Jr (see p.545) routinely represents leading railroads in key rulemakings before the STB, and has argued appeals at all levels, including the US Supreme Court. Strengths: "He is absolutely brilliant at advocacy and presents to the court in an engaging way." "Tom is very strong in high-profile litigation."

Band 3

Dentons

What the team is known for Dentons is recognized for its regulatory expertise in matters before the STB, including issues relating to interactions between passenger and freight railroads. It is well placed to advise on freight rate, antitrust, railroad construction and access issues. The firm acts for a range of national and regional railroads. It has notable expertise in cases involving the construction, sale and abandonment of rail lines.

Work highlights Dentons represented the Vitales in their effort to enforce a 1986 agreement between them and CSX Transportation.

Notable practitioners

David Hirsh handles both regulatory and business issues, and is particularly commended for his knowledge of the freight rail hosting of passenger rail services. Strengths: "David is easy to work with and highly thought of."

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells has strong capabilities handling complex transactional and regulatory matters for a variety of railroad clients. It regularly appears before the STB, DOT, FRA and other agencies. The team demonstrates particular expertise in passenger railroad matters, often advising on complex projects in the sector. The firm is also noted for deep knowledge of the issues affecting the railroad supplier industry.

Strengths

"The firm has extensive knowledge of the industry and has extensive regulatory contacts."

"The team know the industry well."

"The team have great business sense, are timely, understand urgency and respond accordingly."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells served as bond counsel for Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority and Denver Regional Transportation District, providing a legal opinion that the issuer is authorized to issue the proposed municipal securities and has met all legal and procedural requirements necessary for issuance.

Notable practitioners

Emily Kimball is particularly experienced in matters of regulatory compliance and enforcement. She has represented clients in matters before the STB and PHMSA. Strengths: "Emily is very responsive and service-orientated."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP's practice runs the full gamut of railroad transaction mandates, representing clients in M&A as well as contractual issues. The team is also noted for its regulatory and litigation expertise and counsels clients across a range of industries including construction, environment and financial services.

Strengths

"The team are very responsive and accommodating to schedules."

"The firm has subject matter experts in rail and a deep bench."

"The firm is very responsive and timely in reviewing and drafting agreements."

Notable practitioners

William Byrne has experience representing railroad and shipper clients in both litigation and transactional matters. He routinely handles cases involving the sale, purchase and leasing of railroad lines. Strengths: "Bill has a broad knowledge base and is a strong advocate." "He is an excellent attorney."

McGuireWoods LLP

What the team is known for McGuireWoods LLP is recommended for its expertise handling complex regulatory and litigation matters for a plethora of railroad clients. The firm is further noted for its experience in the transactional rail space, advising on financing, M&A and contractual agreements.

Notable practitioners

Eric Bilik (see p.505) has a broad and long-standing commercial litigation practice, advising national and regional clients in the rail space.

Other Ranked Lawyers

David Rifkind of Stinson LLP is regularly retained by railroads in cases before the STB, including rate reasonableness challenges. He also has a strong practice assisting railroad companies in the negotiation of rail corridor sales. Strengths: "David is knowledgeable, understands the agencies and is very experienced in railroad matters."

Kevin Sheys routinely represents railroads, suppliers, and shippers in major railroad transactions and related regulatory issues. Strengths: "Kevin gets to the bottom line, has a good understanding of the space and communicates very well."

Transportation Rail (for Shippers) Nationwide

Transportation: Rail (for Shippers)
Leading Firms
Band 1
Slover & Loftus LLP
Thompson Hine LLP
Band 2
GKG Law, P.C.
Van Ness Feldman LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
LeSeur John H. Slover & Loftus LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Booth Karyn A. Thompson Hine LLP
McBride Michael F. Van Ness Feldman LLP
Pföhl Peter A. Slover & Loftus LLP
Rosenberg Robert. Slover & Loftus LLP
Wilcox Thomas W. Law Office of Thomas W. (ORL) ◇
Band 2
Brown Sandra L. Thompson Hine LLP
Elliott, III Daniel. GKG Law, P.C.
Jaffe Daniel. Slover & Loftus LLP
Moreno Jeffrey O. Thompson Hine LLP
Pergolizzi Frank J. Slover & Loftus LLP
Up-and-coming individuals
Tutrone Jason. Thompson Hine LLP
Associates to watch
Little Kristine. Holland & Knight LLP (ORL) ◇
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Slover & Loftus LLP

What the team is known for Slover & Loftus LLP is a highly respected firm with a strong stable of attorneys representing a large number of significant railroad shippers and other railroad customers from a wide range of industries. It is known for its expertise in representing clients before the Surface Transportation Board (STB) in such matters as unreasonable practice disputes and rail rate reasonableness challenges. The firm is also active in contract litigation before state and federal courts. It is further noted for representing clients before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Strengths

"The team provide quick responses and are commercial in their approach."

"The Slover & Loftus team has a wealth of knowledge and resources."

Work highlights Slover & Loftus LLP represented Navajo Transitional Energy Company in a multitude of rail-service disputes with BNSF Railway Company, regarding deficient transportation of client's export coal shipments.

Notable practitioners

John LeSeur is well-regarded for the strength of his practice in fuel surcharge litigation cases. He represents clients from a range of sectors, including energy and steel. Peter Pföhl advises shippers from a multitude of industry sectors in matters such as rail contract disputes and fuel surcharge litigation. Strengths: "Peter is the full package. He is very knowledgeable on the substance of regulation and a really good strategist."

Robert Rosenberg advises clients on a range of matters before the STB, such as rail rate cases and rail abandonment issues. Strengths: "Robert has a deep and comprehensive knowledge of the rail sector." "Robert is a terrific and excellent attorney."

Daniel Jaffe has an active regulatory and litigation practice, advising clients on rail operation matters, rail spur construction and issues arising from rail service disruption. Strengths: "Daniel has a very balanced and commercially savvy approach." Frank Pergolizzi represents shippers in litigation at both a federal and state level, and also maintains an active regulatory practice. He is experienced in rail contract disputes and negotiations regarding transportation and fuel supply rates.

Thompson Hine LLP

What the team is known for Thompson Hine LLP represents manufacturers, utilities and chemical companies, among other clients, in significant rail rate cases before the STB. It is heavily involved in significant legislative issues relating to rail regulatory reform on behalf of trade organizations. The team offers notable expertise in the regulatory environment surrounding the transportation of hazardous materials, while also advising on matters involving access rights, surcharges and rail abandonment. The firm also possesses significant experience in demurrage and rail car storage charge cases.

Strengths

"Thompson Hine is well-equipped to handle complex and sophisticated matters in relation to the railroad industry."

"The team is extremely responsive and proactive."

Work highlights Thompson Hine LLP represented Delta Troy Interests in matters before federal and state governing bodies related to a proposed Dallas-to-Houston high-speed passenger rail project.

Notable practitioners

Karyn Booth represents trade associations, large corporations and shippers in commercial railroad disputes and regulatory matters. Strengths: "Karyn is fabulous. Her technical expertise is top-notch and she has great connections." "Karyn is an invaluable asset on matters." Sandra Brown has a strong practice in regulatory rail issues, including rail transportation and abandonment contract negotiation. Strengths: "Sandra consistently displays exceptional expertise and attentiveness to clients' needs." Jeffrey Moreno represents a variety of clients drawn from the utility, agricultural and chemical sectors. He regularly advises on matters involving rail rate regulation as well as handling general regulatory investigations. Strengths: "Jeffrey is a great counsel and is very informed."

Jason Tutrone is an up-and-coming practitioner noted for his work advising clients on regulatory and transactional freight rail matters. He represents clients in rate cases and rulemakings before the STB as well as FRA enforcement actions. Strengths: "Jason is an excellent attorney."

Band 2

GKG Law, P.C.

What the team is known for GKG Law, P.C. represents a broad client base including shippers, utilities, chemical manufacturers and certain state government departments. It deftly handles railcar leases, rail transportation contracts, services and charges issues and regulatory counseling on FRA and AAR rules and regulations.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Elliott III's former experience as chairman of the STB means that he is well placed to advise clients on regulatory and transactional matters pertaining to railroads. Strengths: "Dan is a very strong attorney." "He is an excellent counsel with a great practice."

Van Ness Feldman LLP

What the team is known for Van Ness Feldman LLP has a dedicated focus on representing freight railroad customers in contract issues and dispute resolution. The team is experienced in acting for industry associations on the full range of legislative and regulatory matters affecting the freight railroad industry. Its other noted capabilities include permitting and financing issues, as well as ADR, particularly in cases with limited STB relief availability. It is capable of advising on issues pertaining to the transportation of crude oil by railroad, including federal regulation issues and contractual matters.

Work highlights Van Ness Feldman LLP filed a complaint on behalf of Olin Corporation at the Surface Transportation Board, challenging unreasonable charges imposed by Union Pacific Railroad Company on the transportation of Olin's tank cars.

Notable practitioners

Michael McBride has broad-based expertise which extends to transport-related litigation, as well as regulatory matters before the STB. Strengths: "Michael has a strong practice."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Kristine Little of Holland & Knight LLP is an associate commended for her work assisting clients with regulatory compliance advice. She is particularly noted for her knowledge of STB and FRA policy.

Thomas Wilcox of Law Office of Thomas W. Wilcox, LLC routinely advises transport associations and industry bodies on rail charge cases and demurrage concerns. He frequently appears before the STB on complex proceedings. Strengths: "Tom is an excellent attorney with a robust shipper practice." "Tom is absolutely a go-to on the shipper side for rail regulation."

Transportation Road (Automotive) Nationwide

Transportation: Road (Automotive)
Leading Firms
Band 1
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Band 2
ArentFox Schiff LLP
BakerHostetler LLP
Foley & Lardner LLP
King & Spalding LLP
Mayer Brown LLP
Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Seyfarth Shaw LLP
Band 3
Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP
Dykema Gossett PLLC
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP
Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
Sidley Austin LLP
Thompson Hine LLP
Venable LLP
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Chiappa Carl Hogan Lovells US LLP
Leading Individuals
Star individuals
Jones Erika Z Mayer Brown LLP*
Band 1
Grigorian Christopher Foley & Lardner LLP
Jacoby Aaron ArentFox Schiff LLP
Ludwizewski Raymond B Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher*
McKelvey, Jr. Steven Nelson Mullins Riley
Band 2
Bertron Andy Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Donley Billy M BakerHostetler LLP*
McGrath James Seyfarth Shaw LLP
McNellie Elizabeth BakerHostetler LLP*
Moran Colm Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP*
Nakayama Granta Y King & Spalding LLP*
Sullivan John J Hogan Lovells US LLP
Band 3
Bernstein Sarah M. Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum*
Hemmersbaugh Paul DLA Piper LLP (US) (ORL) ◇*
Kidney Michael L Hogan Lovells US LLP
Miller Vanessa Foley & Lardner LLP
Montague R Latane Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP
Otera Richard Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP
Rotondi Joanne Hogan Lovells US LLP
Savage Justin Sidley Austin LLP*
Skelton John R Seyfarth Shaw LLP
Wolf Ariel Venable LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Hogan Lovells US LLP

What the team is known for Hogan Lovells has an impressive practice with strength in automotive issues, notably including safety and environmental compliance matters. It is a broad practice with particular proficiency in automotive franchising, advising on corporate agreements and commercial expansion, as well as representing manufacturers in lawsuits with retailers and dealerships. The team also excels in advising on technological evolution in the automotive sector, particularly concerning privacy laws and autonomous vehicles. The firm regularly represents global automotive manufacturers, trade associations and technology companies.

Strengths

"Hogan Lovells has the ability to handle complex and sophisticated matters."

"Hogan Lovells provide excellent guidance in the regulatory space."

"Hogan Lovells is a very well-respected practice. The team are a go-to in this space."

Work highlights Hogan Lovells advised indie Semiconductor, an autotech solutions innovator, in a definitive agreement to purchase GEO Semiconductor.

Notable practitioners

Carl Chiappa has a market-leading practice advising automotive franchise networks on dealership agreements, business strategy and regulatory compliance. Strengths: "Carl is an idol in the space." John Sullivan is an experienced commercial litigator, recognized for his representation of major automotive clients in franchising disputes with dealerships. He has notably represented US divisions of international automotive companies. Michael Kidney is highlighted for his expert representation of clients in complex automotive litigation. He has particular expertise in emissions warranty laws and large class actions. Strengths: "Michael is very thoughtful and innovative in the space." Joanne Rotondi taps into her environmental expertise to adeptly assist clients on compliance and reporting requirements in the automotive industry. She also regularly provides advice on class actions involving electric and hybrid vehicles. Strengths: "She has great relationships with a number of regulators."

Band 2

ArentFox Schiff LLP

What the team is known for ArentFox Schiff LLP is a well-regarded pure automotive practice with significant experience advising industry clients on franchising, regulatory compliance, environmental concerns and M&A. The team represents clients from across the US and is highlighted for its representation of dealership groups. The firm is able to advise on autonomous vehicle regulatory issues, and also handles class actions and government investigations.

Strengths

"ArentFox Schiff is an excellent firm."

Work highlights ArentFox Schiff LLP defended the Napleton Automotive Group, an affiliated West Palm Beach Hyundai dealership and several employees in litigation against Hyundai Motor America, in the Southern District of Florida in connection with allegations of fraud and RICO violations.

Notable practitioners

Aaron Jacoby represents a range of dealership and technology clients, providing both regulatory advice and representation in commercial negotiations and transactional mandates. Strengths: "Aaron is a very experienced lawyer." "Aaron is very collaborative and protects his clients' interests."

BakerHostetler LLP

What the team is known for BakerHostetler LLP is a recognized automotive practice group, adroit at handling a range of matters covering franchising, commercial disputes and vehicle regulatory compliance. The firm is notable for its role in the consolidation and growth of the manufacturing arm of the sector, advising on business strategy and operations, and contract negotiations.

Strengths

"The BakerHostetler team regularly provides advice on complex and novel matters."

"The BakerHostetler attorneys are all well experienced and are more than capable of handling complex and sophisticated legal matters."

Work highlights BakerHostetler LLP advised Lucid Motors in developing its sales and service model and implementing it across the US.

Notable practitioners

Billy Donley (see p.543) frequently acts for manufacturers in vehicle franchise litigation and provides advice on regulatory enforcement proceedings and business strategy. Strengths: "Billy consistently goes above and beyond." "He is extremely knowledgeable and has the business acumen to provide a balanced view of options and direction." Elizabeth McNellie (see p.639) is sought after by manufacturers and distributors, offering expertise in complex dealership and franchise agreements. Strengths: "Elizabeth is a strong attorney." "Elizabeth has an excellent reputation in the industry."

Foley & Lardner LLP

What the team is known for Foley & Lardner LLP has a comprehensive automotive practice, representing an impressive portfolio of clients including assemblers, manufacturers, suppliers and distributors. The team has notable experience handling automotive safety, EPA emissions, NHSTA and standards compliance matters, as well as defect investigations.

Strengths

"The firm houses excellent lawyers."

"Foley & Lardner is a great full-service firm that has excellent automotive expertise."

"Foley's partners are consistently available on very short notice to address whatever concerns arise."

Work highlights Foley & Lardner LLP advised Lightning eMotors on litigation related to quality and supply issues with Lightning eMotors' battery pack supplier.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Grigorian represents clients in a range of regulatory cases, with particular expertise in motor vehicle safety law. He frequently appears before the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration in cases involving safety standards and policy formulation. Strengths: "Chris is extremely knowledgeable and accessible."

"Chris is incredibly knowledgeable. He is a go-to on automotive issues." Vanessa Miller is a go-to for complex disputes concerning breach of contract, supply chain issues, product liability and trade secret claims in the automotive industry. Strengths: "Vanessa consistently provides exceptional services and brings a wealth of commercial legal knowledge to discussions." "Vanessa is a great lawyer who is responsive, knowledgeable, attentive and thorough."

King & Spalding LLP

What the team is known for King & Spalding LLP is a dynamic automotive sector group, focusing on environmental compliance investigations and product defense cases. The firm is particularly proficient and skilled in litigation, handling a number of high-profile class actions, as well as personal injury lawsuits. The team is experienced in providing regulatory advice for sector innovation, notably in autonomous vehicle technology. Its clientele includes global automotive manufacturers, technology companies and trade associations.

Strengths

"King & Spalding is a premier litigation firm."

"King & Spalding is a terrific firm that does sophisticated work throughout the industry."

"The team offer superb client service and excellent, strategic thinking on all matters."

Work highlights King & Spalding LLP represented Porsche Cars North America in litigation brought by the State of Texas and thirty Texas counties concerning alleged tampering of Volkswagen, Audi and Porsche diesel vehicles in Texas.

Notable practitioners

Granta Nakayama (see p.1349) is an experienced attorney who is engaged by a number of industry-leading manufacturers in complex environmental regulatory investigations. Strengths: "Granta is a fantastic practitioner with great environmental knowledge in the automotive space."

Mayer Brown LLP

What the team is known for Mayer Brown LLP is an automotive specialist with a particular focus on product safety and environmental compliance matters. The firm often handles litigation, especially class actions, as well as regulatory matters involving autonomous vehicle technology. The group frequently acts for a diverse range of manufacturers and trade associations, in addition to clients leading technological innovation in the sector.

Strengths

"Mayer Brown is an excellent firm in the automotive industry."

Notable practitioners

Erika Jones (see p.598) is a renowned regulatory attorney, noted for advising on automotive safety regulations and compliance. Strengths: "Erika is a go-to on a range of unique automotive issues." "Erika is a zealous advocate for her clients."

Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP

What the team is known for Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP is a resourceful automotive group, noted particularly for its comprehensive franchise and dealership-focused capabilities. The team is experienced in advising on commercial expansion and disputes, as well as handling bankruptcy proceedings and regulatory compliance. The firm also acts in product liability lawsuits and investigations.

Strengths

"The Nelson Mullins team is sophisticated, responsive and covers a broad range of topics and jurisdictions."

"The team has a wealth of knowledge and has the ability to handle any issue related to the automotive industry."

"The firm's attorneys are always very fast with their responsiveness and are extremely thorough."

Work highlights Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP assisted Alfa Romeo and Maserati in their desire to have an exclusive Alfa Romeo and Maserati dealership operating out of a newly approved location in the US.

Notable practitioners

Steven McKelvey Jr regularly advises on issues relating to franchising and dealerships, including commercial litigation, ownership transfers and licensing. Strengths: "Steve is very collaborative and great to work with." Andy Bertron undertakes all manner of franchising matters for automotive manufacturers and distributors. Strengths: "Andy is very knowledgeable and knows the automotive landscape very well." Richard Otera is sought after by a host of automotive manufacturers for his expertise in new vehicle rollouts, as well as disputes with dealers. Strengths: "Richard is very strategic and commercially minded." "Richard is a strong attorney."

Seyfarth Shaw LLP

What the team is known for Seyfarth Shaw LLP has a specialized automotive group with particular expertise in dealership litigation. It provides skillful representation of major manufacturers and rental companies in franchise litigation, putative class actions and product defect disputes. The team draws on additional experience handling emissions-related matters, and offers clients broad compliance counsel.

Strengths

"The team provide good support and are very effective."

"Seyfarth Shaw has outstanding lawyers who know the industry well."

"The team is exceptionally smart and knowledgeable."

Work highlights Seyfarth Shaw LLP represented Mitsubishi Motors North America in an administrative protest before the California New Motor Vehicle Board filed by a dealer challenging Mitsubishi's notice of termination.

Notable practitioners

James McGrath undertakes courtroom advocacy, as well as a broad range of road franchise advisory work. He regularly counsels clients on relationship management and risk mitigation. Strengths: "He is very concise, to the point and understands the subject matter well." John Skelton is cochair of the firm's franchise & distribution group. His practice focuses on complex automotive disputes where he is able to draw on his extensive experience of franchise, antitrust, distribution and trial capability to adeptly represent clients.

Band 3

Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP

What the team is known for Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP is a go-to automotive practice, noted for its franchise and dealership-focused capabilities. The team expertly advise on disputes and transactions, as well as regulatory compliance and intellectual property concerns.

Strengths

"Both the depth and breadth of the firm's ability to handle complex legal matters is outstanding."

"The firm has a wide reach of expertise and knowledge."

"The team is extremely responsive and thorough."

Work highlights Barack Ferrazzano Kirschbaum & Nagelberg LLP represented Navistar in a matter before the Arkansas Motor Vehicle Commission, where it was alleged that it had not properly allocated trucks to a dealer as required by Arkansas law.

Notable practitioners

Sarah Bernstein (see p.504) cochairs the firm's motor vehicle group and leads the group's transactional practice. She frequently counsels vehicle manufacturers on sale and distribution, franchise and dealer networks, as well as regulatory concerns. Strengths: "Sarah is timely, provides superb counsel and is a pleasure to work with."

Dykema Gossett PLLC

What the team is known for Dykema Gossett PLLC houses a comprehensive automotive practice, advising suppliers and manufacturers across the spectrum of litigation matters. The team frequently defends major clients in product liability, property damage and wrongful death lawsuits. The group is also recommended for its transactional expertise, regularly representing companies in strategic alliance and supply agreements related to emerging technologies.

Strengths

"The firm has a very deep bench of knowledgeable trial lawyers."

"The team are knowledgeable and provide very practical advice."

Work highlights Dykema Gossett PLLC defended Tesla against a plaintiff who alleged her autopilot and airbag systems malfunctioned in her Tesla 2016 Model S.

Notable practitioners

Michael Carey is a key contact in Minneapolis.

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

What the team is known for Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP offers expertise across a broad range of industry matters, including environment, antitrust, franchising and international trade issues, particularly concerning litigation and appeals. It represents an impressive portfolio of automotive corporations, component manufacturers, trade associations and technology companies. The team is noted for its experience handling class action litigation, including labor and employment-related issues within the auto industry.

Strengths

"The firm is excellent."

Work highlights Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP represented Mitsubishi Motors in post-trial motions and the potential appeal of Amagasu v. Fred Beans Family of Dealerships, in which plaintiffs alleged serious injury due to an allegedly defective seatbelt in a 1992 Mitsubishi model 3000GT sports car.

Notable practitioners

Raymond Ludwiszewski (see p.1343) represents an array of manufacturers and trade associations, providing compliance advice and courtroom advocacy, particularly in matters relating to environmental regulations. He is noted for his governmental background and experience in enforcement. Strengths: "Ray is a very experienced attorney."

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP

What the team is known for Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP leverages its deep bench in the energy sector to provide deft representation to clients in the automotive space, with notable strength in electric vehicles. The group advises across a spectrum of matters including labor and employment, litigation, corporate transactions, energy regulation and intellectual property concerns.

Strengths

"Morgan Lewis is a very strong partner."

"The team are all super knowledgeable, well-prepared and personable."

"The firm is excellent."

Work highlights Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP represented a nationwide US retailer in its efforts to develop, own and operate publicly-available electric vehicle charging infrastructure.

Notable practitioners

Daniel Savrin is a key contact at the firm.

Latane Montague has notable regulatory expertise, advising on both safety and environmental regulation of the automotive industry. He is also adept at counseling clients on EPA and National Highway Traffic Safety Administration compliance. Strengths: "Latane is really excellent in the automotive regulatory space. He is knowledgeable, highly experienced and provides clear writing."

Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP

What the team is known for Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP has a sophisticated automotive practice, particularly in the litigation space, where its team brings extensive trial experience to the table to adeptly represent clients. The team handles a range of matters, including warranty, product liability, consumer fraud claims and dealer-franchise disputes. The firm also counsels clients on risk mitigation, exposure and regulatory developments.

Strengths

"Shook, Hardy & Bacon is always extremely responsive."

"The firm offers a great service."

"The team produce an excellent work product."

Work highlights Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP defended American Honda in a nationwide class action lawsuit concerning alleged sudden deceleration in Acura vehicles due to alleged miscommunications between the engine, powertrain and transmission control modules.

Notable practitioners

Colm Moran (see p.646) focuses his practice on automotive franchising, regularly representing manufacturers in disputes with dealerships, as well as defending clients in class action proceedings. Strengths: "He is a trusted advisor." "Colm is very easy to work with."

Sidley Austin LLP

What the team is known for Sidley Austin LLP is a national powerhouse with a broad practice in automotive matters. The team expertly represents clients in complex regulatory, litigation and transactional cases. The firm is able to leverage its international trade, intellectual property and tax capabilities to assist in automotive related matters. Its clients include OEMs, Tier 1 suppliers, innovative technology startups and investors.

Strengths

"The team have a solid sense of what is happening in the industry and what direction issues are taking."

Work highlights Sidley Austin LLP represented Allkem, a global lithium chemicals company, in its all-stock merger of equals with Livent Corporation.

Notable practitioners

Justin Savage (see p.1360) is the global leader of the firm's automotive and mobility group. He is noted for his extensive experience representing companies, boards and senior executives in litigation, enforcement, investigations and compliance matters. Strengths: "Justin has a deep sense of where regulators are heading and a strategic ability to help companies resolve complex and difficult matters." "Justin is a good lawyer and easy to work with."

Thompson Hine LLP

What the team is known for Thompson Hine LLP leverages its strong environmental practice to complement its NHTSA practice and advise clients on regulatory issues pertaining to the Clean Air Act and CARB mobile source emission regulations. The team is adept at handling complex NHTSA and DOT litigation and defending clients against various enforcement actions. The firm also taps into its corporate expertise to counsel clients on safety programs and mitigate enforcement risk.

Notable practitioners

Will Godfrey is a key contact in Washington, DC.

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable LLP is a recommended automotive group, noted particularly for its comprehensive practice in emerging mobility technology. The group frequently advises on issues arising at the crossroads of automation, connectivity, electrification and safety. The firm represents an array of clients from startups and technology companies to Tier 1 suppliers and component manufacturers.

Strengths

"The Venable team are great to with. They are very responsive and knowledgeable in the subject area."

"Venable has a team with significant experience."

Work highlights Venable LLP served as general counsel to the Association to Advance Zero Emission Commercial Vehicles, providing legal and policy counsel on state and federal charging, infrastructure, and ZEV issues.

Notable practitioners

Ariel Wolf leads the firm's autonomous and connected mobility group. He is well-versed in advising on transportation innovations, particularly autonomous and electric vehicles.

Strengths: "Ariel is a phenomenal resource, a brilliant problem solver and astute political operative." "Ariel provides superb client services. His depth of political, public policy and legal experience allows him to provide wise strategic counsel."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Paul Hemmersbaugh (see p.582) of DLA Piper LLP (US) leverages his extensive experience as former Chief Counsel to the federal auto safety regulator to expertly advise clients on a diverse range of commercial and regulatory litigation, as well as investigations in the automotive space. Strengths: "Paul has a calm demeanor, is very helpful and can keep on top of fast emerging regulations and issues." "Paul knows all the people and has a lot of government experience."

Transportation Road (Carriage/Logistics) Nationwide

Transportation: Road (Carriage/Logistics)

Leading Firms

Band 1

Benesch

Holland & Knight LLP

Band 2

McCarter & English, LLP

Scopelitis, Garvin, Light & Hanson, P.C.

Thompson Hine LLP

Leading Individuals

Band 1

Blubaugh Marc Benesch

Byrne William Holland & Knight LLP

Leibman Ronald McCarter & English, LLP

Todd Jonathan Benesch

Band 2

Booth Karyn A. Thompson Hine LLP

Feary Greg Scopelitis, Garvin, Light & Hanson, P.C.

Rice Jameson B. Holland & Knight LLP

Sharma Prasad Scopelitis, Garvin, Light & Hanson, P.C.

Zalud Eric Benesch

Up-and-coming individuals

Mulrane Kelly E. Benesch

Tutrone Jason Thompson Hine LLP

Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Benesch

What the team is known for Benesch is a well-respected transportation group which regularly advises a cross-section of logistics providers, manufacturers, retailers and trade associations. Its services include negotiating transportation contracts, regulatory compliance and disputes. The firm houses IP, labor and employment, real estate and litigation expertise within the transportation practice.

Strengths

"The firm has transportation lawyers with real-world experience, adding value in commercial transactions and disputes."

"The team is extremely responsive and timely."

"Benesch is the premier resource for industry-leading transportation counsel."

Work highlights Benesch advised Omni Logistics in their $3.2 billion merger with Forward Air.

Notable practitioners

Marc Blubaugh has a broad transportation practice, advising on commercial agreements and assisting clients in navigating the regulatory landscape. He also represents clients in a range of contentious proceedings. Strengths: "Marc is a fantastic attorney. He is highly responsive, extremely knowledgeable and gives great guidance." "Marc has a very strong reputation and is a fabulous attorney." Jonathan Todd regularly engages in transactional and regulatory mandates, with significant experience negotiating and reviewing commercial contracts. Strengths: "Jonathan brings industry perspective and thorough legal knowledge to the process." Eric Zalud represents commerce and logistics clients in a range of contentious matters, including negligence cases, insurance coverage disputes and class actions.

He also has significant experience advising on transactional and general commercial matters.

Strengths: "Eric is a seasoned litigator who has a deep understanding of businesses and the law."

"Eric is a foundational presence in the transportation arena." Kelly Mulrane frequently advises clients on a range of regulatory and contentious commercial matters. She is particularly adept in disputes relating to transportation contracts, freight and warehousing issues.

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP offers significant experience in representing trucking companies in all aspects of transportation law, including contractual and regulatory work as well as litigation. The firm is knowledgeable in issues facing intermodal or multimodal clients in the road transport space. The team is called upon by manufacturers and transport companies to assist with disputes, investigations and governmental relations. It continues to be engaged for representation in a multitude of employee misclassification lawsuits, representing trucking and supply chain companies, as well as other logistical entities.

Strengths

"The team's broad knowledge base in the carrier and logistics industry adds to the firm's strong legal judgment and well-crafted deliverables."

"The team is very responsive and make themselves available."

"The team are very deep and experienced in commercial transportation matters."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP represented XPO Global Forwarding in a contentious lawsuit concerning services rendered with partial payments and counterclaims as to a customs fine imposed for the logistics undertakings.

Notable practitioners

William Byrne acts for an impressive roster of freight and distribution clients, at both established and startup level. He lends his skills to both contentious and noncontentious matters, with particular proficiency in regulatory and intermodal issues. Strengths: "Bill has tremendous experience and depth of knowledge within the world of freight transportation law and practice." "Bill has unique commercial awareness of the logistics industry as a whole." Jameson Rice is experienced in negotiating transportation contracts on behalf of shippers and manufacturers, alongside various intermodal agreements. Strengths: "Jameson is very responsive."

Band 2

McCarter & English, LLP

What the team is known for McCarter & English, LLP's practice runs the full gamut of supply chain matters. Its services include corporate and technology supply chain issues as well as advice pertaining to M&A and customs and trade-related matters. The firm leverages its international expertise to advise on cross-border equipment and purchasing, leasing and financing transactions. The team also has a notable litigation, investigation and enforcement practice.

Strengths

"McCarter & English has industry-leading professionals."

"The team are always on top of responses and timelines."

"The team make themselves available and are very client-focused."

Work highlights McCarter & English, LLP advised Kodiak Robotics in negotiating agreements with online and traditional retailers, motor carriers and freight brokers for beta testing its for-hire motor carrier services in the southern US and regarding the installation and maintenance of its vehicles, as well as hardware and software in vehicles.

Notable practitioners

Ronald Leibman is valued by clients for his advice on freight service negotiations, business strategy and supply chain management. Strengths: "Ron is extraordinarily knowledgeable." "Ron is extremely responsive and always offers excellent advice."

Scopelitis, Garvin, Light & Hanson, P.C.

What the team is known for Scopelitis, Garvin, Light & Hanson, P.C. is a boutique trucking firm with a strong market reputation for its carriage and logistics practice. It regularly advises logistics and trucking companies on a range of regulatory compliance and litigation matters, including class actions.

Strengths

"Scopelitis is very good in their representation of motor carriers."

"Scopelitis is an excellent firm. The team have a very talented bench."

Notable practitioners

Greg Feary is renowned for his long-established regulatory transportation practice. He provides advice to trucking and logistics providers on a range of matters, including insurance audits, legislative issues and sector-specific employment law. Strengths: "Greg is a very experienced and very good motor carrier lawyer." "Greg is highly respected in the trucking world and is very collaborative." Prasad Sharma's former experience as general counsel for the US Trucking Association means that he is well placed to assist clients on transportation and logistics matters. Strengths: "Prasad is an excellent attorney in the trucking space." "He is highly respected and collaborative."

Thompson Hine LLP

What the team is known for Thompson Hine LLP has a strong practice with expertise in regulatory rule-making, federal preemption litigation and freight forwarder contracts. It represents clients before the Department of Transportation and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration. The firm houses a dedicated motor carrier emergency response team and subsequent experience in major accident litigation for trucking companies. It is regularly retained by a number of industry associations, advising on government policy development and regulatory regime change. The team is also notable for its representation of major motoring customer groups.

Strengths

"Thompson Hine houses a robust practice with a good team."

"The team are very thorough and knowledgeable about US logistics regulations."

"Thompson Hine is a strong, well-respected firm with some very talented attorneys."

Work highlights Thompson Hine LLP represented

the National Industrial Transportation League in numerous matters including advising on supply chain disruptions that continued throughout late 2021 and 2022, including challenges with port drayage services caused by driver and chassis shortages.

Notable practitioners

Karyn Booth is renowned for her impressive roster of carrier clients and provides broad regulatory and compliance advice. She is particularly noted for advising on safety and environmental issues. Strengths: "Karyn is fabulous. Her technical expertise is top-notch and she has great connections." Jason Tutrone offers particular expertise in the trucking sector. He advises on carriage regulations, including the hours of service rules, and works with trade associations as well as carrier companies. Strengths: "Jason gets to know the clients' businesses very well. He provides great advice and really understands pressure points and agreements."

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Finance Nationwide

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Finance
Leading Firms
Band 1
Seward & Kissel LLP
Band 2
Cozen O'Connor
Norton Rose Fulbright
Watson Farley & Williams (New York) LLP
Band 3
Blank Rome LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Jones Walker LLP
Reed Smith LLP
Vedder Price PC
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Rodgers Daniel Baker, Donelson, Bearman (ORL) ◇
Timpone Michael Seward & Kissel LLP
Band 2
Chase Greg Limbo (ORL) ◇
Devine Brian Norton Rose Fulbright
Ferrer Geoffrey D Cozen O'Connor
Salgado Anthony Blank Rome LLP
Tenev Jovi Holland & Knight LLP
Band 3
Baldwin William Jones Walker LLP
Belisle Christopher Watson Farley & Williams (New York)
Benson John Watson Farley & Williams (New York) LLP
Billotti Keith Seward & Kissel LLP *
Hollander Steven Watson Farley & Williams (New York)
Horton Edward S Seward & Kissel LLP
Nam Hoyoon Vedder Price *
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Seward & Kissel LLP

What the team is known for Seward & Kissel LLP has an esteemed maritime finance practice that regularly handles high-profile transactions for significant international clients. The team is well-known for being highly capable in private equity, capital markets and complex commercial financing transactions. The firm offers further notable expertise in US flag, tax and bankruptcy matters and is utilized by entities operating in the shipping, offshore and logistics sectors.

Strengths

"The team offer a very high degree of responsiveness."

"The firm has great capital markets abilities in shipping."

"Seward & Kissel is absolutely excellent and a go-to firm in the US."

Work highlights Seward & Kissel LLP represented Crédit Agricole in a senior secured term loan and revolving credit facility, secured by ten Bahamian flagged modern very large gas carriers.

Notable practitioners

Michael Timpone is particularly recognized for his expertise in the financing and acquisition of vessels. His clients include prominent banks and shipping operators. Strengths: "Mike is incredibly easy to work with, understands the time-sensitive nature of matters and takes a view based on the commercial reality." "Mike is extremely knowledgeable." Keith Billotti (see p.505) is recommended for his extensive expertise in capital markets and M&A transactions in the shipping space. Strengths: "He is a go-to for large finance queries in shipping." "Keith is always available." Edward Horton is a capital markets partner with significant experience acting for issuers and underwriters active in the shipping sector. He deftly handles large initial and secondary offerings as well as private placements and financing arrangements arising out of bankruptcy proceedings. Strengths: "He is focused, knowledgeable and definitely someone to contact in this space." "Edward is commercial and very good with clients."

Band 2

Cozen O'Connor

What the team is known for Cozen O'Connor is a strong group noted for advising vessel owners and operators, as well as financial institutions and investors, on a host of shipping finance issues. The firm regularly acts on issues involving leasing transactions, credit facilities, maritime M&A and restructuring. The team boasts US flag shipping expertise, including guaranteed loans and Jones Act issues. The firm is further noted for competencies in Marshall Islands and Liberian law.

Strengths

"Cozen O'Connors' team always provides very fast responses."

"The firm has a wide range of industry experts."

Work highlights Cozen O'Connor represented Easterly Tankers Holders and its Marshall Islands subsidiaries in connection with a senior secured loan of up to $75 million provided by Macquarie Bank.

Notable practitioners

Geoffrey Ferrer handles shipping finance matters for a range of owner, operator and financial institution clients. Strengths: "Geoffrey is a wonderful practitioner." "He is smart, reliable and easy to work with."

Norton Rose Fulbright

What the team is known for Norton Rose Fulbright provides shipping finance counsel to a client base composed of foreign and domestic financial institutions, shipowners and energy companies. The firm possesses expertise in a variety of shipping transactions, including debt and equity placements, M&A and restructuring work. The team has a noted focus on the offshore oil and gas industry, particularly in Latin America and the Gulf of Mexico. It is also experienced in cross-border matters covering jurisdictions including the Marshall Islands, Greece and Bermuda.

Strengths

"The team are always responsive and to the point."

"The team consistently brings expertise to matters."

Work highlights Norton Rose Fulbright advised Credit Agricole on obtaining a senior secured amended credit facility of up to $485 million, comprised of a $300 million term loan and a $185 million revolving credit facility.

Notable practitioners

Brian Devine is highly regarded for his representation of both lenders and borrowers in asset-backed financings. He is also well placed to advise in corporate transactions. He is an internationally renowned shipping expert with leading knowledge of Marshall Islands and Liberian law. Strengths: "Brian is incredibly helpful, has fantastic connections and is very capable." "Brian is a strong lawyer who is very experienced and has a great practice."

Watson Farley & Williams (New York) LLP

What the team is known for Watson Farley & Williams has a hugely sophisticated practice focused on the representation of financial institutions and major owners and operators in all aspects of shipping finance, including capital markets, private equity and restructuring. The firm's expertise extends across numerous jurisdictions, including matters involving Marshall Islands, Vanuatu and Liberian maritime law. The team has experience in asset financing, refinancing transactions and is able to draw on resources from across its international offices.

Strengths

"The team is very strong and always responsive."

"The firm is very capable with structuring and executing maritime finance deals."

Work highlights Watson Farley & Williams advised Pangaea Logistics Solutions on its acquisition of marine port terminal operations in Port Everglades/Fort Lauderdale and Port of Palm Beach in Florida, and the Port of Baltimore, Maryland from Host Terminals LLC in an all-cash transaction.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Belisle handles a range of corporate and finance structuring transactions for maritime industry clients operating coastwise. Strengths: "Chris is a very experienced and knowledgeable maritime lawyer, with particular expertise in vessel finance." "Chris is creative and responsive." John Benson handles asset-backed transactions for domestic and international corporates and financial institutions involved in the shipping industry. He is additionally admitted to practice in the Marshall Islands. Strengths: "John is highly sophisticated and has a strong awareness of the market." "He is knowledgeable, knows his way around the documents and understands the wider market."

Steven Hollander is commended for his expertise across a range of securities and capital markets matters in the shipping sector. He is noted for his particular capabilities in the Marshall Islands, where he is also licensed to practice. Strengths: "He is smart, commercial, always gets the job done effectively and is a strong advocate." "Steven is very responsive."

Band 3

Blank Rome LLP

What the team is known for Blank Rome LLP has a sophisticated shipping finance practice, representing a range of clients in M&A, restructuring and tax-related matters. Its clients include shipowners, vessel operators, cargo owners and transportation companies, among others.

Strengths

"The team is very knowledgeable and detail-oriented."

"The firm offers excellent client service and is very responsive."

"The team have so much expertise and fantastic connections."

Work highlights Blank Rome LLP advised American Shipping Company on the negotiation and documentation of new three-year bareboat charters of three US flag tankers.

Notable practitioners

Anthony Salgado handles a vast array of shipping finance transactions for shipowners, shipyards and cargo interests. Strengths: "Tony is a fantastic practitioner and a complete expert."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP is a highly regarded practice working in a range of shipping finance areas, including offshore energy financing, shipping group restructuring and foreign flag matters. The firm also has expertise in tax rules and private equity transactions, among other matters. It stands out for its experience in the Gulf of Mexico energy market, with significant experience in tax structuring involving Liberia and the Marshall Islands.

Strengths

"The team is always responsive."

"Holland & Knight is a strong firm."

"The team is attentive and provide initiative."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP represented International Seaways in various senior secured financings marine integration activities following its merger with Diamond S Shipping.

Notable practitioners

Jovi Tenev advises banks and financial institutions on an array of financial matters including debt and equity issuances, private equity-backed transactions and cross-border vessel leasing. Strengths: "Jovi demonstrates exceptional skills." "Jovi is very strong in this space."

Jones Walker LLP

What the team is known for Jones Walker LLP is well-equipped to advise maritime clients on a wide range of financing deals and other transactions, including restructuring matters. The team is sought out by both US-based and international clients for its expertise in both drillrigs and blue water vessels.

Strengths

"The team have a great handle on the market and are very proficient in this area."

"Jones Walker has an excellent team of experienced lawyers."

"Jones Walker is a really strong firm."

Notable practitioners

William Baldwin heads up the firm's maritime transactions team. He is recognized for his extensive experience advising clients across the full range of shipping financings. He is equally at home representing borrowers, lenders and agents. Strengths: "Bill is extremely competent and responsive." "He is a very good, collaborative lawyer with a broad maritime practice."

Reed Smith LLP

What the team is known for Reed Smith LLP offers significant expertise to lenders in transactions financing vessels, offshore assets and maritime equipment. The firm is knowledgeable in sale-leasebacks, securities and other structured financings. It also notably handles matters pertaining to US and internationally flagged shipping.

Notable practitioners

Vedder Price PC

What the team is known for Vedder Price PC is notable for offering advice across a broad scope of shipping finance matters, including in leveraged leases, operating lease charters, sale and leaseback transactions and government-supported and guaranteed financing. It is sought out by a host of foreign and domestic owners, operators, lenders and government agencies. The practice also includes ship registration across a number of open registry jurisdictions.

Work highlights Vedder Price PC advised Hafnia on US securities law in its admission to trading in the United States on the OTCQX market.

Notable practitioners

Hoyoon Nam (see p.651) is highlighted for his expert representation of a range of clients in complex financing structures, including sale-leasebacks, intercreditor arrangements and ECA matters. Strengths: "Hoyoon is very collaborative and good to work with."

Other Ranked Lawyers

Greg Chase handles international and domestic financing transactions for a variety of lender and lessor clients. Strengths: "Greg is a very strong attorney."

Daniel Rodgers of Baker, Donelson, Bearman, Caldwell & Berkowitz, PC is praised for his broad finance practice where he advises clients on a variety of matters including asset-based lending, structured financings and capital markets transactions. He's also highly knowledgeable of Marshall Islands, Liberia and Vanuatu maritime law. Strengths: "Daniel is a tremendous and well-respected lawyer. His knowledge and abilities in this area are excellent."

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Litigation (New York) Nationwide

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Litigation (New York)
Leading Firms
Band 1
Blank Rome LLP
Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
Band 2
Clyde & Co LLP
Holland & Knight LLP
Band 3
Cozen O'Connor
Floyd Zadkovich
Hill, Betts & Nash LLP
Hill Rivkins LLP
Lennon, Murphy & Phillips LLC
Montgomery McCracken Walker & Rhoads, LLP
Senior Statespeople & Eminent Practitioners
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
DeOrchis Vincent M. Montgomery, McCracken, Walker
Eminent Practitioners
Meehan Wayne D. Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
Leading Individuals
Band 1
Gutowski Peter. Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
Kimball John D. Blank Rome LLP
Woods John. Clyde & Co LLP
Band 2
Belknap Jr Thomas H. Blank Rome LLP
Heard Keith W. Lennon, Murphy & Phillips LLC
Lennon Patrick F. Lennon, Murphy & Phillips LLC
Mazaroli David. David L. Mazaroli (ORL) ◇
Murnane, Jr. Don P. Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
Nolan Christopher R. Holland & Knight LLP
Paulsen Bruce G. Seward & Kissel LLP (ORL) ◇
Band 3
Bennett William R. Blank Rome LLP
Frevola Michael J. Holland & Knight LLP
Greenwald Corey. Clyde & Co LLP
Keough John. Clyde & Co LLP
Kontakis George. K&L Gates (ORL) ◇ *
O'Connor Eugene J. Montgomery, McCracken, Walker
Paré Jr Armand M. McLaughlin & Stern LLP (ORL) ◇
Band 4
Chalos Michael G. Chalos & Co, P.C. (ORL) ◇
Fernandez Michael. Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
Fitzgerald Daniel. Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
Floyd Ed. Floyd Zadkovich
Foley Vincent J. Holland & Knight LLP
Loh David. KMA Zuckert LLC (ORL) ◇
McDermott Daniel. Marshall Dennehey (ORL) ◇
O'Neill Gregory W. Hill, Betts & Nash LLP
Quartaro Neil A. Cozen O'Connor
Saville Jr James A. Hill Rivkins LLP
Singleton Richard. Blank Rome LLP
Wilgus Lauren. Blank Rome LLP
Zadkovich Luke. Floyd Zadkovich
* Indicates individual with profile.
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Blank Rome LLP

What the team is known for Blank Rome LLP has an esteemed practice with significant experience handling high-profile maritime litigation for national and international clients, including P&I clubs, shipping companies and owners. The firm is highly regarded for crisis response and offering additional expertise in alternative dispute resolution. It maintains an excellent reputation for advising maritime industry entities in federal investigations arising from intentional misconduct allegations and casualty events, as well as in a host of cybersecurity issues. The firm has been recently active on a range of fuel contamination, cargo loss, salvage and collision cases.

Strengths

"Blank Rome has an excellent team that is very incisive."

"Blank Rome's team showcases good commercial awareness thanks to their extensive industry experience."

"The team's service levels are very strong."

Work highlights Blank Rome LLP represented the UK P&I Club in an insurance case concerning an explosion on a barge off the coast of Texas.

Notable practitioners

John Kimball frequently assists clients with maritime casualty disputes including ship fires, collisions and sinkings. He is also adept at handling shipping arbitrations. Strengths: "John is able to pull together a strong team to respond to every aspect of a major incident." "John is very well known in the industry." Thomas Belknap has deep expertise in shipping litigation with significant capabilities in cargo damage claims and contract and salvage disputes. Strengths: "Tom is commercial and easy to work with." "He is a strong litigator." William Bennett is well known for his strong shipping practice, typically advising clients on maritime casualties resulting from collisions, groundings and sinkings. He is also well placed to handle maritime-related fraud disputes. Strengths: "Bill is great to work with. He is a smart and assertive litigator." "Bill is a leader who knows how to set strategy and execute on it." Richard Singleton is known for his abilities in shipping litigation and arbitration. He typically assists clients with maritime casualty as well as charter party and contractual disputes. He advises both domestic and international clients. Strengths: "Richard is an impressive attorney." Lauren Wilgus works on a variety of international maritime litigation matters. Her practice covers charter party disputes, cargo damage, and loss and marine casualty investigations including collisions. Strengths: "Lauren is an excellent lawyer who consistently delivers an outstanding work product." "Lauren is very responsive and commercial."

Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP

What the team is known for Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP is a highly respected maritime litigation boutique firm with expertise covering areas such as maritime protection and indemnity, casualty, cargo damage and demurrage claims. It represents a client base composed of ship owners and insurers, including all major P&I clubs. The firm has lawyers with expertise in maritime personal injury claims, workers' compensation claims and occupational disease cases.

Strengths

"Freehill is excellent. The firm has a very knowledgeable group of attorneys with experience in all maritime matters."

"Freehill's team brings top-notch legal knowledge to matters."

"The team is always prompt and professional."

Work highlights Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP represented the owner/operator of the 'Sandy Ground' in connection with the salvage claims and ongoing USCG and NTSB marine casualty investigation following an incident on board.

Notable practitioners

Wayne Meehan is a highly experienced shipping practitioner who is well versed in major shipping casualty cases including collisions, fire and explosions. He also handles cargo claims and charter party disputes. Peter Gutowski is particularly expert in charter party disputes, representing a wide range of clients. He is also adept at handling cargo loss and damage and maritime casualties.

Strengths: "Peter is an excellent partner." Don Murnane has a wealth of expertise in maritime law. He is noted for his abilities in vessel and marine terminal casualties. Strengths: "Don is a good lawyer and is easy to work with." Michael Fernandez offers significant expertise handling marine casualties, including vessel damages, as well as vessel seizures and related investigations.

Strengths: "Michael is a very strong lawyer in maritime work." Daniel Fitzgerald has a diverse litigation practice which includes expertise in pollution response, personal injury and maritime criminal defense. Strengths: "Daniel is an excellent lawyer who is very experienced and knowledgeable in maritime matters." "He is a good adviser, gets straight to the point and has impeccable practical knowledge."

Band 2

Clyde & Co LLP

What the team is known for Clyde & Co LLP is a global firm with a notable marine insurance practice in New York. It is well placed to handle cargo and insolvency-related litigation, as well as casualty, trade sanctions and environmental cases. The team regularly acts for domestic and international insurers, vessel operators and fuel companies.

Strengths

"The firm stays on top of issues and is well staffed to handle complex matters."

"The team is a great asset for tricky maritime issues and is entrenched in the US maritime industry."

"Clyde & Co has a large team that can quickly turn assignments around."

Notable practitioners

John Woods acts for both US and foreign insurers in high-stakes litigation and arbitrations. Strengths: "John is well versed in this space." Corey Greenwald has a broad practice as a litigator, regularly working with insurers and reinsurers in complex coverage disputes. He has notable experience in the maritime sector handling insurance-related litigation as well as casualty and other litigation. Strengths: "Corey is a great attorney to work with and comes highly recommended." "Corey is a pleasure to work with."

John Keough acts for a variety of clients including ship owners, traders, charterers and insurers. He is knowledgeable of maritime insolvency, financings and trade disputes. Strengths: "John is very experienced and great for clients." "John is always responsive."

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP is a full-service national firm with good geographic spread and experience in a swath of litigation matters in the shipping industry. The team is well known for representing domestic and international clients in dispute arbitrations. It also had a noted concentration on insolvency and bankruptcy-related litigation in the maritime context. Additionally, the firm handles cargo, casualty, charter party and personal injury cases.

Strengths

"The firm is very responsive and service-oriented."

"The Holland & Knight team has the depth of expertise to find solutions for complex matters."

"The group are on top of their briefs, responsive and drive matters forward."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP represented Duron in a multiparty and multijurisdictional dispute relating to a failed commodities transaction involving a cargo of wheat.

Notable practitioners

Christopher Nolan comes recommended for his shipping litigation practice. His recent mandates include charter party, cargo and maritime casualty disputes, and he often acts for underwriters and P&I clubs. Strengths: "Chris supplies thorough, researched and well-reasoned arguments. He is very responsive and able to explain complex legal situations." "He is strategic, efficient and gives very good advice." Michael Frevola has an extensive shipping and maritime practice advising clients on charter party, bankruptcy and maritime employment disputes. Strengths: "Mike is a great lawyer to instruct. He displays commercial acumen, which he combines with his in-depth legal knowledge."

Vincent Foley has a broad transportation-focused practice with expertise across the full range of maritime disputes. He is particularly knowledgeable on matters affecting terminal operators. Strengths: "Vincent is a fantastic maritime lawyer. He has deep knowledge of maritime law and is an effective litigator." "Vincent is a good, service-oriented lawyer."

Band 3

Cozen O'Connor

What the team is known for Cozen O'Connor houses a comprehensive litigation practice in the shipping space, frequently advising an array of clients, including ocean carriers, P&I clubs and terminal operators. The group offers expertise in all manner of marine casualty, personal injury and wrongful death matters. The firm is further noted for its experience advising on commercial disputes arising from construction, shipbuilding contracts and charter parties.

Strengths

"The team is always easy to work with and readily available to take questions."

"The firm's lawyers have deep knowledge of the laws and regulations."

Work highlights Cozen O'Connor defended Hapag-Lloyd in a claim by a customer for reimbursement of charges that are alleged to be unlawful under the US Shipping Act of 1984.

Notable practitioners

Neil Quartaro is a notable maritime litigator, adept at representing clients in a range of matters including vessel and aircraft foreclosure, and charter and aircraft lease disputes. Strengths: "Neil's breadth of knowledge is vast." "Neil is experienced, thoughtful in his advice and has extensive knowledge of maritime law."

Floyd Zadkovich

What the team is known for Zeiler Floyd Zadkovich is a boutique firm with specialist expertise in maritime and admiralty law. The firm is developing its strengths across a variety of shipping disputes including charter party, cargo damage and maritime collisions. It stands out in the market for its combined focus on English and US maritime logistics and trading cases.

Notable practitioners

Ed Floyd has noteworthy experience advising clients on maritime and trading law. His broad practice covers cargo damage and loss, charter party disputes and sanctions advice. Luke Zadkovich is frequently engaged in complex cargo disputes as part of his broader shipping and maritime practice. He also provides strong guidance to clients on English maritime law.

Hill, Betts & Nash LLP

What the team is known for Hill, Betts & Nash LLP fields strong experience in a plethora of litigation matters in the shipping industry. The team is well regarded for representing major companies in cargo, casualty, salvage and personal injury matters. The firm also has expertise in bad faith claims, trade sanctions and environmental cases.

Strengths

"Hill, Betts & Nash is a well-known litigation firm in New York."

Notable practitioners

Gregory O'Neill is experienced in cargo damage and recovery. His clients include marine operators, insurers and municipalities. Strengths: "Gregory is a very experienced attorney."

Hill Rivkins LLP

What the team is known for Hill Rivkins LLP houses a well-regarded group with experience in a vast spectrum of blue and brown-water maritime matters, with noted strength in handling cargo claims, liability defense, maritime disaster litigation and vessel collision issues. It represents significant domestic and international maritime entities.

Notable practitioners

James Saville handles a wide range of maritime and shipping disputes at trial and appellate levels.

Lennon, Murphy & Phillips LLC

What the team is known for Lennon, Murphy & Phillips LLC is a well-known group that is able to advise on a broad range of disputes including charter party, cargo loss and damage, and maritime arrest and attachment. It offers representation to US and international clients including vessel owners, charterers and P&I clubs.

Notable practitioners

Keith Heard is held in high regard for his practice in maritime and shipping litigation, where he acts for both ship owners and charterers. He is particularly adept at handling cargo damage and loss, collisions and charter party disputes.

Patrick Lennon has a broad shipping law practice covering maritime casualties, cargo damage and loss, and charter party disputes. He regularly acts for international and domestic ship owners and charterers.

Montgomery McCracken Walker & Rhoads, LLP

What the team is known for Montgomery, McCracken, Walker & Rhoads LLP is a notable name in the maritime and transportation space with expertise in areas such as major casualty litigation and cargo defense. It offers experience in marine pollution incidents and agency investigations. The firm represents a broad range of clients, including ship owners, operators and insurers.

Strengths

"Montgomery McCracken is a strong shop in the space."

Notable practitioners

Vincent DeOrchis continues his role as cochair of the firm's maritime and transportation practice. He is widely recognized for his work on cargo issues in both arbitration and litigation. Strengths: "He is a very strong lawyer and has been involved in extremely prominent matters." "Vincent is an excellent attorney." Eugene O'Connor brings a wealth of experience in maritime and environmental law to his practice. He has a particular focus on cargo defense work, as well as marine pollution matters and ship casualty cases.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Michael Chalos of Chalos & Co, P.C. regularly handles all matter of maritime disputes including collisions, groundings and cargo damage. He also advises clients on environmental matters including oil pollution incidents. Strengths: "Michael is a very experienced attorney."

George Kontakis (see p.612) of K&L Gates is well regarded for his advice surrounding environmental compliance in the maritime sector. He also advises on charter party disputes, collisions, and vessel sales and purchases.

David Loh of KMA Zuckert LLC covers all manner of disputes including trade and charter party issues. He often acts on behalf of ocean carriers and insurers. Strengths: “David is a very experienced and strong lawyer.” “David is a great lawyer.” David Mazaroli is notable for his adept handling of shipping and maritime disputes. He has a particularly strong reputation for cargo issues.

Strengths: “David is a very good practical lawyer.”

Daniel McDermott of Marshall Dennehey Warner Coleman & Goggin, P.C. handles work across the broad spectrum of shipping and maritime law, acting on behalf of contractors and vessel owners. He advises on matters at the intersection between maritime law and New York labor law.

Armand Paré of McLaughlin & Stern LLP has an expansive practice which covers a range of maritime casualties including groundings, sinkings and explosions. He is also skilled in insurance coverage disputes, oil pollution cases and bankruptcy issues.

Bruce Paulsen of Seward & Kissel LLP has particular expertise in finance and securities litigation in the shipping industry. He acts for a wide variety of clients including bondholders, secured lenders, shipowners and charterers. Strengths: “He is very experienced and brings a wealth of knowledge to maritime matters.” “Bruce is thoughtful, calm and deeply experienced.”

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Litigation (outside New York) Nationwide

Transportation Shipping/Maritime Litigation (outside New York)	Transportation Shipping/Maritime Litigation (outside New York)
Leading Firms	Senior Statespeople
Band 1	Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Blank Rome LLP	Fowler, III George J. Jones Walker LLP
Jones Walker LLP	Parrish Robert B. Moseley Prichard Parrish Knight & Jones
Liskow	Leading Individuals
Moseley Prichard Parrish Knight & Jones	Band 1
Phelps Dunbar LLP	Bell Michael Blank Rome LLP
Band 2	De Leo Charles G. De Leo, Kuylensstierna & Little (ORL) ◇
Chaffe McCall, LLP	Letourneau Keith B. Blank Rome LLP
Collier Walsh Nakazawa LLP	Moseley Jr James F. Moseley Prichard Parrish Knight
Kennedys	Walsh II Joseph A. Collier Walsh Nakazawa LLP
Murphy, Rogers, Sloss, Gambel & Tompkins	Band 2
Peacock Piper LLP	Cicala Conte Withers Bergman LLP (ORL) ◇ *
Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP	Hemphill Gary Phelps Dunbar LLP *
* Indicates individual with profile.	Hurley Grady Jones Walker LLP
◇ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.	Kavanagh John Burr & Forman LLP (ORL) ◇
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.	LaVie Kevin Phelps Dunbar LLP
Band 1	Port Andrew Gordon Rees Scully Mansukhani (ORL) ◇ *
Blank Rome LLP	Reisman David Liskow
What the team is known for Blank Rome LLP has a distinguished team with substantial experience across the full suite of contentious issues in the maritime sector. The firm has a deep bench of expert lawyers routinely engaged to act on behalf of significant ship owners and operators, P&I clubs and energy companies. Blank Rome's impressive nationwide footprint complements the firm's Gulf Coast-focused practice and strong Houston-based offering. It also boasts a dedicated maritime emergency response team to respond to casualties and pollution-related incidents.	Rodriguez Antonio J. Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman
Strengths	Rodriguez Ivan M. Phelps Dunbar LLP
“The team provides clients with immediate attention.”	Shoemaker Douglas Blank Rome LLP
“Blank Rome is an excellent firm with good lawyers who have great abilities.”	Band 3
“The team's tenacity, creativity and knowledge of	Giles Alexander M. Tydings (ORL) ◇
	Golemi Michael Liskow
	Harowski Michael Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman
	Hines Julius “Sam” Hines Law LLC (ORL) ◇
	Holland Barbara Collier Walsh Nakazawa LLP
	Hurley James Fowler White Burnett PA (ORL) ◇ *
	Murphy Robert Murphy, Rogers, Sloss, Gambel
	Rodriguez Jake Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman
	Schultz Pamela Kennedys
	Waid Raymond T. Liskow
	Watson Hal Chaffe McCall, LLP

the space allows them to navigate difficult situations.”

Work highlights Blank Rome LLP defended Valero Marketing and Supply Company in a freight claim brought by plaintiff Milos Tankers, which was not paid by charterers for the carriage of cargo belonging to Valero Marketing and Supply Company.

Notable practitioners

Michael Bell has extensive experience in the space and is a seasoned shipping litigator. He skillfully advises clients on a range of maritime casualties including collisions, sinkings, explosions and fires. Strengths: “He is calm, smart and concise.” Keith Letourneau provides guidance on a range of issues including vessel arrests, maritime collisions and insurance coverage disputes. Douglas Shoemaker is highly regarded for his shipping and maritime expertise with capabilities litigating maritime personal injury, property damage and seizure proceedings. Strengths: “Doug is a very strong attorney.”

Jones Walker LLP

What the team is known for Jones Walker LLP has a dedicated group of attorneys able to handle complex shipping and maritime disputes. The firm demonstrates capabilities across a broad range of matters including vessel casualties, environmental damage claims, and vessel attachments and arrests. Its clients include terminals, barge lines and vessel owners.

Strengths

“The team demonstrates the highest level of competence and professionalism.”

“Jones Walker is a well-established firm with a vibrant practice.”

“The firm houses an excellent group of lawyers.”

Notable practitioners

George Fowler advises on a variety of shipping disputes in connection with product liability, personal injury and property damage claims. He has years of experience appearing before juries in high-stakes trials. Strengths: “George is a great lawyer.” Grady Hurley has a broad maritime practice and has experience representing clients in contractual indemnity and product liability matters, as well as issues relating to Safety and Environmental Management Systems. Strengths: "Grady is a go-to in the space." "Grady is a strong lawyer with international capabilities."

Liskow

What the team is known for Liskow is a prominent New Orleans-based practice that is particularly recognized for maritime work in the offshore sector. The firm is highly regarded for handling large exposure litigation arising out of offshore disasters. The team is also noted for handling maritime collision, personal injury and toxic tort disputes.

Strengths

"The Liskow team is extremely strong at all levels."

"The team is very well geared up for major litigation."

"Liskow has a very large bench and the team are all first-rate lawyers."

Notable practitioners

David Reisman has significant experience representing clients in the full range of contentious matters in the maritime space. He is noted for his background in-house at a salvor. Strengths: "David is very good to work with. He is knowledgeable, knows the industry well and is user-friendly."

Michael Golemi handles a broad variety of shipping litigation including marine casualties, product liability and insurance coverage disputes. He is particularly noted for his representation of energy companies in maritime matters. Raymond Waid leverages his experience as a former naval officer to expertly assist companies with a range of litigation matters, including collision, pollution, salvage and personal injury cases. His practice is complemented by his expertise in the energy sector. Strengths: "He is very smart and his briefing is excellent." "He is very user-friendly."

Moseley Prichard Parrish Knight & Jones

What the team is known for Moseley Prichard Parrish Knight & Jones has an impressive practice with an excellent pedigree for representing maritime sector interests in a vast spectrum of litigious matters, including personal injury, environmental issues and insurance defense. The firm's top-quality reputation extends across its native Southeastern region and beyond.

Strengths

"Moseley Prichard is a very experienced, excellent firm."

Notable practitioners

Robert Parrish is noted for his broad shipping practice, which incorporates environmental issues such as oil spills and pollution incidents. He is also adept at handling maritime casualties and insurance coverage disputes. Strengths: "Robert is a really strong lawyer." James Moseley is a leading shipping and maritime litigator who focuses his practice on personal injury and insurance disputes. He is at home guiding matters through trial and appellate courts. Strengths: "Jim does an excellent job in the maritime space." "He has a great reputation."

Phelps Dunbar LLP

What the team is known for Phelps Dunbar LLP has an accomplished maritime litigation group with deep industry expertise, sought after by multinational companies, ship owners and underwriters, including major P&I clubs. The team works extensively across myriad contentious matters including personal injury claims, contractual disputes, environmental issues and maritime disasters. The firm has a formidable presence in the Gulf Coast region, particularly regarding issues involving the oil industry, and boasts both brown-water and blue-water capacity.

Strengths

"Phelps Dunbar is an excellent firm."

Notable practitioners

Gary Hemphill (see p.582) handles disputes including maritime personal injury, cargo damage and loss and collisions. Strengths: "He is an excellent attorney." "Gary is a very fine attorney."

Kevin LaVie deftly handles a vast range of maritime environmental damages disputes. He also holds significant experience in dealing with maritime casualties including sinkings and collisions. Strengths: "Kevin is a great lawyer in this space."

Ivan Rodriguez is commended for his work representing clients in environmental and personal injury claims in the maritime space. His practice extends to include insurance defense and coverage disputes. Strengths: "Ivan is an excellent lawyer."

Band 2

Chaffe McCall, LLP

What the team is known for Chaffe McCall, LLP offers expertise across a wide range of blue and brown-water matters, including coverage claims, contract disputes and environmental issues. The firm is active on behalf of operators, charterers, ship owners and insurers, including P&I clubs. The team's Gulf Coast presence is enhanced by impressive international capabilities, particularly in litigation in the Caribbean and Latin America.

Strengths

"The firm is very good and has strong lawyers."

Work highlights Chaffe McCall, LLP advised Clarendon National Insurance Company on defense and indemnity claims brought by multiple plaintiffs in connection with an underlying construction defect suit.

Notable practitioners

Hal Watson has a wealth of experience handling high-stakes shipping litigation covering the USA and foreign jurisdictions. He is valued for his expertise in insurance coverage disputes and maritime personal injury claims at both state and federal levels. Strengths: "He is always practical and well prepared."

Collier Walsh Nakazawa LLP

What the team is known for Collier Walsh Nakazawa LLP is a full-service shipping and maritime practice. The firm offers considerable experience with litigation arising from oil and chemical spills, and maritime and industrial casualties. The team's additional experience includes handling charter party disputes and enforcement proceedings.

Notable practitioners

Joseph Walsh maintains a broad shipping practice that includes advising on environment-related litigation. He is considered a go-to attorney for a range of clients, including multinational shipping companies. Strengths: "Joe is a very good lawyer with a robust practice." "Joe is a strong adviser."

Barbara Holland acts for an impressive roster of clients, including underwriters and vessel owners and operators, and advises on an array of commercial and regulatory issues. She also assists clients with environmental matters. Strengths: "Barbara has a great reputation."

Kennedys

What the team is known for Kennedys is a national firm with a burgeoning marine insurance practice. The group is well placed to handle coverage, personal injury and bad faith cases. The firm is also adept at complex ship repair claims.

Strengths

"The firm's attorneys are exceptional at handling complex defense and coverage litigation, including taking cases to trial."

"The team offers a prompt and professional service."

"The team has strong knowledge."

Work highlights Kennedys counseled 55 insurers of the owners of $39 million of lost and damaged cargo that was aboard the container ship 'ONE APUS'.

Notable practitioners

Pamela Schultz is an experienced maritime attorney noted for her accomplished handling of sophisticated litigation in the space. She is particularly recognized for her expertise in cargo claims. Strengths: "She is an excellent counsel." "Pamela is extremely helpful."

Murphy, Rogers, Sloss, Gambel & Tompkins

What the team is known for Murphy, Rogers, Sloss, Gambel & Tompkins is a notable boutique firm with an impressive practice in the maritime space. The firm is active on a host of maritime matters, including personal injury claims as well as commercial and insurance disputes.

Strengths

"Murphy Rogers is an excellent firm."

Notable practitioners

Robert Murphy is a highly regarded shipping attorney well known for handling marine casualties of all kinds. Strengths: "Robert is a very experienced attorney." "Robert is a good lawyer."

Peacock Piper LLP

What the team is known for Peacock Piper LLP is a boutique firm with a notable marine litigation practice in California. The group is well placed to advise vessels, charterers, operators and managers in high-stakes trials. The firm frequently counsels on personal injury, cargo and casualty claims. It also offers experience in crisis response and investigations.

Strengths

"Peacock Piper is a strong boutique maritime firm."

Notable practitioners

Albert Peacock and Glen Piper in Long Beach, California are key contacts for the practice.

Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP

What the team is known for Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP is a sophisticated defense litigation firm drawing on its nationwide maritime expertise to adeptly represent clients. The team has extensive trial capabilities and is highlighted for its counseling of clients in complex coverage and casualty response cases.

Work highlights Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP defended Donjon Marine in connection with personal injury and death claims arising from the April 13, 2021 Seacor Power casualty in the Gulf of Mexico.

Notable practitioners

Antonio Rodriguez is well regarded for his work advising P&I clubs, vessel owners and energy companies. His expertise spans collisions, product liability and insurance coverage disputes. Strengths: “Antonio is a very strong and professional attorney.” Michael Harowski’s maritime practice is complemented by his insurance and environmental expertise. He regularly advises clients on maritime casualties, collision pollution, fire, personal injury and complex maritime product liability. Harowski is adept at handling both litigation and transactional matters. Strengths: “Michael is a very knowledgeable, practical attorney who knows the regulations like the back of his hand.” “Michael has great expertise and he’s very thorough and client-focused.” Jake Rodriguez represents clients across the intersection of maritime, environmental and energy matters. He regularly advises on pollution casualties, marine environmental regulations, personal injury and ship construction cases.

Other Ranked Lawyers

Conte Cicala (see p.526) of Withers LLP has experience handling complex charter party and insurance coverage disputes. Strengths: “Conte is impressive, innovative and creative in his solutions.” “Conte is a very smart, commercial maritime lawyer.”

Charles De Leo of De Leo, Kuylenstierna & Little, P.A. is a highly respected lawyer who acts across a broad range of shipping disputes. His expertise spans marine casualties, natural resource damages and maritime personal injury claims. He regularly acts for vessel owners, operators and P&I clubs. Strengths: “Charles is calm and very smart. He’s a go-to.”

Alexander Giles of Tydings is recommended for his broad expertise in marine litigation. He regularly counsels clients on personal injury, collision, cargo and product liability claims. Strengths: “He is a very experienced litigator.” “Alex is great. He is very practical and efficient.”

Sam Hines of Hines Law LLC advises vessel operators and other marine clients on cargo loss and damage, pollution incidents and vessel arrests.

James Hurley (see p.591) of Fowler White Burnett PA is a knowledgeable shipping and maritime practitioner who both represents clients in disputes and handles regulatory compliance work. His broad sector experience spans the purchasing and financing of vessels, property damage claims and personal injury issues.

John Kavanagh of Burr & Forman LLP is cochair of the firm’s transportation and maritime practice. He assists clients with shipping disputes arising from maritime personal injury and product liability claims. Strengths: “John’s support is phenomenal.”

Andrew Port (see p.671) of Gordon Rees Scully Mansukhani, LLP is noted for his long-standing experience as a litigator in the maritime space. He handles the full range of sector disputes, covering both wet and dry shipping matters, with particular expertise in marine personal injury and toxic tort.

Strengths: “Andrew has excellent knowledge of the industry. He is a great asset for legal and practical information.”

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Regulatory Nationwide

Transportation Shipping/Maritime: Regulatory
Leading Firms
Band 1
Blank Rome LLP
Cozen O’Connor
K&L Gates
Winston & Strawn LLP
Band 2
Holland & Knight LLP
Jones Walker LLP
Venable LLP
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

Band 1

Blank Rome LLP

What the team is known for Blank Rome LLP has a highly acclaimed practice well known for its representation of significant shipping clients in a range of regulatory matters. It has expertise in Jones Act compliance, environmental investigation defense of companies and individuals, and government relations including legislative advice. The firm advises on maritime cybersecurity issues, including attacks and security breach avoidance. It has further strength in counseling ship owners and operators on US trade sanction issues. The team offers wider industry expertise in shipping within the context of offshore oil, gas and wind energy compliance matters.

Strengths

“The team is knowledgeable and responsive.”

“Blank Rome is renowned in the maritime regulatory field.”

Work highlights Blank Rome LLP acted as maritime counsel to Dominion Energy in connection with the building, charter parties, crewing and citizenship of an $8 billion financing for a wind turbine installation vessel to be built in the USA.

Notable practitioners

Jeanne Grasso is held in high esteem for her representation of owners, cargo interests and operators. She advises clients on general regulatory compliance as well as investigations and enforcement proceedings. Strengths: “Jeanne knows the industry. She provides novel legal interpretation and is extremely reliable.” “Jeanne is a fantastic practitioner.” Jonathan Waldron has an impressive reputation for his work in maritime environmental compliance, international trade and Jones Act work. Clients additionally benefit from his 20 years of service in the US Coast Guard.

Strengths: “Jonathan is an absolutely outstanding attorney.” “He is very good on the intricacies of federal maritime law.” Matthew Thomas represents all manner of maritime industry participants including ship owners, insurers, ports and marine terminal operators. An expert in maritime logistics, he is particularly recognized for his expertise in trade sanctions issues concerning sector clients. Strengths: “Matt is an excellent lawyer and a pleasure to work with.”

Cozen O’Connor

What the team is known for Cozen O’Connor has an excellent maritime practice with a solid reputation for advising clients on issues including US sanctions, regulatory compliance and cabotage laws, among others. It is experienced in representing client interests in matters under the jurisdiction of the Coast Guard, the FMC, the Maritime Administration and a host of other regulating agencies. The firm is also active advising on regulatory issues arising from maritime industry M&A.

Transportation
Shipping/Maritime: Regulatory
Senior Statespeople
Senior Statespeople: distinguished older partners
Benner C Jonathan Thompson Coburn LLP (ORL) ♦
Leading Individuals
Star individuals
Papavizas Constantine G Winston & Strawn LLP *
Band 1
Grasso Jeanne Blank Rome LLP
Lawrence Jeffrey F Cozen O'Connor
Waldron Jonathan K Blank Rome LLP
Band 2
Craig Ashley Venable LLP *
Gardner Bryant Winston & Strawn LLP *
Myhre William N. K&L Gates *
Ruge Mark K&L Gates *
Thomas Matthew J Blank Rome LLP
Band 3
Booth Karyn A Thompson Hine LLP (ORL) ♦
Jenkins Scott Jones Walker LLP
Morrissey Gerald Holland & Knight LLP
Rohde Wayne Cozen O'Connor
Romero Jorge Limbo (ORL) ♦
Rouvelas Emanuel L K&L Gates *
Scanlon Michael K&L Gates *
Vogel Jeff R. Cozen O'Connor
Up-and-coming individuals
Lowe Elizabeth Venable LLP
* Indicates individual with profile.
♦ (ORL) = Other Ranked Lawyer.
Alphabetical order within each band. Band 1 is highest.

The team also has expertise representing various clients such as carrier alliances, shipping trade associations and joint ventures.

Strengths

"The team brings a deep industry knowledge to matters with a pragmatic approach."

"The team is extremely quick to respond."

"Cozen O'Connor has fantastic relationships and wide-reaching capabilities in the industry."

Work highlights Cozen O'Connor acted as outside counsel to Consolidated Chassis Management, advising on a range of regulatory issues, with a focus on federal maritime, truck safety and competition law issues.

Notable practitioners

Jeffrey Lawrence offers market-leading expertise in shipping and trade law to clients including ship owners, vessel alliances and terminals. He is recognized for his US agency-facing practice as well as his work before international bodies.

Strengths: "Jeffrey is a brilliant lawyer. He knows the regulatory world inside out and is a good strategist." "He is absolutely outstanding." Wayne Rohde advises maritime clients on a wide variety of regulatory and commercial matters. He is particularly reputable for his work counseling shipping industry clients on Federal Maritime Commission requirements. Strengths: "Wayne is a very capable practitioner who is well positioned to help clients."

"Wayne is a subject matter expert." Jeff Vogel regularly counsels a range of clients on complex regulatory and contractual issues arising under maritime legislation, including the Jones Act and American Fisheries Act. Active across a range of industries including aviation, defense, engineering and healthcare. Strengths: "Jeff is a well-known and strong attorney."

K&L Gates

What the team is known for K&L Gates is well regarded for work in a range of areas related to regulatory compliance in the shipping space, including safety, environmental and Jones Act rules. It has expertise representing a domestic and international client base before the FMC, the Coast Guard and other federal agencies. The firm is particularly well known for advising on legislative strategy. It is also known for acting on anti-trust issues and export restrictions, in addition to increased activity advising clients on infrastructure developments and their associated regulatory concerns. The team represents significant cruise operators, maritime coalitions, port interests and tanker operations.

Strengths

"The K&L Gates team is very strong."

"The team understands the industry, its threats and economic drivers."

Work highlights K&L Gates advised Norwegian Cruise Line Holdings with respect to the US regulation of its fleet and in particular its US-flag operations.

Notable practitioners

William Myhre (see p.650) has significant experience representing industry clients before US agencies and government bodies including the FMC, the National Marine Fisheries Service and the US Coast Guard. Strengths: "He is a great all-around lawyer." "He is a go-to lawyer." Mark Ruge

(see p.686) is acknowledged for his knowledge of maritime policy, often appearing before Congress on behalf of significant maritime industry interests. Strengths: "Mark is thoughtful, insightful, strategic and highly responsive." "His connections and thoughtfulness on how he approaches issues is incredibly effective." Emanuel Rouvelas (see p.684) is highly thought of for advising on all aspects of US and foreign legislation related to international trade and maritime law. International shipping companies benefit from his decades of experience at the forefront of US maritime policy.

Strengths: "Emanuel has an incredible depth of knowledge and a lot of respect from his time in government." "He has a very strong reputation and is incredibly experienced." Michael Scanlon (see p.691) provides regulatory counseling shipping companies and cruise operators, among other clients in the maritime sector. He regularly deals with the Federal Maritime Commission and other regulatory agencies.

Winston & Strawn LLP What the team is known for Winston & Strawn LLP has an esteemed practice working with large shipping clients on regulatory issues such as the Jones Act, environmental regulations and other matters. The firm has a good depth of experience in US law and international treaties affecting coastal and international shipping. The team is also recommended for its capabilities in legislative drafting, and maintains strong agency and government relationships.

Strengths "Winston & Strawn is a great team that supports our needs as a client."

"The team demonstrates excellent knowledge of the space."

Work highlights Winston & Strawn LLP advised American Cruise Lines on the regulatory parameters applicable to the charter of a US-flag cruise vessel to a foreign company.

Notable practitioners

Constantine Papavizas (see p.661) is widely considered a market-leading expert in US shipping regulations, with particular expertise in the Jones Act. Strengths: "Charlie is very knowledgeable, always available, enjoys challenging situations and is well respected in the maritime industry."

"Charlie is right at the forefront of these issues, has strong connections and is excellent at what he does." Bryant Gardner (see p.563) is praised for his broad experience in maritime law, regularly managing US flag, MARPOL and government contract issues. Strengths: "Bryant is fantastic to work with. He is extremely knowledgeable, readily available and has a positive, can-do work ethic."

Band 2

Holland & Knight LLP

What the team is known for Holland & Knight LLP's practice runs the full gamut of regulatory maritime issues, with attorneys advising on numerous mandates. Expertise includes advice pertaining to the Federal Maritime Commission, Coast Guard matters, customs and border protection and embargo issues, among other areas.

Strengths

"Holland & Knight is a great firm with a lot of breadth."

"The firm has a very good team with great clients and connections."

"The team are timely, thorough and consistently concise in their responses."

Work highlights Holland & Knight LLP represented Crowley Maritime Corporation in connection with California air emissions regulations issued by California Air Resources Board.

Notable practitioners

Gerald Morrissey is an experienced attorney noted for his broad practice advising maritime clients on regulatory compliance at an operational and transactional level. He is also knowledgeable of related international trade matters.

Jones Walker LLP

What the team is known for Jones Walker LLP is noted for its comprehensive maritime regulatory practice, counseling clients on compliance and in investigations. The members of the firm regularly appear before the full range of maritime regulatory agencies and government bodies. The firm has particular experience representing clients on the Gulf Coast and out of the port of New Orleans.

Strengths

"Jones Walker is an excellent firm with a fantastic team."

"The group is adequately staffed to address all needs and concerns."

Notable practitioners

Scott Jenkins is highlighted for his expert representation of clients in a variety of compliance issues. Expertise includes advice on coastwise trade, security citizenship, manning and general vessel and operational compliance. Strengths: “Scott is a subject matter expert in this area.” “Scott is extremely helpful on regulatory issues.”

Venable LLP

What the team is known for Venable LLP has a substantial shipping and maritime practice with expertise in representing a range of international carriers and logistics providers. It demonstrates expertise in export controls, economic and trade sanctions, and antitrust issues, as well as enforcement relating to the Shipping Act. It is adept at handling Federal Maritime Commission matters.

Strengths

“Venable has a very responsive and dedicated team.”

“The team has a wealth of knowledge and is on top of industry developments and trends.”

Work highlights Venable LLP advised Siem Car Carrier A/S on all operational issues, including legal and regulatory advice, and dealings with and proceedings before the FMC and other agencies.

Notable practitioners

Ashley Craig (see p.533) is respected for his expertise in maritime legislative and regulatory matters. He has particular experience in issues related to trade and customs rules. He represents clients before both US agencies and foreign government bodies. Strengths: “Ashley is a very good lawyer.” “Ashley has a wealth of experience, knowledge and connections in the industry that help to resolve issues.” Elizabeth Lowe is an up-and-coming practitioner noted for her strength in all manner of regulatory issues arising from marine logistics into and out of the USA. Strengths: “She has a real wealth of knowledge.” “Elizabeth is a valued service provider.”

Other Ranked Lawyers

Jonathan Benner of Thompson Coburn LLP handles a broad range of regulatory matters for significant shipping industry clients. He has particular expertise in port infrastructure and maritime environmental regulations. Strengths: “Jonathan is a fantastic lawyer who is great to work with.”

Karyn Booth of Thompson Hine LLP is an experienced transportation attorney with a prominent maritime regulatory practice, advising clients before the Federal Maritime Commission and other agencies. Strengths: “Karyn is fabulous. She has great connections.”

Jorge Romero has notable expertise counseling ship owners on vessel financing and ownership laws. Strengths: “Jorge does exceptional work. He has really deep subject matter expertise.”

Leaders’ Profiles in – Nationwide

A LEWIS, Claudia

Venable LLP, Baltimore
clewis-eng@Venable.com

Featured in Food & Beverages (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Claudia Lewis, co-chair of Venable’s FDA Group, counsels clients on matters involving Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulation, labeling, and marketing of foods, over-the-counter (OTC) drugs, medical devices, and other products. With deep knowledge of dietary supplement labeling regulations, Claudia represents scientists, physicians, nutritionists, healthcare associations, and citizen groups. She has also aided international clients in establishing a U.S. market for their products. She has prepared and presented constitutional and administrative law cases before the FDA, Federal Trade Commission (FTC), Department of Justice (DOJ), Bureau of Land Management (BLM), and Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

AARON, Wayne

Katten, New York
+1.212.940.6441
wayne.aaron@katten.com

Featured in Financial Services Regulation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Leveraging considerable experience, Wayne Aaron helps broker-dealers, other market participants and their management stay ahead of ever-changing financial services regulatory requirements. He is committed to excellent client service, whether in providing ongoing regulatory counsel and analysis, managing regulatory and internal investigations deftly, or navigating complex regulatory or enforcement proceedings. Wayne provides counsel on various broker-dealer regulation and enforcement matters, investment adviser issues, government and internal investigations, market structure and trading matters, fintech issues, and financial services firm acquisitions. He has deep relationships at the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), well-positioning him to advise broker-dealers, fintech firms and other market participants on applicable rules and regulations, and market practices relating to sales and trading and market-making practices, electronic trading and order routing, research publication and conflicts of interest, raising capital and other market activities. For firms required to become FINRA members and comply with FINRA requirements, Wayne is a go-to resource for that process.

Professional Memberships: Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association, Member; New State Bar Association

Personal: Hofstra School of Law, JD; Tufts University, BS

ABBOTT, Derek C

Morris, Nichols, Arsh & Tunnell LLP, Wilmington
(302) 351-9357
dabbott@morrisnichols.com

Featured in Bankruptcy/Restructuring (Delaware), Bankruptcy/Restructuring (USA – Nationwide)

See under Delaware for profile.

ABIKOFF, Kevin T

Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP, Washington, DC
001 202 721 4770
kevin.abikoff@hugheshubbard.com

Featured in FCPA (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Areas of Concentration -- Deputy Chair of Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP -- Co-chairman, Anti-Corruption & Internal Investigations practice group -- Co-chairman, Securities Litigation practice group -- Executive Committee member -- Securities and white-collar criminal litigation, enforcement, regulation and counseling with an emphasis on the representation of corporations, individuals and other entities in anti-corruption (including Foreign Corrupt Practices Act [FCPA]) matters (investigations, due diligence and counseling), securities and insurance litigation, regulatory, enforcement and arbitration proceedings, particularly class-action litigation, securities disclosure counseling, and designing and implementing insurance and securities compliance policies, procedures and programs -- World Bank Group and other international financial institutions sanctions matters, including compliance, inspections, investigations, settlements, cooperation, coordination with monitors, and litigating contested sanctions proceedings -- Corporate governance with an emphasis on shareholder derivative proceedings, conducting internal investigations, counseling board committees, and designing and implementing corporate compliance program Professional Activities -- Member, B20 Integrity and Compliance Taskforce, Indonesia 2022 --

Member, B20 Integrity and Compliance Taskforce, Argentina 2018 -- Member, B20 Anti-Corruption Taskforce, Germany 2017 -- Representative, B20 Energy, Climate, & Resource Efficiency Taskforce, 2016 -- Member, B20 Anti-Corruption Taskforce, China 2016 -- Member, B20 Anti-Corruption Taskforce, Turkey 2015 -- Super Lawyers, Criminal Defense: White Collar, 2012 -- 2020 (published by Washington Post Magazine) -- Faculty member, TRACE Anti-Bribery Specialist Accreditation Program (current) -- Steering Committee member, American Bar Association (ABA) International Law Section, Anti-Corruption Committee -- Current member, Certification Committee of ETHIC Intelligence International, Paris (First US Member) 2010 -- Editorial board, eSecurities (Leader Publications), 1998 -- 2002 -- Editorial board, Federal Regulation of Securities, (Lawyers Cooperative Publishing), 1994 -- 1997 -- Member, Market Conduct Committee, American Council of Life Insurers, 1999 -- 2001 -- Board of directors, Holocaust Museum (Houston), 2000 -- 2001 -- Board of directors, Greater Houston Business Ethics Roundtable, 1999 -- 2001 Previous Experience -- Law clerk, the Honorable Collins J. Seitz, United States Court of Appeals for the 3rd Circuit, 1988 -- 1989 -- Senior Vice President and General Counsel, Corporate and Compliance, American General Corporation (AGC), 1998 -- 2001 -- Senior officer with staff of over 40, directly responsible for all corporate legal functions and select shared services functions, including securities matters (filings and compliance), mergers and acquisitions, broker-dealer compliance, corporate ethics and responsibility, field audit, insurance holding company matters, privacy compliance, shareholder services, intellectual property and corporate contracting -- Matrix responsibility for entire compliance environment (over 100 people) enterprise-wide (across all four of the company's operational divisions: life insurance, retirement services, investment management and consumer finance) with responsibility for oversight of compliance policies and procedures, analysis of leading and lagging compliance indicators, and coordination of compliance initiatives and responses to significant regulatory matters. Routinely reported to the Audit Committee of the board of directors of American General Corp. related to securities disclosure issues, corporate governance, compliance and other matters

ADAMS, Ama

Ropes & Gray LLP, Washington, DC
+1 (202) 508-4655
ama.adams@ropesgray.com

Featured in International Trade (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Ama Adams is managing partner of the Washington, D.C. office and a partner in the firm's Litigation and Enforcement practice. She has over 20 years of experience advising clients on international transactions and the U.S. government's regulation of trade and investment. This includes most notably export controls, economic sanctions, anti-corruption and anti-money laundering, foreign direct investment and customs laws and regulations. She advises clients on these complex issues in a range of industries, including the financial services, aviation, biotechnology, life sciences, oil and gas, manufacturing, technology, and chemical sectors. In addition to advising clients on the application of international trade regulations to their global business operations, Ms. Adams also assists clients in developing compliance programs, handling pre-and post-acquisition due diligence, conducting internal investigations relating to potential violations of trade laws and representing clients before the U.S. government agencies in connection with, license requests, enforcement matters, and government inquiries. She also advises clients on cross-border investment and national security matters, including national security reviews and investigations before the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS). Ms. Adams has successfully represented a number of foreign and domestic clients through the CFIUS clearance process and regularly advises clients on managing CFIUS risks across investment scenarios.

ADAMS, Bert

Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP, New York
+1 212.389.5004
bertadams@eversheds-sutherland.com

Featured in Insurance (USA - Nationwide), Insurance (New York)

See under New York for profile.

ADAMS, Daniel P

Goodwin, Boston
617 570 1966
dadams@goodwinlaw.com

Featured in REITs (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Daniel Adams is a partner in the firm's Business Law Department, where he is a member of the REITs and Real Estate M&A practices. Mr. Adams focuses primarily on public and private offerings of securities, corporate governance, securities law compliance for public companies, executive compensation and other matters of general corporate and securities law. Personal: JD, Harvard Law School 1999 (magna cum laude); BA, Tufts University 1996

ADDUCCI, Steven

Venable LLP, Washington, DC
(202) 344-4361
saadducci@venable.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Steve Adducci focuses on energy and administrative law, with an emphasis on crude oil, petroleum products, electricity, and natural gas regulatory matters. Steve has distinguished himself as a lead regulatory and litigation shipper attorney in crude oil, petroleum products, and natural gas liquid (NGL) pipeline-related cases before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). He has played key roles in nearly every major disputed crude oil, petroleum product, or NGL pipeline rate or tariff proceeding in the United States. He also supports Venable's representation of trade associations active in the energy industry.

ADKINS, Jessica N

Sidley Austin LLP, Houston
(713) 495-4529
jadkins@sidley.com

Featured in Projects (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: JESSICA ADKINS focuses her practice on power, renewable and energy transition matters. She advises clients on a wide range of transactions, including the development, acquisition, financing, disposition, and restructuring of energy and infrastructure projects, as well as complex structured commodity and hedging matters. An engineer by training, Jessica's practice is characterized by legal advice that is rooted in a technical and commercial understanding of the energy markets and her clients' businesses. Her clients -- private equity funds, independent power producers, trading and marketing companies, and financial institutions, among others -- have noted her creative and business-minded approach to the resolution of complex legal issues. Jessica is a frequent speaker on power, renewable and energy transition topics.

AGOGLIA, Michael J

Alston & Bird LLP, San Francisco
415 243 1011
michael.agoglia@alston.com

Featured in Financial Services Regulation (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Michael has for over three decades represented a wide variety of financial services and other companies in a range of complex consumer and commercial litigation, government enforcement, internal investigation, and ADR contexts. He has been engaged repeatedly -- often by industry trade associations -- to act as lead or national coordinating counsel in large, multiparty, and multiforum cases. He has helped national and regional banks, payment processors, asset-based lenders, mortgage originators and servicers, insurers, hedge funds, fintech companies, and retailers successfully resolve a broad array of regulatory, unfair practices, contract, privacy, preemption, credit reporting, discrimination, and numerous other legal challenges.

AHLERS, Werner Federico

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, New York
1 212 558 1623
ahlersw@sullcrom.com

Featured in Projects (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Capital Markets; Credit & Leveraged Finance; Energy & Natural Resources; Credit & Leveraged Finance; Energy Transition; Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG); Infrastructure; Latin America; Mergers & Acquisitions; Mining & Metals; Oil & Gas; Private Equity; Project Development & Finance

Career: Partner in S&C's Mergers & Acquisitions and Finance and Restructuring Groups. Co-head of S&C's Latin America practice. Practice includes a range of cross-border M&A and JVs, as well as a variety of corporate and project financings. Particular experience advising strategic and financial investors in investments in countries across Latin America in the energy, natural resources and infrastructure sectors, as well as in highly regulated industries. Selected representations include: CMPC in several sustainability-linked and other corporate financings; Government of Belize in a "debt-for-nature" swap restructuring of its external commercial debt and the underwriters in several other sovereign financings; SoftBank Latin America Fund in several equity investments; TheNotCompany's JV with Kraft Heinz; AT&T's sale of Vrio Corp. to Grupo Wertheim and acquisitions of Iusacell and Nextel Mexico; N&P Holdings' sale of its interest in Major League Soccer team Inter Miami F.C.; Grupo Carrefour Brasil's acquisition of Grupo BIG Brasil; Grupo SURA in CD-PQ's acquisition of a strategic minority interest in Grupo SURA's subsidiary SURA Asset Management; Delta Air Lines' strategic partnership with LATAM Airlines; State Grid's acquisition of CPFL; and various project development/finance representations in Mexico, Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia.

Professional Memberships: Chair of the Latin America Sub-Committee, of the Cyrus R. Vance Center for International Justice; The NYCB and the Mexican Bar Association Foundation's Joint Committee to Protect the Rule of Law; Council on Foreign Relations.

Publications: "The Guide to Corporate Crisis Management," "Private Equity Reference," co-editor, Latin Lawyer.

Personal: Yale Law (JD, 2005); Harvard University (BA, 1999). Spanish, Portuguese.

AJIASHVILI, Nathan

Latham & Watkins LLP, New York
212-906-2916
nathan.ajiashvili@lw.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Nathan Ajiashvili advises public and private companies on corporate and securities law matters, with an emphasis on public and private financings for healthcare and technology companies. He also regularly represents underwriters and financial institutions in securities offerings. Mr. Ajiashvili applies a hands-on approach to help clients successfully navigate financings and strategic transactions at every stage of their life cycles. His work spans dozens of initial public offerings (IPOs), including a number of dual listings involving diverse jurisdictions. Mr. Ajiashvili complements his breadth of IPO work with various types of financing transactions, such as high yield debt offerings, public and private equity offerings, venture capital financings, leveraged buyouts, debt exchange offers, tender offers, and consent solicitations. A trusted strategic advisor, Mr. Ajiashvili also counsels clients on general corporate and securities matters, including corporate governance issues, public company reporting obligations, and stock exchange rules and requirements. He is the former Co-Chair of the New York Corporate Department.

AKINS, Sean

Covington & Burling LLP, Washington, DC
(202) 662-5062
sakins@cov.com

Featured in Tax (District of Columbia), Tax (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Sean Akins litigates complex federal and state tax matters on behalf of some of the most prominent companies, organizations, and high net worth individuals in the world. He has extensive experience trying cases before the U.S. Tax Court, the Court of Federal Claims, U.S. District and Appellate Courts, and state courts. In addition to litigating tax matters, Mr. Akins advises clients with respect to administrative tax controversies before the Internal Revenue Service and state taxing authorities, as well as with respect to Congressional tax investigations and hearings. He is the author of Litigation of Federal Civil Tax Controversies, the leading multi-volume treatise on the litigation of tax cases in the United States, in addition to numerous other articles and publications.

Publications: Most prominently, Mr. Akins is co-author of Kafka, Cavanagh, & Akins, Litigation of Federal Civil Tax Controversies, 2d ed., the leading two-volume treatise on the litigation of tax cases in the United States, and co-author of Chapter 7 of Effectively Representing Your Taxpayer before the IRS, Tax Court Litigation.

AL-RASHID, Meriam N
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP, New York
+1.212.287.7055
MeriamAl-Rashid@eversheds-sutherland.us

Featured in International Arbitration (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Meriam advises on complex international disputes with a focus on public international law, including issues related to human rights, international investment arbitration, international commercial arbitration, and foreign investor risk management. Her practice covers various sectors, including mining, TMT, infrastructure, energy, textiles and hospitality. With well over a decade of experience, Meriam has established herself as one of the world's foremost international arbitration and human rights practitioners, serving as lead counsel on an impressively diverse portfolio, including growing a group with extensive experience in Business and Human Rights. Shortly after her arrival to Eversheds Sutherland in March 2020, Meriam helped form one of the world's largest full-service International Arbitration groups and was quickly elected Global Co-Chair of the practice and Co-Chair of the Latin America Arbitration Group. As Global Co-Chair, Meriam leads with a commitment to fostering diversity, social advocacy, gender and racial equality, and openly advocates on all available platforms for changing the official rules of all International Arbitration Institutions to make inclusion of women on every arbitral panel mandatory. Clients actively seek out Meriam to use her voice in the international legal community in both public and private international law, and on international human rights issues, and Business and Human Rights, as she leads with an emphasis on justice, equality, diversity and inclusion.

ALEXANDER, Alan
Vinson & Elkins LLP, Houston
1.713.758.3353
aalexander@velaw.com

Featured in Projects (USA – Nationwide), Construction (Texas)
See under Texas for profile.

ALEXIS, Anthony
Goodwin, Washington, DC
+1 (202) 346-4032
aalexis@goodwinlaw.com
Featured in Financial Services Regulation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Anthony Alexis is a partner in Goodwin's Complex Business Litigation and Dispute Resolution and Financial Industry Litigation practices focusing on Consumer Financial Services Litigation and serves as the head of the firm's Consumer Financial Services Enforcement practice. Anthony's practice focuses on representing financial services institutions and litigation matters, with a focus on class action litigation and government and regulatory investigations. Prior to joining Goodwin in 2017, Anthony served as Assistant Director and Head of the Office of Enforcement at the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), where he developed and managed the CFPB's enforcement strategy, consumer financial investigations and litigation. He coordinated strategy, investigations and litigation in areas such as fair lending, payday/short-term loans, mortgage origination, mortgage servicing, credit cards, credit reporting, debt collection, student and automobile lending, and payments systems with leaders of the enforcement and regulation departments at the Department of Justice (DOJ), US Attorneys' Offices, state attorneys general, US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the US Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), the Office of the Comptroller of Currency (OCC), the California Department of Business Oversight and the New York State Department of Financial Services (NYDFS).

Personal: JD, Howard University School of Law 1984; BA, The George Washington University 1981

ALLISON, Alix Dean
Vartabedian Hester & Haynes LLP, Fort Worth

Featured in Litigation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Alix Dean Allison focuses her practice on oil and gas litigation, representing clients in lease termination, royalty litigation, contract disputes, and trespass-to-try-title suits. She has brought cases before both state and federal courts and also has experience in employment complex commercial disputes.

ALOVISETTI, Charles
Vicente LLP, Denver
(303) 860-4501
c.alovisetti@vicentellp.com

Featured in Cannabis Law (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: –Commercial Transactions –Corporate & Business –Entheogens & Emerging Therapies –Insolvency & State Receivership –International Transactions

Career: Charlie Alovisetti is a partner at Vicente LLP and chair of the firm's Corporate Department. Recognized by Chambers & Partners as one of the top cannabis lawyers in the United States, he is also co-author of The Business of Cannabis: Understanding Law, Finance, and Governance in America's Newest Industry. Charlie focuses his practice on advising investors, companies, and other law firms on the nuances of executing corporate transactions involving licensed and ancillary cannabis companies. With experience working on licensed transactions in all major cannabis markets in the United States, Charlie has a deep understanding of the state and local issues that commonly arise in stock and asset acquisitions and issues involved in management companies and other alternative structures. This experience and knowledge make him a vital resource for clients. He also has experience counseling portfolio and emerging growth companies with respect to general corporate and commercial matters and compensation arrangements. In addition to his corporate practice, Charlie provides specialized cannabis counsel to non-cannabis companies seeking to evaluate the risks of entering the cannabis space and structure their investments to reduce risks. Prior to joining Vicente LLP, Charlie worked as an associate in the New York offices of Latham & Watkins and Goodwin, where he represented public companies and private equity sponsors and their portfolio companies in a range of corporate transactions. Charlie holds a Bachelor of Arts, with honors, from McGill University and a law degree from Columbia Law School, where he was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar. He is admitted to practice in Colorado, Massachusetts, and New York. Recognized as a thought leader and experienced practitioner in the areas of cannabis M&A and financings, Charlie is an author and frequent speaker at events. In addition to his recognition by Chambers, he was named one of Boston's Top Lawyers by Boston magazine in 2021 and 2022. During his time practicing in Colorado, Charlie participated in a number of working groups related to the cannabis industry, including the group focused on HB19-1090 – the bill that permitted public company investment.

Publications: Books: Co-author, The Cannabis Business: Understanding Law, Finance, and Governance in America's Newest Industry, Routledge Publishing, 2020 Vicente Insights: Co-author, "Raising Capital for Maryland Social Equity Cannabis Businesses," May 7, 2024 Author, "Forming Psychedelic Companies: 10 Lessons from the Cannabis Industry," March 22, 2023 Co-author, "Functional Mushrooms: The Difference Between Regulation as a Food, Food Additive, or Dietary Supplement," March 3, 2023 Co-author, "Understanding the Current Legal Status of Psychedelics in the United States," May 27, 2022 Co-author, "Financing New Ventures: 10 Key Considerations to Structure an Equity Raise for a New Company," May 10, 2022

AMERT, Amanda
Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, Chicago
312.728.9010
aamert@willkie.com

Featured in ERISA Litigation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Amanda S. Amert is a partner in the Litigation Department and Chair of the ERISA Litigation Group, based in the firm's Chicago office. She focuses her practice on ERISA litigation and has a wide variety of business litigation, appellate and arbitration experience. Businesses rely on her for help with ERISA litigation and counseling, contract disputes and financial services litigation. She has represented employers in federal courts around the country at the trial and appellate levels, in both individual and class-action lawsuits, and in disputes with the U.S. Department of Labor. Amanda's experience in business litigation ranges from contract disputes to financial industry cases to employment litigation. Her ERISA litigation experience includes representing employers and ERISA plan service providers in federal courts around the country at the trial and appellate levels, in both individual and class action lawsuits, as well as counseling clients regarding developing practices designed to avoid fiduciary litigation. Most recently, Amanda led a team that secured a complete dismissal of an ERISA class action against a multi-national corporation, and is defending class actions around recordkeeping fees, target date funds and proprietary funds in defined contribution plans. Amanda has also handled ERISA class action settlements, plan audits and investigations, and disputes between ERISA plan sponsors and service providers. Amanda writes and speaks on ERISA litigation topics and, with partner Craig C. Martin, is a co-author of PLI's ERISA Benefits Litigation Answer Book. Chambers USA ranks Amanda among the leading practitioners nationally in the area of ERISA litigation, and Legal 500 has recognized her for her work in labor and employment. Law360 has recognized Amanda as an "MVP" in Benefits for her ERISA litigation work, as well as a "Rising Legal Star," and as one of "five employment lawyers under the age of 40 to watch," noting her "deep expertise in ERISA law." In 2018, 2022 and again in 2024, Crain's named Amanda among Chicago's "Notable Women Lawyers." Amanda maintains an active pro bono practice, which has included a range of civil, criminal and counseling matters. Amanda received a JD, cum laude, from Duke University School of Law in 2000 and a BA, cum laude, from Williams College in 1997.

Professional Memberships: Amanda is vice chair of the board of the Legal Aid Society of Metropolitan Family Services of Chicago, one of the first organizations in the United States to provide legal services regardless of an individual's ability to pay. She is a former longtime board member of Chicago Debates, whose mission is to advance the academic achievement and life success of Chicago's urban youth through academic debate. Amanda is an alum of Leadership Greater Chicago, a 30-year-old non-profit organization that cultivates Chicago's business, public and civic leaders through a deeper understanding of the issues facing the Chicago community.

AMINIAN BAGHAI, Arash
Latham & Watkins LLP, Los Angeles
+1.213.891.7809
arash.aminianbaghai@lw.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Arash Aminian Baghai is a partner in the Los Angeles office of Latham & Watkins. He is a corporate finance and securities law attorney, focusing in particular on complex equity derivative transactions. Mr. Aminian Baghai has advised clients on: •Capital markets transactions, including initial public offerings, follow-on offerings of convertible debt, straight debt, and equity, contingent equity facilities, and equity forward transactions •Structuring unique securities products, such as mandatorily convertible equity units and "common-tracking" preferred, including in connection with business combination transactions •Debt and capital restructuring transactions, including tender and exchange offers, accelerated share repurchases, and stock splits •Disclosure and reporting obligations under US federal securities laws •Corporate governance matters, including Sarbanes-Oxley Act compliance •Listed company obligations under stock exchange rules

AMOONA, Jonathan

Winston & Strawn LLP, New York

Featured in Sports Law (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: "One of sports law's rising litigators" and "brightest stars," according to Forbes, Jonathan Amoon has served as counsel in some of the most significant sports legal matters in recent history and has successfully represented numerous athletes, players unions, sports agents, and agencies. Jonathan has successfully represented the top sports agents and agencies in the world in high-stakes litigation and arbitration. His clients include Klutch Sports Group, MVP Sports Group, and WME Sports. Also a leading lawyer in the industry for transactional work, Jonathan has negotiated nearly $200 million in guaranteed compensation for sports agents across all major sports, including agents at WME Sports, Athletes First, Octagon, and CAA. Jonathan also regularly represents the National Football League Players Association and NFL players. In connection with these representations, Jonathan served as counsel in the Bounty, Ray Rice, Adrian Peterson, Tom Brady, and Ezekiel Elliott litigations and arbitrations. Jonathan has also served as counsel for the National Basketball Players Association and NBA Players, and he has represented scores of other professional athletes in adversarial proceedings.

AMOROSI, Mark

K&L Gates, Washington, DC
1.202.778.9351

mark.amorosi@klgates.com

Featured in Registered Funds (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Mark Amorosi is a partner in the firm's asset management and investment funds practice group and is based in the firm's Washington, DC office. Mark also serves as one of three practice area leaders of the firm's financial services practice. He has been practicing for approximately 25 years in the areas of investment management and securities law, and focuses his practice on representing investment advisers, mutual funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs), private and alternative investment funds, insurance companies, fund boards, broker-dealers, banks, and other financial institutions. He has extensive experience with fund formations and securities offerings by retail and alternative fund complexes, global fund regulation, complex regulatory and compliance matters, portfolio management and transactional matters, governance matters, variable insurance product regulation, and matters relating to mergers and acquisitions of investment adviser and fund businesses. Prior to joining the firm in 2000, he served on the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for five years working in the SEC's Division of Investment Management. Mark works with investment advisers and fund complexes of all sizes and regularly deals with regulatory authorities on a wide range of matters, including interpretive requests, registration statements, exemptive applications, and inspections and examinations. His clients include some of the largest asset managers in the world as well as start-up and emerging investment advisers, fund complexes, and other intermediaries. He regularly works with clients in connection with forming new investment funds and developing new and novel investment products, in addition to providing them with ongoing representation on a variety of matters, including structuring new advisory entities, new retail and private fund offerings, global product distribution matters, portfolio management compliance issues, mergers and acquisitions of advisory and fund businesses, and implementation of compliance programs. Based on feedback from clients, peers, and other industry professionals, Mark has been recognized by multiple legal ranking organizations, including Chambers and The Legal 500, with clients referring to him as an "extremely good" lawyer and a "standout" in the legal profession for his expertise with investment advisers and investment companies.

Professional Memberships:

American Bar Association Member of the Committee on Federal Regulation of Securities, Subcommittee on Investment Companies and Investment Advisers, Subcommittee on Private Investment Vehicles, and Subcommittee on the Securities Activities of Insurance Companies Federal Bar Association International Bar Association Member of the Investment Funds Committee
Publications: "Overview of How Insurance Dedicated Funds Offer the Returns of Private Funds With the Favorable Tax Treatment of Insurance Products," Private Equity Law Report, 27 July 2021 "Navigating the US Securities and Exchange Commission's Evolving Expectations for Cybersecurity Preparedness," Journal of Securities Operations & Custody, Vol. 9 No. 1, 19 October 2016

ANDERS, Ginger D

Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP, Washington, DC

+1 202 220 1107

ginger.anders@mtmo.com

Featured in Appellate Law (USA - Nationwide)

Career: Ginger Anders is a complex litigation and appellate partner who most often represents clients in patent and regulatory matters. Based in the Washington, D.C., office of Munger, Tolles & Olson, Ms. Anders has argued 18 cases before the U.S. Supreme Court. Ms. Anders joined the firm from the U.S. Department of Justice, where she served as an Assistant to the U.S. Solicitor General and a Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Office of Legal Counsel. During her nearly eight-year tenure as an Assistant to the Solicitor General, Ms. Anders represented the United States before the U.S. Supreme Court in a wide range of noteworthy cases, formulating the United States' position before the High Court and consulting on the government's appellate strategy in the lower courts. She has extensive experience in intellectual property law, particularly patent law, as well as transnational litigation and the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, administrative law and constitutional law. In addition to her numerous arguments before the U.S. Supreme Court, Ms. Anders authored the government's briefs in 35 cases at the merits stage and in hundreds of cases at the certiorari stage.

ANDERSON, Anna

Chapman and Cutler LLP, Chicago

Featured in Capital Markets (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Anna is a partner in Chapman's Asset Securitization Department. She works primarily with commercial banks and financial institutions in asset securitization transactions and structured financings, with a focus in the area of corporate trust. In this area Anna represents such banks and institutions in their roles as indenture trustee, back-up servicer, collateral agent, custodian, paying agent, calculation agent and similar capacities involving various asset classes, including auto loans, equipment lease receivables, timeshare interests, student loans, commercial loans, solar loans and assets and data centers. Anns also has experience in real estate-related finance matters including construction, acquisition and permanent financing for a variety of types of real estate.

Professional Memberships:

Alliance for Women Committee American Bar Association Chicago Bar Association National Association of Women Lawyers Structured Finance Association Trustee Committee

ANDERSON, James E

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, Washington, DC

+1 202 303 1114

janderson@willkie.com

Featured in Investment Funds (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Partner in Asset Management Department and Chair of the Regulatory and Enforcement practice. Practice covers the entire range of securities regulation, advising investment advisers, hedge funds, private equity funds, mutual funds, banks and broker-dealers. Advises clients in the purchase and sale of investment advisers and funds, compliance matters and in examination and enforcement-related inquiries by self-regulatory organizations and the SEC. Former Staff Attorney in the SEC's Office of Investment Company Regulation of the Division of Investment Management.
Personal: JD, Brigham Young University Law School, 1992; BA, University of Utah, 1988. See: <https://www.willkie.com/professionals/a/anderson%20james>

ANDERSON, Jarryd

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP, Washington, DC

janderson@paulweiss.com

Featured in Financial Services Regulation (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Attorney bio can be found here: <https://www.paulweiss.com/professionals/partners-and-counsel/jarryd-e-anderson>

ANDERSON, Lauren

Latham & Watkins LLP, Houston

1 (713) 546 7457

lauren.anderson@lw.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA - Nationwide), Private Equity (Texas)

See under Texas for profile.

ANDRES, Greg

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, New York
(212) 450-4724

Greg.d.andres@gmail.com

Featured in FCPA (USA - Nationwide), Litigation (New York)

See under New York for profile.

ANDREWS, Jeffrey B

Bracewell LLP, Houston

+1.713.221.1439

jeff.andrews@bracewell.com

Featured in Technology (Texas), Outsourcing (USA - Nationwide)

See under Texas for profile.

ANTWEIL, Carina

Baker Botts L.L.P., Houston

carina.antweil@bakerbotts.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA - Nationwide), Capital Markets (Texas)

See under Texas for profile.

APPLEBAUM, David

Baker Botts L.L.P., Houston

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: David Applebaum's practice focuses on energy industry enforcement, compliance, internal investigations, audits, litigation, regulatory, and policy matters. He regularly advises on proposed energy market transactions to mitigate enforcement risk from FERC (Federal Energy Regulatory Commission), CFTC (Commodity Futures Trading Commission), NERC (North American Electric Reliability Corporation), state public utility commissions (PUCs), antitrust enforcers, and RTO (Regional Transmission Organization) market monitors. David has successfully represented clients on a broad range of enforcement investigations and surveillance inquiries alleging market manipulation. David is the former head of FERC's Division of Investigations, where he managed all aspects of the Division, including decisions on opening, conducting, and resolving investigations, settlements, enforcement actions, trials, and electric reliability inquiries. He also led the Division in coordination efforts with the CFTC on market manipulation investigations. During his government service, David was a member of the Office of Enforcement senior management team and was a key advisor to Commissioners' Offices and senior staff on enforcement matters.

Career: David Applebaum's practice focuses on energy industry enforcement, government investigations, internal investigations, litigation, audits, electric reliability inquiries, compliance, regulatory, and policy matters. He advises clients on proposed energy market transactions and trading strategies to avoid or mitigate enforcement risk from FERC, the CFTC, NERC, state PUCs, antitrust enforcers, and RTO market monitors. David is the former head of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's Division of Investigations, where he managed all aspects of the Division, including complex decisions related to opening, conducting, and resolving investigations, settlements, enforcement actions, trials, and electric reliability inquiries. Since leaving FERC, David has successfully represented clients on a broad range of enforcement investigations and surveillance inquiries alleging market manipulation.

Professional Memberships: State Bar of Texas District of Columbia Bar New York State Bar Member, Editorial Board, Energy Law Journal Chair, Compliance & Enforcement Committee, Energy Bar Association Former Vice Chair, ABA Antitrust Section's Civil Practice & Procedure Committee Fellow, Texas Bar Foundation

Personal: J.D., Vanderbilt University Law School 1999 Editor-in-Chief, Vanderbilt Journal of Transactional Law B.A., History, University of Pennsylvania 1996 magna cum laude Phi Beta Kappa

ARANOFF, Shara
Covington & Burling LLP, Washington, DC
(202) 662-5997
saranoff@cov.com

Featured in International Trade (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Ms. Aranoff has represented clients in some of the most significant cases before the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) over the past several years, scoring critical victories for her clients in antidumping and countervailing duty investigations involving key global industries. For example, Ms. Aranoff was one of the lead lawyers in the firm's successful representation of Kruger Inc. and the News Media Alliance, winning a unanimous no-injury determination on newsprint. Ms. Aranoff maintains an active Section 337 litigation practice, representing both domestic and foreign companies. She also advises U.S. importers on customs compliance and tariff mitigation strategies.

Career: Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Aranoff was a Commissioner and Chairman of the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC), where she was a decision-maker in hundreds of Section 337, antidumping, countervailing duty, and safeguard investigations. Drawing on her 20 years of experience in the executive and legislative branches of the U.S. government, she develops legal and public policy strategies to assist clients navigating the U.S. International Trade Commission, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Congress, and the courts.

ARBUS SHERRY, Melissa
Latham & Watkins LLP, Washington, DC
+1.202.637.3386
melissa.sherry@lw.com

Featured in Appellate Law (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Melissa Arbus Sherry, a former Assistant to the Solicitor General of the United States and former Deputy Managing Partner of the Washington, D.C. office, focuses primarily on appeals in the Supreme Court of the United States, the United States Courts of Appeals, and state appellate courts. Ms. Sherry represents a full spectrum of clients in high-stakes appellate litigation across the country. She has argued 11 cases in the United States Supreme Court and multiple cases in the First, Second, Third, Fifth, Seventh, Ninth, and Eleventh Circuits, among other courts. She served five years as an Assistant to the Solicitor General of the United States. In that role, she represented the United States before the Supreme Court, oversaw the government's litigation in federal appellate courts, and worked with and across federal government agencies and components within the Department of Justice. Ms. Sherry represents clients in a wide range of areas, including intellectual property, securities, arbitration, health-care, tax, communications, white collar, and complex commercial litigation. She excels at distilling and framing complex legal issues through compelling written and oral advocacy. According to a 2018 Law360 article, Ms. Sherry is one of the 10 most experienced women advocates before the Supreme Court, based on the number of cases argued over the past 10 Terms. Some of her notable arguments included: •POM Wonderful LLC v. The Coca-Cola Co. •Bowman v. Monsanto •Amgen, Inc. v. Connecticut Retirement Plans & Trust Funds •CSX Transportation v. Alabama Department of Revenue Ms. Sherry has also drafted more than a hundred briefs before the Supreme Court. She has briefed dozens of cases in federal and state appellate courts. And she has judged hundreds of moot courts for internal and external clients, as well as for organizations such as the US Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Attorneys General. She served as a law clerk to Justice John Paul Stevens, and to Judge Diana Gribbon Motz on the Fourth Circuit. Industry and Community Leadership Ms. Sherry is on the Board of Advisors of the Institute of Judicial Administration at NYU School of Law. She is a member of the Edward Coke Appellate Inn of Court. And she serves on the US Chamber of Commerce's Constitutional Law and Federal Courts Amicus Committee and as a Vice Chair of Latham's Associates Committee. She has been featured in media outlets such as the PBS NewsHour, Bloomberg, and the Washingtonian. And she speaks often to industry groups, lawyers, and judges about the Supreme Court and appellate advocacy.

ARCELLA, Craig F
Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP, New York
+1 212 474 1024
carcella@cravath.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Craig F. Arcella is a partner in Cravath's Corporate Department and serves as Co-Head of the Firm's Finance Practice. He represents financial institutions and corporate clients in a wide variety of matters, including investment grade, high-yield and convertible bond offerings; liability management transactions; initial public offerings and other equity financings; syndicated loan and other leveraged finance transactions; and mergers and acquisitions. Mr. Arcella also regularly advises companies with respect to governance, public disclosure and other corporate matters.

Career: Columbia Law School (JD, 1998; Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar; Member, "Law Review"); Duke University (BA, 1995)

Personal: For more information: <https://www.cravath.com/people/craig-f-arcella.html>

ARCHIE, Jennifer
Latham & Watkins LLP, Washington, DC
202.637.2205
jennifer.archie@lw.com

Featured in Privacy & Data Security (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Jennifer Archie is a partner in the Washington, D.C. office of Latham & Watkins and a member of the firm's Litigation & Trial Department. She possesses broad investigations, litigation, and counseling experience advising clients from emerging companies to global enterprises across all market sectors in matters involving computer fraud and cybercrime, privacy and data security compliance and program management, advertising and marketing practices, information governance, consumer fraud, employment, and trade secrets. Ms. Archie has particular expertise defending clients in Federal Trade Commission and state consumer protection investigations and preparing for and leading the response to complex and large-scale data breach incidents. Prior to entering the practice of law, she served as Legislative Assistant and subsequently Press Secretary to Congressman Christopher H. Smith (R-NJ) from 1983-86. She has lectured for various industry, client, and bar groups on diverse topics related to litigation or compliance issues relevant to state and federal computer crime and privacy laws, unfair or deceptive trade practice laws, and social media compliance considerations for regulated industries and public companies. Ms. Archie is the editor of the Global Privacy & Security Compliance Law Blog, which discusses a wide range of legal developments and controversies involving data protection and privacy issues and practices, transborder data transfers, and data and system security terms and breaches across numerous industry sectors.

ARCHULETA, Daniel
Troutman Pepper, Washington, DC
202.274.2926
daniel.archuleta@troutman.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA – Nationwide)

Career: Daniel Archuleta leads Troutman Pepper's gas and pipeline practice, where he advises a broad array of clients on regulation, competition, and transactional issues. Daniel's extensive experience and engineering background enable him to translate the various issues his clients face into pragmatic, real-world solutions in a diverse and ever-changing energy industry. Daniel leverages his unique skill set to tackle emerging issues and navigate complex matters for his clients. He helps his clients develop and construct large infrastructure projects utilizing emerging technologies and addresses regulatory concerns involving liquified natural gas (LNG), compressed natural gas (CNG), renewable natural gas (RNG) and hydrogen production, transportation, and distribution. Daniel represents natural gas pipeline and storage companies, local distribution companies (LDCs), electric utilities, generation owners, and energy trading companies and marketers in proceedings before the FERC, state public utility commissions, and the U.S. Courts of Appeals, particularly in matters related to administrative complaints and litigation, merger proceedings, rate-making and certificate proceedings, and investigation and compliance matters. Daniel consistently counsels a wide-variety of clients on novel issues involving strategic planning and commercial matters within the gas and pipeline industry.

ARKINS, Jonathan
King & Spalding LLP, New York
+1 212 556 2300
jarkins@kslaw.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Jonathan Arkins represents major domestic and international financial institutions, private equity funds, and other institutional investors in private placement offerings, revolving and static-pool warehouse facilities, bankruptcy safe harbored financing transactions and structures, domestic and foreign asset-backed securitizations of a diverse range of asset types, supply chain and trade financing and related trade receivable financing and securitization, mortgage and related asset repurchase transactions, fund finance and subscription lines, standby and trade letters of credit, and various other types of secured lending. In addition, Mr. Arkins has extensive experience in short and long term international and domestic monetization transactions, as well as the representation of institutional investors in corporate and asset-backed private placement transactions

ARMSTRONG, David P

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates, Toronto
416-777-4716

david.armstrong@skadden.com

Featured in Projects (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: David Armstrong's practice focuses primarily on the representation of commercial and investment banks, as well as borrowers and issuers, in leveraged and other finance transactions, including project financings, acquisition financings, leveraged leases and other senior secured lending transactions, with a principal focus on the energy and industrial sectors.

Career: LL.B., University of Toronto, 1999 (with honors); B.A., Queen's University, 1995 (with honors)

ARNHOLT, Richard

Bass, Berry & Sims PLC, Knoxville
rarnholt@bassberry.com

Featured in Government (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Richard Arnholt advises companies, large and small, on the complex rules and regulations applicable to grants and contracts from federal and state governmental entities. In an era of increased budgetary pressures for contractors, Richard focuses his practice on providing practical business and legal guidance to help clients efficiently navigate the minefield of government procurement and grant regulations. Over the past two decades Richard has represented government contract clients in a wide range of issues. In particular, he has extensive experience counseling clients on the complex ethics and compliance obligations required of government contractors and grant recipients; assisting companies and individuals faced with suspension or debarment by a number of government agencies; filing and defending against bid protests at the Government Accountability Office (GAO), Court of Federal Claims, and the Federal Circuit; and government contracts-related litigation such as prime/sub disputes and defending against False Claims Act (FCA) allegations. His practice focuses on: – Government contracts counseling and litigation – Suspension/debarment – Bid and size protests

Career: Joined Bass, Berry & Sims in 2015 Prior to entering private practice, Richard served as a law clerk for the Honorable Mary Ellen Coster Williams of the U.S. Court of Federal Claims.

Professional Memberships:

American Bar Association, Section of Public Contract Law – Privatization, Outsourcing & Financing Transactions Committee: Co-Chair (2009-2012) – Acquisition Reform & Emerging Issues Committee: Co-Chair (2009-2011) – Young Lawyers Committee: Co-Chair (2007-2009) – Young Lawyers Division Liaison (2004-2006)

Personal: LLM, Georgetown University Law Center (2003) – With Distinction JD, Georgetown University Law Center (2002) – cum laude MA, University of St. Andrews (Scotland) (1997) – With Honors

ARNOLD, Keri

Wilkinson Stekloff LLP, Washington, DC

karnold@wilkinsonstekloff.com

Featured in Products Liability (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Keri Arnold is a trial attorney with over twenty years' experience defending companies in product liability, environmental, and complex commercial litigation. She has tried over a dozen cases to verdict, including seven as first-chair trial counsel, on behalf of major pharmaceutical, tobacco, and energy companies. Keri has supervised the management and discovery of mass actions pending in state and federal courts and has extensive experience developing complex medical and scientific evidence for presentation at trial. Most recently, Keri was a member of the trial team that secured a groundbreaking victory for Microsoft, defeating the FTC's efforts to enjoin its $68.7 billion acquisition of Activision Blizzard and winning the second-biggest merger trial in American history. Following a five-day bench trial, Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley denied the FTC's motion for preliminary injunction, finding that the FTC failed to make its case that the acquisition would substantially lessen competition in the gaming industry. Keri also recently represented a major chemical manufacturer in the Aqueous Film-Forming Foams (AFFF) Products Liability Litigation (MDL No. 2873) in the District of South Carolina. The litigation, involving alleged PFAS groundwater contamination from the use of AFFF, is considered the most significant PFAS litigation in the country. Keri was set to serve as a member of the trial team for the manufacturer in the first bellwether trial in the AFFF MDL, which was halted on the eve of trial when the remaining parties announced a settlement to end all water-provider claims brought against the manufacturer. Keri also currently represents Monsanto in litigation arising out of claims that its popular herbicide Roundup causes Non-Hodgkin Lymphoma. Before joining Wilkinson Stekloff, Keri was a partner at Arnold & Porter, where she specialized in trial work and product liability litigation. Keri is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers and has been a Lecturer in Law at Columbia Law School. She has been recognized by Benchmark as a "Litigation Star" and named to their list of the "Top 250 Women in Litigation." She has also been ranked by Legal 500 for "Product Liability and Mass Tort Defense" and appeared on Lawdragon's list of the "500 Leading Litigators in America."

ARORA, Monica

Proskauer Rose LLP, New York
212-969-3003

marora@proskauer.com

Featured in Private Equity (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Monica Arora is a partner and co-head of the Private Funds Group at Proskauer. Monica advises asset managers across the full spectrum of investment fund matters. Her particular expertise concentrates within the areas of buyout, credit, growth equity, real assets and infrastructure funds, including the establishment of bespoke fund structures, joint ventures and other strategic arrangements for sponsors globally. Monica is a thought leader in the industry. She is also a prominent and engaged member of the private funds community, including as a contributor to the New York City Bar Association's Private Investment Funds Committee, Women in Private Equity and Private Equity Women Investor Network. Monica's leadership extends well beyond her role as Co-Head of the department as she is a key member of numerous diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives and was named by the Minority Corporate Counsel Association as a 2022 Rainmaker. She is an active board member of Her Justice, a leading organization that provides free legal help to low-income women living in New York City, and is also actively engaged in a number of charitable boards outside of the Firm. Prior to joining Proskauer, Monica was the global head of the investment funds group at White & Case.

AROVAS, Gregory S

Kirkland & Ellis LLP, New York
+1 212-446-4766

greg.arovas@kirkland.com

Featured in International Trade (USA – Nationwide), Intellectual Property (USA – Nationwide), Intellectual Property (New York)

See under New York for profile.

ARP, D Jarrett

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, Washington, DC

+1 202 962 7150

jarrett.arp@davispolk.com

Featured in Antitrust (USA – Nationwide), Antitrust (District of Columbia)

See under District of Columbia for profile.

ASCARRUNZ, Veronica

Perkins Coie LLP, Washington, DC
(202) 887-8756

vascarrunz@mofo.com

Featured in International Trade (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Patent Litigation ITC Litigation Trade Secrets Litigation IP Enforcement Programs Intellectual Property Law Trademark, Copyright,

Internet & Advertising Inter Partes Review (IPR)

Career: For nearly 20 years, Veronica Ascarrunz has developed a practice focused on Section 337 litigation at the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC). She is the Immediate Past President of the ITC Trial Lawyers Association and has secured successful outcomes for dozens of clients in Section 337 ITC investigations at all stages, from early resolution through trial and appeal, including precedent-setting wins. Veronica represents clients in a range of industries, including medical device, pharmaceutical, software, semiconductor, telecommunications, and consumer products technology. Veronica's expertise also includes the litigation of complex patent, trademark, and trade secret matters in federal courts and at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), including bench and jury trials, Hatch-Waxman litigation, product development license disputes, and USPTO inter partes proceedings.

ASHLEY, Jillian

A&O Shearman, New York
+1 212 648 0784

jillian.ashley@aoshearman.com

Featured in Projects (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Jillian is in our Projects, Energy, Natural Resources and Infrastructure (PENRI) group and is Head of US China Group. Jillian has significant experience representing investors, sponsors, developers and lenders on the acquisition, financing and development of major projects around the world in a wide range of sectors, including all aspects of energy transition (including carbon capture, utilization and storage (CCUS), hydrogen, EV and renewables), transportation (including airports, rail, ports and roads), power generation and distribution and water. She also has extensive experience advising on the structuring, formation, marketing and financing of private investment funds in the infrastructure, energy, real estate and mining sectors, including representing lenders and funds on subscription line, NAV and hybrid financings for funds. Chambers USA 2023 has noted Jillian as Band 4 in the PPP market. Jillian has recently returned to the firm after serving as an Executive Director with J.P. Morgan Asset Management's Infrastructure Investments Group, where she advised on the legal, compliance and risk aspects of all matters related to the Group's private infrastructure investment fund, including fund structuring, investor onboarding and global financing and M&A transactions. Head of US China Group, Jillian has particular experience advising Chinese clients on their projects in the Americas, and advising US clients on transactions related to China, in close coordination with A&O Shearman's China offices. Jillian attended both Harvard College and Harvard Law School, graduating with honors of summa cum laude and magna cum laude. Jillian is fluent in Mandarin.

ASSADIPOUR, Azad

Sidley Austin LLP, New York
aassadipour@sidley.com

Featured in Derivatives (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: AZAD ASSADIPOUR is a partner in Sidley's Investment Funds group in the New York office, primarily advising buy-side clients in connection with all aspects of their trading, structuring, and documenting of derivatives and securities transactions. Azad works with a variety of clients including hedge funds, registered investment companies, private equity funds and fund sponsors, pension funds, insurance companies, energy companies, sovereign entities, and other large corporate end users of derivatives. Azad has extensive experience negotiating a wide variety of trading agreements, including ISDA Master Agreements, prime brokerage agreements, securities lending agreements, futures agreements, repurchase agreements (including FICC sponsored member transactions) and securities forward transactions. Azad regularly advises clients on hedging in the context of structured finance transactions, including oil and gas securitizations and other asset-backed securities issuances. In addition, Azad has extensive experience negotiating bespoke trade confirmations and master confirmations in respect of equity derivatives, credit derivatives and structured repurchase and securities lending transactions. Azad also has substantial experience advising buy-side clients on regulatory issues relating to Dodd-Frank, with a focus on regulations implemented pursuant to Dodd-Frank Title VII. In particular, Azad has been active in advising buy-side clients on the application of the variation and initial margin rules for uncleared swaps promulgated by the CFTC and the U.S. prudential regulators and negotiating related regulatory initial margin credit support documentation. Azad has been recognized as an "Up and Coming" lawyer in Derivatives in Chambers Global (2022–2024) and Chambers USA (2021–2023). It was noted that he "demonstrates an impressive ability to lead derivatives transactions, including notable work in the negotiation of ISDA master agreements." Clients said, "Azad delivers his work with professionalism, and crafts well thought-out analyses to many complex issues with ease," and "His advice is practical and on-market, yet thorough and based on experience and comprehension of the agreements."

ASTOLFI, Paul

Mayer Brown LLP, Chicago

Featured in Projects (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Paul Astolfi is co-leader of Mayer Brown's Projects & Infrastructure group and has spent the better part of the last 20 years working on greenfield and brownfield power, energy and infrastructure finance and M&A transactions and reorganizations. His experience includes billions of dollars of investment in renewable energy companies and projects, gas-fired peakers in PJM, QFs in MISO, hedged merchant wind and solar facilities in ERCOT (and elsewhere), contracted solar facilities in CAISO, various energy projects in Mexico, and several project bond financings (144A and private placements). Paul has a particularly strong expertise in multi-tiered financing structures and cross-border transactions, including intercreditor arrangements and workouts. Paul speaks French competently and can read and understand Spanish. He is a member of the New York Bar, among others.

ATKINS, Raymond A.

Sidley Austin LLP, Washington, DC
1 202 736 8889

ratkins@sidley.com

Featured in Transportation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: RAYMOND ATKINS is widely recognized as a leader in the transportation field. With 25 years of experience, Ray advises some of the world's largest transportation companies on high-stakes transportation issues, including issues involving transactions, regulatory litigations, appeals, competition law, and federal preemption. Ray is the co-leader of Sidley's Transportation practice, which has been ranked as one of the nation's top-tier practices by Chambers USA for Nationwide Transportation: Rail (for Railroads) every year since 2007. The group is routinely praised by Chambers for being "highly experienced in complex and sophisticated rail transactions" (2023) and the team is lauded as "true experts in the field of transportation law" (2015).

ATKINSON, Kathryn Cameron

Miller & Chevalier Chartered, Washington, DC

202-294-4656

katkinson@milchev.com

Featured in FCPA (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Corporate compliance, governance, and investigations, including FCPA and anti-corruption law, export controls and economic sanctions, and anti-money laundering laws; risk assessment, program design, and testing; merger and acquisition due diligence; and internal and government investigations.

Career: Chair, Executive Committee, Miller & Chevalier; selected three times as a government-appointed Independent Compliance Monitor pursuant to FCPA resolutions with the U.S. Department of Justice and Securities and Exchange Commission; Member, CEELI Institute International Advisory Board.

Personal: JD, Cornell Law School, 1992; BA, The Johns Hopkins University, 1989.

ATTRIDGE, James

Axinn, Washington, DC

jattridge@axinn.com

Featured in Antitrust (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: James ("Jimmy") Attridge – former Chief of Staff of the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) Antitrust Division, Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General, and federal prosecutor – represents clients in cartel investigations, antitrust litigation, and complex merger reviews. Drawing on his government experience under multiple administrations, Jimmy provides a strategic and comprehensive perspective on a wide range of government investigations and litigation. Lauded by clients in The Legal 500 United States for his work representing both companies and individuals in cartel matters, Jimmy is adept at navigating antitrust compliance issues, cartel investigations and defense, and follow-on civil litigation. He also counsels clients on engaging with the DOJ in a range of areas where the Antitrust Division has committed to heightened enforcement, including merger reviews, civil conduct investigations, and interlocking directorates. As Chief of Staff of the Antitrust Division, Jimmy was a key advisor on policy changes, investigations, and enforcement efforts. He managed a team of advisors, oversaw work product ranging from articles to speeches, and represented the Division with fellow antitrust enforcers and within the DOJ. As Counsel, he advised senior leaders on a record-high docket of criminal investigations and litigation, including scores of recommendations to open and resolve investigations, grant leniency, and seek indictments. Additionally, he implemented policy changes to bring criminal charges for collusion in the labor markets, to incentivize and assess corporate compliance, and to create the Procurement Collusion Strike Force, an interagency effort to detect and prosecute cartels and fraud affecting government procurement. Jimmy also served as a criminal prosecutor during his stint at the DOJ. Prior to his government service, Jimmy practiced in the antitrust department of a global law firm. After graduating from the Georgetown University Law Center, Jimmy was a law clerk for the Honorable Liam O'Grady of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. During law school, Jimmy was a Charles H. March Fellow and law clerk for Federal Trade Commission Chairman Jon Leibowitz.

AXELROD, Gary

Latham & Watkins LLP, Chicago

312 777 7051

gary.axelrod@lw.com

Featured in Leisure & Hospitality (USA – Nationwide), Real Estate (Illinois)

See under Illinois for profile.

AXTELL, Sarah

Latham & Watkins LLP, Menlo Park

650.752.3196

sarah.axtell@lw.com

Featured in Capital Markets (California), Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

See under California for profile.

AYANIAN, John V

McGuireWoods LLP, Washington, DC

202-857-2428

jayanian@mcguirewoods.com

Featured in Financial Services Regulation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: John V. Ayanian is co-chair of McGuireWoods' Securities Enforcement & Regulatory Counseling practice group. He has substantial experience advising broker-dealers, including retail, institutional, and clearing broker-dealers on a wide range of regulatory and compliance obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and SEC, FINRA, and MSRB rules impacting their respective businesses. He regularly advises clients on broker-dealer status issues, Regulation Best Interest, Form CRS, conflicts of interest, disclosures, advertising, the distribution of investment products and investment research, trading issues, best execution obligations, and SEC and FINRA registration issues, and digital engagement practices. John also has significant experience on issues involving broker-dealers' obligations under net capital and customer protection rules, market structure, regulatory matters involving mergers and acquisition transactions, as well as issues involving the use of money market and bank deposit sweep programs. Prior to joining McGuireWoods, John served as the co-chair of a national law firm's financial services industry initiative, the practice leader for the firm's broker-dealer regulatory practice, as well as the Washington, D.C. office managing partner. He was vice president and assistant general counsel with a national bank holding company, where he worked with its broker-dealer subsidiaries. He also served as a staff attorney and Special Counsel in the SEC's Division of Market Regulation, Office of Market Supervision, where he was responsible for the regulation of trading and markets.

AYER, John

Ropes & Gray LLP, Boston

+1 617 951 7937

john.ayer@ropesgray.com

Featured in Private Equity (Massachusetts), Private Equity (USA – Nationwide)

See under Massachusetts for profile.

AZARKH, David

Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP, New York

212-455-2462

dazarkh@stblaw.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Corporate Partner with a broad practice, assisting investment banks and corporate clients with securities offerings ranging from high yield and investment grade debt offerings, initial public offerings, pre-IPO financings, primary and secondary offerings, leveraged buyouts, liability management transactions and other types of capital markets transactions. Offers particular experience with regard to underwriter representations and related market knowledge of covenant terms and disclosure matters. Regularly advises corporate clients on securities laws, corporate governance and other general matters.

Career: Joined Firm, 2011; Partner, 2016.

Publications: Regularly writes for industry publications, including co-authoring articles for Lexis Practice Advisor® and Law360.

Personal: B.A., Boston University (2002); J.D., Georgetown University Law Center (2006).

BABCOCK, Charles
Jackson Walker LLP, Houston
713.752.4210
cbabcock@jw.com

Featured in First Amendment Litigation (USA - Nationwide), Litigation (Texas), Litigation (Texas: Houston & Surrounds)
See under Texas for profile.

BACKHOUSE, Denise
Littler Mendelson, PC, New York
914-227-6414
dbackhouse@littler.com

Featured in eDiscovery (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Class Action; eDiscovery; International Employment Law; Litigation and Trials; Privacy and Data Security.

Career: Reinforcing the firm's commitment to providing its clients with leading-edge solutions in the rapidly developing area of eDiscovery, Denise provides focused guidance and expertise on information governance and electronic discovery matters to Littler's lawyers and their clients. Backhouse is a Certified Information Privacy Professional/Europe (CIPP/E). She is a frequent lecturer on eDiscovery and data protection issues, including on such topics as developing trends, cross-border discovery, data protection and privacy, and privilege and ethics in eDiscovery. Additionally, Backhouse is a founding director of the Cardozo Data Law Initiative (CDLI), Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, Yeshiva University and serves on the Steering Committee of the American Bar Association Cross-Border Discovery Institute and the Working Group Series Leadership Council of The Sedona Conference®.

Professional Memberships:

American Law Institute; International Data Law Association - Founding Member, Board of Directors; American Bar Association Annual Cross-Border Institute: The Interplay Between Global Discovery, Privacy and Data Security, 2023; American Bar Association Annual Cross-Border Institute: The Interplay Between Global Discovery, Privacy and Data Security, 2017-2023

Publications: The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), International Corporate Practice, Practising Law Institute, Chapter Co-Author, March 2022 Cyber Evidence, Corporate Criminal Defense: Compliance, Investigation, and Trial Strategies, Aspen Publishers, Chapter Author, 2012 and 2013 Social Media and Employment, Labour & Employment, Getting the Deal Through, Law Business Research Ltd., Contributing Author, 2011, 2012 and 2013

BACON, Brittany
Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, New York
+1(212)309-1361
bbacon@hunton.com

Featured in Privacy & Data Security (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Brittany has received national recognition for her work in assisting clients in identifying, evaluating and managing a panoply of global privacy and information security risks and compliance issues. She advises clients on U.S. state and federal privacy requirements and global data protection laws. In addition, Brittany routinely advises clients on data breach response and has served as a lead attorney on the two largest reported breaches in history. Having managed hundreds of cybersecurity incidents, Brittany is the go-to for handling catastrophic events that pose significant legal, regulatory and reputational risk to companies. She directs complex forensic investigations, prepares relevant notifications, and advises clients on regulatory investigations by state Attorneys General, the FTC, SEC, and international data protection authorities. Brittany also builds global privacy programs designed to comply with domestic and foreign legal requirements. She routinely conducts privacy impact assessments and advises companies on managing risk in connection with extensive and innovative data collection and use, including with AI and ML. Brittany also regularly negotiates privacy and data security provisions of complex commercial and technology-related contracts and helps companies design robust vendor management programs.

BAGATELL, Dan L
Perkins Coie LLP, Phoenix
DBagatell@perkinscoie.com

Featured in Intellectual Property (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Appeals, Issues & Strategy Litigation Antitrust & Unfair Competition Litigation Patent Litigation Trade Secrets Intellectual Property Law Patent Appeals Trademark, Copyright, Internet & Advertising

Career: Dan Bagatell has been practicing appellate law for over three decades. Since 2005, his practice has focused on patent appeals and other disputes involving complex technology or complicated statutory schemes. Dan chairs Perkins Coie's Federal Circuit patent appeals practice, and he has handled well over 100 appeals in that court. In addition, Dan regularly counsels clients and trial lawyers on crucial legal issues in high-stakes matters. Clients often enlist him for strategic advice, amicus briefs, and other special projects. Dan is a Fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers.

BAHAR, Michael
Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP, Washington, DC
1-202-383-0882
michaelbahar@eversheds-sutherland.us

Featured in Privacy & Data Security (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Partner Michael Bahar is a litigation attorney in Eversheds Sutherlands Washington DC office; and the co-lead of the firm's global Cybersecurity and Data Privacy practice as well as co-lead of the firm's congressional investigations practice. Leading a team of over 160 cybersecurity and data privacy lawyers across 35 countries, Michael provides highly-responsive, pragmatic and comprehensive cybersecurity and privacy advice to some of the world's largest companies. He has particular experience in helping businesses across industries efficiently navigate the rapidly evolving threat, regulatory and litigation environments. His business-focused legal advice is designed to mitigate risk and maximize opportunities, especially for those companies looking to enter new markets, develop or adopt revolutionary technologies and products, monetize data and transfer data across borders. Drawing from his experiences at the White House, with the US Intelligence Committee, in the military, and as a litigator, Michael offers a wealth of knowledge about data privacy, cybersecurity, surveillance laws, artificial intelligence, next generation technologies and crisis management. In particular, he can help: •develop and operationalize privacy incident management capabilities, global privacy programs; and globalized data processing agreements •respond to breaches, conduct privileged investigations, and make multijurisdictional regulatory and individual breach notifications •respond to regulatory inquiries and defend against regulatory enforcement action •defend data breach and cryptocurrency class actions •respond to congressional inquiries and investigations •develop, adopt and roll out revolutionary technologies like biometrics, artificial intelligence and blockchain •conduct cyber, privacy and AI due diligence for mergers and acquisitions •resolve workplace privacy challenges (including remote work issues) Michael is a frequently published author, and he is often invited to deliver keynote addresses on cyber, privacy, crisis management, high-stakes negotiations, and leadership. He is also a Captain and Commanding Officer in the US Navy JAG Corps Reserves, and he currently serves as the Commanding Officer of the Navy Reserve Unit for the Defense Institute of International Legal Studies (DILS). With DILS, he regularly advises foreign militaries on cyber law. In 2019, he negotiated the release of two hostages in Afghanistan in 2019, and he served as the lead lawyer for the US team negotiating the peace talks with the Taliban between August 2019 and March 2020. While on active duty before coming to Eversheds Sutherland, he litigated felony courts-martial, dealt with cutting-edge legal issues involving the laws of war, led the capture and investigation of the US Navy's first set of apprehended pirates in generations, led a team of lawyers deployed to Afghanistan in support of a Special Operations Task Force and completed two Pentagon tours. He has received two Defense Meritorious Service Medals, one Navy Meritorious Service Medal, six Navy Commendation Medals and one Navy Achievement Medal, in addition to earning his Navy Parachutist Wings. Prior to Eversheds Sutherland, Michael also served as Deputy Legal Advisor to the National Security Council at the White House, as Minority Staff

Director and General Counsel for the US House Intelligence Committee, and as a former Active Duty Navy JAG. While with the House Intelligence Committee, he was lead drafter and negotiator for the Cybersecurity Act of 2015, the USA Freedom Act (which reformed certain key surveillance authorities) and four annual Intelligence Authorization Acts. He also led the Committee's investigation into the Russian hacking of the 2016 election until May 2017.

BAKER, Charles H
Sidley Austin LLP, New York
+1 212 839 6750
cbaker@sidley.com

Featured in Sports Law (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: CHARLES BAKER

co-chairs Sidley's Entertainment, Sports and Media industry group. Chuck represents investors in professional sports businesses and teams and advises on sports and entertainment transactions. With decades of experience in the sports industry, Chuck has represented franchise owners across multiple leagues, including the National Football League (NFL), Major League Baseball (MLB), Major League Soccer (MLS), the National Basketball Association (NBA), the National Hockey League (NHL), the National Women's Soccer League (NWSL), Liga MX, and multiple European football leagues. He recently advised on the record-breaking US$6.05B purchase of the Washington Commanders, the acquisition of the Charlotte Hornets, and the acquisition of the NWSL's Chicago Red Stars. Chuck also represented the owners of Angel City FC and KC Current soccer franchises in their expansion into the NWSL and handles all of their commercial deals. Recently, he represented the owners of the Premier Hockey Federation, the top international women's hockey league in their sale to launch the PWHL, as well as the Professional Fighters League (PFL) in their investment by SURJ Sports Investment of Saudi Arabia and the acquisition of Bellator MMA from Paramount Global.

BAKER, Matthew
Baker Botts L.L.P., Houston
Featured in Privacy & Data Security (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Matthew's cross-disciplinary practice focuses on data privacy, cybersecurity, crisis management, and incident response for a broad range of industries. He is well-versed in multi-jurisdictional privacy compliance; cyber risk identification, mitigation, and response strategies; complex information governance and data management issues; and cross-border electronic discovery. His diverse experience at the intersection of litigation, informational and operational technology, and data management enables him to provide clients with comprehensive business-oriented counsel proactively and in real time. Matthew routinely counsels clients on considerations arising under a wide range of domestic and international privacy and security laws, standards, and best practices. Such frameworks and standards include the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (CCPA), the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act (BIPA), the EU's General Protection Data Regulation (GDPR), Canada's Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), and Brazil's General Data Protection Act (LGPD), as well as regulatory guidance and international standards relating to privacy and security, such as NIST or ISO standards. In addition, Matthew has managed dozens of cyber and privacy incidents for multi-national companies through all aspects of investigation, remediation, notification, regulatory engagement, and litigation. With his keen awareness of the enforcement landscape, Matthew assists clients with incident and crisis response preparedness. As part of this, Matthew works hand-in-hand with clients to develop tabletop exercises, simulations and drills for individuals in a variety of roles to help identify and address gaps in procedures and protocols for emergent situations. Matthew is a certified privacy and information management specialist, including as a: Certified Privacy Program Manager (CIPM); Certified Information Privacy Professional – U.S. (CIPP/US); and Certified Information Privacy Professional – Europe (CIPP/E).

Career: Prior to joining the firm, Matthew represented clients in complex criminal and commercial litigation matters throughout all phases of regulatory investigations, trial and appellate proceedings, with a focus on environmental and energy-related litigation. During law school, Matthew served as a law clerk for the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of California.

Professional Memberships: State Bar of California; State Bar of Texas; New York State Bar; Certified eDiscovery Specialist (CEDS); Information Governance Professional (IGP); Certified Privacy Program Manager (CIPM); Fellow in Privacy (FIP); Certified Information Privacy Professional – U.S. (CIPP/US); Certified Information Privacy Professional – Europe (CIPP/E)

Personal: J.D., Southern Methodist University Dedman School of Law 2008 B.A., Political Science, University of Saint Thomas 2005

BAKER III, William R
Latham & Watkins LLP, Washington, DC
202.637.1007

William.baker@lwlaw.com
Featured in Securities (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: William R. Baker III handles a broad range of business regulatory and corporate governance matters, including representing corporations, auditing and other professional firms, investment banks, and other financial institutions in US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and other regulatory enforcement proceedings. In addition, Mr. Baker conducts internal investigations on behalf of management and boards of directors. He regularly counsels clients on SEC reporting, disclosure, compliance, and corporate governance requirements. He is the former Local Co-Chair of the Litigation & Trial Department in the firm's Washington, D.C. office. Prior to joining Latham, Mr. Baker was Associate Director of the Division of Enforcement at the SEC, where he worked for 15 years. In that capacity, he was responsible for supervising all types of SEC enforcement activities, including investigations involving issuer accounting fraud and other disclosure violations, insider trading, market manipulation, and broker-dealer misconduct. During his tenure as Associate Director, Mr. Baker led numerous high-profile investigations that resulted in several landmark enforcement actions, including the global settlement in 2000 involving the Commission, Department of Treasury, Department of Justice, Internal Revenue Service, National Association of Securities Dealers, and 21 securities firms that resulted in those firms paying a total of US$195 million to resolve claims that the firms charged excessive markups on government securities, and the Commission's action against WorldCom Inc., involving one of the largest financial frauds in history. While at the Commission, he was a recipient of the SEC's Stanley Sporkin Award, awarded by the Chairman of the SEC in recognition of outstanding contributions to the Enforcement program, and of the Commission's Law and Policy Award. He is Co-Chair of the Sub-Committee on SEC Enforcement and Civil Litigation of the American Bar Association Business Law Section and serves on the Advisory Council of the SEC Historical Society. From 2001–2004, Mr. Baker was an adjunct professor at George Washington University Law School, where he taught Securities Regulation. He is a frequent speaker and panelist on securities law issues at programs organized by a wide variety of groups, including the American Bar Association, the District of Columbia Bar Association, the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, the Securities Industry Association, The Bond Market Association, the Justice Department's National Advocacy Center, the Practising Law Institute, Georgetown University Law Center, and Stanford Law School. After graduating from law school, Mr. Baker clerked for Judge Douglas W. Hillman, United States District Judge for the Western District of Michigan.

BALLACK, Karen N
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, Silicon Valley
+1 650 802 3120
karen.ballack@weil.com
Featured in Technology (USA – Nationwide), Technology (California)
See under California for profile.

BANDY, Anita
Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates, Washington, DC
(202) 371-7570
anita.bandy@skadden.com
Featured in Securities (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Ms. Bandy advises corporations, financial services companies, boards and their board committees, as well as directors, officers and other executives, on matters involving the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and other U.S. and international law enforcement agencies. Ms. Bandy represents clients in connection with SEC investigations focused on financial reporting, corporate governance, internal controls and the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, as well as conduct involving regulated entities, including broker-dealers, investment advisers and private equity firms. She is a leader in the areas of financial reporting, accounting and issuer disclosure and has extensive experience conducting internal investigations and advising on compliance, risk management and due diligence matters before and after securities-related issues arise. Prior to joining Skadden, Ms. Bandy served for 17 years at the SEC's Enforcement Division, where she supervised, investigated and brought actions that covered the entire breadth of the SEC's enforcement authority.

Career: U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (2004–22); J.D., American University, 1999; B.A. University of Michigan, 1996

BARAN, Jan W
Holtzman Vogel Baran Torchinsky & Josefak PLLC, Washington, DC
202-719-7330
jbaran@HoltzmanVogel.com

Featured in Political Law (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Jan Baran is a Partner at Holtzman Vogel and has decades of experience as one of the nation's preeminent election law attorneys. He advises clients on all aspects of election and political law including federal, state, and local campaign finance laws, government ethics requirements, and lobbying laws. Jan is also an experienced litigator who has argued numerous cases before the Supreme Court of the United States and U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeals. Chambers and Partners has described Jan as “the dean of campaign finance.” Clerkship/Government Experience: Special Counsel, Virginia Office of the Attorney General (2005) U.S. Ambassador, World Administrative Radio Conference (1990–1992) General Counsel, Republican National Committee (1989–1992) General Counsel, George H.W. Bush for President (1986–1989)

BARANCIK, Tia S
Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, New York
+1-212-558-4415
baranickt@sullcrom.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Power & Utilities; Energy & Natural Resources; Infrastructure; Energy Transition; Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG); Mergers & Acquisitions

Career: Member of S&C's General Practice Group and co-head of the Firm's Power and Utility Group. Extensive experience in M&A, joint ventures, investment and credit transactions for regulated public utilities and other energy companies. Counsels public companies, infrastructure funds, private equity firms, investment banks, other investors and financial institutions on strategic corporate and credit transactions and applicable federal and state energy regulatory requirements. Advises on energy legislation, regulatory reform efforts and the impact of evolving laws and regulations on the energy transition. Most recently, represented companies and investors in acquisitions to establish new joint ventures to own and develop renewable energy projects and related investments as part of the energy transition as well as ongoing wholesale power market transactions.

Professional Memberships: ABA; ABCNY (Former Member, Energy Committee)

Personal: Vanderbilt University Law School (JD, 1986); Princeton University (BA, 1983)

BARIS, Jay G

Sidley Austin LLP, New York
+1 212 839 8600
jbaris@sidley.com

Featured in Registered Funds (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: JAY BARIS is a partner in the Investment Funds group and has practiced in the asset management area for more than 35 years. Jay is widely recognized for his breadth of experience representing registered funds, investment advisers, financial institutions, broker-dealers, and independent directors on the full spectrum of financial services regulation, transactions, and governance matters. Jay's work with registered funds includes mutual funds, closed-end funds, exchange-traded funds, and business development companies. He has extensive experience advising on the regulatory aspects of fund and investment advisory operations, and has represented numerous clients on mergers and acquisitions, reorganizations, exemptive applications, and compliance issues. He also advises operating companies on "status" issues that arise under the Investment Company Act of 1940. More recently, he has been advising FinTech clients on how the federal securities laws apply to digital assets and cryptocurrencies. An active speaker and writer on issues concerning investment management and the regulation of financial institutions, Jay has been published in a variety of trade and general interest publications, including Insights: The Corporate & Securities Law Advisor, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, Wolters Kluwer, The Review of Securities & Commodities Regulation, Fund Action, The Review of Banking & Financial Services, Fund Directions, and Fund Board Views. Jay is an adjunct professor of law at Brooklyn Law School, and chairs the Task Force on Blockchains, Cryptocurrencies and Investment Management of the Federal Securities Regulation Committee of the American Bar Association's Business Law Section. Jay hosts Mutual Fund Minute, a bi-weekly Sidley podcast available on Spotify, Apple, Google and other major podcast platforms.

BARNES, Courtney

Feldman Legal Advisors, PLLC, New York
850.570.9100
cbarnes@feldmanlegaladvisors.com

Featured in Psychedelics Law (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Courtney Barnes specializes in advising clients on regulatory compliance, risk management, contract creation, nonprofit formation, and strategic operational matters relating to provision of services and the production and distribution of stringently regulated compounds in emerging industries. Her legal expertise includes providing bespoke DEA, FDA, and state regulatory compliance guidance, including licensing, distribution, and advertising strategy to consumer-packaged goods (CPG) manufacturers, retailers, and ancillary service providers. Ms. Barnes was a lead drafter of Denver's Psilocybin Decriminalization Initiative (the nation's first successful voter-initiated psychedelic policy reform ordinance) and has extensive experience drafting state and local policy relating to the regulation of cannabis and psychedelics. Licensed to practice law in California, Colorado, and Texas, she is a sought-after public speaker, spiritual seeker, and trailblazer in drug policy reform.

Personal: University of Denver Sturm College of Law, J.D. (2017). University of South Florida, B.A., summa cum laude (2010).

BARNES, Shauna

Barnes Beverage Group, Annapolis
SBarnes@DrinksLaw.com

Featured in Food & Beverages (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Shauna Barnes is the founder of Barnes Beverage Group, a law firm specializing in providing external General Counsel and regulatory counsel to beverage companies. The firm's model is unique, in that it favors a flat fee or subscription model that better aligns clients' incentive and goals with that of their attorneys. Shauna has over a decade of experience advising beverage companies, much of which was spent as General Counsel for Dogfish Head. She has extensive experience providing counsel to executive and management teams on legal, compliance and regulatory risks surrounding day-to-day operations, strategic planning, international expansion, product rollouts, and major promotions and marketing campaigns. Shauna marries legal and strategic advice to help her clients – big and small – navigate the life cycle of distribution relationships. She's negotiated hundreds of distribution agreements, successfully rehabilitated dozens of distributor relationships, and advised clients through exiting the relationship, whether the reason was good cause or an M&A event. Executive teams benefit from Shauna's experience providing creative solutions to tricky regulatory schemes, including shepherding legislative changes through the statehouse. She has considerable expertise drafting and negotiating commercial agreements, including distribution, supply, project, purchase, sponsorship, and events agreements. She has worked with lobbyists and trade associations since 2012 and has drafted several pieces of legislation that are now law. Shauna started with McDermott Will & Emery in Washington, D.C., providing antitrust and alcohol beverage counsel. At Dogfish, Shauna started the legal department and helped launch a distillery, launched dozens of states, and expanded the brewery and distillery's capacity. She negotiated hundreds of distribution agreements and navigated dozens of strategic distribution partnership changes without litigation or arbitration.

Shauna graduated cum laude from Wake Forest University School of Law and was a graduate with distinction from the Pennsylvania State University. She serves on the Law Board of Visitors for the Wake Forest University School of Law and is a member of several alcohol beverage industry associations, including Women of the Vine & Spirits, the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators, the National Alcohol Beverage Control Association, and the Brewer's Association. She regularly volunteers her time to the Delaware Brewer's Guild.

Professional Memberships: Maryland State Bar North Carolina State Bar Washington, D.C. Bar U.S. Supreme Court Bar Law Board of Visitors, Wake Forest University School of Law Planning Committee, National Conference of State Liquor Administrators Women of the Vine & Spirits Brewer's Association Member, various state brewers guilds

BARNETT, Benjamin

Seeger Weiss LLP, Philadelphia

Featured in eDiscovery (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Ben Barnett is a leading eDiscovery attorney who has played a key strategic role in significant civil and criminal matters for more than 17 years. Many of the eDiscovery strategies that Mr. Barnett developed in the crucible of national multi-district litigations in the U.S. now serve as "best practices" for companies facing serial litigation and investigations. Mr. Barnett helped engineer and implement Dechert's client-focused eDiscovery Advisory Team (eDAT) and Preferred Vendor Program (PVP) which aim to transform eDiscovery from an area of legal and financial risks to a source of strategic strength supporting clients' litigation and business objectives. In the past decade, Mr. Barnett's work has increasingly been for clients facing simultaneous multi-jurisdictional criminal investigations and civil litigation such as the Takata Airbag litigation which arose from the largest automotive recall in U.S. history. Recently, Mr. Barnett was the chief architect of the disclosure strategy for the global Airbus investigation which resulted in a same-day resolution with authorities in France, the UK, and the U.S. in 2020. Working within a client-created Virtual Law Firm, Mr. Barnett designed, implemented, and managed a strategy to accelerate the identification and production of key evidence to the authorities in three jurisdictions while navigating a maze of different data security laws, privacy restrictions, languages, and legal privilege regimes. This unified strategic approach significantly reduced the time and cost of disclosure and generated millions in cooperation credit for Airbus. Airbus, the VLF, and the Dechert team received multiple awards for their ground-breaking work in the investigation and in 2020 Mr. Barnett was the recipient of a North American Innovation Lawyer Award from the Financial Times for his work on the Airbus investigation.

BARR, Matt

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, New York
(212) 310-8010
matt.barr@weil.com

Featured in Bankruptcy/Restructuring (USA – Nationwide), Bankruptcy/Restructuring (New York)

See under New York for profile.

BARRETT, Monica

Bond, Schoeneck & King, PLLC, New York
mbarrett@bsk.com

Featured in Education (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: – Higher Education – Labor and Employment

Career: Monica joined the firm as a member in 2016 after having served as Interim General Counsel at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey. She provides legal advice and counsel to colleges and universities, public school districts and independent schools in all aspects of education law, including student affairs, faculty tenure and promotion, governance issues, athletics and academic affairs. Monica advises on staff and student employment, grievances, student conduct and discipline, Title IX policies and investigations, threat assessment and behavior intervention, FERPA, public-records, accreditation, regulatory and non-profit compliance, bylaws, and policy handbooks. She counsels clients on a variety of employment law issues, such as executive contracts and compensation, severance agreements, disability accommodations, FMLA and other leave issues, and misconduct investigations. Monica partners with other attorneys at the firm to conduct investigations at all levels of client institutions. She also defends institutions before state and federal agencies and courts. Monica's responsibilities at Rutgers encompassed the full range of legal and compliance issues facing a state-wide research university with major professional schools and 29 labor unions, 20,000 employees, and a student body of approximately 65,000. As a key member on the President's Cabinet she was responsible for advising the President and members of the Boards on all legal issues, and supervising a staff of 18 lawyers. Monica is a frequent presenter at National Association of College and University Attorneys (NACUA) national conferences and she has been widely published on a variety of higher education topics. Previously, she was employed as Executive Deputy General Counsel at the State University of New York; Associate General Counsel at Cornell University; and Assistant General Counsel at Barnard College.

Professional Memberships: – Editorial Board, Journal of College and University Law, 2016-2017 – Co-Chair, Working Group, Diversity and Civil Rights, NACUA Annual Conference, 2015 – Chair, Program Committee for NACUA Conference on Higher Education Employment Issues, 2014 – Board Member, NACUA, 2011-2014 – Chair, Committee on Legal Education, NACUA, 2012-2013; Vice Chair, Committee on Legal Education, NACUA, 2005-2006;

2009-2010; 2010-2011 –Chair, Program Committee for NACUA Conference “Responding to Sexual Violence on Campus: OCR Dear Colleague Letter Compliance,” 2011 –Chair, Program Committee for NACUA Conference “Setting Up International Programs,” 2011 –Chair, Advisory Board Council on Diversity and Inclusivity, NACUA, 2009-2010; 2010-2011 –Chair, Virtual Seminars Subcommittee, Committee on Legal Education, NACUA, 2009-2010

Publications: Co-Author, “Character and Other Anecdotal Evidence in the Time of “Me Too,” Millennials, and Generation Z,” PLI Current: The Journal of PLI Press, Vol. 4, No. 3 (2020)

BARRI, James

Goodwin, Boston
212.459.7387

jbbarri@goodwinlaw.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: James Barri is a partner, Co-Chair of the Capital Markets practice and Co-Chair of the Debt Capital Markets practice. James works on a variety of corporate and securities matters, including public and private offerings of debt and equity securities, tender and exchange offers, securities law compliance for public and private companies and other general corporate matters.

Personal: JD, Georgetown University Law Center 2001 (cum laude); BA, Cornell University 1998

BARRON, Mark S

BakerHostetler LLP, Denver
303.764.4023

mbarron@bakerlaw.com

Featured in Litigation (USA – Nationwide), Energy & Natural Resources (Colorado)

See under Colorado for profile.

BARROWES, Brooksany

Kirkland & Ellis LLP, Washington, DC
(202) 389-5025

brooksany.barrowes@kirkland.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Brooksany represents clients in transactional matters and litigation that relate to the energy industry and energy transition, with a focus on assets regulated by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, state public utility commissions including the Public Utility Commission of Texas, the Department of Energy, and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. Brooksany also has represented clients before federal and state courts, including in bankruptcy courts, assisted with internal investigations and developed energy trading and corporate compliance programs. Brooksany has advised clients with investments in a variety of infrastructure interests, including renewable electric generation and energy storage, renewable natural gas and bio-based fuels, liquefied natural gas (LNG), energy trading and services, environmental attributes trading and commoditization, electric transmission, traditional power, natural gas and oil pipeline companies, and public utilities. Brooksany's experience includes counseling clients with respect to project development and financing, sales and acquisitions, commercial agreements and hedging related to electric generation and energy markets, regulatory compliance and enforcement matters, energy disputes, and bankruptcy and restructuring litigation.

Personal: University of Chicago Law School, J.D., 1999; Brigham Young University, B.A., Political Science, 1996

BARRY, William

Miller & Chevalier Chartered, Washington, DC
202-626-5974

wbarry@milchev.com

Featured in FCPA (USA – Nationwide), Litigation (District of Columbia)

See under District of Columbia for profile.

BARSANTI, Vanessa

Kirkland & Ellis, Chicago
312-862-2205

vanessa.barsanti@kirkland.com

Featured in eDiscovery (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Vanessa Barsanti has extensive experience in complex commercial litigation, with a focus in multidistrict litigations, antitrust and restructuring, and is a leader of Kirkland's eDiscovery Team. As a member of multiple winning trial teams, Vanessa's experience extends to all stages of litigation, from drafting a complaint to post-trial briefing. She also has extensive experience in managing the discovery process for matters of all sizes, including managing collections, reviews and productions, organizing multi-track offensive and defensive written discovery, drafting successful discovery motions and taking and defending depositions. Vanessa has won a number of major discovery victories for her clients, including preventing depositions of in-house counsel, modifying and quashing burdensome third-party subpoenas, protecting privileged documents and more. Vanessa works with clients to develop practical, efficient and defensible discovery strategies, including developing and implementing custom technical workflows to support eDiscovery needs. She is well-versed in sophisticated document and data analysis, making her uniquely situated to assist her clients in addressing large-scale discovery issues.

Professional Memberships: The Sedona Conference, Working Group 1.

Personal: University of Chicago Law School J.D. with Honors, 2010; Texas Christian University B.A., Religion & Political Science, magna cum laude, 2007.

BARTFELD, Daniel D

Milbank LLP, New York
1 (212) 530-5185

dbartfeld@milbank.com

Featured in Projects (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Dan Bartfeld is a partner in the New York office of Milbank LLP and is the Chair of the firm's Global Project, Energy and Infrastructure Finance Group (which has over 140 dedicated energy/infrastructure attorneys) and is a member of the firm's Global Executive Committee.

Mr. Bartfeld's practice focuses primarily on the representation of investment firms/portfolio companies, financial institutions, multinational companies and developers in a wide range of energy transition, power (renewable/conventional), digital infrastructure, transportation infrastructure/logistics, oil/gas/midstream/shipping and energy-related matters in the US, Latin America and globally. Mr. Bartfeld has led the Milbank team in many of the largest and most high-profile energy/infrastructure matters in these regions. He has particular expertise in transactions throughout the capital structure, as well as representation of US, Asian and European-based lenders and investors (financial sponsors and strategics) focusing on project development, financing and M&A activities (platforms and specified assets). Mr. Bartfeld is a featured speaker at numerous industry conferences and is recognized by a number of publications as one of the world's leading project finance lawyers.

BARTH, Emil

Baker Botts L.L.P., Houston
+1.202.639.1103

emil.barth@bakerbotts.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Energy Regulatory, Renewable Energy, Energy Storage, Energy Litigation, Infrastructure, Oil & Gas, Pipeline Projects, Electric Power.

Career: Emil Barth partners with companies to develop creative strategies for addressing complex regulatory issues across the energy sector, with a focus on matters before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the Department of Energy, and other federal and state agencies. He has counseled clients on innovative renewable energy transactions, electric and natural gas rate cases and tariff issues, NAESB and ISDA contracts, project permitting, and compliance issues. Emil has represented clients in federal and state court litigation related to energy matters. Emil also represents clients before the Federal Communications Commission with respect to wireless licensing and submarine cable landing licensing.

Professional Memberships: District of Columbia Bar, Maryland Bar, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit

Publications: 16 July 2020 FERC Issues Two Orders with Significant Implications for Renewable Facilities –Baker Botts Client Update 10 July 2020 FERC's Landmark Storage Order Allowing Market Participation by Behind-the-Meter Resources Upheld by D.C. Circuit –Baker Botts Client Update

Personal: J.D., University of Virginia School of Law 2006 B.A., Philosophy, Richard Stockton College of New Jersey 2000

BARTH, Giselle

Sidley Austin LLP, New York
+1 212 839 6749

gbarth@sidley.com

Featured in Capital Markets (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: GISELLE BARTH is a partner in the Global Finance group in Sidley's New York office. Giselle's practice focuses on structured finance, including securitizations and asset-based financing. Giselle represents issuers, sponsors and underwriters in single family rental and “ibuyer” securitizations, as well as direct issuance structures. Her practice also includes traditional asset classes such as ABS (auto loan and lease and equipment) and mortgage-backed securitizations (RMBS and CMBS) and CRE CLOs. Giselle has experience with a variety of asset-based lending arrangements and repurchase agreements, in multiple asset classes, including single-family rental, “ibuyer” and bonds. She advises credit opportunity funds and other investors in distressed and other structured finance transactions, particularly with respect to rights and remedies under the related transaction documents. She also advises clients on new and proposed legislative and regulatory changes.

BARTIE, Jared F

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, New York
jbartie@willkie.com

Featured in Sports Law (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Jared Bartie is chair of the firm's Sports Transactions Practice and a partner in the Corporate & Financial Services Department. A sports industry veteran, Jared represents domestic and international clients on an array of complex matters, including professional sports team investments, stadium and arena transactions, naming rights and sponsorship transactions and media rights agreements. Jared maintains an esports practice that includes representation of some of the world's most prominent game publishers, recognized investors, and world class teams. He counsels on a broad range of matters, including league formation, league entry negotiations, team and league investments and sponsorship transactions.

Personal: J.D., Northwestern University; B.A., American University. See: <https://www.willkie.com/professionals/b/bartie-jared>

BARTKOWSKI, Paul

Bartkowski PLLC, McLean
+1.571.533.3581

pbartkowski@bartkowskipllc.com

Practice Areas: Section 337 Litigation Intellectual Property Litigation and Counseling ITC Remedial Order Enforcement Appellate Litigation

Career: Paul's practice focuses on Section 337 litigation before the U.S. International Trade Commission, where he represents both patentees and importers. A registered patent attorney, Paul combines technical knowledge with over 15 years of experience in Section 337 litigation to give clients the legal advice they need to achieve their goals. Paul has an intimate understanding of the proceedings available at the ITC. He has been involved in many of the Commission's high-profile cases. Paul also specializes in advising clients regarding the effect of ITC remedial orders, including exclusion orders and cease-and-desist orders. Paul has participated in multiple inter partes proceedings before the U.S. Customs and Border Protection, which are conducted to determine whether imported goods are subject to Commission exclusion orders. Paul has also participated in ITC enforcement proceedings, advisory opinion requests, and modification proceedings.

Professional Memberships: Member, District of Columbia Bar Member, Maryland Bar (inactive) Member, Virginia Bar U.S. Supreme Court U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit District of Columbia District Court U.S. Court of International Trade Registered Patent Attorney with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office

BASTA, Paul M

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP, New York 212-373-3023

pbasta@paulweiss.com

Featured in Bankruptcy/Restructuring (USA - Nationwide), Bankruptcy/Restructuring (New York)

See under New York for profile.

BATEMAN, Marguerite

Vedder Price, Washington, DC
+1 (202) 312 3033

mbateman@vedderprice.com

Featured in Registered Funds (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Ms. Bateman focuses her practice on advising investment companies and investment advisers on issues arising under the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, and in counseling independent directors of investment companies on their duties and responsibilities under the law. She counsels investment company boards of directors and trustees, and registered and unregistered investment advisory organizations in navigating the stringent federal securities laws that asset management clients deal with daily, as well as on challenging developments such as regulatory examinations, inquiries and litigation. Ms. Bateman regularly counsels independent directors serving funds of all sizes and structures, including open-and closed-end funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs). She serves as independent legal counsel to independent trustees of both large and small investment company fund complexes and advises boards on obligations in connection with fund mergers, liquidations and other significant transactions. Ms. Bateman has experience developing compliance programs and annual compliance review protocols for investment advisory clients. She also has been involved in regulatory initiatives focused on fund governance and development of programs to educate fund directors regarding their oversight responsibilities.

Professional Memberships: Member, American Bar Association Member,

District of Columbia Bar Association Member, Federal Bar Association

BATES, G. Hunter

Akin, Washington, DC
+1 202.887.4147

hbates@akingump.com

Featured in Government (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Hunter Bates is co-leader of Akin's lobbying & public policy practice and on the firm's Management Committee, bringing more than 20 years of law, policy and advocacy experience to his client work. Hunter combines his extensive knowledge of policy and process with his close connections to key players to provide strategic advice and advocacy on behalf of a wide range of clients, including Fortune 100 companies, trade associations, coalitions and nonprofit organizations. Hunter brings to his client engagements a deep understanding of the intricacies of the legislative process and extensive experience working with members of the Senate and House on wide-ranging issues such as tax, trade, appropriations, healthcare, labor and sports law. Repeatedly named among the country's "Top Lobbyists" by The Hill, Hunter's ability to mobilize support and drive meaningful policy outcomes is a testament to his unwavering commitment to achieving tangible results for his clients.

Career: Hunter served as legal counsel and then chief of staff for current U.S. Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-KY). He also clerked on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit for the Honorable Eugene E. Siler, Jr. Personal: J.D., Harvard Law School B.A., Eastern Kentucky University, magna cum laude

BATES, Rachel

Latham & Watkins LLP, Chicago
1.312.876.6541

Rachel.Bates@lw.com

Featured in Leisure & Hospitality (USA - Nationwide), Real Estate (Illinois)

See under Illinois for profile.

BAUGH, Angelle

Covington & Burling LLP, Washington, DC

abaugh@cov.com

Featured in Government (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Angelle Smith Baugh is of counsel in the firm's Election and Political Law and White Collar Litigation practice groups. She has significant experience in broad-based crisis management, advising clients on legal and political matters presenting complex risks. Angelle's practice focuses on defending companies and individuals in high-profile congressional investigations, as well as other criminal, civil, and internal investigations. She represents clients before House and Senate Committees, as well as in criminal and civil government investigations before the Public Integrity Section of the Department of Justice, Federal Election Commission, and the Office of Congressional Ethics.

BAUM, David

Alston & Bird LLP, Washington, DC
david.baum@alston.com

Featured in Registered Funds (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: David focuses his practice on regulatory, transactional, and operational matters involving registered investment companies and their investment advisers. In particular, David focuses on mutual funds, ETFs, interval funds, and closed-end funds, serving as fund counsel, counsel to the independent trustees of such funds, or adviser counsel. David helps clients navigate the requirements of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and Investment Advisers Act of 1940, assisting them with developing, structuring, and organizing new funds, as well as with ongoing compliance and regulatory matters, mergers, liquidations, and restructuring of funds. David also regularly advises investment advisers on all aspects of their business and has extensive experience with regulatory matters raised in merger and acquisition transactions involving asset management firms.

BAUMGARDNER, John E

Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, New York
+1 212 558 3866

baumgardnerj@sullcrom.com

Featured in Registered Funds (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Broker-Dealer Capital Markets Corporate Governance Financial Services Investment Management Private Equity

Career: John Baumgardner has been and remains engaged in a wide variety of corporate and securities matters, primarily in the investment management area. He is also a member of the Firm's Financial Services, Investment Management, Broker-Dealer and Commodities, Futures and Derivatives Groups. Mr. Baumgardner has represented issuers, independent trustees, advisers and underwriters of dozens of U.S. registered, publicly offered open-and closed-end investment companies, and currently concentrates on independent trustee engagements. He has represented the Investment Company Institute, the principal trade association of the mutual funds industry, on some of its most important projects. Mr. Baumgardner has been a speaker or panelist at conferences sponsored by the Practising Law Institute, Investment Company Institute and the New York City Bar Association. He was former chair of the Committee on Investment Management Regulation of the Association and is the Chair of the Association's Committee on the Investment of Funds. Mr. Baumgardner was recently named "Independent Counsel of the Year" at the 2019 Mutual Fund Industry and ETF Awards. He has been named in The Best Lawyers in America for more than 20 years and is regularly recognized as a leading lawyer by numerous publications.

Professional Memberships: American Bar Association New York State Bar Association Chair, New York City Bar Association's Investment Committee Member, Boards of Advisors, Yale School of Music and National Opera Center Director, Opera America Chairman, The Lakeville Journal Company Personal: Columbia (JD, 1975); Princeton (AB, summa cum laude, 1973).

BAXTER, Samuel

McKool Smith, Dallas
903-923-9001

sbaxter@mckoolsmith.com

Featured in Intellectual Property (USA - Nationwide), Intellectual Property (Texas), Litigation (Texas), Litigation (Texas: Dallas, Fort Worth & Surrounds)

See under Texas for profile.

BAY, Norman C.

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, New York
202-303-1155

nbay@wilkie.com

Featured in Energy & Natural Resources (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Norman C. Bay is a partner in the Corporate and Financial Services Department, Chair of the Energy and Commodities Group, and Head of the Energy Regulatory and Enforcement Group in Washington. Norman advises clients on a range of energy market issues, including enforcement and compliance, policy and ratemaking, mergers and acquisitions, and infrastructure development. Norman was Director of the Office of Enforcement at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) from 2009 to 2014, before becoming a Commissioner and Chairman of the Commission. He has extensive litigation experience, as earlier in his career he spent more than a decade at the U.S. Department of Justice, where he was an Assistant U.S. Attorney and then the U.S. Attorney for the District of New Mexico. In 2021, Norman was appointed to serve as a member of the Secretary of Energy Advisory Board at the U.S. Department of Energy.

Personal: Harvard Law School, J.D., 1986 Dartmouth College, A.B., 1982 See: <https://www.wilkie.com/professionals/b/bay%20norman>

BAYMAN, Andrew T

King & Spalding LLP, Atlanta
(404) 572-3583

abayman@kslaw.com

Featured in Products Liability (USA - Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Andy Bayman is a trial lawyer who represents pharmaceutical companies, medical device manufacturers, retailers, automotive manufacturers and other major companies in complex and novel product liability and toxic tort cases. Mr. Bayman has tried over 20 cases in state and federal courts, many of which are first of kind such as the first pharmaceutical products liability lawsuit ever tried under the theory of "Innovator Liability," and the first MDL bellwether trial involving an atypical femur fracture allegedly caused by Merck's osteoporosis medicine, Fosamax®.

BAYSINGER, Kara

Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, San Francisco
415 858 7425
kbaysinger@willkie.com

Featured in Insurance (USA – Nationwide), Insurance (California)

See under California for profile.

BEAL, Scott

Barnes & Thornburg LLP, Indianapolis
Featured in Hedge Funds (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Scott is the co-chair of Barnes & Thornburg's Private Funds and Asset Management practice and was one of the founding partners of the firm's New York office. Scott focuses his practice on the formation and operation of hedge funds and other private investment funds, including private equity funds, venture capital funds, credit funds, cryptocurrency funds and fund of funds. Scott advises clients with respect to traditional hedge fund structures as well as bespoke hybrid vehicles. He frequently advises on seed investments and spinouts of hedge fund managers, as well as acquisitions and dispositions of investment advisory businesses. Scott also represents a number of prominent endowments, foundations and family offices that invest in private funds.

Career: Formerly serving as president, chief operating officer and general counsel of a number of hedge fund managers, Scott brings practical in-house experience that serves to benefit his clients. Scott works with clients on a wide range of issues including regulatory and trading compliance, assisting with regulatory audits and helping develop compliance policies and other internal control procedures. Additionally, Scott advises clients on profit sharing and compensation arrangements.

BEALS, John P

Nixon Peabody LLP, Manchester
603 628 4056
jbeals@nixonpeabody.com

Featured in Investment Funds (USA – Nationwide), Private Equity (Massachusetts)

See under Massachusetts for profile.

BEAMON, Martine

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, New York
(212) 450-4262
martine.beamon@davispolk.com

Featured in Securities (USA – Nationwide), Litigation (New York)

See under New York for profile.

BEAUDOIN, Thomas A

Goodwin, Boston
1 (617) 570 1580
tbeaudoin@goodwinlaw.com

Featured in Private Equity (Massachusetts), Venture Capital (USA – Nationwide)

See under Massachusetts for profile.

BEBER, Howard J.

Proskauer Rose LLP, Boston
+1 (617) 526 96 47
hbeber@proskauer.com

Featured in Private Equity (Massachusetts), Private Equity (USA – Nationwide), Venture Capital (USA – Nationwide)

See under Massachusetts for profile.

BECK, David J

Beck Redden LLP, Houston
713.951.6209
dbeck@beckredden.com

Featured in Litigation (USA – Nationwide), Litigation (Texas), Litigation (Texas: Houston & Surrounds)

See under Texas for profile.

BECKER, Hannah

GrayRobinson, PA, Orlando
Featured in Food & Beverages (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Administrative and Regulatory Food Law Alcohol Beverage Tobacco Restaurant

Career: Hannah Becker has a true passion for the legal and operational aspects of the alcohol beverage industry and collaborates with clients in all three tiers working to launch, grow, and thrive in the U.S. marketplace. A high-energy lawyer with a meticulous eye for detail, her clients include manufacturers, importers, wholesalers, retailers, other licensees, breakthrough brands, and unlicensed third-party providers. She is well-credentialed in this dynamic and continuously evolving sector, with a spirited grasp on product classification, licensure and permitting, business aspects and considerations, including value and market potential, labeling, advertising, trade practice considerations, Tied-House and cross-tier issues, alcohol franchise laws, and the emerging technologies impacting the future of sales and distribution.

Professional Memberships: American Bar Association American Cancer Society, Tampa Bay Associated Board of Ambassadors – Jockey Honoree, 2024 Jockeys & Juleps Gala American Heart Association – Lawyers with Heart Committee, Tampa Bay Heart Walk, 2018-2021 – Circle of Red, 2018-2020 Florida Association for Women Lawyers The Florida Bar – Young Lawyers Division Hillsborough Association for Women Lawyers – Board of Directors – Judicial Relations Committee, Co-Chair – Young Lawyers Division Committee, Co-Chair, 2020-2022 Hillsborough County Bar Association – Young Lawyers Division, Board of Directors – Bar Leadership Institute, Class of 2017-2018 Leadership Council on Legal Diversity – Alumni – Pathfinder Program, Class of 2022 Leadership Florida Connect, Class 13 Tampa Bay Chamber – Emerging Leaders, 2016-2022 Tampa Connection, Class of 2018-2019 Women of the Vine and Spirits – Foundation Committee The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society – Team In Training TCS New York City Marathon, Team Member, 2023 – Man and Woman of the Year, New York City Campaign, Team Member, 2022

Publications: "Women of the Vine & Spirits Foundation Awards 76 Scholarships Totaling $187,155 in 2023," Wine Industry Advisor, October 24, 2023 "The Future is Digital: Mobile Driver's Licenses for Alcohol Age Verification," Wine Business Monthly, August 1, 2023 "Leadership Florida Selects its 2023-2024 Connect Class," Leadership Florida, June 22, 2023 "Legal Update:

Blurring Category Lines," Beverage Alcohol Retailers Conference, June 12, 2023 "Starting a Cottage Food Business," Specialty Retailer, February 28, 2023 "5 Ways to Protect Your Alcohol Liquor License," The Hospitality Law Conference: Washington D.C., October 12, 2022 "Franchising, Drunk Guests and ADA Compliance: How Hoteliers Can Prepare for Liability Issues," CoStar's Hotel News Now, October 13, 2022 "Maintaining the Perfect Brew: On-Premise Retail Legal and Regulatory Updates," Cheers Beverage Summit, Cheers Advisory Board, June 14, 2022 "Don't Get Spirited Away: Off-Premise Retail Legal and Regulatory Updates," Beverage Alcohol Retailers Conference, June 14, 2022 "Legal Considerations for the 2020 Alcohol Industry Innovations that Aren't Going Anywhere," Beverage Alcohol Retailers Conference, June 8, 2021 "The Good, the Bad, and the Takeaways of Working Remotely," Hillsborough County Bar Association, Lawyer Magazine, March-April 2021 "Know the 'Habitual Drunkard'?" Southern Beverage Journal, Florida Edition, January 2021 "Now Available for Curbside Pickup and Delivery: 2020 Alcohol Regulatory Changes Impacting the Hotel and Restaurant Industry," The Virtual Hospitality Law Conference, May 5, 2021

BECKER, Theodore

McDermott Will & Emery LLP, Chicago
(312) 984-6934
tbecker@mwe.com

Featured in ERISA Litigation (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Partner Theodore (Ted) M. Becker is Co-Chair of McDermott's ERISA Litigation Team and a Fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel. He focuses his practice on litigation under ERISA and related federal and state actions, and defense of government investigations and audits relating to employee benefit, health and welfare, and retirement plans brought by the US Department of Labor, the Internal Revenue Service, and the US Department of Justice. He is a leading voice and nationally recognized practitioner in this complex practice area. He has represented public and private companies that sponsor employee benefit, health and welfare, and retirement plans governed by ERISA, and their directors and officers and plan fiduciaries, as well as service providers to ERISA plans and plan sponsors. He has extensive experience in Employee Stock Ownership Plans (ESOPs) and has defended some of the highest profile lawsuits involving ESOPs, helping to define the landscape of the evolving law relating to ESOPs. Ted has a considerable experience in trial and appeals courts, including arguing before the United States Supreme Court and several United States Circuit Courts of Appeals. He also has represented clients in arbitration proceedings. He has represented clients across the full spectrum of litigation, from avoidance, dispute resolution and pre-litigation planning, through dispositive motions, discovery, trial and appeal. View more at: <https://www.mwe.com/people/becker-ted/>

BÉDARD, Julie

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates, New York
(+1) 212 735 3236
jbedard@skadden.com

Featured in International Arbitration (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Julie Bédard is head of Skadden's International Litigation and Arbitration Group for the Americas. She focuses on complex and high stakes international litigation and arbitration, including M&A, shareholder, joint venture, technology, energy, mining, construction, health sciences and reinsurance disputes as well as investor-state proceedings. Advises clients on dispute resolution strategy and served as counsel and arbitrator in international proceedings. Ms. Bédard speaks English, Spanish, Portuguese and French.

Professional Memberships: Julie Bédard serves as counsel and arbitrator in international proceedings under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce, the American Arbitration Association, the International Centre for Dispute Resolution and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes, in addition to UNCITRAL arbitrations. Ms. Bédard is a member of the U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement dispute settlement panel and also sits on the ICC International Court of Arbitration. Personal: JSD, Columbia University School of Law, 2006 (doctorate in conflicts of laws); LL.M., Columbia University School of Law, 2001; LL.B., McGill University Faculty of Law (common law), 1996; BCL, McGill University Faculty of Law (civil law), 1996.

BEDWICK, Joseph

Cozen O'Connor, Philadelphia
jbedwick@cozen.com

Featured in Cannabis Law (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: As chair of Cozen O'Connor's Cannabis Industry Team, Joe has spearheaded the development of a multidisciplinary cannabis practice into a full-service industry team comprised of attorneys and government relations professionals from virtually every practice group within Cozen O'Connor. He applies his corporate knowledge to help clients navigate this rapidly developing regulated industry, utilizing his mergers and acquisitions experience to structure and document acquisitions of cannabis license holders. Joe's clients range from large multi-state operators to smaller, single-state license holders, and he has become a trusted advisor to general counsel throughout the industry for his industry knowledge and business acumen. Joe has a broad understanding of cannabis regulations in a variety of states, and he has assisted his clients in the regulatory approval process at every stage of a client's lifecycle, from license application and approval to collateral and security issues in connection with financings to change of control issues arising from acquisitions or sales.

BEERS, Emily

Morrison Foerster, San Francisco
Featured in REITs (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Emily Beers is of counsel in Morrison Foerster's Capital Markets and Public Company Advisory & Governance practices. Her practice focuses on representing publicly and privately held companies in a variety of corporate and securities law matters. Emily represents both issuers and investment banks in initial public offerings, follow-on offerings, and private placements, including offerings of common and preferred equity, investment-grade debt, convertible debt, and high-yield debt. Emily also regularly advises clients with respect to liability management transactions, including tender offers, as well as M&A transactions. In addition, Emily regularly counsels companies with respect to corporate governance issues, compliance with the U.S. federal securities laws, and the requirements of the New York Stock Exchange and NASDAQ, as well as general corporate matters. Emily is recognized in IFLR1000 for Capital Markets: Debt, Capital Markets: Equity, and M&A (2021). Prior to joining Morrison Foerster, Emily worked as an associate in the capital markets practices of other international law firms in New York and London.

BEHRENS, Jason

Linklaters, New York
212.903.9358
jason.behrens@linklaters.com

Featured in Private Equity (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Jason is a partner in Linklaters' New York office and co-head of the U.S. Investment Funds practice. Jason focuses his practice on advising private fund sponsors and asset managers in connection with all aspects of fund formation, operation, governance and compliance issues. He has vast experience with an array of alternative asset classes, including private equity funds, real estate funds, credit funds, venture capital funds, secondaries funds, energy and infrastructure funds, funds of funds and hedge funds, both domestically and internationally. Jason counsels fund sponsors with respect to portfolio investment acquisitions and dispositions, co-investments, joint ventures, seed arrangements, M&A transactions, spin-outs, fund restructurings and recapitalizations. His practice is global in nature, including representations throughout the United States, Europe, Latin America and Asia. Jason also regularly advises buyers and sellers on their secondary market transactions, including traditional portfolio sales, structured secondaries, stapled secondary offerings and other complex secondary transactions. In addition, he represents institutional investors in connection with their investments in private investment funds and other alternative assets.

BEHRMAN, Andrew M

Baker Botts L.L.P., New York
+1.212.408.2570
andrew.behrman@bakerbotts.com

Featured in International Arbitration (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: International Arbitration

Career: Andrew's practice focuses on international disputes with a particular emphasis on international arbitration. Clients rely on Andrew to assist them on a wide range of matters from day-to-day counseling on contracts to the conduct of major international arbitrations. These matters include claims before both U.S. courts and international tribunals (particularly under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) and American Arbitration Association/International Center for Dispute Resolution (AAA/ICDR)), and have covered a broad spectrum of industries, including energy, technology, and construction. Andrew has also sat as arbitrator and is a member of the AAA Roster of Arbitrators and Mediators.

Professional Memberships: International Institute for Conflict Prevention & Resolution (CPR), Arbitration Committee Member; Co-Head of CPR Taskforce on Transparency

Publications: <https://www.bakerbotts.com/people/b/behrman-andrew-m?tab=thought-leadership>

Personal: LL.M., University of Chicago 1999 Bachelor of Laws, University of Cambridge 1998

BEINUS, Michael

Kirkland & Ellis LLP, New York
212 446 4865
michael.beinus@kirkland.com

Featured in REITs (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Michael Beinus represents clients in a wide range of tax matters, including complex partnership transactions, real estate investment trusts (REITs), debt and equity offerings, restructurings, investment fund formations, and mergers and acquisitions. Michael has represented various prominent public and private REITs, real estate and private equity funds, and sovereign wealth funds. His representations have been profiled in numerous publications, and he has been listed among the "Bankruptcy Tax Specialists in the Nation's Major Law Firms" by Turnarounds & Workouts and in The Legal 500 U.S. Michael was also included in the 2016–2019 editions of the U.S. News and World Report, Best Lawyers® in the field of Tax Law.

Career: Prior to joining Kirkland, Michael was a partner at Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP.

BEISNER, John H

Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP & Affiliates, Washington, DC
202.371.7410
john.beisner@skadden.com

Featured in Products Liability (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Head of Skadden's Mass Torts, Insurance and Consumer Litigation Group. Focuses on the defense of purported class actions, mass torts and other complex civil litigation in both federal and state courts. Regularly handles appellate litigations and has appeared in matters before the U.S. Supreme Court. Has defended major U.S. and international corporations in more than 600 purported class actions filed in federal courts and in the courts of 40 states at both trial and appellate levels. Has appeared in more than 40 multidistrict litigation proceedings, usually as lead defense counsel. Has advised on numerous high-visibility corporate crisis situations. Regularly writes on litigation strategy issues and testifies at legislative hearings in support of litigation reform initiatives.

Career: J.D., University of Michigan, 1978 (with honors); B.A., University of Kansas, 1975 (with honors)

BELKIN, Jeffrey A

Alston & Bird LLP, Atlanta
404 881 7388
jeff.belkin@alston.com

Featured in Government (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Sophisticated contractors and vendors nationwide trust Jeff as their principal claims and investigations counsel and the go-to attorney for federal, state, and local procurements. His experience trying cases for the DOJ gives him an inside perspective on government protests, claims, and defenses. Jeff maintains compliance practices in IT, defense, health care, financial services, and construction/infrastructure, with experience in domestic preference issues, General Services Administration (GSA) and Veterans Administration (VA) FSS schedules and other government-wide agreements, prevailing wage and other employment regulations, E-Rate, and small business issues.

Career: Former DOJ trial attorney; Law clerk to Hon. Robert G. Doumar (U.S. District Judge, E.D. Va.).

BELL, Gabriel K

Latham & Watkins LLP, Washington, DC
Gabriel.Bell@lw.com

Featured in Intellectual Property (USA – Nationwide)

Practice Areas: Gabriel Bell is head of the firm's Intellectual Property Appellate Practice and is regarded as one of the nation's top IP appellate litigators. He represents market-leading technology and life sciences companies in the Federal Circuit and district courts. He was recognized as the IP Appellate Litigator of the Year by LMG Life Sciences. Mr. Bell combines his sophisticated technical knowledge with extensive experience in the Federal Circuit and federal district courts to guide clients across a broad range of sectors, including: •Computer •Telecommunication •Pharmaceutical •Biotech •Automotive •Financial He has argued over 20 Federal Circuit appeals and has led and briefed dozens of others. He also routinely argues and briefs dispositive motions in district courts. He has particular expertise in patent eligibility under Section 101 of the Patent Act. Mr. Bell serves as Co-Chair of the Federal Circuit Bar Association's Scholarship Committee and maintains an active pro bono practice, including representing veterans in appeals. Before joining Latham, Mr. Bell was counsel for the US Senate Committee on the Judiciary. He has also held positions at the US Department of Justice and NASA Langley Research Center. In addition, he clerked for judges on the D.C. and Fifth Circuits. Mr. Bell is admitted to practice in the Supreme Court and the Fifth, Ninth, D.C., and Federal Circuits.

BELL, Locke

Morrison Foerster, Washington, DC

Featured in Government (USA – Nationwide)

